The rolling-chair habit has grown to such phenomenal proportions that not only do invalids use these easy vehicles, but the average visitor can make use of them as he would of the busses and carriages. This affords every opportunity to enjoy the climatic influences and the beauties of the sea. The classes of invalids most benefited are convalescents, anemics, patients who have been operated on, neurasthenics, debilitated and diseased children, overfatigued business men and women; those with incipient tuberculosis, malaria, heart affections and catarrhal conditions (for a limited time); about 50 per cent. of rheumatic and asthmatic patients, and all who need fresh air, sunshine, exercise, relaxation and rest. Every facility is offered by the City Hospital, sanatoria and private cottages for any form of treatment within the range of modern medicine and surgery. Surf bathing, hot and cold sea-water bathing and treatments are available. It is unnecessary to advise the profession at large of the merits and demerits of climatic influences, but it is well to caution against hoping for things impossible by sending patients in the last stages of disease away from comfortable homes to die in a hotel or a boarding-house at this or any other resort.

The general health of Atlantic City's population is remarkably good, largely on account of the climate, the wholesome food and water supply and an efficient health law that is strictly enforced. Typhoid fever is practically unknown except for a few cases that are imported each year. The public schools have a system of medical inspection conducted by eleven regular physicians. By this

GOVERNMENT PART PERFORATES

These stamps are issued in rolls of 500 and 1000 for use in various mailing machines. They are issued in two forms, attached sideways and attached endwise. The ribbon is imperforate along the edges, the perforations being between the stamps. Of course, it is an easy matter for anyone to trim a strip along the sides and offer it as "part perforate" and I am aware that this has been done. There are certain peculiarities about these strips, however, which it is impossible to find in the regularly perforated sheets.

In making the roll attached sideways, the large sheet of 400 is first perforated vertically. It is then cut into horizontal strips of twenty which are fastened end to end. Between the two center stamps in each strip of twenty is found the guide line along which the regularly perforated sheets are cut into panes of 100. In the sideways roll this line is vertical, while in the endwise roll it is, of course, horizontal. As it is impossible for a regularly perforated sheet to show this line anywhere other than along the straight edge, it is proof positive that any pair showing this line between was taken from one of these rolls.

Every Strip Now Sold by Me Shows This Line.

The following varieties exist:

Series 1908

- 1c green, both sideways and endwise.
- 2c carmine, both sideways and endwise.
- 4c brown, sideways only.
- 5c blue, both sideways and endwise.
- 10c yellow, sideways only.

Until further notice, I offer any of the above in strips of four at DOUBLE FACE VALUE.

STAMP AUCTION RESULTS

When a collector decides to sell at auction, the important thing to consider is "Where can I get the best results?" If you contemplate selling at auction, do not fail to write us. We desire to prove to you before you select your auction broker, that we are securing the very best possible results for our clients, through modern methods, a first class catalogue, and a list of tested buyers. About 60 collectors attend our sales in person, and we always receive thousands of bids by mail. We also have a fine clientele abroad, and we have made a study of the best buyers in certain lines. This foreign business is important when you know how to find it. A German client recently paid us $107.00 for lots purchased, having a catalogue value of $167.70—64% of catalogue.

You can depend upon good results when your stamps are in good condition. We have much more to say by mail to those who mean business, and our priced catalogues will show you what we can do.

TERMS:—Our terms are lowest for the best service and vary with the magnitude and quality of collection. MONEY ADVANCED INTENDING SELLERS, if desired. Sales held both in New York and Philadelphia.

means and by the action of the Board of Health, contagious diseases are limited to a very few cases.

THE CITY ITSELF.

Just a word or two about the city in general: There are ten school buildings graded to the highest standard, preparing scholars for any college; thirty churches representing all denominations; a most efficient paid fire department of fourteen separate companies; an efficient corps of municipal life-guards and medical men on the beach during surf-bathing seasons; eight banking institutions and trust companies of the highest rank—in fact, everything that goes to make an up-to-date city. There is no city in the world better able to care for conventions of all sizes and to give almost unlimited accommodation of the very best kind without crowding and overcharging. An influx of 10,000 to 20,000 people is no longer a novelty, and they are so well cared for and with such little effort that their presence is scarcely noticed except on the Boardwalk.

Our hotels range from the palatial beach front structures of steel and concrete to the more unobtrusive little boarding-houses on the side streets.

Money has not been spared in providing for the comforts of their guests. One can find every home comfort at command, winter and summer. The rates charged by these hotels are within the reach of all and are proportionately low when compared with other cities. Many of them supply hot and cold fresh and sea-water baths with each suite of rooms. Special diet kitchens for the preparation of food for invalids and the sick are noticeable features of the best hotels.

EXCELLENT RAILROAD SERVICE.

Probably no other city of its size has a better railroad service than Atlantic City. The Pennsylvania, the Reading, the Jersey Central and the electric lines all maintain the finest equipment of their systems on their Atlantic City branches. The tracks are all stone ballasted and protected by the automatic signal system. The fastest express trains run at very frequent intervals. It is a noticeable fact that out of the thirteen fastest trains maintained in the world, nine are scheduled on the Atlantic City systems. Speed, safety, comfort and luxury are the watchwords of the railroads.

EARLY RECEIPT OF COPY.

We thank our patrons for their prompt response to our appeal for an earlier receipt of copy. Some few, however, need another word and here it is:—"By all means get your copy into the Boston office Saturday, Saturday, SATURDAY!"

This applies to society secretaries even more than it does to advertisers. Advertising copy we are prepared to accept at the last moment but records of meetings cannot be inserted any week unless in the printer's hands at 9 A. M. Monday and for this purpose the Boston office must have them Saturday.

If we go to press without your matter
you will understand the reason.

THE MANAGING EDITOR.

EDITORIAL.

Going?—It is now time for the annual question: Are you going to the convention at Atlantic City? Each year, several months before the date of the convention, we endeavor to persuade particularly those members who are not accustomed to be at the conventions to decide to attend the chief festival on the philatelic calendar. We press the members to take part in the annual meeting of their corporation in the belief that a large gathering encourages successful sessions and that it adds to the satisfaction of each individual who attempts to meet as many of his fellow members as possible. It is safe to say that those who have attended past conventions enjoyed themselves at the annual congress and each year, the chances for satisfaction become multiplied as experience tells what forms of entertainment are the most acceptable to the majority of delegates. There is always a number of regulars whose presence may be depended upon at conventions and while they constitute an able working force yet the aid and counsel of new, fresh minds are almost indispensable for a triumphal meeting.

Reasons—If it is inquired what advantages are to be gained by going to the annual conventions of the American Philatelic Society, the following considerations suggest themselves. First of all, philately in different forms is presented. There are stamps to be seen by the one who wishes to inspect them. Many unusual specimens and veritable gems may be viewed by the one who is intent upon doing so. The buyer may indulge his bent and the seller will find a market for his goods. This is aside from the convention sessions during which instructive philatelic information is almost certain to be divulged in some manner or other. To the member who is deeply interested in the policies and workings of the American Philatelic Society, the transactions of the convention are of vital concern as they are unfolded before him and the fact that he may have a voice in the business proceedings gives an intimate interest in the work. He may shape legislation as well as the next member. The informal discussions that take place outside of the convention sessions proper have their attractions and the member may have his questions answered or have the privilege of enlightening others.

* * *

Enough for All—It is not to be gain-said that the social or the personal side of the convention appeals strongly to the average attendant. The opportunity for communing with friends known personally or by correspondence, or otherwise, is greatly appreciated while the formal program of entertainment lat-terly has always been of pretentious kind.
In fact, so much attention is now given the social feature that the visitor is apt to wonder at the ingenuity and expense lavished on his amusement. He becomes deeply grateful for the efforts made for his pleasure and comfort. The society makes itself felt by reputation and numerically and the convention guest is something of a factor in the community extending its hospitality as a convention seat. Briefly, we have referred to the philatelic and the social side of the convention but have made no attempt to cover the subjects in all their suggestions; but the imaginations of the members will supply the omissions.
There is something for everybody at the American Philatelic Society convention.

* * *

This Year—As a rule, the conventions of the American Philatelic Society are held in cities that are strong philatelic centers, such as Boston, Denver, Columbus, etc., but occasionally a summer resort is chosen, Niagara Falls, Clayton, N. Y., or Atlantic City, for instance.
The city with its local organization of philatelists is the logical seat for the convention for reasons that are manifest.
The members in the convention city plan
all the arrangements for the reception of the delegates and provide funds for entertainment purposes; they systemat-ize everything and take charge of the visitors with unbounded hospitality. The summer resort, ideal as a meeting place in many respects is lacking in those requirements that have been mentioned.
While the convention place this year is a summer resort, yet those objections common, as a rule, to other resorts, do not apply in this case. Fortunately, the city of Philadelphia is near Atlantic

City and the members of the Philadelphia society will supervise arrangements at Atlantic City and provide entertainment in Philadelphia. So, the combination of summer resort and philatelic center in this case makes a convention seat that none of the shortcomings of either may be said to mar.

Every One Counts—The convention is to be held in vacation time and the philatelist who gives himself yearly a period of recreation should arrange his itinerary so that Atlantic City will be the objective point. He should know that aside from any personal question, his presence at the convention becomes helpful to philately. Any sacrifice that he might make would be for the general good of the pursuit. The more significant the convention is in point of numbers, the more impressive it becomes in the public mind; and in a sense the American Philatelic Society typifies philately in general estimation.

Last week we shattered the claim of a critic in so far as the voting of certain of the proxies held by one of the publishers of the WEEKLY is concerned and now we shall speak of a question that has been asked by the same editor, which in effect was: How did it happen that the vote of Messrs. Severn and Wylie showed a greater proportion of votes against the quarterly than the votes did of the deputy proxy holders that they appointed? In other words, by what circumstance did Messrs. Wylie and Severn find authority to give fewer of their fifty votes for the quarterly than any of their deputies, each of whom had fifty votes, likewise? This is a fair question and it is not difficult of explanation.
First, we shall yield the floor to Leonard Michael, president of Chicago Branch
One, American Philatelic Society; he says: "I voted the proxies according to my own judgment. I accepted them without prejudice and only on the understanding that I could vote them as I wished. On this basis, they were given to me and I voted as I saw fit." Another deputy was given his complement of proxies on the same terms. During the voting on the quarterly, the publishers of the WEEKLY said nothing to the deputies about instructions.

POSTAGE STAMPS OF THE U. S.

1847-1860

This book should be in the hands of every U. S. collector. It is daintily printed on fine paper, the text being in clear type and the entire work a lasting credit to philately.

Not the least of its merits is the illustrations, sections of stamps being shown enabling one to see at a glance points of differences between types and varieties of the old issues. The book makes devious paths straight.

CHRONICLE OF NEW ISSUES.

Edited by HENRY A. KIDDER.

Any information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged. Address HENRY A. KIDDER, 17 Addison Street, Arlington, Mass.

UNITED STATES.—Louis Novotny, Alfred T. Spahrman, Hermann Focke, and others notify us of the issue of the Alaska-Yukon stamp, which has now been supplied to all offices making requisition therefor. Mr. Focke calls attention to the fact that the stamps are printed in sheets of 280 stamps, which are divided into sheets of 70 stamps, after being perforated, and issued in the latter form.

Alfred T. Spahrman informs us that he has seen the current 2c adhesive, which had the lower left corner folded over in the handling after the sheet was printed. A portion of the left side of the stamp is imperforate, and the gum covers a part of the face of the stamp.

Frank B. Eldredge reports new precancels, as follows:

Boston, Mass., 3c 1908, inverted.
Cleveland, Ohio, 2c Lincoln, normal.
Akron, O., 1c 1908, letters 5 mm. high, normal.
Akron, O., 1c 1908, letters 6 mm. high, inverted.
Cincinnati, O., 2c 1908, reading down.

Frank Johnson shows us the 1c stamp of 1887, precancelled "Burlington, Vt.," in two lines of capitals reading up and also reading down.

CANAL ZONE.—The New England Stamp Co. and Gerald D. Bliss have shown us the new 8c Panama stamp, surcharged "Canal Zone". The stamp still bears the portrait of Manuel J. Hurtado, but facing to the left, instead of to the right. The frame is entirely re-engraved and is greatly improved. The frame is almost the shade of the new 10c chronicled in No. 945, being much different from the former stamp of the same value. The same parties have also shown us the new 2c, previously chronicled.

Adhesive.
8c purple and black.

CEYLON.—A Ceylon paper reports that designs have been sent to Messrs. De la Rue & Co. for several new values in the current set. They include the introduction of new 10c, 50c, 1r, 2.50r, 5r and 10r stamps, and the abolition of the current 4c, 75c, 1.50r and 2.25r stamps. The new stamps will be available after Jan. 1, 1910.

Mr. Schachne reports the current post card, with the value changed from "Six Cents" to "6c".

CONGO.—A foreign contemporary reports that the large stock of stamps in the Congo has been surcharged "Congo Belge", the handstamp sent from Belgium being used, so that the handstamped surcharge will now become common.

DUTCH INDIES.—A new value in the current set is reported in the Deutsche Briefmarken Zeitung, the design being the same as the other low values. The same paper also chronicles new values of the postage due stamp, with the word "Cent" below the figure of value.

Adhesive.
4c dark ultramarine.
Postage Due Adhesives.
5c rose and black.
40c rose and black.
50c rose and black.
75c rose and black.

NICARAGUA.—Hermann Focke sends us other varieties of the new permanent set, all the values having now been seen up to and including the 1 peso. It is said that no 5 pesos is to be issued in new colors. There is, however, trouble enough in store for the specialist in Nicaraguan stamps, for hardly had the new stamps been issued, when they were again mutilated, the 10c claret having been cut diagonally and used as a 5c stamp. Mr. Focke shows us a cover with one of these bisected stamps.

Adhesives.
1c emerald green.
4c purple.
6c brown.
15c gray black.

Later Mr. Focke sends us the 2 pesos stamp, the color being exactly the same as the 2c rose of 1905, in fact the two stamps look so much alike that only on close examination will one note the difference.

Adhesive.
2p rose.

PANAMA.—Emil J. Rall has shown us the new 2c stamp, which has also been already chronicled with "Canal Zone" surcharge.

Adhesive.
2c vermilion red and black.

QUEENSLAND.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us a new printing of the current 2d stamp, with the Queen's Head re-engraved. The top of the crown does not touch the oval, the forehead is white, more of the ear shows, and the whole stamp is lightened and improved.

Adhesive.
2d blue, re-engraved.

RUSSIA.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us the new 10k stamp from Russia, the design being the same as the 4k recently chronicled.

Adhesive.
10k dark blue.

SALVADOR.—Hermann Focke sends us two covers from this country, the 1c green and 5c blue envelopes of 1906 having been surcharged "1909" in red. There are only two values of these envelopes left in stock, so that no others are likely to be thus surcharged.

SOMALILAND PROTECTORATE.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us the 1a stamp in single color on multiple paper.

Adhesive.
1a carmine.

STRAITS SETTLEMENTS.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us the 5c in the new color, orange, as previously noted.

MOUNTING CARDBOARD PROOFS.

By W. W. BLISS.

A steel engraving will always rub, and in mounting proofs, some way must be devised to protect them from rubbing or their face will soon become badly damaged. I have given the subject quite a bit of study and some experimenting, and have devised the following plan, which I find quite satisfactory.

I use 10-ply, mist grey cardboard: this shade harmonizes well with the color of the stamps and does not soil as easily as white. The cards should be cut 5½x8½ inches in size, which fits the I. P. Loose Leaf, 3 ring binder No. 1510, and also nicely accommodates most of the sets of proofs. Cut about a dozen pieces of light cardboard 1x1¼ in., the proper size for the postage stamps, also the department; for the newspaper proofs, the size should be 1¼x1½ in.

To mount the 1861-2 issue, arrange ten of the 1x1¼ in. pattern pieces, in four rows on the cardboard mount, three pieces in the first and third rows and two in the second and fourth rows. For other sets of ten, this can be varied by three in the first and fourth rows and two in the second and third rows.

After the pattern pieces are properly arranged, mark around each piece with a pencil. Next cut out these squares with a sharp chisel, placing the mount on heavy cardboard and giving the chisel a rap with a hammer. On the back of the mount, paste a sheet of paper the same color as the mount, applying paste to the mount and not to the paper.

The proofs are mounted in these openings with a hinge top and bottom; this will prevent their raising up and coming in contact with the previous sheet in the binder. On the left side of the mount, attach a sheet of tissue parchment which will further protect the proofs.

To me, the proofs are more desirable than the stamps; to be sure, they were never intended to be used in payment of postage but it is seldom that you will find a stamp that is as bright and clear as a proof and at the present time, the proofs are much the cheaper, which condition, I think, will not long remain.

CHARLES S. OSGOOD, SALE, MA88.

J. P. S. TENTH ANNIVERSARY.

We are very grateful to an English correspondent for an extended account of the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the Junior Philatelic Society held at the Florence Restaurant, Piccadilly, London, on Saturday, May 22. We regret, however, that we cannot use the same, due to the heavy demands on our space for the next three weeks.

Among the well known philatelists in attendance were Pres. F. J. Melville, P. C. Bishop, J. W. Jones, M. Z. Kuttner, Chas. Nissen, Mr. and Mrs. D. Field, B. W. H. Poole, Ernest Phillips, W. Andrews and Mount Brown (compiler of the first British catalog). Some seventy were present, including thirty ladies.

The usual toasts were given and responded to. One of the special features of the banquet was a rich and highly ornamented cake made in imitation of the 3 lire Tuscany stamp under the direction of Mrs. Field, who presented it to the society.

The J. P. S. is enjoying a remarkable prosperity, over 400 members having been admitted during the past year. It is almost needless to say that the energy and originality of Pres. F. J. Melville has made this prosperity possible.

NEWS GLEANINGS.

Under this heading we desire to publish all the news from the various philatelic centres. Correspondents' names will be given unless prohibited as we desire to give full credit for services rendered.

—Writing from Rochester, N. Y., Frederic C. DePuy says: "Lincoln 2c are now supplied to all comers at this postoffice; no Washington 2c in stock. Did you see the Scientific American of May 29th, page 407? Also the back cover of the last House Beautiful? Seward Plate No. 5142 is here."

—D. T. Eaton also complains concerning A. Martyns, formerly of 131 Bleury St., Montreal, Can., but who cannot now be located. We shall be very glad of any information leading to the locating of this party.

—Schuster's News Circular No. 3 looks good. It consists of eight pages and considerable information is scattered through its closely printed pages. Address the firm, E. J. Schuster Co., St. Louis, Mo., for a sample copy.

—"Since writing to you relative to British New Guinea and Papua, I have added the following varieties to my collection, viz: B. N. G., vertical wmk., 6d, 1sh, 2sh 6d; Papua, small surcharge, horizontal wmk., 1sh."—BENEDICT PRIETH, 225 Washington St., Newark, N. J.

—The G. E. Haynes Stamp Co. also reports Joe Lavitt for retaining approval sheets sent him on request. This party was reported by Geo. J. Carter some two weeks ago.

—A. J. Edgell of Fall River, Mass., was a recent caller at the WEEKLY office. Mr. Edgell has been the victim of a severe automobile accident but is getting back to his former self.

—Charles E. Fisher favors us with a copy of the Scientific American containing an article on the manufacture of the postage stamps of France. A second clipping relates to the new issue of Alaska stamps.

ACKNOWLEDGED WITH THANKS.

(Under this heading we note the receipt of catalogs, price lists, etc., from advertisers using the WEEKLY. Where addresses are given samples may always be obtained post free.—Ed.)

—Clippings from W. H. Boatright, Chas. Jarecki, Henry F. King.

—Walter Clarke Bellows' superb book, "Campeche". Will be reviewed for an early issue.

—Catalog of 27th mail auction sale of Toledo Stamp Co. to be held June 14.

—Coin clipping from Jas. D. Patterson, but space forbids reprinting same.

Let's hear from you, too.

The official call for the convention was published last week and the time will be here before we know it. Are you going to come? The "Old Regulars" read the call and say to themselves, "Where for a like expenditure of time and money can I put in five days that will give me the lasting and equal benefit that I will derive from this convention? Where can I pick up so many new ideas, gain such genuine inspiration, and withal enjoy such good-fellowship as among the members of the American Philatelic Society?"

Will you attend and join us, or does the sun rise and set in your own home and local society? If so, it is time to enlarge your little world and come in touch with men who are outside of your domestic universe.

Do not grow rusty. Don't be resigned to your fate like the Dutch woman who died because she had to. Make your plans to come out and see what the rest of the world is doing. You will enjoy every minute of it and in years to come will look back upon it as an oasis in life's desert.

COLUMBUS BRANCH No. 21.

The 58th meeting was held June 1st, President Mason in the chair. There were 12 members and one visitor present. Minutes of the 57th meeting were read and approved. Carl D. D. Stotz was elected to active membership. After the transaction of routine business and a lengthy discussion of A. P. S. affairs, Messrs. Wright and Fogelson of Marion, O., displayed parts of their U. S. collections. Next meeting June 15th.

GEO. K. SMITH, JR., Sec.

OUR RECRUITING WORD.

We have made over the recruiting committee for June and your attention is invited to the fine list of members who have shown an interest in this branch of society work.

Our own work, 119 applications, speaks for itself and there is every indication that we shall surpass the 133 applications recorded last year.

If you have not yet joined send in your name with age, occupation and bank or commercial reference, remitting $1.00 for share of stock and 20c for dues to Aug.

A sense of philatelic patriotism should induce you to join our national society, to say nothing of the material benefits you will receive. Note eighteen applications this week, eight from Binghampton, N. Y., thanks to Messrs. Smith and Frechie. Mr. Prevost also has two to his credit. Truly things are moving our way and next week the chairman will show you one or two things about recruiting.

Better sent in your application.

Meetings first (informal) and third (regular) Tuesdays at Club Room 506 Kast Bdg., 730 P. M.

BOSTON, MASS., June 12, 1909.

The 206th (regular) meeting of the Society will be held at the Club Room on Tuesday evening, June 15th, at 7.30 o'clock.

This is the last regular meeting until the fall, so let it be a banner one: be sure to come yourself, and bring a friend along with you if you can.

There is to be a competitive exhibition of rare stamps,—each entry to show one stamp from each of 25 different countries. Rarity will count 75% and condition 25%. Never mind if you think you have no "great rarities," or that the "other fellow" has more rare stamps than you. These exhibitions are planned to bring out the members' treasures, so that the rest may have a chance to see them. Make a selection from your favorite countries, then, and let us all enjoy the result.

Another feature will be the "Question Box". If you have any question of general philatelic interest that you think will create an entertaining discussion, send it in to the Committee, or to the Secretary, and then come prepared to uphold your view of it. You'll find plenty of work cut out for you if previous discussions from the Question Box are any criterion. The following names will come up for action:—

Edward E. Hardy, Boston.

Frank Lowell Kennedy, Cambridge.

REMEMBER that your name may not yet be on that list of dollar subscriptions (or some stamps to be sold) for the benefit of our Library.

C. A. HOWES, Sec.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MEMBERS.

The competitive exhibition for June 15 will consist of one stamp from each of twenty-five different countries. Rarity shall count 75% and condition 25%, but no stamp shall count more than three points for rarity and one point for condition.

Members intending to exhibit will please send their names to C. F. Rothfuchs, 379a Warren St., Roxbury, Mass.

This is a contest that every member will be able to enter and there is no reason why this exhibition should not be one of the best that the society has held for years.

Entries should be left with Mr. Lyons at the office of the New England Stamp Co., 12 Bromfield St., not later than 1.30 P. M., on June 15, the day of the exhibit.

SINGER, Cft. Expert; DR. H. B. F. HEATH, CHAS. LEHMAN, PROF. LOEWY, GUST. SCHROEDER and THEO. STEINWAY, Trustees.

NEW YORK, June 3, 1909.

President Wilford called the meeting to order at 8.30 P. M. with 28 members present. Application for membership: Lathrop P. Smith, 24 No. 18 St., East Orange, N. J., proposed by Dicke, seconded by Froike. New members: Dr. Henry Coggeshall, 40 E. 58 St.; Geo. H. Skinner, Hotel Longacre.

The most important topic of the evening was discussed with a tremendous amount of energy, and on account of the meagre attendance was held over until next meeting for final action. This matter, which is of vital importance to the welfare of the society, necessitates the consideration of at least 50 members, and every one who can possibly do so should attend and give this subject the attention which it so well deserves. Why not give us at least one call before the weather gets too hot? Now is the time to bring in that new member. Our semi-annual pruning tournament will be held shortly and we will be compelled to trim out a number of members who have not paid their dues. Next meeting June 17th.

The 41st regular meeting was held May 17, 1909. Twelve members were present. Reports of the secretary and governing board were presented. The secretary was directed to notify delinquent members that if dues were not paid by the June meeting their names would be dropped from the rolls. The treasurer reported: Dues received $1.00 and no disbursements. Balance in General fund $26.84, Library fund $4.00 and Insurance fund $7.24. The resignation of John H. Clapp was received and accepted. An amendment to the statutes relative to the day of meeting was adopted. The entertainment for the evening was a 20th Century Grab Bag. A bag containing a few thousand foreign covers was passed and each one made a grab. Considerable amusement was had out of it.

At the June meeting it is expected that Director Ralph of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing will be present and tell of some of the difficulties that have been overcome in the making of stamps and show some designs that had been prepared but never adopted. All members should be present at that meeting and bring their friends with them.

TWO A. P. S. COMMUNICATIONS.

Herbert Armstrong, Spokane, Wash., writes us a strong criticism of the proposed U. S. Priced Catalog and urges that "the general membership is not enough interested to warrant the society taking any part in it". Mr. Armstrong believes that a handbook on reprints would be a much better literary work for the society to attempt.

A. F. Henkels wants more branches of the A. P. S. and points to the prospective branch in the Philippines as a result of correspondence commenced three years ago when he was secretary of the society. Mr. Henkels believes that branches in foreign countries would be especially valuable in promoting the welfare of our national body. "A brass band will attract more attention than one lone trumpeter."

I have received word from L. Harald Kjellstedt, our efficient International Secretary, that the American Philatelic Society was, on May 17, elected a corresponding member of the British Guiana Philatelic Society. Mr. Kjellstedt also states that he has been informed by the secretary of the B. G. P. S. that a communication has been received by them from Mr. Henniker Heaton re penny

OUR RECRUITING WORK

FOR THE

AMERICAN PHILATELIC SOCIETY has been of the highest order and any reflection cast upon it is a poor return for the work accomplished. Only the other day a gust of wind blew into our sanctum by way of Denver lamenting that such recruiting methods had prevailed during the past year and intimating that poor material must be the result.

Note for instance the applications filed last week by the WEEKLY and of which there were five. Mr. Wagner gave as reference the Union National Bank, Mr.
Israel Dun's or Bradstreet's, Mr. Dodge the Ocean National Bank, Mrs. Bowen
the postmaster of her town, and Mr.
Breder, two stamp firms. We have always asked for bank or commercial references and invite inspection of references as applications are presented.

Friday, June 4, we received five applications and have thus far sent in a total of 126 on the year. If the society desires the splendid recruiting work to continue Mr. Wylie stands ready to push it and "2000 members in 1910" will be easily accomplished. But if the society is "big enough" or can even afford to cut off a few hundreds of its membership, it may as well discharge its Recruiting Committee at once and be content to let things drift. We know very well that the membership at large appreciates members at recruiting, so when you give your proxy be sure also to give the instructions

WHY THE FATHER MATHEW MEDICINE STAMP IS COMMON.

By J. DELANO BARTLETT.

Soon after the Boston Philatelic Society published their book on United States Revenues there appeared in the philatelic press many inquiring remarks as to why certain Match and Medicine stamps were so rare when such a large number of them were issued; likewise why certain stamps were priced so low when only a limited number were issued.

The students of these stamps have expressed views and convictions conceived through their personal experiences and observations, while gathering specimens for their collections. These convictions may or may not be right, we will not attempt to say but must wait until someone gives us the story of each stamp.

Each stamp has its own history and in that history the reason is given as to why it is rare or common as the case may be and nothing else will give us the required knowledge.

In the little controversy that was going on last winter between Messrs. Nast and Vanderhoof, both well informed collectors of Denver, Mr. Nast to illustrate one of his convictions made comparison between two well known stamps. The Swain 6c orange and the Father Mathew 4c black.

The Swain 6c orange with its issue of 17,953 stamps is today a thing of rare beauty while the Father Mathew 4c black with its issue of only 14,300 stamps is ranked among the common class.

Why the Father Mathew stamp is so common when its issue was so small has been a question which the philatelic writers have been unable to answer with any certainty, yet I believe that I can show the real reason why such is the case.

It is not generally known that the Father Mathew Temperance & Manufacturing Company had its home office and laboratory in Canada and that the early sale of their medicine was confined to that country. It was not until 1878 that they established a branch office in New York City, which was the distributing point for all their medicine to be sold within the States.

In those days it was difficult to get a druggist to invest money in a new patent medicine for which a demand had not as yet been created, therefore arrangements were made to place the medicine on consignment (to be paid for when sold) and from 1 to 6 dozen bottles were left in each place.

Ten years passed by and the bottles of Fathew Mathew Medicine were still on the druggists' shelves. The company seemed to have lost interest in the United States market and the New York office was instructed to gather in the medicine they had out on consignment and collect for that which was sold.

In 1888 a circular was sent out to that effect and a large portion of the medicine was returned to the New York office as very little had been sold. The manager at the New York office removed the stamps from the bottles returned, using care not to tear them.

Being a resident of South Amboy, N. J., from 1886 to 1892 and having occasion to travel over all parts of the state as well as a portion of New York and Pennsylvania during the time, I rarely lost an opportunity of making the acquaintance of a druggist who would allow me to look over his stock in search of stamps and can now recall many choice specimens in my collection that in those days I rescued from their dingy hiding places.

In going over many stocks of medicine in search of stamps I very often ran up against the Father Mathew stamp but very few druggists would allow me to remove them from the bottles, stating that the medicine was not theirs, being left with them on consignment.

The Father Mathews were at that time among the scarce stamps, being catalogued by both Sterling and Scott at $1.00 and were seldom seen on approval selections.

Soon after the circular was issued calling in the Father Mathew Medicine, I placed myself in communication with the home office as well as the New York office and laid plans to secure all the stamps that came in on returned goods. This I accomplished and received a goodly number of stamps at a very low figure which practically placed me in control of the supply.

Never having held stamps for speculation or collected them for their commercial value, I placed the entire stock on the market and sold a portion to nearly every dealer of importance, at a figure much below the catalogue price, and left me with a stock of less than 200.

As before stated the catalogue price of these stamps at the time was $1.00. In 1889 the price was reduced to 75c and another reduction was made in 1890 to 50c and it has remained about the same for nearly 20 years.

This is the first time I have given these facts to the press and I might add that if I had not been privileged at the time to rescue these stamps from destruction the collector of today would have another rarity to look for in the medicine stamps.

QUERIES AND COMMENT.

Edited by C. E. SEVERN.

Our readers are cordially invited to ask the editor for any information desired concerning stamp collecting. Should a personal reply be desired kindly enclose postage. This department is for the beginner as well as the advanced collector. Address, C. E. Severn, 721 Oxford Bdg., Chicago, Ill.

Several Readers:—Albinos of United States envelopes have been found in all issues from 1853 to date; although comparatively scarce in the earlier envelopes, recent issues have been prolific of them. We once saw a three-cent 1853 albino, with the following very human remarks written around the uninked impression, by the sender of the envelope: "Uncle Sam will please take notice that there is no red stuff on this stamp but he has received 3 cents for it, nevertheless."

H. M.:—From your description, we take it that the 10pf, Bavaria, that you describe with the posthorns in upper corners is an envelope stamp.

A. P. S.:—Your 2k, green, 1890, Russia, with "watermark of double lined scroll work," no doubt is a part of the watermark, "wavy lines and parts of letters" that is the usual watermark for this issue. (2) Denmark, 1874, "without period after 'postfrim'" are known to specialists and are referred to in a few catalogues. Other similar varieties caused by mechanical variations are known in this and the following issue of Denmark. (3) Your Prussia, 1855, 6pf orange, has "1/2" in the corners, to show that 6 pfennige are one-half of a silber groschen. (4) Your Belgium, "1900, 10c rose, on paper with fine purple veins running over it" is not fine purple veins running over it" is not known to us; in all probability the paper was changed after the stamp was issued.

C. L. C.:—So far as our experience is any criterion, the inverted watermark in the imperforates of the current issue seems to be about as common as the normal watermark. (2) The catalogue description of the U. S., 1895 imperforates is correct: "These stamps were never used imperforate. All such stamps are merely finished proofs." In their real character, these specimens have a value as curiosities that appeals to many collectors.

A. C.:—You are correct in your surmise that the three printed heavy black lines, with "Pat., Nov. 20, 1855," on the inside flap of your envelope are the "patent lines" in envelope vernacular. The lines were used to assist the correspondent in writing straight on the envelope; the lines showed through fairly plainly the face of the envelope and thus afforded a guide for the toiling penman. The "patent line" envelopes are known in all issues, 1853 to 1870, inclusive; the 1870 issue is scarcest. There are several varieties of patent lines.

H. D. K.:—We cannot place your Spanish stamp, 4c, carmine, with "correas 1854" at top, as in type 8, but with the rest of the stamp corresponding with type 7. In all the values of the 1854 issue, the coat of arms is the same, and the following is a description of some of the points of the genuine: "In the upper left quarter of the coat of arms, there are sixteen vertical lines none of which touch the frame above it. There are sixteen vertical lines in the lower right corner quarter, none of which touches the frame below. The horizontal line dividing the right top and bottom quarters of this coat of arms does not touch the frame at its right. The vertical line dividing the upper left and right quarters of the coat of arms does not touch the frame above it. The forgeries of the stamps of this issue are generally poor." (2) Your Netherlands, 5c, type 5, in an olive grey color, must be a changeling; the rays of the sun may change a blue into grey and it is possible that some constituent in the ink of the blue stamp loaned the olive suggestion, in this case. (3) There are many colonial cancellations on the early stamps of Great Britain, with letter and number, and before long we shall again give a list of them for the benefit of our readers.

W. E. B.:—The name on your private proprietary, No. 3525 should be spelled Vogeler; the name Vogler in the catalogue is a misprint. George J. Carter, 265 Halsey St., Brooklyn, N. Y., has published an album for match and medicine stamps. (2) After the stamps of certain Central American countries are demonetized, the stamps may be said to have no face value. (3) Bright & Son's catalogue lists the Aguinaldo stamps. (4) We have no cut to illustrate the Japanese characters for "facsimile" such as are found on the specimens included on the sheets of imitations of Japanese stamps, so commonly sold.

G. d. L.:—While we have not heard to that effect, it is possible that the United States has a postoffice at Yokohama; hence, your 5-cent U. S., 1902, canceled "Yokohama, 23. 11. 06. Japan." The following is from the postal regulations: "The Postmaster-General may establish in connection with the mail-steamship service to Japan and China, a general postal agency at Shanghai, in China, or at Yokohama, in Japan, with such branch agencies at any other ports in China and Japan as he shall deem necessary for the prompt and efficient management of the postal service in those countries." Etc.

J. C. J.:—In the latest catalogue of the revenue stamps of the world, we find all the denominations of the 1905 issue, New York State Revenues, up to the $10, priced at less than five cents each, the $10 is listed at 80 cents and the $20 at $2.

D. P.:—Your Grenada stamp, first type, one penny, green, watermarked letters, shows part of the marginal inscrip-

TO ISSUE NEW POSTAL CARD.

(Marcel E. Taller very kindly favors us with no less than six clippings and we reprint one that will prove of general interest.—ED.)

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The Post-office Department is preparing to issue a new postal card. Postmaster General Hitchcock has called in the expert chemists of the Department of Agriculture and has instructed them to work out a formula that will give a much better paper than can be made under the contract now in force. He says the postal cards issued by this government are inferior to the product of almost every other country, and that it is contemplated to make improvements in the general style of printing and arrangement of the type and designs. It may be decided to change also the color of the ink and the tint of the paper.

The government issues 75,000,000 postal cards a month. The present four-year contract expires December 31 next, and in the meantime the postmaster general is giving personal attention to devising a more attractive card.

EDITORIAL.

Rescued—Here is a bit of information of internal revenue kind that we believe has not been recorded, it having been presented originally in an inconspicuous way. In the U. S. revenue act as approved June 30th, 1864, and as amended by the act of March 3rd, 1865, photographs were taxed for the first time, according to a schedule of valuation that has been published on different occasions. However, we find among the multitude of provisions detailed on the hundred and more pages covering the act of 1864 and amendments of 1865, the specification of an ad valorem tax on photographs, as follows: "On photographs or any other sun picture, being copies of engravings or works of art, when the same are sold by the producer at wholesale at a price not exceeding ten cents each, or are used for the illustration of books, and on photographs so small in size that stamps cannot be affixed, a duty of five per centum ad valorem." Needless to say, this item does not appear under the "Stamp Duties" section in the voluminous revenue act in question.

Possibility—In Lippincott's for June, there is an article by Col. Willard French that has both a business and a philatelic phase. In brief, an ingenious scheme is outlined whereby only the actual results to senders enclosing stamped envelopes or postal cards are to be charged for; in this way, the advertiser will not lose the value of those postal items that are sent by him but not used by his correspondents. The proposal is the "return plan envelope and postal card," and it has received committee endorsements at Washington; it has been pronounced as being within the scope of those enactments that the department may make without legislation. This is not the first plan proposed for the remedy of the conditions of which complaint is made and it is probable that something will be decided upon to meet the crying need. We quote:

"It is required by law that all postage shall be prepaid, so that any plan which has been devised will require the co-operation of outside agency, to the extent of securing a deposit of $100,000 with the department as a postage fund. The department will manufacture envelopes and cards bearing a peculiar stamp which can easily be recognized, distinguishing it from ordinary mail. These the department will sell to whatever form of syndicate may represent the deposit, at the regular price less the price of the stamp.

"The contractor will distribute them as they may be ordered by advertisers, after having a return address printed on them, with notice that the stamp is void if the address is changed. Such envelopes and cards indorsed by advertisers may be returned to them without affixing additional stamp, but on arriving at their destination they will be held by the post-office till the advertiser pays the regular postage on all such matter as he actually receives.

"The moment the envelope or card is mailed, the stamp which the department impresses becomes a legal stamp and satisfies the law; while it is of no value if the address is changed, and no loss to the advertiser if thrown away. When the advertiser pays the amount of regular postage on all such mail as he actually receives, he only keeps the original deposit intact."

A Help to Us—The L. E. Waterman Co., fountain pens, has been represented recently in the advertising columns of magazines by one of the most striking philatelic ads that could be imagined. Over a hundred different foreign stamps from countries ranging from Argentine to Victoria are used as a background for the advertisement that is headed: "Necessities for Travelers. The stamps are given in their approximate colors and while the specimens overlap one another in many cases, yet each stamp is readily discernible. The announcement is at once novel and effective and in our opinion, an advertisement of this kind is a potent factor in suggesting the idea of collecting stamps to the uninitiated.

Going—The new style special delivery stamp is to be discontinued, according to Washington despatches and the old design is to be restored. It is said: "In the great rush with which the mails must be handled many letters bearing the new stamp have escaped treatment as special delivery matter because of its similarity in size and color to the one-cent stamp." In view of this explanation, it would seem as if one or more of the colors of the stamps in the regular set will be changed as their tendency to confuse has been remarked upon several times.

* * *

Good Fun—"MacSqueal's Weekly Stamp News", published in the interests of the Detroit Philatelic Society by the Cliff Dwellers' Publishing Co., has been received. No. 1 is dated May 28th, 1909, and it is about the best burlesque stamp paper that ever has been delivered. The special reason for the issue of the number probably was to provide a distinctive menu form for the banquet of the so-

It is within two to five minutes walk of the following:

Subway, City Hall, Brooklyn Bridge and Fulton Street Stations.

Second and Third Avenue "L" at City Hall.

Sixth Avenue "L" at Park Place.

Ninth Avenue "L" at Barclay Street.

ciety held May 28th, 1909. Every line of the reading matter and the advertisements sparkles and while the palpable hits and airy persiflage have a strong local flavor, they may still be enjoyed by all. We forbear quoting and shall not yield even to the temptation to reproduce one of the new issue items. In fact, it would not be fair to select some of the notes for prominence and ignore the many others when all are famously deserving. The envelope in which the paper came was rubber-stamped: Inspected and Passed U. S. Quarantine. The fun must have been fast and furious at the Detroit Society's banquet.

It is Here—Walter Clarke Bellows' work, "Campeche," has been received. At first view of this wonderful production, words fail us and not until next issue will be able to catch our stock of superlatives. "Campeche," following Mr. Crocker's book, gives the United States an enviable position as a philatelic publication producing center.

* * *

He is Testy—Brother Nast is still suffering from in-grown intellect. His hallucinations defy any attempt to discover a rational line of argument; he twists and turns so jerkily that he confuses himself. He opposes the American Philatelic Society catalogue of U. S. stamps in one breath and in the next, he favors it. He says that the publishers of the official journal are secretly opposed to the Quarterly and that Mr. Wylie will work against it. Because Brother Nast says a thing does not make it so. He pretends to see a deep-laid plot of collusion because Mr. Severn will vote for the Quarterly and Mr. Wylie against it. Mr. Nast does not admit that the two members in question may have the interests of the society in mind, according to their individual views. So tense have become the nerves of our erring brother that he dwells in the midst of alarms. Before his excited fancy, intrigues, conspiracies, cabals and combinations pass in the manner of a moving picture. He should take hold of himself.

A Statement—The WEEKLY made a protest on principle against the proposal to debar its publishers from the privilege of proxy-holding. However, on the representations of friends, it is now recognized that the plan of the promoters is to prevent the accumulation of proxies in the hands of the few and that the measure is not a disciplinary one. So far is it from the wish of the publishers of the WEEKLY to "dominate" legislation that they, in their desire to prevent monopoly of power in any hands and in order to avoid possible suspicion of ulterior motives on our part, will waive the right to hold proxies in their bid for official journal. This proffer is made with a full realization of the advantage that this restriction will give rival aspirants for the official journalship. The one thing that we ask our friends is that they instruct their proxy-holders to vote for the WEEKLY for official journal.

Wait for Us—There is a cartoon in the Stamp Journal that is a product of one of the scions of the Nast family. The author of the Comic Farmer taps

POSTAGE STAMPS OF THE U. S.

1847-1860

This book should be in the hands of every U. S. collector. It is daintily printed on fine paper, the text being in clear type and the entire work a lasting credit to philately.

Not the least of its merits is the illustrations, sections of stamps being shown enabling one to see at a glance points of differences between types and varieties of the old issues. The book makes devious paths straight.

CHRONICLE OF NEW ISSUES.

Edited by HENRY A. KIDDER.

Any information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged. Address HENRY A. KIDDER, 17 Addison Street, Arlington, Mass.

UNITED STATES.—H. W. Boers shows an oddity in the shape of a permit printed with a rubber stamp. It reads "6 cts. Paid—Buffalo, N. Y.—Permit No. 7" in three lines of capitals, in black. Mr. Boers took it from a large catalogue.

Our readers will please cancel the item about the Curtis & Brown medicine stamp having been found on watermarked paper, printed in No. 959. The stamp was really the Curtis & Brown Mfg. Co. stamp, which has long been known on that paper.

William F. Palmer shows a copy of the current 2c envelope size on white, on paper watermarked "1903," but with this curious variety, the "1" in the watermark date is missing, making the date "903". We are informed that the United States envelopes are found as far back as 1850 with either a letter or a figure missing from the watermark. When it is remembered that the effect is produced by a piece of metal or wire soldered to the screen on which the sheet of paper is formed, it seems strange that these varieties are not found oftener.

Frank B. Eldredge and William Evans send us the following precancels:

St. Paul, Minn., 1c 1908, reading up.

Racine, Wis., 1c 1908; normal.
Rock Island, Ill., 4c 1908; normal, in three lines, with two rules between.

S. E. Young, M. D., informs us that he has a curiosity in the way of cover which is made up as follows: First is printed and ordinary permit, but without any value, as follows: "Paid—Baltimore, Md.—Permit No. 1." Over this was written "Due 15 cts.", in blue pencil, and then this: "Held for Postage,—No. 32", in red ink. Finally over all there are placed a 10c 1902 and a 5c 1908, making 15 cents postage on top of the incomplete permit.

BRITISH SOLOMON ISLANDS.—Ewen's Weekly says that the remainders of the first issue have been destroyed.

CANAL ZONE.—The New England Stamp Co., Emil J. Rall, Gerald L. Bliss and F. M. Mason have shown us the new 5c Panama stamp, with "Canal Zone" surcharge. The frame is entirely re-engraved, and is very much improved. The portrait is still Justo Arosemena, but from a different engraving. The portrait appears in an oval, with "Correos" at the top, "Republica de Panama" around the oval and the value in words at the bottom. The figures of value appear in the upper corners. These new stamps all have the imprint of the American Bank Note Co., the former series having been engraved and printed by the Hamilton Bank Note Co. All of the new series have the name under the portrait in the color of the frame, while in the old series it was in the color of the portrait.

GERMANY.—Mr. Schachne reports an unstamped card—black on pale buff—of the same design as the current cards except at upper right is a dotted and inscribed rectangle for the stamp and at lower right is "C 154" same as formerly appeared on the unstamped early issues.

ITALY.—Albania.—Mr. Schachne shows us a card like the last issue except the date ("07") and change of the stamp to the current design (head to left) and without "Albania" over the stamp.

NICARAGUA.—Mr. Schachne has shown us the 5c card of 1906 issue with a two line violet surcharge "Vale 4c—1908 Interior" across and at left of the stamp. Also the same on a double card of same design. As the latter has not been noticed in print to our knowledge, we add it to the list.

PERU.—Herman Focke writes as follows: "It will interest the readers of the WEEKLY and philatelists in general, to know the status of the 2 soles stamp of Peru, issue 1907, blue and black, with monument of Columbus, illustrated in Stanley Gibbons 1909 catalogue. I wrote to a correspondent at Lima and am in receipt of the following reply:

"The 2 soles stamp, blue and black with monument of Columbus, was never sold for postage to the public here nor at any other place in Peru; if you have seen a copy of the stamp, it is one of the few, belonging to the only 100 that were printed, which were sold at auction with the purpose of giving market value to the balance on hand."

"I do not understand from this, where the balance is held, but as the stamp was never sold over the counter, I fail to see its philatelic value, and it should therefore be omitted from the catalogues."

RUSSIA.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us the new 14k, 15k, 25k and 50k stamps, in a new printing. All are on white wove paper, with the new safety lines. There is no material change in the colors, though all the frames seem lighter and brighter, and all the Arms deeper and richer, except on the 14k. Some of the differences in color may be due to the whiter and more opaque paper on which the new stamps are printed.

OUR BOOK REVIEW.

Nevis.—By Fred J. Melville. No. 5 of the Melville Stamp Books published by W. H. Peckitt, 47 Strand, London, Eng. Price 14c post free, set of eight books for $1.00. The book before us, like the ones already issued, appeals to the book lover because of its beauty and nicety of arrangement. It is printed in three colors. Particular attention is paid to the reconstruction of plates, and the author suggests "the guides for reconstructing the plates of the engraved and lithographed stamps contained in the present work are new, and will, we think, be found to be much simpler and more readily memorized than the old style of plating by the outlines of the hills." There are no less than eleven full page plates.

AUTOMOBILES FOR THE CONVENTION.

All members of the A. P. S. owning automobiles and residing in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and adjacent states are urged to bring them to the convention, and if that is not possible, arrange to have them in Philadelphia for the tour of this city the day after the Atlantic City convention. W. A. McCalla and Percival Parrish have each agreed to have their cars "on tap". Will members who can arrange to bring their cars kindly communicate with Percival Parrish, 1204 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, as soon as possible?

SOME SECRET MARKS OF VENEZUELA.

In the world of international politics Venezuela has lately been much to the fore, and naturally the philatelic press has been devoting much attention to the stamps of the Republic. The Berliner Briefmarken Zeitung has had an instructive little article on the early issues, and gives some secret marks of the first issues which so far as we know, have not hitherto been published.

The enlarged illustration here reproduced will make clear our contemporary's remarks on the subject.

The issues referred to are 1863 to 1864. The secret marks are contained in the pearls surrounding the eagle, the following are the details:

1 centavo slate grey:
Slanting line in middle pearl on left.
1/2 centavo flesh colour,
2 reals green:

Both these issues have a vertical line in the pearl underneath the left middle pearl.

1/2 real yellow,
1 real blue:

With vertical line in the pearl above the middle pearl. The 1/2 real has in addition a dot in the centre pearl at the top.

All these marks can be easily distinguished upon the stamps with a magnifying glass.—Stamp Collectors' Fortnightly.

The official call for the convention was published June 5th and the time will be here before we know it. Are you going to come? The "Old Regulars" read the call and say to themselves, "Where for a like expenditure of time and money can I put in five days that will give me the lasting and equal benefit that I will derive from this convention? Where can I pick up so many new ideas, gain such genuine inspiration, and withal enjoy such good-fellowship as among the members of the American Philatelic Society?"

Will you attend and join us, or does the sun rise and set in your own home and local society? If so, it is time to enlarge your little world and come in touch with men who are outside of your domestic universe.

Do not grow rusty. Don't be resigned to your fate like the Dutch woman who died because she had to. Make your plans to come out and see what the rest of the world is doing. You will enjoy every minute of it and in years to come will look back upon it as an oasis in life's desert.

H. S. ADAIR, Sec.

The regular meeting of Branch No. 1 of the American Philatelic Society was held in the club rooms of the Chicago Philatelic Society, 112 Fifth Ave., June 9th, 1909, with nine members present. In the absence of the secretary, President Michael appointed Mr. Bowker, secretary pro tem. The minutes of the previous meeting were dispensed with. It was decided that all political discussions in reference to the branch's stand in A. P. S. matters should come up at the July meeting.

MONTHLY REPORT OF SALES SUPT.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1, 1909.

I take pleasure in submitting below my monthly interim report as Sales Superintendent of the American Philatelic Society as follows:

3031 books on hand last report, priced at $61,951.65
180 books received during May, priced at 3,177.28

3211 books now on hand, priced at $65,128.93

Sales for the month of May from books, $954.75

The branch superintendents have been continuing their excellent work, and we give below a summary of their sales thus far this year:

1 John W. Haseltine, Philadelphia, Pa.,	$646.05
2 Don R. Bennett, Detroit, Mich.,	455.47
3 Wm. C. Rhodes, Cleveland, O.,	436.53
4 Chas. R. Morris, Washington, D. C.,	309.07
5 L. A. Van Toor, Milwaukee, Wis.,	292.38
6 R. J. Mundell, Montreal, Canada,	271.58
7 A. H. Weber, Berkeley, Cal.,	217.51
8 W. C. Emery, Springfield, Mass.,	174.16
9 B. A. Webber, Providence, R. I.,	102.32
10 W. O. Staab, Milwaukee, Wis.,	85.06
11 W. A. Hemphill, Pittsburg, Pa.,	63.91
12 H. S. Adair, Columbus, O.,	31.68

We cannot overestimate the value of this Branch System, and our thanks and the thanks of the Society are due the energetic branch managers. As stated before, managers will receive 2½% in cash at the end of the year (August 1, 1909), provided their totals reach at least $400.00. In addition to the above cash compensation, I have personally offered prizes in stamps for the four best results: 1st, $10; 2nd, $5; 3rd, $3; 4th, $2; Scott's Catalog value according to want list of the 19th Century.

NEW BOOKS WANTED.

During the past few weeks there has been a big call for new books for circulation, and we urge members to make up and forward large numbers of books. "Strike while the iron is hot!" This will be a busy summer in stamps, and those of you having a surplus for sale may as well participate in the activity. Give the catalog number and value as well as the net selling price. This always helps sales.

Respectfully submitted,

The regular summer outing of the N. E. P. A. will be held at the Squantum Inn, Atlantic, Mass., on Saturday, June 26th, 1909. Dinner will be served at 5 o'clock P. M. The committee are desirous of hearing from all those who intend to be present so as to make final arrangements. Those attending take cars from South Station, Boston, to Atlantic and then trolley cars to the Inn. By trolley from Boston to Neponset and then change to cars for the Inn. Those notifying the committee of their intention to be present will be notified by letter where to meet as a body. And as in all cases of the N. E. P. A. jollifications, there "will be something doing".

Wire Inspection.—Rome had a fall! Likewise falls the idea that the wire inspection labels that have been recently chronicled, have any official federal connection. I have received reliable information, substantiated by unquestionable authority to the effect that they have no governmental backing whatsoever. They are simply labels affixed by inspectors, at the pleasure of the National Board of Fire Underwriters with headquarters at Chicago. The insurability of a building depends to a greater or lesser extent upon the perfectness of the wiring done for electrical purposes. Likewise, to obtain proper fire rates it is necessary that the material used is manufactured in strict accordance with the ruling of the board mentioned above. This board has inspectors stationed at the several manufacturing of this class of goods, and after due inspection, the goods are labeled as having withstood the requisite test and are then acceptable for use in buildings, which then come under the class of safe fire risks.

All of this does not lessen the pleasure in the accumulation of the labels, and I find that there is a number of collectors throughout the country who take a great deal of pleasure in their accumulation. To get the classification of the labels in proper form, readers will kindly bear with me in my misfortune, and consider the words said about them unsaid, and we will start afresh, and try and get things in proper shape. So far I have found that there are labels for the following classes of goods which we will recognize by the terms I give them for the sake of brevity:—First, cord; second, wire; third, snap switch. There are others but as I have not seen them yet, I will refrain from mentioning until I have received them and can properly classify them, so that in the future it will be unnecessary to retrace my steps. Under the head of cord, appears a stamp bearing both a small control letter at the bottom of the stamp as well as a large letter over the face. The stamp is printed in green and buff, for the first issue and for the second issue is printed in red and black and yellow. The second stamp also bears the word "CORD" at the lower left corner, and will be readily recognized. To date I can chronicle the following.

Cord, Type 1.

500 feet Series "A" Large letter "C"

Under the head of wire we also have the two types corresponding with the above except that the first issue has no large letter in the design, and the second issue has the word "Wire" substituted for "CORD".

"Wire" Type 1.

500 feet, Series "D"	C
100 " " " " "	A
200 " " " " "	B
500 " " " " "	D Citron paper.
400 " " " " "	C
500 " " " " "	F
300 " " " " "	C
200 " " " " "	C
100 " " " " "	A
250 " " " " "	C
1000 " " " " "	C

"Wire" Type 2.

500 feet.

"Snap Switch."

Small stamp about ¼ inch by one inch Red, Black and Yellow, Series "J".

I have also seen a stamp somewhat larger than any of the others mentioned above, but of the same general design, printed in green but nothing to denote its proper classification. I will chronicle it as having been seen, and when proper information is at hand denoting to what class it should be relegated we will then switch it to the proper column.

Unclassified.

For the above information I am especially indebted to F. L. Bennett, Edward Howard, John Nelson, Oscar McElheney, Gerald B. Smith, and also C. A. Howes, through Mr. Nast of this city. I wrote the National Board of Fire Underwriters, at 382 Ohio St., Chicago, who very courteously mailed me a little booklet in connection with the above. If any collectors desire a copy I believe they can get one for the asking.

WIRE INSPECTION STAMPS.

By DOUGLAS B. ARMSTRONG.

In recent issues of your journal I have noticed several queries regarding certain stamps issued by the Wire Inspection Bureau, and about which there appears to be a dearth of reliable information.

One correspondent goes so far as to state that the Wire Inspection Bureau is a Government institution. This is entirely incorrect.

I had for some time the honour to be associated with the Wire Inspection Bureau, and am therefore in a position to furnish particulars which are not otherwise available.

The wire inspection bureau is a branch of the institution which is known as the Underwriter's Laboratories, and is maintained by, and in the interests of the fire insurance companies in the United States.

A factory inspection service is maintained by these Laboratories upon all kinds of material employed in the construction of fire-proof buildings such as chemical extinguishers, wire glass windows, fire-resisting doors and shutters, watchmen's clocks, rubber lined hose, etc., and also rubber covered wire for electric installations. All materials produced by factories included in the factory inspection service have to be of a certain specified standard, and when approved have the special seal of the Laboratories duly affixed; only goods duly approved by the Laboratories are accepted by the majority of the large fire insurance companies in buildings for which they issue policies.

The Hobby Stamp Monthly—24 to 36 pages—they're all taking about. "There's a reason." A sample copy will make you a subscriber. [tf]

In the case of insulated wire every coil of wire manufactured by the factories included in the wire inspection service has to have attached to it a special adhesive label, according to the number of feet of wire in the coil, thus special stamps are issued by the W. I. B. for coils of 250 ft., 500 ft., 1,000 ft., etc., all of which bear control marks consisting of a letter and serial number. These stamps are purchased by the factories at varying prices according to the number of feet indicated upon them, the charge for a stamp for 250 ft. being, if I remember rightly, 5 cents.

The stamps are I believe printed in sheets of 100, lithographically, by the American Bank Note Company of New York. The perforation I cannot at the moment recall, but the paper is white wove and unwatermarked and the sheets have narrow margins. A special cancelling stamp which cuts out a design in stencil is issued to the various factories for defacing these stamps.

These I regret are all the particulars that I can recall at the moment, but if those desirous of obtaining further information on the subject would communicate with the Secretary of the Wire Inspection Bureau, Hugh T. Wreakes, 29 West 39th St., New York City, he will I am sure render them all assistance in his power.

CHEAP POSTAGE BENEFITS.

The past is all forgotten:
It's hands across the sea.
And England is our neighbor,
It's bosom friends are we.
We send King Edward greeting
Across the waters damp
And ask him for a favor
All for a two cent stamp.

Of course we licked the British
In that old family row,
But why should we hold grudges
Against them for it now?
Perhaps we can forgive them
And set the matter straight
By writing them a letter
On that new postage rate.

That they deserved a licking
They couldn't well deny,
And also that they got it—
That scrap was not a tie—
But we should not endeavor
Those battles to revamp
And tell them all about it
Just for a two cent stamp.

Then hail the penny postage!
A penny over there
Is two cents of our money.
As I have read somewhere.
So write King Ed a letter
And tell him that your boy
Had measles, but is better,
That ought to give him joy.

APPLICATIONS RECEIVED.

As soon as your name has been published as an applicant you will probably have unse-lected selections of stamps sent you on approval. As a great many collectors object to this practice the Society desires to break the practice up. Please aid us and help protect yourself and others against further imposition,
by holding such selections without purchasing any, until sufficient funds have been sent by the dealer to return it to him by registered mail. Also please report the name of such dealer to the Secretary of the Society.

June 15th and should have reached all members by this time. Please notice that Ballot on Amendments should be sent to the Board of Vice Pres. at Boston, Mass., and should reach them by noon of July 15. The Official Ballot should be sent to the Chairman of the Credential Committee and should reach him at Atlantic City not later than noon of August 23rd. Read carefully all instructions and follow them closely, so that your ballot may be proper in every respect. Instructions to Proxy Holders should be written on the back of the proxy.

Our list of subscriptions continues to grow nicely. We want to hear from every member of this Society and will not be satisfied until we do.

HIGH WATER MARK.

This week the American Philatelic Society reaches the high water mark in its membership, a total of

1710 MEMBERS

being shown, including applications pending. This is a splendid achievement and the membership may well feel proud of the steady and substantial growth. Messrs. Adair, Barnum, Kjellstedt, Dunning, Perkins and all the rest of the Recruiting Committee may feel a sense of satisfaction in the superb progress made by our national society.

As the Official Journal, we shall be pardoned a supplementary word in connection with our recruiting remarks of last week. The recent derogatory utterances concerning present day methods in recruiting come with poor grace when we note that not a single new member has been reported from these quarters.

The WEEKLY presents this week 8 applications, a total of 127 on the year, and we feel that MEKEEL'S WEEKLY has demonstrated its interest in the society's welfare. Its publishers are not brigands, buccaners or bigots, notwithstanding Mr. Nast's screechings and contortions in the Stamp Journal. Messrs. Severn and Wylie have worked hard for the
A. P. S. and they do not propose to relinquish their efforts to increase its usefulness and efficiency. If you believe that the present era of prosperity should be

KIND WORDS AND KIND WISHES.

(We shall be pardoned if we quote from a few of the letters coming to our desk and of which these are only samples. The letter by Mr. G. de Lachasse, Hibernia Bank, San Francisco, Cal., just warms the cockles of the editor's heart. And we have only gratitude to offer in return for the confidence certain members of the A. P. S. have shown in sending the amendments to this office in blank with the message: "I rely upon your judgment. Vote as you think best."—MANAGING EDITOR.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14, 1909.

"For the 22nd time, and it is always a new pleasure, I renew my subscription to 'our' WEEKLY. In times gone by, one had to wait a long month to look forward for the coming of the then Mekeel's Monthly, and I can truly say that, though we at present have to wait but seven short days for the arrival of the now WEEKLY, our longing is the same. I say 'our' for I am convinced that all my fellow subscribers are feeling the same as I do. This time I am enclosing P. M. O. for one dollar for two years' subscription.

"Though I withdrew from the now A. P. S. quite a few years ago, I nevertheless kept a great interest in all the doings of our national philatelic society, and always remained in touch with everything pertaining to it, sharing the joy of

When a collector decides to sell at auction, the important thing to consider is "Where can I get the best results?" If you contemplate selling at auction, do not fail to write us. We desire to prove to you before you select your auction broker, that we are securing the very best possible results for our clients, through modern methods, a first class catalogue, and a list of tested buyers. About 60 collectors attend our sales in person, and we always receive thousands of bids by mail. We also have a fine clientele abroad, and we have made a study of the best buyers in certain lines. This foreign business is important when you know how to find it. A German client recently paid us $107.00 for lots purchased, having a catalogue value of $167.70—64% of catalogue.

You can depend upon good results when your stamps are in good condition. We have much more to say by mail to those who mean business, and our priced catalogues will show you what we can do.

TERMS:—Our terms are lowest for the best service and vary with the magnitude and quality of collection. MONEY ADVANCED INTENDING SELLERS, if desired. Sales held both in New York and Philadelphia.

HENRY WEIDENBACH.

We present above a half-tone of a Bertillon photograph of Henry Weidenbach, an art connoisseur, whose home up to a short time ago was in N. Y. City but more recently in Cincinnati. His specialty has been the restoring of oil paintings, in which he was very proficient. He has lived in Baltimore, where he committed thefts, also in Detroit, where he stole a valuable collection of stamps from A. W. Chittenden, selling the collection to the Queen City Stamp & Coin Co., (P. M. Weiss, proprietor,) Cincinnati, Ohio.

While in Cincinnati he worked for a number of prominent citizens, robbing most of them, including Gen. Seasongood and Harry M. Levy. From the latter he stole articles to the value of over $600. He was arrested in St. Louis April 17, 1909, returned to Cincinnati the 20th and on May 21 was sentenced by Judge Bromwell to four years in the Ohio State Penitentiary at Columbus.

F. D. Goodhue, through whose kindness we are placed in possession of the above facts, states that the price paid by the Queen City Stamp Co., $50.00, represented but a small fraction of its value but that in purchasing the collection Mr. Weiss was ignorant of the fact that the Chittenden collection purchased by him was stolen property.

"Like many, I can but acknowledge that much of its success has been due to the good work done by the WEEKLY, as well as to your untiring personal energy.

"I think that the time has now come when all true American philatelists must 'push'. I would therefore thank your esteemed Mr. Wylie to send me an A. P. S. application blank, so that I might send him my proxy in time for the coming convention."

Yours very sincerely,
G. DE LACHASSE.

"I noticed that there is a movement on foot to replace the WEEKLY with another paper. I, for my part, cannot understand why. I keep several German stamp papers but must say that the WEEKLY gives me in good many points the best satisfaction. I doubt if the society would be at the present time in such a standing as it is without the WEEKLY for his pushing and upholding of the A. P. S."—EMIL REMSCHEL, No. 3032.

"Is there any way in which I can help in the Official Journal contest? I am for you in every way and as I expect to be at the convention, I thought perhaps I might be of some use. If so, tell me how. I am adding the line, 'Vote for MEKEEL'S for Official Journal of the A. P. S.' to every letter I send out."—H. M. CLARK.

VOTE FOR THE BEST!

At the outset of this appeal to my fellow members of the American Philatelic Society, it may be well to state that the publishers of this journal are to me total strangers, and I never was, nor am I, under any obligation to them or their publication. We have before us two candidates for the official journal-ship, and it behooves us to carefully consider which one will serve the purposes of a serious philatelic society to the best. Look aside from the question of recruiting new members. Overlook that one has obtained to the extent of about 130 new members within the last year, while the other has promised liberally for the future. These are immaterial questions, but a serious question is: which journal, from a philatelic point of view, would be the best exponent of the doings of the American, national society? I am able to tell you from my own experience, that at the present time the philatelic press the world over only knows, and only quotes one American paper, MEKEEL'S WEEKLY STAMP NEWS. Why? Because it is the only American paper today in which you can find anything about philately that is beyond the stage of the tyro. We are a philatelic society and consequently we find it hard to do without philately altogether, and I imagine, that to deprive us of what little there is left of it would not meet with general favor. Our "Quarterly" will furnish us with philatelic food four times a year, but having been used to weekly feedings, the long intervals will prove rather hard and force us to subscribe to the weekly caterer which formerly made its calls free of charge. To talk about the question having arisen, if the official journal is becoming greater than the society it serves is a silly digging up of phrases favored in the days of trust busting and muckraking. If we members would only take the little time and care necessary to properly instruct our proxies, there would, in this case, have been no call for such expressions. Instruct for the "Quarterly" and the quarterly is yours, and then make up your mind if you want to be represented at home and abroad by the only American paper seriously considered in connection with philately.

EDITORIAL.

Bit of History—We are enabled to present a bit of data whose historical value will be appreciated by collectors. When South Carolina seceded from the Union on December 20th, 1860, while it expected that other of the southern states would imitate her example, yet for the time being she stood alone nationally. In the course of discussion of the results of their action, the Carolinians recognized the importance of unimpairing mail communication and the following remarks were made by several of the legislators as they viewed the consequences of their passage of the secession ordinance. It was about this time that Mr. Russell, the famous correspondent of the London Times said that South Carolina would welcome one of the royal family of Great Britain as sovereign, and thus establish a line of succession. Mr. Maseyck: "The Post Office has been swept off. My opinion is that the present system of postal arrangements is a nuisance. The public can be better served by private parties between cities like Philadelphia and New York, at one cent instead of three, and between less important, ten or more cents." Mr. Gregg: "For carrying the mails let the present contracts be assumed by South Carolina, instead of the United States." Mr. Barwell: "We have seceded from the United States and established our independence. We can't allow the United States to exercise authority over us any more. Let postal convenience be sacrificed if necessary." Mr. Maseyck added that all restriction must be removed from the mails. It was not long before South Carolina was joined by other states and thus, it was relieved from the necessity of making arrangements for postal service on its own account. Postal communication between the north and the south was continued for some months after the action of South Carolina.

A Further Word—The editorial, "Old Revenue Stamp Cuts," in the issue of June 5th, has brought us several communications from interested readers, one of whom has the several reproductions mentioned, besides others to which he calls attention. Our intention was to refer to some of the commoner varieties of these cuts as typifying a class. In this connection, Mr. Weber of Philadelphia calls notice to three types of approximate fac-similes of the Brandeth, one cent, private proprietary. The first type of these trade-marks, has the word "proprietary" in the right panel and the numeral "1" at either side at the bottom; the second is the same, except that the "1's" are missing and on the third, the word "proprietary" is gone, also. The three stamps exhibit the aggressive policy of the government in enforcing the stipulations of the section of the revenue act incorporating the penalty for "forging, counterfeiting, or misusing stamps or dies." The section is a long one and covers "resembling" of the stamp or die. Mr. Weber shows, also, a three-cent "postage" and a revenue stamp, respectively, such as were used by the students of the "Eastman's National Business College," in the commercial departments of the institution; the government interdicted the use of these labels.

Reconsidered—In view of the fact that several of our friends have written warmly commending the temperate, impersonal way in which the WEEKLY is conducting its campaign for the official journalship of the American Philatelic Society, we have thought better of our plan to employ a bit of cartooning and lampooning at this time. Rather than forfeit the good-will of those to whom this sort of thing in the merry little world of philately is discordant, we shall not dignify the efforts of our wayward friends by calling attention to them. It is real charity for us to cover with the cloak of silence the follies of the few. Any inquiry that may be made regarding the actions of the publishers as affecting society policy in the past will be answered willingly. To those who have taken the time to write approving the "easy and efficient" manner in which we answered several questions that the propounders fondly imagined were likely to involve us in embarrassment, we return our best thanks. As there were never any understanding between the publishers of the WEEKLY on any point concerning the society except that having to do with the official journalship, all insinuation and innuendo become pointless and falls of its own weight. The one favor we ask is that members of the American Philatelic Society vote for the WEEKLY as official journal. Instruct your proxy, whoever may be selected, to vote for this paper.

The Same—In the WEEKLY of May 29th, reference was made to an impressed or envelope stamp, design of the 25-cent red, Wells, Fargo & Company local, adhesive, 1860, that appeared just to the left of that of the three-cent 1861, red on white, United States envelope. Mr. Gerberding, Hueneme, California, who has given particular attention to the issues of Wells, Fargo & Company, stamps and franks, writes as follows: "I believe that some of the mining companies whose works were at Virginia City, Nevada, with office in San Francisco, had such envelopes prepared for their use. At least I have seen such an envelope as you describe prepared by the Gould & Curry Silver Mining Company. If the envelope shown you was so prepared (it had the name of the company printed faintly over its face, in tint,) perhaps it is the same envelope that I saw. Although I have quite a lot of the pay Express stamps, I have seen but the one impressed stamp. I was under the impression at the time I saw the envelope that it might possibly be simply a trial or essay that had never been put into actual use, but a work on early locals that I have, speaks of impressed pay Express stamps." Mr. Gerberding's description is perfectly correct. The face of the envelope is tinted and the name, "Gould & Curry Silver Mining Co." in two lines is in blank white letters. While it is possible that our correspondent saw the envelope to which our attention was called, there is at least another copy in existence; and this reposes in the recollection of Mr. Worthington.

Another—We are aware that there is an impressed Wells, Fargo & Company local stamp as Mr. Phillips lists the three-cent 1861 on white with a printed ten-cent, type of the adhesive in red; but the impression is placed over the blank Wells, Fargo & Company frank at the right end of the label. The envelope that we described bears no frank and the denomination of its impressed local is twenty-five cents; its color is red, that of the adhesive of this value, while the ten cents listed by Mr. Phillips is not in the color of the adhesive stamp of this denomination. In passing: We like the term "pay express stamps" used by Mr. Gerberding. It should not be forgotten that the government insisted upon the use of stamped envelopes by the express companies that carried letters.

MILITIA STAMP FOR CANADA.

(Clipping sent in by Robt. Hitchman.)

The Hon. Rodolpe Lemieux, Postmaster-General, has decided to establish field postoffices in connection with all Canadian military camps throughout the Dominion. The first of these will be at Camp Niagara.

A red and white flag is at the Toronto postoffice and will be officially raised over a marquee postoffice at Niagara June 16 by the Hon. Mr. Lemieux. The flag, which is three yards long, is composed of two sections of that length, the upper 12 inches red and the lower 12 inches white. This plain standard is the official British army postoffice flag and is something entirely new in Canada.

All the necessary equipment has been sent to Niagara, where the field postoffice will be in charge of Capt. W. R. Ecclestone of Hamilton, who served in South Africa, where he was attached to the British army postal service. Assisting him will be Thos. Matthews, also a trained military man, attached to the Toronto postoffice. Mails will be received and despatched through Niagara postoffice as often as it is found advisable and delivery will be made throughout the camp by wagon service. The camp postoffice will have its own stamp, the first of its kind to be used in the Dominion.—Toronto Star.

This book should be in the hands of every U. S. collector. It is daintily printed on fine paper, the text being in clear type and the entire work a lasting credit to philately.

Not the least of its merits is the illustrations, sections of stamps being shown enabling one to see at a glance points of differences between types and varieties of the old issues. The book makes devious paths straight.

BINGHAMTON PHILATELIC EXHIBIT.

The Binghamton (N. Y.) Philatelic society has decided to hold an exhibition in the Public Library either in October or November. Members of this society, who include some of the prominent business men of this city, have some extremely valuable and interesting stamp collections, which will be placed on exhibition at that time. The exhibit will continue for ten days or two weeks, being open every afternoon and evening. The exhibit will be changed every two or three days. In it will be seen the collection of Charles F. Sisson, which has cost many thousand dollars, and which is one of the finest collections in the world of United States stamps and those of Great Britain and the British and French colonies.—Clipping.

CHRONICLE OF NEW ISSUES.

Edited by HENRY A. KIDDER.

Any information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged. Address HENRY A. KIDDER, 17 Addison Street, Arlington, Mass.

UNITED STATES.—N. Cobe gives us the following additional plate numbers of the Yukon-Alaska-Pacific stamp: 5170, 5171, 5172, 5173, 5208, 5209, 5210, 5211.

Herman W. Boers reports various new plate numbers, but we have not been in the habit of reporting these, unless there is some peculiarity worthy of note.

Frank B. Eldredge reports the following new precancels:

Boston, Mass., 4c 1908, normal.
St. Paul, Minn., 1c 1908, reading up.
Boston, Mass., 1c 1908, double surcharge, inverted.
Boston, Mass., 3c 1908, normal.
Buffalo, N. Y., 8c 1908, normal.
Toledo, Ohio, 1c 1908, normal.

W. A. Budlong reports having seen the current 2c carmine envelope on white, size 11, on 1903 paper.

William F. Palmer calls our attention to the fact that there are striking differences in the 1907 watermarks on the current envelopes. The most striking difference is found in the shape of the figure "9" which in one has the lower end swung sharply toward the left, while the other has the figure nearly upright, but prolonged downward. In the latter case the "9" is nearly one-half taller than in the other.

D. T. Eaton writes as follows regarding the current envelopes and their watermarks:

"I notice that L. C. Sharpe reports having seen the current 2c envelope on white, size 6, on 1903 paper. There is an error in this somewhere, as there is no size 6 of the 2c envelope. Is the error in the size or denomination? Possibly it should be 1c envelope, size 6. Also note that I had reported to me size 14 on white, 1903 watermark. Of the die A2, I have so far on white sizes 2, 4, 10 and 14, and 2c on amber of the current 2c rose. The 1c envelope, size 6, on white paper seems to come in two different varieties, that is the one with knife No. 68, in one the left flap folds over the right, and the other the right over the left, similar to the Hartford and Holyoke series. I wrote Mr. Bartels regarding this, and since then others have been received, which shows conclusively that they are using both shapes." J.T.B.

AFGHANISTAN.—A new stamp is reported by the Philatelic Journal of India which differs in many details from that of 1908. The new stamp is perforated. Adhesive.

AUSTRIA.—We have received from Mr. Schachne what appears to be a picture card but without the usual inscriptions on the front. It has the 5h green stamp (current Jubilee) impressed at the upper center and cancelled or overprinted with a hand stamp. The card seems to be intended to commemorate Archduke Karl at the battle of Aspern May 22, 1809, as shown by the illustration on the back. It hails from Vienna.

BRITISH HONDURAS.—The Scott Stamp & Coin Co. sends us the 5c ultramarine stamp on ordinary multiple paper. This stamp was announced some time since, but has just been issued.

COLOMBIA.—The C. E. Hussman Stamp Co. shows us a copy of the current 2c rose stamp, imperforate on all four sides. This is Scott's No. 363, to be found in the Addenda.

DANISH WEST INDIES.—Mr. Schachne has the double card similar to the single noticed in No. 910.

Post Card.

10x10 bit carmine on very pale buff, T.3.

ITALY.—Offices in Crete.—The .25c blue and 50c violet of 1908 have been surcharged "La Canea" in black.

LIBERIA.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us a new provisional for this country, the 10c red brown and black of 1908 having been surcharged "Inland—3 Cents" in script type in black. The surcharge is in two lines and is in the lower part of the stamp.

Provisional Adhesive.
3c on 10c red brown and black.

NETHERLANDS.—William Ward sends us a new provisional postage due stamp of the Netherlands, the 6½c ultramarine and black having been surcharged with a large figure "4" in red.

Postage Due Adhesive
"4" on 6½c dark ultramarine and black, red surcharge.

The New England Stamp Co. has also shown us this provisional postage due stamp.

NICARAGUA.—Hermann Focke sends us the new 1 peso stamp, surcharged horizontally with the word "Oficial" in large handsome Roman capitals. It seems probable that the whole set has been thus surcharged, though the 1 peso is the only one thus far reported.

Official Adhesive.

The Scott Stamp & Coin Co. has shown us the complete set as far as issued of the current American printed series, from 1c to 2p, all unused.

ST. LUCIA.—A. O. Tittmann reports having received the 1d and 2½d stamps in the new colors. He says: "There seem to have been left over a few of the 2½d and 3d, single watermark, as I received some of them about three months ago, but evidently there were very few, as in today's lot the 3d stamps were all of the multiple variety, while all the 2½d mauve stamps seem to have been disposed of."

THE LATEST PHILATELIC CONCEIT.

"The Postage Stamp in the United States, a history of domestic letter postage," copyrighted and published by Charles Matthew Abbott at Watertown, Mass., $1 post paid. This newest addition to the library of philately is interestingly conceived to appeal first of all to those who are not now active stamp collectors. Printed on both sides of a card nine by sixteen inches it covers in condensed form the most important facts in the postal service of our country; just the things that the average man wants to know and no more. A symmetrical and attractive arrangement of eighteen original specimens representing all the designs used by the government for letter rates from 1851 to 1909 is mounted on one side of the card, while the story of each issue is told in the margin. A half tone reproduction of the Franklin portrait by John B. Longacre used in designing the five cent stamp of 1847 is printed in place of the original stamp. The average number of letter rate stamps used per year during the life of each issue is shown and serves to emphasize the enormous value of the post office to trade and education.

The opposite side of the card has a space for issues to come and a list of all subjects and designs used in the regular issues with some general facts about stamp collecting.

The ink is india printed on sepia paper mounted on heavy card to affect the appearance of a frame. These all serve as background for the stamps and altogether it is a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and worthy of decorating any wall. It is a good missionary for philately making its plea for its very best side, and should be in every library and school house in the country.

PHILATELY IN THE JUBILEE EXHIBITION OF PRAGUE, 1908.

By DR. KARL SIGMUND in Der Universal-Anzeiger, Vienna.

Translated by SIEGFRIED SCHACHNE.

The Prague Jubilee Exposition, which was held from May 11th to Oct. 1908, had its own Post Office and the Post Office Department of Austria there exhibited printing machines, which showed the otherwise very rare spectacle of the printing of postage stamps. During the entire period of the exposition the following values were printed: The 3, 5 and 10 heller stamps and the blue 2 heller Jubilee stamp. Until Oct. 4th the dies of the prior issue were used, while after that date, until the close of the exhibition, the dies of the Jubilee stamps were employed expressly for the printing of private issues, also of entires such as envelopes, postal cards, view cards, wrappers, etc. It was, however, obligatory to get no less than 10 pieces of any one kind printed.

According to the original regulations, official entires were not to receive any additional values, but it so happened that notwithstanding that rigid rule numerous kinds of official entires received one or even two additional impressed stamp or stamps—officially, it must be emphasized. By that operation no less than 193 new varieties came into existence, which we must take notice of, even if they may not be catalogued.

The highly interesting history of the existence of these entires is as follows: In the first part of June a stranger intended to mail several postal cards addressed to foreign countries, at the Exposition Post Office. The official called his attention to the fact that the cards were insufficiently prepaid, whereupon the gentleman wanted to purchase the additional stamps. The next minute he asked the official—as he had witnessed the printing of the stamps—to please put the lacking values on the cards by means of the printing machines. After a short deliberation on the part of the officials this request was granted and in that manner 3 new varieties came into existence:

Postal Card, Senf No. 164, and 5h impressed stamp.
Letter " " 172, 5h " " " " 44, 5h " " "

The stranger however was compelled to get 10 of each of the above printed.

The complacency of the officials did not remain a secret for any length of time—there was a philatelist among the Post Office employees—and in the course of the next few days several persons succeeded in getting the additional stamp impressed upon entires. But, alas, this philatelic feast lasted but a few days, for as soon as the matter was known in Vienna, an ukase was issued, prohibiting the practice.

In August the Jubilee Postal Cards were issued in eight languages and an additional card specially prepared for the Prague Exposition, all of which bore only a 5 heller stamp, as they were intended exclusively for domestic service. Inasmuch as the Exhibition was largely frequented by foreigners, thousands of these Jubilee cards were sent to foreign lands, each one having an additional 5 heller stamp affixed, for the reason that no international Jubilee cards were ever issued. Now the Post Office Department, owing to very numerous requests, relented and not only permitted the adding of the impressed stamp on official entires, but also prepared in advance a large lot of the Jubilee Postal Cards with the additional impressed stamp, which were sold over the counter in the usual manner. In order to stem the onslaught of the philatelists, however, this arrangement was not made public and in this way about 6000 pieces of 193 varieties were printed. Some of these exist in only a few copies.

According to the exact statistics of The Imperial and Royal Post Office Department, the following quantities of Postal Stationery were supplemented by the additional impressed stamp: 2200 Postal Cards of the 1907 issue, 3500 Jubilee Postal Cards (for Prague), 500 Postal Cards of the subsequent issue, bearing the same stamp, but card without any instructions. This card was issued in the beginning of October. It may also interest the reader to learn of the other productions of the printing machines. During the entire term of the Exhibition there were printed 729,635 Newspaper Jubilee stamps, 2 heller; 47,879 3 heller stamps, 66,916 5 heller stamps and 95,727 10 heller stamps, a total of 940,157 stamps to the face value of about 29,000 kronen.

I now present the complete list of all the entires bearing the additional officialy impressed stamps; a, with additional impressed stamp of the 1900 type; b, with additional impressed stamp of the 1908 type.

The ballots have all been mailed a week now and if you have not received yours yet, just stop and think whether you ever notified the secretary of your change of address. The secretary wants to please everybody, but he hasn't quite reached the place where he is an absolute mind reader. He makes mistakes sometimes, so in order to avoid future ones please notify him at once if there is anything wrong with yours.

Have you sent in your subscription to the Priced Specialized Catalog yet? It is the best thing ever attempted by any society in this country. We are waiting to hear from you. Don't forget to instruct your proxy in favor of this catalog. Published last week, 158 copies, $202.00

Let's hear from you, too.

The official call for the convention was published June 5th and the time will be here before we know it. Are you going to come? The "Old Regulars" read the call and say to themselves, "Where for a like expenditure of time and money can I put in five days that will give me the lasting and equal benefit that I will derive from this convention? Where can I pick up so many new ideas, gain such genuine inspiration, and withal enjoy such good-fellowship as among the members of the American Philatelic Society?"

Will you attend and join us, or does the sun rise and set in your own home and local society? If so, it is time to enlarge your little world and come in touch with men who are outside of your domestic universe.

Do not grow rusty. Don't be resigned to your fate like the Dutch woman who died because she had to. Make your plans to come out and see what the rest of the world is doing. You will enjoy every minute of it and in years to come will look back upon it as an oasis in life's desert.

COLUMBUS BRANCH No. 21.

The 59th meeting was held June 15th at the rooms of the Club with 12 members and one visitor in attendance. Minutes of the 58th meeting and report of the Board of Directors were read and approved. Secretary read letter from Mr. Beck, Secretary of Branch No. 25, which was ordered accepted and filed.

The following resolution, offered by Paul Mason and seconded by John Feuchtinger, was unanimously carried:

"Whereas, Detroit Branch No. 25, American Philatelic Society, has announced its candidacy for the 1910 or Silver Jubilee Convention of the American Philatelic Society; and

"Whereas, The Columbus Collectors' Club (Branch No. 21) recognizes the desirability of the convention being held in a centrally located city; and

"Whereas, Detroit has all the natural and other facilities for both the business and entertainment features of the convention; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Columbus Collectors' Club endorses the candidacy of Detroit for the convention, and urges its members individually and all other members of the American Philatelic Society to vote for and to instruct their proxies to vote for Detroit for the American Philatelic Society convention in 1910."

The question of an exhibition and possibly a lecture to be given some time in the winter was referred to the first meeting in September. The subject of the evening was Bulgaria, Messrs. Field and Smith making the exhibits, which Mr. Field accompanied by a very interesting talk. A short article on the history of Bulgaria was read and President Mason spoke of the life and work of Januarius Aloysius MacGahan, the Ohio newspaper man to whom, more than to any other man, the independence of Bulgaria is due. The subject was particularly appropriate at this time inasmuch as June 12th was the 65th anniversary of MacGahan's birth. Through the generosity of C. B. Duffy, a free prize drawing was held in which an envelope containing stamps ranging in value from 25 cents to $5 was presented to each member present.

The regular meeting of the New England Philatelic Association was held on the evening of June 8, 1909, at 28 School St., Room 1, Boston, Mass. Meeting called to order by the president, H. W. Legg. Records of May meeting read and approved. Treasurer's report read and accepted. C. H. Stone was appointed auditor to examine the treasurer's book for the past year. Voted, on recommendation by the committee on the annual outing, that the tickets be placed at $1.50. The exhibition of 25 stamps of the 20th century showing the largest increase in value over their face value was surprising to the members, in that the advance of stamps exhibited showed the increase in price to be from 1500% to 36,000%. Meeting adjourned at 10.30 P. M.

WILLIAM G. BAIL, Sec. pro tem.

The annual outing will be held Saturday afternoon, June 26th, at Squantum Inn, tickets $1.50. A more complete notice will be sent to each member.

A FINAL WORD

During the years that MEKEEL'S WEEKLY has served as official journal an era of great prosperity has been experienced. A comparison in membership shows the following results:

SEPT. 1903 - - 560 JUNE 1909 - - 1700

From a weak condition, we have grown until we are the largest national stamp society in the world and the "recruiting ground" has been the big subscription list of MEKEEL'S WEEKLY. Since the removal of the paper from New York to Boston, a steady increase in membership has been reported.

A comparison of treasury balances is also productive of food for reflection.
We find that funds in the hands of the treasurer were:

SEPT. 1903 - - $2900 JULY 1908 - - $4200

In five years the splendid gain of $1300 recorded and the society has never been on a better financial basis than today. The credit for this is due not to any one person. It is due to a splendid co-operation upon the part of the members who had the best stamp paper in the world around which to rally.

During the past week the members of the Society have received Redfield's Weekly, a sample copy having been sent each member. We urge a comparison of the two papers and will abide by your judgment as to which is "largest and best."
It costs 50 per cent more to produce MEKEEL'S WEEKLY than Redfield's and the publishers of the latter paper can well afford to make a cheap rate, cheaper even were it allowable than the 25c rate maintained by the P. O. department.
Usually a low priced article is "cheap" in quality as well as in price. Our services will be offered on the same basis as previous years—actual cost of the printing and posting of the paper.

During the past three years MEKEEL'S has secured no less than

274 NEW MEMBERS

It has been made possible because we have sought out interested subscribers and pressed them for applications. No ordinary member, no officer could so successfully do this work. They do not have the means of approach. There is however, one other member who is daily writing philatelic letters and reaching scores of non-members. His name is Louis G. Quackenbush. He is editor of Redfield's Weekly, a capable man of very pleasing address, long on adjectives, but exceedingly short on applications. With exactly the same chances to secure new members as the editor of MEKEEL'S, Ans. O how many applications have this year borne the name of Quackenbush?

In reply to your remarks, Mr. Quackenbush, allow us to say that we do not question the loyalty of Mr. Mudge, Mr. Wolsieffer, Mr. Deats or any other of the gentlemen mentioned. Don't attempt to befog the situation! We are dealing with Redfield's Weekly and its editor and we are showing that not only do you not deserve the official journalship, but that in taking your paper a certainty is being exchanged for a very doubtful quantity. Why take the imitation when one can get the real article?

In its appeal for support Redfield's has built a man of straw in order to knock him down. We know of no dictator, no ring, no clique that is trying to run the society. Moreover we know of no work that Redfield's can do, but what MEKEEL'S is already doing with its

When a collector decides to sell at auction, the important thing to consider is "Where can I get the best results?" If you contemplate selling at auction, do not fail to write us. We desire to prove to you before you select your auction broker, that we are securing the very best possible results for our clients, through modern methods, a first class catalogue, and a list of tested buyers. About 60 collectors attend our sales in person, and we always receive thousands of bids by mail. We also have a fine clientele abroad, and we have made a study of the best buyers in certain lines. This foreign business is important when you know how to find it. A German client recently paid us $107.00 for lots purchased, having a catalogue value of $167.70—64% of catalogue.

You can depend upon good results when your stamps are in good condition. We have much more to say by mail to those who mean business, and our priced catalogues will show you what we can do.

TERMS:—Our terms are lowest for the best service and vary with the magnitude and quality of collection. MONEY ADVANCED INTENDING SELLERS, if desired. Sales held both in New York and Philadelphia.

INARTISTIC SWISS STAMPS.

The chorus of disapproval called forth by the two new designs used for the Swiss stamps issued towards the end of 1907 is responsible for the numerous experiments which have produced so many "varieties", as they are called, of the issues of 1908.

The two designs which embellished these stamps could hardly have been more inartistic; and it is little wonder that there has been an outcry against them, though the magnitude of the agitation could hardly have been foreseen. It is said that there are four large volumes of cuttings at the Federal Postal Department containing nothing but articles adversely criticising the issue.

One of the designs, which represented Helvetia as a ferocious looking dame, of masculine appearance, has been nicknamed the "Germania-Helvetia", owing to a by no means flattering resemblance to the design of the German stamp; and the other, which is commonly called "Wetti's Dwarf", after the artist who made the design, representing the diminutive son of William Tell holding a gigantic crossbow in one hand and an apple, pierced by a dart, in the other.

So insistent was the voice of public disapproval that the designs were returned to the artists to be retouched. This has now been done, and the stamps that are being issued have been slightly changed and somewhat improved, though they are still very far from being satisfactory. In fact, even these finally accepted designs compare very unfavourably with that of the seated figure of Helvetia, as on the 25 centimes stamps.—London Standard.

Written for MEKEEL'S WEEKLY.

A. P. S. HISTORICAL NOTES.

Year 1886. First Convention.

By H. A. DAVIS, Colo. Branch No. 22.

(This is the first of a series of papers by Holland A. Davis of Denver, Col., that is to appear regularly in the WEEKLY. The series will prove of great historical value, a veritable 'multum in parvo'. We are positive that Dr. Davis' articles will prove strong and interesting. Each year will be taken separately.—ED.)

Several years before 1886 collectors had read papers before their local societies and comments had been made in the philatelic press relative to organizing a National Society. Early in 1886 Theo. F. Cuno of Brooklyn read a paper before the New York Society on this subject. S. B. Bradt of Chicago wrote several articles for the philatelic press, and C. H. Mekeel of St. Louis from month to month published articles in the Philatelic Journal of America. Soon all the philatelic journals were publishing comments on the advisability of such an organization and editorials on the subject were numerous. The local societies in Chicago, St. Louis, Philadelphia, New York and Atlanta took the matter up and appointed a representative or delegate to meet and organize a "National Philatelic Society".

In October a committee comprised of one member from each of the five societies enumerated above sent out a circular asking all who had signified their willingness to become a member to send 25c to the chairman of the committee with their vote for officers. There were 400 collectors who had promised to support the movement with their membership. The committee was comprised of the following: Theo. F. Cuno, chairman; S. B. Bradt, Chicago; C. H. Mekeel, St. Louis; G. H. Henderson, Philadelphia; W. G. Whilden, Jr., Atlanta.

The organizing convention was held in New York at the rooms of the New York Assembly Rooms, 62 E. 4th St., Sept. 13th, 1886. W. G. Whilden, Jr., of Atlanta was the only member of the committee absent. On opening the mail vote it was found that there were a total of 219 votes cast. Amount received $54.75. The following officers were elected for two years: Pres., John K. Tiffany, St. Louis; V. Pres., R. R. Bogert, Philadelphia; Sec., S. B. Bradt, Chicago; Treas., L. W. Durbin, Philadelphia; Int. Sec., Jos. Rechert, New York.

Theo. F. Cuno acted as temporary chairman of the organizing meeting and Dr. W. H. Mitchell as secretary. V. Pres. R. R. Bogert acted as chairman of the first convention. A Constitution and By-Laws was adopted, and the name chosen was American Philatelic Association. There was some controversy over the names philatelic and philatelic, and also over American and National.

The first convention adjourned to meet at the call of the President at Chicago, in 1887. The constitution was printed and sent to each member in October. Geo. Henderson of Philadelphia and several other Philadelphia members resigned on account of some alleged grievances.

The secretary issued Official Circular No. 1, dated Nov. 1886, eight pages. The Official Board appointed the following officers: Trustees, E. B. Sterling, Trenton, N. J.; Wm v. d. Wetters, Jr., Baltimore, Md.; J. C. Feldwisch, Denver, Colo.; Official Editor, W. R. Fraser, Altoona, Pa.; Librarian, E. D. Cline, Toledo, Ohio; Exch. Supt., E. B. Hanes, Providence, R. I.; Purch. EDITORIAL.

Seems Scarce—There is a chance that the ten-cent special delivery stamp whose discontinuance was ordered recently by the postmaster, as mentioned in the newspaper despatches will become a desirable stamp. If the accounts of certain collectors who have interested themselves in the stamp are any criterion, the green special has a promising future. Reports to the effect that only comparatively small quantities of the green special delivery stamp were distributed by the department seem to have a basis in fact. It is known that some of the largest cities received but small lots of the green special, probably because the supply of the old type stamp was still ample. The use of the special delivery stamp has been greatly curtailed through the regulation that allows the stamps of the ordinary type to pay the special fee, even though the authorities encourage the use of the special stamp in preference to the others. There is no objection to calling attention to the possibility that the ten-cent green, special delivery, is destined to become a desirable stamp.

Japanese Enterprise—From a clipping, sent in by W. H. Boatright, that appeared originally in a Russian newspaper, it is learned that during the progress of the Russo-Japanese war, the Japanese obtained more than 1,500,000 rubles worth of Russian postage and revenue stamps, which were abandoned by the Russians in "various postoffices, branches thereof and sundry other establishments." The Japs are attempting to market the stamps among Russians and they are wont to offer parcels to Russians arriving in Japan at one-half or more discount. One Russian who bought a large lot succeeded in having them landed on Russian territory but the agents of the detective force discovered the transaction and confiscated the stamps. As the stamps are genuine in every way, it is reported that Proposed Union—Our news columns give the good tidings that the movement is on to amalgamate the Metropolitan Philatelic Association, Southern Philatelic Association and National Philatelic Association. We cannot too heartily express our approval of the project. The work of these associations greatly overlap each other and three moderately successful organizations can be merged into one national body that will in no sense conflict with the A. P. S. We trust H. A. Davis and his fellow laborers will meet with success in this project.

Echo of the War—A friend writes: "I have found and copied for your benefit, a decision of Postmaster General Reagan, Confederate States of America, addressed to the President of the Southern Express Co., that was printed in the Montgomery, Ala., Advertiser of July 31st, 1861. It is interesting in its way and perhaps worthy of presentation to your readers. The order is: "The legislation of the Government of the United States, so far as it relates to mailable matter and the rates of postage, and the mode of transmitting mail matter, has been substituted by the legislation of the Confederate States, and is thereby repealed. Newspapers and periodicals sent to ordinary subscribers for single copies, or for more than one copy, or to news-dealers who send large orders to supply subscribers of their own, or the general trade within the limits of the delivery of post offices, other than at place of publication, are equally mailable matter, and cannot be sent by mail-carriers or expressmen, without payment of postage. They cannot be carried, under our laws, as merchandise to supply subscribers or the regular trade, except through the mails or by express or other chartered companies, on payment of the regular rates of postage.

The object of our legislation was to declare what should be mailable matter, and require postage to be paid on such matter so as to secure a sufficiency of revenue to render the Post-Office Department self-supporting. If the law be so construed as to allow the transmission and delivery of papers by express companies or others, to subscribers or dealers at points other than the place of publication, at a cost less than the regular rates of postage, it will at once be seen that the Department would lose much of its revenues; and publishers availing themselves of such modes of transmission, would secure an advantage over others sending their papers by mail, as to injure the circulation of the latter or drive them to the same means of transmission and the result would be, that the express companies would become rivals of the Post-Office Department, and deprive it of a large amount of business and legitimate revenues, and to that extent defeat the object had in view by Congress of making the Department self-sustaining. This reasoning does not apply, however, to books of a

In the Times—We were pleased to notice in the London Times of June 4th, a full column article entitled "Postage Stamp Sales." This contribution "from a correspondent" may contain an inaccuracy or two but it furnishes some interesting observations particularly on the subject of London auction sales. We find: "A rough computation of the turnover at London postage stamp auctions during the last quarter of a century places the total at something approaching one million pounds sterling." These are round numbers—the kind that always lie, according to Dr. Johnson,—but they may not be out of the way; and they will certainly impress the reading constituency of "The Thunderer."

Many Thanks—Encouragement in our campaign for the official journalship of the American Philatelic Society comes in constantly swelling volume from many friends and others who believe that it is due to the WEEKLY that the honor be awarded it for another year. The feeling as expressed by our correspondents in some cases is very strong against the "pretenders" while generally, the resentment at the tactics of certain of our opponents is outspoken. Acting upon his own suggestion, H. M. Clark of Chicago is sending out a letter to members of the A. P. S. with whom he has come in contact, inviting their support for the WEEKLY. Needless to repeat, we appreciate the aid and comfort of our friends and supporters on this occasion.

Poor Prophets—We have refuted all "charges" that have insinuated or openly published for our embarrassment and it is now in order for the opposition to enlarge upon probabilities of impending "coups" that will be instigated by the publishers of the WEEKLY, affecting this or that legislation. Concerning such reports, we say unequivocally, that they may be denounced as having no foundation in fact. We absolutely refuse to try to "dominate" A. P. S. legislation even at the expense of branding as false the prophecies of dissenting friends. The one favor that we ask is the grant of the journalship; we want it and we are glad to say that we are not alone in our belief that we are deserving of it.

IMPORTANT AMALGAMATION.

(The members of these three organizations are urged to carefully consider the proposition involved and act favorably upon the same. While the WEEKLY is not the official representative of any of these societies, it is interested in every movement having for its object the well being of American philately and it believes the time is opportune for the amalgamation advocated.—Ed.)

It is reported that the Metropolitan Philatelic Association, the Southern Philatelic Association and the National Philatelic Association are in a fair way to be consolidated. The officials at the head of the three societies, as well as all the members thus far heard from, are heartily in favor of the movement.

It is proposed that each society at its annual meeting appoint one member to form a committee of three which shall act as a credentials and organizing committee to receive the votes of the members of the three societies for a Board of Directors and to select the Official Journal. This executive committee will probably be ready for business in January 1910. The following names have been proposed for the larger organization: The United Philatelic Association, The International Philatelic Association, and a name composed of the three names in one.

Such an organization if carried to a successful termination would be a power for good philatelically. It would have a membership of between 600 and 700 members, if not more, after eliminating members who belong to each society. The dues would be less and an annual publication could be issued which would be of great merit. The love of holding office may cause a few members of each society to oppose the amalgamation, but from present indications they too will fall in line when they note the enthusiasm among the majority of the members of the three societies.

CHRONICLE OF NEW ISSUES.

Edited by HENRY A. KIDDER.

Any information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged. Address HENRY A. KIDDER, 17 Addison Street, Arlington, Mass.

UNITED STATES.—Robert J. Wagner reports that while working a number of circulars in his local postoffice, he found that each one had a break in the stamp design. The circulars were contained in the current 1c envelope, dark green on amber, size 5. The breaks, or colorless lines, varied in position, but with one exception all extended into the stamp as far as the inner colorless oval line. All these breaks were below the bust. There were about 250 of them, every envelope in the lot being so marked.

We are likely to have a good many envelope varieties with part of the watermark missing. In addition to the one noted last week, Frank Prescott reports having seen Scott's No. 1642, dated "03" instead of "1903". Sumner Gary reports having seen the 2c carmine dated "903", "03", and also "1903" and "903" in the same envelope.

L. Harald Kjellstedt has shown us some correspondence which proves that the 10,000 imperforate 4c stamps of 1902 series, mentioned by the Third Assistant Postmaster General in a recent interview, were issued to the Detroit, Mich., postoffice. They were sold to the Schermack Mailing Machine Co., and by that company turned over to a customer, who used them all in regular course.

BOLIVIA.—The C. E. Hussman Co. reports having seen half of the 20c stamp of 1901-02 used as 10c. It came on the mail of a large New York importing house.

CANAL ZONE.—Clarence Hill Burrage has shown us a copy of Scott's No. 5 of the Canal Zone, with a part of the last A of Panama missing. The lower right limb has disappeared altogether.

INDIA.—Ewen's Weekly reports that the current 6a bistre (Ewen says yellow) has been surcharged "On H. M. S." for official use.

Official Adhesive.

6a bistre (yellow).

MALDIVES.—The new stamps were issued in the Maldiv Islands May 17, and arrived in London June 14, according to Ewen's Weekly. The new design was described in No. 926. The new stamps are watermarked vertical rosettes, and are printed in sheets of 60 stamps, ten rows of six.

Adhesives.

2c brown.
3c green.
5c lilac.
10c red.

NETHERLANDS.—Mr. Schachne shows us the 5c divided face card with same stamp as last; same arms as on the 1 1/2c cards; two headlines; "A" before the first dotted address line.

Post Card.

NEW ZEALAND.—According to the Australian Philatelist, new stamps are being prepared with the King's head in place of the current designs. The denominations that are to appear at first are the 2d, 3d, 4d, 5d, 6d and 1sh. Apparently there is to be no change for the present in the 1/2d, 1d, 2 1/2d, 8d, 9d, 2sh and 5sh stamps. The new stamps will be printed from steel plates, and are the work of Messrs. Royle, who were responsible for the two plates marked "R1" and "R2," used in printing some of the later "Universal" pennies. The design is practically the same for all values, the alteration in some of the values being merely in the background and position of the numerals denoting value. "New Zealand" is printed at the top in fairly bold type. Beneath this is a crown, and below this appears the head and shoulders of King Edward in an oval frame, the head being somewhat below the centre of the stamp. His Majesty is in uniform, the head being turned slightly to the right. On one side of the stamp appears "Postage" and on the other "Revenue", while the bottom is reserved for the value in words. These features of the design are common to all six values, though the position of the numerals of value varies in the different values. Colorproofs showing the new design have been exhibited to the New Zealand Philatelic Society, though it is understood that the colors for the different values have not yet been definitely decided upon. The stamps are to be the size of the current 1/2d and 1d stamps, and it is probable that the first printings will be made in England.

NICARAGUA.—Some doubt having been expressed by a correspondent regarding the existence of the 4c card, with stamp of 1900, chronicled in No. 886, Mr. Focke has kindly submitted the card to us again for verification. He explains the scarcity of this card as follows:

"The issue was very small, the contract with Waterlow having been broken off on account of certain differences with the Nicaraguan government, this being the reason why the 3c, 5c, $1, $2 and $5 values of the 1907 issue without surcharge of 'Costa Atlantica B' (or C) were never sent out to Managua, and these values should certainly be withdrawn from Scott's catalogue. The covers (envelopes) of the 1900 issue were also printed in 1907 by Waterlow, the 10c purple being the only value issued though, and only with surcharge of 1907 and 1908 in violet. These covers were duly reported by the WEEKLY at the time."

The C. E. Hussman Co. has shown us copies of the 50c olive green revenues, surcharged "Correos—1909—Vale 10c", with the different varieties of the "c" as noted in Nos. 955 and 960.

PAPUA.—The Australian Philatelist chronicles a new value in the current set, having seen the regular postage stamp, and also the same stamp perforated "OS" for official use.

Adhesive.

1sh orange and black.

QUEENSLAND.—According to the Australian Philatelist, the current 4d stamp has appeared in a new color. It is officially known as "dark slate", though our contemporary says it is "gray black".

Adhesive.

4d gray black.

SALVADOR.—Regarding the uncatalogued official noted in No. 958, Hermann Focke writes:

"A short time ago you called my attention to a provisional official stamp of Salvador, the 1 centavo of 1898 having been seen with violet surcharge of 'Correos de el Salvador' in circle and 'De Oficio' in a rectangle across circle. I did not reply to your request to express my opinion, as I wanted to obtain reliable information before giving my view."

"I am today in receipt of the following communication from an official of the Salvador Post Office: 'Salvador stamps with the surcharge in question, made by a rubber stamp still in existence, are the product of some junior employee in this office. These provisos have never been authorized by this Post Office, as there has always been an abundance of the regular official stamps since 1896, and they are simply 'bogus'. I have not been able to detect the young employee who has been circulating postage stamps of this country with the surcharge referred to, or I should have punished him with dismissal from the office.'

"From this we should gather that all the stamps with this surcharge, now noted in the various catalogues, should be taken out, and thus relieve collectors from worrying about the impossibility of getting them."

SURINAM.—Mr. Schachne has the cards with stamp of same design as the 5c (See No. 958); the arms and headline as on the 2 1/2c card of Holland 1901 and the card itself is the same, with five address lines.

Post Cards.

2 1/2 cent green on greenish.
2 1/2 x 2 1/2 green on greenish, T.3.

WESTERN AUSTRALIA.—The letter card now comes with a slightly purplish tint to the blue and the instructions on the back have disappeared, reports Mr. Schachne. The provisional 1 1/2 on 2d is still in use. Will some one inform us why there has never been a 1 1/2d card

DEATH OF W. B. THORNHILL.

C. J. PHILLIPS in Gibbons Weekly.

Death has carried away many old friends this last year or so, and now I hear that we have lost another of the few that are left of the collectors of twenty-five years ago.

On May 6, my old friend W. B. Thornhill passed away, after a long and painful illness, at his home in Ireland. The cause of death was consumption, and only the outdoor life that Mr. Thornhill led for many years enabled him to combat it so long.

The late Mr. Thornhill was one of the philatelists of the period 1882 to 1892. He formed many specialized collections, notably Australians, Ceylon, and Shanghai. In the Australians he plated such stamps as the New South Wales "Synneys", "Laureated", Tasmania 1d and 4d, and so on; his New South Wales were sold en bloc for close on £2000, about 1892, to a well-known Parisian collector.

I well remember, just after the New South Wales 3d Laureated had been found with the error of wmk. "2", with what eagerness he examined his plate, and his delight at finding one of these rarities in his reconstructed sheet.

About 1887 he kept me over an hour at his house arguing as to whether he should purchase a Victoria first issue 2d, fine background and fine border, unused (from David Hill's collection) at £6, as he thought the price excessive; but he took it, and now I could at any time get £100 for the same stamp.

Mr. Thornhill joined the Philatelic Society, London, about 1886, and he read a good few interesting papers at meetings, such as: "Short History of Postal Affairs in New South Wales from 1810 to 1856" (May 18, 1888); "Adhesive Stamps of Ceylon to the end of 1870" (March 8, 1889).

In 1895 Mr. Thornhill wrote for our publishers' series of Philatelic Handbooks, the one entitled Shanghai, and shortly after his fine collection of the stamps of that country passed into the possession of Henry Duveen.

When I first knew him Mr. Thornhill lived in Redcliffe Gardens, Kensington, but about 1896 he left London and settled in Ireland, and practically gave up stamp collecting in favour of collecting shells and sea-dredging round the Irish coast.

Through his wife Mr. Thornhill was related to the late Earl of Kingston, a former President of the Philatelic Society.

NEWS GLEANINGS.

Under this heading we desire to publish all the news from the various philatelic centres. Correspondents' names will be given unless prohibited as we desire to give full credit for services rendered.

—F. W. Pickard of Denver, Colo., was a recent caller at the WEEKLY office. Mr. Pickard is the assistant manager of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Powder Co.

—We have received from the P. O. Dept. and as well from Jos. A. Steinmetz a document giving the postal statistics of the United States from 1789 to the present time. Had we the space we should be very glad to reproduce the document in its entirety. We find that the year 1789 had 75 post offices and the gross revenue of the department was $7,510, of which $1,657 was paid as compensation of postmasters. In 1908 the number of post offices was 61,158, with gross revenue $191,478,663, of which amount $26,000,000 was paid to postmasters.

—We purchased the whole of the remainders of the Stellaland postage stamps as far back as 1887, this purchase having been made from the British Bechuanaland Government and payment made through Crown Agents for the Colonies in London. The quantities we received of each value were as follows:—621 of 1d, 10,514 of 3d, 11,762 of 4d, 9,566 of 6d and 4,329 of 1s. The original numbers as offered to us were slightly in excess of these figures, but in the interim between their being offered to us and our acceptance of them a few had been used for postage purposes, and these were replaced by the same number of British Bechuanaland stamps which had taken the place of those of Stellaland. The revenue stamps of Stellaland were adver-

STATUS OF U. S. 1895 IMPERFORATES.

The Nassau Stamp Co. submits for our inspection a copy of correspondence that has recently passed between them and the Third Asst. P. M. Gen.'s office in relation to the imperforate 1895 U. S. stamps that have been characterized as "merely finished proofs".

Letter from Nassau Stamp Co.

"We send you herewith a clipping referring to the 1895 issue of stamps, at the bottom of which is a footnote stating that imperforate stamps of this issue are finished proofs.

"We enclose a complete set of these stamps in imperforate pairs, from 1c to $5.00 inclusive, face value $18.08, and respectfully ask whether these stamps submitted to you are finished proofs or as we believe, good for postage because they are on regular watermarked and gummed paper.

"Kindly advise us in this matter as we wish to use the high values for postage."

Reply by A. L. Lawshe, 3rd Asst. P. M. G.

"Replying to your letters of April 7, 8 and 9, in regard to the imperforate 1c, 2c, 3c, 4c, 5c, 6c, 8c, 10c, 15c, 50c, $1, $2 and $5 stamps of the 1894 series on watermarked paper, you are advised that prior to 1908 this Department kept no separate record of the issue of imperforate postage stamps. However, the Director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, to whom the stamps submitted by you were referred, states that they have been carefully examined and are found to be genuine stamps printed on the regular watermarked paper.

"The two stamps of each of the denominations mentioned are returned herewith."

THE STAMP BOOKS.

By L. HARALD KJELLSTEDT.

I am inclined to believe that few specialists in the issues of the United States have paid any attention to the little stamp books or taken the trouble of saving intact any of the stamp leaves contained in these books. I am confirmed in this belief by the difficulty I met with in obtaining a copy of a stamp book of earlier issue, and I am still hunting for one of the earliest. The first 2 cent stamp book issued contained stamps of the 1898-99 issue, then followed the first 2 cent of 1902, the second type of same series, the 1 cent of 1902, and the 2c and 1c of series 1908. When it is taken into consideration that the stamp leaves of which these books are made up represent printings from plates differently arranged from those from which the regular stamp sheets are printed, and that the first distinct issues of the 2c and 1c values of the series 1908 took place in the form of stamp books, it seems quite logical that intact copies of these leaves, representing the different types and values issued in such form, should find a place in our collections. In my own collection I have gone still farther. Each stamp book issue has a page of its own. In the center of the page is found one of the waxed separating sheets, on each side of this is a stamp leaf. Above the center piece is mounted the front cover of the book and below is the back cover. The whole gives a very pleasing effect and offers a perfect representation of the stamp book. The stamp leaves being the principal thing, with the covers and the waxed leaf as a setting, I am naturally not interested in showing the different colors in which the covers come with stamp books containing 12, 24 or 48 two cent stamps. To do so would simply be a repetition of no philatelic interest.

My friend, Mr. Fred J. Melville of London, wrote me a letter lately from which I take the liberty of quoting as follows: "What I particularly wrote to you about in the first case was to get your collection of the little stamp books issued by the P. O. of the United States. I do not know anyone else who has anything to equal your collection of these, and they would make a very interesting show, indeed quite out of the ordinary course. In addition to this I would very much like to see them myself because at your suggestion I am incorporating some particulars about these books in a section of the Melville Stamp Books dealing with the later issues of the United States."

Mr. Melville thought my collection of these books of sufficient importance to be shown at the "Golden West Exhibition" at London but naturally they are too few to make material for a separate exhibit. On the pages of a specialized collection of United States issues they can be shown to great advantage and there is certainly good reason for their inclusion. I would advise my fellow collectors to obtain copies of obsolete stamp book issues while they are still obtainable. It may even now be difficult to find the stamp books of the 1902 issue as very few have thought of saving them. It took the writer over a year to find an only partly complete book containing the first type 2c of 1902 and I have nearly given up hope of securing a book of the 1898-99 issue.

NEW ENGLAND BRANCH NO. 20.

A meeting of New England Branch

No. 20 was held at Room 506 Kast Building on Tuesday, May 18, 1909, at 7.25

P. M., Pres. Kelley in the chair and thirteen members present.

A letter was read from L. H. Kjellstedt concerning a Specialized Catalogue of U. S. Stamps to be published by the Society, and it was voted that "This Branch believes a Catalogue along the lines suggested is something devoutly to be wished for but we doubt its expediency".

Relative to a letter from St. Louis

Branch nominating a ticket for officers of the Society, it was voted that this Branch endorse the nomination of H. N.

Mudge of Chicago for President of the Society for next year, but that in view of the desire of the Branch to remain aloof from political activity, it is deemed inexpedient for it to make further endorsements at present.

THE PHILATELIC CRYPTOGRAM.

By E. L. WARNER.

The Stamp Moon changed ownership. Dalby of Tintown had married a million and sold his stampic birthright.

The Stamp Moon had the same old staff and press. Dalby's successor was named Dreme.

Editor Silas E. Quib informed his associates of this fact. He said, "According to the instructions, each number of the paper must contain a stamp story."

"You mean a story about stamps, do you not?" said Benedict.

"Yes, and as you appear to understand the matter you may write a story for the first number," replied Mr. Quib.

"All right; don't blame me if your club notes are strung."

"Casey will do the club notes; go ahead and get busy on the fiction."

Benedict returned to his small den-like office,—a mixture of stamp pictures, dirt, books and stray pipes,—and sat down before his well worn desk to pen his first fiction. He began:

"THE TWILIGHT SONG."

"One evening not many years ago as the sun sent its last golden gleam over the tresses of one fair maid, as she stood by the old homestead gate, there climbed over a neighboring hill a knightly steed and horseman, weary and long tired with travel.

"As the stranger came into view, the maid turned toward him but the stranger did not see her.

"Horse and rider fell a moment later and possibly to their death.

"The maid ran to them and soon discovered that they were dead.

"From the dusty road and in the waning sunlight she called aloud to those at home for assistance."

At this point of Benedict's effusion, the editor called him and asked him to read what he had done so far.

Benedict did so.

When he had finished the editor said,

"But where do the stamps come in?"

"Gee! I clean forgot the stamps but I will bring them in shortly."

"Well, it had better be soon or the paper will be in press; come now, you've killed a man and a horse and found a lovely girl and a fine sunset but no stamps. Hurry up and give us the stamp finish," said the editor.

Benedict began again:

"The maid, Agnes Main, by name, called for assistance and was answered by her people.

"They removed the body of the man to the guest chamber.

"They examined his clothes for a clue to his identity and all they found was a revolver and an old envelope.

"They gave Agnes the envelope which had no stamp or superscription but inside she found a long sheet of paper containing the following arrangement of numbers inscribed:

15	21
	32		38
61	72

"This, and nothing more.

"He must have been a football player; those numbers are signals," said Agnes' brother Tom.

"It's a puzzle," said Agnes; "these letters on the first lines are the numerals of the alphabet for the letters of the words, I love you. It's a love letter. He has been killed in a duel."

"Look and see if he has not been shot," continued Agnes.

"You're all wrong," said the mother, "these numbers are a safe combination. The man is a burglar."

"It does not matter," said the father, "he is dead. I phoned for the priest."

"The priest came and examined the man. He smiled and took a small case from his robe and extracted a fish bone from the throat of the stranger.

"The man breathed and lived and was known to the priest, who took him to his home for recovery and entertainment.

"But he called on the fair Agnes several times and the last one was to the tune of the wedding bells.

"The night before the wedding Agnes said to her lover, 'There is one thing I must know before you are my husband and that is this: What is the meaning of these numbers on this paper we found in your pocket when you were unconscious?'

"Oh, that was my United States want list," said the lover.

"Come and kiss me, I am a philatelist also. But stay, how comes it that the first lines of your want list reads according to the alphabet, I love you?"

"Oh," replied he, "it was a coincidence and illustrative of the maxim, The truth will out."

"And she tried to believe him."

At this point the editor asked for the story and Benedict read it to him and the new owner, who said, "Add a few lines and put in some more stamps and tell what became of the horse."

So Benedict did pen this addition:

"After the marriage, on the way back from the church, they passed a fine castle and Agnes said, 'I wish we were going to live there.'

"It shall be as you say," said her husband. 'I lost and buried a horse but I kept the saddle bags. In them I kept a collection of stamps; I will sell it tomorrow and buy the castle which I observe is for sale.'

"That's a good ending," said Dreme, the new owner.

"Perhaps," said the editor, "but to my mind it would have been better if it had ended with 'Come and kiss me, I am a philatelist also.'"

BRIT. SAMOA OR PLAIN SAMOA, WHICH?

Is it right to list the Samoan stamps issued during the years of the tripartite Condominium under the headline British Samoa?

The partition of the Samoan group of islands marked the close of a long-standing source of international controversy. On November 8, 1899, an agreement, subject to the approval of the United States, was reached between Great Britain and Germany by virtue of which the Samoan Act which had established the Condominium of the three powers—Great Britain, the United States, and Germany—over the islands was repealed. On November 14, 1899, the Convention's resolutions were ratified, and on December 2, 1899, the Exchange of Ratifications took place. Germany took official possession of the islands of Upolu (Apia), Apolima, Manono and Savaii, lying west of the 171 deg. W. long. of Greenwich, on March 1, 1900. The United States flag was hoisted at Pago Pago, (Tutuila) on April 17, 1900, and possession taken officially of the islands of Tutuila, Manua, and adjacent islets, and also of Rose Islands all lying east of the 171 deg. west longitude Greenwich.

Mr. P. Malone, in a short article which appeared on page 146 of The Australian Philatelist of August 1, 1908, intended to break a lance in favour of the retention of Samoa in the British portion, "Part I" of Stanley Gibbons' catalogue.

Heligoland has never had any special issue of stamps except while a British colony. Not being a German colony, but part and parcel of the German Empire since August 10, 1890, the ordinary German stamps have been used there ever since. The series from 1867-1879 were issued by the British Colonial Government, hence the difference. Similarly, the Ionian Islands (1859) are rightly included among the British colonies, although Greece has had possession of that Group since May 30, 1864. In both cases the stamps were issued by the British Government, hence their place is legitimately among the British colonial issues. But, who issued the Samoan stamps while the Condominium existed?

The "editor's note" says:—"The question might be raised, are these stamps entitled to a space at all, even among foreign countries?" While Samoa remained under the Condominium of the three Powers it was neither British, nor American, nor German. I might remark here that the Samoan Condominium was very different from the present arrangement between Great Britain and France concerning the status of the New Hebrides Group.

The first issue of Samoan stamps, known as the "Express" series (1877-1882), was a lithographed set issued by W. E. Agar, who opened a post office at Apia. "They constituted a private issue," as Mr. P. Malone correctly remarks. That post office was discontinued in 1882.

Several years ago while at Lyons, France, I had an opportunity for perusing a large number of letters from residents in the Samoan group, written between the years 1840 and 1886. From numerous references made to the despatch of letters it appears that any available ship was then used for that purpose. Most of these letters had been sent to Europe by way of Sydney, New South Wales, some by way of French Oceania, and some by the way of Panama. It is a well-known fact that during the period from 1882 to 1887 letters were prepaid by the stamps of Great Britain, Germany, or the United States, and even of France, according to the nationality of the vessel that carried the mail, or possibly according to what section of the group the letters originated in. It is also known that letters despatched by the Agar post, or, later on, by the Davis post, bore stamps of Samoa and stamps of one of the three treaty Powers, in the case of Great Britain, mostly New South Wales stamps, in order to ensure their delivery abroad, without the addressee having to pay extra postage, Samoa not being then a member of the Postal Union, the mail was handled by special contracts with the three Powers named.

In the summer of 1886 it was thought advisable to re-establish the Samoan Post Office. The Municipality of Apia had been formed, and the Condominium established which recognised Malietoa Laupepa as King of Samoa.

Mr. John Davis, a photographer, who had resided at Apia since 1873, had been chosen to establish a post office. Meanwhile the Imperial German Government opened an agency for postal business in connection with the establishment of the North German Lloyd line from Sydney to Tongatabu and Apia. That agency

THE GARFIELD STAMP.

(The following article appeared nearly 28 years ago in the New York Times, the exact date being Apr. 3, 1882. We reprint the same as being of more than ordinary interest.—Ed.)

The new five-cent postage-stamp, which has been much talked of and which will probably be hereafter known as the "Garfield stamp," will be issued by the Post-Office Department and placed on sale at all post-offices throughout the country on the 10th inst. This new stamp is pronounced by stamp collectors and connoisseurs to be one of the most beautiful in design and finish that has ever been issued, and is intended for postage on letters from the United States to other countries in the postal union. The new stamp is, perhaps, the only one of all the different United States postage-stamps which has a history of its own. From a gentleman in this city who is a prominent philatelist, as stamp collectors please to call themselves, and who has been making a study for the past twenty years of the stamp systems of all nations, a Times reporter obtained the following facts concerning the inception and completion of this stamp, facts now published for the first time. The gentleman referred to has given much attention to the postage stamps used for all purposes in this country. He came to the conclusion that certain values were not required, and that there should be at least one or two new stamps of very high denominations. Merchants, bankers, and others are frequently compelled to put stamps on their communications by the foot, so great is the postage on them. Many foreign countries already recognize the important fact that stamps of a very high denomination are a convenience, and have, therefore, issued stamps of as high a value as $5. Accordingly, when Thomas L. James was called into President Garfield's Cabinet as Postmaster General the reporter's informant made several suggestions concerning stamp reform, and among them that of the propriety of issuing stamps of the values of $1 and $5. After much deliberation and discussion Mr. James resolved upon taking a middle course, and decided upon a stamp of the value of $2.

When a collector decides to sell at auction, the important thing to consider is "Where can I get the best results?" If you contemplate selling at auction, do not fail to write us. We desire to prove to you before you select your auction broker, that we are securing the very best possible results for our clients, through modern methods, a first class catalogue, and a list of tested buyers. About 60 collectors attend our sales in person, and we always receive thousands of bids by mail. We also have a fine clientele abroad, and we have made a study of the best buyers in certain lines. This foreign business is important when you know how to find it. A German client recently paid us $107.00 for lots purchased, having a catalogue value of $167.70—64% of catalogue.

You can depend upon good results when your stamps are in good condition. We have much more to say by mail to those who mean business, and our priced catalogues will show you what we can do.

While the matter was taking shape the President was shot, and the stamp was for a time forgotten. At length Mr. James sent an order to the stamp contractors—the American Bank Note Company—to prepare a design for a $2 stamp, which should have engraved upon it the portrait of President Garfield. The contractors did not hesitate to inform the Post-Office Department that there is a law against putting the portraits of living people on the United States stamps. Accordingly, the order was rescinded, and nothing further was done at that time. Some time after the President's death Postmaster-General James met the gentleman in Mr. Pearson's room in the post-office, and the subject of the new stamp came up for discussion. There was now no question of the propriety of the portrait. The ability of the contractors to get up a beautiful design was alike unquestioned. The only difficulty was as to the color, which should be chosen for the sentiment it should convey. Mr. James leaned toward carmine, the color of the present ninety-cent stamp. Carmine, blue, and purple were found to be the only colors that could be used appropriately, bearing in mind the exalted dignity of the President, his sufferings, his martyrdom. No purple could be found which would be permanent. Therefore only red or blue could be considered. Mr. James then directed Postmaster Pearson and the philatelist to bring the matter to a conclusion, and to get the finest stamp which art could devise.

The contractors were again consulted, and once more the order was given. The engraved portrait only of the stamp was submitted to the authorities at Washington, and, owing to the extraordinary circumstances of the case, Mrs. Garfield was consulted, for any suggestions she might have to make. Then came an order from Washington to change the value from $2 to five cents (as five cents is the recognized international postage), which was, in this instance, particularly appropriate, in view of the universal expressions of sympathy concerning the late President which came pouring in from nations abroad. Aside from this any change that would do away with the present five-cent Taylor stamp was considered a change for the better. The present stamp has always been an eye-sore in the series, and owes its being to the administration of Postmaster-General Jewell. He submitted an old design used on the tobacco stamps, a design of Gen. Taylor's head, a full or front face likeness printed in blue. All other United States portrait stamps present the figure of the head in profile. As was said above, Mrs. Garfield was consulted. Every suggestion she made has been carried out, and it is now acknowledged that the stamp bears the most perfect portrait of Garfield extant. The only fault to be found is in the color chosen, which, by the way, is Mrs. Garfield's own choice, and to which the department and the contractors assented. A cold Vandyke brown is not the color, in the opinion of many persons, which should be chosen to represent the highest office in the United States. In the stamp the portrait is three-fourths to left on lined ground within pearled oval in proper heraldic shield. With the intention of keeping the stamp a portrait all inscriptions have been grouped below. At the lower extremity of the shield is a six-pointed star, with large numerical "5" with ribbons on either side bearing value in letters. Below is all the inscription, "U. S. Postage." The stamp will be a living monument to President Garfield, and a loving recollection to Mr. James, while in itself it is a perfect little gem of art.

The history of the current five-cent stamp with Taylor's portrait is as follows: When the rates for international postage have been decided upon as five cents, the United States series of postage stamps had not such a value. Mr. Jewell, the Postmaster-General at the time, suggested to President Grant the propriety of having his portrait on the new stamp of the required value. Gen. Grant did not agree with his Cabinet officer. Finally, he suggested that if Mr. Jewell would insist upon consulting his wishes he (Gen. Grant) would be well pleased if the portrait of old Zach Taylor, with whom he served in the Mexican war, could be used on the new stamp. Instead of instructing the then contractors to prepare a portrait of Gen. Taylor which would be in harmony with the other stamps of the series, Mr. Jewell found in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing a portrait of Taylor which had been used on the old tobacco strip stamps. This portrait was transmogrified into the five-cent stamp. It was badly engraved and of wretched color.

THE NEW SWEDISH ISSUE.

By L. HARALD KJELLSTEDT.

Stockholm's Dagblad of June 18, announces that the designs for the new stamp issue have been approved by the postal directorate and were exhibited to H. M. King Gustaf on June 17, receiving his expressions of satisfaction. The designs were made by the Swedish artist, Olle Hjortsberg. Type 1 will be used for the 1, 2 and 4 ore values, type 2 will serve for all the values from 5 ore to 5 kronor, and type 3 for the official stamps. All stamps of type 2 will be printed from copper plate and the other stamps will be produced by surface print.

The new issue will appear on next New Year's day with a few new values added to those in current use. Thus a 35 ore value will be added to the ordinary stamps, and 1, 15, 25, 35 ore, and 5 kronor values to the official stamps. The latter stamps will in the new issue be of same size as the ordinary.

POSTAGE STAMPS OF THE U. S.

This book should be in the hands of every U. S. collector. It is daintily printed on fine paper, the text being in clear type and the entire work a lasting credit to philately.

Not the least of its merits is the illustrations, sections of stamps being shown enabling one to see at a glance points of differences between types and varieties of the old issues. The book makes tedious paths straight.

THE PROPOSED AMALGAMATION.

We published last week a news article commenting upon the proposed amalgamation of the Metropolitan, Southern and National Societies and our correspondent in closing his article stated that the opposition to the movement would probably come from some few members who were holding or would like to hold office.

H. D. Munger in a letter just at hand takes exception to this statement, claiming that as one holding office he has no further aspiration in that direction nor does he desire to dictate the policy of the M. P. A.

While the letter received from Mr. Munger is in the nature of a personal letter to the managing editor, we take the liberty of quoting freely from the views expressed.

"I consider that I have good and legitimate reasons for opposing this amalgamation as this procedure was taken some time ago by societies now dead but then quite alert and resulted in the membership as a whole losing personal interest in the new organization. I know that there are a number of the old-timers in the M. P. A. who take a personal pride in the fact that while others have ceased we have been able to keep our head above water and maintain a measure of success which I think will at a time not far distant, assume greater meed and expand liberally. The M. P. A. is not dependent upon this move and I believe it would be a weakness rather than a help, though perhaps Mr. Davis could cement them together stronger than former combinations of philatelic societies.

"I shall go to Scranton and attend the convention with this purpose in mind and if at that time a majority of those present can show me any benefit to be gained by such union I will not remain unreasonable but must bow to the will of the majority."

It would be a very happy solution of the problem could the Southern and National societies see their way clear to unite with the Metropolitan, retaining the identity of the largest and most influential of the three organizations.

In closing his letter Mr. Munger writes that he is supporting MEKEEL'S WEEKLY in the A. P. S. contest for official journal, believing that this paper deserves the honor in return for the services we have rendered the Society.

AS SEEN BY THE "COLLECTORS JOURNAL."

Redfield's has its prestige to get and we hardly feel that the paper as it now stands reflects the high standard that a society such as the A. P. S. should demand. It appeals to the younger element rather than the serious collector. Mr. Quackenbush, the editor, is undoubtedly one of the best and most fluent philatelic writers in the country. His reviews and essays are equal to the best, but no paper or magazine can exist and progress without other feature articles by capable writers. Redfield's is made up altogether too largely of scrappy news notes set in 10 point type, double leaded and gives one the idea that they are trying to fill space rather than present news. They also seem rather partial for school boy essays on the rudiments of the hobby. Let Redfield's secure a higher class of manuscript, set their paper in smaller type and adopt a policy, and we should be glad to support them. As it stands, however, we cannot see that any change would benefit the society and, therefore, advise you to

CHRONICLE OF NEW ISSUES.

Edited by HENRY A. KIDDER.

Any information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged. Address HENRY A. KIDDER, 17 Addison Street, Arlington, Mass.

UNITED STATES.—R. J. Hummel sends us a curiosity, being the 2c red envelope on white of 1903, with solid color on both back and front, covering nearly the whole of the stamp, with the exception of the bust, which stands out in nearly the whole outline, without color.

Frank B. Eldredge reports the following new precancels:

Akron, Ohio, 4c 1908, normal.
Covington, Ky., 1c 1908, normal.
Grand Central Station, New York, N. Y., 1c 1908, normal.
Elgin, Ill., 3c 1908, normal.

CONGO BELGE.—Lemaire's Journal reports that four values have appeared in the type of 1894, but with the inscription reading "Congo Belge" instead of "Etat Independent du Congo."

Adhesives.

5c green and black.
10c carmine and black.
15c yellow and black.
50c olive and black.

MALDIVES.—Hermann Focke submits a beautiful cover having two complete sets of the new stamps, lightly cancelled and arranged in pairs. They were issued at Male, May 16. They are perf. 13 1/2 x 14.

MONACO.—According to Lemaire's Journal the 10c postage due stamp is now printed in brown instead of in rose.

Postage Due Adhesive.

10c brown.

NATAL.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us several new values in the new "Postage" set, in addition to those noted in No. 943. They are printed according to the new color scheme. All are on multiple paper.

Adhesives.

6c lilac.
1sh black on green.
2sh 6d red and black on green.

NICARAGUA.—Hermann Focke reports the following additional values of the new set with surcharge "Oficial": 10c claret, 15c slate, 20c brown olive and 50c dark green.

Mr. Focke also reports the issue on June 15, at Bluefields of the new set, except the 6c value, with surcharge of "B—Dpto. Zelaya" in black. This surcharge is type printed very neatly, the whole eleven values having been seen as follows: 1c emerald green, 2c scarlet, 3c orange red, 4c purple, 5c prussian blue, 10c claret, 15c slate, 20c brown olive, 50c dark green, 1 peso yellow, 2 pesos rose. These stamps are surcharged in panes of 25 stamps. No. 14 has the "O" of "Dpto" raised and without period, and No. 19 is without the period after the same word.

ORANGE RIVER COLONY.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us the 1sh yellow bistre and carmine stamp on ordinary multiple paper.

PERU.—C. F. Powers shows us a copy of the 10c black of 1900, Scott's No. 159, surcharged diagonally in black, "Expreso" Scott does not list this at all, while Stanley Gibbons reports it thus surcharged in red, with a query after "red."

Express Letter Stamp.

10c black; black surcharge.

SIERRA LEONE.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us several of the new high values according to the new color scheme as announced some time since. Both are on chalky multiple paper.

Adhesives.

2sh purple and blue on blue.
5sh green and red on yellow.

SPAIN.—Maury's Collectionneur reports that the 15c value of the current set is to be changed, the portrait being smaller, and a royal crown will be added to the design. The color will not be changed. The new stamp is expected to appear this month.

Special to MEKEEL'S WEEKLY. FEASTING IN AMSTERDAM.

By WM. WARD.

The group of international philatelists who congregated at the Hotel American were enabled to kill two birds with one stone. Pre-eminent were the national feasts in honor of the baby Princess Juliana, whose christening took place on Saturday, June 5th. The whole ten days of the exhibition were ten whole days of feasting. Personally the writer found himself unable, through limitations of nature, to go the whole thing, but several of the Dutch officers managed it,—notably J. A. A. Van Smid, the Feast Secretary. The first occasion was the celebration of the birth of the Princess, held at Scheveningen, near the Hague—the Brighton, Blackpool, Boulogne or Coney Island of Holland. The quaint scenes of the Dutch women in their national dress and peculiar golden headgears were most interesting. To use an English word, the people were "mafficking". The first day's dinner of the opening of the Exposition on Thursday was very well attended, despite the somewhat extremely high charge. The society and foreign visitors adjourned on Friday evening to the Grand Theatre, but this did not greatly appeal to those who do not speak Dutch. Saturday and Wednesday saw two more of these great "feasts", again at somewhat greater charges than it is possible for even an extraordinary human being to devour a sufficient quantity of food to consider he was getting good value for his money.

By far the most interesting fête of all was the Monday trip to the quaint island of Marken, lying in the centre and below the level of the Zuyder Zee,—a spot so picturesque and beloved by artists all the world over. Much amusement was caused by the quaint dress and manners of the old world people. It cannot, however, be said that this excursion was altogether satisfactory as to the feeding arrangements. The visitors had paid enough for two meals, but few got other than soup and cheese at either end of the supposed "feast". Much amusement was caused by the programme of "feasts" giving Tuesday, the 8th of June, as "Rustdag" (Rest-day), this being the only day that the visitors were spared a Dutch "feast".

On the whole the exhibition was much enjoyed, but many visitors left with the idea that the Dutch Society used the occasion to exploit the friendship of philatelists outside Holland. The country of dykes and canals would never prove a Tom Tiddler's ground for either American or English philatelists in search of bargains. The Dutch collectors have no national guide,—they use a German catalog as their standard, and so prices are extremely erratic. As far as the stamps of the United States go, the writer found from experience that the Dutch dealers wanted more than Scott's catalog price for even poor copies of the earlier U. S. emissions. Evidently they think a deal of Americans!!!

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

New Member: No. 204. Wm. Willard, 2226 Buena Vista Avenue, Alameda, California. Dues received this month, from 178, $1.00. Dues received since last remittance to treasurer March 31st, $8.75, which, less amounts paid for stationery, is this day remitted to the treasurer. The secretary, having succeeded in getting complete files of the Essex County Philatelist and the Virginia Philatelist, containing the reports of the society from the first announcement of the proposed organization of the society, December 1890, has had them bound for preservation, per order of the executive committee. The Essex County Philatelist especially is a valuable little journal, being replete with postal card lore, and devoted mainly to cards. Thanks are due Wm. M. Stuart, who published that journal and issued the call for the formation of the society.

The executive committee has directed that the Exchange Department of the society hereafter be known as Sales Department. Whereas in the early days of the society this department was for the exchange of cards among members now it is mainly for the sale of cards to new members. H. E. Carpenter, Jr., has consented to take charge of the department. Let all who wish to purchase write to him. This is an exceptional opportunity to new members.

The subscriptions to the Catalog are still coming in, but not fast enough to absolutely guarantee the financial success of this proposition. We must know by convention time just what we can do and it behooves each and every member that desires to support this grand movement of philatelic awakening to not only send in his subscription but to instruct his proxy in favor of the same (write instructions on back of proxy). If you want to see this a success, let's have your subscription at once. If you are in favor of it you can surely subscribe for one copy at least. Let's know now what can be done and not be forced to repent next year. Let's hear from you, too.

COLUMBUS BRANCH No. 21.

The 60th regular meeting was held June 29th, President Mason in the chair, ten members and one visitor present. Minutes of 59th were read and approved. Current bills were approved and ordered paid and several communications were read and ordered received and filed. The secretary asked and received instructions as to voting the share of stock in the name of Branch No. 21. The subject for the evening was Netherlands, a short historical reading being given and Messrs. Maetzel, Field, Linn, Mason and Smith making displays. In addition, the members had the pleasure of seeing a part of Mr. Maetzel's fine general collection. Next meeting, July 13th, at which each member is expected to bring as many uncatalogued varieties and freaks as possible.

GEO. K. SMITH, JR., Sec.

CLEVELAND BRANCH No. 30.

A regular meeting was held June 23rd, 1909, with eleven members in attendance. In the absence of Branch Manager Rhodes, H. C. Crowell presided.

After the reading of minutes, several letters, etc., Mr. Hart moved, Barnum seconded, that Detroit, Mich., be endorsed for the 1910 convention seat. This motion was enthusiastically adopted. On motion of Beatty, seconded by Bruce, W. H. Barnum was appointed delegate, and Messrs. Good and Crowell alternates, to the Atlantic City convention.

Bruce moved, Beatty seconded, that "It is the sense of the Cleveland Branch that Redfield's Stamp Weekly should be selected as the official journal of the A. P. S. for the ensuing year and that the Branch's delegate should so cast the votes at the Atlantic City convention". After several members had expressed themselves very pertinently on the question it was unanimously adopted, the entire eleven votes being cast in the affirmative.

Our Akron member, Mr. Hart, brought many of his rarities with him which afforded those present much pleasure.

Meeting adjourned at 9 40 p. m.

Regular meetings 3rd Monday.

The 42nd regular meeting was held June 21. Eighteen members and seven visitors were present. The treasurer reported: Dues received, $3.00; disbursement, $1.10; balance in General fund, $28.74; Library fund, $4.00; Insurance fund, $7.24. The names of four members were dropped for non-payment of dues. Director Ralph of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing gave an exceedingly interesting talk for an hour and a half on the work of engraving and printing stamps in the Bureau and had samples to illustrate some of his remarks. Those who were not present missed a treat.

It was decided to hold the meetings in July, August and September at the homes of members. The July meeting will be held at the home of the President, 1318 Columbia Road.

 Meetings first (informal) and third (regular) Tuesdays at Club Room 506 Kast Bdg., 7.30 P. M.

BOSTON, MASS., June 15, 1909.

The 206th (regular) meeting of the Society was held at the Club Room this evening. The meeting was called to order at 7.55 by President Green and thirty members and friends were present.

The minutes of the May meeting were read and approved.

The Secretary showed an admission card for the International Exhibition at Amsterdam, sent us by the Netherlands Philatelic Society.

The following new members were admitted:—

No. 509. Edward E. Hardy.

No. 510. Frank Lowell Kennedy.

The Secretary reported that he had examined the records for several years back and failed to find any reference to the supposed change in the commission of the Supt. of Auctions from 5% to 8%. Mr. Carpenter therefore gave notice that at the next regular meeting he should move to amend Art. VIII, Sec. 3 of the Statutes by substituting the word "eight" for "five" in the second line, so that it shall read:

Sec. 3. He shall receive a commission of eight per cent (8%) on the amount received for stamps sold through him.

Mr. Rothfuchs offered a motion that the Library Committee be instructed to purchase copies of the current Senf and Kohl catalogues, and that all current standard catalogues be kept in the Club Room and not circulated. Passed.

Mr. Nevin presented the following report:—

Library Com. Report for June.

Club Philatelique de la Haute-Alsace, 10th Anniversary Review, from the society.
 Five numbers of the Stamp Lover, C. A. Howes; six numbers ditto and Check List of Plate Nos., Columbian Issue, U. S., from New England Stamp Co.
 Three unpriced auction catalogs, C. A. Howes.
 Statutes of the Cuban Philatelic Union, 1905, and By-Laws and Rules of the Swedish Philatelic Society, 1905.

By purchase.
 Falkland Is., by B. W. H. Poole, No. 2 West End Phil. Series.
 Nevis, by F. J. Melville, No. 5 of Melville Handbooks, and the current numbers of the following magazines, generously contributed by the publishers:—Gibbons Stamp Weekly, MEKEL'S WEEKLY, Stamp Collectors' Monthly, Philatelic Journal of Great Britain, Scott Stamp and Coin Co. Circular, Berliner Briefmarken Zeitung, Collectors' Journal, Hartford Philatelist and Carter's Messenger.
 Contributions to the Library fund have been received from E. M. Carpenter, C. K. B. Nevin, E. F. Sawyer, L. L. Green, J. B. B. Smith and Geo. H. Greeley.

Respectfully submitted,
 CHARLES K. B. NEVIN, } Lib. Com.
 C. A. HOWES, }

The President called attention to the suspension of the regular meetings during the summer, but said that the informal meetings would continue as usual, and bespoke a good attendance for them.

Mr. Rothfuchs read the following propositions from the "Question Box", which were spoken to by Mr. Lyons, as chief interpreter, and various other members: 1. Is the auction a benefit or a hindrance to Philately? 2. Is it right for a dealer to sell repaired stamps without the stamps being plainly marked "repaired"? 3. A collector has a stamp with a straight edge. Is it wrong for him to have the side perforated? 4. What is the best find you ever made? 5. Should the Aguinaldo stamps, so-called, receive catalog standing? Is not, why not? 6. What country will be the next one to have a philatelic boom? 7. Many of the U. S. 1861-7 5c postage stamps were used fiscally. Should these be admitted to a collection of postage or revenue stamps?

No vote was taken on any of the questions.

After the discussion the evening's exhibition was shown. This was for 25 rare stamps from as many different countries. Two exhibits were entered for competition, by E. F. Sawyer and I. W.

The regular summer outing of the New England Philatelic Association was held at Squantum on Saturday, June 26. Fourteen members and friends enjoyed the program laid out by the committee. On arrival at Squantum we were met by Mr. Folsom, who gave us the pleasure of a three hours' sail down the harbor in his steam launch. As usual Bro. Wm. G. Bail proved his skill as a helmsman. On return to Squantum, we repaired to Lee's, and as we sat at the table, the president, H. Wesley Legg, called the meeting to order when letters of regret were read from the following members: Henry Ades Fowler, Geo. H. Dean, F. M. Wolf-sieffer, A. W. Dunning, C. E. Severn, H. D. Allen, George Dimmock, Chas. W. Schuler, W. N. Washburn, E. W. Hodsdon, E. B. Power, B. Harvey Wares, Willard O. Wylie, J. M. Bartels.

Two names were proposed for membership, C. E. Folsom and J. B. B. Smith. Following came the dinner which maintained its usual high standard. After remarks by several of the members we adjourned to the trolleys for Boston, each and every one feeling that the day had been well spent and the reputation of the New England Association for friendship and sociability was cordially held up to its height. The thanks of the entire association are due the committee, Bros. Brown and Stiles.

As soon as your name has been published as an applicant you will probably have unsolicited selections of stamps sent you on approval. As a great many collectors object to this practice the Society desires to break the practice up. Please aid us and help protect yourself and others against further imposition, by holding such selections without purchasing any, until sufficient funds have been sent by the dealer to return it to him by registered mail. Also please report the name of such dealer to the Secretary of the Society.

The Secretary was unavoidably absent from the city last week on matters of business and was unable to get this report to the Official Journal on time. As we will double up this week we are caught up at once.

Our International Secretary, L. Harald Kjellstedt, recently addressed to the Royal Philatelic Society, London, a request to have the American Philatelic Society placed on the Royal Society's list for exchange of publications. At the same time he mentioned that our library does not contain the London Philatelist after Vol. IX. Mr. Kjellstedt has received the following reply, dated June 14: "Dear Sir:—I submitted your letter of the 18th May to my council at their last meeting and it was with pleasure agreed that the London Philatelist should be supplied regularly to the American Philatelic Society. The numbers already issued in the current year will be forwarded at once and if your Society also requires the volumes since Vol. IX, I will, on hearing from you, see whether we can make them up from unbound parts that have not been used by our Society. Yours faithfully,

"J. A. TILLEARD, Hon. Sec."

Don't forget to instruct your proxy for the Priced Specialized Catalog. Write instructions on back of proxy.

ADVERTISING ACCOUNTS FOR SALE.

We intend to publish under this heading a list of the advertising accounts that we have been unable to collect. The list will be kept standing until settlements are effected.

Robt. P. Beck, Williamsbridge, N. Y., 30.71
R. D. Vroman, San Fran., Cal., 23.46
M. J. Kleinman, Phila., Pa., 2.40
W. A. Beatty, St. Catharines, Ont., Can., 6.68
W. W. MacLaren, Cleveland, O., 8.60
E. G. Dodds, Canandaigua, N. Y., $2.88

We will be pleased to sell the above accounts to the highest bidder. Correspondence solicited.

CA paper. These are fiscals, pure and simple. Any postmarked copies, excepting those of course used prior to December, 1880, have been cancelled to order.

Early during January 1900, the Crown Agents for the Colonies offered for sale the remainder of Tobago stamps, consisting of the following:—

Postage Stamps. Crown and CA.
1/2d green 10.927
1d rose 2.833
2 1/2d blue 6.989
4d grey 4.775
6d orange 3.941
1sh ochre 7.553

These stamps were not, I believe, tendered for all the time, but from the number of them on the market at the present time they must, I think, have been subsequently sold to a dealer. At the time they were offered a guarantee was given that they constituted the whole stock then held by the Trinidad Government, also that the plates from which they were printed had been destroyed.

As everybody knows, the stamps of Tobago are now obsolete. Trinidad stamps being used in the Island. I was recently examining a lot of Trinidad stamps with the Tobago postmark, which is the usual circular hand stamp, containing Tobago at the top and a letter (generally A, B, or C.) and the date and year, when I noticed that in nearly every case the letter in the postmark was either inverted or sideways.

The letter and the date in the postmark are of course movable, so that owing to carelessness it might occasionally happen that the letter was misplaced, but why should it in 90 cases out of a 100 be either upside down or sideways?—Phil. Journal of Great Britain.

STAMP AUCTION RESULTS

When a collector decides to sell at auction, the important thing to consider is "Where can I get the best results?" If you contemplate selling at auction, do not fail to write us. We desire to prove to you before you select your auction broker, that we are securing the very best possible results for our clients, through modern methods, a first class catalogue, and a list of tested buyers. About 60 collectors attend our sales in person, and we always receive thousands of bids by mail. We also have a fine clientele abroad, and we have made a study of the best buyers in certain lines. This foreign business is important when you know how to find it. A German client recently paid us $107.00 for lots purchased, having a catalogue value of $167.70—84% of catalogue.

You can depend upon good results when your stamps are in good condition. We have much more to say by mail to those who mean business, and our priced catalogues will show you what we can do.

TERMS:—Our terms are lowest for the best service and vary with the magnitude and quality of collection. MONEY ADVANCED INTENDING SELLERS, if desired. Sales held both in New York and Philadelphia.

COMMUNICATIONS.

(We do not hold ourselves responsible for the views expressed by our readers. Our columns are always open for communications of general interest.—Ed.)

VICTORIA, B. C., July 5, '09.

To the Editor:—

I enclose my ballot paper and proxy duly signed for you to use at your discretion. Have marked back of proxy "Vote for MEKEEL'S WEEKLY for official journal"—the only business I am anxious to see succeed. A specialized U. S. Catalogue, fully illustrated, would be most desirable; but, as the law is now this is impossible; and, as for "priced" we all know the fluctuations of time, and the prices would be of no advantage when buying a stamp, so do not see my way to vote for spending Assn. funds for this proposed book.

THOS. S. FUTCHER.

N. Y., July 7, '09.

MEKEEL-SEVERN-WYLIE Co.:

I hope that MEKEEL'S will always be the official organ of the A. P. S. It is the best stamp paper published, and does less "knocking" of other papers. I have talked to several people here in N. Y. and they all agree with me. I have instructed my proxy holder to vote for the WEEKLY.

GEO. S. DATES, JR.

A FEW EXTRACTS.

It is impossible for us to publish the letters now coming to our desk. We can only quote in part from a few this week:

—"The enclosed circular has been sent me by Redfield's. Of course I prefer something to nothing and Redfield's is about as near a cipher as one could hope for."—EDWIN B. HILL, No. 2444.

—"Enclosed find two proxies and ballots. We have left the proxies blank, so you can fill in your name, if you do not already hold fifty, or assign anyone else, who would vote in the interest of MEKEEL'S for official journal, which we think ought to be retained as we can see no grounds for dissatisfaction."—C. G. WEISBROD, No. 2339.

—"I sent you my own proxy a few days since. Here is another and my only instructions, 'vote for MEKEEL'S WEEKLY for official journal.'"—S. C. MARCUSE, No. 2182.

—"Enclosed please find my proxy and ballot made out in blank. Please fill in the latter with names of men who will best serve the interests of the society. Please instruct for the WEEKLY as official journal."—A. M. BALLOU, No. 2195.

—"I am with you and when my proxy goes in it shall have upon the back very distinctly 'Vote for MEKEEL'S WEEKLY.' Here's success to your efforts. May you come romping home on the count."—ADGR. A. KELSON, No. 3163.

—"I enclose you herewith my proxy in blank, which I wish you will use to the best interests of the society. It is my hope to be present at Atlantic City, as I have never been at a convention before, but I hardly think I will be able to do so."—THOS. W. SALTmarsh.

—"When I herewith place my signed proxy and votes in your hands, I feel that I am doing a duty to the A. P. S. You are at liberty to vote them as you see fit, which means that I have full confidence in you and your admirable weekly."—H. N. TERRETT.

—"Please find enclosed my proxy and I wish you would take care of the same. Don't let Redfield's 'apology' get any show at the official journalship."—G. C. PHILLIPS, A. P. S. No. 3022.

—"I wish you would tell me how I could do your cause the most good, that is in support of the WEEKLY? I don't feel that there is the least danger of your losing it, but I should like to make the comparison on the ballot show up in about the same ratio as the new members obtained, 276 to 0. I am making my plans to be at the convention and to that end am gathering together all the proxies possible."—CHARLES R. MORRIS, A. P. S. No. 2629.

—"I cannot refrain from writing you my admiration for your clear, logical and unanswerable defense of MEKEEL'S WEEKLY for official journal of the American Philatelic Society. I have been watching the fight very closely, and have read all the arguments on both sides of the question, but my support is wholly and unconditionally for MEKEEL'S. I am, indeed, a good deal surprised at the presumption of the other candidate for that office, in attempting to oust a conservative, reliable, and long-established stamp paper like the WEEKLY from a position which it certainly ought to, and, I believe, will keep until either it or the society which it represents, ceases to exist."—MORRIS R. WARD, A. P. S. 2457.

—"I fail to see where the M. P. A. will get any benefit out of the deal on union. The M. P. A. has proven beyond any doubt that it is a fixture in the philatelic world and is well able to take care of itself. I do not care about going into 'inside matters' concerning the S. P. A. and N. P. A. but it is plain enough that the S. P. A. and N. P. A. are no more in the class of the M. P. A. than the M. P. A. is in the class of the A. P. S. The only suggestion I have to make is that the S. P. A. and N. P. S. consolidate as they seem to be doing most of the 'talking.' I intend to be at the Scranton convention and it will have to be a good argument that will force me to change my opinion."—JOHN A. SOLOMON.

NEWS GLEANINGS.

Under this heading we desire to publish all the news from the various philatelic centres. Correspondents' names will be given unless prohibited as we desire to give full credit for services rendered.

—Rev. H. Wendt, Manila, Iowa, supplements the letter from H. D. Munger published last week and states that not only are some of the leading members of the M. P. A. opposed to the proposed amalgamation, but that Secretary Doak and Sales Supt. Roemer of the other societies also oppose the movement. Mr. Wendt wishes to be placed on record as emphatically opposed to the union.

—"Sometime ago you inserted a notice in your valuable WEEKLY about unsatisfactory dealings with one E. T. Wallis then of Los Angeles. I had trouble with the party at that time and have been unable to secure return of the stamps or payment for them as yet. The Toledo Stamp Co. also reported unsatisfactory dealings with the same party. It has just come to my notice that this same party is secretary and treasurer of the Indiana Stamp Collectors' Exchange of Indianapolis, Ind. He seems to be sending out his advertising literature quite freely as the members of Omaha Branch has received same."—H. A. WHIPPLE.

—Rev. W. M. Freer, Kennett, Mo., states that he has received stamps for the Orphans' Home at Las Paulo, Brazil, from Elizabeth A. Wells, Germantown, Pa., and F. G. Hillman, New Bedford, Mass.

—Th. Lemaire, 16 Ave. de l'Opera, Paris, France, favors us with a specimen of what is styled a philatelic self-moistener, a neat little arrangement whereby stamps can be readily cleaned and hinged. An advantage claimed for this handy little article is that the moistener will retain its dampness for several days. We do not find any price stated.

—Roger Q. Pease reports Charles Albert, 24 E. 104 St., N. Y. City, as refusing to return stamps sent him on approval.

—Chas. S. Osgood advertises elsewhere in this number a list of four hundred stamps all on single watermarked paper, twentieth century. The list is really a very pretentious one, a specimen copy having been sent us for inspection. Lovers of new issues will do well to procure a copy.

—J. E. Handshaw has issued a summer price list of wholesale lots for dealers. Prices 20 and 25 per cent of catalog.

POSTAGE STAMPS OF THE U. S.

1847-1860

This book should be in the hands of every U. S. collector. It is daintily printed on fine paper, the text being in clear type and the entire work a lasting credit to philately.

Not the least of its merits is the illustrations, sections of stamps being shown enabling one to see at a glance points of differences between types and varieties of the old issues. The book makes devious paths straight.

Written for MEKEEL'S WEEKLY.

A. P. S. HISTORICAL NOTES.

By H.A.DAVIS, Pres. Colo. Branch, No. 22.
Year 1887, 2nd Annual Convention.

The first number of the American Philatelist, the official journal of the society, was issued Jan. 10th, 1887, 8 pages, 7x10.

In February, the official board passed a resolution fixing the dues at $1.00 for balance of year to those entering during or after the month of June.

The National Philatelic Society of New York became a branch of the society in February. In April the Denver and St. Louis local societies were made branches.

E. B. Hanes, Exchange Superintendent, resigned in March on account of ill health. In April Henry Clotz of New York was appointed Exchange Superintendent by the official board to succeed E. B. Hanes, resigned.

In March the St. Louis branch passed resolutions that "the American Philatelist was not satisfactory and that they desired its suspension". The Chicago Branch passed the same resolutions in April. The Denver Branch about the same time passed resolutions to sustain its publication.

Official Circular No. 3 was issued April 21st. On account of so much adverse criticism the American Philatelist suspended publication, the last number being issued May 10th. The first volume containing only five numbers.

Official Circular No. 4 was issued June 15th. The 2nd annual convention was held at Chicago, Aug. 8th, Tremont House. Number members present in person, 22; number represented by proxy 161. President Tiffany called the convention to order. It was voted to re-establish the American Philatelist. The dues of members under 17 years of age who were not entitled to vote were placed at $1.00. The 25c entrance fee was abolished. A literary board was appointed. A majority of the official board must be collectors and not professional dealers. No two members of the official board can be from the same state or members of the same local society.

A banquet was tendered the convention attendants by the Chicago branch. A resolution was passed endorsing claim of Patrick Chalmers in behalf of his father, Jas. Chalmers, as inventor of the adhesive stamp. Convention adjourned to meet in Boston, second Monday in August, 1888.

There were 305 members at the time of the Chicago convention. Six members resigned in September. L. W. Durbin, treasurer, died Aug. 13th.

Secretary Bradt resigned as Secretary in August on account of "no time to give the office". In December there were 93 titles of philatelic journals, mostly complete volumes in the library of the society.

The American Philatelist was reestablished Vol. II, No. 1 being issued in Oct., 1887, 16 pages and cover. Secretary S. B. Bradt withdrew his resignation in October. Two members lost by death in this year. At the close of the year 1887 there were 500 members of the society.

After the suspension of the American Philatelist until its reestablishment the Western Philatelist acted as official journal. This was from June to September.

At this time in the history of the society, although conventions were held annually, the official board held office for two years. At the second annual convention a few new offices were created. The following is a complete list of officers at the end of the year, their terms expiring in September, 1888:

UNITED STATES.—H. F. King reports having found the 2c carmine on white, size 2 envelope, with the "w" and "o" of "Two" joined by a distinct white mark. There were several of these in a bunch purchased at the Boston post-office.

AUSTRIA.—Offices in the Levant.—The Gazzetta dei Filatelisti states that the Austrian offices at Adrianople, Gallipoli, Lagos, Rodosto and Teschme, in Turkey, have been closed since May 5.

AZORES.—We have received from Mr. Schachne the divided face 10 reis cards (the 20r was received a year ago), and find that the elaborate design around the stamp and headlines is retained, the inscription on the arched band being the only change from the previous issue. The latter is 'Dez Reis'.

BENADIR.—According to Ewen's Weekly, the 60c postage due stamp of Italy has now been issued surcharged "Somalia Italiana," like the rest of the set chronicled in No. 953.

BRAZIL.—Maury's Collectionneur says that the commemorative stamps and cards issued last year will be available for postage until December 31, 1909, as the stock still on hand is large.

CONGO BELGE.—Der Philatelist chronicles the following stationery, with the inscription reading "Congo Belge."

15c dark orange on light yellow.

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC.—Herman Focke writes as follows:

"Some time in 1907 the WEEKLY chronicled on my authority the entire set of stamps of the Dominican Republic of 1906 with black centre as having appeared on paper with watermark of crosses and circles. The set is thus catalogued by Stanley Gibbons, though others catalogue only the 1c, 2c and 5c values, which have been in circulation for about two years. My report at the time was based on private information from the party at Santo Domingo who holds the contract of the government to supply postage stamps, and I believe that really all the values exist on watermarked paper, but are being kept out of circulation until the stock of the respective value on unwatermarked paper is exhausted. The 10c value has just been issued on paper with above watermark."

ERITREA.—The 10c stamp of 1906 of Italy has appeared with surcharge "Colonia Eritrea" in black, according to Maury's Collectionneur.

FIJI ISLANDS.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us the 1sh value on chalky multiple paper.

FRANCE.—Our French contemporaries are devoting considerable space to a provisional or local, call it what you will, which was issued by the Chamber of Commerce of Amiens for use during the recent strike of the postal employees. It is said that 50,000 of these stamps were issued, the design being type set in an upright oblong, with plain double border and wave rules separating the inscriptions at top and bottom from the value, which is expressed thus, "10c" in large Gothic type. Above the value is printed "Chambre de Commerce," in two lines, and at the bottom, "Amiens," both being in small condensed Gothic type. The stamp is printed in green on white paper, in sheets of 25 stamps, and is perforated. The arms of Amiens, a crown of laurel surmounting the Fleur de Lis, is printed as a background in pale blue.

These stamps have a semi-official character, as they were issued with the approval of the Prefect of the Somme, but they were placed upon letters in addition to the regular postage stamps, all being obliterated with the same official postmark. There were two varieties in each sheet, one of the stamps being printed tete beche, and another lacking the "c" after the figures of value. Roubaix and Havre, and possibly other cities, are reported to have also printed similar "stamps of necessity."

GOLD COAST.—According to Maury's Collectionneur two additional values have appeared in the permanent colors.

HONDURAS.—Maury's Collectionneur reports three more values of the 1907 set lithographed.

INDIA.—Travancore.—Mr. Schachne has succeeded in getting a fresh supply of cards from this distant Indian state and they prove to be new in some respects. They are Senf's No. 6 of 1903, but show a re-engraved stamp throughout although of same design. The three headlines are nearer together and the third (native) is differently spaced.

ITALY.—The Gazzetta dei Filatelisti publishes the text of an official notice announcing the issue of the new typographed 15c stamp. This was to appear in May, but more than a month later the new stamp had not yet appeared; in fact, the surcharged 15 on 20c had been reissued, no doubt with a view to working off old stock first.

Post Offices in the Levant.—Mr. Schachne has received the cards for the various localities in the Levant mentioned in No. 953 and all eight are on the 10c card noticed in No. 942. The value "20 Para 20" is below the stamp and the name above, both in black. The Albania card is also included, but has no name above the stamp.

MALDIVES.—The Ceylon Morning Leader says that there are to be four more varieties in the new set, in addition to the 2c, 3c, 5c and 10c already issued. The other values are to be 15c, 25c, 50c and R1. The delay in the issue of the higher values is said to be due to the corrections made and sent from Ceylon in the Arabic lettering.

The Postage Stamp says that the sheets of the 2c, 3c and 10c stamps are perforated by a comb machine and the sheets of the 5c stamps by a single line machine. These perforations can be distinguished in pairs and blocks by the crossing of the horizontal and perpendicular lines of the perforation, as in Gambia.

MEXICO.—Mr. Schachne has shown us a 1c card with enlarged lettering on the lower band of the stamp. It is the same stamp as Senf's Nos. 97 and 105, but is somewhat different on all three cards on the lower band.

Post Card.

1 centavo chocolate brown on buff.—var.

NATAL.—In addition to the new values noted in Nos. 943 and 967, with postage only, Maury's Collectionneur chronicles the 10sh value in the new color scheme.

NICARAGUA.—The Scott Stamp & Coin Co. has shown us copies of the provisional made by surcharging the 2c orange revenue with "Correos—1908—Vale 10c" in green, which has been further changed by altering the value to "20c" by marking the new value with a pen in black ink. Several of these stamps were found in a mixed lot of used Nicaragua stamps, showing they came into use "unheralded and unsung."

NORTHERN NIGERIA.—The 2½d stamp has now appeared in a single color.

COLUMBIAN STAMP CO., Arlington, Mass.

THE CANCELLATIONS ON THE 1851-56 UNITED STATES ISSUE.

By CARROLL CHASE, M. D.

This issue is the second put forth by the United States Government. The 1847 issue which preceded it consisted of but two values, and though in use for four years was used to a decidedly limited extent. Roughly speaking but four and a half million of these stamps were distributed to postmasters. In 1851 the rates of postage were decidedly reduced, particularly when the postage was prepaid, and three values, 1c, 3c, and 12c, replaced the '47 issue. In 1855 the 10c value was added and in 1856 the 5c value appeared. The 24c, 30c, and 90c values undoubtedly exist imperforate, but are considered by the best authorities to be from sheets of the 1857-60 issue that escaped perforation.

Let us first consider the cancellations on the 1851 3c value (the first stamp that was widely used in the U. S.), later taking up such obliterations as are distinctive to the other values. Naturally many of the smaller post offices throughout the country were entirely without cancellation stamps of any kind. In these offices, before postage stamps were in use, the habit had been to mark upon the letter the amount of postage paid or due. When the use of stamps began the pen or pencil continued in use. Thus we find many stamps of this issue cancelled by penmarks, or more rarely, pencilmarks. The stamps of this issue were never used for fiscal purposes, so pen cancellation never indicates that the stamp did revenue duty. Many other post offices had had a postmark showing the name of the town and date, which had been used before the stamps were issued. Many covers bearing this issue show this postmark not touching the stamp, while with a very large number this postmark was placed so that it cancelled the stamp. The writer, as a matter of curiosity, has a page of these stamps off the cover with postmarks showing distinctly the abbreviation of each state in the Union.

With one exception, until the year 1855 these postmarks never showed anything but month and day. At this time a few cities, notably Washington, D. C., and New Haven, Conn., inserted the year in the postmark. Its value became apparent and other cities slowly followed. In 1853 the New York post office inserted the year in the postmark, evidently only as an experiment. It was dropped after a very short trial, why, I don't know. The only stamp I have found, out of thousands postmarked New York, showing this cancellation is dated "New York, Jul 15, 1853." The next earliest cancellation showing the year, that I have is "Washington, D. C., Sep. 7, 1855."

JOHN L. WOLFF

Black ink was naturally most used for these postmarks, whether showing the year or not. Blue is the next commonest colour. Red was much more rarely used, Boston, Mass., being the largest user, while brown is next in rarity. Those in green are very seldom found, being eagerly sought after by specialists. The only towns that I have been able to identify as using green postmarks are Lancaster, Pa., Taunton, Mass., Northfield, Mass., Cleves, Ohio, Saltsburgh (state not shown), and probably York, Pa. Of these Lancaster, Pa., is the showiest, being a brilliant yellow-green. Two towns, at least, used postmarks that were brilliant ultramarine, unlike any other of the blue postmarks. I have never seen but the two copies I have. I also have one copy in which the postmark is brilliant wine colour, almost magenta. The shape of these postmarks was almost always round. Utica, N. Y., and at least one other town used an oval postmark. One town, "West—," used a shield-shaped postmark. The size of these postmarks also varied from very large to very small.

In considering cancellation stamps as differentiated from postmarks, let me apply this name to the handstamps other than those showing the name of the town, used exclusively for cancelling the stamp. The commonest form was one showing parallel bars in a circle. These exist in many minor varieties as regards size, number of bars, etc. The colours are found in about the same relative rarity as the postmarks—black the commonest; then blue, red, brown, and very rarely ultramarine. A single copy in my possession is the only one I have seen of the last. Fancy cancellation stamps in many designs were more infrequently used. Their detailed description would be uninteresting to the average reader. Various designs of the star are very showy, as are those rare examples in violet ink.

Numerals alone, or as part of a design, were occasionally used as cancellation stamps. I have copies showing the numerals "3," "5," and "10." While speaking of numerals, it may be stated that "3" "3cts." and "5" were sometimes put in as part of the postmark. The postmark showing "5" had probably been used for the 1847 issue.

The word "PAID," used long before stamps were, still survived, and is found as a rather common cancellation. It was sometimes written in ink on the stamp, and the word alone is also found as a cancellation stamp in various styles of type, both in blue and black. The city of Boston, Mass., made extensive use of two cancellation stamps, one large and one small, in which the word "paid" appeared with three horizontal lines above and below it, all in a circle. With the exception of one specimen of the smaller, in red, this is always black. "Paid 3" was also used for a cancellation stamp in black, blue, and red. "Paid" and "3 Paid" were also included in some postmarks. One handsome handstamp consists of circle containing "Paid," "c," and the Roman numeral "III" in blue.

One or two other interesting facts regarding the ordinary postmarks and handstamps may be noted. Some towns used a postmark of one colour and a cancellation stamp of another. Boston, Mass., is the best example, it invariably using a red postmark and a black cancellation stamp. I have other stamps showing a blue postmark and a black cancellation stamp, a red postmark and blue cancellation stamp, and a red postmark and green cancellation stamp. Other postmarks, both in black and blue, are found in which both month and day were written in ink, and still others in which the day of the month alone was put in in this way. Whether these examples were due or not to loss of the proper type is a question. From the rather large number found, I think the cancellation stamp was sometimes made for use without the printed date.

The most interesting cancellations of all are the railroad, ship, express, and similar cancellations found on these stamps. My best example of a railway cancellation is on a copy of the 3c value, and reads "Morris & Essex R. R." in a circle dated "May 15." Another reads "New York & Erie R. R." in a similar style, and a third, what I judge to be "Michigan Central R. R." There are other most interesting cancellations which I feel certain were applied on the mail trains between New York and Boston. One reads "U. S. Express Mail" in a circle, with "N. Y." at the bottom and "N. York" in smaller type under "Express." The month and day, but not the year, were also stated. The other reads the same way, except that "Mass." takes the place of "N. Y." and "Boston" takes the place of "N. York." These were certainly used on letters mailed from New York and Boston respectfully. But what makes me certain that this cancellation was applied on the train is the fact that I have several entire letter sheets sent from Providence, R. I. (which is on the railroad from New York to Boston), to New York and bearing this cancellation. They were in use to my knowledge, from entire covers in my possession at least from 18 March, 1852, to 2 June, 1854. Another variety of cancellation which was probably used on railroads is that showing merely the word "WAY." I have copies showing different styles of type, but have never seen a copy on a cover. I also have one "WAY 5" in brown. Possibly this had been used on the preceding issue.

I have stamps showing the following cancellations, which I judge to have been used on shipboard. "Steam Ship" in two lines, "Steam Boat" in two lines, and "Steamboat" in one line, in both black and blue. There is a most interesting cancellation of "New York" in a circle with the date (month and day) at the bottom—and with the word "Ship" under "New York." One more example showing "Troy—New York" on one line and "Steam Boat" below it in blue, probably in an oblong frame. This must have been used on the Hudson River boats.

For some reasons the cancellations of the express companies are the most interesting of all. The thrilling history of the Wells Fargo Express Company and their Pony Post is too well known to need comment. The stamps of this issue were used to quite an extent on correspondence carried by them. Mr. H. B. Phillips says: "The Government required the private expresses to see to it that full letter postage was paid on letters carried by them, and when this was done the companies were permitted to carry letters and charge any amount they chose for the service." The description of three covers owned by John N. Luff will serve to give an excellent idea of the cancellations used. All three covers have precancelled stamps—I believe the first known. The first envelope was sent from Sacramento, Cal., to San Francisco, Cal. At the left of the envelope is an oval postmark in red showing "Wells Fargo & Co." above, and "Sacramento" below, with "Express" in fancy type between. The stamp itself, a 3c of this issue is surcharged, or rather precancelled, "W. F. & Co." in block type in dark greyish blue, reading from the bottom of the stamp toward the top. Mr. C. W. Phillips, of California, who discovered these envelopes, is authority for the statement that these stamps were surcharged in sheet form before use, and that they were used before stamped envelopes were issued. The second cover, sent from Marysville to San Francisco, bears a similar oval postmark, excepting that "Marysville" takes the place of "Sacramento." It is also stamped "Paid" in a double-lined oval. The 3c stamp on this cover is precancelled by a single line of black ink running from top to bottom. The third cover was also sent from Sacramento to San Francisco, but by Adams' Express. The postmark is round, in greyish blue, with "Adams Ex." above and "Sacramento" below, with the date, "Apr. 15," between. The cover is also stamped "Paid" in a single-lined oval. The 3 cent stamp is precancelled in black ink by two straight lines crossing at right angles. I have a single copy of the 3c off cover, showing part of the oval postmark used by the Wells Fargo Company in the customary greyish blue.

Foreign cancellations, or rather re-cancellations, exist on these stamps, but my knowledge of them is limited. I have a pair of the 3c that has "Canada 10" stamped on it five or six times.

The cancellations on the 1c stamp of this issue do not vary much from those found on the 3c value, except in a few instances. The various coloured cancellations are about as relatively rare as on the 3c stamps. I have never seen any ultramarine or magenta cancellations. The green ones are very rarely found.

I have a vertical strip of three of the 1c showing the "U. S. Express Mail" cancellation.

There are found a few of the 1c value, used on letters for delivery in the same city in which they were mailed, with a cancellation indicating that the delivery has been made by carriers. I am familiar with but one type. It was used in New York City. The only dated copy I have is April 17, 1857. The postmark consists of a double circle. Between the two at the top, "U. S. Mail"; at the bottom, "City Delivery." Above and outside of the outer circle is the word "Paid." Within the inner circle is the figure "1" (signifying 1c.), with a dash beneath it. Below this is the date—month and day. Cancellation is found in both red and black, the latter being decidedly scarcer.

The cancellations on the 10c and 12c values vary little from those used on the 3c stamps. As red cancellations showed more distinctly, they were used in greater proportion.

The cancellation on the bisected 3c stamps, used as 1c on circulars, consisted of "San Francisco, Cal., May 30, 1853," and "May 31, 1853." The bisected 12c stamps nearly always came from California. Many of the covers are hand-stamped "via Nicaragua. Ahead of the mails." There were rival steamship companies at this time operating via Isthmus of Panama and by the Nicaraguan route. This handstamp was used by the Nicaragua Company, which claimed quicker service. Mr. Luff, in his history of United States postage stamps, is authority for the statements in this paragraph, and also for the statement that the bisected 10c stamps of this issue are probably all fraudulent.

The author will appreciate any further information in regard to the cancellations on this issue, and can be addressed, Care of Stanley Gibbons, Inc., 198 Broadway, New York.—Gibbons Weekly.

RECRUITING COMMITTEE REPORT.

At the beginning of the year we stated publicly that no less than 1750 members would satisfy us when in 1909 we met in annual session. Aug. 14 we shall have a membership of 1750, based on the report of the secretary this week and the number prophesied will be secured with a nice margin.

Another year we must make our rallying cry "2000 members at Detroit." We can do it, and we will do it,—if you give us the chance!

Note our make-over of the committee this week. The chairman has 141 to his credit and he is out after 150. Messrs. Kirby and Davis have been promoted this month. Messrs. Frechie, Smith and Doeblin all enter the list with fine credit marks. We have dropped the "twos" as the committee was getting so large.

There is a splendid spirit of rivalry in the work of the recruiting committee and we urge the members to make the most of the few remaining weeks.

If not a member why not join the A. P. S.? Remit $1.00 for share of stock and 10c dues for Aug. with age, occupation and commercial reference and we will gladly take care of you.

A WORD OF APPRECIATION.

By JOHN B. HOWE.

(We had intended no further immediate publication of matter complimentary to MEKEEL'S WEEKLY but the following from the pen of Mr. Howe, editor of the Syracuse (N. Y.) Herald comes entirely unsolicited and we shall be pardoned giving it space in our columns.—ED.)

As a newspaper veteran and a stamp collector in a modest way, I have been reading with special interest the controversy now in progress relative to the choice of an official organ of the American Philatelic Society. Having been a weekly reader of MEKEEL'S for about five years, and having carefully noted its character and its contents as a spokesman and servant of organized philately, I confess I have been at a loss to know why it should be removed from that capacity when it has reached the zenith of its usefulness and the maturity of its experience; and I have therefore looked with keen curiosity for one single reason of such a change that would satisfy any rational man. In my opinion, the debate has not disclosed such a reason.

It has been insinuated that the publishers and editors of MEKEEL'S constitute a "clique" in the inner circle of philately. If that be true, then I, for one, would say, "Give us more of that kind of cliques." It is a familiar jibe to denounce as cliques men whose earnestness and prominence in the organized activities of life, especially politics and government, have exposed them to exceptional public scrutiny. But the attack is always meaningless, and should be disregarded, except where it can be proved that those at whom it is aimed have injured the cause for which they are officially enlisted, for their own selfish purposes, or have betrayed the rights of the many for the advantage of the few. I believe this is emphatically not true of the conductors of MEKEEL'S WEEKLY, and my judgment rests primarily on a rather extended knowledge of publications that represent trade and the professions and special departments of human interest. By virtue of its position, MEKEEL'S WEEKLY is very close to the heart of organized philately, as it should be. The question is not whether that relationship should exist—for the very existence of an official organ implies the necessity of such relationship—but whether MEKEEL'S has abused its influence and its opportunity. If unflagging zeal for the cause, and an intelligent perception of the methods best calculated to promote it, be construed as an evidence of abuse, then, indeed, must MEKEEL'S plead guilty, but not otherwise.

If MEKEEL'S had been recreant or deficient, State pride would impel me to vote for its avowed rival publication, whose esteemed and accomplished editor resides within thirty miles of Syracuse; but in the absence of such a provocation, I believe in rewarding attested merit and fidelity, and I shall therefore take pleasure in voting for the present organ of the society.

PEOPLE WE MEET.

(Clipping from N. Y. Staats-Zeitung.)

Hugo Kuenstler, a philatelist of this city, claims to have gathered the largest number of United States stamps in the world, and offers to exhibit his possessions to any one who desires to see them. He has a little office over on Tenth avenue, just below Twenty-eighth street, that is entirely walled in with boxes piled one on top of another, and nearly every box is filled with national postage stamps, which are of course cancelled for the most part. One box, which is an especial pride, measures nearly a cubic yard and is filled to the brim with a mass of stamps issued by this country previous to the Centennial. This box contains many more than a million stamps. Mr. Kuenstler is very proud of his extensive collection, and is never tired of telling how he was started on his hobby by finding two or three large sacks full of treasures in an old book store. He exhibits many strange postal contrivances to the friends who visit him. Among them is a curious example showing into what straits the people of the South were thrown during the last days of the Civil War. It is a cheap, old, yellow envelope, which has done double service. The letter was addressed, stamped and mailed to a small Georgia town, and upon being received the envelope was carefully turned inside out and the process repeated, so that the same cover could be used on the answer.

—Clippings acknowledged from R. G. Roberts and Seymour Gabriel.

When a collector decides to sell at auction, the important thing to consider is "Where can I get the best results?" If you contemplate selling at auction, do not fail to write us. We desire to prove to you before you select your auction broker, that we are securing the very best possible results for our clients, through modern methods, a first class catalogue, and a list of tested buyers. About 60 collectors attend our sales in person, and we always receive thousands of bids by mail. We also have a fine clientele abroad, and we have made a study of the best buyers in certain lines. This foreign business is important when you know how to find it. A German client recently paid us $107.00 for lots purchased, having a catalogue value of $167.70—64% of catalogue.

You can depend upon good results when your stamps are in good condition. We have much more to say by mail to those who mean business, and our priced catalogues will show you what we can do.

TERMS:—Our terms are lowest for the best service and vary with the magnitude and quality of collection. MONEY ADVANCED INTENDING SELLERS, if desired. Sales held both in New York and Philadelphia.

COMMUNICATIONS.

(We do not hold ourselves responsible for the views expressed by our readers. Our columns are always open for communications of general interest.—Ed.)

CHARLESTON, W. VA., July 14, 1909.

Editor MEKEEL'S WEEKLY:—

I am not a member of the A. P. S. I sometimes think that I may put my application in, but along about convention time, I change my mind,—you all are certainly a queer bunch. I am, and have been for some years, a subscriber of the News, being a collector in a modest way. Several years ago, I had a difficulty with one of your advertisers over some unsolicited approvals, and I have a "grouch" with the WEEKLY because when I referred the matter to the editor, he "crawfished";—if I had been in his place, I rather imagine I would have done the same!

Now then,—the above being prefatory, —I merely wanted to express myself about the fight against the WEEKLY as the official organ of the A. P. S.—I am a "rank outsider" and can say what I want to without being disciplined for it. But what's the use,—the fellow who can find fault with the News as a recruiter for the A. P. S. and as an able and well edited stamp journal would not pay the slightest attention to anything a rational being might advance.

Seriously though, I do want to express my appreciation of the paper you have been giving philatelists,—I would not try to "keep house" without it. True, it is the only stamp journal I subscribe for. I get sample copies occasionally of other papers, and they will have to improve a whole lot before I quit MEKEEL'S, or even take them in addition.

Here's wishing you good luck. I do not know, after all, but what I would prefer that you "get licked", for you'd fill up an extra column or two with matter to take the place of the A. P. S. news,—but I hate to see such a good worker buried under a shower of mud,—and I'll take it back,—good luck to you.

W. D. SELL.

STAMFORD, CT., July 16, 1909.

To the Editor:—

I enclose a question for your wise man to answer for me. In writing may I also add to the chorus of commendation that you have not descended to the level of some other folks in slinging mud and making cartoons relative to A. P. S. matters. I am only a new member, but shall take pleasure in voting for a continuance of MEKEEL'S as official journal, if for no other reason because the opposition has overreached itself. "The lady doth protest too much". As a newcomer, I cannot tell what personal or profitable animus inspires the matter, but there evidently is some kind of a "nigger in hiding somewhere," and your temperate course wins my vote. I am sorry, too, that the philatelic press has made so much of the matter in this unpleasant way, for to outsiders it must certainly bring the whole society, and perhaps philately in general, into reproach, to have a campaign conducted in such a manner.

G. E. RICHTER.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 16, 1909.

To the Editor:—

The chief recommendation for the continuance of MEKEEL'S as the official journal of the A. P. S., is its past performances. The success of the society depends largely upon the conduct of the official journal. I fail to understand why even personal feeling or prejudice should induce one to wish for a change, to say the least, to an uncertainty. The selection of an official journal should by no means be a question of favoritism. The society should have the best possible service. There are some few things about your paper I would like to see changed, (to which I may later call your attention) but I surmise even an editor can not please every one.

I would suggest to aspirants that when they publish a paper at least equal to MEKEEL'S, it will then be a more proper time to ask to have it selected as the official organ.

Mr. Batchelder's published views upon the questions likely to come before the annual meeting of the society, so nearly coincide with mine, that though he has not requested it, I shall probably forward him my proxy.

W. G. CADY.

BELLINGHAM, WASH., July 14.

Dear Editor:

Will you kindly send a few A. P. S. application blanks?

We are "standing by" to help elect MEKEEL'S WEEKLY, and we are going to be the victors, easy. It won't take a ten-minute game to decide, either.

The manner in which Nast, of Denver, is knocking and hammering you should alone cause all clean-minded and wide-awake members to "vote for MEKEEL'S."

E. O. ASPLUND, No. 2793.

P. S.—Bellingham members No. 2793, No. 2814, No. 3268, are all "MEKEEL Boosters."

NEWS GLEANINGS.

—R. L. Doak, who has been teaching in New Bedford, O., has gone to West Lafayette, O., where he will embark in a mercantile business. Correspondents will please note change of address.

—From frequent advertisements in the WEEKLY it will be noted that I. C. Greene is engaged in forming an exchange club limited to A. P. S. members. He will be very glad to provide detailed information. Address Leominster, Mass.

—We have received from J. Warren Weissheimer a communication informing us that he is a candidate for auction manager of the M. P. A. We do not publish the letter in its entirety as the WEEKLY does not deem it wise to take any part in the politics of this thriving society. Mr. Weissheimer favors the amalgamation of the three societies, feeling that the union would result in a hustling body that would be at once more prominent and influential. Mr. Weissheimer will conduct a series of auction sales at the rooms of the Hartford Collectors Club during the coming winter.

—The New England Branch is soliciting proxies for use at the coming A. P. S. convention.

—E. A. Young, sending in a "12 yr." testimonial and a blank A. P. S. proxy gives us the official edict concerning the imperforate 2c Alaska advertised so freely in our columns this week.

—A. J. Edgell of Fall River gives us a double pleasure, a blank A. P. S. proxy and Mr. Nute's application for membership. That's going some!

—Chicago, Milwaukee and the New England branches of the A. P. S. have instructed proxy holders to vote for MEKEEL'S.

We commend this enterprise upon the part of the Trenton society and would recommend that stamp clubs and societies wherever located attempt exhibits of a similar character. It is comparatively easy to secure show windows in any community, the advantage in having a display of philatelic treasures being plainly apparent.

Auctions

For the fall season, 1909-1910, I am now ready to receive consignments of really desirable stamps to sell in my popular Auction Sales. Lots of common or cheap stamps are not wanted and will be returned, but consignments of really good stamps cataloguing $100.00 and upwards are solicited. Last season I sold stamps in my sales for forty-six different people (collectors and dealers) and results were uniformly satisfactory. Write for my terms today.

MELVILLE'S POSTAGE STAMPS OF THE U. S. 1847-1860

This book should be in the hands of every U. S. collector. It is daintily printed on fine paper, the text being in clear type and the entire work a lasting credit to philately.

Not the least of its merits is the illustrations, sections of stamps being shown enabling one to see at a glance points of differences between types and varieties of the old issues. The book makes devious paths straight.

A. P. S. HISTORICAL NOTES.

By H.A. DAVIS, Pres. Colo. Branch, No. 22.

Year 1888, 3rd Annual Convention.

This was election year. The financial condition of the Association in February was as follows:

Total receipts from beginning	$1190.25
Expenses,	$871.95
Cash on hand,	318.30
	$1190.25 $1190.25

The Brooklyn Philatelic Club became a branch in March. Wm. v. d. Wetters, one of the trustees resigned in April. There were 17 members dropped for non-payment of dues in April of this year. Chas. E. Bird, No. 7, of New York, was appointed Official Badge Maker May 31st. A. P. A. emblem buttons could be had from the maker by the members at 40c each, but very few availed themselves of the privilege.

The following nominations for officers to be elected at the Boston convention were made:

For President, Jno. K. Tiffany, St. Louis, Mo.
For V. Pres., W. C. Vanderlip, Boston, Mass.;
J. C. Feldwisch, Denver, Col.; E. B. Sterling, Trenton, N. J.
For Secretary, S. B. Bradford, Ottawa, Ill.; R. S. Hatcher, Lafayette, Ind.
For Int. Sec'y, Jos. Rechert, Hoboken, N. J.; T. F. Cuno, Brooklyn, N. Y.
For Treasurer, H. B. Seagrave, Iona, Mich.

Up to August there had been only about 50 members who had ordered the emblem badge. The Official Board in August appointed H. N. Terrett, Woodside, N. J., trustee to fill vacancy made by resignation of Wm. v. d. Wetters.

The third annual convention opened in Boston, Mass., August 13th. Meetings were held in Elks' Hall, President Tiffany chairman of the convention. At this time there were 544 members. There were 330 members admitted during the fiscal year. 62 members had dropped out. Of the 544 members, 67 were below the voting age and 37 were foreign. The Exchange Supt. reported receipts of stamps to the amount of $18,739.80 and sales to the amount of $3790.37. The Literary Board issued 11 numbers of the American Philatelist, consisting of 18,600 copies at a cost of $44.52 monthly. Purchasing Agent reported purchases for the members to the amount of 1107.91. The Librarian reported in the Library 71 bound volumes, 1528 numbers of periodicals, 3223 duplicates, 70 photographs, 345 pamphlets and catalogs with 302 duplicates.

St. Louis was selected as the next convention seat by a vote of 208 for St. Louis and 132 for Niagara Falls, the only other place put in nomination. The Boston convention voted $150.00 for services of retiring secretary. Voted that Exchange Supt. give bond for $500.00. There were 38 members present at the convention, and 289 represented by proxy.

Result of election was as follows:

President—Jno. K. Tiffany, St. Louis, Mo.
Vice Pres.—W. C. Vanderlip, Boston, Mass.
Secretary—S. B. Bradford, Ottawa, Ill.
Treasurer—H. B. Seagrave, Pontiac, Mich.
Int. Secretary—Jos. Rechert, Hoboken, N. J.

A stamp exhibition was held at Elks' Hall, and was a great success. There was one member lost by death during the fiscal year. During the last four months of this year 25 members resigned, during the same time, Sept. to Dec., 90 persons were admitted to membership. At the close of the year the membership was about 650.

The official board made the following appointments soon after the convention:

Exchange Superintendent, E. B. Sterling, Trenton, N. J.
Literary Exchange Superintendent, H. C. Beardsley, St. Joseph, Mo.
Counterfeit Detector, E. A. Holton, Boston, Mass.
Asst. Counterfeit Detector, A. Wuesthoff, New York, N. Y.
1st Pur. Agt., C. B. Corwin, New York, N. Y.
2nd " H. O. Harris, Doylestown, Pa.
3rd " J. V. Painter, Cleveland, Ohio.
4th " Chas. Muecke, New York, N. Y.
5th " C. J. Fuelscher, St. Louis, Mo.
Librarian, C. R. Gadsden, Grand Crossing, Ill.
Board of Trustees, H. N. Terrett, Woodside, N. Y.; Aug. De Jonge, Staten Is., N. Y.; J. W. Scott, Brooklyn, N. Y.
Literary Board, R. C. H. Brock, Philadelphia, Pa.; W. C. Stone, Springfield, Mass.; W. A. MacCalla, Philadelphia, Pa.
C. B. Corwin and J. V. Painter declined the appointments.

"LUKEWARM SUPPORT."

The WEEKLY very willingly complied with the request of the A. P. S. Board of Directors and has withheld from its columns all advertising soliciting proxies. The board in its communication to us stated that it did not ask us to refrain from soliciting support as that would be beyond its prerogatives.

Up to the time of the last issue of the WEEKLY we had not done privately even what we had refrained from doing publicly and had practically settled down to the policy of waiting until the vote was counted, being assured of a splendid endorsement at the Atlantic City convention.

In the last issue of Redfield's appears a statement that we do not intend to allow pass unchallenged. We quote the words of Mr. Quackenbush:—

"It is very noticeable that of those who will support MEKEEL'S WEEKLY for the A. P. S. organization not a few are doing so with great hesitation and many misgivings. * * * We believe more-over that the words lukewarm and perfunctory exactly describe much of the support accorded it by private collectors. There is no real enthusiasm for the retention of MEKEEL'S WEEKLY. And almost everyone who announces his intention of voting for it does so with many apologies and qualifications—a very significant feature of the situation."

The above is arrant nonsense, indeed, more than that, a flagrant falsehood. We defy Mr. Quackenbush to produce ten, yes five apologetic supporters of MEKEEL'S in the contest now on. We repudiate this libel upon the honor and intelligence of our supporters and ask them frankly if they accept the indictment.

We quote from a few letters just at hand:—

—"Redfield's is funny. It is dear at no price. I have a file, and it is among my least valued possessions. Quackenbush can cover columns and say nothing. Nast can do likewise and be mean as well as venomous. I have ceased dealing with one man for his attitude in the matter of the WEEKLY. I purpose to go further, and put another in my black book, for the reason that neither has clung closely enough to the truth to know the feel of it. I wish you all success. You have deserved it."—EDWIN B. HILL, A. P. S. 2444.

—"Enclosed find proxy. I am sure I will never be able to read half of the contents of Redfield's, not to think of filing and binding same, as the last two sample copies received looked as if a young fox terrier had been playing with it for an hour or so. As for MEKEEL'S I have not had a single torn copy since I have joined the A. P. S. Thanks to the good quality of paper and careful wrapping."—ERNEST WANLESS, A. P. S. 2623.

—"Vote for MEKEEL'S for official organ. I believe MEKEEL'S the best and that Redfield's can't handle the A. P. S. satisfactorily. Those holding the opinion that Redfield's is the best are behind the times. Can you handle my proxy at convention? If so, I will mail it to you."—CLARENCE V. WEBB, A. P. S. 3110.

—"I sent my proxy to Mr. Wolsieffer and told him to vote for MEKEEL'S for official journal, hoping that you will 'get there.'"—LOUIS JOHNSON, A. P. S. 1901.

—"After Redfield's had published the A. P. S. official matter I do not see how there could possibly be any space for anything else. I am for MEKEEL'S every time."—LEONARD GARBACCIO.

—"When after many years the A. P. S. finally secures a paper acknowledged by the opposition to be the best, let them hang on to it and not give every little paper that comes along the honor to see if it can do as well as MEKEEL'S. If the enclosed cartoon can be of material aid you are welcome to it."—C. BRINKLEY TURNER.

—"There seems to be more jealousy or spitework in the matter of official journal than appears on the surface. Some journals, notably one published in Den-

CHRONICLE OF NEW ISSUES.

Edited by HENRY A. KIDDER.

Any information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged. Address HENRY A. KIDDER, 17 Addison Street, Arlington, Mass.

ANTIGUA.—The ½d stamp, large size, with arms, has now appeared in a single color.

Adhesive.

½d green.

AUSTRIA.—Lemaire's Journal reports that the three lowest values of the Jubilee set have appeared on blue paper.

Adhesives.

1h gray black on blue.
2h violet on blue.
3h red violet on blue.

BULGARIA.—We are indebted to the New England Stamp Co. and the Ararat Stamp Co. for information regarding some new Bulgarian provisionals, and also for specimens of the new stamps. The 1s of 1889 has been surcharged "1909" in black, in small figures placed near the top of the stamp. In addition to this the 15s and the 30s of 1901 have also been pressed into service, with new values surcharged in the type of the 10 on 15s of 1903.

Provisional Adhesives.

1s lilac; surcharged "1909" in black.
5s on 15s lilac rose and gray black, surch. black.
25s on 30s brown bistre & gray black, surch. red.

CANADA.—The imperforate 2c stamp, announced several weeks ago, has at last appeared and we are indebted to A. McKechnie and the New England Stamp Co. for specimens. The stamps are evidently specially printed in sheets of 100, with good margins on all four sides, and at the top is printed "Ottawa—No.—14."

Adhesive.

King's Head, Imperforate.
2c carmine.

DOMINICA.—The new stamps printed in accordance with the new color scheme have begun to make their appearance.

Adhesives.

2d gray.
3d violet on yellow.
6d violet.

ELOBEY, ANNOBON ET CORISCO.—Lemaire's Journal chronicles two new provisionals, printed on the stamps of 1907, both surcharges being in black.

Provisional Adhesives.

05 ctms on 3c red.
05 ctms on 4c green.

FRANCE.—It is now denied that Roubaix and Havre have issued special stamps during the recent postal strike, and therefore the stamp of Amiens, chronicled in No. 968, stands alone.

NICARAGUA.—Hermann Focke informs us that he has seen the 2 pesos rose of the new series, surcharged "Oficial."

RUSSIA.—Der Philatelist reports that owing to a reduction in the town postal rate, the following stationery has been surcharged.

Post Card.

3k on 5k lilac.

Letter Card.

3k on 5k lilac.

SALVADOR.—Hermann Focke sends us two peculiar errors from Salvador, the 1c and 2c official stamps of 1907 having been surcharged shield and anchor in black. This surcharge has hitherto appeared only on the regular postage stamps, and also by mistake on the 3c postage due of 1908, in which case the official stamp was employed instead of the regular postage stamp, as is the case with the other four values in the series. Mr. Focke is informed that a new series of stamps is now being prepared for this country, and will replace the current issue in the near future.

3000 all diff. stamps only $15.00. A bargain. Only 5 left. ONTARIO STAMP CO., Toledo, O.

A. P. S. members exchange your duplicates through the Mutual Stamp Ex. at cat. value. Send for rules. I. C. GREENE, Box 142, Leominster, Mass.

For sale, 1500 varieties fine stamps, cat. $62.50 4075 mixed, good salable 62.00 Your choice lot 1, $14.50; lot 2, $10.00 cash. HENRY BAUSINGER, Mt. Gilead, Ohio.

Packet of hinges free to approval applicants furnishing ref. A. I. SMITH, New Albany, Miss.

SIERRA LEONE.—Several other values have appeared, printed according to the new color scheme.

Adhesives.

2d gray.
3d violet on yellow.
4d red and black on yellow.
5d sage green and violet.

SPANISH GUINEA.—Two provisionals have appeared for this colony also, like those elsewhere noted for Elobey.

Provisional Adhesives

05 ctms on 3c violet.
05 ctms on 4c light green.

SWEDEN.—Guy de Lagerberg sends us clippings regarding the proposed new issue, which was fully described and illustrated in No. 967.

Ewen's Weekly publishes a translation from a Swedish paper, which says that the colors have not yet been decided upon. The stamps on the envelopes, post cards and letter cards will be similar to the corresponding values of the adhesives. On the ordinary post cards the Arms are to be introduced on a small round shield in the upper left corner.

TETUAN.—The stamps noted under this head in No. 947 prove not to have been official; therefore they have no philatelic standing. Maury's Collectionneur says that all the stamps of Spain are sold in the offices of Morocco, and that possibly the surcharge "Mar-ruecos" will be revived.

"Am not a member of the A. P. S. but trust your paper will remain official journal. The methods and manners of your opponents have led me to discontinue my subscription to one of them and may have a similar result with others."—KARL M. SHERMAN.

"There may be better papers or journals than MEKEEL's but I am not now acquainted with them."—H. H. ELLIOTT, 1837.

"To displace your tried paper, which lends dignity to the cause of philately, by a raw recruit, would be a change from the sublime to the ridiculous."—M. A. LESSER.

"I sent my proxy to Percival Parrish. Am heartily in favor of your paper. Redfield wanted my support but I would rather have no paper than that."—CHARLES DANE, 3334.

"I expect to vote for your WEEKLY, not for the WEEKLY's sake but because I think it better for the A. P. S."—CLARENCE H. EAGLE, 3234.

"The specimen copies of the other candidate were of themselves a sufficient argument for MEKEEL's, if any were needed."—JAMES LEWIS HOWE, 3356.

"I cannot understand how any member can favor a change to a journal of Redfield's character. It is like giving in exchange an O. G. 1861 premiere gravure for a packet of mixed continentals."—JOHN PHILLIPS STREET, 1921.

"The dissatisfaction upon the part of a few A. P. S. members has no substantial foundation. MEKEEL's is beyond doubt the best philatelic paper published in this country. I hope the sea air of Atlantic City will purify the vision and cleanse the blood of any dyspeptics who attend the convention."—CHAS. R. TROWBRIDGE, 2751.

"After reading the literature sent out by those who desire a change am of the opinion that no reasonable ground exists for making any change."—Z. R. FORBES, 2881.

"Send me a bunch of proxies, say a half dozen, and I will do my best to get them signed. My unqualified support is yours."—C. B. BOSTWICK, 2119.

"Have been an advertiser in MEKEEL's for more than fifteen years. It has given great service in the past and will give better in the future if possible."—J. J. CARROLL, Mgr. Chesapeake Stamp Co.

"I sympathize with you in that after trying your level best to build up the society certain members should turn on you as they have. Is this gratitude?"—CHAS. E. FISHER, 2656.

"I certainly want the WEEKLY for the official journal for the coming year. One thing is certain, I'll have to have the WEEKLY anyway, whether it is the official journal or not."—H. T. PAINTER, 2460.

"I endorse the dignified course of MEKEEL's WEEKLY and have no sympathy with the silly campaign being waged against it. You may put me down for Atlantic City and I will do all I can to help you."—T. RUSSELL HUNGERFORD, 779.

"I am sure you will win out. Redfield's stands no show against your paper which is a real 'live wire'."—LEON V. CASS, 2640.

"My proxy has been sent in endorsed for MEKEEL's. Actions speak louder than words."—I. BACHMAN, 2377.

"I am weary of the fight made on the WEEKLY and its publishers. It is a reflection on the good name of all the members of the Society. I want MEKEEL's whether it is the official journal or not, but if I pay for a paper through the Society I do not see why I should not desire the best. Even Mr. Nast concedes the superiority of MEKEEL's."—REV. L. C. WALTER.

"Have given proxy to E. Doeblin with instructions for MEKEEL's."—JOHN ARNOLD, 2210. ALPHONS, 2677.

"My vote will go for the WEEKLY. Also vote of Milwaukee Branch."—JOHN M. MALONEY, Sec.

"My membership and activity in the A. P. S. stands and falls with MEKEEL's WEEKLY as the official journal."—REV. R. NEUMANN.

"You have my hearty wishes and I hope when the roll is called MEKEEL's will be just where it is entitled to be—on top."—E. B. LEMMOND, No. 2046.

"Chas. R. Morris has my proxy with instructions for MEKEEL's."—CHAS. B. CURRIER.

"A friend of mine has sent me a blank proxy which will be used like mine for the WEEKLY—that's 100% increase."—C. F. RICHARDS.

"Redfield's is poorly gotten up, poorly printed on poor paper. Typographically as a rule it is a 'botch' compared with MEKEEL's. The reading matter is never well balanced, and the typographical errors which have appeared so often as to be looked for as a matter of course, would disgrace an amateur. Quackenbush is certainly a fluent writer, so 'fluent' that it makes one tired to read six words where one would have sufficed. No one seems to take greater pains to explain the obvious. Of course I have nothing against the publishers or editor of Redfield's. They have a perfect right to aspire to the official journalship and to ask for votes, but have simply failed to 'make good' even in the little minor details, that should be essential to make them a worthy competitor."—A. MELVIN JONES, Charter Member.

"The Stamp Journal is not interested in either paper and it makes no difference which is selected." This from the last number of the Denver paper. After reading the article through I doubt that statement very much. It admits that MEKEEL's ranks as the best—but wants to know why MEKEEL's should have a life tenure of office. The reason in my mind is, because it outranks all others, as admitted by the Stamp Journal. "It is not a question of whether the present organ has done well or not, everybody admits that it has done so." Well then for goodness sake what is the question? "But why not give another paper a show." What a foolish remark! You might just as well say change our butcher or baker, with whom you have had satisfactory dealings for 10 years—to give some other fellow a show.—HOWARD J. ECKWEILER, No. 2756.

—"Don't know of any other stamp paper capable of taking your place, nor can I understand why there should be any opposition."—CHAS. S. SHELTON, 1571.

—Hearty support is proffered in kindly words from Carroll D. Piper, C. Edwin Smith, Harry Reeves, J. Hunt, S. W. Wilder, Geo. Hoag, W. H. Souls, J. W. Fox, C. Koehler, Miss E. C. Pierce, Wm. I. MACHINE PERFORATIONS.

By CHARLES R. MORRIS.

In the issue of the WEEKLY for April 3 there appeared an article under the above heading by L. Harald Kjellstedt in which he pointed out to specialists in U. S. stamps that there was so much danger of forged perforations that if they collected but a few strips to illustrate the various perforations it would be all that any of them would need. I agreed with him at the time, but I have had to change my mind to a certain extent since the last meeting of the Washington society was held.

At this meeting we had with us the Director of the Bureau of Engraving, Mr. Ralph, who said among other things that in two years there would be no more stamps sold in sheets. Now that is hard to believe, for we have had sheet stamps so long and have collected blocks of four for so many years that to have to change it all in two short years is ruthless to say the least but Mr. Ralph makes that prediction and he is in a position to know. He said further that at the present time the department was investigating the merits of certain machines that were designed to surface print the stamps and by a new process. The design will be on a drum, the paper on a large reel and the stamps will be printed, gummed, perforated one way and cut into strips the other and the strips rolled onto reels of various sizes.

When you go to the P. O. for stamps the clerk will have as many reels as there are denominations and you can get one stamp, a yard of them, or a reel, or it is still more probable that by that time or soon after the vending machines will be so perfected that they will displace the clerks entirely. It is also pointed out that already there is a big demand for stamps on reels by business houses where they do not use affixing machines but that the reels save the employees tearing the stamps into strips before they can be used.

Now, therefore, I contend that if the present and past vending machine perforations of the private class are but the forerunners of what is coming in two short years when we can't get anything else, it behooves us to get busy and get all we can of the varieties before it is too late. We will have to guard against forged cuts and perforations in some cases but we have to do that now with cancellations in many countries.

It is also an assured fact that when stamps are thus prepared that anybody who wishes to have a particular cut made in the stamps (in order to the better feed the stamps in some particular type of vending or affixing machine rather than use the regular Government perforation,) can have them made without extra expense.

COLUMBUS BRANCH No. 21.

The 61st meeting was held July 13th at 505 Cols. S. & T. Bldg., President Mason in the chair, with 9 members and three visitors in attendance. Minutes of the 60th meeting were read and approved. Bill for rent of club room was approved and ordered paid. Mr. C. W. Sachs made application for active membership and his name was posted.

The subject for the evening was a display of uncatalogued varieties and freaks, displays being made by Messrs. Field, Linn and Smith. Mr. Field's exhibit was by far the largest and contained a number of very interesting specimens. In addition to the above, President Mason showed a strip of French stamps which must have been used to prepay a letter sent out of Paris by balloon during the Franco-Prussian war. He also displayed some very interesting essays of Guatemala.

Next meeting, July 27th.

MILWAUKEE BRANCH No. 24.

Branch No. 24, although now existing only two years, is proud to look back at the work which it has achieved during the short time of activity for philatelic accomplishments. The Branch has a formidable membership of 27 paid up members in good standing, and can show us some of the finest collections as to quality and condition. A strong and enterprising branch for the A. P. S. is a necessity for Milwaukee and the nucleus thus far, has been one of active force, as all members have contributed their share to win success by studying philately as a pastime and as a science. With an open eye upon the philatelic possibilities in Milwaukee, the Branch has extended an invitation to the Milwaukee Philatelic Society for a complete re-organization of the two bodies, in order to form one strong society for more vigorous work in the interest of philately. We wish to correct the misstatement which was published on June 12th in Redfield's Stamp Weekly about what the Milwaukee Society said concerning its own body. "We seem to be in demand." Neither the Milwaukee Philatelic Society nor the A. P. S. Branch No. 24 are "in demand", but philately pure and simple, in all its beauties. Though Branch No. 24 is a strong and intelligent body and has accomplished good results during its activity, it can stand alone very well on the past merits of its faithful members. Upholding the old proverb, "In unity there is strength", we have approached our sister society with overtures for progress. If they are accepted, we will form one strong body; if not, then we will continue our work without a hitch, independently as heretofore. During the summer months the Branch will hold but one meeting a month, on the first Friday and we hope that, after the A. P. S. convention, new life will enter into all philatelic circles.

SPRINGFIELD BRANCH No. 28.

The sixth regular meeting of the Branch was held July 9, at the residence of J. W. Prevost with seven members present. The records of the last meeting were read and approved and H. G. Kitson and H. S. Thompson were admitted as members.

It was voted that the ballot of the Branch on the constitutional amendments be cast in favor of the first and third and against the second. The ballot for Directors was ordered cast in favor of the so called St. Louis ticket.

President Prevost was authorized to act as the representative of the Branch at the convention and in case of his in-

OFFICIAL NOTICE.

NEW YORK, July 16th, 1909.

Members of the American Philatelic Society:—

In a communication to the stockholders of the American Philatelic Society, dated June 1st, 1909, and published in the official journal (MEKEEL'S WEEKLY STAMP NEWS) of June 5th, 1909, the President announced a mail vote on certain proposed amendments to the By-laws, to be received and counted by the Board of Vice-Presidents on July 15th, 1909. This count has been duly and properly made and the result certified to the President as follows:

BOSTON, MASS., July 15th, 1909.

Mr. John N. Luff,
President American Philatelic Society,
New York City.

Dear Sir:—As required by the By-laws of this Society, we, the Board of Vice-Presidents, have this day opened and counted the ballots cast in the mail vote upon the three proposed amendments to the By-laws, and hereby certify that the following is the true result:

Number of members, last Secretary's report, 1700
Number of ballots necessary to carry (Art. XIII), 567

Yes. No. Blank.

First amendment (to Arts. VII and X)
(so-called "Quarterly" amendment), 649 75 5
The amendment is therefore carried.

Yes. No. Blank.

Second amendment (to Art. III) (concerning proxies), 455 270 4
The amendment is therefore lost.

Yes. No. Blank.

Third amendment (to Art. III) (Ex. Mgr.
and Editors not to hold proxies), 505 202 15
The amendment is therefore lost.
C. A. HOWES, Chmn.,
L. L. Green,
E. DE Z. KELLEY,
Board of Vice-Pres.

I, therefore, announce that the following amendments have carried and are henceforth a part of the By-laws:

Amendment to Art. VII, Section 1, adding an editor of the American Philatelist to the appointive officers of the Society. Amendment to Art. VII, to be known as Section 6a, defining the duties, salary, etc., of the editor of the American Philatelist. Amendment to Art. X directing the quarterly publication of the American Philatelist and other matters pertaining to its contents, distribution, etc.

I furthermore announce that the proposed amendments to Art. III, Sections 4 and 6 (on the subject of proxies) not having received the required number of votes, were lost.

JOHN N. LUFF, Pres.

BOSTON, MASS., July 15, 1909.

The Board of Vice-Presidents, believing it for the best interests of the American Philatelic Society that the present ban on the holding of proxies by members of the Board of Directors should be lifted, hereby gives the required thirty days' notice that at the Convention, to be held Aug. 24-26 next, they will propose that the By-laws be amended by striking out Section 6 of Article III.

C. A. HOWES, Chmn.,
L. L. GREEN,
E. DE Z. KELLEY,
Board of Vice-Presidents.

BOSTON, MASS., July 15, 1909.

To the Members of the A. P. S.:—

At the coming Convention I propose to offer the following amendments to the By-laws, as recently amended by mail vote, and hereby give the required thirty days' notice.

Amend Art. X, Sec. 1, second sentence, by striking out the words "immediately after the adjournment of the Annual Convention" and substituting the words "about November 1st of each year." Also insert the word "such" before "literary matter."

Amend Art. X, Sec. 1, paragraph 2, by striking out the word "papers" and in-serting "literary matter."

Amend Art. X, Sec. 1, paragraph 3, by striking out the word "papers" and in-serting "literary matter."

A. W. BATCHELDER.

The Secretary has received a great many inquiries regarding proxies and as it would take too much time to answer
each one individually desires to make the following statement: As a member of the Board of Directors the Secretary can not hold or vote proxies, but should any member desire, the Secretary will take much pleasure in placing any proxies sent to him in the hands of a member that will carefully and honestly follow out all instructions that may be given. Should you not know any member that will attend the convention the
Secretary will be glad to be of assistance.

SIERRA LEONE—ITS POSTAL ISSUES.

By P. L. PEMBERTON.

For the first twelve years of its philatelic history this West African Colony was content to issue only 6d postage stamps, this was between 1860 and 1872. Until the latter date there was no inland Postal Service within the Colony, and 6d being the foreign letter rate, it was not thought necessary to issue stamps of any other denomination.

This stamp is unique in its shape and is also, I believe, the only normal-sized stamp which continued to be printed on Crown CC paper until late in the '90's. The reason for the latter peculiarity will be seen later.

6d, No Wmk., PERF. 14.

The first issue of the 6d was made in 1860, probably very late in the year. It was printed in dull purple or lilac, on unwatermarked paper, perf. 14. The sheets consisted of 240 stamps, arranged in twelve panes of 20, in four rows of three. Each pane consisted of 20 stamps in five rows of four. Round the margins and in the spaces between the panes appeared the inscriptions "Sierra Leone—Postage." "Price—6 Pence per Label—2 Shillings per Row of 4—1 Pound per Sheet of 40." The paper was bluish of varying degrees of intensity, or white. Until quite recently most catalogues mentioned this stamp imperforate but since no satisfactory used specimen has turned up it is now believed that the unusual specimens known are proofs, a verdict which is strengthened by the fact of their being on paper which is rather different from that of the perforated stamps.

1872-73 ISSUE, PERF. 12 1/2.

In 1872, no doubt owing partly to the formation of the Inland Postal Service and partly to the need for other values owing to a revision of the postal rates for the Foreign Service, four new values were issued in a design somewhat resembling that afterwards used for the neighbouring Colony of Gold Coast. These four values, the 1d, 3d, 4d and 1sh were printed on paper with the watermark Crown CC sideways and were, together with the 6d, perforated 12 1/2. The last mentioned still came on unwatermarked paper as the Crown CC paper, being made for sheets of stamps arranged in four panes of sixty, could not be made to fit a sheet constructed of twelve panes of twenty. The colour of the 6d was, at the same time, changed to bright violet but the paper continued to be, variously, bluish or white. Mint unused specimens with this perforation, on white paper, are amongst the desiderata which collectors should be on the look out for.

In September, 1873, new printings of the 1d, 3d, 4d and 1sh, together with a new value, the 2d, arrived in the Colony and these had the wmk. Crown CC upright. The 3d of this printing was in a very curious shade of saffron-yellow which sometimes stained the paper slightly giving a tinted appearance on the back. To get sets of the four values with watermark sideways and upright, either unused or used, should be the aim of even the moderate specialist.

It will be noticed, on examining specimens of this issue that the value, which is expressed in words, in the lower label, is rarely in exactly the same shade of colour as the rest of the design while occasionally there is quite a marked difference. It is thus evident that the values were printed at a second operation and that the same plate printed the main portion of the design for all values.

1876-77, Wmk. CROWN CC, PERF. 14.

This issue is identical with the last in design and watermark, but perforated 14. Two new values, 1/2d and 1 1/2d, were added, and all continued to be printed at two operations. All the values are becoming scarce, especially in mint condition, and have shewn marked rises in price in recent years.

JUNE, 1883, Wmk. CROWN CA.

This set consists of three values only, the 1/2d, 2d, and 4d, which are the same as in the last issue but have the wmk. changed to Crown CA. The 4d unused is the greatest rarity among the standard varieties of Sierra Leone. Ten years ago it was worth more than it is today, but

The setting with the hyphen is much commoner than the other, but I have not seen a large block of it. From the fact that the same varieties as I have described are said to occur in it it seems possible that the type was not re-arranged and that the hyphens were either removed or inserted. There is no necessity for a hyphen between the words "One Penny" and the probability is that the surcharge being first set up with the hyphen was afterwards corrected.—Phil. Jour. of Gt. Britain.

"LUKEWARM SUPPORT."

We quoted last week from Redfield's, a statement that "perfunctory" support was being accorded MEKEEL'S in its contest for official journal of the A. P. S. and in reply we published from many earnest supporters warm words of commendation not only in support of our candidacy but for the temperate course we have pursued.Were we to publish the additional letters received we would be compelled to add four extra pages to this issue of the WEEKLY. We shall crave the indulgence of our readers in refraining from using further space to disprove the "lukewarm support" idea and assure those who have expressed kindly sentiments that we shall try to conduct the WEEKLY so as to merit a continuance.We can safely say that no paper in all Christendom, secular or religious, has such a strong hold upon the affections of its readers as has MEKEEL'S WEEKLY.
If any one doubts this a half hour call at the office of the WEEKLY will dispel the illusion.

prominence to the following misinformation inspired by the receipt of the Seattle stamp by our esteemed cotem-porary. C. B. Bostwick writes: "In behalf of the American branch of the who William H. Seward was and what he did?" The weekly under notice says:

We "wonder why the portrait of Wm.
H. Seward is given the place of honour.
As far as we can discover, Mr. Seward had little or nothing to do with Alaska.
He was born in Florida in 1801, and died in 1872; he was governor of New York in 1838, and was twice elected a for the presidency in 1860, and spent the last years of his life travelling in South America and Asia." The issue is "commemorative of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Section of the Seattle Exposition." Let us present a few facts to neutralize the effects of this fiction dispensed by our cotemporary.

* * *

Biographical—William H. Seward was born in 1801 in New York. He became governor of the state and later, senator.
He had traveled in Europe and was a man of prominence in his own country, where he foretold the "irrepressible conflict" and arrayed himself as the foe to slavery; and this was before he was mentioned for the nomination of President in 1860. He did not seek this preferment and ably supported Lincoln, who, on his election, offered Seward the premiership of the cabinet; and the honor was accepted. As Secretary of State, Seward served "with an almost unparalleled industry, energy and success."
It was through his brilliant statesmanship that in 1867, Alaska was purchased by this country, from Russia. The payment of $7,200,000 was an arrant waste of money in the estimation of many of the presumably enlightened citizens of that day, but despite the bitter opposition, Seward's will prevailed. It need not be told how the years have splendidly vindicated the acumen of the great statesman. Seward resigned in 1869 on Grant's accession to the presidency, leaving a record of diplomatic achievement that will endure for all time.
Seward's work in that most trying period of civil war stands forth more brightly than ever, in public estimation today, and the years instead of dimming, enhance the lustre of his golden merit.
He has been exalted to a place in the ranks of the American immortals.

* * *

Details—In 1865, Lewis Payne, on the night of the assassination of Lincoln, gained access, by a ruse, to the chamber of Seward, who lay abed with broken arm and fractured jaw, the result of a horse-back accident. Payne, with murder in his heart, attacked the defenseless Seward with a knife and inflicted most shocking wounds on his face. Seward's son, also, was slashed by the wretch, who notwithstanding the plea of insanity made at the famous trial of the Lincoln conspirators, was hanged with Atzerodt, Herold and Mrs. Surratt. The terrible wounds brought death very near but Mr. Seward lived to further consecrate his life to the nation. He left Auburn, New York, in August, 1870 on a trip around the world; he returned in October, 1871. In Asia and Europe, distinguished honors were paid him;
everywhere he was acclaimed with glorious tribute to his greatness as a man and powers as a statesman. At the Vatican, he was given an audience; "the Pope passed his hands over Mr. Seward's face, examining the fractures and scars remaining, and then exclaimed: 'Your escape was a miracle!'" To an audience of neighbors and citizens who welcomed
Mr. Seward home at Auburn, he said:
"In the course of my wanderings, I have seen not all the nations but some of the nations of every race on the earth.
I have looked the whole human family in the face and taken by the hand and conversed with my fellowman in his lowest degradation and in his highest stage of civilization. I have found no nation so distant and no race so low, that the character of an American citizen did not secure to me, not merely safety, but also respect, consideration and affection.

You may judge, therefore, whether in returning to my own country, I have less reason to love and honor it." William H. Seward died in October, 1872.

* * *

More of It—We thought it no longer fashionable for our British cousins to deliberately record their ignorance of national conditions in America but this feeling of complacency is sadly disturbed by the following observation by the Philatelic Adviser, London, who calls William H. Seward, "the present Secretary of the United States Government," and says: "This is entirely a new depart-ture of the Postal Authorities, the rule having been for portraits of Presidents only to be shown and also only those presidents who were no longer in the land of the living." Edward A. Swain calls our attention to these curious and manifest errors. We assure our cotem-porary that Seward is still dead. The rule that portraits of presidents only be shown never lived.

* * *

Take it Back—In the last week's issue,
H. M. Clark on the authority of a letter written by Mr. Lawshe reported that the Seattle stamps would not be issued imperforate. Mr. Clark corrected the statement just too late to kill the item in the preceding issue, by submitting the following departmental order, dated Washington, July 13th: "The Department is now prepared to issue Alaska-Yukon-Pacific 2-cent postage stamps without the usual perforations in sheets of 280 stamps each. They are intended primarily for use in stamp-vending and stamp affixing machines, but will be sold to all applicants for full sheets. To secure these stamps postmasters will make requisition on Form 3201, writing the words 'Alaska-unperforated' plainly at the top of the blank. A. L. Lawshe, Third Ass't P. M. Gen'l." It is known that the imperforate two-cent Alaska stamp was obtainable imperforate in Seattle, the convention city, so early as July 10th.

Well Put—An item from the editor's page of the Colonizer, London, attracts our attention and we reprint it as showing how it cuts a Gordian knot that many publishers and firms with foreign connections find bothersome; and for the graceful tribute that is paid to stamp

The Colonizer we receive at our offices large numbers of foreign and colonial postage stamps—naturally, a great many of the commoner kinds and smaller numbers of values less in circulation—and I am constantly receiving requests from readers who are desirous of adding to their collections. Now, however much I might be desirous of helping readers in this matter, it will readily be understood that it would be impossible to treat all alike, and invidious distinctions would have to be made which would not do, so there is only one safe course, and that is to give to no one. In spite of the sneers of some so-called "superior"

* * *

Not "Perfunctory"—Assurances of support in our ambition to serve the American Philatelic Society as official journal for the ensuing year are coming in greater number than ever. The words of cheer and commendation that are so freely and spontaneously given are encouraging, indeed. The letters of some of our correspondents show a degree of friendly interest that causes us the liveliest sense of satisfaction. Really, we marvel at the warmth of the regard that is shown. The campaign has been instrumental in showing us how wide a circle of friends we have and how loyally they are rallying to our support. We spoke of the endorsement of the WEEKLY by the Chicago Branch One in the preceding number of the WEEKLY and we now wish to speak of the remarkable wave of enthusiasm for this paper in that city. From collectors and dealers alike, there come the strongest pledges and the unanimity of expression is something to wonder at; and it is a fact, that no attempt was made by interested persons to stimulate interest and enthusiasm among the Chicago members of the American Philatelic Society. P. M.
Wolsieffer who enjoys the position of leadership in Chicago philately, says: "I can see but one weekly stamp paper on the map and that is MEKEEL'S." Because of Mr. Wolsieffer's contemplated trip to Seattle this summer, he will not attend the convention at Atlantic City but he advises and recommends that all proxies, like his own, be instructed in favor of the WEEKLY.

MELVILLE'S POSTAGE STAMPS OF THE U. S. 1847-1860

This book should be in the hands of every U. S. collector. It is daintily printed on fine paper, the text being in clear type and the entire work a lasting credit to philately.

Not the least of its merits is the illustrations, sections of stamps being shown enabling one to see at a glance points of differences between types and varieties of the old issues. The book makes devious paths straight.

WE GIVE THIS BOOK AWAY

COMMUNICATIONS.

(We do not hold ourselves responsible for the views expressed by our readers. Our columns are always open for communications of general interest.—Ed.)

SHERIDAN, IND., July 20, 1909.

Gentlemen:—I have sent my proxy to Mr. Severn, and I would be exceedingly disappointed if MEKEEL'S were not chosen official journal for coming year, and would be strongly tempted to resign from the Society. You are publishing the best real stamp paper or magazine in the United States, and certainly the best is none too good for the A. P. S. You deserve all kinds of credit for the great work you have accomplished during the past year particularly, and I cannot understand how any loyal member can fail to support MEKEEL'S for Official Journal, and I question the loyalty of any who refuse to do so. Sincerely hoping that Redfield's will be completely snowed under at convention, and wishing you every success, I am

PAUL M. ELSDEN, No. 2154.

Dear Sirs:—I am very much interested in the various official and unofficial perforations, part perforates, etc., just now being issued by the P. O. Department, and have been doing a little studying along these lines. One statement in your paper a few weeks ago, that the official part perforates could not be told from clipped strips of perforate stamps attracted my attention. I have measured all the imperforates, and part perforates in my collection and find the strips are 21mm. wide when the stamps are attached lengthwise, and 24 1/2mm. wide when attached side to side. All the strips I have measured were these widths. Now if the perforations are trimmed off, the strips must be from 1 to 2mm. narrower. I have tried this and have been unable to trim strips so that when the perforations are clipped off the strips are as wide as the genuine. This measuring test will surely show whether the stamps are genuine part perforates, or perforated strips with the perfs. clipped.

I came across another interesting thing along this line a short time ago, which you might desire to make a note of. I received an auction catalog from a Chicago firm, and while I threw the catalog away I saved the envelope. A couple days ago I came across the envelope and noticed the stamp looked odd. On examination I found the stamp a 1c 1908, evidently part perforated, perforations between sides, with the Schermack notches cut in the sides. The notches compare exactly with strips of the Schermack stamps. Have you heard of any part perfs. used in this machine? I don't know what firm sent out this catalog, or I would send to them for information.

ROBERT J. WAGNER.

KONIGSBERG, PRUSSIA, July 10, 1909.

Dear Mr. Wylie:—I am now on a visit to my parents, who located here some years ago. Although there is a great deal in a social way to take up my time, I give some of it to philately every day. It is needless to say that I am strongly in favor of MEKEEL'S as the official journal. I have sent my proxy to Mr. Batchelder; am sorry I will not be able to be at the convention at Atlantic City but may take in the one at Karlsbad on the same day. Have bought some good U. S., also some very fine envelopes. With best wishes,

J. M. BARTELS.

LEOMINSTER, MASS., July, 1909.

Editor of MEKEEL'S:

I note that there is some talk of uniting the M. P. A. and the S. P. A. and N. P. A. and in this connection I would like to state that I am not in favor of any such union. I am a member of the M. P. A. and S. P. A. and am well pleased with the work, the progress and the standing of the M. P. A. and do not like to see this Association get off the track. I have enjoyed the benefits offered by the M. P. A. and I want to see them keep right on just as they are. I think the S. P. A. is old enough to walk alone and in my mind it will become much stronger to keep on rather than look for a prop.

I. C. GREENE.

NEWARK, N. J., July 26, 1909.

Dear Sir:—Not being a member of the A. P. S., I cannot vote in favor of your paper but it passes my comprehension how any sane person can prefer Redfield's to MEKEEL'S. I subscribe for every philatelic publication worthy of the name, and the fact that I do not subscribe for Redfield's will show you how much I think of that periodical. With all good wishes, I remain

Most sincerely yours,
BENEDICT PRIETH,
New Jersey Freie Zeitung.

NEWS GLEANINGS.

Under this heading we desire to publish all the news from the various philatelic centres. Correspondents' names will be given unless prohibited as we desire to give full credit for services rendered.

—A number of clippings have been received from the Harrisburg Phil. Assn. None are of sufficient value to reprint.

—Unsatisfactory dealings were recently reported with E. T. Wallis, Indianapolis, Ind. In a lengthy communication to the WEEKLY Mr. Wallis gives the particulars of the transaction referred to and a disputed account of this character should not have been given us for publication. Will dealers and others entering complaints to the WEEKLY please have claims passed upon by some reputable collecting agency before presenting same for publication? Write F. D. Goodhue, attorney of the A. P. S., Cincinnati, O.

—Clarence V. Webb, in a letter treating of the amalgamation question, states that the S. P. A. and the N. P. A. are not doing the "talking" for consolidation as referred to by Mr. Solomon recently. Mr. Webb contends that members of the M. P. A. are the most responsible. The WEEKLY deems it wise to refrain from further discussion of this question.

—We have received from H. F. Hovey, Imlay City, Mich., a rather lengthy communication dealing with the proposed amalgamation of the three smaller philatelic societies. Mr. Hovey advocates the union on the ground that a few large societies are better for philately than a large number of small ones.

—Iole Dione reports a claim against A. Blanc of Philadelphia and wishes to hear from other dealers who are interested in this party. We have given Mr. Blanc so much free advertising that by this time he should be well known to all our patrons.

WINNIPEG EXHIBIT.

The Winnipeg Philatelic Association has a splendid display of stamps on the main floor of the Science and Arts Building at the Fair Grounds, Winnipeg, Man. Long tables are specially fitted up with plate glass frames, in which is shown an exhibit embracing many thousand dollars worth of rare stamps.

This exhibit is claimed to be the best ever shown in western Canada, many fine stamps from the collections of Mrs. J. Hooper, W. J. Cuthbert, W. E. Hives, L. M. Schaap, F. J. Alexander and J. Hooper being shown.

According to a newspaper report, the stamps shown by Mrs. Jack Hooper are deserving of special mention. Her collection of Canadian and New Brunswick stamps attracted much favorable comment. Mrs. Hooper is a member of the N. P. A.

CHRONICLE OF NEW ISSUES.

Edited by HENRY A. KIDDER.

Any information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged. Address HENRY A. KIDDER, 17 Addison Street, Arlington, Mass.

UNITED STATES.—Bryant Pollard reports having seen the current 2c envelope, on white, die A, size 2, on 1903 paper.

Clarence H. Eagle sends us a 2c carmine on white envelope of the current issue, 1907 paper, which has a broad colorless band reaching from the inner to the outer oval colorless line, and obliterating about one-half of the "O" of "Two".

BULGARIA.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us a new provisional, supplementary to those noted in No. 969. It is the same as the 10 on 15s of 1903, except that the overprint is in dark blue, instead of black.

Provisional Adhesive.

10s on 15s rose on black brown; surcharge, dark blue.

CAYMAN ISLANDS.—The Nordisk Filatelistisk Tidsskrift reports the following wrapper, the stamp being similar to the ¼d adhesive recently issued.

Wrapper.

¼d blue green.

CHINA.—Ewen's Weekly reports the following provisional postage due stamp, the current red brown postage stamp being overprinted "Postage Due" and two Chinese characters.

This conservative old country is certainly getting into step with modern civilization as we see by her latest post cards submitted by Mr. Morse. She has adopted the divided face style and it is used the natural way instead of on end. The stamp is rectangular with the usual vicious looking snake enclosed in a circle. The single card has two headlines (French and Chinese) with a ruled line below, from the center of which is a perpendicular ruled line dividing the card in halves. Immediately to the right of this latter is a vertical line of Chinese. The double is very similar but has "China" above the two headlines. Size 140x90.

Post Cards.

1c green on pale buff.
1x1c green on pale buff; T.3.

CONGO BELGE.—Our foreign contemporaries say that the stamps surcharged in Belgium and in Congo show a slight difference in the height of the type used, the former being the taller. The hand-stamped stamps are now said to be out of issue.

GUATEMALA.—Of the provisionals noted in Nos. 957 and 960, the following quantities were printed: 2c on 75c, 150,000; 6c on 50c, 240,000; 12½c on 2p, 150,000.

INDIA.—Cochin.—Ewen's Weekly chronicles a provisional, the 3 pies stamp of 1899 being printed in a new color, and overprinted "2" in black.

Provisional Adhesive.

"2" on 3 pies violet.

Charkhari.—Ewen's Weekly says that the 1 pie stamp, chronicled in No. 961, should have been in blue, instead of red brown or chestnut.

Adhesive.

1 pie blue.

Jipur.—The Philatelisten Zeitung chronicles some new stationery from this state.

NICARAGUA.—The C. E. Hussman Stamp Co. reports having the 10c blue oblong revenue stamp of 1908, with double surcharge, one reading up and the other down.

PERSIA.—L'Echo chronicles an addition to the high values of the current set.

Adhesive.

50k vermilion and black.

RUSSIA.—Ewen's Weekly reports the following provisional stationery as having been issued in addition to the post and letter cards noted in No. 969. The surcharges are in black, and printed diagonally.

Provisional Envelopes.

"3 Kop" on 5k lilac; 145x80 mm.

"3 Kop" on 5k lilac; 145x120 mm.

Officers in the Levant.—We have omitted to chronicle the latest thing in Russian stamps surcharged for use in the Levant, as there seemed to be some doubt as to their standing. Though dated "1907" they have just been issued, and the delay is now explained as being due to the fact that it was inopportune to issue a jubilee set at that time, no doubt owing to the events connected with the Japanese War. There are ten values in the new set, which commemorates the establishment in 1857 of the Russian postoffices in Turkey. The designs used for the new stamps are the same as for the same values of the 1884 and 1889 issues; but within the oval, instead of the imperial eagle is found a steamship, with "1857" above and "1907" below. The first four values are printed in a single color, with dates and steamer being in white relief. The two highest values are printed in colors not previously seen. All the values are surcharged new values in Turkish money, the surcharge being in black at the bottom of the stamp.

Adhesives.

5pa on 1k orange.
10pa on 2k green.
20pa on 4k rose.
1pi on 10k blue.
2pi on 20k blue and carmine.
5pi on 50k lilac and green.
7pi on 70k red brown and orange.
10pi on 1r dark brown and dark orange.
35pi on 3¼r brown lilac and light green.
70pi on 7r green and rose.

The New England Stamp Co. has shown us just as we go to press the four lower values of the new Russian Levant stamps, and we find them very handsome, though instead of the regular stamps the 1k and 2k appear in the same type as the 4k and 10k of 1889, with value changed. All have the safety marks.

SPANISH MOROCCO.—As suggested in No. 969, we are now able to report that additional values of the current Spanish stamps have appeared with the "Correo Espanol—Marruecos" surcharge, in black.

Adhesives.

2c brown.
15c violet.
20c black.
30c green.
40c rose.
50c greenish blue.
1p lake.
4p dark violet.
10p brown orange.

WESTERN AUSTRALIA.—Ewen's Weekly notes that the 9d orange has been issued, perforated 11, on Crown A paper.

THE PHILATELIC TRIBUNE.

We give Mr. Stanton's Tribune a hearty welcome to the field of philatelic literature and wish him and his paper a profitable career. Mr. Stanton's name is not unknown to many philatelists of today, who will remember his previous venture.

The number before us consists of twelve pages, including cover, and the subscription price is 25c for six months. A sample copy can no doubt be obtained by addressing the Tribune at Norwich, N. Y.

ST. LOUIS, U. S. A., POSTMASTER'S STAMPS.

By an Act passed by the United States Congress on 3rd March, 1845, uniform rates of postage were established for the whole of the country in place of the varied and, at times, excessive charges that had hitherto been in force. No provision seems to have been made for the issue of adhesive postage stamps for the prepayment of the new charges until more than two years later, for the first Government issue of United States stamps did not appear until the 5th August, 1847. Some of the postmasters in various towns, however, anticipated matters by issuing postage labels on their own initiative. Most of these semi-official stamps appeared in 1846, but in the cities of New York, St. Louis, and Baltimore stamps or stamped envelopes were issued in 1845, within a few months of the passing of the postal reform Act. The majority of these postmasters' stamps are rare, some exceedingly so, and in the latter category we must include the subject of this sketch—the 20c stamp of St. Louis.

Speaking generally these Postmasters' stamps are crude in the extreme, the only ones having any pretensions to artistic merit being those issued in New York and St. Louis.

The 5c and 10c stamps of St. Louis seem to have been known to philatelists at an early date though the first reference I can trace to them in the literature of our hobby appears in the first volume of the Stamp Collectors' Magazine (1863) in which the 10c is included in an addenda to Mount Brown's catalogue. For a considerable period opinion as to their authenticity was very divided in philatelic circles, and in 1869 they were the subject of lengthy articles in the philatelic journals of that day.

The leading British philatelists, such as the late Mr. E. L. Pemberton and His Honour Judge (then Mr.) F. A. Philbrick seem to have been quite satisfied as to their bona-fides though many of the foremost Continental collectors were just as confident that they were bogus.

About 1873 a 20c St. Louis stamp was discovered and the storm broke with redoubled fury, the general opinion being that the new variety was a fraud concocted from the genuine 5c label. Its status seems to have been more or less in doubt until the early nineties for nothing satisfactory was settled as to its standing until the late Mr. J. K. Tiffany made a thorough investigation of the whole history of the St. Louis stamps. Although this famous philatelist was, at the commencement of his study, extremely sceptical as to the genuineness of the 20c he was ultimately able to prove conclusively that this stamp actually was issued and that it was a perfectly legitimate as well as an extremely rare variety. Not only was he able to prove that the 20c was a genuine variety but Mr. Tiffany also showed that, instead of being a copy of the 5c with the figure "5" removed and "20" inserted instead, the 20c was really printed from the same plate as the other values, two of the types of the 5c having been altered for that purpose. Mr. Tiffany was also able to show that there were three types of each of the 5c and 10c stamps and that the plate was altered twice altogether; the second time the 20c stamps were restored to their original value 5c while the unaltered 5c was also re-touched. Mr. Tiffany's notes and deductions received remarkable confirmation in 1895 when a find of St. Louis stamps—I shall refer to this later—which included strips and blocks, showed the exact manner in which the types were arranged.

According to a writer in the Stamp Collectors Magazine in 1863 the postal act of March 3rd, 1845, "abolished the previous dear rates, as well as the annoying scale of varying distances; and, whilst substituting the weight standard, reduced, at the same time, the rate for a single letter to 5 cents for any distance under 3,000 miles, and 10 cents for any distance over 3,000 miles."

At the time of the passing of this Act Mr. John M. Wimer was Postmaster of the rising commercial city of St. Louis and the idea of issuing adhesive stamps for the prepayment of postal charges soon occurred to him. In the Missouri Republican for November 5th, 1845 the following paragraph relating to the issue of these stamps appeared:—"LETTER STAMPS.—Mr. Wimer, postmaster, has prepared a set of letter stamps, or rather marks, to put upon letters, indicating that the postage has been paid. In this he has copied after the plans adopted by the postmasters in New York and other cities. These stamps are engraved to represent the Missouri coat-of-arms, and are for five and ten cents. They are so prepared that they may be stuck upon a letter, like a wafer, and will prove a great convenience to merchants and all those having many letters to send postpaid, as it saves all trouble of paying at the post office. They will be sold at the same rate they are sold in the East, viz., sixteen 5c stamps and eight 10c stamps for a dollar. We should recommend merchants and others to give them a trial."

At the same period it was stated that no official value was intended to be placed on these labels outside the post office as they merely represented the amount of postage paid by the sender to the postmaster. All letters were still marked "paid" as in the pre-stamp days and this fact seems to have formed one of the main arguments against their authenticity by the sceptics of 1863-69. There is, however, not the slightest doubt but that they were adhesive postage stamps in every accepted sense of the term though their use seems to have been quite optional.

The design is pleasing and consists of an armorial circle surrounded by the motto "UNITED WE STAND, DIVIDED WE FALL." As supporters there is a bear on each side and underneath is "SALUS POPULI SUPREMALEXESTO." This formed the arms of the State of Missouri. Numerals denoting the value appear above the central circle, the name "SAINT LOUIS" is at the top, and "POST OFFICE" is shown at the base. A writer in the Stamp Collectors' Magazine for March, 1868 refers to the design as "peculiar and not unpleasing, though we must acknowledge there is a reminiscence of the bear's-grease label about it."

Mr. Wimer engaged Mr. J. M. Kershaw, proprietor of the Western Card and Seal Engraving establishment in St. Louis, to engrave these stamps and on the original plate there were six stamps arranged as follows:—

5c	10c
5c	10c

They were engraved on an ordinary copper visiting card-plate and as each stamp was separately engraved there are three types of each value. It is said that 500 sheets were printed from this plate on greenish wove paper. Soon after the issue of these two stamps the necessity for a higher value for the prepayment of the charges on heavy letters became apparent. A new plate was not made but the two top 5c stamps were altered to 20c making the arrangement as follows:—

20c	10c
5c	10c

The alteration was probably made by laying the plate face downwards on a hard flat surface and hammering the back, where the alternation was desired, until the surface was flush and the new numerals were then engraved on these spaces. Mr. Kershaw, the engraver of the original, denied altering the plate, so that the work was evidently done by some other and less skilled worker for it is much inferior, the figures being very crude compared with Mr. Kershaw's productions. Early in 1847 the plate was again altered to its original state, the "20's" being replaced by "5's" and at the same time the figure "3" in the lower row was retouched.

This is the correct history of the manufacture of these interesting labels, and the facts relating to the three plates and the various types elucidated by Mr. Tiffany were fully corroborated by the find of 137 of the stamps during a "clearing up" of certain rooms in the Louisville Court House in 1895. The find consisted of 75 of the 5c, 46 of the 10c, and 16 of the 20c. Prior to the discovery I believe only four copies of the 20c were known and I do not think any more have since been unearthed.

As to the present value of the rarity of the set, the 20c, it is difficult to say. At Sotheby's auction in 1872 two specimens realised £6 and £8 10s respectively and although the latter represented the largest amount realised for a single lot up to that date at auction, but for the very great suspicion under which the variety rested it would probably have realised more. In the same year two copies (possibly the identical ones sold at Sotheby's) fetched £6 10s each at Scott's auction in New York. In the St. Louis find was a vertical strip of the two 20c and a 5c se-tenant and this changed hands then, or later, at $5,000 (about £1,030). This is about the only data available as the known copies are all held by enthusiastic collectors and are never on the market. But if a fine specimen were offered for sale nowadays it would hardly realise less than £400.—Postage Stamp.

The above is published by request.

Got your ticket to the convention yet? It's almost time for that big philatelic love feast and we want you with us just as much as you want to be there. Do you realize what it means to you? It means enjoyment every moment of the time and returning home filled with enthusiasm and energy recharged for the coming winter's philatelic activity. Just think what a pleasure and benefit it is to rub elbows with other more advanced collectors. Why not enlarge your own sphere of philatelic endeavor and make life the more worth living? It will act as a bracing tonic to your broken-down worn-out philatelic system and you will never regret the few days spent in communion with such kindred spirits and such goodfellowship as you will meet there. Don't you think it worth a trial? Better make up your mind to come, now.

QUARTERLY REPORT OF THE SALES
SUPT. AS OF JULY 1, 1909.

I beg to submit the following report for the quarter ending June 30, 1909:

A. P. S. Report July 1, 1909.

3211 books on hand as per last report
116 books received in June, priced at	$65,128.93
3327 books priced at	2,503.18
651 books ret'd in June (sales $3040.14), priced at	67,632.11
128 books retired in November, 1908, and not previously credited (sales $660.54), priced at	14,259.65
2548 books on hand June 30th, 1909, priced at	2,376.19
	$50,996.27

Cash Report.

Cash on hand April 1st, 1909,	$8,347.97
Cash received in April,	1,032.04
" " May,	954.75
" " June,	883.25
Total,	$11,218.01
1086 books retired to owners during April, May and June (priced at $24,503.78),	5,829.97
June 30th, 1909, cash on hand,	$5,388.04

Thus it will be seen that sales amounted to about 25%. In this connection it has been interesting to note the very much better showing of the books in which catalogue number and value were given under each stamp as well as the net selling price. In most cases the results were from 10% to 15% better, frequently running to 50% of the total. It was also observed that books of a very high value ($50 and over), did not sell as well as those in which the total valuation was from about $15 to $50. The very low priced stamps of a few cents each, and books of defective stamps have very little sale, and it is a waste of time and energy for members to send this class of stuff for circulation in the Department.

We must also enter a word of caution to those members who disregard the rule providing that no stamps shall be placed on the backs of the circuit book pages. It will be necessary for us to return books hereafter in which this occurs.

We urge members to send in a large number of books, as there is always a place where good medium priced stamps priced reasonably will sell well.

The branch managers have been continuing their good work, and we take pleasure in appending the following list of results secured up to June 30th:

1 J. W. Haseltine, Philadelphia, Pa.,	$725.98
2 Don R. Bennett, Detroit, Mich.,	511.32
3 Wm. C. Rhodes, Cleveland, Ohio,	452.60
4 Chas. R. Morris, Washington, D.C.,	382.85
5 L. A. Van Toor, Milwaukee, Wis.,	346.22
6 R. J. Mundell, Montreal, Canada,	271.58
7 A. H. Weber, Berkeley, Calif.,	217.51
8 W. C. Emery, Springfield, Mass.,	192.30
9 B. A. Weber, Providence, R. I.,	102.32
10 W. A. Hemphill, Pittsburg, Pa.,	98.42
11 W. O. Staab, Milwaukee, Wis.,	85.06
12 H. S. Adair, Columbus, O.,	31.68
13 Harrie S. Mueller, Wichita, Kans.,	21.51

Respectfully submitted,

July 14th was called to order by Leonard Michael, president; nine members were present and also J. C. Schmidt, Troupe, Texas, as visitor. The application of Edward Michael was posted. Mr. Mudge exhibited Walter Clarke Belows' sumptuous book "Campeche". Leonard Michael was appointed delegate and Fred Michael, alternate, to represent the Branch at the coming convention of the American Philatelic Society. It was moved by Mr. Farnham and seconded by Fred Michael that MEKEEL'S WEEKLY STAMP NEWS be endorsed as official journal for the ensuing year; the motion was carried unanimously and the Branch's proxy-holder was instructed accordingly. Detroit was favored as the place for the national convention in 1910. An invitation was received from W. O. Staab, chairman, inviting the members of the Chicago societies to attend an outing to be given by the Milwaukee Philatelic Society on August 8th, in a suburb of that city, and favorable action was taken. Five members signified their certain intention to attend the Atlantic City convention. Next meeting August 11th.

Scranton, Pa., is hereby declared forfeited by reason of non-compliance with the By-Laws.

The Secretary has received a great many inquiries regarding proxies and as
it would take too much time to answer
each one individually desires to make
the following statement: As a member of the Board of Directors the Secretary
can not hold or vote proxies, but should
any member desire, the Secretary will take much pleasure in placing any proxies sent to him in the hands of a member that will carefully and honestly
follow out all instructions that may be given. Should you not know any member that will attend the convention the
Secretary will be glad to be of assistance.

REVENUE NOTES AND OTHER THINGS.

Edited by E. R. VANDERHOOF.

The editor of this department will be pleased who can contribute to its usefulness and submitted will be promptly returned. Address,

Double Impressions.—I have recently been shown the 50 cent first issue New York state revenue with a very plain double strike. The $1 value same issue exists in a less marked degree. It is surely a labor of love to him who will sort over cheap stamps by the thousand in search for shifted dies and double strikes. For myself I have had my little share of fun, sorting over 100,000 2 cent values first issue for shifts, but none were to be found. The labor of love became a task of no mean proportions—after passing the 5000 mark.

While mentioning N. Y. revenues it would be well to state that I neglected to give credit to Messrs. Aldrich and Forster of N. Y. City for information about these stamps, used in my article in the WEEKLY under date of May 8th. It was clearly an oversight.

Virginia Revenues.—Virginia now comes to the front with an issue of adhesive stamps for tax on Feed Stuffs. The stamps measure 50x30—are rouletted and dated 1909. I have seen the following values:—

- 3/16c ultramarine.
- 3/8c pink.
- 3/4c black.
- 1 1/20c red brown.
- 1 1/8c green.
- 2 5/16c yellow.

The above pay the tax on 25, 50, 100, 140, 150 and 175 pounds of feed respectively. All bear the fac-simile signature of Wm. D. Saunders, Dairy and Food Com'r. They make a beautiful little set and will be welcomed by all who are interested in state revenues. At best they are far ahead of the tag idea. Mr. Stone sends me the set.

Canadian Proprietary.—Mr. Hartman shows me the new Canadian proprietary stamp, printed in carmine, in neat design. There seems to be a scarcity of reliable information at hand concerning this stamp. It bears no denomination, so in this respect it appears a label. Will some Canadian reader properly informed kindly communicate with me?

Thanks.—Mr. Bartlett of Springfield corrects me, for calling the tape worm stamp embossed. He is quite correct as the full scope of revenue stamped paper to hear from any readers of the WEEKLY readability. Specimens of varieties or oddities E.R.Vanderhoof, 2639 Vallejo St., Denver, Colo.

from the Civil War to date is all surface printing.

Stamped Paper.—Mr. Grant of Austin sends me a set of stamped paper—Sterling's Design "E" used on seven values of documents, answering the purpose of orders. The documents are ordinary check size and everything is printed, even the value—which appears odd—as the value is rarely printed in on any document, but inserted as occasion requires. There is left a space for the date and signature of the agent. The documents were used by the Manhattan Silver Mining Company, drawn on Paxton and Curtis, Bankers, Austin, Nevada. The frames are in various colors and those I have seen are unused, making a beautiful set. Following are the values:

- $ 1.00 black.
- 3.00 dark brown.
- 5.00 green.
- 10.00 ultramarine.
- 20.00 pale brown.
- 50.00 pink.
- 100.00 red orange.

A Discovery.—Mr. Bartlett submits a new provisional cigarette stamp. The variety consists of a double surcharge, "Ten Cigarettes 1891" on which is surcharged in red, "Issued under act of July 1897," while just above the words "Issued Under" appears the second surcharge "Series of 1898" in black. Mr. Bartlett is to be congratulated on his discovery, coming as it does on top of the numerous discoveries made in these stamps of late.

Bridger & Kay Catalog.—The publishers send me a copy of their priced catalog of British Colonial Adhesive Revenue Telegraph and Railway Stamps. The book is cloth bound, flexible covers, containing 100 pages of closely printed double column lists. The main thing we miss is the lack of illustrations so necessary to the student. To any one interested in foreign fiscals and telegraphs the book is invaluable as it contains a very complete list of these stamps and is well worth the price of 2sh 9d post free. list than the date of their issue would warrant. Properly speaking they should come here, as they were issued in the early seventies, namely between the years 1871 and 1873. In this issue the perforation and watermark remained as before but the surcharges were altered to types resembling those of 1864-67, but differing from them in the following respects.

In the one penny the letters are 3 mm. instead of 2½ mm. high, the bar being of the same length as the words. In the 1sh the words are of the same length as in the first issue, but the bar is longer than before, being exactly the same length as the words. In the second issue the length of the surcharge is 18 mm. instead of 15½ mm. as in the previous issue. The letters forming the words "TWO PENCE" are in the same type but are spaced wider apart.

In 1873 was issued the first 6d stamp printed by Messrs. De La Rue. When the contract for printing passed into their hands, Messrs. Perkins, Bacon & Co. delivered, with the plates, a large quantity of 6d stamps which had been prepared in anticipation of further requirements. These lasted until 1873 when a fresh printing was made by Messrs. De La Rue. The first printing was evidently a small one as it lasted only about a year. The colour was a rather dull blue, and fine specimens, either used or unused, are among the scarcest of the ordinary issues of St. Helena. The second printing, which was made in 1874, was in a rather bright ultramarine shade. Both were perforated 12½ and watermarked Crown & CC.

THE ISSUE OF 1882-83.

In preparing fresh printings of the 1d, 2d, 3d and 4d values, Messrs. De La Rue again altered the types of the surcharges. These resembled those of the 1865 to '68 issue in having the bar much shorter than the words in the case of the 1d, 3d and 4d, while the height of the letters forming the words on the 1d was reduced to 2½ mm. again. In the 2d. the letters forming the words are placed closer together, as in the 1865 to '68 issue, and the bar is but very slightly shorter than the words.

AT AUCTION - - THE CELEBRATED LYNDE COLLECTION.

We take pleasure in announcing that we have just secured for sale at auction the celebrated collection of the late F. E. P. Lynde, of New York, contained in 17 volumes.

20th CENTURY

This collection is chiefly the stamps of the 20th Century, all of which are unused and in superb condition. The sale will be held early in November, and if you lack anything in the 20th Century, it would pay you to wait for the catalogue.

PHILADELPHIA STAMP COMPANY,

PERCIVAL PARRISH, PRESIDENT,
Stamp Importers, Brokers and Commission Merchants.

1204 CHESTNUT STREET.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

The most striking fact in connection with this issue is the new perforation. At first this gauged 14x12½, the result of two single-line machines being used; that gauging 14 perforating horizontally, the old one, with the 12½ gauge, being used vertically. The 1sh stamp of 1871-73 was issued, together with the lower values, in this perforation, and this stamp, though common used, is worth getting unused, at its present price. The set also includes a new printing of the 6d, in a pale greyish blue.

In the following year, 1883, three of the values were issued perf. 14. These were the 1d, 2d and 1sh, and at the same time the last mentioned value was altered to conform, as to the type of the overprint, with the rest of the set. The bar was smaller and the letters measured 2½ mm. in height and 17 mm. in length, instead of 3 mm. and 18 mm. as before. The stock of the 6d with 14 x12½ perf. was evidently a large one, as it was not replaced by the stamps perforated 14 until 1889.

ISSUE OF 1884-1894. WMK. CR. & CA.

This set was not all issued at the same time, the stamps with the new watermark being put on sale as the old stocks of the different values became used up. The types of the surcharges were almost identical with those of the previous issue. A new value, 2½d, was added in September, 1893. This differs from the rest of the set in having the value surcharged in figures instead of in words. The colours of these "CA" stamps vary much more than do those of the earlier issues, and the earlier shades are those which are most like the "CC" stamps. The setting of the surcharge of the half-penny was changed in 1894, the value being made shorter, measuring 14½ mm. instead of 17 mm. Of the first type of the ½d there are two distinct colours, namely, yellow-green and emerald-green, the latter being much the scarcer. There is a minor variety of the ½d of this type, in which the "Y" is further away from the "N" than in the normal; this is No. 216 on the sheet.

The Crown CA paper used for these stamps was not suitable for receiving impressions of 240 stamps of this size, and consequently the unwatermarked edges of the sheets had to be utilised and specimens may frequently be found without a watermark.

ISSUE OF 1890-97.

The first value to appear in the new design was a 1½d stamp, this being issued six years before the other values of the set. The design is one of the well-known key-patterns of Messrs. De La Rue & Co., and is the same as that used for Gambia, Seychelles and one or two other Colonies. It has the word "POSTAGE" on either side. The plate numbers known are as follows:—

- ½d, plates 2 and 3.
- 1d, plates 2 and 3.
- 1½d, plate 1.
- 2d, 2½d, 5d and 10d, all plate 2 only.

There were no 3d, 4d, 1sh and 5sh values issued in this design as a large stock of the old stamps remained on hand.

As there was no big demand for the stamps the whole, or at any rate a large proportion, was sold to a London dealer, after being obliterated with a diamond-shaped cancellation struck in violet. This is quite unlike a postmark and is unlikely to deceive anyone.

KING'S HEAD ISSUE OF MARCH, 1902.

Only two values, namely, the ½d and 1d, were issued in the ordinary stock design with the King's Head. They are both from plate 1.

PICTORIAL ISSUE OF JUNE, 1903.

It was evidently thought that pictorial stamps would form a more profitable source of revenue than the ordinary form of postage stamp, shewing the head of His Majesty alone. At the same time the authorities did not like to do away with the head of the sovereign.

A compromise was the result and a new set, consisting of ½d, 1d, 2d, 8d, 1 sh and 2sh values, was brought out, on each of which appeared a view of some part of the island and, impinging on the same, from above, an oval frame enclosing the regulation portrait of the King. The stamps are all printed in two colours, perforated 14, and are on paper watermarked Cr. & CC.—Phil. Jour. of Gt. Britain.

DON'T LOSE YOUR PROXY.

In this issue is a long list of probable convention attendants. Any one of the members will be pleased to be the holder of your proxy. Don't forget to send it in, as at least 580 will be required to adopt any amendments to our by-laws and a larger number than that unless the vote be unanimous.

CONVENTION PROGRAM.

The committee on entertainment for the Atlantic City convention is preparing matter for an official program. Advertising will be gratefully received by Charles Beamish, treasurer of the committee, care Otis Elevator Company, 12th and Sansom Streets, Philadelphia. The size of the program will be about 4¼ by 5½ inches, with the printed matter occupying 3 inches by 4 inches space, and the rates are to be $1.75 per half page and $3.00 per page. Any surplus over cost of printing will be applied toward the entertainment of the delegates.

EDITORIAL.

Foreword—The case of Dr. Samuel A. Mudd who was tried with the Lincoln assassination conspirators at Washington in 1865 was watched with a sensational interest that equalled in intensity that bestowed on the trials of the more active conspirators. His position in life was one of some prominence and his standing in his community was such as to make him a more commanding individuality than others of the male-factors. Dr. Mudd was found guilty of aiding and comforting the enemies of the government and of having given medical attendance to Booth after his escape on horseback from Washington; he set Booth's leg which had been broken. Dr. Mudd was sentenced to life imprisonment. Among the witnesses for the prosecution, one of the most important was Marcus P. Norton, of Troy, New York, who swore that Dr. Mudd entered his room at the National Hotel, Washington, by mistake on one occasion before the assassination and that when watched by the witness after Mudd's nervously apologetic departure from the room, Mudd sought and entered the room of Booth, who later became the assassin of Lincoln. Naturally, the defense strove with all its resources to impeach the testimony of Mr. Norton, as his statements proved a connection between Booth and Mudd. Dr. Mudd's lawyers raked Norton's past for information derogatory to Norton's veracity and his record as a lawyer. While some minor reflections were cast on Norton, yet the prosecution was able to bring the strongest of character witnesses to testify in rebuttal.

master General and Postmaster General. While living here, I have made the acquaintance of Marcus P. Norton of Troy; I have known him quite intimately for eighteen years. Before I left the department, I saw him very frequently, once or twice a year, perhaps oftener; but since I left the department I have had business with him and seen him oftener and know more of him than before. I have always regarded him as scrupulously honest and correct. So far as his business with me is concerned, I have never dealt with a more truthful man or one more particular to keep his engagements and from my knowledge or belief of him and his character I would most unhesitatingly and fully believe him under oath. . . . My business with him was in reference to patent post rating and canceling stamps. I know nothing of him beyond that here but I know him quite intimately."

Patented Plans—It was about this time that effort was first made by the authorities to check the manipulations of stamp cleaners by patent devices for canceling stamps so effectually as to render them unusable a second time. The washing of revenue stamps by dishonest persons suggested the re-using of postage stamps after the canceling ink had been removed. The government began to take cautionary measures by experimenting with patent papers and devices and it was in connection with these, we infer, that Norton and Postmaster General King often were in consultation. In the internal revenue act approved June 30, 1864 and amended by the act of March 3, 1865 "washed or restored stamps" are placed in the category of counterfeit stamps. The plan of "grilling" the postage stamps was adopted some years later.

State Stamp Tax—The state revenue stamp taxes that were imposed independently of the national revenue tax, civil war period, presented politicians of the times, with a weapon that was seized eagerly for belaboring the state administration, if they were arrayed on the opposite side. An instance may be cited. Nevada was created a state in October, 1864, and a "poetic dreamer" who sat in the first session of the State legislature early in 1865, engaged attention by a long eulogy on "The State." The panygry occasioned the following rejoinder by a recalcitrant editor: "What is or constitutes a State? Answer: A big tract of land and sagebrush covered with silver ledge notices four feet deep, traversed in all directions in the spring time by citizens of Sonoma county, preyed upon during election time by broken-down politicians from California, cared for during the winter by a hungry half-hundred who talk sapiently of 'economy' when asked to make an appropriation to pay a just printing bill, and then plaster the taxpayers with stamp duties for all manner of thieving objects."

Changes the Tune—In the issue dated July 24th, a letter was published from the Schermack Mailing Machine Co., bearing the signature of James H. Drake, Vice-President & Treasurer. In effect, Mr. Drake said that it was his belief that the company had issued no variety of perforation, other than that now in use. C. H. Mekeel, St. Louis, Mo., who has been a close investigator of the Schermack and other perforations writes and furnishes information that is diametrically opposed to that submitted by Mr. Drake to a Chicago stamp dealer. Mr. Mekeel says: "For your information I set forth the following facts which are easy of confirmation. The first tool for producing the hyphen-hole perforations used on stamps in the Detroit Machine was not made until January 1908 and then was made by Mr. Grover Cleveland, now of Sturgis, Michigan, and this man did not even enter the employ of the Detroit Company until after more than 50,000 stamps having the special round hole perforations were prepared, sold to and used by concerns in Detroit, who were experimenting with the Schermack Mailing Machine. The following Detroit concerns used the stamps bearing the perforations Schermack No. 1 and Schermack No. 2, previous to January, 1908, before the hyphen-hole perforation was even thought of. Rogers & VanLeyen Company used over 50,000; Murphy Chair Co., over 3,000; Parke, Davis & Co., over 3,000; D. M. Ferry & Co., over 3,000; Michigan State Telephone Co., over 3,000. The above facts may be easily confirmed by the records of the Detroit Company and by employees in the factory and office as well as by users of the stamps. I have seen postally used copies of the stamps that were used in a regular way and confirmed my facts before publishing my article."

Proved—Mr. Mekeel's able article, "U. S. Postage Stamps Issued for use in Patented Stamp Vending and Machines," appeared in a recent issue of his News & Trade Circular. He illustrated Schermack No. 1 and Schermack No. 2, both round perforation varieties. Joseph J. Schermack, the inventor, said that these two styles of round hole perforations were used for a time until superseded by the more practical so-called hyphen-hole variety. Mr. Mekeel now names concerns that used styles of perforations, No. 1 and 2. This proves the case in favor of the first two perforations, we should say. It would seem that Mr. Drake was in a position to know of facts, but evidently he had not thoroughly canvassed the subject before he placed himself on record.

POSTMARKED TO ORDER.

Below will be found a short list of British stamps, all of which I have seen in panes or sheets, postmarked to order. These stamps have either been cancelled by Government officials, on their own behalf, or by some obliging postal clerk on behalf of some private speculator.

1897-8, ½d vermilion.

1901, ½d blue-green.

Canada.—Postage Dues.

Cook Islands.—Various issues.

Grenada.—1898, Commemorative.

Labuan & No. Borneo.—Various issues.

St. Helena.—Government remainders.

Zanzibar.—1898 issue.

The above list is doubtless very incomplete, and I should like to have particulars of other "Postmarked to order" British stamps.

My list needless to say from its brevity, does not include all the postmarked to order stamps that I have seen.

NEWS GLEANINGS.

Under this heading we desire to publish all the news from the various philatelic centres. Correspondents' names will be given unless prohibited as we desire to give full credit for services rendered.

—Our friend, H. W. Boers, writing us that Gen. Coolidge will be the bearer of his WEEKLY proxy, has the hard heart to enclose a cartoon from a Detroit paper illustrative of the manner in which the Detroit Tigers got away with the Speed Boys from the Hub City on the recent visit of the latter team.

—Julian C. Baber, Pocahontas, Va., sends us an application blank of the Imperial Philatelic Association and will perform a similar favor for any reader of the WEEKLY who wishes information in regard to this society.

—"We are glad that at last we can send you notice of our removal down town. We have leased a fine office in the heart of the business district and are now better located than any stamp firm has ever been in Frisco. (Congratulations.—ED.) At the meeting of the Pacific Philatelic Society last Wednesday the matter of Official Journal for the A. P. S. was talked over and while it was the sense of the meeting that the society not go on record as favoring any one paper, all but one of the members spoke in favor of MEKEEL'S and promised to vote for it."—H. W. DOSCHER & CO.

—"In case you want to insert it as a timely warning I may mention that the International Philatelic Society, Dresden, announces in its minutes of June 19 that member No. 1507, J. Meier of Montreal, Canada, has been expelled from the society and his name ordered posted in the "Black book".—L. HARALD KJELLSTEDT.

—Reprints of the articles "Stamps of Tobago" in No. 968 and "Sierra Leone—Its Postal Issues" in No. 970 can be had, uniform with those we have previously printed, at 5c each.

U. S. ESSAYS OF 1869.

By REV. L. C. WALTER.

Of U. S. essays I have seen none more interesting than those designed in preparation for the 1869 issue. Most of them are known as "small figure varieties", the only difference between them and the accepted types being in the figures of value, those on the essays being considerably smaller.

The one cent essay has the figure of value enclosed in a small beaded transverse oval, with the word "cent" in very small letters in the background, the figure separating the first two letters and the last two. The "1" is identical in pattern with that used on the regular stamp. This statement holds true practically throughout the series.

Some two years ago a one cent essay was sold at auction, the stamp having the regular design between two draped flags, with a shield below. This made quite a large stamp. The specimen, the only one I have ever seen, is a die proof in black on white glazed paper, and not very well printed.

The two cent essay has the figure of value on an ornamental band encircling the ribbon bearing the words "Two cents".

The three cent essay has the figure of value on a shield-shaped tablet.

A five cent essay was prepared, practically the same design as that of the six cent stamp, the difference being that each lower corner has a small figure "5" and the lower border reads "Five cents".

The ten cent essay contains a picture of Lincoln, the same as that adopted for the 90 cent stamp, but showing less of the shoulders; fasces at the sides, "U. S. postage" above, and "Ten Cents" below in curved bands, "10" in plain figures in the upper corners and "U. S." in the corners below.

In an auction catalogue of Dec. 1907, I find a ten cent essay described as having a picture of the Signing of the Declaration of Independence in the center; a die proof in gray black on India on card. Having never seen this essay, I cannot describe it further.

I happen also never to have seen the 15 cent essay, but it is probably safe to guess that it differs from the regular design only in size of the numerals. The twelve cent essay differs from the stamp as issued only in the size of the figures. So also the 24 cent essay is otherwise identical with the type issued, except that some ornamentation has been omitted on account of the larger numerals in the regular stamp.

The essay for the thirty cent value pictures the surrender of Cornwallis to Washington at Yorktown, the frame being a horizontal panel, ends oval, upper and lower sides parallel. "Postage" above with U. S. in upper corners, "Thirty cents" in graceful curves below with the figures "30" in a circle between the two words. A die proof of this essay makes a very fine appearance. I understand that the design was rejected because the government did not wish to remind our British friends of any unpleasantness.

The ninety cent essay has the figures of value in small beaded ellipses, while the portrait is that of Washington as used in the 1861 issue.

These essays for the most part are to be found in a wide variety of colors. I have never seen any explanation of such a series of colors except that they were made to determine in what color the stamp would appear to best advantage. It is hard, however, to avoid an uncomfortable suspicion that there were thoughts of the collector's pocket book.

The prices asked for these essays have almost as wide a range as the colors. I have seen the same essay of 1869 priced by one dealer at $5 and by another at $1. On the whole I think that nearly all of this series can be bought at from one to three dollars each, and possibly less if one knows now to go about it.

WESTERN AUSTRALIA 1854, 4d BLUE, INVERTED CENTRE.

Among Australian stamps the earlier issues of Western Australia are deservedly esteemed by philatelists owing to the beauty of the design and tasteful colours of the stamps produced by Messrs. Perkins Bacon & Co., and the interest attaching to those which were produced in the Colony itself.

In 1853 the Western Australian Government decided to follow the example of New South Wales and issue postage stamps for the prepayment of the various postal charges. A supply of stamps was ordered from Messrs. Perkins Bacon & Co., and these reached the Colony in February, 1854. It was found that only 1d stamps had been sent, and as at least two other values—4d and 1s—were required, it was decided to produce these at Perth so that all could be issued together on August 1st, 1854, the date which had been chosen for the inauguration of the new system.

It is only with the 4d value that we are concerned at present. This denomination was required for the prepayment of the postal charge on ordinary letters to England, this being fixed at 4d per half oz.

The territory of Western Australia was originally known as the Swan River Settlement, as the first colonists fixed their habitations on the banks of this beautiful river. It was, therefore, only natural that the black swan, the rara avis in terris, nigroque simillima cygno, as a writer in the old Stamp Collectors' Magazine put it, should be chosen as the design of the first stamps. In fact this design was fixed by law and, until the temporary high value stamps appeared in 1902 a swan formed the central device on all the stamps issued for this colony.

By clause VII in Ordinance No. 12 of 1854, it was enacted "That the Postmaster-General, Colonial Treasurer, or other authorized person, shall, with the approval of the Governor, cause stamps to be made, or procured, and sold, indicating such amounts of postage as may be directed in that behalf by the Governor, and that the lawful stamp or impression shall represent the figure of a swan, on a black or other ground, in addition to any other figure, mark, or words (if any) thereon impressed."

It would be interesting to know if this regulation has ever been rescinded. If not, it would seem that the current high value stamps bearing the portrait of Queen Victoria are hardly legal.

At any rate the 4d stamp with which we are now concerned was quite legal for it certainly "represents the Figure of a Swan."

Early writers were almost unanimous in the opinion that this stamp was from lithographic transfers taken from a steel die engraved by Messrs. Perkins Bacon & Co. But Mr. E. D. Bacon in the course of several interesting papers on Western Australian stamps proves that this firm had nothing whatever to do with the manufacture of this stamp. The gentleman just referred to is of the opinion that this 4d stamp was prepared in the Surveyor-General's Department at Perth and printed by the lithographic press in that office. Mr. Horace Samson was draughtsman and lithographer to the Government in 1854, but resigned his appointment in July of that year, when he was succeeded by Mr. A. Hillman. There is therefore, little doubt that one of these gentlemen was responsible for the manufacture of this stamp and, incidentally, with supplying philatelists with a very rare variety.

It is fairly evident that the central portion of the design was obtained by taking transfers from the 1d stamp supplied by Perkins Bacon & Co. Mr. E. D. Bacon tells us that the method of procedure was as follows:—Sixty transfers were taken from the plate of the 1d and, after the borders had been removed, the central portions were printed upon a sheet of stout paper or card, at equal distances apart, in six rows of ten stamps each. Transfers were then taken from the new engraved octagonal border, cut out, and pasted around the central portions of the design. This block of sixty stamps was then transferred four times to the lithographic stone to form the printing plate.

During the process of pasting on the new frames one was applied wrong way up resulting in the well known error with inverted swan, though it would be more correct to term it an error with inverted frame. The process was a difficult one as the workman was unable to touch the transfers with his fingers owing to the sensitive nature of the paper and ink employed. The finished plate, therefore, consisted of 240 stamps arranged in four panes of 60 and, apparently, there was an error in each pane, though I have been unable to ascertain its exact position.

The error was corrected as it did not appear in the later sheets and consequently did not occur in either of the two entire panes Mr. W. T. Wilson was so fortunate as to procure about ten years ago.

The error was well known to philatelists many years ago for I find a note by Mr. W. Dudley Atlee in the Stamp Collectors' Magazine for 1871 to the effect that "among the earliest 4d a few copies have been found with the swan reverse," though this writer apparently considered the error of secondary importance compared with the 1s printed in the bistre colour of the 1d which had just been discovered.

There are only six or seven copies of this rare stamp in existence.

One was shown at the Exhibition held in London in 1894 by the Royal (the London) Philatelic Society to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Society. This belonged to the late Duke of Leinster and is now in the National Collection which he bequeathed to the Dublin Museum. Another is included in the famous Tapling Collection in the British Museum, Mr. L. L. R. Hausburg has a magnificent lightly cancelled copy, and a slightly damaged copy was sold at auction in 1906.

There is a specimen in the well-known Ferrary collection, the late Sir W. B. Avery possessed one, and another is said to be in a South American collection.

In The Stamp Collector Messrs. Hardy & Bacon assessed the value of this error at £150, but it has increased in value since that work appeared. I believe I am right in stating that Mr. Hausburg paid £400 for his specimen and the one sold at auction in 1906 realised the same figure so that we may take £400 as a fair "market value" for this rarity.—Postage Stamp.

Any information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged. Address HENRY A. KIDDER, 17 Addison Street, Arlington, Mass.

UNITED STATES.—S. McClellan Butt has shown us a permit reading "3c Paid—Chicago, Ill.—Permit No. 111", which is covered by a 4c stamp obliterated in the usual way. None of our correspondents have informed us whether the permits of this class denote that the full amount of postage indicated, in this case 7c, has been paid, or whether the postage required being more than the permit, the printing has therefore become void.

O. D. Challans calls attention to the varying shades of the current 1c stamp, and also to the fact that the stamps printed in the darker shade are liable to have the lines of the face changed, especially the shape of the upper lip, due to the excess of ink.

AFGHANISTAN.—The Stamp Collectors' Fortnightly calls attention to the fact that the new perforated Afghans are a long step in advance from the habit of the native postmen of biting out pieces of the stamps by way of obliterating them.

AUSTRALIA.—The authorities of this country have a curious provision regarding the admission into the mails of the Commonwealth of printed matter originating abroad. Such things have hitherto been confined to countries like Spain, who endeavored by imposing a customs surtax to eke out insufficient revenue. Australia is at peace with all the world, but like Canada, evidently does not approve of the free circulation of literature and printed matter. Hence a customs tax is extorted from those who wish to receive literature and printed matter abroad. To distinguish this tax a distinct series of stamps has been issued. We have not been informed as to the design, but Ewen's Weekly gives denominations and colors as below. All are perforated 10, and printed on unwatermarked paper.

Customs Duty Adhesives.

- 3/4d carmine and dark green.
- 1d blue and brown.
- 3d yellow and violet blue.

CANADA.—The sheets of the new perforated appear as though the stamps were printed in sheets of 200 stamps, 100 in a block. The New England Stamp Co. calls our attention to this fact, and we should be glad to have some of our Canadian correspondents in a position to know give us the correct statement.

NEW ZEALAND.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us the 2c violet on single lined NZ and Star paper, in a smaller design.

QUEENSLAND.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us the 1sh purple on Crown A paper.

SOUTHERN NIGERIA.—Specimen copies have been distributed of the following new stamps printed according to the new color scheme.

EMERSON DRUG CO. CANCELLATIONS.

By E. R. VANDERHOOF.

Considerable comment has been made from time to time; theories advanced; schemes suggested, and so on, concerning the meaning of the numeral and letter surcharges appearing on the 1898 private die stamps of the Emerson Drug Co.

The writer has been no less speculative in this respect than hundreds of other collectors, and a list of the different arguments advanced would be indeed interesting.

During the period that this concern used this form of cancellation, constant reference was made of the practice through the columns of philatelic papers. Several attempts were made at that and subsequent times to ascertain from the proprietors, to what these apparent unmeaning surcharges alluded.

I have recently been in communication with Mr. Philip I. Huisler, Director of Laboratories for the corporation, and after an exhaustion of his considerate kindness, and likewise of my personal diplomacy, I have succeeded in eliciting from him the following facts.

Beginning with a period antedating that of the Spanish American war Epoch, the Emerson Drug Co. established a system of marking their goods. The marks were intended to bear reference to the date of manufacture.

For a starting point they took a certain period of time and called it "Period 1." When that period elapsed they allotted another period of the same duration, calling it "Period 2," proceeding in this manner until they had made full use of the numeral "8," after which they began at "1" again and repeated.

Now, according to Mr. Huisler, this system was used in marking their products, which system, by the way, has been abolished, although from what I am able to learn, was, and according to all mathematical ethics must have been in use at the time they began using their stamps.

When stamps were used on each package of product they proceeded to kill two birds with one stone. They cancelled the stamp with their cabalistic combination of figure, letter and figure and used the same both as a mark of cancellation as well as a fulfillment of their scheme of dating the manufacture of their goods.

Now, to get down to the deciphering of the cancellations. Every cancellation has the same general form of a letter ensconced between two figures. Letters and figures always changing, but always adhering strictly to the principle of figure first, then letter, and then figure.

The numeral at the right of the letter is the one that is first necessary to know. It represents the period of time mentioned at the beginning. This period of time consisted of six calendar months—even numbers standing for the last half of a given year and odd numbers representing the first six months of any year.

The numeral "8" represented the last half of the year 1900. So, from this we are able to locate any period to which the cancellation belongs.

Now, proceeding along this hypothesis, and going from the right hand numeral and like a crab working backwards, we encounter the letter of the surcharge. The letters of the ENTIRE alphabet of 26 all told, were used to represent the weeks over a period of six months—thus, "A" for the first week—"K" for the eleventh week and so on. I lay special stress on the fact that all of the alphabet was used as this point has been contradicted at different times.

Thus, we are able to tell from the letter and its right bower the year as well as the week of any year to which it belongs.

Proceeding to the left numeral we find that they are used to represent the day of the week—"1" for Monday, "2" for Tuesday, etc. We can from this data figure out what any cancellation represents. Thus: 5-Z-8 would refer to the fifth day of the last week in December of 1900; 1-A-8 would mean the first Monday in July, 1900. It is only a matter of trifling head work to reduce any of these cancellations to calendar days and months, and Lo! the path is now easy.

Whoever attached the stamps to Kyles matches had about as much brains as a Dodo. Although these stamps were perforated, these intelligent (?) workers separated the stamps with scissors, hence it is almost impossible to find a W. S. Kyle perf. all around. Out of over 300 I was only able to secure 4 perfect stamps.—Carter's Messenger.

PAPAL STATES : 1852 ISSUE.

In the latter part of the year 1851 it was determined that the Papal States should issue a series of postage stamps to facilitate the conveyance of letters. M. Salviucci, the Director of the Press of the Papal Government, was entrusted with the execution of the business, and he commissioned M. J. Valagna to manufacture the dies.

At first only stamps of the values of 1/2, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 bajocchi were ordered, which were issued to the public on 1st January, 1852. It was soon apparent, however that stamps of a higher value were necessary, both for franking heavy letters and for foreign postage. Accordingly further stamps of the value of 8 and 50 bajocchi, and 1 scudo were obtained and were duly issued in the first week of October, 1852.

All these stamps, except the two higher values, are very similar in their general design. The papal tiara and crossed keys is the most prominent feature in the design; the framework and side ornamentation differs for each value. The two higher values, however, are considerably larger than the lower values and are rather more elaborate.

The stamps were printed on unwatermarked paper and were not perforated. The size of the sheets varied considerably, since the printers apparently made their plates fit the paper, by using more or less clichés, instead of adopting the usual practice of printing the stamps in sheets of a fixed size and containing a definite number of stamps.

The eight lower values were all printed in black on various coloured papers, but for the three higher values white paper was used, and the 50 bajocchi and scudo were printed in colour.

The most striking feature about the seven lower values is the number of shades in which the stamps are to be found—some of which are by no means easy to obtain in unused condition. The coloured paper seems to have been obtained, as it was needed, in rather a haphazard manner and presents considerable differences in texture as well as in shade.

Great irregularity seems to have attended the printing of the stamps and, owing to the want of proper supervision, it is said that the workmen not infrequently printed off a sheet or two of the stamps, without accounting for them, to sell to their friends at less than face value.

It is noteworthy also that these stamps occur used on the envelope, but uncanceled, which would point to great carelessness or else to fraud on the part of the clerks in the post offices.

In fact, this practice became such an abuse that a special decree as to the obliteration of the stamps was issued in 1855, and it was then that the gridiron type of postmark was brought into use for cancelling the stamps, and the small round date-mark was for the future merely impressed on the letter and not on the stamps themselves.

To add to the troubles of the postal authorities forgeries soon began to make their appearance. Forgeries of the 1 bajocchi, 5 bajocchi (two types), and 8 bajocchi are known which duly passed through the post without detection. These forgeries were produced by lithography at Bologna during the years 1855 to 1857.

As mentioned before, the lower values differed greatly in shade during the period of use—1852 to 1867. The only means of finding out the approximate time of the use of each shade is, of course, by means of stamps on the original envelope. Unfortunately, although some of the values are obtainable with comparative ease in that condition, others—notably the 1/2 bajocchi, which was mostly used for franking newspapers—are decidedly scarce on original.

There seem to be at least five distinct shades of the ½ bajocchi—grey, violet, red-violet, rose-violet, and brownish-violet. The first two shades are the commonest, the last shade is rather scarcer, while the fourth shade is much harder to obtain than any of the others.

The 1 bajocchi is found in at least three distinct shades. This stamp was first issued in a pale blue-green colour, which lasted for about three years. Then comes a similar but rather darker shade; and during the later years of the currency of the stamp a deep blue-green paper was employed.

There are four shades of the 2 bajocchi, the commonest of which is a medium yellow-green. The stamp is found in this colour, from 1852 to 1863, though there are intervals in this period when other shades were current. The next most common shade is a greenish-white, which is the usual colour of this stamp from 1864 to 1867, the last year of use. Scarcer shades are (1855) bluish-green, and (1858) deep bluish-green.

The 3 bajocchi stamp occurs in three different shades—chamois, buff, and (later) dark ochre.

There are five varieties of shade in the case of the 4 bajocchi—ochre-brown, chamois, bright chamois, straw, and bright yellow. The dull shades are the earlier and the bright shades the later printings. The second shade is considerably scarcer than the others, which are all equally common.

The next value, the 5 bajocchi, varies in shade from the palest rose to the deepest crimson. The pale shades are the earlier, and the stamp is not met with in the deep shades till the year 1861, although previously a rather deeper coloured paper had been used. From 1861 onwards the deep shades are the rule.

The 6 bajocchi is found in bright grey, greenish-grey, pearl-grey, and grey-lilac. The third shade is scarcer than the two first, and the last shade is the scarcest.

The remaining four stamps of the set do not appreciably vary in shade, with the exception of the 50 bajocchi, which is found printed in dark ultra-marine (from a worn plate) as well as in the ordinary pale blue colour.

The ½ bajocchi (grey) exists printed tête-bêche, and the 1, 3, 4, and 5 bajocchi are occasionally met with printed front and back. There are two types of the 1 bajocchi, the lines of separation being arranged differently in each case.

The fourteenth stamp on the sheet, in at least some of the printings of the 2 bajocchi, has no stop after BAJ.

The ½ to 8 bajocchi stamps are found cut diagonally or vertically for use as ¼, ⅓ or ½ of their full face value, and there is no doubt that the postage was duly prepaid thus, although the practice was never officially authorized.

These stamps were occasionally obliterated with a large black St. Andrew's Cross. This postmark is said to have been used in Ferrara during an outbreak of the plague.

The present unpopularity of the stamps of the Papal States would appear to be due in some degree to the large number of reprints, which were made on more than one occasion, of the later issues. It should be remembered that the first issue has never been reprinted; and although the stamps are by no means beautiful or artistic in their appearance, they have a quaintness of their own, and are by no means undeserving of a good deal more attention than they at present receive.—Gibbons Stamp Weekly.

BRIT. GUIANA 1850, 2c BLACK ON ROSE.

The small colony of British Guiana has acquired considerable philatelic fame owing to the fact that the rarest stamp in the world—referred to in a previous article—was issued there. In addition to the famous and unique 1c stamp, another label, belonging to the earliest issue of all, ranks high among philatelic rarities, making British Guiana a particularly expensive country in which to specialise.

This stamp, which is usually accorded fourth place among the "rarest known stamps" of the world, is the 2 cents, black on rose, issued in 1851. It is certainly not a pretty stamp, but the very primitiveness of its design adds to its interest, and the fact that it is also rare makes it a label coveted by every stamp collector. In design it is similar to the 12 cents value illustrated consisting of a crudely drawn circle, with "BRITISH GUIANA" curved around the inside, and the value "2 cents" printed across the centre. Only ten copies of this rarity are known, and its market value at the present time is probably somewhere between £500 and £600.

The 4c, 8c, and 12c "circulars" of the same type were issued in 1850, and in the following year this 2c stamp made its appearance. In an early number of the Royal Gazette—the local medium for the announcement of official notices—a notification bearing on the issue of this 2c stamp was published. This was dated February, 1851, and stated that "by order of His Excellency the Governor, and upon the request of several of the merchants of Georgetown, it is proposed to establish a delivery of letters twice each day through the principal streets of this city."

Each letter must bear the stamp, for which 2c will be charged, or it will be delivered, and when called for will be subject to the usual postage of 8c." A list of storekeepers, who had agreed to receive letters for delivery at their respective establishments was given, and, I believe, March 1st was fixed as the date for the inauguration of this new postal service. It seems hardly credible, however, that the 2c stamp was issued at so early a date for of the 10 known copies the only dated ones were used between August and November. The total number of stamps issued and used must have been small for so few to have survived until the present time. In fact this local post was in such little demand that it was abandoned before the end of 1851.

The stamps were set up and printed from ordinary printers' type at the office of the Royal Gazette, Georgetown. It is impossible to say in what sized sheets they were printed, but there were at least two dies—eight of the known copies are alike, and the other two are from a different die—corresponding with types known to exist in the other values of the same design. Before being sold to the public the stamps were initialled by the postmaster, or one of the post office clerks, as a precaution against forgery.

Information regarding these stamps is remarkably scanty, and most of what we have is chiefly due to the energy and painstaking research of Mr. E. D. Bacon, who has made a special study of the interesting early issues of British Guiana.

Although this 2c stamp was issued in 1851 its existence was not known in Europe until 1877. In that year a specimen found by a Mr. Kirton was sent to the late Mr. T. Ridpath, of Liverpool, who at once sold it to Herr Phillip von Ferrary. In 1878 Mr. Ridpath obtained another and better specimen which he exchanged for the one in the Ferrary collection. He re-sold the first specimen to Messrs. Pemberton, Wilson & Co., who found a customer for it in Capt. J. B. Cameron at the modest price of £25. A few years later, in 1883, Messrs. Pemberton, Wilson & Co. purchased Capt. Cameron's entire collection and the 2c Guiana then passed to Mr. J. Botteley for £30. In 1887 Mr. Gihel acquired the Botteley collection and sold the 2c to the late Mr. Douglas Garth for £75. In 1893, this gentleman exchanged the stamp with Mr. W. W. Blest for some rare Europeans, and in January, 1895, it was added to the famous collection formed by Sir (then Mr.) W. B. Avery, of Birmingham, and here it still remains. The specimen is cut round and bears the initials "J. B. S." (James Belton Smith)—one of the Post Office clerks.

Early in 1878 Messrs. Alfred Smith & Co., of Bath, was fortunate in securing a copy from Mr. N. R. McKinnon, at that time a collector in British Guiana, and this was sold to His Honour Judge F. A. Philbrick for £20. The famous Philbrick collection was sold in 1882, and shortly afterwards the 2c Guiana was acquired by M.M. Caillebotto, two well-known Parisian collectors. These gentlemen sold their collection to Messrs. Pemberton, Wilson & Co. in 1887, and in the following year Mr. F. de Coppet bought the 2c for £70. Six years later Mr. de Coppet's collection was sold by auction in New York and the stamp realised $1010 (£210), the buyer being Mr. F. W. Hunter. In January, 1900, Mr. Hunter's collection was also sold by auction in New York, and the famous 2c found a purchaser in Mr. W. H. Peckitt at $1710 (£345). This specimen is also cut round and initialled "J. B. S."

Later in 1878 Mr. McKinnon sent another copy of the 2c to Messrs. Alfred Smith & Co., who sold it to Mr. W. E. Image for £20. The late Mr. T. K. Tapling, M. P., purchased the Image collection in 1882, and on his death in 1891 the whole collection passed to the British Museum with this rarity.—Postage Stamp.

WELL KNOWN PHILATELISTS.

CAPTAIN C. WAFELBAKKER.

It is mostly due to the energy and business like methods of Captain C. Wafelbakker, the President of the Dutch Philatelic Association, that the recently held Amsterdam Philatelic Exhibition proved the success it did. It was our pleasure to first make his acquaintance at the Exhibition itself, and we can personally testify to his courtesy towards those "foreigners" who were fortunate enough to appeal to him for assistance.

As Chairman of the Executive Committee and organiser of most of the festivities that accompanied the Exhibition, he was, during the days that the show was open, an exceedingly busy man, fulfilling his duties in a most praiseworthy manner.

Born in Amsterdam in December, 1862, he did not commence to collect stamps until he was nearly thirty years of age, or, to be exact, not until 1890, when frequently fagged out with arduous military studies he desired a "hobby" which would enable him to recuperate his energies. Fortunately for philately, he saw, at this period, a very fine collection of "entires," with the result that his enthusiasm was raised, and stamp collecting from that day to this has been his favourite indoor recreation.

Naturally enough, he exhibited a portion of his collection of entires at Amsterdam, with the result that he added another gold medal to his collection. On previous occasions he has exhibited at the Leeuwarden and Hoorn National Exhibitions.

Specializing in the entires of Holland and Colonies, United States, Belgium, Great Britain, and the whole of the British Colonies, he has, as one would naturally expect, a very fine collection, which contains considerably over 10,000 specimens.

Collecting both used and unused, Captain Wafelbakker makes a sine quâ non that all his used cards should legibly bear, not only the date stamp of the posting town, but that they should be plainly postmarked with the date stamp in use at the town they were addressed to. One reason for this is that he has a righteous horror of "postmarked to order" stamps, or entires of any kind, and rightly thinks, as do all good philatelists, that speculative issues and "postmarked to oblige" stamps and entires are an abomination. Although very partial to his collection of entires, he far from neglects adhesives, as, with his three eldest boys, all ardent—if but youthful—enthusiasts, he is forming a general collection of stamps.

A great many of his entires have been added to his collection through exchanging with other collectors—a method he is fond of, as it frequently leads to receiving interesting letters from out-of-the-way corners of the world.

A true collector, and one who delights in original research, Captain Wafelbakker is truly cosmopolitan as regards his selection of catalogues; he simply buys them all and, being a clever linguist, is able to extract the best from each publication. It was, he tells us, a grief to him when Stanley Gibbons discontinued publishing their catalogue of entires, but he has consoled himself with Bright's A.B.C. catalogue of entires, a publication which he considers very good.

The majority of his stamps, entires and fiscals (we must not forget to mention that he has a nice collection of over 4,000 bill stamps) are mounted on loose album leaves, a method which enables him to re-arrange, if necessary, any portion of his collection. As with catalogues, so it is with albums, for we find Kohl's Senf's and Fred's all largely used for housing his treasures.

Another of Captain Wafelbakker's hobbies is the study of mathematics and mechanics, which sciences he taught for some years.

For more than five years now the subject of this sketch has been President of the Dutch Philatelic Society, previously holding the offices of Secretary, and Director of Sales. We feel sure our readers will join us in hoping that it will be many years before our Dutch confreres nominate another President, also that her Majesty Queen Wilhelmina may long depend on so stalwart an officer to lead the men of the 2nd Regiment of Artillery.—Phil. Jour. of Gt. Britain.

AN ODD HOBBY.

Clipping from R. G. Roberts.

Enthusiastic collectors of antiques, coins, paintings, stamps, and other valuable articles can get no more enjoyment out of their hobbies than Eugene M. Vasey, a real estate operator, who lives in Wyncote, Pa., manages to find in the simple fad of collecting clover with more than three leaves. Ever since he was a boy he has been collecting them, and now he has over 1,000 perfect specimens of four, five and six leaved clovers. Mr. Vasey began to collect them when he was 14 years old. While rambling through the woods he found a six-leaf clover. He has heard of four-leaf specimens, but the six leaves surprised him, and he investigated further, with the result that he has become a confirmed clover hunter. The old superstition of the good luck that comes to the finder of a four-leaf clover has held out in Mr. Vasey's case. He says he has frequently made money in real estate simply because he found four-leaf clover on the grounds. Mr. Vasey is anxious to hear from other collectors of clover, as he believes his collection is the largest in the world.

MELVILLE'S POSTAGE STAMPS OF THE U. S. 1847-1860

This book should be in the hands of every U. S. collector. It is daintily printed on fine paper, the text being in clear type and the entire work a lasting credit to philately.

Not the least of its merits is the illustrations, sections of stamps being shown enabling one to see at a glance points of differences between types and varieties of the old issues. The book makes devious paths straight.

BRITISH CENTRAL AFRICA.

By P. L. PEMBERTON.

(This article will be reprinted uniform with our previous attempts in this direction and supplied at 5c each, mailed in a pasteboard tube. These reprints are made so that they may be inserted in the leading blank albums. Valuable for reference if kept in a binder which we can supply at 30c each, which just pays cost of manufacture and postage.—Ed.)

The first issue of stamps for these territories took place in April, 1891. They were made by overprinting the stamps of the British South Africa Company, then current, with the initials B.C.A. in block capitals 3½ mm. high.

All values were so treated except the 3d; the 3sh was not issued until Oct., 1895, and the 4sh till March, 1893. The stamps of the values from 1d to 10sh were of the usual size and the higher values, from £1 to £10, almost twice the size. The former were in sheets of sixty stamps arranged in six horizontal rows of ten, and the paper used was of a very thin transparent texture similar to that used for early issues of other colonies by the printers, Messrs. Bradbury, Wilkinson & Co. The collector of entire sheets may look out for two varieties, as follows.

1. With watermark "W. C. S. & Co." in monogram, of which the letter "C" forms an almost complete transverse oval measuring 6 centimetres across, with the words "Pure Linen," arched above, and "Wove Bank" below. When well-centred, portions of this watermark appear on about one-third of the stamps on the sheet.

2. Similar watermark with the addition of the number "139" below, and the words "Extra-Strong" to left and right of the monogram, respectively. This variety is scarce.

The unsurcharged stamps of British South Africa are known on paper without watermark and of slightly thicker texture, and though I have not heard of any of this variety being used for B.C.A., they might be found.

There are slight variations in the letters B.C.A. of the overprint. Each sheet of 60 was apparently overprinted from a stereo of which the lower three horizontal lines were an exact replica of the top three, for all the peculiarities in the overprints on the upper half of a sheet are reproduced in the same positions on the lower half. The principal variations in the type are the following:—

Stop after A larger, and further away from the letter; first stamp in first and fourth rows.

Stop after A touches the foot of the letter; seventh stamp in first and fourth rows.

Top of C thick and misshapen; eighth stamp in first and fourth rows.

Extreme tops of B and C cut off straight; first stamp in second and fifth rows.

B with thicker down-stroke; ninth stamp in second and fifth rows.

All the other stamps in each half sheet differ in some slight degree, either in the thickness of the letters and stops or in the positions of the latter.

Some of the stamps of this issue are known bisected and used as stamps of half their value. The 2d, 8d and 1sh have been recorded as so used.

All the stamps of this issue up to 10sh are common unused and can still be procured at a small advance on face value; a single exception is that of the 6d ultramarine, which is quoted at ten times its face value.

Of the high values the £1 and £2 are the best. Great care should be exercised in buying any of the high values either used or unused, as fiscally used specimens cleverly cleaned are frequently offered, by unscrupulous persons, either unused or with forged postmarks.

1892-93 Provisionals.—The need for stamps of the value of four shillings arose before the B.S.A. stamps of that value were issued; provisionals were accordingly made by surcharging the five shillings stamp with the words FOUR SHILLINGS in two lines of block capitals. This was issued in August, 1892, and only lasted till February, 1893, when the ordinary 4sh stamps arrived.

In the same way a 3sh provisional was issued in October, 1893, and for this value the new 4sh slate and vermilion was made use of. The printing was a very small one, only 1,380 stamps (twenty-three sheets) were issued. Taking this into consideration, the present market value of the stamp is very low.

One Penny Prov. 1895.—There is something to be cleared up in connection with this stamp as there appear to have been three settings of the surcharge. The first reference to this that I can find is a note in the Monthly Journal, for Oct., 1896, as follows:—

"There is a history going the round of the magazines, in reference to certain copies of the 'One Penny' on the 2d of the British South Africa Company with double surcharge. The story is that 100 sheets were sent to the Government printing office, at Blantyre, to be surcharged; that the first sheet was put through the press twice over, presumably to show the Postmaster how nicely they could do it. The P. M., however, was not satisfied, and sent the other 99 sheets to Cape Town to be adorned; and thus is accounted for a double overprint which differs in type from the single one."

The Monthly Journal went on to say:—

"This history comes from an unimpeachable source, and we have no doubt that it is perfectly true; but we think that waste products of this kind should be destroyed, instead of being preserved for sale to collectors."

The stamps printed at Blantyre differ from those of the Cape Town setting, in that the letters of the words ONE PENNY are slightly thinner and that the bar below them is thinner and shorter, measuring 16 1/2 mm. instead of 18 mm. This surcharge is only known double and it is almost certain that the stamps were never issued to the public.

Of the Cape Town type there is pretty good evidence of two distinct settings of the surcharge. I have an entire sheet before me on which the sixth stamps of the second and fifth rows have the two last letters of PENNY set rather below the level of the rest of the word. It is quite certain, judging by this and other evidence, that this sheet was printed from a stereo made up of three horizontal rows of ten surcharges which was impressed twice on the sheet. With the exception of the slightly depressed NY there is no semblance of a variety on this sheet. Yet there is a well-known and marked variety in which the "Y" of PENNY is dropped considerably below the level of the rest of the word. Several years ago I had an entire sheet in which this variety occurred but unfortunately it was broken up before I took a note of how many there were on the sheet and what positions they occupied. It certainly occurred more than once. However that may be, it is certain that the setting was different from that in which the slightly depressed "NY" occurs. This sheet was memorable for having the fourth horizontal row doubly surcharged; it is puzzling to know how this could have occurred unless each row was surcharged separately, and I am inclined to think that this is the solution. Collectors should take particular note of the fact that, of the two types of double surcharge, the Blantyre variety was never issued to the public, whereas the Cape Town type is a genuine error. Both command good prices, but the latter is not only more desirable as an issued stamp but is also scarcer.

THE 1885 ISSUE. No WMK.

A new set of stamps, in a design typical of the Colony, having been requisitioned from Messrs. De La Rue & Co., stamps with a representation of two negroes, one with a spade and the other with a pick-axe, supporting a shield surmounted by the Arms of the Colony (a tree), were issued in 1895. The design was intended to represent the dignity of labour. The inscription "Light in Darkness" appears in coloured letters on a scroll at the foot of the stamp.

The set consists of five values from 1d to 1sh, and six values, of a larger size, from 2sh 6d to £25. I have never found out what the £25 stamp was wanted for, but the £10 was largely used for fiscal purposes and also occasionally for prepayment of postage and insurance of valuable parcels of gold dust, etc. All the values from 2sh 6d upwards are good, but I do not advise the purchase of the £10 and £25 for investment purposes. These can be got sometimes with the surcharge "specimen" and even in this condition are fairly valuable.

Feb., 1896. Watermarked.—This set is similar to the last except that the small sized stamps are watermarked Crown CA, and the larger ones Crown CC and that the shades of all the values are somewhat different while the £1 is changed in colour from orange to blue. The £10 and £25 of this issue are even scarcer than those without watermark. There is a marked shade of the 6d in a pale washy blue.

Issue of 1897.—For this issue the design was slightly modified. The negro group now appears on a white, instead of a lined, background; the name of the Colony is in an arched label above, and the value is in a tablet at foot, instead of being in each of the lower corners as before. The colours, too, are different for every value. As before, the values from 1d to 1sh are watermarked Crown CA and the higher values Crown CC. The most sought after stamp in this set is the 3sh sea-green; these were not required very much in the ordinary way, and were nearly all used up for the provisional "one penny" stamps, early in the following year.

1d on 3sh of 1898.—The exact date upon which this stamp was issued is not known, but it is generally believed to have been early in January, 1898. The surcharge, which was printed in red, on the 3sh sea-green of the 1897 issue, consisted of the words "ONE-PENNY" in two lines in Roman capitals. An error occurred on the second stamp from the end in the last row but one, in which the word PENNY was spelled PNNEY. This mistake must have been seen very soon, and corrected immediately, as the stamp is exceedingly rare. It was not until 1901 that the error was discovered by philatelists.

This provisional was made necessary by the loss in transit of a case containing a supply of stamps from Messrs.

De La Rue & Co. Nobody ever knew what became of the case but its loss made the issue of this, and afterwards, the curious provisionals I am about to describe, an absolute necessity.

Check-Stamp Prov.—Presumably there was not a sufficient supply of any other value, after the 3sh had been used, for surcharging purposes, and the authorities at Blantyre hit upon the happy expedient of manufacturing stamps themselves and using the embossing stamp ordinarily used for impressing upon checks as a groundwork. These were printed in red in two rows of 15 on sheets already prepared with thirty upright rectangular frames, made with printers' rule, and containing the words INTERNAL, above, and POSTAGE, below, all printed in blue.

In order to guard against forgery the Postmaster initialled some of the stamps first issued, on the back, by hand, with his own initials, J. T. G. but as this was an exacting and wearisome work another form of control was used, after a short time, consisting of uncoloured letters and figures faintly embossed on the backs of the stamps, presumably by means of ordinary type.

Mr. B. W. H. Poole, in a most interesting article in The West-End Philatelist, for June, 1907, says that only sixteen sheets (480 stamps) were initialled by the Postmaster, and that the remainder of the issue, both perf. and imperf., numbering in all about 24,000 stamps, were marked with the uncoloured type. The meaning, if there is any, of these figures and letters, has always been, and probably will always remain a mystery. Mr. Poole, in the article referred to, gives some particulars about this matter which I cannot do better than reproduce verbatim.

"The uninked type consisted of figures and letters—a different combination for each stamp on the sheet, so that the stamps of this issue can be "plated." So far as the figures are concerned, the arrangement is quite systematic, the stamps in the top row being numbered 1 to 15, from right to left, while those in the lower row are numbered 16 to 30, also from right to left. The letters that accompany the numbers appear to be quite unintelligible, though they might have had some significance to the officials at the time the stamps were issued. In some cases the figures are above the letters, in others the letters are over the numbers; and in four stamps on the sheet they are side by side. I have reconstructed the plate, and find the combinations of letters and figures on the thirty stamps are as follows:—

15	141	13	12	XA	10	9	F	7	6	F	4	3	2G	1
K		D	WX	11	Z	C	8	H	P	5	M	X		F
30	XQ	28	27	Z	25	24A	23	S	21	T	Z19	Q	E	16
S	29	FA	B	26	J		N	22	WP	20		18	17	FY

"The letters and figures are not, as a rule, in line above each other, as shown in the diagram. Usually, one is to the left of the stamp, and the other to the right. For instance, on the thirteenth stamp the figure "3" is in the centre and the "X" is close to the left-hand side; on the seventh stamp the "9" is on the left, and the "C" in the centre; on the thirtieth stamp the "16" is in the centre, the "F" is on the left, and the "Y" on the right and so on; the positions varying on almost every stamp.

"The following diagram of the six stamps, from the right-hand side of the sheet gives an idea of the appearance of the uninked type":—

13		15
D	14 I	K
28	XQ	30
FA	29	S

The stamps as first issued, in March, 1898, were not perforated, but they were afterwards perforated 12. Marked shades of colour, both of the central oval and of the frame can be found, and the oval stamp is very rarely found evenly centred in its rectangular frame. Specimens exist with the centre inverted, and it is said that only the stamps in the upper row of fifteen on one sheet were so printed.

AT AUCTION—The Celebrated Lynde Collection.

We take pleasure in announcing that we have just secured for sale at auction the celebrated collection of the late F. E. P. Lynde, of New York, contained in 17 volumes.

20th CENTURY

This collection is chiefly composed of 20th Century stamps, also a magnificent line of early Europeans, including France and Colonies specialized. Nearly everything is unused and in superb condition. This sale will be held in October, and if you lack anything in 20th Century, it will pay you to wait for the catalogue.

PHILADELPHIA STAMP COMPANY,

PERCIVAL PARRISH, PRESIDENT

Stamp Importers, Brokers and Commission Merchants,

1204 CHESTNUT STREET,

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Issue of 1900.—Relief did not come to the provisional-ridden country until 1900 when a new supply of 1d, 4d and 6d stamps arrived. In these the niggers appeared in violet instead of the more correct black, and the frames were also changed in colour.

King's Head Issue.—During the years 1903-4, the values of a new set, bearing the portrait of the King, were issued. As with earlier issues, the number of denominations, especially of the lower values, was singularly limited, 1d, 2d, 4d, 6d and 1sh stamps being sufficient to supply all needs. The higher values were 2sh 6d, 4sh, 10sh, £1 and £10. The design was identical with that used in East Africa and Uganda, the five high values being in the usual size employed by Messrs. De La Rue for stamps of 5sh, and watermarked Crown CC. In 1907, the 1d, and later, the 6d, were issued on paper watermarked with the multiple Crown CA, chalk-surfaced, but the watermark of the other three values was not altered.

Nyasaland Protectorate.—The name of the Colony was altered to "Nyasaland Protectorate" by an order in council dated 6th July, 1907. This necessitated a change in the stamps and a new series as follows:

Wmk. Crown CA, single, chalk-surfaced paper.

1sh black green.

Wmk. Crown CA, multiple, ord. paper.

½d green.

1d carmine.

Wmk. Crown CA, multiple, chalk-surfaced
3d deep lilac on yellow.
4d red on yellow.
6d red-lilac on white.
2sh 6d carmine and black on blue.
4sh black and red on white.
10sh red and green on light green.
£1 black and lilac on red.
£10 ultramarine and lilac on white.

It will be noticed that the 2d value is not included but that two values, not hitherto used in British Central Africa, have been added, namely:—½d and 3d. The stamps are printed from the two new universal key-plates and are the first stamps to be so printed. The issue of the 1sh on single watermark paper might have led to a good deal of speculative buying if it had not been already officially announced that 60,000 were to be issued.—Philatelic Journal of Great Britain.

NOTES ON THE CAYMAN ISLANDS.

A Paper read by Mr. Cyril J. Phillip, before the Members of the North London Philatelic Society, on Thursday, Dec. 16, '08.

The stamp issue of the Cayman Islands has not completed its first decade and yet it has made more noise in the philatelic world than many countries that have already celebrated their jubilee.

There are three islands, known respectively as Grand Cayman, Little Cayman, and Cayman Brac, the largest of these being the first named, which is about seventeen miles in length, seven miles at its greatest width, the highest elevation being about 150 feet.

These islands, which were discovered by Columbus on his return voyage from Porto Bello to Spain, lie 171 miles W.N.W. from Negril Point. The name given to them by this explorer was Las Tortugas, probably on account of the very large number of turtles he noticed on the coast. The islands were apparently never occupied by the Spaniards, and at a later date were re-named Cayman Islands.

The word Cayman is supposed to be derived from the Spanish word "Caiman," signifying alligator, and the largest island no doubt received its new name, owing to its resemblance in shape to that reptile. Early tradition states that Grand Cayman was at one time the rendezvous of pirates, who preyed upon passing ships, which they boarded at night, far from shore, in large armed boats. These mauraders protected themselves against attack by means of heavy guns mounted upon the rocks, and as these were also surrounded by coral reefs, they could only be approached by boats. Semblance is lent to this story by the fact that many heavy guns still lie embedded in the sand at Sun Bay on the Eastern coast.

The Islands were annexed by the English, soon after the conquest of Jamaica, during General Doyle's Government. By him measures were adopted for their protection and settlement.

The records at Spanish Town, show that grants of land were made in 1741 by the Crown, to several persons on the Island of Great Cayman. Among these will be found 1,000 acres to Mrs. Mary Bodden, upon which site the present town of Boddentown probably stands; 1,000 acres each to William Foster (probably the site of Georgetown, the capital) to Murray Campbell and to Samuel Hatforth. In 1774 the number of white inhabitants was but 106. They had a Chief or Governor of their own choosing and magistrates appointed by the Governor of Jamaica. The affairs of the Cayman Islands are at present managed by a body composed of the Custos, the Hon. Edmond Parsons, the Justices and the Vestry. Their enactments have to be assented to by the Governor of Jamaica.

The chief towns are Georgetown (the capital), Boddentown, Prospect, West Bay, East End and Northside. All are located on the Sea coast, and the shore is in most cases skirted by a margin of pure white sand which lends to the settlement a picturesque appearance.

Having now dealt briefly with the history of these Islands, I will proceed to the philatelic side of the subject.

In 1900 we received the first Cayman postage stamps, consisting of two values, designed and engraved by Messrs. De la Rue & Co., and printed by them in panes of 60 (ten rows of six), on paper watermarked Crown CA, and perforated 14.

The values are ½d green and 1d carmine.

In 1901-2 five more values appeared, design as in the previous issue, but with head of King Edward VII. in profile to left substituted for that of Queen Victoria. These were designed and printed as before by Messrs. De la Rue & Co. on similar paper, and with the same perf.

Values, ½d green, 1d carmine, 2½d ultramarine, 6d brown, and 1sh orange.

The employment of multiple watermarked paper added, in 1905-6, five more varieties to the rapidly increasing list, these were in every respect similar to the preceding King's head issue, but on paper watermarked with the multiple CA.

The following year, saw the issue of the bi-coloured stamps, 6d olive and rose, and 1sh violet and green. Two

MR. ROBINSON SAYS:

"I am better pleased with the stamps you sent me than with any I have received for a long time and the condition is far ahead of those I have had from dealers who make a specialty of U. S. in extra fine condition."

The above refers to a selection of fine mint Department Stamps supplied at ½ Catalogue.

I do not make a specialty of U. S. and can usually quote better prices than dealers who do!

The American representative of the largest stamp concern in the world recently purchased several hundred dollars from my U. S. books at my regular net prices, less 10%.

Collectors have the same opportunity, as I am allowing a special 10% discount during the summer months.

new values were also added; 4d brown and rose, 5sh vermilion and green. These were printed in the same arrangement of panes, and with the same perforation.

Determined to keep pace with the surcharging tendencies in philately, the year 1907-8 produced the famous provisionals. The first was the "one half penny" in two lines on the 1d carmine.

The descent of Avernus was very rapid, for this first provisional was soon followed by really startling ones from that land of earthquakes "Jamaica." In order came the ½d on 5sh, the 1d on 5sh and the 2½d on 4d.

Each succeeding year produced a novel series. Cayman Isles was becoming one of the "Great" stamp issuing countries of the world! No doubt the Western breezes were blowing the disease from the neighbours, Nicaragua, etc.

Thus in 1908 the following were the changes:—

- (a) 1sh became black on green paper.
- (b) "Postage and Revenue" on all values.
- (c) A new value 10s, green and red on green paper was added.

During the same year (1908), as if it were not prolific enough, we had to record the appearance of a farthing value, which looks as if it had been made in Germany—Dutch built at top and bottom. These farthing stamps were announced for internal use only, but owing (it was said) to a shortage of the ½d stamps they were ultimately authorised for general use. There are a great number of minor varieties to be found in them.

Thus the total number of stamps issued for this favoured race of Islanders, in less than eight years, is no less than thirty-three.—Stamp Collectors' Fortnightly.

Stamps on Free List—We have a message to convey to stamp collectors that will be welcome. It is that under the new tariff law, stamps are not liable to duty; in other words, they are on the free list in the important bill that now occupies the minds of the people throughout the country. Classification 677 reads: "Stamps; foreign postage or revenue stamps, canceled or uncanceled, and foreign government postcards bearing no other printing than the official imprint thereon." These are free. Post cards and postage stamp albums, however, are regarded as luxuries under the provisions of the new bill and are subject to a tax of 35% ad valorem; all ad valorem percentages are based on dutiable values. We have reason to believe that stamps were fortunate in escaping taxation, and that at one time, there was some inclination to include them under taxable items.

Two New Stars—The following communication has been received from V. E. Sisson, St. Louis; it is headed: "An Eye Opener," and reads: "On the Lincoln stamps, a small solid star appeared, between the plate-number and the label, 'Bureau Engraving and Printing.' This was allowed to revolve in its orbit, unmentioned, but now on the latest plates it has changed to an open star, fully 1-16 inches across points, as on plate No. 5025 at hand. This star is not on the Yukon nor on the new special delivery stamps. Will some kind astronomical philatelist explain the why and wherefore of this heavenly body? By comparing sheets of one hundred stamps with and without this star, it is noticed that the former are, 3-32 inches wider. Can this be a private mark used by the Bureau to distinguish the plates that have the revised spacing of stamps?" Much attention is being given these varieties of spacing and while the stars

Check List—We have received a check list, compiled by B. D. Forster and E. R. Vanderhoof, of the "State of New York Stock Transfer Tax Stamps, 1905-1909," and it lists the four different issues of these revenue stamps, in a most exhaustive and careful way. The little folder will commend itself to all who give attention to the stamps in question, and as a work of reference it has its place of importance.

Missionaries—Dr. Jayne, Philadelphia, of proprietary medicine fame, received an application from the missionaries on the Sandwich Islands in the year 1850, for an assortment of his medical preparations. Graciously enough, he sent the medicants gratuitously, let us say in recognition and approval of the work of those worthy folks among the Kanakas; and when he forwarded the supply, he included a gift of perfumery for the King of the Sandwich Islands. In his letter of acknowledgment, dated May 23rd, 1850, the king said: "It pleases his majesty to add your name to that of numerous other benevolent citizens of the great American Republic, who have practically and generously become the benefactors of his kingdom and subjects. Their present scale of civil and religious progress is mainly attributable to the zealous missionaries, whom your fellow-citizens have sent since 1820, and supported at an expense bordering on a million of dollars." The famous missionary stamps made their appearance soon after the date of this letter, which was franked by the written inscription, "On His Hawaiian Majesty's Service."

A Celebrity—Major Edward B. Evans now has entire editorial charge of Gibbons Stamp Weekly and his philatelic genius instead of being confined to a single issue each month has ample scope for fullest fruition. As the years increase, Major Evans becomes a more commanding figure in philately; always an exponent of the best traditions of stamp collecting, his later record of achievement is one of great brilliancy. While fully realizing the scientific attributes of philately, he appreciates the position of the ordinary stamp collector, or the man on the street in philately. The influence of editors such as Major Evans is of almost incalculable good; he is one who understands philately as it exists and while he works for its elevation, he does so in an engaging way that gains the good-will and approval of beginner and advanced collector alike. We take it that he is the leading champion of sensible philately, today. Major Evans is popular in America, although he has not visited this country in recent years; but he has always evinced a sympathetic interest in American philatelic affairs. In a letter received from him recently, he says: "A good philatelic magazine is greatly wanted on your side at the present day and if the American Philatelic Society can produce one and keep it going, it would be of great benefit to collectors. MEKEEL'S WEEKLY is an excellent newspaper but that is a different thing. Both are wanted now-a-days. I hope that the con-

Romance in Philately—Charles C. DeSelms, Manila, P. I., official court reporter, was in Chicago recently on his way to his old home in Indiana. Mr. DeSelms' strong philatelic affiliations are well known and he is remembered as having attended the Milwaukee convention, 1900, of the American Philatelic Society. While in Chicago, he gave an interesting and authentic account at a meeting of the Chicago Philatelic Society of the so-called Aguinaldo stamps or issues of the revolutionary Philippine government. The evidence that he submitted was strongly in support of the philatelic claims of the stamps. While it was understood that Mr. DeSelms intended to be at the convention at Atlantic City and to return to the Philippines by way of Europe, it was not supposed that so charming and romantic an interest, as has developed, would loan itself to the occasion. We quote a special despatch from Attica, Indiana, that appeared in a recent issue of the Chicago Journal; the cut of Miss Gass appeared under the head: "Girl to Wed Man Who Courted Her 2 Years Before Seeing Her." The Journal correspondent says: "To claim as a bride a girl he had never seen until a few days ago, Charles C. DeSelms, official court reporter for the government of the Philippine Islands, has come here after an absence of five years. During two years of that time he wooed Miss Irene Gass, leader of the young society folk of this city by mail. Their wedding is to occur Aug. 10, and will be followed by a tour of the cities of the east and Europe. Mr. DeSelms has been in the Philippines five years. He has a brother in business in Attica and Miss Gass was the latter's stenographer. Through joking references in the letters she wrote for her employer she became acquainted with the younger brother at long range and they corresponded regularly. Within a few hours after their first actual meeting here Mr. DeSelms won her consent to an immediate wedding. None of her friends here knew of her courtship. Even the brother of her fiancé was kept in ignorance. Mr. DeSelms has been in the Philippines five years. He has mastered practically all of the dialects of the islands and is a Spanish scholar. He is also a stamp collector of note and recently delivered a lecture in Chicago, before a convention of philatelists."

GROWING BEAUTIFULLY LESS.

The Indian Post Office is much to be congratulated on the abolition of the Jaipur State Post Office, which is said to have taken place at the end of last year. The list of stamp-issuing States is becoming small and beautifully less. It now consists only of Bhor, Cochin, Datia, Hyderabad, Junagarh, Kishengarh, Travancore and possibly Orcha. Besides these, Bhopal and Indore are believed to be using service stamps. Nepal is of course not a native state in spite of catalogues. It is tempting to indulge in a little prophecy as to the probabilities of these six States coming in at no distant date, and we think that the first to yield will most likely be Datia and Kishengarh followed by Orcha. These three are in Central India and are situated among other States that have recently surrendered their posts. Until a year or two ago Kishengarh was under a minor and it was producing an appalling series of philatelic monstrosities accompanied by all the usual paraphernalia of a string of minor varieties. That, we should have thought, would have been a favourable and useful time to press on the advantages of the imperial post. On the rajah's coming of age a European issue of stamps was introduced, and the State is now philatelically harmless, so that it does not matter very much whether it comes in or not. But we should be glad to see Datia nipped in the bud before it may be too much tempted to embark on a career of crime.

The fourth State to come in, according to our speculation, should be Junagarh, known to catalogues as Soruth. It is the only Kathiawar State which now uses its own postage stamps, and it may easily follow the good example of its neighbours, though the change will probably not take place during the lifetime of the present rajah. Bhor also is likely to wait for a change of ruler. Both these Bombay States are harmless, the former having had only two stamps in twenty years, and the latter only one in half that time, and neither being likely to add to the number.

The two Southern States of Cochin and Travancore will probably stand out or come in together. They form that part of India which is least affected by Western influence, and where native arrangements are efficient and conservative. Finally, there is Hyderabad which is not in the least likely to succumb in our day.

Besides the present stamp issuing States, there are some three or four which still have their own post offices, but have never issued stamps. The most important of these, and the only one in which future issues are at all within the range of practical politics, is Bikanir. But as the rajah is extremely progressive, the prospects of his accepting the imperial post office are favourable.—Philatelic Journal of India.

THE THIRD ISSUE.

Late in 1882 a new series appeared, the stamps of certain values being printed in Postal Union colours. The whole set was printed in lighter tints than those hitherto used, so that the obliterations should show up more plainly. The values correspond with those of the 1881 issue, with a 50stot stamp added. This denomination also had stars between the inscription on the oval band, and the value was expressed as "stotin" in Bulgarian characters.

There were evidently several printings of all values, for distinctive shades may be found, the most striking of which are detailed at the end of this chapter.

The 5st is known in the colours of the 10st i. e. rose and pale rose, and regarding this error we have two conflicting statements.

The late Mr. W. A. S. Westoby in The Adhesive Postage Stamps of Europe wrote: "A somewhat remarkable error has been discovered in this series: the 5stot has been found printed in the colours of the 10stot. This arose from one of the electrotypes of the 5stot being accidentally inserted at St. Petersburg into the printing-forme of 100 electrotypes of the 10stot in place of one of the electros of the latter value. The error was discovered in Bulgaria, but not before one at least had been postally used."

Mr. B. T. K. Smith in his Monthly Circular wrote: "It seems to have been discovered in 1887, when a specimen was submitted to the Société Française de Timbrologie by a certain M. Karapiroff with the statement that they were not essays 'but real stamps, of which a single sheet was lately found among those of 10 stotinki.' That such a single sheet could exist as an error of printing is inconceivable, and as far as I know there is nothing to show that the 5 stotinki, rose and pale rose, is anything else than a proof or trial impression."

But the number of used copies that are known, and the fact that the error is commoner used than unused, goes far to prove that the stamp is certainly something more "than a proof or trial impression."

It appears to me that Mr. Westoby's explanation is much more likely to be the correct one. All these early Bulgarian stamps have little defects and peculiarities such as are found in stamps printed from plates composed of separate electrotypes, and yet, compared with other stamps undoubtedly produced by this process, the printing is so vastly superior that I hesitate to state unreservedly that these Bulgarians stamps were electrotyped.

With a definite knowledge of how the stamps were manufactured one could more easily discuss the status of this error, or the production of an error in a pair with the normal stamp would settle the matter once and for all. But is such a pair known?

Again, paucity of material makes it impossible for me to give any detailed information regarding the make up of the sheets except as regards the 3st and 5st values.

On the 3stot there are three prominent varieties, viz.:—

No. 37.—The top left corner of the outer frame line is cut away.

No. 43.—The inner coloured line of the central oval has a break extending for the space of about 1 mm. under the second character in the word for Bulgaria.

No. 100.—There is a large smudge of colour in front of the central toe on the lion's hind foot.

On the sheets of the 5stot the only variety of any importance is:—

No. 46.—There is a large coloured dot on the first "A" in the native word for "Bulgaria."

This value however, shows certain little peculiarities which are worth noting. On some of the stamps the background around the lion's head is clear, on others there is a small coloured dot above the end of the tongue, and on others, again, there are two dots above the tongue. These I designate "a," "b" and "c" respectively, and their arrangement in the sheet is as follows:—

a	a	b	b	a
a	b	b	b	a
a	a	b	b	c
b	b	a	c	b
a	b	b	b	a

THE 1884-85 PROVISIONALS.

Some time about May 1884 provisionals appeared, evidently owing to a shortage of 3, 5, and 15stot stamps. These consisted of the 10st of 1882, surcharged with a large double-lined "3" in black, the 30st of 1881, surcharged with a double-lined "5" in red, and the 25st of 1882, surcharged with large figures "15," also in red. In the first two, the numerals are about 7½ mm. in height, while in the case of the "15," the figures are 12½ mm. high. The first mention I can find of these is in the new issue chronicle of the Philatelic Record for August 1884. In the following June, the same journal recorded the issue of another provisional (which was evidently issued in May)—the 1 franc of 1879 being overprinted "50" in large black numerals 12½ mm. high, similar to those used for surcharging the 25st in the previous year.

The surcharges in red exist in two distinct colours—carmine and vermilion—and according to the German experts, the carmine overprints were typographed, and the vermilion ones were produced by lithography. Apparently the colour is the only safe test for distinguishing between the two processes, for I have seen specimens with the vermilion overprint which look remarkably like typographs, and others with carmine surcharge which appear to have all the characteristics one usually associates with lithography.

To the German experts we also owe the division of the "3" on 10stot into two classes, and here the chief difference lies in the sharpness of the impressions, the typographed surcharge being much clearer and more sharply defined than the overprint produced by lithography. The "50" surcharge was only produced by the latter process.

According to Gibbons' catalogue, the typographed "3" should only occur on the 10st in the rose tint, and the lithographed figure on both the scarlet and carmine shades, but judging from the specimens I have, I should reverse this arrangement, and assign the lithographs to the pale shade and the typographs to the deeper tints.

The "5" on 30st is also known with the surcharge in black, and for a long time this variety was treated with grave suspicion, being considered by some authorities bogus and by others a proof.

On some stamps the dots are very indistinct. The following is a synopsis of the varieties:—

5st rose and pale rose.

Several spurious varieties made their appearance about this date, including the "3" and "5" surcharges in blue, and so little could be learned of the antecedents of this "5" in black, that it is hardly surprising that collectors were sceptical as to its bona fides. However, in 1899, Herr Wirsching, a well-known German philatelist, was able to produce evidence unmistakably establishing the existence of five undoubtedly genuine specimens, all on original letters, and all of which were traced to their respective owners. The variety is an exceedingly rare one, and moreover, it is one that should only be purchased from a responsible dealer with a reliable warranty as to its genuineness, for the surcharge has been cleverly forged, and the spurious copies

On September 30, 1888, a decree was issued demonetizing all these provisionals and also all the surcharged stamps of South Bulgaria. In the following year the Government sold all the remainder to a dealer at the rate of 2d each for the "3" on 10stot and 25 per cent over face for the other values. They have appreciated somewhat in value since then!

PHILADELPHIA HOTELS.

The Atlantic City convention committee has been requested by several members of the A. P. S. to suggest a hotel in Philadelphia as a philatelic stopping place for those who arrive early, and wish to spend a day or so in Philadelphia.

We suggest the Hotel Walton as probably the most satisfactory in point of location and reasonable price. This hotel is located at the corner of Broad and Locust Streets, and members of the Philadelphia Branch will take occasion to keep in touch with the arrivals prior to the convention.

For those desiring the acme of hotel comfort and elegance, we recommend the Bellevue-Stratford at the corner of Broad and Walnut Streets. The St. James, at 13th and Walnut Streets, is another excellent hotel. There are a number of other hotels which would probably answer the purposes of the members, but it is likely that the Walton would come more near to meeting the desires of all than any of the others.

We should be pleased to answer any questions about Philadelphia or Atlantic City upon receipt of request.

Those who expect to arrive early, and prefer to go directly to Atlantic City, will find quite an advance guard there several days prior to the opening of the convention.

CHRONICLE OF NEW ISSUES.

Edited by HENRY A. KIDDER.

Any information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged. Address HENRY A. KIDDER, 17 Addison Street, Arlington, Mass.

ARGENTINE.—La Revue Postale gives the following as the date of issue of the current series: 2c brown, Feb. 20, 1908; 3c blue green, Jan. 8, 1909; 4c lilac, Dec. 20, 1908; 5c carmine, Feb. 29, 1908; 10c gray green, Jan. 20, 1908; 12c yellow, Dec. 1, 1908; 12c blue, Feb. 10, 1909; 15c light green, July 22, 1908; 30c violet red, Jan. 11, 1909.

AUSTRALIA.—The Commonwealth authorities have decided to adopt the type of the postage due stamps of Victoria for all the postage due stamps of the different Australian states. All will be printed in green and rose, but each state will have its own name inserted at the bottom of the stamp.

BOLIVIA.—We have not yet chronicled the full advance particulars of the new Bolivian series. The following is translated from the Madrid Filatelico: "The new stamps bear the inscription, 'Centenario de la Guerra de Independencia', and the portraits will be as follows: 1c, Miguel Betanzos, with date Nov. 27, 1810; 2c, Ignacio Warnes, Nov. 27, 1815; 5c, Pedro Domingo, July 16, 1809; 10c, Bernardo Montegudo, May 25, 1809; 20c, Esteban Arze, Sept. 14, 1810; 50c, José Antonio Sucre, Dec. 19, 1824; 1b, Simon Bolivar, Aug. 6, 1821.

GABON.—This French colony is to have a new series of stamps, like those of the other colonies to be of three types. The first type will show the head of a native woman; the second type the head of a native armed warrior, and the third the harbor of Libreville. The stamps will all be of the large form like the new Martinique series.

GERMANY.—Offices in China.—The 20c on 40pf lake and black has appeared on watermarked paper.

PAPUA.—The 1sh current stamp has been perforated "O S" for official use. The 2d has been previously noted with the same perforation.

ST. KITTS-NEVIS.—Ewen's Weekly notes the issue of the 2d brown and lilac on chalky multiple paper.

TURKEY.—A commemorative stamp, or series of stamps, was issued at Jaffa recently, the current Turkish stamps being overprinted "Sultan Mohammed V, April 14, 1325," in three lines. The Philatelic World, which devotes considerable space to the matter, says that the setting varies on the different values, and that the overprint is in black for all values. The inscription is of course in Turkish characters. The following values have been seen with this overprint: 5pa ochre, 10pa green, 20pa carmine, 1pi ultramarine, 2pi greenish black, 2 1/2pi black brown.

UGANDA.—Some time since we noted that the 1 anna East Africa stamp, overprinted "Uganda Revenue", had been used postally. We now learn from Ewen's Weekly that the 6c red, similarly surcharged, has been seen postally used, both alone and in connection with the regular postage stamps. The latter use was due to a shortage of the regular 6c stamps, though no actual regulation authorizing their extended use has been published.

URUGUAY.—It is reported that Waterlow & Son of London are preparing a new series of stamps for this Republic. There will be a portrait of Artigas and several views in the country, while the higher values will bear the Liberty Head.

NEW LINCOLN PENNY.

We are greatly obliged to several subscribers for specimens of the new Lincoln penny. Edw. J. Meehan is the first to favor us and in submitting same Mr. Meehan speaks a very kind word for the WEEKLY.

STAMP MOON SPECIAL.

By E. L. WARNER.

The new owner of the Stamp Moon discovered that the result of publishing philatelic fiction in his paper was three new subscribers, all relatives of the author.

So he called Dare into his office and inquired of him if he had any relatives. "Scores; they borrow my pay,—they are very fond of me," replied Dare.

"Well, you try your hand at a stamp story this month. The first one we published was not much of a success; the writer has only three relatives. You will have a little more money for yours to borrow if you turn out a good one. We are going to have a great special edition. We have six inches extra space sold and we are going to print a full page cut of a good-looking old gentleman. I found the cut in stock. It must be twenty years old. We will style the article, 'An Old-Time Collection'. Get busy on a story. Ring in a little pathos about the past. Make the story not out of harmony with the sentiment inspired by the cut."

Dare set to work. He began:

"A Thrilling Night"

A man punched him and offered him a cigar. The new firm did not supply matches so he took a soft smoke, and again started:

"The wind howled.

"The thunder rolled.

"The lightning flashed.

"From the window the old-time collector could see the home of his sweetheart aflame with lightning. It had been struck and was on fire. 'I must save my collection. Last evening I loaned it to her to alliterate the itinerary of her U. S. by my model. It will be scorched, I fear. I must away,' he said, turning from the window, but a howling blast blew in a mass of debris. He drew the blinds and sorted out the mass and found his collection there, much to his amazement."

At this point of Dare's story, the printer's devil contributed a match and the story proceeded.

"The old-time collector opened the casement and again gazed toward the dwelling of his intended and saw that the bay-window and circular veranda had been detached by the blizzard. The rain descending in torrents had quenched the fire and the window and veranda were floating toward his window intact and Eva was seated in an armchair, borne on the wind to his very hand, apparently uninjured, but sound asleep."

"Dare," called the city editor, "what's the title of your tale?"

"Eva's Escape or The Big Philatelic Wind," replied Dare.

"You are to read your story to the old man at four."

"All right," replied the author, proceeding to cross out his first title and substituting the new one, and resuming his story, wrote:

"The collector threw wide open the casement and as the veranda separated from the bay window, chair and Eva came within his grasp. He caught the chair. The bay fell on the pavement below with a grim thud of disintegration. He awoke Eva.

"Oh!" she exclaimed, "where am I? I was just going to look over your collection when I fell asleep. I dreamed I found a thousand St. Louis stamps and we went to Boston on a visit. I fear the storm has spoiled your treasures."

"They are both here, thank heaven, philatelic and otherwise," he replied.

"I am the otherwise," said Eva, shaking the dust from her tresses."

The clock struck four. Dare entered the office with solemn mien. The new owner was faultlessly arrayed befitting the honor due to the reading of a virgin manuscript. Dare read his story.

"Excellent!" said all.

"Just add a line or two in front about the lamplight descending over his priceless stamps just previous to the loan to his girl, and thus be more stampic," said the owner. "Stay," he continued, "have we a cut that would do for Eva? Wait, I will ring for Brown. Say, Brown, have you a lady cut in stock?"

"There is one, I think," said Brown.

This book should be in the hands of every U. S. collector. It is daintily printed on fine paper, the text being in clear type and the entire work a lasting credit to philately.

Not the least of its merits is the illustrations, sections of stamps being shown enabling one to see at a glance points of difference between types and varieties of the old issues. The book makes devious paths straight.

Mekeel-Severn-Wylie Co., Boston, Mass.

"Whose?" inquired the owner.

"Lydia Pinkham's."

"That would hardly do. We will have to get along with the old man. Say, Brown, print ten extra; we may have a run on the story," said the new owner. Then just as he was going to send the story to the press room, he called Dare again. "Stay, I do not quite understand how Eva was asleep."

"Well, you know that puzzled me," said Dare.

"Well, give some reason."

"Perhaps instead of looking over the priceless treasures of her lover, she tried to read the Stamp Moon."

"Well, we will pass that point, but in future remember if you wish to be scientifically philatelic not to have your heroine snore over a collection and dream of treasures afar."

Year 1890, 5th Annual Convention.

In January, J. V. B. Vreeland, 3rd Pur. Agt., resigned. The official board appointed Jno. M. Sherman, Brooklyn, N. Y., to succeed him. 138 members were dropped during this month for non-payment of dues. There were 625 members in good standing March 10th.

This was election year and the following nominations for officers were made:

President, Jno. K. Tiffany, St. Louis, Mo.
W. C. Vanderlip, Boston, Mass.
V. Pres., C. B. Corwin, New York, N. Y.
P. M. Wolsieffer, Chicago, Ill.
Treasurer, Chas. Gregory, New York, N. Y.
Secretary, M. F. Walton, Philadelphia, Pa.
Int. Sec., Jos. Rechert, New York, N. Y.

The 5th Annual Convention was called to order in the rooms of the Lincoln Club, New York, Aug. 4th, by President Tiffany. There were 45 members present in person and 390 represented by proxy. The Secretary's report showed the membership to be 684. During the fiscal year 141 were dropped, 14 resigned, and one lost by death. Net gain in membership for the fiscal year 21.

The Treasurer's report showed the receipts for the year to be $1002.30, total expense $1344.66, loss for the fiscal year $340.36. The total sales in the Exchange Dept. amounted to $2874.39.

The 1st Pur. Agt. purchased for members, stamps to the amount of $749.39; the 2nd Pur. Agt. purchased for members to the value of $41.00. Total sales in Library Exchange Dept. were $18.83. The average monthly circulation of The American Philatelist was 1631 copies.

Result of election:

President, Jno. K. Tiffany, Mo.
V. Pres., C. B. Corwin, N. Y.
Treasurer, Chas. Gregory, N. Y.
Secretary, Millard F. Walton, Pa.
Int. Sec., Jos. Rechert, N. Y.

A resolution was passed rescinding action taken on the Chalmers-Hill controversy, and that the Association should remain neutral.

Resolved: That the Association heartily approves of the aims of the Anti-Surcharge Association, and recommends all A. P. A. members to apply for membership.

New York was again selected as the next convention seat and date set for the 3rd Monday in August.

Voted to change By-Laws making Exchange Supt. bond $5000 instead of $500.

At a secret session of the convention, three members were expelled. The Staten Island Society gave a banquet to convention attendants Aug. 6th. This society presented the President with a gavel to be handed down to each successor and to remain the property of the association.

Voted: That no elective officer or trustee should be permitted to act for or vote as proxy for any other member.

Voted: To appoint a Vice President in each county where there were ten or more members instead of twenty-five.

Voted: To change name of Exchange Supt. to Supt. of Sales.

Voted: To suspend the publication of the American Philatelist with the September number, and make the Metropolitan Philatelist the Official Journal.

The convention adjourned Thursday, having been in session four days.

After the convention a mail vote was called for by the members to reconsider the suspension of the American Philatelist. The vote was taken, and the publication of the American Philatelist after suspension for Oct., Nov. and Dec., was resumed.

For ring and clique rule, due to a few members holding a large number of proxies, the convention of this year is noted as the most disgraceful in the history of the association.

The official Board appointed the following officers:

Supt. of Sales, H. L. Calman, New York.
Supt. of Int'l Sales, Henry Clotz, New York.
Literary Exchange Supt., R. Theile, Milwaukee, Wis.
Counterfeit Detector, E. A. Holton, Boston, Mass.

Asst. Counterfeit Detector, Henry Collin, New York.

1st Pur. Agt., Wm. Sellschopp, San Francisco, Calif.

2nd Pur. Agt., H. O. Harris, Doylestown, Pa.

3rd Pur. Agt., A. R. Rogers, New York.

Librarian, C. J. Kuchel, Chicago, Ill.

Board of Trustees, A. L. Holman, Chmn., Chicago, Ill.; P. H. Dilg, Sec., Chicago, Ill., and J. W. Palmer, Oak Park, Ill.

Literary Board, W. C. Stone, Chmn., Springfield, Mass.; S. B. Brandt, Bus. Mgr., Chicago, Ill.; Samuel Leland, Chicago, Ill.; R. S. Hatcher, Lafayette, Ind., and E. F. Gambs, San Francisco, Cal.

Mr. Gambs declined the appointment.

MINOR VARIETIES AND SHIFTED DIES OF THE MATCH AND MEDICINE STAMPS.

By CLARENCE H. EAGLE, President U. S. Revenue Society.

The first variety we come to in the list of Matches is B. & N., which stands for the firm of Brockett & Newton. Die I is readily recognized by the larger letters B. & N., which fill up the frame space around the letters. This die is somewhat scarcer than die II, and is properly reflected in the difference in price in Scott's Catalogue.

In the F. E. C. stamp, which stands for Frank E. Clark, there is a trifling difference in the space, in some stamps, of the F. from the left side of frame.

I offer the suggestion that when Clark sold the die of his stamp to Brockett & Newton, the "F. E. C." was altered to B. & N., making die I, which required the two letters to fill up the space of the three, formerly. Later a new die may have been made; for Clark used eight million stamps; and we find many copies from a worn plate. Brockett used twelve million, and if a new die or even a retouched plate were used, it would be natural to re-engage the "B. & N." in a smaller size, and not try to fill the space of the three letters, "F. E. C."

The next variety we come to is Wm. Gates. In die I there is a colorless space at either end of the label inscribed "Frankfort, N. Y." In die II there is no colorless space left at the ends. It is difficult to find the die II on old paper, because (from its rarity) we judge that the silk paper had come into use by the time die II had been made, and that very few sheets of old paper were printed from the new die.

In the word "Matches" (of die II on silk paper only) there occurs in some copies, what may be termed a "shift." The letters are rough and the tips touch each other. It is not so rare, and yet one has to look sharp for them. The difference, however, is unmistakable, and I wonder others have not seen it and spoken of it. Strange that it is not seen in the Wm. Gates' Sons stamp.

In D. M. Richardson 1 cent black on silk paper there is a "shift" in the words "Inter. Revenue," the tops of the letters being rough and running beyond the regular line of engraving, somewhat similar to the shift in the word "Matches" in the Gates stamp.

Now we come to the Medicine stamps.

About a year ago I discovered that there was a distinct variety in the shape of the tail of the "y" in the name of "Ayer" of the one cent black. It occurs only on the silk and watermarked papers. The normal type always has the bottom cut off sharp, showing no curl of the "y," and making it look like a "q." As it is a fac-simile of a written signature, you can better understand what I mean by a "q." Well, the normal has the point of the "q" cut off, and in many stamps shows a long engraver's guide line between the stamps in a sheet. The die II has all the tail left on and has a perfect point to the letter. This difference cannot come from a worn plate, because it is an addition to the letter and not cut off. You may ask, why is not this the first die and the normal type the second die? If we ever find the pointed "y" on old paper then it may shake our faith in which is the older die. In die I there is a minor variety, in that the hair line of the "y" touches the shaded line at the bottom in some copies, and in others there is a distinct space between the two lines, i. e., they do not meet.

Our next variety is the F. Brown. This is in the signature running vertically on the stamp. Die II shows a much better and plainer signature, and only occurs on the silk paper. This variety is so fully described in that admirable work on Revenues by Deats, Toppan and Holland, and illustrated in Carter's Revenue Album, that it is unnecessary to dwell on it here. For full descriptions of the Private Proprietary designs there is no work to compare with it, and I advise all students of U. S. Revenues to obtain a copy while they can.

The next one is the Jeremiah Curtis & Son. I discovered this difference about three years ago. In die I the figure 1 in small circle, indicating the one cent value, is small and thin. In die II it is large, thick and prominent. So far die I is only known on old paper and die II on watermarked paper. It is quite a jump from the old to the watermarked paper, but I do not believe that it will ever be found on silk, because the records show that the use of this stamp was discontinued in Nov. 1865, and not resumed until Jan. 1878. It is therefore evident that the old die was lost or damaged, and that a new one was made when they came to print again on the watermarked paper. Certainly a silk copy, a die I on wmk., or a die II on old paper would be a great discovery.

It is interesting to note here, that this particular stamp is unique in the following respect. It is the only one of all the private proprietary stamps of the U. S. that was printed on old and watermarked paper only. No other stamp skipped, so to speak, over the silk and pink periods.

The next one is the D. Jayne & Son, 2 cent black on pink paper, shifted die. This means that the printing is clear in all respects, except where it reads "two cents" and in the figures "II" of value each side of the central design. There is no doubt about this variety; there is no half way about it; it is either the normal or the shift variety, and there is no grading into each other—neither is it a case of poor printing. Strange to say, I have never found this shift in any other value or on any other paper than the pink.

The J. H. McLean stamp has a shift, only on silk paper, I believe, for I have never seen it on any of the other three papers. The line at top "Inter. Rev." is rough, the ornaments to the letters extending above the true line of the engraving, similar to the Gates and Richardson match stamps noted in this article. The credit of the discovery of this variety is due to Geo. J. Carter, who studies his stamps carefully.

In the two cent J. B. Rose & Co., black on pink, there is an interesting shift at the top of the stamp. The words "Two Cents" are doubled or shaded and look as though it had been done by an artist to improve the letters by shading them. The balance of the stamp is printed perfectly clear. I obtained it from Dr. L. Homburger, who was the discoverer of it. He is a good student of his stamps, of which he has a fine collection.

I may have omitted one or two more in this hastily written article, and without going over my collection carefully; there is one of the Perfumery stamps in which there is a great deal of confusion about, and that is the Corning & Tappan.

10,000 STAMPS

In six volumes, at half Cat. Collections bought. Stamp & Coin Exchange, 65 Nassau, N. Y. City

It comes square imperforate, square perforate, and die cut round, in two sizes of dies. One die is three-quarters of an inch in diameter, while the other is very nearly seven-eighths of an inch. This is quite a difference, and is very noticeable. The large die is much scarcer. For some unknown reason Scott has never catalogued the die or cut round variety. His price of seven dollars refers to the square perforated stamp. The small die cut one is not worth over a dollar—the large one about three dollars.

There is a very interesting variety in the 1c Hoyt, perfumery stamp. It is only noticeable on the watermarked one. The effective shading of the monogram in the center and the figures at each end are entirely absent, in fact, it is almost "colorless," where in the normal stamp it is black. This variety was first brought to my notice by Mr. E. S. Phelps, a great student of M. & M.'s in the past. I cannot discover that it is a different die. Probably it is caused by a worn plate, but it is quite a remarkable case, and is worth some research to determine just what it is. Mr. Phelps called it a "retouched die," but I should say that the stamp was printed from a plate that needed retouching.

In closing I say, "study your stamps." Take up experimental silks and you will have plenty to do, and lots of pleasure.—Carter's Messenger.

My clerk recently sent out a few without the Seal and I desire that those be returned to this office that this may be remedied. Certificates will be returned at once.

What are the wild waves saying? Do you know? If not, it's up to you to attend the convention at Atlantic City and find out for yourself. This convention promises to be by far the most interesting from several standpoints that we have yet had. There will be something doing every minute and the oratorical fireworks supplemented by the acrobatically worded gems of rhetoric will leave nothing to be desired even by the most fastidious. Aside from all these the "King's English as she is spoke" will no doubt be murdered artistically to the accompaniment of plenty of blue sulphur fumes and red fire. Could one desire more? Do you intend to miss this opportunity of a life time? Why, man alive, just go into training for a week and come along; a good verbal rough house will do your system good, freshen up your wits and give you an insight into the inner workings of political philately.

Don't bother to bring an arsenal with you as all weapons must be deposited with the door keeper; this rule is rigidly adhered to. On the level, there's something doing, and if you want to get in on this barbecue, it's up to you to be there. Will I see you?

Regular meetings 3rd Monday.

The 43d regular meeting was held July 19, 1909, at the home of the President, W. A. Johnson. Eleven members were present. The regular routine business was transacted. Major Pierre C. Stevens, Paymaster U. S. A., applied for membership.

The evening was pleasantly spent in examining the fine collection of the host and discussing stamp news in general. Refreshments were served, thus ending a delightful evening.

The next meeting, August 16th, will be held at the home of Prof. Whitney, Takoma Park, and it is hoped that there will be a good attendance of the members as the Professor has many fine things in the stamp line that will be of interest.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5, 1909.

In the absence of the President, Vice President Penschow called the meeting to order with 16 members present. One visitor favored us with his presence. The minutes of the previous meetings were accepted as read. Arrangements have been made to hold a competitive exhibition of that much discussed group, the Cayman Islands, which will undoubtedly prove extremely interesting. Next meeting Aug. 19th.

OUR ENGLISH LETTER.

By Wm. Ward.

Holiday Time.—In common with the custom of the country, most philatelists are away at the seaside enjoying a brief vacation from everyday work. Some have no doubt stored away their albums, but I rather think the majority will be as active as ever. The collector that stores away his stamps for however short a period will always have the future for regrets. More than often in the summer opportunities present themselves and when gone are always gone. Some new issue comes out, and before many weeks have gone, it is superseded by still another variety. Then one hears people regretting that they did not know about when current.

French Provisionals.—During the recent Postal Strikes in France, certain towns having a large commerce, finding themselves without means of communication, sought means to provide themselves with a tenpenny postal service. Thus, several Chambers of Commerce initiated a local post, and also franks with which to signify prepayment of postage. Thus for two or three days towards the end of March, such towns as Paris, Amiens, etc., had their special postage stamps for local use. For communications outside the respective towns, the ordinary official postage stamps had to be affixed—but the letters were still for the most part conveyed by the private bodies.

Of course the very fact that these stamps are locals, will prevent their being included in the catalog. On the other hand specialists in the stamps of France will make every endeavor to add these interesting 20th Century provisionals to their collection.

And French Royalists.—Any kind of an event or movement in France seems to need some sort of more or less pretty label to commemorate it. By no means need it be a postal stamp. Every trade society on association, thousands of business houses, and certainly every exposition of any kind, has an adhesive label specially prepared to advertise it. Of late the French Royalists have had a fresh attack of their disease of legitimacy. At the beginning of the year they brought out a stamp bearing the not very beautiful features of their pet

Philip. Evidently they had a good sale for these pieces of gummed paper, and they have again broken-out. This time they do a little greater homage to their "monarch," though some ingrate Republican has said that the portrait more resembles Pres. Fallières than the Duc de Orleans.

A Belgian Idea.—The Postal Authorities of Belgium have just issued a notice asking the public to use colored envelopes, using the following colors for their (the letter's) respective destination: Red covers for letters to Brussels. Yellow covers for letters to Provinces. Green covers for letters Abroad.

Evidently then the Belgian Postal Government are not so strict in looking after their employees as the British. The British post office can by its own laws refuse to deliver a red envelope. Though of course this is not strictly observed, yet I know of instances where a firm has sent out a bunch of communications in red envelopes and they have been returned, or a notice given that they (the P. O.) will refuse to accept any more. It is well known that red is most dangerous to the eyesight—thus the rule. By their own rules governing the letter sorters in Great Britain, any sorter finding a red envelope in the mails can throw it aside, and thus delay—if he cares to remark that he feels he cannot bear the strain on his eyesight.

The Popularity of U. S.—I do not know whether it is due to the issue of the Lincoln and Alaska stamps, but there is no shadow of doubt that the most popular country among stamp collectors this year, is the United States. Dealers of my acquaintance say that U. S. are proving better sellers than Great Britain, due no doubt to the fact that varieties of watermark and perforation get tiring. A proof of this remains to be seen from the words of a dealer here—"I never thought there were so many people interested in U. S. I have sold the Melville Handbooks on U. S. out several times—and the want lists for U. S. I get daily make me mad because I have sold out so many. Especially of the '69 issue, I cannot get enough complete sets." Still no one can, grumble, the collector who puts his money away in

The 1902 Issue of U. S.

Ridiculous as it may appear, we find many of shades already quite unobtainable. Ever since the issue first appeared we have carefully put away week by week a given quantity of each denomination, thereby securing a lovely lot of shades and printings. It is impossible to describe them, and since the writer recently got severely hauled over the coals for designating a shade as German mustard (!!) we must curb our artistic eye and say

AT AUCTION---The Celebrated Lynde Collection.

We take pleasure in announcing that we have just secured for sale at auction the celebrated collection of the late F. E. F. Lynde, of New York, contained in 17 volumes.

20th CENTURY

This collection is composed chiefly of 20th Century stamps, also a magnificent line of early Europeans, including France and Colonies specialized. Nearly everything is unused and in superb condition. This sale will be held in October, and if you lack anything in 20th Century, it will pay you to wait for the catalogue.

OTHER SALES IN COURSE OF PREPARATION

including the Burton collection in November, and a general collection early in December. If you contemplate selling at auction and wish the best results as obtained by modern methods, a first class catalogue and a real list of buyers, you should make arrangements early in order to secure favorable winter dates.

PHILADELPHIA STAMP COMPANY,

1204 CHESTNUT STREET. PERCIVAL PARRISH, PRESIDENT, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

THE MILWAUKEE PIC-NIC.

By Our Spectacled Correspondent.

Members of the Chicago Philatelic Society and the Chicago Branch, No. 1, American Philatelic Society, were guests of honor at a pic-nic given by the Milwaukee Philatelic Society at Beloit Corners, a suburb of Milwaukee, on August 8th. The Chicagoans who journeyed, some by boat, some by trolley to the fair city to the north, were: Messrs. Rogers, Wolsieffer, Farnham, Straus, Schliekert, Herzstock and son, Geldert, Evans, Fred Michael, Mudge, Fowler, Leonard Michael, Boehm, Lindquist and Severn; and Yegge of De Witt, Iowa.

The Milwaukee entertainers were: Chas. Vogelsang, Fred Nasky, A. H. Becker, W. O. Staab, Wm. Voight, Chas. Toelle, W. G. Noel, Thos. Noel, L. Larkworthy, F. Kranitz & Son, Wm. Thiesens, H. J. Stirn, E. J. Hirthe, A. Jungman, P. Jaenicke, Chas. Regan, Frank Zdroye, F. Kresse and wife, Miss Haissig, Mrs. Hirthe, Robt. Schade.

Bright and early on the morning of the 8th, the Chicago crowd under the direction of fearless guides were safely piloted to the hostelry of Mr. Jungman, Beloit Corners, a Milwaukee suburb. Under this comfortable roof the expedition was equipped for the march into the woods, where a beautiful sylvan spot had been engaged for the day. Through the trackless forest, the unerring instinct of the Milwaukeeans focused the way to the clearing where the potables and comestibles were piled high. Then the pleasure of getting close to nature began and so close did some get that they carried away portions of it on their persons as proofs of their intimacy.

The day was the hottest of the year according to the students of colorics and happiness and perspiration oozed out of the fat and the lean. Leonard Michael in particular yielded up his pound of flesh in a most copious manner. The festivities began with a whoop of energy and ended with a wheeze of exhaustion. Fitting sports displayed athletic prowess of surprising kind. Photographs in great variety were taken. Sedentary sports were provided for those dominated by the intellect. Those of unheroic mould communed with the soil or sought Indian arrow-heads for we were on historic Indian ground. One of the Milwaukee jesters convoyed a party of Chicagoans to the site of the battle of the "Fallen Timber" which proved to be a fallen monarch of the forest, i. e., tree.

At noon, the panting woodsmen were fed at the Jungman hospice and then, it was back to the woods. The fat phalanx faltered but did not retreat. The fun became the faster, if possible, in the afternoon when the intercity field contest for prizes were held. The great feature was the ball game; casualties were as numerous as base-hits, to the secret joy of the innocent by-standers. Chicago triumphed of course. Willus Staab's much vaunted anaconda twist and hoop-snake bend availed nothing against the Chicago pastmasters of reptilian lore. Mudge scintillated; Herzstock coruscated. Wolsieffer made the sensational catch of the game; a liner came so swiftly that he could not get away from it and his hands swelled so rapidly that the ball could not drop out of them.

Fred Michael looked at the poison ivy in its lair; when it jumped at him he sat down upon it, but his victory was not without its sting.

The prizes donated by Milwaukee were stamps of unusual value and those won by the Chicago ball team were given to the C. P. S. collection.

It was not until the plaintive wail of the cococo and the mournful cry of the jangaree were heard that the party turned their halting steps homeward, the Chicago men to dream of the day's delights, the Milwaukee men happy in having made their guests happy.

The Chicago men have enshrined the Milwaukee entertainers in their hearts as princes of hospitality; and we do not want to mention any few of the Milwaukeeans when all contributed so royally to our pleasure.

VENDING MACHINE STAMPS VALUABLE.

(Several correspondents have sent us the clipping published herewith. The article does not say so in the exact words but we imagine this stamp is the 5c 1902 concerning which the WEEKLY announced the issue of 13,000 or thereabouts in imperforate condition. Clipping from the Indianapolis Star.—Ed.)

L. M. Parkhurst, the Indianapolis inventor who has given to the world the Parkhurst stamp vending machine, has suddenly come to the realization that a quantity of the original issue of vending machine stamps which he owns are of much value.

In New York the single stamps such as were sold from the vending machines are worth $1 and those which are in pairs, not having been perforated and torn apart, are worth $3 a pair.

A few days ago a man bought from Parkhurst $18.25 worth of the stamps at their face value. Parkhurst, not knowing their value and not having any way of keeping track of the rare stamp market, gave them up readily enough. At the prices at which the stamps were advertised later they brought $395, but when the man who had bought the $18.25 worth from the inventor went back to tell Parkhurst that he had done well on the stamps Parkhurst produced a roll to show him that he had many left.

Parkhurst learned the real value of the stamps from Allan P. Vestal, an attorney who had a collection of stamps, who showed him an advertisement of such stamps at $1 for the single ones and $3 when in pairs.

The reason for the unusual value of the stamps is that those which were printed for the machines were of the 1902 issue. Soon after they were printed, stamps of the new design, the 1908 issue, were placed on the market and the old issue disappeared.

COMMUNICATIONS.

(We do not hold ourselves responsible for the views expressed by our readers. Our columns are always open for communications of general interest.—Ed.)

PHILA., Pa., Aug. 12, 1909.

DEAR MR. WYLIE:—

I have just returned from a trip around the "great circle" of the United States, going through the wheat fields of the Canadian northwest and thereby arriving at Seattle to attend the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition.

The Post Office Department exhibit at the exposition is most interesting and it may be important to note that they have one of the U. S. Automatic Stamp Vending Machines on exhibition, where the current 1c and 2c stamps can be had through the "slot feed."

The Seward 2c special stamp being not regular in size, was made up into a little packet and two of them sold with a 1c stamp for a nickel. I am sending you samples of these.

Will you also kindly make a public announcement for me through your papers of the splendid and cordial reception extended me by the Chicago Philatelic Society where it was my pleasure to address a large meeting on the evening of July 1st. I was also well received by the big stamp collectors and dealers in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Salt Lake City and Denver. I have never before experienced such cordial good fellowship and kindly relations that now exist in the stamp collecting fraternity, and it is my greatest hope that our esteemed Brotherhood of Stamp Collectors, as regards to the American Philatelic Society, will broaden and wax strong along the lines of progress and advancement, that they have laid down. There is, however, but one slogan and that is "long live the A. P. S."

A BIT OF COMEDY.

After a two weeks' trip out into the heart of Wisconsin, we return home only to find that the "deadly parallel" has been employed by our rival for the A. P. S. official journalship to accomplish our discomfiture.

The situation is really more amusing than tragic and hardly worth the space we give it. In compliance with the request of the board of directors, the WEEKLY has refrained from using any space advertising for proxies, nor has it allowed others this privilege. The idea implied if not distinctly stated at the time was that the publishers of the WEEKLY could resort to the same methods as used by other members in securing support.

In the issue of the July 17, we said editorially "The publishers of the WEEKLY have not asked for proxies this year and those that are being received are coming through no effort of our own." This statement was true at the time when penned by Mr. Severn, but while the editorial was in transit to the printer the managing editor sent out the circular letter dated July 10 and which seems to be the "conflicting evidence" thus described.

This circular appeal was inspired by the one that was distributed by Redfield's with blank proxy form and was mailed subsequently to the one circulated by our rival.

As a precautionary measure and to know how we stood in the estimation of the members the managing editor sent out the WEEKLY appeal totally ignorant of the editorial statement Mr. Severn had written.

No sane person would for an instant believe that the WEEKLY would circularize some 1,600 members of the society and have the next issue boldly publish a disclaimer of the same. The joke this time is upon

EDITORIAL.

A Bereavement—The startling news of the death of John F. Seybold, Syracuse, New York, who is famous throughout the philatelic domain as one of the greatest of collectors, has been chronicled by the newspapers. According to the despatches, Mr. Seybold committed suicide in the department store of which he was proprietor; a nervous impairment of mind and body is the cause assigned for the act. Mr. Seybold was a bachelor of middle age and he himself has said humorously that he was wedded to his stamps. Mr. Seybold's collections, particularly his stamps on original covers, have attained a celebrity that has brought their owner prominently to the minds of collectors the world over. His covers have been exploited, and deservedly, time and again in the philatelic press; and it is noticed that the newspapers that tell of the unfortunate end of our esteemed Mr. Seybold mention the fact of his philatelic affiliations. All philately has lost an ornament and many of us a friend; for over twenty years, Mr. Seybold and the editor of the WEEKLY have met by correspondence and we feel that our loss is almost irreparable. Mr. Seybold was a busy man, indeed, but he always felt that he had a source of recreation in his stamps. In the next issue, we shall speak further of Mr. Seybold, whose death we now record with feelings of deepest sorrow.

Cheering—We are pleased to publish the following letter from Samuel Leland, Chicago, one of the members of the old literary board of the American Philatelic Society and more recently, chairman of the board of vice-presidents for two years. Mr. Leland touches upon a phase of the official journalship controversy that has been emphasized in some quarters unfavorably to us.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12, 1909.

MY DEAR MR. SEVERN:—

Permit me to say that I am unequivocally, inevitably, and irremediably in favor of MEKEEL'S WEEKLY for the official organ of the A. P. S. It is the best, we want the best, and there is no necessity for this national society to go into the business of "boosting" other papers. To help along is highly commendable, but why should we throw away just what we need, throw away loyal and hearty efforts for the good of the society, just for the sake of "giving another fellow a chance?" Is this business? The society is large enough, and strong enough to have a dignity to sustain, and to sustain it. My best wishes and efforts are yours.

Yours very truly,

SAMUEL LELAND.

Hits Us—Some weeks ago when we commented upon the official notice authorizing the 2-cent imperforate, current issue, Canada, we said that while it was possible that the advent and successful operation of the mailing machine made the issue advisable, it was much more likely that the Canadian authorities decided upon the issue of the imperforates so as to render of merely nominal value, the imperforate sheet that is in possession of the editor of the WEEKLY and which as readers will remember was the subject of correspondence between our government and Canada. At the time, surface indications were not lacking to confirm the belief that the present imperforates were issued as a retaliatory measure and now it is proved conclusively, we should say, that the current stamps were prepared in consequence of the existence of the sheet that was blown from the window of the stamp-printing establishment at Ottawa. The case seems to be made complete by the fact that all sheets bear either the plate-number 13 or 14, while the plates from which the perforated stamps are printed are numbered much higher. It is almost needless to say that the sheet that reached a collector's hands and which excited so much controversy bore the plate-numbers 13 and 14. Mr. Severn sent the sheet to Ottawa for inspection and the authorities there saw its plate-numbers.

Very Well—We repeat what we said when the announcement of the issue of the imperforates was first made. We commend the action of the Canadian authorities in destroying the monopoly enjoyed by one person, so to say, even though our applause does not exceed the bounds of decorum. If it were some other person who was involved, no sympathy would be shown by us and to be consistent, we cannot squirm when it happens that we are checkmated. Word came from Ottawa that Mr. Severn would probably be "recouped" the amount paid for the sheet, if he would relinquish the stamps. As he did not, the loss deservedly falls on his own head. Evidently, Canada follows philately closely as it has handled the stamp end of the case intelligently; and an interesting variety has been added to the philatelic supply by reason of the refusal to return the sheet that accidentally escaped some years ago.

* * *

Pity for the Holder—The Stamp Journal, in speaking of the issue of the Canadian imperforates, says that it "looks like spite work," and adds: "As regards the imperforate sheet of 2-cent pink we have no positive knowledge of the price asked in Chicago by the party who had the half sheet; but it is safe to assume it was very much in excess of the 'double face' asked for the present printing." For the peace of mind of our solicitous friend we say that the Chicago sheet was never offered for sale as a whole or in part, by its holder, and consequently no price of any kind was placed on the stamps.

* * *

Ship Letters of Old—In 1852, Congress passed a law to curb and eradicate abuses attendant to the handling of "ship letters" and in that year it was ordered that no ship or vessel should be allowed to make entry or break bulk at any port in the United States until all letters on board such vessel should have been delivered into the post-office. Provisions were made for the search for and seizure of letters and packages illegally carried.

Unflattering to Us—Fifty-five years ago, a reformer in this country said: "What makes the difference between the United States post-office and that of Great Britain? Ours is an expense, theirs a source of revenue; ours sends probably not a quarter the number of letters sent by theirs; ours transmits no money for the accommodation of the Very Satisfactory—A copy of the first handbook in the American Philatelic Society series has been received and it will be given adequate notice in the next issue. The subject is a fascinating one: "The Three Cent United States Stamp of the Issue of 1851" and the author is Carroll Chase, M. D. A cursory examination of the handbook shows that it is a valuable contribution to our literature.

For the fall season, 1909-1910, I am now ready to receive consignments of really desirable stamps to sell in my popular Auction Sales. Lots of common or cheap stamps are not wanted and will be returned, but consignments of really good stamps cataloging $100.00 and upwards are solicited. Last season I sold stamps in my sales for forty-six different people (collectors and dealers) and results were uniformly satisfactory. Write for my terms today.

NEWS GLEANINGS.

Under this heading we desire to publish all the news from the various philatelic centres. Correspondents' names will be given unless prohibited as we desire to give full credit for services rendered.

—Felix Cohen, Port Said, Egypt, sends us an A. P. S. application "valid only if MEKEEL'S WEEKLY be the official journal for next year." We do not need to make any comment upon this situation.

—Clippings are acknowledged with thanks from Felix Cohen, Paul M. Elsdon (2), J. M. Overfield, E. L. Davidson, Melvin De Groot.

—The Mutual Stamp Exchange, conducted by I. C. Greene, Leominster, Mass., is meeting with a large measure of success. Its membership is limited to those who are in good standing in the A. P. S. Mr. Greene is receiving hearty commendation for his enterprise and any members of the society wishing information as regards the conduct of the exchange will be gladly sent the same on request.

—G. de Lachasse, who has been for a long period in the employ of the Hibernia Bank, San Fran., Cal., has obtained a three months' leave of absence. For the present he may be addressed at Box 336, Oakland, Cal.

—F. D. Goodhue, of Cincinnati, Ohio, the attorney of the Society, will be away for two weeks from the 19th of August on his vacation.

—A gentleman just over from London, England, states that A. Martins has been in London, England, and his operations will probably be confined to dealers on the other side of the water.

—F. D. Goodhue writes us concerning several persons with whom unsatisfactory relations are reported. Particulars will be sent on application. Upon the list are the following: C. L. O. Lucken, Chicago, Ill.; Frank P. Azpetia, Havana, Cuba; Thos. Burnet, Camden, N. J.; Dr. F. D. Crosby, So. Norwalk, Conn.; Paul P. Wentz, Sharon, Pa., and Harry Anderson, DeKalb, Ill. Mr. Goodhue writes: "After all your advertising of A. Blanc and O. Peartree, complaints continue to come in. Some dealers need guardians."

—Many subscribers have sent us clippings giving the particulars of Mr. Seybold's death. The first were received from A. W. Batchelder and W. L. Hamilton, Jr.

—Marcel E. Taller sends us a clipping from the N. Y. American giving the particulars of the new issue of Chinese stamps.

—Milton P. Lyons, Jr., sending in his proxy, writes a very kind letter and suggests that our Denver contemporary has evidently overlooked the fact that it is a publication (presumably) devoted to philately.

REPRINTS OF SPECIAL ARTICLES.

While this service has not been appreciated as much as we desire and had reason to expect, we shall nevertheless continue reprinting the special articles that from time to time appear in the WEEKLY. Up to the present time more than a score of articles have appeared, and the original subscribers of $1.00 to the service will take this as a notification that a second remittance is now in order.

We believe that a volume of one hundred or more of these reprints will make a valuable contribution to our literature, and a great aid to the every-day philatelist in the pursuit of his hobby.

DEATH OF JOHN F. SEYBOLD.

Sad Ending of One of America's Great Philatelists.

Philatelists throughout the country will be greatly shocked at reading the particulars of the death of John F. Seybold, Syracuse, N. Y. On Saturday, Aug. 28, we received from John B. Howe a telegram informing us of the death of Mr. Seybold, and further particulars as given in the Syracuse Herald indicate that Mr. Seybold committed suicide as the result of a serious nervous breakdown. We quote as follows from the Herald, the article no doubt being written by Mr. Howe who was a close friend of Mr. Seybold's:

John F. Seybold, world famous philatelist, the well-known merchant and citizen of the North Side, shot himself fatally in the right temple at his store, Nos. 902 and 904 Butternut street, this morning (Aug. 13). Mr. Seybold had been unable to sleep for the last three weeks, due to a nervous disorder, and made careful preparations for the deed. His body was found stretched out on the floor in the rear part of his store by his head clerk, Miss Flora Bauer, at 8.15 o'clock this morning when she came to work.

Mr. Seybold suffered a nervous breakdown about three weeks ago, due to a too close application to his business affairs. He was unable to sleep, and his condition was such that it was noticed by his friends, for he was always of a cheerful disposition. He did not feel that he could spare the time to take a prolonged vacation as his friends advised, but had agreed to take short trips. He also consulted his physician, Dr. E. C. Reifenstein, and had placed himself under his care.

SHOCK TO HIS FRIENDS.

Mr. Seybold's death will come as a great shock to a host of business associates and friends in this city, for he enjoyed a large acquaintance. Everyone spoke highly of his character as a man and of his genial spirits. He was unmarried but had one hobby that occupied most of his spare time. This was the collection of stamps and he was an enthusiastic philatelist. His collection was one of the finest in the country and he was known among stamp collectors the world over. Mr. Seybold was a member of several organizations, including, among others, Freie Bruder lodge, No. 458, of the German Order of Harugari; Lincoln lodge, No. 180, and Lincoln incampment, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and of one of the local Masonic bodies.

John F. Seybold was born in this city July 22d, 1858, at the home of his parents in Lodi street, where he has always lived. He would have been in business twenty-four years on the 15th of next February and twenty years ago the first of last May, Carl Unger built the block for him, where he had since conducted a dry goods and general store on the corner of Butternut and Park streets.

Two weeks ago a member of the Herald staff, who has been an intimate friend of Mr. Seybold for some years and who was, like him, interested in philately, called upon him at his store. He was surprised to find Mr. Seybold in a dejected mood, for he had always seemed of the most cheerful disposition. Mr. Seybold explained to his caller that he had been seriously worried of late by nervousness, and he attributed it to the hot weather and to his steady application to business. The Herald man advised him to take a month's rest in the Adirondacks. To this he demurred on the ground that he could not leave his business. The caller, realizing that he was in a depressed state, reasoned with him for a while, and earnestly urged him to leave his business to his subordinates and go away for rest and relaxation. But he objected, saying that whenever he left the city he was homesick and anxious to get back as soon as possible. He finally compromised by saying that he would try to take numerous outings in the evening during the rest of the summer. With his habitual courtesy, he thanked the visitor for his advice, and they parted.

A NOTED STAMP COLLECTOR.

Mr. Seybold was known in all the larger cities of the United States and Europe as a collector of postage stamps. His collection was one of the finest and most valuable of its kind in the world. Both he and his collection have been written about in philatelic publications, not only in English, but in French, German, Italian and Dutch. American and European collectors have traveled long distances to examine his philatelic treasures. During the present year the Collectors' Journal, published at Chicago, devoted a series of articles to a description of "The Seybold Collection of Original Covers."

COLUMBIAN STAMP CO., Arlington, Mass.

Mr. Seybold began collecting stamps in 1877, and since that time he had devoted his leisure hours to his favorite pastime and expended a small fortune in accumulating rare stamps. Of late years he had made a specialty of original covers, i. e., envelopes with the stamps affixed. There is, in his collection, a large number of these covers as well as of single stamps, unused and canceled, which have a market value of from $100 to $500 each.

Even Mr. Seybold himself did not know the total value of his collection, as measured by existing catalogue quotations, but it is somewhere between $35,000 and $50,000. Some months ago, the writer assisted him in reviewing his entire collection, which embraced about 90,000 separate pieces and about 18,000 distinct varieties. His collection of United States stamps—postal adhesives, Civil war revenues and stamped envelopes, is one of the most notable in the country. It includes many of the old Postmaster stamps, (used before the first regular issues in 1847) and nearly all of them are great rarities, commanding high figures from wealthy collectors. Mr. Seybold also had a library comprising about 300 bound volumes relating to philately.

Philatelists throughout the world will be keenly interested in the ultimate disposition of the Seybold collection.

The WEEKLY has in the past commented so frequently upon the value and variety of Mr. Seybold's philatelic possessions that we shall not at this time attempt any description of them. His collection of original covers was probably the finest in existence. Mr. Howe writes that these with Mr. Seybold's other stamp treasures will undoubtedly be sold.

Mr. Seybold was a member of the A. P. S. and the entire philatelic world will mourn his loss.

CHRONICLE OF NEW ISSUES.

Edited by HENRY A. KIDDER.

Any information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged. Address HENRY A. KIDDER, 17 Addison Street, Arlington, Mass.

UNITED STATES.—Park Russell Hitchens reports having seen the current 1c stamp, with Schermack perforation, precancelled "Chicago, Illinois," normal. This is similar to the 1c 1902 stamps, treated in the same way, noted in No. 958.

Clarence Hill Burrage reports having a broken letter variety of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific stamp, part of the "P" of "Postage" being missing.

G. de Lachasse reports having seen one of the 2c red brown envelopes of the current type, with only about one-third of the stamp showing on the face and the balance on the back. The stamp is also further misplaced as it is midway of the end of the envelope, instead of in the upper right corner.

J. O. H. Pendleton sends us another of these "stamps pasted over permits" varieties. They seem to be getting very plenty, the reason for which is apparent from the following communication sent us by Fred Doughty:

"In response to your inquiry about Chicago, Ill., permit covered by a 4c stamp, would say that when a firm wishes to use the 'permit system' the first step is to apply to the postmaster of the city where the permit is to be used, and if granted the permit is issued by the postmaster, not for the one mailing, but for as many as he wishes, and always under the same number. To use the system there must be at least 2000 copies and all just alike in size and contents. In cases where they prepare the envelopes and do not use them under the permit system they are used by fixing a stamp over the permit, and if sometimes after getting the envelope printed they add a little more to the package it raises the rate so the permit is killed. In my collection I have a Chicago permit covered by a precancelled stamp, then put through the cancelling machine."

In Nos. 954 and 958 mention was made of a Yonkers, N. Y., precancelled stamp, the cancellation being the form of small black squares, covering the whole stamp. Wm. S. Ross, M. D., now sends us a new precancellation, from the same office and used by the same Company in mailing documents. The new type shows vertical black lines of medium heavy faced rule, seven of these lines appearing on each stamp. There is no distinguishing mark on the stamp to show where the packet was mailed, though the sender's ARGENTINE.—Two new values have appeared in the series with portrait of Gen. San Martin, specimens having been shown us by the Scott Stamp & Coin Co. Adhesives.

1c yellow brown.
50c black.

HONG KONG.—F. Percy Collingwood is informed that the 25c and 50c values are now on hand at the local postoffice in new colors.

MEXICO.—H. R. Howard kindly sends us specimens of the new Mexican documentary revenue stamps, just issued for 1909-1910, the Mexican fiscal year terminating June 30. Three sets are issued, all of different designs, though similar in shape and size. The Federal stamps, which are imperforate, pay a 20 per cent addition to the state taxes, collected without stamps, by a system of inspection and registration of documents, etc. There are two sets of stamps for the "Renta Interior," or the Internal Revenue proper, the stamps proper to be used where duplicates are required, having coupons; otherwise the two sets are interchangeable. New sets are issued each year, those shown us by Mr. Howard being dated "1909-1910" and surcharged with a rubber stamp, "Nogales, Son."

NEW HEBRIDES.—S. C. Marcuse submits an official communication from the Resident Commissioner from which we quote the following: "A new issue is in contemplation. The quantity recently overprinted is too small to admit of sale for any but actual postal purposes."

NICARAGUA.—The Scott Stamp & Coin Co. sends us a large budget of new issues from Nicaragua, the whole new series of stamps, American print, having been surcharged "C—Dpto. Zelaya" as well as "B—Dpto. Zelaya". There is also included in the budget a new value with "Official" surcharge. We now make formal chronicle of the three sets:

REPORTS FROM A. P. S. BRANCHES.

Chicago Branch, No. 1, American Philatelic Society, held a regular meeting on the second Wednesday of each month during the past fiscal year, at which the average attendance was highly satisfactory. This was the case particularly in view of the fact that, as a rule, purely philatelic issues were considered.

Entertainments of noteworthy merit were provided in the course of the year and the members showed their keen appreciation of these features.

The branch continued its policy of eliminating, so far as possible, all action of a political character, yet the individual members followed with close attention the developments as affecting the American Philatelic Society.

The nomination of one of our esteemed members, Mr. H. N. Mudge, as President on both the St. Louis and Philadelphia tickets in the national field is an honor that the branch cherishes—and with much pride.

All indications point to continued success for the branch, both from a numerical and philatelic viewpoint.

LEONARD MICHAEL, Pres.
JOS. MIZERA, Sec.

The Pacific Philatelic Society known as Branch 3 of the American Philatelic Society was organized January 10, 1889. The original membership was not large, and the early period of the society was attended with difficulties and vicissitudes, and the meetings were not always held monthly, lapses being noticed occasionally in the records of those early days.

But despite the smallness of the membership, the society in its full score of years has never been disbanded nor even threatened with disorganization. The spirit of philately and of good fellowship has never been lacking in strength. The number of meetings of which the record reads "No quorum" is a very small one indeed.

The history of the society was abruptly arrested by the fire of April, 1906. That time its membership was about twenty-five, and its condition was flourishing. The library included about four hundred bound volumes and over a thousand other items of miscellany, entirely of a philatelic character, and was completely lost.

In common with all kindred organizations at this time, the members were more or less scattered and matters of graver and more serious importance engaged their attention.

A meeting for re-organization was called by President Henry J. Crocker on March 16, 1909, and held at his residence. A large number of enthusiastic collectors were in attendance and the society at once began anew, retaining those officers who were serving at the time of the fire. The meetings since have been held at regular monthly intervals, and the attendance has been uniformly good. The membership is already thirty-eight, with several applications awaiting action.

Several of our members are widely known in the literature of philately. President Henry J. Crocker has recently published an elaborate monograph on "Hawaiian Numerals" which from the extensive researches and knowledge of the author, entitles it to be received as a complete and definite work on the subject. H. B. Phillips several years ago wrote an extensive series of valuable papers on "Western Franks and Locals" which appeared in print in Mekeel's Philatelic Journal of America, and in Sellschopp's Philatelic Facts and Fallacies. William Sellschopp, the editor of the foregoing journal, has written much on a variety of philatelic subjects, as also have A. H. Weber, William J. Gardner and others.

The hand of the silent reaper has been among us, leniently perhaps in our score of years, but too often. In the twelve consecutive official years of the present Secretary, we have lost three active members—Dr. Edward Stephens Clark, who was well known in science, William E. Loy, whose name was international, and Alfred H. Greenebaum, a valued and faithful member, sometime President of the society.

The chief difficulty that confronts us at present is the loss of our library, but by means of a circular letter recently published, this deficiency it is hoped will be somewhat made up, and material secured thereby.

At no time in its history has the outlook of the society been better or more encouraging than at the present. Several of our now active members came in with the Charter in 1889, and during all that long period, have retained an active and interested membership, which fact perhaps, is one of the most graceful tributes that might be exhibited as a comment upon the work of our society.

STATISTICAL SUMMARY.

Pacific Philatelic Society, Branch 3 of American Philatelic Society:

Organized, Jan. 10, 1889.

St. Louis, which for years was practically dead philatelically, having fallen far from its previous high estate in the early history of the society, is fast getting back to its rightful place.

Looking over the past year we are most pleased to report that the awakening recorded in our last annual report has not only continued but increased to such an extent that this year we have dared to step out into the limelight by nominating a ticket, believing that Missouri with its fifty members now deserved some recognition at the hands of the society. We are very sanguine that our ticket will be elected. The many letters received from various parts of the country certainly show that our renaissance has created widespread interest. St. Louis is certainly once more on the map and as our motto is "To the Front" we shall be heard from even more in the days to come.

The branch holds its meeting concurrently with the live, progressive and wide-awake St. Louis Stamp Collectors Society which naturally overshadows the smaller branch, but the greatest of harmony prevails, all working together for the best interests of philately. The meetings are held every other Tuesday; up to recently in the rooms of the Missouri Manufacturers' Ass'n, but a month ago an elegant club room was secured in the Cabanne Branch Library and this move we believe will result in increased attendance, although for that matter the average of attendance shows a most substantial increase each year over the previous. A good work is being done in supplying the various libraries in the city with the different stamp periodicals and hand-books. The banquet held in celebration of the one hundredth meeting of the S. C. S. gave us some excellent advertising and publicity and undoubtedly an even more aggressive campaign for the popularizing of our hobby will be put through.

F. R. CORNWALL, Pres.,
GEO. WOOD, Sec.

During the year just closed Branch No. 18 has held regular monthly meetings, which were well attended. The topics discussed were both interesting and instructive, many successful auction sales were held, and noteworthy exhibits of stamps added zest to the meetings, foremost among which were the exhibit of the stamps of Mexico by Mr. W. C. Bellows, the U. S. postage and revenue collection of Dr. Geo. Hetrich, Match and Medicine stamps on the original packages by Geo. H. Anders, stamps of the Twentieth Century by Charles Beamish, encased postage stamps by John W. Haseltine, an exceedingly choice selection of stamps by Henry Chapman, and an exhibit of the stamped paper of the Civil War period by A. F. Henkels, as well as many other exhibits of importance.

The handling of the A. P. S. Circuits by the Branch Sales Manager proved a great convenience to the membership. By the courtesy of the Branch Manager these circuits were accessible to the members at nearly all times, thus enabling them to inspect and purchase whenever the "philatelic spirit moved," being in strong contrast to the plan of a circuit arriving when the recipient is engaged in business and his mind occupied with other subjects claiming his attention, probably with no prospect of immediate leisure, until after the time limit of the circuit would expire.

This plan has proven itself quite elastic, the same books being scanned over again and again by the purchasers. It has been a case of buying little and often, and it is the hope of the branch that the feature may be continued and strengthened if possible. The report of the Sales Superintendent of the A. P. S. on the success of this plan will be looked forward to with much interest by the branch members.

In Philadelphia there has been consummated an amalgamation of all existing philatelic societies from one strong body, under the name of "Philadelphia Stamp Club." This club is now able to maintain a home of its own, a luxury which has been beyond the reach of the small societies. This will enable Branch No. 18, whose members are all members of the stamp club, to share in these benefits, and be permanently housed.

Branch No. 18 appreciates the honor of being chosen as host of the American Philatelic Society, and takes pleasure in extending its hospitality to all visiting philatelists.

F. HAHMAN, Pres.
A. F. HENKELS, Sec.

I beg to report that, during the year beginning September 1, 1908, Columbus Branch, No. 21, has held regular meetings every two weeks at which the average attendance has been about 13.

The branch has pursued no special line of philatelic study but the members have had the pleasure of examining a collection of some country or group of countries each meeting and the exhibitor has in each case accompanied his display with a lecture or paper. These displays and the discussions held each meeting have proved of great educational value.

The branch is making progress in the formation of a library and during the past year, thanks to the generosity of a number of members, substantial additions were made, particularly in the line of reference books.

The membership, active and passive, is now forty-nine (49) and the financial condition of the branch is good, so we have every reason to believe that the coming year will be a most prosperous one and that Branch No. 21 may continue to do effective work for the cause.

GEO. K. SMITH, JR., Sec.

I beg to report to you, and through you to the convention that Colorado State Branch No. 22, has held regular meetings and several special meetings throughout the year.

We are greatly gratified to know that our "pet subject", that of a quarterly publication, which this branch proposed and worked for, for the last two years, has become an actual reality all but the publication.

We have about 40 members in good standing, but owing to a number of members residing outside of Denver our attendance has not been as large perhaps in proportion to the membership as some local branches where the membership is resident of one city.

We are the only state branch of the Association, and we feel that the activity along philatelic lines in Colorado is being kept alive by our influence.

With assurances of continued activity for the good of our parent organization, this is respectfully submitted.

H. A. DAVIS, Pres.

Branch No. 24 which was organized June 4th, 1907, has at the present time twenty-seven (27) members in good standing, and can show some of the finest collections as to quality and condition. Meetings are held on the first and third Friday of each month in our elegantly furnished club room, 709 Germania building, and every visiting philatelist has a standing invitation to visit us. Twenty-two regular meetings were held during the past year with an average attendance of 11 members. Branch No. 24 sustained a very regrettable loss by the death of one of its most faithful and ardent promoters, Mr. Charles C. Johnson, who was lamented, not only in Milwaukee, but also by many philatelists all over our country who had met him at various A. P. S. conventions which he attended. The meetings of the branch were made interesting by the study of the different collections of its members, by talks of an instructive nature on philately, and by some very profitable exchanges and sales of fine lots of stamps among the members. The social and intellectual spirit during the past year was such that we most cheerfully enter the coming year with better prospects before us.

JOHN MELVIN MALONEY, Sec.

The Detroit Branch, No. 25, of the American Philatelic Society, herewith submits by its President and Secretary, its report for the past year.

The branch was organized on March 13, 1908, with 23 charter members and the society has at this time 34 active members on its rolls and one honorary member, Hon. Homer Warren, Postmaster. The attendance at the meetings has been unusually good and an average from 22 to 26 at nearly every meeting. The meetings, which have been held at the residences of the members, have been a source of much pleasure to all attending, business meetings being held once a month and alternated with meetings of a social or entertainment character, making a meeting every two weeks, on the second and fourth Fridays of the month.

Several auction sales have been held with excellent results from which the society received a small commission, and the season for 1908-1909 closed with a banquet at the Hotel Ponchartrain, at which were present in addition to our local membership, several guests from Cleveland, including Mr. Alvin Good, Secretary to Mr. George H. Worthington, who very kindly exhibited his magnificent collection of British North America and Cape of Good Hope.

In conclusion we can only say that our membership is active, enthusiastic and increasing and embraces some of the most prominent business men of our city, and when the society comes to Detroit in 1910, we will give you a renewed demonstration of Detroit hospitality, which those of you present who had the privilege of attending the 1899 Convention will probably recall; and to those who were not so fortunate, we can assure you a most delightful time, and will enjoy the privilege of showing you the most beautiful city in the United States and to indelibly stamp upon your memory the fact that "In Detroit Life is Worth Living."

CHAS. A. COOLIDGE, Pres.
HOWARD C. BECK, Sec.

The Springfield Branch was organized in May, 1908, and a charter granted by the Board of Directors of the Association in July of the same year. Since its organization it has held six meetings which have been strictly of a business nature as only matters pertaining to our national society are discussed, all other matters being left to the Springfield Stamp Club, which contains a few who are not members of the A. P. S.

The branch includes in its membership all the members of our national society in Springfield and Westfield, Mass., three new members having been added during the year. The present membership is 23.

Our Sales Manager reports that 35 circuits have been received from Mr. Parrish, of which 7 are still in circulation. The total sales from those retired was $180.28. In addition several circuits have also been received from other sources and circulated.

As soon as your name has been published as an applicant you will probably have unsolicited selections of stamps sent you on approval. As a great many collectors object to this practice the Society desires to break the practice up. Please aid us and help protect yourself and others against further imposition, by holding such selections without purchasing any, until sufficient funds have been sent by the dealer to return it to him by registered mail. Also please report the name of such dealer to the Secretary of the Society.

BATTLE CRY FOR 1910—2000 MEMBERS.

Are you going to be one of the army of workers this year? We must have 2000 members by this time next year and we want you to do your share in the harvest. We have discarded the old conservative policy of "get all the money you can and give as little as you can for the money" and have adopted the open door policy that should encourage every philatelist to be a member. Do you know the benefits that each member is entitled to? We have recently added two big drawing cards, The Quarterly and A Series of Handbooks. These are free to all members and are worth far more than the price of admission. Can't you induce your friend to get inside and occupy a front seat and a harp with seven strings? We are going to do something this year and you want to get them in on the ground floor.

One enthusiastic member sends in the following:

"2000—1910."

The time has come, the fight is on, we've picked our hardest one;
For President, Chicago sent her noble, worthy son.
The man we need, the man to lead, back not an inch will budge,
But straight ahead will set his tread, 'tis Henry W. Mudge.

CHORUS.

Get in the game with Mudge, boys, take off your coat and hat,
Roll up your sleeves, step up to the plate and line one off your bat.
Follow your leader's example, he's not a setting Hen,
Let's each get one new member, "2000—1910".

A CHINESE POSTMAN.

It is not only in France that postal employees are discontented with their lot, for the Chinese postal workers are also in a state of ferment, the London Globe says. They are strongly protesting against the remuneration which they receive, and which they consider little less than an insult when compared with the difficulty of obtaining employment in the postal service of the celestial empire. The training is arduous and full of peril. The men urge, and apparently with reason, that as it is only the bravest who adopt the calling of postman the emoluments should not be in an inverse ratio to the difficulty of attainment.

A son of heaven wishing to enter the postal service must, to begin, give evidence of courage, robustness, power of endurance, ability to traverse great distances over mountains and valleys, through dangerous forests frequented by wild beasts and robbers. These dangerous journeys must be undertaken alone and accomplished in a fixed time. After this the would-be letter carrier is sent into uncanny places which are considered to be the abode of evil spirits.

When the Chinaman has satisfied the authorities in regard to these matters he is appointed a letter carrier.

A. P. S. HISTORICAL NOTES.

By H. A. DAVIS, Pres. Colo. Branch, No. 22.
1891. Sixth Annual Convention.

In January Chas. A. Hobbs, Watertown, Mass., was appointed to fill vacancy in Literary Board caused by declination of E. F. Gambs.

Vol. V of American Philatelist was published in Chicago, all previous volumes in Philadelphia. An application for second class rates at the Chicago postoffice was refused on the ground that the American Philatelist was circulated free to members.

In March the official board adopted an amendment fixing the dues at $2.00 instead of $2.50 and assessing members 50c per year as a subscription to the American Philatelist, so that second class rates could be obtained.

A discussion on incorporating the society took place in Vol. V of the American Philatelist, 1891. P. H. Dilg, Chicago, resigned from the Board of Trustees in June.

The sixth annual convention was called to order by President Tiffany in Rooms 3 & 4 of the Times Bldg., New York City, Aug. 17, 1891, at 10.15 A. M., 30 persons being present.

J. W. Scott invited the visitors to a dinner at the Brooklyn Club rooms Wednesday evening. The credential committee reported favorably on 217 proxies. Report of the treasurer showed receipts to be $1211.86; expenses, $1252.51; balance on hand, $68.99. Secretary's report showed membership to be 568, a loss of 115 members for the fiscal year. New members added, 83; reinstated, 5; resignations, 52; suspensions 147; expelled, 1; deaths, 3. Third Purchasing Agt. purchased for members stamps to the amount of $4983.00. The average circulation of the American Philatelist per month was 1200 copies. The total receipts of the paper were $637.40; the expense, $624.42. The American Philatelist was not only self supporting this year but had a cash balance of $12.98 in the treasury.

The convention voted the following: Niagara Falls for next convention seat; no member to hold more than 50 proxies; to elect officers yearly instead of every two years; to incorporate in the state of West Virginia; that the trustees should be elected instead of appointed, and that they must reside within thirty miles of a common centre.

Adjourned to meet at Niagara Falls third Monday in August, 1892. Total membership Dec. 31, 1891, was 492.

UNSATISFACTORY TRADE RELATIONS.

In past weeks upon mere notification we have made reference to unsatisfactory trade relations reported by either dealer or subscriber. In the future we must ask that all cases be placed with an attorney or collection agency, when the findings in the case will gladly be published in our columns. The reason for this step is no doubt apparent.

F. D. Goodhue, 711 Mercantile Library Bldg., Cincinnati, O., attorney for the A. P. S., will take charge of all claims and there will be no fee for services unless collections result.

A. P. S. HANDBOOK JUST ISSUED.

As we go to press Handbook number one, written by Carroll Chase, M. D., reaches us from the press of Hahn and Adair. It will be reviewed very soon. A. P. S. members will receive it free of charge upon payment of dues for the coming year. Remit $1.20 to the secretary, H. S. Adair, Box 691, Columbus, O., when book will be mailed you. To non-members, price 25c.

ADDRESS OF PRES. JOHN N. LUFF. DELIVERED AT THE ATLANTIC CITY CONVENTION OF THE AMERICAN PHILATELIC SOCIETY.

In making the opening address at a convention it is always a pleasure to the presiding officer to report that all is well with the association whose members he is addressing. You will, therefore, understand my satisfaction when I say to you that the American Philatelic Society continues to flourish and prosper. At our convention last year our Secretary reported a membership of 1514. Today he will tell you of a very substantial gain over that number. We have reason to anticipate an equally satisfactory report from our Treasurer. Our Recruiting and Publicity Committees, our Secretary and many other members have worked hard to swell our ranks and their efforts have met with gratifying success. From week to week our official organ has published a roll of honor of those who have been most active in this work but we should not overlook the fact that there are many whose names do not appear on this roll because they have only secured one or two new members, yet we should accord them due thanks for doing what they could.

Within the past few months there have been two important philatelic exhibitions and several smaller ones. The first was held in Manchester, England, in February, under the auspices of the Manchester Junior Philatelic Society and was an unqualified success. The exhibits were of a high grade, the attendance was very large and the Philatelic Congress (a new feature, so far as English exhibitions are concerned) brought out many interesting and instructive addresses and discussions. The subjects considered by the Congress were the formation of a National Philatelic Society in Great Britain, the publication of a Collectors' Catalogue and Guide, and unnecessary issues and what should be done to discourage or suppress them.

A small but successful exhibition was held at Newcastle-on-Tyne on March 26th and 27th. In June, Amsterdam had its first philatelic exhibition at which many fine collections were shown, the majority of them, however, coming from other countries than Holland. The Junior Philatelic Society of London have installed an extensive display of the stamps of the United States and Confederate States at the Golden West Exhibition at Earle's Court, London, which is to be maintained during the summer months.

The output of new stamps has not been as great as in recent years, at least the smaller space occupied by the chronicles of new issues in the philatelic journals leads us to this conclusion. Yet the past year has been far from unproductive in this respect.

Our own country has given us a new issue from one cent to one dollar and two stamps commemorating the Lincoln Centenary and the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition. Personally I fail to see that the new series is any improvement over the one it supersedes. There is monotony in the use of one design for all denominations except the one cent and the head of Washington appears to be disproportionately large for its surroundings. There is, in several instances, an unfortunate similarity in the colors of two denominations which is liable to cause confusion and make trouble for the clerks who handle the letters. The Lincoln stamp is more pleasing but presents an unfamiliar likeness of our great President. As for the exposition label, aside from our regret that the Post Office Department should be used to advertise any form of show, we find the design uninteresting and overcrowded with details. We have also had a new special delivery stamp of fanciful design which was soon withdrawn because its size and color were not sufficiently distinctive.

Several of the lower denominations of the 1902 and the current series, as well as the Lincoln and the exposition stamps, have been issued imperforate. These were intended for use in stamp-vending machines but most of them were also obtainable by anyone who cared to purchase them in sheets. Before being placed in the vending machines various forms of private perforation were applied to these stamps. Quite extensive lists of these perforations have been published and the gathering of copies offers an entertaining side line for collectors.

British Colonial stamps are gradually appearing in accordance with the new color scheme. They are on plain and colored papers, with and without the chalk surfacing, and having various watermarks.

The British South Africa Company, having decided that the official name of their territory should appear on their stamps, have caused the current issue to be overprinted with the word "Rhodesia" in fancy type, at the same time surcharging new values on four stamps of the series. We understand that the overprinted issue is to be replaced by a permanent one in which the name Rhodesia will form part of the engraved design.

New Zealand has been experimenting with various perforating machines and has adapted her one penny stamp to surface printing in place of the "steel plate" process.

About a year ago Canada issued a handsome series of eight stamps in commemoration of her tercentenary.

The large, crudely lithographed stamps of the British Solomon Islands have been superseded by finely engraved stamps of smaller size.

The overprinted stamps of the Maldive Islands have been replaced by a permanent issue.

New names for our albums are New Hebrides and Nyassaland Protectorate. For the present the former is supplied with two overprinted series, one in English, on the stamps of Fiji, and one in French, on the stamps of New Caledonia. The two sets appear to be equally acceptable on letters and to be used without regard to the nationality of the ships by which the letters are forwarded.

Quite a sensation was created by the discovery of a few copies of the one penny stamp of the Transvaal on paper with the anchor watermark of the Cape of Good Hope. As every sheet of paper on which stamps are printed by Messrs. De La Rue & Co. is most carefully handled and accounted for it is surprising that such an error should have happened.

The title of the Congo Free State has been altered to Belgian Congo. The change was first marked by overprinting the stamps in Brussels with the words "Congo Belge". At first handstamps were used, of which there were at least four, differing slightly one from another. Afterwards the overprint was applied by means of a printing press. Some of the handstamps were subsequently sent to Africa and locally applied. In the latter instance the ink seems to strike through the stamps and, viewed from the back, had a violet tint. The provisional stamps are now being supplanted by a set with the new title of the country engraved in the design.

Siam has issued a series of stamps to commemorate the forty years reign of King Chulalongkorn. The stamps with values in atts are made by overprinting the 1906-08 issue. The higher values, one to forty ticals, are of large size and show an equestrian statue of the King. It is reported that a new series is about to be issued with the lower values expressed in satangs instead of atts.

Russia has issued a series commemorating of the fiftieth anniversary of the Russian Steam Navigation and Commerce Co. The designs are those of the regular Russian stamps but the imperial arms have been replaced by a steam ship with the dates "1857" and "1907" above and below. The issue should properly have been made two years ago but the time was not considered opportune for celebrations.

Ecuador has also marked the twenty-fifth anniversary of the opening of the Guayaquil-Quito railway with an issue of stamps printed in two colors and most of them triangular in shape.

Of surcharges we have had an abundance. Crete, Guatemala, Salvador and other countries have provided work for the printer. For the Italian offices in the Levant there have been some five or six new series, some of which are seriously tainted with speculation. The last set is overprinted by no less than eight cities. But the worst offenders have been Nicaragua and Paraguay. These countries have let loose such a flood of surcharged stamps that it has been a novelty for a week to pass without a chronicle of something new from both of them. We cannot help feeling that much of their output is of a speculative nature or there is amazing incompetence somewhere. There is one comfort, none of us are compelled to collect this trash and probably few of us will care to do so.

Liberia has just issued a series in new designs and brilliant colors. As if this were not sufficient, the same designs have been printed in other colors and surcharged for official use.

We have had new issues for French, German, Spanish, and Dutch Colonies, for Abyssinia, Peru, Switzerland and many other parts of the world. Truly, of the making of stamps; as St. Paul said of books, there is no end.

The year has been prolific of new things in the line of philatelic literature.

The Philatelic Record has again changed hands and is now appearing in new and handsome dress. Under the able editorship of Mr. L. W. Fulcher it promises to maintain the high standard for which it has always been noted. Among a number of new journals the Philatelic World holds a prominent place. The leading feature of this journal is a translation into English of Captain Ohrt's exhaustive work on reprints.

Of books we have had an unusually large and choice output. The list is headed by the Postage Stamps of the Fiji Islands by Mr. C. J. Phillips. The book contains much that is new and interesting to collectors. It is handsomely gotten up, elaborately illustrated and is uniform in size and style with the publications of the Royal Philatelic Society.

Next we have Mr. H. J. Crocker's monograph on the type-set numeral stamps of the Hawaiian Islands. This is also a handsomely printed and lavishly illustrated book. We can only regret that the employment of half-tone work, instead of some of the more delicate and accurate processes, together with an ill-advised attempt to reproduce the plates in the colors of the stamps has rendered some of the more important of them practically useless for purposes of study and comparison.

A book that stands in a class by itself is Mr. W. C. Bellows' sumptuous work on the provisional stamps of Campeche. Probably this is the first time that a whole book has been devoted to a single issue of stamps. The subject may not appeal to many for, unfortunately, Mexico is not a popular country with the majority of stamp collectors, but I am convinced that anyone who sees a copy of this unique book cannot help being interested in the unusual style in which it is gotten up and the many photographic reproductions with which it is adorned and will desire to know what is their connection with the subject. Once he begins to read he is almost certain to go through to the end.

The Philatelic Society of India have published the "Postage Stamps of Afghanistan" by Sir David Masson and Mr. B. Gordon Jones. This is another handsome book devoted to an unpopular subject but it is well worth the careful attention of every collector and especially of the studios.

GEO. J. CARTER,
265 Halsey St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

We have had six volumes of a charming series of small handbooks written by Mr. F. J. Melville. The subjects are: "Line Engraved Stamps of Great Britain", "British East Africa and Nyassaland Protectorate", "United States, 1847-1869", "Gambia", "Nevis" and "Holland". The subjects are well handled and as examples of typography and illustration the books are delightful.

Many other works have appeared during the year, both in English and other languages, but I will not occupy your time with any further remarks on this subject.

An unusual number of philatelists of prominence have died during the past year. In our own country we have lost Mr. J. W. Paul of Philadelphia, well known as the possessor of a large general collection which included many rarities and was rich in United States stamps, especially the Postmasters' stamps, the provisional issues of the Confederacy and many scarce local stamps.

Mr. C. S. F. Crofton, best known to us through his contributions to the Philatelic Journal of India, Mr. Rudolph Krasemann, the eminent Swedish philatelist and writer, Sir W. B. Avery, at one time an active member of the Royal Philatelic Society and the possessor of many treasures including the two "Post Office" Mauritius stamps, and Mr. W. B. Thornhill, author of the handbook on Shanghai, have all joined the great majority.

On March 29th another of our countrymen, Mr. Wm. Moser formerly of Rowayton, Conn., died in Dresden, Germany. He was a man respected and admired by all who came in contact with him and held in the warmest friendship by those whose privilege it was to know him intimately. He was a philatelist of the first rank and a student who went deeply into any subject he undertook. His collection of Japanese stamps was probably the finest in the world. It was arranged with much taste and lavishly adorned with enlarged drawings of distinctive features of the stamps, so that it never failed to command the attention of everyone who saw it whether he was interested in Japanese stamps or not.

Of all those who have been taken from us Mr. E. J. Nankivell was probably the best known and will be most widely missed. He was for many years a regular contributor to the philatelic press. At various times he occupied the editorial chair of such prominent journals as the Philatelic Record, the London Philatelist, Gibbons' Stamp Weekly, and the Postage Stamp. Probably he was best known to American collectors through his "London letter" which was published for many years in the American Journal of Philately. Though widely known as a collector of Transvaal stamps, he had other specialties and had made himself thoroughly familiar with stamps generally. This enabled him to write interestingly on all stamp topics. His style was bright, chatty and full of his own individuality. He never hesitated to speak his mind or to attack sham and fraud whenever his keen insight detected them.

In my address to the convention last year I mentioned the agreement between the Post Office Departments of Great Britain and the United States by which letter postage between the two countries was to be reduced to two cents per ounce, beginning October 1st, 1908. Since that date a similar agreement has been made with Germany and a like rate is now in force between that country and ourselves. A proposition to institute a corresponding reduction in the postal rates to France has been declined by the latter country, on the ground of the probable large loss of revenue.

There has been the usual activity in the auction field. The sales have been numerous and prices well sustained. The most important sale in this country was that of the W. E. Hawkins collection. Paris, which has usually been considered a poor auction market for postage stamps has recently been the scene of two very large sales. These were dispersal of the Koch and Miraband collections at both of which many sensational prices were attained. It has been stated that a million francs was asked for the Miraband collection. Failing a purchaser in its entirety, certain portions of it were sold privately, including the Mauritius and the wonderful aggregation of Swiss stamps, and the balance was then dispersed under the hammer.

More than the usual interest in the affairs of our society appears to be evinced by the recent call for a mail vote on certain amendments to our By-laws. Only one of these amendments received a sufficient number of votes to be adopted. By this the old American Philatelist is to be revived as a quarterly magazine. The other two amendments, which had to do with the much discussed question of the holding of proxies, failed to be carried. In anticipation of possible discussion of these matters during the convention I refrain from any comment. I merely bespeak your careful consideration and quiet discussion of these and all matters which may come before us.

In conclusion I welcome you to our twenty-fourth annual convention and to Atlantic City. I hope our gathering here will be of benefit to the society and enjoyable on its social side. May the years to come bring us success in even greater measure than in the past.

STAMP AUCTIONS A SPECIALTY.

If you have a really good collection or lot of stamps for sale and wish the best results, as obtained by modern methods, a first class catalog, and a list of tested buyers, write us. We have held 19 very successful sales (and are preparing three more). We have incorporated some new ideas in auctions which have produced results eminently satisfactory to sellers.

TERMS:—Our terms are lowest for the best service and vary with the magnitude and quality of collection. MONEY ADVANCED INTENDING SELLERS, if desired. Sales held both in New York and Philadelphia.

REPORT OF BOARD OF VICE PRESIDENTS.

The present Board of Vice Presidents, elected in 1907 and re-elected last year, begs to submit herewith its second and final annual report:

The growth of the society during the two years just passed has really been phenomenal—some 350 new members during the first period and some 250 during the second, or a total increase of approximately 50%. The Board congratulates the society upon this showing, but in so doing feels it necessary to preach a little sermon. We all desire the growth, prosperity and increased influence of the American Philatelic Society; we need the interest and active support of the rank and file of American collectors to attain this end; a large membership is therefore a desideratum of the highest importance to our organization, and for that goal we have been striving. This is all as it should be; but without wishing to put any check on the good work, or dampen the zeal of the Recruiting Committee, which has accomplished so much, this Board does not hesitate to say that it believes the race has been more for quantity than quality.

We speak from the fulness of our experience, and we feel sure that members of former Boards and other past officers will agree with us. Membership in the society is a reciprocal relation. The individual becomes one of the props upon which its strength and influence rests: conversely the society becomes a sponsor for the individual in many ways, not the least of which is the use of membership as a reference. Of course no organization can undertake to guarantee the reliability of all its members, but if it be generally known and realized that complaints against members, when properly presented, will be thoroughly investigated and if proved will result in expulsion, with full name and address published in the official journal, we feel that it will act as a deterrent to some of the "props" that might be inclined to weaken at times. This course is, in general, known to our members, and is the one now being followed. But it sometimes proves a case of "locking the stable door after the horse is stolen", and it is in an effort to obtain proper use of the lock in the first place that your Board offers the following suggestions.

Because of the fact that references are given without the assent of the party referred to, and because of the use of fictitious names, we recommend that:

1. Every member proposing another person for membership must have the actual signature of the references appear on the application.
2. Before publishing an applicant's name, the Secretary shall write the references given, and if any results are unsatisfactory the case shall be referred to the Board of Vice Presidents, as is now required for objections received after the name appears. (Art. II, Sec. 1.)

Another point to be considered is the admission of juniors. This has been brought to our attention and we find that some are of the opinion that the joining of the younger collectors should not be encouraged. There are of course two sides to the question. The By-laws place no age limit on membership, but do recognize the need of a guarantee from some responsible party for a minor. (Art. II, Sec. 1.) This Board has considered the matter, and while it does not recommend that we seek junior members, yet it does not desire to shut them out if they are really anxious to join us. The young collectors of today are the philatelists of tomorrow, and any help and encouragement we can give them may repay us many fold in the future. But proper restrictions seem necessary in this case also, and acting on the Attorney's suggestion we recommend that:

3. The membership list be so arranged as to segregate the names of all under 21 years of age, and that this latter list be plainly headed "Junior Members."
4. The Attorney be instructed to draw up a proper legal form of guarantee for adoption, so that a guarantor could not deny his signature nor raise any technical question as to his responsibility.

During the year the Board has received an undue number of complaints of one kind and another. Many have been trivial, some have been quite serious. As far as possible we have endeavored to satisfy the complainants by using our good offices, but many forget that to properly set a case before the Board all correspondence and exhibits must be submitted with an affidavit. (See Art. II, Sec. 2.) We wish to emphasize this requirement, as an immense amount of correspondence has been imposed upon busy men, a great deal of which seemed unnecessary. The membership appears to regard the Board as a sort of clearing house for all their troubles, and while we realize that the By-laws give strong support to such an impression, yet we feel that more discretion might be used by individual members in very many cases.

We have desired to deal justly with all complaints sent to us, and when we deemed legal action necessary or desirable we have recommended such cases to the Attorney. We have been obliged to recommend the expulsion of members during the year, and have refused admission to applicants.* A number of cases are still on file.

The Insurance Fund has been drawn on for a total of $—* for cases of substitution occurring in the Sales Dept., and credited with $—* from the sale of substituted stamps. This question of substitution seems to be an ever-present one with all Sales Depts., and is one of the reasons for our previous recommendations in regard to stricter inquiry into the credentials of applicants, and also for the separate list of "Junior Members", so that not only our officers, but members and outsiders as well, may know who are personally responsible and who are minors. Under present conditions the Insurance Fund is amply able to take care of all claims, and the Sales Supt. is ever on the alert to track down offenders.

We have to report the formation of two new branch societies, viz.: Wichita, Kan., and Binghamton, N. Y., and the forfeiture of the charter of Branch 19 of Scranton, Pa., for non-compliance with the By-laws.

The Board has made an endeavor to do something for the society library, which has seemed to be in a quiescent state and of really but little benefit to the membership. A glance at the catalog on pp. 171-5 of the last Year Book shows a not very startling nor particularly up-to-date collection, at least for such a society as ours. Correspondence with the Librarian of the Carnegie Library at Pittsburg and our Assistant Librarian, has developed the fact that there is a large quantity of unbound matter in the form of pamphlets and magazine files, and that such matter is not regularly catalogued until properly bound. We thus have much material that does not appear in the published Convention—By the time these lines appear in print, the convention at Atlantic City will have become an accomplished fact. While the convention promises to be a lively one, good feeling will prevail and differences of opinion will be subjected to the calm processes of reason. The attendance will be large and representative and while we shall not attempt to predict the results of the transactions of the deliberative body, our news columns will give some information of the business. Next week and the one following, ample space will be given to a consideration of the convention in all its phases.

Rest in Peace—The painful impression caused by the suicide of John F. Seybold, Syracuse, New York, lingers in the minds of collectors to whom his name was almost a household word in a philatelic sense. Last week, we submitted a few details of the sad affair and now we augment them with intimate recollections of the man, gathered from Mr. Howe's article in the Syracuse Herald and also furnished by Mr. Gilbert, Vice-President of the Chicago Philatelic Society, who was Mr. Seybold's guest recently. In 1886 or 1887, the editor of the WEEKLY first entered into correspondence with Mr. Seybold and at intervals almost down to the present was in communication with him, usually on the subject of original covers, United States and Confederate. His passing away is sincerely mourned by the WEEKLY; his friendliness for the paper was manifested in many different ways. In the Syracuse Herald, Mr. Howe, a close philatelic student of the Seybold collection and a cherished friend of the deceased, contributes an appreciation of the departed philatelist in which he tells of the circumstances of the death. Ill health due to unremitting attention to business was responsible for the suicide which was committed in the department store of Mr. Seybold early one morning. Insomnia aggravated the nervous disorder and the sufferer, though sorely afflicted, never departed from the habitual courtesy that was characteristic of him, and which, together with his sterling qualities of mind and heart, attracted the good-will and enlisted the friendship of many who little suspected that so tragic a termination of Mr. Seybold's earthly career was in store. Mr. Seybold was born in Syracuse in 1858 and consequently was just over fifty years of age. His collecting career began in 1877, when his philatelic instinct was aroused by finding a stamp of Brazil, bearing the portrait of Dom Pedro who was well known in America through his attendance at the Philadelphia Centennial, held the year before. We quote from Mr. Howe: "He had expended a small fortune in accumulating rare stamps. Of late years he had made a specialty of original covers, envelopes with stamps attached. There is, in his collection, a large number of these covers as well as of single stamps, unused and canceled, which have a market value of from $100 to $500 each. Even Mr. Seybold himself did not know the total value of his collection, which embraced about 90,000 separate pieces and about 18,000 distinct varieties. . . . Mr. Seybold also had a library comprising about 300 bound volumes relating to philately. Philatelists throughout the world will be keenly interested in the ultimate disposition of the Seybold collection." Mr. Seybold is survived by his venerable parents, one brother and three sisters; and according to a paper of his home city, Mr. Seybold was soon to have married, a lady of Syracuse whom he had known from childhood being his fiancée. Mr. Seybold had assured Mr. Gilbert that he would pay a visit to the Chicago Philatelic Society soon and show the gems of his collection to the members. Said Mr. Gilbert: "If ever a man loved his stamps, it was he; and the pleasure that he took in displaying them to an appreciative collector was remarkable. While he followed ideas of his own in collecting, he was a liberal observer of the methods of others. His stamps were in quantity and quality to meet the high expectations of those who beheld them for the first time; and this is praise indeed. Philately loses an ornament and philatelists a friend in the death of Mr. Seybold."

Worth Looking For—Iver R. Johnson, Chicago, knowing of our interest in early printed postal information calls our notice to the Merchants' Magazine, New York, conducted by Freeman Hunt, which flourished in the forties and fifties, each monthly number of which contained among its departments, one devoted to postal information; and among the items in each magazine, there is usually one or more of interest to the philatelist.

Old Postmaster's Complaint—In 1851, the coinage of the small "trime" or silver three-cent piece was begun; the issue of a three-cent stamp in that year for the payment of single rate domestic postage did much to influence the adoption of the coin. What was a convenience for the public because of its adaptability for the purchase of a single stamp became a nuisance to many postmasters judging from the following letter that was sent to the postmaster at Auburn, New York, in response to a complaining missive addressed to the postoffice department. It will be noticed that the letter is signed by Horatio King, who, as shown by an item published several weeks ago was a character witness for one Norton who gave damaging evidence in the trial of Dr. Mudd, one of the Lincoln conspirators. "Post-office Department, Appointment Office, Oct. 30, 1857. Dear Sir:—Yours of the 17th instant is received, stating that you are overwhelmed with the accumulation of cents and three-cent pieces tendered to you and received as payment for postage or postage stamps; that you cannot dispose of them as they accumulate; that your banks will neither receive them in exchange for other coin nor in payment of such drafts as are left with or sent to them for collection and asking the opinion and instructions of the department in relation to them. By the 18th section of the act of August 6, 1846, it is declared that on and after the 1st day of January, 1847, 'all duties, taxes, sales of public lands, debts, and sums of money accruing or becoming due to the United States, and also all sums of money due for postage or otherwise to the General Post-office Department of the United States shall be paid in gold and silver coin only, or in treasury notes issued under the authority of the United States. By the 11th section of the act of March 3, 1851, which authorizes and regulates the coinage and issue of a silver coin 'of the denomination and legal value of three cents,' it is provided that said coin 'shall be a legal tender in payment of debts for all sums of thirty cents or under.' From the above provisions of law, still in force and unrepealed, it seems evident that you are not compelled to receive cents in payment for either postage or postage stamps, nor from any one person at any one time more than thirty cents in three-cent coin. All beyond this rests in your own discretion, and in that spirit of courtesy and accommodation which, I doubt not, will ever influence you in the discharge of your official duties. Very respectfully, etc., Horatio King, First Assistant Postmaster-General." The silver three-cent piece was small and difficult to handle and in time was supplanted by the larger three-cent coin of nickel alloy.

Surprise—Quite without warning comes the announcement that a special issue of Hudson-Fulton postage stamps has been ordered to appear to commemorate the operation of the first steamboat on the Hudson river one hundred years ago. In the following Washington despatch dated August 19th, no mention is made of the denomination of the prospective stamp but it is assumed that it is to be of two cents: "Acting Secretary Reynolds of the treasury department today signed an order for the issuance of 50,000,000 Hudson-Fulton postage stamps by the bureau of engraving and printing. The stamps were ordered in commemoration of the celebration next month of the operation of the first steamboat on the Hudson river."

Counted Out—In Mr. Davis' "A. P. S. Historical Notes" in the issue of August 14th, mention is made of the memorable election of 1890, which is well remembered by the veterans in the society. In that year, the candidates for vice-president were P. M. Wolsieffer of Chicago and C. B. Corwin of New York and the fight was a bitter one. Mr. Wolsieffer was elected to the office according to the by-laws prevailing at the time of the election but as they were changed to fit the special occasion by the Corwin adherents at the convention in New York City so as to allow that more than one director from the same state serve on the board, Mr. Wolsieffer was counted out. Mr. Corwin was given the office although he did not poll so many votes as Jos. Rechert did, who ran for international secretary from New York. The by-laws were changed at the next convention.

list and is therefore "dead" to all intents and purposes. Mr. Craver, the Librarian at Pittsburg, has taken much interest in the subject and offered to print a small edition of our catalogue to show the good will of the Carnegie Library, but is waiting now to know our disposition of the unbound matter. I quote from his letter:

"My idea is to put pamphlets in cheap pamphlet binders which can be bought in quantity and kept in stock. This binding is temporary, but would last almost indefinitely with the use that these monographs meet. The periodicals, many of which are not bound, would of course need to be regularly bound. I think $100 would fully cover all the work on hand. This would enable us then to print a catalogue of everything on hand, a catalogue which would be really useful."

Mr. Burgoyne, our Assistant Librarian, writes that "Mr. Craver is heartily desirous of pushing the library along and is hopeful of due encouragement from the society." It would seem that the society, if it is to have a library at all, should make it a worthy one or at least make it of ready service to the members. Up to the present the library has been augmented almost solely by gifts and is therefore not getting a full or even representative collection of what is being published. The society should appropriate a stated amount each year for subscriptions to current periodicals, for purchase of the most important new works, and for binding up magazine files and pamphlets. We therefore recommend that:

5. The sum of $100 be appropriated and placed at the disposal of the Librarian of the Carnegie Library at Pittsburg for binding, and putting in proper shape for cataloguing, the unbound magazine files and pamphlets now unavailable for the use of our membership.

6. The sum of $50 be appropriated and placed at the disposal of the Assistant Librarian for the purchase of standard philatelic works that may appear during the year, for subscriptions to representative periodicals, and for such binding as he may deem necessary. The selection of purchases and subscriptions to be left with the Assistant Librarian, or with him and the Philatelic Literature Com. jointly. Also that the Asst. Librarian recommend an appropriation to the convention each year that in his opinion will cover the expense of keeping up the library, as outlined, for the ensuing year.

Taking up now the matters referred to the Board by the last convention at Columbus, we note first the question of the reinvestment of the stock and insurance funds. This matter was taken up with the President and Treasurer, and after some correspondence resulted in the investing in City of St. Paul bonds, costing $2612.34, to yield 3 3/4% interest. This seemed to be the best that could be done at the time.

Second: A resolution of the last convention authorized a committee to undertake the publication of handbooks. The resolution distinctly states: "The conditions under which said books should be issued shall be left to the committee, whose plans for publication shall be endorsed by the Board of Vice Presidents before definite action be taken." The resolution was adopted "subject to such restrictions as the Board of Vice Presidents may see fit to require." Accordingly the committee appointed submitted its plans to the Board, and these were finally approved by Messrs. Howes and Green, with Mr. Kelley dissenting. A competition with two cash prizes, of $45 and $30, was announced, subject to certain published rules. Two manuscripts were submitted, but one was unfortunately too late. This left no competition, but the manuscript accepted was deemed worthy of publication and on this account was given the second prize of $30. An edition of 2200 is in press and will soon be issued. Further details will doubtless be found in the report of the committee.

The Board wishes it distinctly understood, because of certain criticisms, that the society voted to publish handbooks, and that the Board was merely authorized to pass upon the plans formulated by the committee appointed to carry out the convention vote. We are individually very glad that the society has at last awakened to its duties, and has started to do something more practical than convene once a year. We trust it will not again return to the somnolence that has distinguished it during many years past.

Third: The question of an official badge was referred to the Board with full power to act. Concerning this we will say that several designs have been submitted and we have asked for others by notice in the official journal. Only nine all told have been received, and but two of these are deemed worthy of consideration. It is to be noted that these two (one is illustrated in two styles) are of practically the same design, the single being submitted by W. H. Hollenbach and the pair by M. R. Ward. While recommending these to the notice of the society as the best designs submitted, the Board does not desire to exercise its "full power to act." The design is appropriate, but from its character does not seem to show up as well, or be as striking to the eye because of its distinctiveness, as might be. We feel that the best, most appropriate and most distinctive design for a philatelic badge or button has yet to be submitted, and with this remark we pass over the attached exhibits to the consideration of the convention.

As the members are aware, a mail vote was called for by petition on three amendments to the By-laws, one establishing the American Philatelist as a quarterly, one proposing that all proxies be voted by the Credentials Committee, and one proposing that the Sales Supt. and editors of the official organ be prohibited from holding proxies as are the Directors of the Society. The Quarterly proposition was easily carried, and we look forward to a model publication along the lines proposed. The other two propositions were lost. A majority of the votes were in favor, but statutory limitations on the affirmative vote were not fulfilled.

As a matter of fact, it is understood that the prohibition against proxy holding by the Directors (Act III, Sec. 6) is illegal, and that it can be kept in the By-laws only by sufferance. We favored the addition of the Sales Supt. and editors of the official journal to the prohibition against the Directors, but inasmuch as this amendment failed and the ban cannot legally be enforced anyway, we decided to recommend to the convention the following amendment, of which the required 60 days' notice was given in the official journal:

6. Amend the By-laws by striking out Section 6 of Article III.

It is recognized that among the Directors are often some of the best men in the society, and that a number of these officers are liable to attend every convention. We therefore feel that the prohibition works in general more to the disadvantage than to the advantage of the society, and in consequence present the amendment for its removal.

The recent proposition by our esteemed International Secretary, Mr. L. Harald Kjellstedt, that the society publish a specialized priced catalog of United States stamps, seems to be meeting with much favor. The Board heartily endorses the idea as a desirable one, and would like to see it carried out if it can be done by a committee of competent philatelists, such as we believe can be found. But we do not recommend the pricing of such a catalog, if issued by the society. Too many considerations, too many widely different interests and ideas, all in conflict, would be involved in trying to make the committee a mercantile firm for pricing its wares. Any notes on relative values, as deduced from the quantities used, issued, known, etc., would be valuable aids; anything further would not only be superfluous, to our minds, but unwise, unnecessary and even hazardous.

We have found that heretofore there has been no written contract with the paper chosen as the official organ. This leaves many openings for misunderstandings and other objectionable happenings, as we have found out. We therefore recommend that:

8. The Attorney be instructed to draw up a proper legal contract, with the advice and approval of the Secretary and Board of Vice Presidents, which any paper receiving the vote for official journal shall be required to sign.

In regard to publishing the names in full of members dropped for non-payment of dues, many of which may have defaulted unwittingly, the Board desires to recommend, for many obvious reasons, that:

9. Lists of members dropped for non-payment of dues shall appear in the official organ by number only; but members expelled by the Board of Directors shall have full name, address and membership number published.

Finally, we wish to speak of a handicap under which the Board and probably previous ones have suffered. From the time of the convention last year, until the appearance of the Year Book, five months later, the Board was without official notice or information for its guidance of the changes made in the By-laws or the matters referred to the Board by the convention. Of course the early publication of the Quarterly will remedy this to some extent, but, because of the important position of the Board in the work of the society, such a contingency should hereafter be prevented from occurring. We therefore recommend that:

10. Immediately upon the transcription of the convention report, the Secretary shall have a brief digest made for the Board of Vice Presidents, stating in full all changes made in the By-laws and matters referred to the Board, and also noting any other important actions taken.

Following this report and forming a part of it, will be found the annual report of the Sales Supt., duly audited. We commend this excellent report to your favorable notice, and heartily endorse the remarks for the betterment of the service therein contained.

In laying down our duties we beg to thank the membership for their confidence in us in twice electing us to serve them, and also to thank the other officers of the society as well as individual members for their hearty coöperation in all matters that we have had to bring before them.

HUDSON-FULTON COMMEMORATIVE.

Special Stamp to be Issued to Commemorate the Hudson-Fulton Celebration.

(Several readers have favored us with clippings in connection with the issue of the stamp referred to. They will kindly accept this recognition of the same.—ED.)

A new two-cent stamp will be issued to commemorate the Hudson-Fulton celebration from Sept. 25 to Oct. 9. Fifty millions will be issued, and will be on sale by Sept. 20.

The stamp is oblong, about 7/8 by 1 1/8 inches in size, and comprises a border containing at the top the inscription "Hudson-Fulton Centenary", with the dates "1809" and "1909". Below this inscription in a curved line are the words

"U. S. Postage". At the bottom on each side is a prominent Arabic numeral two with the words "Two Cents" in a panel between the figures.

In the centre is engraved a picture showing the Palisades of the Hudson in the background, with the Half Moon going up the river and the Clermont steaming in the opposite direction. In the foreground is an Indian in a canoe, and in the distance, just discernible, is a canoe containing four other Indians, the canoes representing the first means of navigating the river. The stamp will be printed in red.

The year 1909 will be long remembered in philately. Beginning in the latter part of 1908 the United States government began putting out a new regular issue comprising eleven varieties. On Feb. 12 the stamp for the commemoration of the Lincoln centenary appeared. About the same time the new "Merry Widow" special delivery was issued. On June 1, the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition stamp was placed on sale. When the Hudson-Fulton stamp is out, the total number of new varieties for the last nine months will have reached 16. This does not include about 25 or 30 of the part perforates and imperforates used in mailing machines.

An order has been issued which discontinues the new green special delivery stamp. The reason given is that the stamp looks so much like a pair of ones that the mail clerks have trouble in sorting the mail. The same is reported about the eight-cent stamp of the present regular issue. This stamp is an olive green. The old blue stamp of the 1902 issue is now being supplied to offices.

Postmaster General Hitchcock is having several tests made by the Agricultural department for better material for the making of postal cards. The color and the printing may be changed. The present four-year contract with the company now printing them expires Dec. 31, 1909. The new contract will call for the delivery of 75,000,000 cards each month.—Syracuse (N. Y.) Journal.

PLAIN B. INSTEAD OF V. D. B.

Only One Initial of Designer to be Left on Lincoln Pennies.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh announced today he had decided to have the minting of the new Lincoln pennies stopped and that new dies will be prepared eliminating the initials of the designer, which now appear so prominently, and substituting the single initial B. in an obscure part of the design. The Secretary said that none of the pennies issued so far would be called in, but that the minting would be stopped because a sufficient supply was on hand. The initials V. D. B. are those of the designer, V. D. Brenner of New York, and the single letter B., in an inconspicuous place, will be left in the new dies as recognition of Mr. Brenner's work.

Mr. MacVeagh said that he did not know that the initials would appear in embossed form on the pennies, and that he was surprised when he saw the prominent place they had been given in the design. It has been customary to permit designers to cut one or more of their initials into the design somewhere, but these letters usually have been so small as to require a magnifying glass to discover them.—Clipping from HUGO KUENSTLER.

CHRONICLE OF NEW ISSUES.

Edited by HENRY A. KIDDER.

Any information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged. Address HENRY A. KIDDER, 17 Addison Street, Arlington, Mass.

UNITED STATES.—J. A. Steinmetz has shown us a precancelled stamp from Akron, Ohio, in the usual large type, badly printed style, but inverted, with parts of two overprints on the same stamp.

The daily papers announce in their Washington correspondence that Postmaster General Hitchcock has signed an order for the issuance of the new 2c stamp in commemoration of the Hudson-Fulton celebration. We are indebted to Michael Szalay for a clipping from the New York Staats Zeitung, and other papers also have full particulars. It appears that the issue is to be 50,000,000 stamps. We have not yet obtained full definite information regarding the design, but it will bear a portrait of Hudson and pictures of the "Half Moon" and the "Clermont", the latter being Fulton's steamboat, the first practical steamship.

NEW ZEALAND.—Wilcox, Smith & Co. send us specimens of the current 1/2d stamp, surcharged "Official", both the stamp and the surcharge being new. The stamp appears to have been re-engraved, and is printed in a very much darker shade of ink, and the latter is also true of the surcharge, which is now in a brilliant black, instead of the gray black formerly current.

NICARAGUA.—We are indebted to Edward des Brunner for information regarding the new Nicaragua overprints, noted last week.

NORTH BORNEO.—The Scott Stamp & Coin Company has shown us the new series of stamps just issued for this Colony and like the previous set, they are very handsomely designed and engraved. All the stamps are in two colors, the 1c, 3c, 4c, 5c, 8c and 24c being horizontal, while the other values are upright, the size being about the same as the previous issue, though the horizontal stamps are a little larger than the upright ones. The vignettes show: 1c, tapir; 2c, native tree, similar to that on the Madagascar stamps; 3c, railroad station in Borneo; 4c, group of officials; 5c, elephant and native keeper; 6c, rhinoceros; 8c, native farming scene; 10c, wild boar; 12c, parrot; 16c, rhinoceros bird; 18c, native bull; 24c, emu. Curiously enough, the new set carries a provisional, presumably owing to some change in the rates of postage. The 18c has been converted into a 20c stamp by surcharging it "20—cents" in red in two lines, the figures being large gothic type. The whole set presents a very fine appearance and will undoubtedly be popular with collectors. The stamps bear the imprint of Waterlow & Sons, Limited, London. They are printed on unwatermarked paper, and are perforated 14.

SALVADOR.—Hermann Focke informs us that the current 6c vermilion and black has been seen with the shield and anchor in red instead of black. Only enough were printed thus "by mistake" to supply a few postal employees, who are collectors on the side. Their value, philatelically speaking, is nil.

SPAIN.—Hermann Focke sends us a cover having an imperforate copy of the current 20c stamp, but printed in a gray instead of the usual greenish black.

SPANISH GUINEA.—Through the courtesy of the New England Stamp Co. we are now able to correct the chronicle of the new set given in No. 955. The 40c is printed in lake, the 4p in orange and the 10p in orange red. No 2p is included in the set, but the 10p, which was omitted from the former chronicle, is now included. The 2c, which was given as uncertain, was printed in dark brown.

SPANISH MOROCCO.—In No. 970, we stated on the authority of a foreign contemporary that the new surcharges were in black. We have now been shown a set by the New England Stamp Co. and find that all the centimo values are surcharged in red, except the 40c, and that is surcharged in blue.

STRAITS SETTLEMENTS.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us the 25c in a new color.

CANAL ZONE WITH "Z" MISSING.

BY GEO. L. TOPPAN.

I note the following in the Scott Stamp & Coin Co's Circular for August 15th: "The 1c black and green, head type, of the Canal Zone, has appeared with one stamp on the sheet, No. 35, with the 'Z' of 'ZONE' missing. The error was soon discovered and corrected, and we are unable to state, as yet, how many sheets were issued."

This error occurred in the next to the last printing, which consisted of 3000 sheets and, so far as I have been able to ascertain, all contained the error. It is, of course, quite possible that some were used in the regular course of business.

It was, however, corrected for the next, and last, printing, but, if place of it, on No. 93 in the sheet, we find another error in which both the "C" and the "L" of "CANAL" are missing. This printing consisted of 1,000 sheets and, so far as I know, only about 100 blocks with this error are known.

FRANCE REFUSES TWO-CENT RATE.

PARIS, Aug. 17.—The French government has decided it is at present unable, on account of the budget situation and conditions, to accept the proposal made by the United States to enter upon negotiations for a two-cent rate on letters between the two countries. — Clipping from HUGO KUENSTLER.

NICKEL REGISTERS LETTERS.

Slot Machine Used Successfully by French Post Offices.

PARIS, Aug. 27.—The French government has introduced into use an ingenious automatic device for registering letters. The letter is dropped into a box and a nickel piece, purchasable for five cents, placed in the slot. The crank is turned, a numbered receipt falls out and the corresponding number is stamped on the letter. The ingenious feature of the machine is the device for preventing the use of any except the nickel coin.

This is accomplished by means of a magnet, which attracts only iron and nickel, the latter feebly. But the slight attraction of the nickel is neatly calculated, and as the coin falls the attraction is just sufficient to retard it and make it fall into the pocket which operates the mechanism. An iron piece, on the other hand, would be strongly attracted, miss the pocket and be ejected. All other coins also are ejected.—Clipping from HUGO KUENSTLER.

A. P. S. HISTORICAL NOTES.

By H. A. DAVIS, Pres. Colo. Branch, No. 22, 1892, Seventh Annual Convention.

The American Philatelic Society was incorporated under the laws of West Virginia, January 20th, 1892. The seal of the society was adopted same date. The stock was placed on sale at $1.00 per share soon after incorporating. Stock certificates were first sent out in May. This being election year the following nominations were made and published in the official journal:

For President, Jno. K. Tiffany, Missouri; R. C. H. Brock, Pennsylvania; Alvah Davison, New Jersey; Vice Pres., W. C. Vanderlip, Massachusetts; R. R. Bogert, New York; P. M. Wolsieffer, Illinois; C. H. Mekeel, Missouri; I. B. Cohen, South Carolina; Secretary, Millard F. Walton, Pennsylvania; H. E. Deats, New Jersey; S. B. Bradt, Illinois; Treasurer, Chas. Gregory, New York; C. H. Mekeel, Missouri; E. B. Hanes, Pennsylvania; A. L. Colman, Illinois; N. W. Chandler, Illinois; Intl. Sec., Jos. Rechert, New Jersey; Henry Clotz, New York; Wm. Sellschopp, California; Trustees, Frank H. Burt, Chas. A. Hobbs and H. K. Sanderson, all of Massachusetts; H. E. Deats, Alvah Davison, G. H. Watson, all of New Jersey; C. H. Mekeel, Col. T. B. Rogers, Missouri; N. W. Chandler, Illinois; G. B. Calman, New York.

The seventh annual convention opened in the parlors of the International Hotel, Niagara Falls, N. Y., August 15th, President Tiffany in the chair, and 23 members and 10 visitors present. 139 members were represented by proxy.

The secretary's report showed 532 members, of which 220 had subscribed for stock. New members admitted during the fiscal year 68, reinstated 8, resigned 111, died 1. Net loss during the year 35 members. Treasurer's report showed balance on hand, General Fund $199.17, and $185.00 in the Stock Fund. The American Philatelist cost the Society $28.99 per month net. It cost the society $10.00 to incorporate. Sales in the Sales Dept. amounted to $833.05.

A banquet was given at the International Hotel on the evening of the 16th. Following was the result of the election:

President, Jno. K. Tiffany, Missouri; Vice Pres., W. C. Vanderlip, Massachusetts; Sec., Millard F. Walton, Pennsylvania; Treas., N. W. Chandler, Illinois; Intl. Sec., Jos. Rechert, New Jersey; Trustees, Geo. H. Watson, New Jersey, Henry Clotz, G. B. Calman, New York.

This Official Board made the following appointments:

Supt. of Sales, R. F. Albrecht, New York; Int. Supt. of Sales, C. Welt, New York; Literary Exc. Supt. Dr. G. N. Campbell, Kentucky; Counterfeit Det., E. A. Holton, Massachusetts; Examiner of Exchange, R. Wuesthoff, New York; 1st Pur. Agt., H. Flachskam; N. Y. Auction Agt., J. W. Scott; Chicago Auction Agt., S. B. Bradt; San Francisco Auction Agt., Wm. E. Loy; Collection Agt., J. A. Wainwright, Massachusetts; Librarian, H. E. Deats, New Jersey; Literary Board, Wm. C. Stone, editor in chief, Sam'l Leland, Chicago, A. R. Rogers, New York, J. D. Rice, New Jersey, C. A. Hobbs, Massachusetts; Resident Vice Pres., P. M. Wolsieffer, Chicago, Ill., E. Doebelin, Allegheny, Pa., W. E. Loy, San Francisco, Calif., C. H. Mekeel, St. Louis, Mo., Julius Adenaw, New York.

It will be noted that the offices 2nd, 3rd and 4th Pur. Agt. were changed in name to Auction Agts. The C. H. Mekeel Stamp & Pub. Co., St. Louis, Mo., received the contract for printing the American Philatelist.

The convention adjourned to meet in Chicago, Ill., in 1893.

WE have a new series of approval books with the stamps arranged alphabetically according to countries. This series contains about 4000 varieties on which we allow 50% discount.

WE have another series consisting of unused stamps only containing about 8000 varieties and another series of used stamps only, also containing about 8000 varieties. These series are divided into books containing 100 stamps each, liberal discounts allowed.

WE also make up special books containing stamps from any country desired.

ANY one known to us or who furnishes satisfactory reference can have any of the above books sent on approval.

A. P. S. CONVENTION AT ATLANTIC CITY.

A Great Gathering of Philatelists Assembled at the Annual Meet.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 24, 1909.
—Special to MEKEEL'S WEEKLY.—The annual convention of the American Philatelic Society was called to order at the Hotel Rudolf this A. M. The report of the Credential Committee showed that the St. Louis ticket triumphed in the election of officers. The following will be the board for the coming year:
President, Henry N. Mudge, Ill.
Vice Presidents, F. R. Cornwall, A. Strauss and Chester Myers, all of Mo.
Secretary, H. S. Adair, of Ohio.
Treasurer, Dr. W. P. Wherry, Nebr.
Int. Sec., L. H. Kjellstedt, Penn.
Directors, Gen. C. A. Coolidge, Mich., and A. H. Weber, Cal.

The day has been given over to the reports of officers and committees. Full report in next issue of the WEEKLY.

TRIBUTE OF EDITOR HOWE.

The tragic ending of the life of John F. Seybold, the prominent North Side merchant, is a genuine shock to the people of that section of the city. He had prospered in business; his life was a pleasant one, and he was naturally of a genial disposition. He was, moreover, a man of robust physique and a prodigy of industry. A serious nervous breakdown that visited him a few weeks ago is the only explanation of the tragedy that closed his career this morning. The case is a pitiful one, and a source of heartfelt grief to friends and relatives. Mr. Seybold had attained an international celebrity among philatelists. He was the possessor of one of the most extensive and valuable collections of postage stamps in the world. He was a man of many excellent qualities—honest, thrifty, courteous and companionable—and his death will be deeply deplored in the city in which all his life had been passed.—Syracuse Herald.

REPORTS OF A. P. S. COMMITTEES.

REPORT OF OBITUARY COMMITTEE.

I will not take up your time with routine matters which, while I believe them to be essential and altogether proper in their nature, still will have nothing to do with expediting matters of the convention. In discharging the duties of this committee for another year, however, it will not be out of place for me to say that in each case where it was possible I have felt it to be my duty, in behalf of the fraternal society of which the deceased was a member, to write the family, expressing through myself the sympathy of all members, and offering to do whatever was in my power to aid in a philatelic way. In this way, it has been my privilege to aid in some slight direction toward the goal of the philatelic brotherhood an exemplar of which the ideal stamp society should, we all hope, be.

The death roll has not only been numerically large but serious from the standpoint of the faithful and influential workers that have been removed. I need not give further details save the following names:

Edwin L. Porter of Pittsburg.
J. W. Paul of Philadelphia, the details of whose magnificent collection you are all familiar with.
C. C. Johnson of Milwaukee, influential and beloved for years.
J. T. Starr, Coldwater, Mich., owner of a large stamp business.
Otto von Besser of New York, druggist.
J. N. T. Levick of New York, charter member.
Thos. McMurray of New York, merchant and financier.
F. O. Hanson of Knoxville, Ills.
B. M. Carpenter, Albuquerque, N. M.
J. Watson Smith of St. Paul.
Albert Deicke of Chicago.
W. R. Clark of Hartford.
F. P. Richardson of Boston.
F. N. Massoth of Chicago, for many years a leading dealer and publisher.
Louis Desmarais, Jr., of Keenansville, N. C.

For the Committee,
JULIAN PARK, Chmn.,
F. L. PALMER,
J. B. EKELEY.

REPORT OF EXAMINER OF SALES BOOKS.

From the 2437 books submitted to me during the year, I removed 265 counterfeits, for which fines amounting to $64.51 were collected. This is quite an increase over the number of counterfeits removed last year, which was only 95. This great increase is chiefly due to the fact that many good counterfeits have turned up this year, which were offered at low prices. Believing them to be originals, several dealers imported them in large quantities and re-sold them in this country. I have seven special cases in mind which I will quote:

(1) Panama, 1887, 50c brown. I warned against this forgery in my last year's report, but still a number of them have found their way into the sales books at prices varying from 20c to 50c. The forgery can be readily recognized by the narrow final "a" of the word PANAMA.

(2) Bulgaria, 1902 Jubilee issue. These were also mentioned before. The forgeries are printed in duller colors. The design differs slightly from the original.

(3) Hayti, 1904 issue, Scott's Nos. 96 to 101. Forgeries of these stamps were shown me by Mr. John A. Klemann, who also pointed out a few of the differences, which are very slight, as the forgeries are well made. The 1c can be readily told by the right cannonball pyramid. In the original all the balls are distinct and regular, while in the forgery the balls of the second row are irregular like those of the other values. In the original 50c the bell of the trumpet cuts through the shading at bottom; in the forgeries it does not, but is similar to the other values. The paper of the forgeries is somewhat whiter, and the gum thicker and more crackly.

(4) China Postage Due Surcharges. I found a few of these sets with forged surcharges which may be recognized by a break in the top of the "G", which never occurs in the original. I may also mention here that a large number of originals of these, especially the half cent, which were held by speculators, were thrown on the market about a year ago. This caused quite a fall in the price. Sets are being offered by various first class dealers at about $2.50, and are, of course, genuine.

(5) Venezuela, 1896, so called "Miranda Issue." These are printed in dull colors, are well perforated, and almost always better centered than the originals. The best distinguishing mark is the "River" near the word "Guayana," which in the original closely approaches the word, while in the forgery is 1½ mm. away from it. These stamps being pictorials are especially sought by younger collectors, in many of whose albums they have no doubt found a place.

(6) French China, 1903, 5c surcharged on 15c. The surcharge is dull black. The genuine surcharge is dark blue. The type is very similar to that of the original.

(7) Siam, Scott's No. 7, surcharged "1 Tical." This, of course, may be readily recognized by the wrong spelling of the value, which should be "Tical."

Of the older counterfeits the following were the most persistent: Bechuanaland, small surcharges; British Colonies lithographed; Danube Steam Navigation Company, regular scallops in centre; Griqualand, fancy surcharges; Hamburg with cancellations containing star; Heligoland reprints with forged cancellations; Italy, surcharged "ESTERO" with corners unaltered; Japan forgeries, some of which have the "San Ko" mark, others the 13, 14, 15 and 17 petalled chrysanthemum, (the originals should have 16 petals); Servia, 1866 issue, with bust of Michael. Many of these exist that have four vertical lines of shading in the left hand side of the circle containing the bust. Also Suez Canal with heavy smoke rings, and early Switzerland, (home made brand). I must again make mention of the South Bulgaria surcharges, of which two new types have turned up, while the older forgeries, especially the so-called "Oriental Types," have become less plentiful.

EUGENE KLEIN, EX. OF SALES BOOKS.

REPORT OF RECRUITING COMMITTEE.

During the past year the recruiting work of the society has been conducted along lines productive of good results, as the report of the secretary will show. This report is written too far in advance, however, to attempt anything in the way of statistics, and a statement will later be made through the philatelic press, giving the names of members who have introduced two or more applicants during the year.

We have come within the appropriation of one year ago and would recommend that a similar amount, $150.00, be placed at the disposal of the recruiting committee for the ensuing year.

The society was never in a more flourishing condition than today and "2000 members in 1910" should be easily attained. It can be if every member will only do his part.

WILLARD O. WYLIE, Chmn. Rec. Com.

REPORT OF INTERNATIONAL SECRETARY.

I am pleased to be able to state that the year, now drawing to a close, has brought marked improvements in our relations with the leading philatelic societies abroad. The important Austrian Society, "Vindabuna" of Vienna, as well as the "British Guiana Philatelic Society," have elected the American Philatelic Society a corresponding member, and I earnestly ask of the present convention not to fail to return these courtesies by the election of the societies mentioned to corresponding membership of our society.

The Royal Philatelic Society, London, has agreed to exchange publications with our society, and we are now receiving the London Philatelist regularly and hold the promise of having our library supplied with missing volumes of this excellent publication.

The Philatelic Society of Sweden, the Internationaler Philatelisten Verein, Dresden, the Hert's Philatelic Society, London, and the British Guiana Phil. Society send us regularly the periodicals published by them. Mr. Philip Kosack of Berlin has also favored us with his journal, the Berliner Briefmarken Zeitung. Year Books have been received from the "Oberelsassischer Philatelisten-Club" of Mülhausen, Germany, and the Dutch union of philatelic societies, "Hollandia" of Amsterdam. The Swedish Society sent us their year book as well as a dedicated copy of the lux edition of Krasemann's Bibliography of which only 100 copies were printed. Results of a proposition to exchange publications with the Junior Philatelic Society, London, are still pending.

My reports to the Vertrauliches Korrespondenz-Blatt have been mailed about the 20th of each month, and have as regularly been reproduced in that journal, and I earnestly recommend the continuance of our subscription to its valuable services.

Advertisements by the Recruiting Committee in the publication just referred to, as well as in the Stamp Lover have resulted in quite a number of inquiries which have all been answered by personal letters with literature enclosed. The applications received from this source have been comparatively few and mostly from foreign dealers who desire to avail themselves of the services of our Sales Department. This notwithstanding I believe that such advertising on a small scale and judiciously placed will prove of benefit to our society.

It is a well known fact that, compared with the leading European societies, the building up of our library has been sadly neglected and this fact was recently and regretfully commented upon in the columns of the Philatelic Literature Society's journal. I believe that the office of the International Secretary can be made very useful towards changing this condition. With a quarterly publication, and possibly some handbooks, we have an excellent exchange medium, and I recommend that a number of copies of each be placed in the hands of the International Secretary for use in literature exchanges with other societies. I also beg to repeat my recommendation to the Columbus convention, that our society become a member of the Philatelic Literature Society and appoint a representative to that society who is willing and has the ability to promote our interests in that quarter. Before closing I may state that I have sent the greetings and well wishes of our society to the Swiss general convention at Locle and the German "Philatelisten-Tag" at Carlsbad.

2000 MEMBERS IN 1910.

The watchword for the coming year is "2000 members in 1910". This will be a splendid accomplishment and there is no reason why we should not succeed in attaining that mark.

The set of handbooks being published and given free to our members, coupled with the Quarterly, to say nothing of the other features, will make a strong argument for you to give us your membership.

Write us for an application blank, or better still, send in your name with residence, age, business and commercial reference, accompanying the same with $1.00 for share of stock and $1.20 for yearly dues commencing Sept. 1.

Sec. Adair will send you Dr. Carroll
Chase's work, "The Three-Cent U. S.
Stamp of 1851", just as soon as your application is favorably acted upon.

UNSATISFACTORY TRADE RELATIONS.

In past weeks upon mere notification
we have made reference to unsatisfactory trade relations reported by either dealer or subscriber. In the future we must ask that all cases be placed with an attorney or collection agency, when the findings in the case will gladly be published in our columns. The reason for this step is no doubt apparent.

F. D. Goodhue, 711 Mercantile Library and there will be no fee for services unless collections result.

SAGINAW COLLECTORS ORGANIZE.

Branch of American Philatelic Society to be located in that City.

Saginaw (Mich.) stamp collectors have organized a society for the advancement of their mutual interest and the further development of their hobby, which is expected to increase interest in this work and to prove of benefit to the members.
The society will be a branch of the American Philatelic Society, which numbers 1800 members throughout the world. The charter will be granted at the next meeting of the national body in Atlantic City. The next meeting will be held Monday evening at a place to be fixed later. It is desired that all lovers of stamp collecting affiliate themselves with the local society and assist in its work.

Officers of the society have been elected as follows:

President—John J. Spencer.

Secretary—Max P. Heavenrich.

Treasurer—Fred Doughty.

Sales Agent—F. J. Martin.

The present members of the society,

in addition to the officers, are Fred Campbell, E. P. Roeser, Fred Newton,
Dr. Joseph H. Cowell, Charles Kelsey and Joseph Demers.—Saginaw Herald.

BAN ON FROSTED POST CARDS.

Twenty Thousand, Poorly Enclosed, Sent to Dead Letter Office Daily.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Failure to enclose tinselled or frosted post cards in tightly sealed envelopes to prevent the escape of particles of tinsel, mica and the like is causing from 15,000 to 20,000 of such cards to be withdrawn from the mails every day and sent to the Dead Letter Office.

Following the order making cards of such character unmailable unless enclosed in envelopes so treated as to prevent injuries to employees, post card dealers began supplying their customers with flimsy transparent envelopes for the cards, which has resulted in much difficulty to the department. The postage stamp is frequently placed on the card inside the envelope, thereby preventing its cancellation and the envelopes fail to prevent the escape of particles which fill the air in postal cars, thereby causing inflammation of the eyes of railway mail clerks.—Clipping from HUGO KUENST-LER.

FIVE CENTS FOR E PLURIBUS.

"Excuse me, ma'am, I didn't mean to give you that new penny in change. It's one of those Lincoln cents that's got the man's name on," said the laundry boy to the Flat Lady.

She had not seen one of these coins before and examined it curiously.

"I don't see anybody's name," she said
finally, handing it back. "Where is it?"

"There it is, ma'am. In big letters," said the laundry boy, pointing out "E Pluribus Unum".

"Why, that isn't a man's name. That's a motto," said the Flat Lady.

"But the feller I bought the cent of for a nickel told me that was a man's name and they were goin' to take it off the coin," said the laundry boy. "I guess I got stung again," he added, as he turned away.—Clipping from HUGO KUENST-LER.

THE ATLANTIC CITY CONVENTION.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE AMERICAN PHILATELIC SOCIETY PROVES VERY SUCCESSFUL.

By WILLARD O. WYLIE.

We have already published in the WEEKLY much of the official matter presented in the form of reports at the Atlantic City convention. The annual message of Pres. Luff, together with the report of the Board of Vice Presidents published last week, presented a very interesting resume of the year's work, both from a philatelic as well as Society standpoint.

The convention was a great success, not only in the way of attendance, but in the harmony that marked all of its sessions. The attendants were favored with beautiful weather and the natural attractions of the convention city, coupled with the courtesies shown by Philadelphia philatelists, made the week a very enjoyable one.

The convention was marked by the attendance of a large number of the "old guard", and one could not but note the experienced and matured philatelists present. The legislative matters that came before the society were dealt with expeditiously and with so much unanimity that only two roll-calls were required.

REPORT OF SECRETARY.

Henry S. Adair in his report as secretary stated that two new branches had been chartered during the past year, No. 31 Wichita, Kans., and No. 32 Binghamton, N. Y. Several other applications for charters have been received. There are at the present time in existence seventeen branches.

The membership July 18, 1908, was 1514, while the figures shown Aug. 28, 1909, 1757. This is a net gain of 243 over last year. We now have 162 foreign members, a gain of 46 over last year. The secretary paid a tribute to the work of the recruiting committee and made the following report upon the applications received:

Willard O. Wylie, 154 L. H. Kjellstedt, 12 Henry S. Adair, 20 Eugene Klein, 10 W. H. Barnum, 19 H. L. Perkins, 9

Two each:—W. H. Bainbridge, Wm. F. McMillan, Chester Myers, C. E. Severn, G. W. Linn, J. A. Solomon, V. Mozian, J. M. Bartels, Ross O'Shaughnessy, P. M. Wolsieffer, H. B. Bromley, H. L. Porter, R. I. Guthman and J. W. Prevost.

No less than eighty-four members sent in one application each.

In closing his report the secretary said: "The year ending Aug. 31, 1910, should be a banner year for us, as with the inducements we are offering to our membership we should have no trouble to hold our present membership intact but get twice the number of new members secured last year. The new series of hand books and the Quarterly should be powerful persuaders and it should be an easy matter to demonstrate that it is the duty of every live philatelist to be one of us and help in the good work we are doing for our science on this side of the globe. By increasing our membership we increase our power to do good to all and this sought-for increase in our membership will make

REPLY OF A PHILATELIST TO THE QUERY "CUI BONO".

From the Brit. Guiana Phil. Journal.

Think kindly, pray; do not despise, What may seem useless in your eyes Before you have consider'd well! See what these "paper medals" tell. The graver's tool, the artist's skill, A worthy purpose here fulfil; By value, portrait, symbol, date, The stamp can show the Realm or State; On this small square you look, and find The mirror of a nation's mind!

In every cultivated race These little messengers find place: These fragile links bind land to land, And aid the love of heart and hand; Through them the Treasury chests o'er-flow, And nations countless thanks will owe That Englishman whose active brain Contriv'd this fairy flow of gain! As notes on music's varied page, Touch all the chords from youth to age, So in this book, in fancied chime, We range these silent notes of time; Suggesting to the thoughtful eye The fitful strains of history.

Here as in mimic gallery plac'd, Portraits of fair and great are trac'd; Kings, Emperors, and Chiefs of fame, Queens—with our own of honoured name— And pictur'd stories of each land. From frozen shore to sunny strand: St. Salvador with flaming crest, Or Nicaragua's vale of rest; From Costa Rica's tropic steeps, To where the Alpine gentian peeps; Peru can show her llamas fleet, Canadians their shrewd beaver greet. Australia's swan floats proudly by, Newfoundland's seats on iceberg's lie; "The Stars and Stripes" their history trace, From Britain's world encircling race; While Virgin Islands gladly boast, "Our Lady" still defends their coast, In happy proof that they are kin Each language sends its tribute in; And, token of fraternal land, The sign is passed from hand to hand: Babel's confusion here is still'd, Another tongue the world has fill'd; In pages, that with jealous caste All others shunn'd for ages past, Ancient traditions now forget, To join the world's new alphabet!

Thus, as each chequer'd page we turn, The course of dynasties we learn; While art and history combine To make you praise these stamps of mine.

REPORTS OF A. P. S. COMMITTEES.REPORT ON PHILATELIC LITERATURE.

In submitting this the eleventh annual summary of the literature of our hobby, your committee desires again to call attention to the Philatelic Literature Society organized about two years ago in England. The organization is not a large one and the dues are somewhat high, but it is one which every true lover of our literature should do all in his power to support. The journal of the society commenced publication in January of last year and is published quarterly. Already many valuable bibliographies have been published and the magazine is invaluable to collectors and students alike. In reply to a query the chairman of your committee supplied the journal with a list of the various publications which have acted as official journal for our own society, and thinking it might be of value to our own members annexes a copy to this report.

Several very pretentious works have appeared during the past year. From the pen of Charles J. Phillips has appeared The Stamps of Fiji, published by Stanley Gibbons. E. D. Bacon characterizes it as one of the best philatelic monographs that has ever been published. It can be had of the publishers for $6.60 in paper covers or in half morocco for $9.65 post free.

Another important work is that issued by the Philatelic Society of India dealing with the postage stamps of Afghanistan. While the country is not a popular one with the average collector the book is a much needed one. Most of the text was published in the Philatelic Journal of India during the past few years and it has been revised and a check list added together with 24 plates of illustrations. It is for sale by W. T. Wilson, Birmingham, England, and the price is 20 shillings.

Mr. Fred J. Melville, the energetic president of the Junior Philatelic Society, is responsible for the issue of a series of monographs for which there should be a large sale. They are of handy pocket size and each is devoted to the stamps of a particular country or some portion thereof. They contain a careful survey of the postal history of the country in addition to the descriptive matter concerning the stamps and a good bibliography is also included. Single numbers can be had for 15c each or the series of eight for $1.00. The titles of those already issued include line engraved stamps of Great Britain, British Central Africa, United States 1847-69, Gambia, Nevis, Holland. The New England Stamp Co., of Boston and H. L. Perkins of Hartford, Conn., are agents for this country.

Another publication of Mr. Melville's is the story of penny postage under the title of A Penny all the Way. The price is the same as the above.

Two similar manuals by B. W. H. Poole deal with the stamps of Hong Kong and the Falkland Islands respectively. They can be had from Mr. Perkins for 17 cents each.

Hawaiian Numerals, by Henry J. Crocker, is a book of which too much can not be said in praise. It contains a most complete description of these stamps and illustrations of the different printings together with a history of the other stamps issued by the Hawaiian government from 1851 to 1866. There are 22 full page plates in a pocket at the back of the book which is magnificently bound in half morocco with gilt edges. It is sold for $5.15 post paid and can be had from the author, 354 Pine St., San Francisco, Cal., or from the leading stamp dealers.

Walter Clarke Bellows has recently issued a work on the Stamps of Campeche which deals very fully with these most interesting and rare Mexican provisionals. It is safe to say that no better authority can be found than Mr. Bellows and the book will appeal to all who are interested in those stamps.

The catalogue of Private Tobacco Proprietary Stamps printed on tin foil, etc., to which allusion was made in our last report has since made its appearance. It was compiled by J. Delano Bartlett and John W. Prevost and is the first list of the kind since 1883. It is a work which needs to be seen to be appreciated and will be a great boon to collectors of these lines. The price is $1.00, and the book can be had from the authors at 963 Sumner Avenue, Springfield, Mass.

The valuable work on the Stamps of France by the late Arthur Maury which came out last year has been completed by a supplement of some 250 pages bringing it fully up to date.

The Stamp Collectors' Annual for 1909 contains several interesting articles including one upon the Circular Delivery stamps of Great Britain, which is a subject but little known. The usual periodical index for the past year is by no means the least important part of the book. It is for sale by Chas. Nissen & Co., 7 Southampton Row, London, and the price is 30 cents.

A work of which we have seen only a review is Sellos Postales de la Republica Argentina. Sellos Rivadavia 1864-1872, by Jose Marco del Pont. It is evidently one of a series, that treating of the Confederation stamps having appeared in 1902, and others will probably follow. No particulars as to price, etc. are at hand.

Charles Meddel, 118 Rue d'Assas, Paris, has issued several works which are reprints from his journal Le Timbre Poste we believe. Les Emissions des Timbres Grecs is the latest and it sells for 35 cents. Les Timbres de Breeme is the title of another and still a third is Les Timbres Cantonaux de la Suisse. This latter sells for 40 cents.

A second edition for private circulation only has been issued of the Bibliographies of Special Subjects published recently by the Swedish society.

A bibliography of the literature of Austro-Hungary was commenced in Der Philatelist for February. It is of great value.

The Year book of the United States Revenue Society contained in addition to the official reports a bibliography of the publications of E. B. Sterling and the commencement of a general bibliography of United States revenues.

A work on the postmarks of the British Isles from 1840 has been running as a supplement to Gibbons Stamp Weekly for the past few months and is pagged separately so that it can be bound up by itself when completed.

A number of the leading articles published in MEKEEL'S WEEKLY STAMP NEWS have been reprinted on large pages suitable for insertion in albums or for binding separately. It is a good idea and one that we regret was not adopted long ago. The price is 5 cents each or the set of sixteen now ready for 65 cents.

We have recently seen a note concerning a work entitled Les Falsifications du Transvaal by Leon de Raaij. No particulars as to price are at hand.

Of catalogues there have been the usual annual issues. Scott, Gibbons, Kohl, Yvert-Tellier, Galvez, Senf, Hagen and possibly others have appeared revised and brought up to date of publication. The local stamps of the United States and China are no longer included in Scott's catalogue but are issued in NOTES ON PAPUA.

By E. D. E. VAN WEENEN.

Mr. A. Ashby, in The Record of the Philatelic Students' Fellowship (a private English philatelic publication), contributes an interesting article, "The Postmarks of British New Guinea and Papua," and as this island is gradually getting into significant prominence, everything pertaining to its early philatelic history should be of interest. Mr. Ashby starts with the first distinctive postmark, "N.G." in thick block letters with a thick eight-barred oval. Although I knew of this, it was omitted in my previous article on the stamps of this island. He has omitted, however, one, viz., "B N G" in thin and long letters within a ten-barred oval, used in Samarai, but date uncipherable. This was used on a thin paper 2d, watermark vertical, and presumably came after the same postmark, but with nine bars only. The latest date of the "British New Guinea" postmark Mr. Ashby can find is 23rd October, 1906. I have one dated 24th January, 1907, Port Moresby. I have also a curious postmark, viz., "Port Moresby" on top of circle with outer ring, "24 Jan., '01," in straight line, in centre, and "Papua" at bottom. A powerful glass on the mark shows the figure 1 unmistakably. Mr. Ashby also omits the following:—"Samarai" in thick letters, and the date, 12 Sept., '01, in two lines, circular postmark, but not outer ring. He mentions a cancellation: "Daru in violet on a set of mint, first printing, October 10th." I have not yet come across this. A few days ago a Mr. Fulton, of this city, showed me the following:—"Papua, 1d, perf. 11, with a white circular streak in the clouds of the centre design; another of the same value had a fairly large red dot to the left of "postage," and one under first "A" of "Papua"; a third of same value had the dot near the top of the first "P" of "Papua." There is no doubt as to the cause of these marks: Dirty plates in the printing of these stamps. I would be pleased if collectors of these stamps would carefully go over their specimens and note any other postmarks, defective printings, &c.—Australian Philatelist.

EDITORIAL.

We do not hesitate to say that the convention of the American Philatelic Society held at Atlantic City last week was the most important and meritorious ever held. The manner in which the business was transacted was really admirable, the committees having been selected by Mr. Luff with keen discrimination. Not alone did the legislation as affecting the workings of the society receive the best thought of the members but also intelligent action was taken on purely philatelic lines. In consequence of the representative and large numerical attendance, the best of results were obtained and Atlantic City, 1909, is entitled to the premiership of past conventions in the opinion of many observers.

Our news columns this week record many of the transactions of the convention which will afford material for discussion for some years to come. Perhaps we are somewhat selfish in saying that the greatest interest was shown in the selection of the official journal in view of the spirited debate that attended the preliminary discussion, by the two rivals and their adherents. On the floor too, of the convention there was no lack of dramatic incident to excite keenest attention. Two reports were made by the committee on official journal; the majority report signed by two members favored MEKEEL'S, while the minority report over the signature of the dissenting member advanced Redfield's. Both reports were received and the ballot which was taken resulted in a total of 675 for this paper and 243 for our opponent. Mr. Quackenbush, representing the staff of Redfield's moved that the selection of MEKEEL'S be made unanimous and the motion was carried. This graceful act on Mr. Quackenbush's part made a deep impression and we pledge our appreciation of Mr. Quackenbush's courtesy. The manner in which the friends of our paper rallied to its support was a revelation even to its publishers and grateful acknowledgment is made of the work inspired by force of conviction of some of our ardent supporters. The convention in its wisdom passed an act which will prevent a recurrence of campaigns such as the one just closed. The official journal will be voted for by ballot sent to members. The papers placed in nomination will be listed and members will thus vote direct. A short resume of the terms offered by each paper will allow the voter to record his choice intelligently. This plan seemed to commend itself to all.

The action taken on the U. S. catalogue question was most wise. After a discussion that brought out all phases of the subject, the power of decision was delegated to a committee of the most competent of students. After deliberate consideration of the question, they are to report. The understanding is that the members are favorable to the project and the committee is to be cognizant of this feeling in all its deliberations. The question of pricing and the train of minor qualifications will thus be brought under closest analysis by the minds of authorities.

The committee on the petition for privilege to illustrate United States stamps showed by its report that the consummation of its desire is to be regarded as almost hopeless. This outcome was anticipated by those who had reason to think themselves informed of the determination of the postal authorities in this connection. The powers are firmly antagonistic and it will be almost impossible to move them to reconsideration. The committee worked faithfully and is entitled to all credit, but circumstances of adverse kind are too fully entrenched to be overcome. It is expected that the U. S. catalogue committee will be influenced somewhat by the report just mentioned.

CAYMAN IDS.—INFORMATION WANTED.

C. B. Bostwick, 32 Cortlandt St., N. Y. City, whose researches in connection with Cayman Island stamps have been from time to time evidenced in the WEEKLY, is desirous of completing insofar as possible a history of the postal issues of the Islands. From two letters received under date of Aug. 18 and 25 we gladly make the following quotations.—Ed.)

NEW YORK, August 25, 1909.

To the Editor:

In preparing some notes for an article on the Cayman Islands stamps, I am trying to ascertain whether the authorities on the Islands ever at any time authorized the use of the 1d on 4d provisional stamp of May 1908 for postal purposes. I have a postmarked copy in my own collection, and I know that Gibbons' Stamp Weekly reported several months ago that many used copies were known to exist.

I should be extremely obliged if some fellow-philatelists would oblige me by telling me about any used copies of this stamp that they may happen to own. I should like to know the date of the postmarks, and whether the stamp appears to have been postmarked by courtesy or to have been sent through the mail. If the stamp is on a cover, it will be important to have a full description of the writing, etc., on the envelope, as well as all the postmarks on front and reverse. And finally, I should appreciate a description of the way the stamp was secured in used condition.

As you may remember, I am particularly interested in Cayman Islands stamps. For some time I have been gathering material to write something about them, and I am now nearly ready to compress my data into an article. I am undertaking this work in a purely amateur spirit, and as I am not intending or expecting to secure from the work any profit for myself, I am not hesitating to ask fellow enthusiasts to cooperate with me.

I particularly desire any information that will shed instructive light upon the much-discussed provisionals; and also any vital facts about the reasons for the successive issues. Photographs of any interesting covers or used stamps would be very acceptable. Anything bearing upon the obscure subject of Jamaican stamps used in the Cayman group would be of interest, with photographs and descriptions of the stamps thus used. Whatever my philatelic friends may send me will be very gratefully received. Several collectors have favored me with interesting descriptions of their collections of Cayman Islands. If you can help me at all, I shall be delighted to hear from you.

FROM EIGHT TO TEN CENTS.

Registered Mail May Go Up Owing to Government Losses.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The special committee appointed by Postmaster General Hitchcock, to investigate the registry system with a view to increasing the revenues and reducing the cost of its operation without impairing the efficiency of the system, conferred with the Postmaster General and after considering the matter it was decided to call in a score of registry officers from various parts of the country for a more general meeting with the Postmaster General.

Postmaster General Hitchcock, in his talk with a number of the delegates who attended the recent annual convention of the National Association of the First-class Postmasters at Toledo, learned that they were almost unanimously of the opinion that an increase in the registry fee from 8 to 10 cents would not be opposed when it was understood that the government was losing several million dollars through the operation of the registry system at the rate of 8 cents for each registered piece.

By law the Postmaster General is authorized to make the registry fee as high as 20 cents, but it is not probable that it will be increased to more than 10 cents. The registry service is the most expensive of any rendered by the department.—Clipping from C. KOEHLER.

THE NEW STAMP NUISANCE.

(Under the above caption the Washington Post publishes an editorial that will meet with the hearty approval of true philatelists everywhere. Thanks to Charles R. Morris for the clipping.—Ed.)

The issuance of a new design of 2-cent stamp commemorative of the Hudson-Fulton celebration is not only a superfluous sentimentality but will occasion considerable confusion to the great licking public. This form of contribution by the government to such events is unnecessary, inconvenient and expensive.

CHAS. E. LEWIS, Osterville, Mass.

Perhaps the 50,000,000 for the Hudson-Fulton celebration must be issued but they should be the last of their kind.

Whenever there is a celebration, fair, or exposition held in honor of more or less distinguished defunct worthies, or to mark the anniversary of some event which can be tortured into an excuse for pomp and ceremony, a call is made for a change in the stamps, and, of course, for an appropriation if possible.

Postage stamps are purely for utility—to facilitate communication by mail in the business and social intercourse of the people. They are in no sense works of art, nor can they ever be of such rarity as to be curiosities when they are issued and used by the million. And even if they had those qualities, it is not for this reason that they are issued, nor is it the proper function of the government to use its machinery for advertising purposes.

The whole country will be glad if the Hudson-Fulton celebration is a fitting pageant in honor of the great names which inspire it, but the new 2-cent stamp should have no place in the program. The stamp adds nothing whatever to the dignity or success of the celebration, and becomes merely a confusion to the public. Congress should not again make the postal service a mechanism for booming celebrations.

CHRONICLE OF NEW ISSUES.

Edited by HENRY A. KIDDER.

Any information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged. Address HENRY A. KIDDER, 17 Addison Street, Arlington, Mass.

UNITED STATES—We are indebted to F. R. Gellerman for clippings regarding the new Hudson-Fulton stamp. The forthcoming stamp is described as follows:

The stamps will be of special design, oblong in shape, seven-eighths by one and three-eighths inches in dimension. Across the top will appear "Hudson-Fulton Celebration", with Roman numeral "2" in each lower corner. In the center will appear a picture of the Palisades of the Hudson with the Half Moon sailing in one direction and the Clermont steaming along in the other, and a canoe, containing four Indians, representing the first means of navigation on the river in the foreground.

Heavy demands for these commemorative stamps are now anticipated by the postoffice department, and postmasters throughout the country have been notified that the department may find it impossible to expedite requisitions for these stamps.

This special stamp will be issued in sheets of sixty and all requisitions must be for sixty or a multiple of that number. The department has arranged to fill requisitions three days after they are received, but if the orders are heavy it will be impossible to fill them so promptly. The department will reduce requisitions if it is deemed necessary, and the remaining stamps will be supplied only in response to a new requisition, which may be drawn before the postmaster's stock is exhausted.

TURKEY—Maury's Collectionneur says that the surcharge noted in No. 972 has no official character, and was simply a whim of some of the partisans of the new Sultan. A correspondent in Turkey writes to the New England Stamp Co. to the effect that a new series of postage stamps is to be issued, the 20pa having already appeared.

NEWS GLEANINGS.

Under this heading we desire to publish all the news from the various philatelic centres. Correspondents' names will be given unless prohibited as we desire to give full credit for services rendered.

"We got six members together and organized the Philippines Branch of the A. P. S. and the application for the charter has gone forward in this mail, addressed to Secretary Adair at the Convention Hall, A. P. S., Atlantic City, N. J. We were waiting for one thing and another till it looked as if we were waiting too long, but we hope we are in time. There is no news here in the stamp line as yet. The new color Philippine stamps are supposed to have arrived, but the post office is holding them back till the present colors are all sold. Nobody has been allowed to see the new colors yet, and some of the post office people deny that the stamps have been received. As there is a good supply of most of the present stamps, it may be next year before the new colors come out."—THEODORE SIDDALL.

The annual convention of the Southern Philatelic Assn. will be held at San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 10 and succeeding days.

J. M. Overfield favors us with a clipping from the Binghamton Herald in which extended notice is given to the fact that the next convention of the M. P. A. will be held in Binghamton, N. Y. With its Branch of the A. P. S., this city is a truly philatelic center.

James Farrish, Linwood, N. J., sends us a sample copy of the Postal Service Magazine, Indianapolis, Ind. Its name indicates the nature of its contents and is of more than passing interest to the philatelist. Sample copy no doubt on application.

A recent caller at this office was Frank P. Brown, an old time resident of Portland. Mr. Brown and family came from Boston last week in his touring car and is spending the week in Portland looking up his old friends.

A STORIETTE.

Way back in 1847 when Fourteenth Street, N. Y., was "uptown" and Broadway was little more than a turnpike, a young man of twenty, who had just arrived on a sailing vessel from the East Indies, was introduced by mutual friends to a young lady but a few years his junior—and it was but a few months before they had pledged their troth or in other words became engaged. The young man's father, who was captain and owner of a large sailing vessel engaged in trading with the East Indies, had taken his son with him on his maiden trip from London to Calcutta and after visiting Calcutta, Bombay, Colombo and the Cape of Good Hope, had brought a cargo to New York, and, having disposed of the same, he was shortly to start on another voyage. The young man was of course to accompany his father. One can imagine the promises made—how the young couple would surely write to each other by every mail—how soon the time would pass—and then on his return they would be married—but the year 1847 and the year 1907 were vastly different. In those early days letters were sent by sailing vessel to London, England and thence to India via the Cape of Good Hope—the Suez Canal was not dreamed of, and instead of a letter taking 25 to 28 days, as it does now, it took four months, and sometimes longer!!! hence, courtship by mail was decidedly slow. Both the young people were true to their promises and a letter left regularly on every packet boat, in both directions, but, while the letters from New York were regularly received in India, I have to record that those from India did not meet with the same success. The young lady, not getting responses to her messages of love, naturally concluded her sweetheart was fickle or maybe dead—and as I intend this narrative to be absolutely true, I must reluctantly state the facts and tell you she became engaged to another—and what is more, the date for the wedding was set.

The young man, on arriving at Cal-

RARE ECUADOR.

A find by an Ecuador correspondent has brought me a magnificent lot of Ecuador stamps dated 1895, (issue of 1894, dated 1895.)

Among them is the very scarce 5 sucre deep blue, which catalogues $2.00 and $2.50, and few collectors have it owing to scarcity and high price.

My copies are well centered, in superb condition, used, and unused no gum. I offer:
Scott No. 54: 1895 dated, 5 sucre deep blue, each 40c
" 1 sucre carmine (few) " 60c
" 1c blue 2c: 2c yel. brn. " 4c
5c green 2c: 10c verm. " 8c

As every collector needs these hard to get stamps, it behooves securing them, while obtainable at less than 1/2 Catalog, therefore fill your space, before they are all snapped up.

COLUMBIAN STAMP CO., Arlington, Mass.

cutta, met an old college chum, and through him secured a position as civil engineer on the railroad then building from Tajmahal to Calcutta. The first postage stamps had just been introduced into India and it was with these stamps, if I may so call them, he prepaid the letters he regularly wrote to his sweetheart on this side—but alas! he knew not the ways to the Coolie or Indian Servant! to whom he entrusted the mailing of his love messages. The stamps were removed from the cover—sold—and the letters destroyed—and two loving hearts nearly parted for ever—but cupid had still another medium besides the mail. A friend of my hero was starting for New York and was the bearer of letters and presents, and a whole lot of instructions—he was to call on the young lady, was to tell her of the steadfastness of her lover, to tell her how he had answered every one of her letters, how he had succeeded in his chosen vocation, that of a civil engineer, and that in three months he would follow the bearer of these messages, etc.—and if she was still true, how he would then claim her for his wife.

I will not go into the details of the embarrassing position in which she found herself—her second suitor released her—her first love returned and they were married.

Some ten years later in looking over a secret drawer in a cabinet I ran across three of the half anna blue stamps of India of the issue of 1852, unused, with the original gum—and I have them yet—the only mementos of my father and mother, who have long since passed away. Can you guess which I consider the most valuable stamps in the world?—Carter's Messenger.

CONVENTION GROUP, AMERICAN PHILATELIC SOCIETY, ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., AUG. 24-25-26, 1909.

Written for MEKEEL'S WEEKLY.

A. P. S. HISTORICAL NOTES.

By H.A.DAVIS, Pres. Colo. Branch, No.22.

Year 1893. Eighth Annual Convention.

On account of the incorporating laws the society from this time on elected officers annually. This was one of the quietest years in the history of the society. In July the following nominations were made for the official board:

For Pres., Jno. K. Tiffany, Mo.; C. H. Mekeel, Mo.; H. E. Deats, New Jersey. V. Pres., W. C. Vanderlip, Mass.; G. L. Luhn, So. Car.; Frank Stiles, Pa.; C. H. Mekeel, Mo. Sec., Millard F. Walton, Pa.; Wm. C. Stone, Mass.; Alvah Davison, New York. Treas., N. W. Chandler, Ill.; V. Gurdji, Texas. Int. Sec., Jos. Rechert, N. J.; Henry Clotz, N. Y.; E. Doeblin, Pa.; P. M. Wolsieffer, Ill. Trustees, Jos. Rechert, N. Y.; G. B. Calman, N. Y.; A. R. Rogers, N. Y.; G. H. Watson, N. Y.; Henry Clotz, N. Y.; J. O. Hobby, N. Y.; P. M. Wolsieffer, Ill.; J. H. Huber, Ill.; C. D. Reiners, Ill.

The August number of the American Philatelist, Vol. VII, No. 8, was the last number issued.

The eighth annual convention was called to order in Vincennes Hall, Chicago, Aug. 15th, Pres. Tiffany in the chair. Forty-five voting members were present and 216 represented by proxy. It was voted to discontinue the American Philatelist as a monthly and publish it as an annual, and an official circular to be sent each member monthly. The reports to be published monthly also in the Philatelic Journal of America.

The offices of Supt. of Sales, Intl. Supt. of Sales and Exchange and First Pur. Agt. were consolidated to be known as Supt. of Purchasing, Sales and Exchange. All existing laws pertaining thereto were abolished, and the Supt. empowered to make his own rules, his bond to be fixed at $20,000. The distinction between domestic and foreign members was abolished. All members must become stockholders.

The dues were decreased from $1.50 to $1.00. All dues to be payable to the treasurer instead of the secretary as heretofore. The treasurer's bond was increased from $200 to $1500. The following official board was elected:

Pres., Jno. K. Tiffany, Mo.; V. Pres., H. E. Deats, N. J.; Sec., Alvah Davison, N. Y.; Treas., N. W. Chandler, Ill.; Intl. Sec., E. Doeblin, Pa.; Trustees, Jos. Rechert, N. Y., G. B. Calman, N. Y., and J. O. Hobby, N. Y. This board made the following appointments: Supt. Purchasing, Sales and Exchanges, G. D. Mekeel, Mo.; Collection Agt., J. A. Wainwright, Mass.; Librarian, W. H. Bodine, N. J.; Literary Exchange Supt., Dr. G. N. Campbell, Ky.; Cft. Detector, E. A. Holton, Mass.; Auction Agts., S. B. Bradt, Ill., Wm. E. Loy, Calif.; Literary Board, Wm. C. Stone, Chmn., Mass., Saml. Leland, Ill., G. D. Rice, N. J.

The Board of Trustees refused to act as such, and in December Pres. Tiffany called for nominations to elect a new board by mail vote.

The eighth annual convention was the shortest session that had been held up to this time, probably due to the World's Fair attractions.

The society fathered an exhibit of stamps in the Government Building, for the purpose of which money was raised by popular subscription.

This convention fixed the next convention seat at Niagara Falls, 1894.

OUR BOOK REVIEW.

Illustrated Catalog of Great Britain and Colonies.—Published by Wm. Ward, Booth St., Manchester, Eng. This is a very handy pocket catalog of some two hundred pages, fully illustrated and arranged in very convenient form for consultation. We are unable to state the price, as a careful search for the same failed to give us the desired information. A word to Mr. Ward will no doubt meet with a speedy reply and possibly a complimentary copy of the catalog.

CLIPPERTON IDS. DISAPPEARED.

Ownership Is in Dispute Between Mexico and France.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 31.—Dispatches from Acapulco says that the people of that port believe that the Clipperton islands were swallowed up by the sea during the late earthquakes. No word of any kind has come from the islands, and as the neighboring bed of the ocean is known to have been greatly disturbed and a small tidal wave to have occurred, the port officials at Acapulco are urging the war department to send out the gunboat "General Guerrero" in search of the islands.

Frederick Gambro, former sub secretary for foreign affairs, is now in Europe to present Mexico's claims to the ownership of the islands before the Italian arbitration court.

DEATH OF WM. T. HARTWELL.

By R. B. FIELD.

Many old time collectors will be pained to learn that William T. Hartwell of Bridgeport, Conn., passed away Aug. 26. He had been in poor health for months but was up and about the house the week previous. The end was so quiet and peaceful that even the watchers who were fanning him did not know that he had passed to the Great Beyond.

Mr. Hartwell was fifty-nine years of age. He leaves a widow, an only child died in infancy. He was a member of the old Bridgeport Philatelic Club along with such collectors as Dr. Bowers, W. S. Wilmot, Al. Loveland, Smith, Cook, Dunbar, etc.

The writer obtained his first stamps—a 25c packet—from Mr. Hartwell more than twenty years ago.

REPRINTS OF SPECIAL ARTICLES.

(We have secured a nice binder of the right size for these reprints that we will send on receipt of 30c, which just pays expense of manufacture and postage. As reprints are issued week by week they can readily be inserted in alphabetical order. This binder is Carter's Modified Multibinder, made to accommodate our WEEKLY reprints and every collector should have one. If two or three can be ordered at one time they will stand handling better.—Ed.)

PROPOSED MEXICAN COMMEMORATIVE.

(G. G. Bergman of Mexico City sends us a clipping from a local paper which indicates a special set of stamps for Mexico in 1910. We print the clipping in full.—Ed.)

The issue of special commemorative stamps is the latest means suggested of celebrating the centenary of Mexican independence in 1910. It is desired to issue special revenue as well as postage stamps. The national centenary commission has already approached the secretary of the hacienda to suggest this issue for the fiscal year 1910-1911. The secretary is now considering the suggestion. It is proposed to have distinctive series for the various denominations of revenue and postage stamps bearing allegorical and historical designs. It is expected that the secretary of hacienda will give his approval within a few days.

ST. ANTHONY, POSTMAN.

The new housemaid asked her mistress to mail a letter for her when she went out. "It's for my father in the Old Country," said the girl as she extended the letter.

"What a long address," her mistress exclaimed, glancing at the superscription as she spoke.

There was the name of the girl's father on one line, the village on another, the post office on a third, then the county, then a line for Ireland, followed by via some other place, another line informing the post office that it was North of Ireland, and finally, on the last line at the bottom of the sheet, the letters S. T. A. G.
The woman puzzled for a moment, then she inquired, "What do those letters
S. T. A. G. stand for, Ellen?"

"O, that's Saint Anthony guide," the girl explained. "If you put that on a letter it'll never go astray. I've sent home six letters since I came to this country and never a one of them was lost. I put S. T. A. G. on them all, and that's the reason. You try it and your letters'll always get to where you send them."—Clipping from HUGO KUENSTLER.

DISPOSITION OF SEYBOLD STAMPS.

(Elmer V. Heise sends us the following from a Syracuse paper, giving a hint of the manner in which the famous Seybold collection will be disposed of.—Ed.)

Judge W. G. Cady and Edward Beard, both philatelists, have been appointed appraisers of the stamp collection of the late John F. Seybold. The collection, which comprises the larger part of the estate of the late Mr. Seybold, is estimated to be worth anywhere from $50,000 to $100,000. It is the third largest in the country.

The stamps will be listed by the appraisers and these lists sent to some large stamp dealing house. The sale will then be decided upon. It may be by individual stamps and it may be as a collection. But it will probably be by auction, and the demands will in the main determine the manner of its disposition.

STAMPS TO BECOME SCARCE.

By W. WARD.

Today one has only to take a stroll round the dealers' shops to hear as to what cheapness of postal rates has not done. High value stamps are becoming scarcer and scarcer—so much so that one fails to see the need for stamps of a face value above five shillings—unless it be to sell to philatelists.

It is not so many moons ago that the stamps of the multiple of twenty-five centimes, or twopence halfpenny, were among the most frequent values found.
Take any country—the United States 10 or 15 cents, France 50 or 75 cents, Holland 25 cents, Luxemburg 50 cents, Great Britain, 5d—and such values of any country of the world. The fifty centimes paid postage upon one ounce, the weight was doubled a couple or so years ago, and fifty centimes mailed two ounces of matter. But these equivalent to 5d stamps are no more—that is of necessary letter postal use. There is as much need for fivepenny stamps (for letters) as there is of the issue of eleven-pence half-penny stamp—and really there is more need for a stamp of that denomination. After the first ounce for twopence halfpenny, as everyone knows, the subsequent ounces are charged at the rate of fifteen centimes (the official title for 1½d).

The question now before us, is, is this present rate going to remain long? I very much doubt it. The lowering of postage, at least, between Great Britain and most continental countries, means only a mere matter of months. I should not be at all surprised if the U. P. U. had made arrangements already—and, as is usual in such cases, not make public until just before the pending reduction.
Today there are only three independencies enjoying a penny postage—Great Britain, United States, and Germany.

Reverting back to the multiple of 2½d stamps, at present there is little chance of the 50 centimes stamps going completely out of use, because such a value would be greatly used for a one ounce registered letter. The Registration fee in most countries being 2½d, and not 2d, as in Great Britain.

The reduction of postage between the United States and Great Britain, has quite sent away high value stamps of the former from this country. How many U. S. A. letters bear more than six or eight cents, yet alone the highest common value, the 15 cents? Ne'er more shall we see 50c, $1, $2, or $5 U. S. A. upon mail packages to this country, other than through the parcel post.

The latter facility was never greatly in favour of philately. Parcel post stamps are mainly cancelled with rubber impressions which convey a huge amount of ink from the pad to the stamp, and (officially) well obliterate all.

The reader would do well to carefully study the current stamps of most countries, especially the odd value ones of Europe. I have no claim to foresight whatever, but I personally think that the following short list of European stamps may in the near future, and more so if we have the expected international postage reductions, prove somewhat difficult to fill and complete sets. I consider all higher values, of say, a franc and upwards, are always worth looking out for, so I do not list, since it is understood.

Austria, 35 to 60 heller.
Hungary, 30, 35 and 60 filler.
Belgium, 35 cents.
France, 30, 35 and 45 cents. (The 45 cents French is already to be displaced.) Germany, 25 and 80pf.
Greece, 30l.
Holland, 15, 17½ and 22½ cents. (The 17½ cents will never prove to be common).
Italy, 45 cents.
Luxemburg, 30 and 37½ cents.
Portugal, 75, 80, 115 and 130r.
Russia, 14k, (not yet issued), 15, 25, 35, 50, and 70k.
Spain, 30 centimos.

WE have a new series of approval books with the stamps arranged alphabetically accord-to countries. This series contains about 4000 varieties on which we allow 50% discount.

WE have another series consisting of unused stamps only containing about 8000 varieties and another series of used stamps only, also containing about 8000 varieties. These series are divided into books containing 100 stamps each, liberal discounts allowed.

WE also make up special books containing stamps from any country desired.

ANY one known to us or who furnishes satisfactory reference can have any of the above books sent on approval.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

By CHAS. R. MORRIS.

There were six members of the A. P. S. at the Atlantic City convention from Washington and together we cast 150 votes for MEKEEL'S WEEKLY.

While at the convention one of the members made the remark that there were two dies of the Seattle stamp, one where the shading on Seward's face began close under the eyes and the other where the shading began under the nose. I told the gentleman at the time that I thought it must be caused by the plates wearing but he was so certain of it that I went immediately upon my return to see Mr. Ralph at the Bureau about it and he assures me that there never was but one die of that stamp made and that my guess was correct. He said the shade lines on that stamp are very shallow and that a plate will not make anywhere near the number of impressions that the regular stamps will before it has worn down to a point where it makes a very weak print and that the cheek and the portion under the eye being lighter shading than under the nose wears away first.

I cut the following clipping from this evening's paper:

Postmaster General Hitchcock this morning announced his decision to increase the registry fee from 8 to 10 cents in a brief address before a general committee of registry officials, who were called to Washington from various sections of the country.

The committee was instructed to carefully consider the registry system in all its ramifications and readjust its operation in accordance with the change in the fee, making such improvements in methods as will insure greater efficiency in the service and less expenditure.

This is unfortunate and is very apt to cause a howl from all over the country for this country already has the highest registry fee and with efforts being made to lower postal rates in this country and to foreign countries this would seem exceedingly inopportune. If the 10 cent rate be adopted, as now seems likely, it will undoubtedly mean the discontinuance of the 13 cent stamp. The foreign postage and registration will then be 15 cents, for which we have a stamp but there will no doubt be issued a 12 cent stamp to pay postage and registration in this country. Thus it will be seen that the new emissions for this year are not over yet.

I had the pleasure this week of seeing the new Hudson-Fulton die that is being cut and also some printer's proofs of the work as far as finished. The stamp is to be the same size as the Columbian issue and the frame containing the picture is very much like that used on the two cent of that issue. They will be printed in sheets of 240 and when cut and perforated will be sold in panes of 60. It seems to me unfortunate that the Post Office Dept. should have found it necessary to issue this commemorative stamp not only from our standpoint as philatelists but the public also are tired of having so many different styles of stamps thrust upon them. The Washington Star commented upon it in an editorial headed "The New Stamp Nuisance." Amongst other things it said: "Whenever there is a fair, celebration or exposition held in honor of more or less distinguished defunct worthies, or to mark the anniversary of some event which can be tortured into an excuse for pomp and ceremony, a call is made for a change in the stamps." Also, "nor is it the proper function of the government to use its machinery for advertising purposes." "The government should not again make the postal service a mechanism for booming celebrations."

A member of the Washington Society recently stated that he had the new issue stamps on a laid paper. I have since heard others mention that fact and have even heard that one dealer was charging 75 cents a pair for them. When this matter was brought to the attention of Mr. Ralph and he was asked if he had been using a new laid paper or had been using any to experiment with he said he had not but he furnished a solution of the question by showing me the heavy straw boards between which the stamps are laid when placed in the hydraulic press. When these boards are new they have very distinct ridges which would easily impress themselves into the damp stamps when put under pressure. After the boards have been used awhile they become very smooth and glossy with no signs of the ridges which cause the lines in the paper.

POSTAGE STAMPS OF THE U. S.

1847-1860

This book should be in the hands of every U. S. collector. It is daintily printed on fine paper, the text being in clear type and the entire work a lasting credit to philately.

Not the least of its merits is the illustrations, sections of stamps being shown enabling one to see at a glance points of differences between types and varieties of the old issues. The book makes devious paths straight.

WANTED.—A southern republic is about to put in circulation once only a special and commemorative postage stamp issue of great historic and philatelic value and has given absolute rights and full authorization to a private individual for the development of this enterprise; an investment of $12,000 is needed for the development and execution of this issue and large profits are guaranteed. Parties interested can obtain full particulars and inspect guarantees by addressing R. P., 379 Herald.

JULES VERNE A STAMP COLLECTOR.

It does not appear to be generally known that the late Jules Verne was a stamp collector. Mr. J. N. Raphael in one of the evening papers, writes: 'His books, his town council work, and his collection of postage stamps—of which he and his wife, who worked at it together, had a very fine one—entirely absorbed him and he devoured scientific publications of all kinds with a voracious appetite,' and again 'I used to get there (chez Jules Verne) about midday, and we would usually talk stamps till luncheon.' It would be interesting to know something as to the style of his collecting and what stamps he particularly favoured.—Philatelic Record.

consists of six round holes slightly smaller than those used on the Brinkerhoff machine at equal distances apart but with a space between the outer edges and the first holes. The Shermack people have been endeavoring to get the Bureau to do their perforating and it was hoped that this new perforation would be of such a shape that the Bureau could put perforating wheels on their machines with these larger holes and do the work, but as they do not go clear to the edge it was found impossible to do it.

"CHICAGO? WHERE IS CHICAGO?"

(Ordinarily the editor-in-chief would blue pencil this "copy", but as he is away on a vacation when this goes to the printer as a "filer", he will no doubt get even with Boston on some future occasion.—Manag. Ed.)

Where is Chicago?

This abstruse geographical problem must have given considerable brain-fag to employees of the New York post office recently. The history of their researches to establish the whereabouts of the town with the "odd-sounding name, don't you know," may be read easily from the face of an envelope received a few days ago by The Daily News. The envelope was of the ordinary gray variety used by the foreign service of The Daily News. It was from London—from London, England. And the address it bore, in large, black, printed letters, was:

"Chicago Daily News, 123 5th Avenue, Chicago, U. S. A."

This was all. The New York post office had nothing more to guide it in furthering the progress of the missive than these few words. What wonder that the letter should finally reach its destination bearing the proud legend, stamped in red ink, "Deficiency in address supplied by N. Y. P. O."; and written in red ink beneath the hieroglyphic "Chicago," the guiding syllable, "Ill." which had been omitted from the original address. Thus did New York supply the "deficiency."

While contemplating this interesting record of the zeal of the New Yorkers in working for the betterment of the postal service it is easy to imagine the turmoil into which the eastern office was thrown when the foreign mails brought in this meagerly addressed missive. The trouble probably started with a minor clerk reading the brief inscription, scratching his head perplexedly and calling to his neighbor in the most approved Pall Mall fashion:

"Oh, I say, old chap, did you ever hear of Chicago?"

Then the two heads were scratched and the cry was passed along the line, "Where, oh, where, is Chicago?" until at last it reached the astute ears of some scholarly old fellow who was willing to set to work and solve the problem. Getting down his charts of the wild and unexplored western lands, he let his forefinger wander across its prairies, along its lakes, until he came at last to the faintly imprinted letters, "Chicago." Oh, joy! it was found. There remained only to discover what state line surrounded the obscure village thus designated. Illinois, the map stated. Chicago, then, is in Illinois. How easy, when one knows! Back along the line passed the word, "Chicago is in Illinois!"

The problem was solved. The efficiency of the New York postoffice was proved. Hastily grabbing his pen, the first clerk wrote in triumph "Ill." and sent the letter securely along its destined route.—Clipping from Postal Service Magazine, per Arthur Smith.

A. P. S. HISTORICAL NOTES.

By H.A.DAVIS, Pres. Colo. Branch, No.22.

Year 1894, Ninth Annual Convention.

In January, 1894, the total number of members were 539. This was a gain of 135 members for the year 1893. At this time in the history of the society an applicant sent only $1.00 for a share of stock with his application, his name was published and if no objection was made, on payment of the dues to the end of the fiscal year, he became a member.

A great many after purchasing stock failed to qualify by remitting dues and thus were side-tracked. It will be seen later how these matters were remedied by requiring the applicant to send dues also with application. At this time, (January, 1894) forty states and territories were represented in the membership list. Comparing the membership list at this time with the previous year, one state, Vermont, had dropped by the wayside, but Maine, Kansas and North Carolina made up the loss with two states to the good. Seven states had less members than the previous year, seven had exactly the same, while 23 had gained in numbers. New York still led with 79, while Pennsylvania with 58 just beat Massachusetts with 56. California showed an increase by jumping from 14 to 26. Ohio had 24, just double the previous year. Illinois had 42, a gain of 10. Of the cities New York had 52, Chicago 27, Boston and St. Louis each 17, Frisco 18, Pittsburg 16, Philadelphia and Cleveland 13 each. Canada dropped from 9 to 7. The number of foreign members was 76, representing 29 countries, against 52 representing 22 countries in 1893. The largest foreign membership was Germany with 17 against England with 13. South and Central America furnished 20 members, also including the West Indies; Mexico headed the list with 5. There were 343 different towns and cities represented.

It will be remembered from the last paper, the board of trustees elected at the Chicago convention refused to serve and a mail vote was called for, resulting in the election of the following: C. P. Krauth, Geo. W. Rode and Ignaz Stauffer, all of Pittsburg, Pa.

The call for the ninth annual convention was made by Pres. Tiffany in June to assemble at Niagara Falls, N. Y., Aug. 21st.

The following nominations were made for Board of Directors: For President, Jno. K. Tiffany, Mo.; H. E. Deats, N. J.; Vice Pres., Alvah Davison, N. Y.; W. H. Bruce, Conn.; H. E. Deats, N. J.; Sec., Wm. C. Stone, Mass.; Alvah Davison, N. Y.; Treas., N. W. Chandler, Ill.; Int. Sec., E. Doeblin, Pa.; Trustees, Geo. W. Rode, Pa.; C. P. Krauth, Pa.; Ignaz Stauffer, Pa.; Geo. L. Toppan, C. E. Severn, J. H. Huber, all of Ill.

Alvah Davison and H. E. Deats declined to let their names be used. The high water mark in membership was reported at the 1890 convention which was 684. The secretary's report for May showed a membership of 664 and in June the record was broken by a report of 706 members. It was at this time that "Willie Stone" began yelling for 1000 members.

The ninth annual convention was called to order by Pres. Tiffany at the Cataract House, Niagara Falls, N. Y., Tuesday, Aug. 21st. There were 28 members present and 200 represented by proxy. The total membership was 770. Treasurer's report showed receipts to be $751, including a balance of $63 at beginning of fiscal year. Expenses, $751. The Stock Fund amounted to $799 with interest of $55.05. The stamps sold in the Sales Dept. amounted to $4028. Secretary's report showed 307 new members for the fiscal year, 12 resigned, 16 dropped (5 of these being reinstated), 3 died, 1 expelled.

Clayton, N. Y., was selected for the next convention seat in competition with Denver, St. Louis, Asbury Park, Staten Island and Detroit. It was a "walk over" for Clayton. The first subscription to The Vertrauliches Korrespondenz Blatt was made at this convention, amt. $10. This was the first convention at which all the members of the board of directors were present. A banquet was held at the Hotel Kaltenbach Wednesday evening, which was an enjoyable affair.

Article II, Sec. 1, was amended requiring all applicants to deposit dues as well as $1.00 stock with application.

It was resolved: "That it is the sense of this association that the American flag should be shown on some one of the future postage stamps of the United States."

It was also resolved: "Whereas there are several organizations having the same initials as this association, therefore, resolved, that the convention recommend to its members and to the press that in all allusions and communications relating to this association, the full name be used instead of the initials." A communication from the Pomeroy Society of Toledo was received urging change of name on account of similarity of initials to those of a political organization. The step was deemed inadvisable.

Just before the convention all nominees for Board of Directors declined to serve except the following who were elected: President, Jno. K. Tiffany, Mo.; V. Pres., Alvah Davison, N. Y.; Sec., Wm. C. THE SOUND OF THE SURF.

(With its customary enterprise, the WEEKLY secured the exclusive services of Parnassus Penflip to report the social side of the convention at Atlantic City. Mr. Penflip, fresh from his triumphs on the Cady, Arkansas Comet, "did" the convention incognito, as it was his wish to escape the adulation from insistent admirers that follows any revelation of his identity. Mr. Penflip's work is not edited; indeed, what editor would have the temerity even to change a comma in Parnassus Penflip's lucubrations!)

John N. Luff, arbiter of elegance, raconteur and half-fellow acted his many parts in flawless style. He is a versatile genius is John; he is the pink of perfection, philatelic and otherwise. Moreover, he is a liberal gentleman and his hospitality is unbounded. Ye scribe knows. J. N., fecund in wit, capacious in charm, we shall never forget you. Your interviewer can vouch for the fact that Mr. Luff is intimately acquainted with philately; he can see a pink-stamp with his eyes closed. Ha. Ha.

A. W. Batchelder afforded us genuine delight. He is a caperer whose funniness never stales. While his rightful place in on the pinnacle of fame, yet he does not hold himself aloof from the ordinary philatelic cit. He is at home in the senate of the serious and the foyer of the frivolous. "Batch" is an amusing human and he is a moving force at conventions and elsewhere. We hope to see you often, kind friend and boon companion.

Henry N. Mudge is a wonder. When he speaks all give ear and he is one of the "truly greats" of this philatelic age. While seemingly omniscient, he yet is not above entering into easy conversation with the most humble. While discussing the theory of the origin of philatelic protoplasm with your correspondent, he at the same time, banded badinage with a gent to whom nothing is sacred. Henry could well serve as the prototype of the hero of our now famous poem, published originally in the Comet, that was so enthusiastically received in the centers of polite literature the world over. It began:
O, man, not made of dust but of marble Carrara,
Endowed with gifts superabundant and rara.

H. E. Deats was so full of enthusiasm that it oozed out of him freely. His hand was at the helm of the society ship and the hand or the ship never wavered. What he does not know about the past, present and future of the society is unrecorded in history or unwritten in the dream book. A convention without Ed is not one. His treatment of us was most chivalrous; one of his cigars was always at our beck.

Some talked at the convention and others thought. H. Wesley Legg was one of the intellectual forces on the floor; he kept watchful eye on the speakers and with well-directed vibratory waves gave them inspiration. While no kill-joy, his moderating influence checked undue hilarity and ribald merriment. His old-school custom of wishing his friends pleasant dreams was observed by him as usual. Mr. Legg combines with his great knowledge of stamps a stern regard for the social amenities within bounds.

W. H. Barnum was present to loan beauty to the scene. It pains us to say that he was obsessed at one critical moment; he voted for our rival for official journal. We verily believe that his tongue played him false; others maintain that he was merely indulging one of the eccentricities of genius. Yet who knows but under his modest mien a fierce warrior spirit may dwell and that he voted as he did with the idea of stirring men's passions? Bill, you have burthened us with sorrow.

Geo. L. Toppan was one of the dominant figures at the convention; he thought straight and he hewed to the line, letting the chips fall as they might. When he spoke, it was guaranteed that his auditors would sit up and take notice. There is stern stuff in Mr. Toppan and when he meets a duty he does not dodge it. It was a pleasure to see Mr. Toppan in harness at a convention again pulling for the best interests of the society. He fights but does not run away and he will be heard from whenever he thinks that it is necessary for him to speak.

L. G. Quackenbush was the cynosure of many eyes. He fought valiantly for his paper and losing, he had the respect of all in his defeat. Those who voted against him regretted that circumstances conspired so that they were forced to do so, so pleasant and congenial a gentleman is Mr. Quackenbush. This we shall say: If our paper had lost, we should have wished that Mr. Quackenbush's had won. Shake on that.

Our efficient secretary, H. S. Adair, discharged his duties almost in faultless style. He was full of convention spirit and neglected nothing in the shape of business or pleasure. He comported himself in a manner to please the gay and satisfy the grave. His verbal flights of fancy enthralled all within the sound of his voice. Harry says that he was under a strain and that he had to check his natural gayety of disposition in consequence. Otherwise, we refrain from thinking what might have happened.

F. R. Cornwall was indispensable. He easily maintained the brilliant record for clear thinking and masterful action that he established at previous conventions. He loomed up large on the convention floor and he occupies a high place in the regard and the affections of the members. His purity of purpose is apparent and the society is fortunate in counting among its friends one so loyal and so gifted as Mr. Cornwall. He may be credited with having done more than one man's share for the signal success of the convention that has just passed into history.

DEATH OF ALFRED DAWSON.

Ardent Philatelist—Veteran of Crimean War—Fought in Indian Mutiny.

(A wide circle of friends and acquaintances will mourn the passing on of Alfred Dawson of Providence, R. I., a member of the Rhode I. Philatelic Society and an enthusiastic philatelist of many years standing. The following clipping from the Providence Journal was sent us by F. M. Mason, who writes: "Mr. Dawson was the member of our society who kept it together when it would have gone to pieces but for his constant enthusiasm. He is deserving of all the appreciation we can give him." We hope to have further details about Mr. Dawson's philatelic career.—Ed.)

Alfred Dawson, for more than 20 years a messenger in the Merchants' National Bank of Providence, once a member of the famous Forty-Second Royal Highlanders in the British army and a veteran of the Crimean War and the Indian mutiny, is dead at his home at 56 Flora street after an illness of some months. He died Monday from inflammatory stomach trouble.

Mr. Dawson was born in Stirlingshire, Scotland, 73 years ago, and received his early education in that place. His mother died when he was a youth of 17 and he entered the British army at that time, enlisting in the famous Forty-second Highland Regiment, known for many years as the "Black Watch."

He served in the army for 11 years at a time when England and her allies were at war most of the time and consequently saw much of service, fighting in the great Russian campaign and in India at the time of the mutiny of the natives against the English sovereignty. During his years of service Mr. Dawson rose to the rank of Sergeant and later to that of Major, receiving the Legion of Honor medal from the French Government and also a medal for bravery on the field of battle from Turkey.

A short time after his enlistment the British went against the Russians and the Forty-second Highlanders were, as they have been for more than a century, the most noted fighters in the British ranks. Mr. Dawson was in the siege before Sebastopol, which the English invested on Oct. 5, 1854, and after a siege gained possession of in September of 1855.

During this war perhaps the most notable engagement in which Mr. Dawson took part was the battle of Balaklava. He was with the Forty-second Highlanders at the famous charge of the Light Brigade and witnessed the fight which Tennyson has immortalized.

While his regiment was in Russia the mutiny against the English broke out in India and the Forty-second Highlanders were at once sent from the cold and snow of Russia into the sun-baked land of India. Mr. Dawson frequently told to his many friends here in the city of the memorable forced marches through the heat of the tropic sun and of the fierce engagements at Delhi, Lucknow and Cawnpore. One of the stories which he was fond of relating dealt with the looting of a palace at Delhi, where he and some others found a gold chest filled with precious stones. The treasure was buried in the ground, but that night orders were issued for a hurried march and it had to be left there, and Mr. Dawson affirms was never afterward found.

After 11 years of active service Mr. Dawson bought his release from the army and came to this country, settling first in Boston, where he remained several years. He then came to Providence, where he married Miss Clemence Eageron in 1871.

He first worked here as a machinist, but later took the position as messenger in the Merchants' National Bank, which he had held ever since. He was an enthusiastic stamp collector and was a member of the Radical Club. He had been ailing for the past two years, but did not give up active work until March 1 of this year, taking to his bed only a few weeks ago. He is survived by his widow.

While engaged as messenger at the bank Mr. Dawson, who was a member of the Clan Cameron, made a host of friends in the city, and they never tired of listening to the stories of his many campaigns. He had an old comrade in Toronto, Canada, with whom he served in both wars, and their letters to one another were full not only of the deeds and experiences in which they figured together, but of the fun they had in camp. Even in this country Mr. Dawson always followed the doings of his old regiment and was interested in the slightest news of it.

EDITORIAL.

Real Work—More real work was accomplished at the Atlantic City meeting than those who attended the convention perhaps realized, so quietly and effectively was it performed. The committees were named with rare acumen and they labored intelligently; the most important committees, those on by-laws and resolutions, respectively, were admirably manned and their splendid work was based on sound premises and a sense of fitness that was recognized approvingly by the members. There was nothing spectacular about the reports of the committees but they were the findings of men who gave their best zeal and judgment to their tasks. The last convention was conducted in a manner to compare favorably with that of the convention of the most earnest and studious set of men in any line of scientific or technical endeavor. We say with all assurance that the recent convention has loaned a dignity to the American Philatelic Society that will make the organization a greater source of pride than ever before to its members. In this connection it is to be observed that Mr. Luff made a pleasing and tactful presiding officer; his good nature was unbounded and his ready wit illumined every occasion. In the serious phases of the session, he ruled impartially and his fair intent was commended by all. Mr. Luff's duties as president of the American Philatelic Society reached their triumphant climax at Atlantic City and he retires from office bearing with him a most remarkable appreciation on the part of the members of his sterling attributes and his pleasant self. Mr. Luff is a bigger man than ever before in philately.

Closer Relations—The society and the post-office department of the United States are drawing closer to each other and the indications are that it will not be long before the American Philatelic Society will be consulted in an advisory capacity on subjects that are of common interest to the authorities and to the members of the society. Mr. Steinmetz said that the government officers would welcome the interest of the society in their affairs and added that the government would send a delegate to address the convention on topics of postal bearing if request was made. The invitation will be extended, and heartily. Along the line of suggestion broached by Mr. Steinmetz, a resolution was passed asking that a representative of the American Philatelic Society be included among the delegates from this country to the next convention of the Universal Postal Union. The departmental order authorizing the Hudson-Fulton special stamp was distributed in leaflet form to the members of the society with the compliments of the authorities.

Wise—We have already briefly outlined the disposition made of the much-discussed catalogue of United States stamps and it is not to be gainsaid that the plan adopted is not in very many ways the best possible solution of a question that did not grow clearer the longer it was debated on the floor. The question will now be considered with due deliberation by the exceptionally able members of the committee, all of whom, we believe, are in favor of the catalogue as an academic proposition. The report of the committee on handbooks was illustrated by the pamphlet by Dr. Carroll Chase, "The Three-Cent U. S. Stamp of 1851," that has just been published, and when it was learned that the advertising carried by the worthy little monograph practically paid the cost of production, it was felt that the committee had achieved a triumph. The committee is authorized to repeat this laudable performance so often as it can, so long as the society is not to be burdened with any deficit of noticeable size. The first work of the series is one of real merit and its importance is considerable. A copy of the book is given to each member who pays the dues for the fiscal year just begun.

Reform—The opinion of several of the leaders in society affairs was that repetitions of campaigns of the nature of that just finished for the journalship of the society were needless and that they detracted from the dignity of the organization. Moreover, philatelic vitality was wasted which should be concentrated on work of some moment to the society and the pursuit. The idea was to conserve the expense and energy lavished so wastefully by removing any personal equation from the official journal question. The result is to be obtained by allowing all contending papers to present their offers and be voted on direct in the way that the directors are chosen. While this course encourages rather than diminishes competition, yet the rivalry engendered is of the proper spirit and is apt to remove the necessity for long-continued campaigns or any opportunity to bring the personal element into play.

Good Service—The publicity committee in its report showed how well the seeds of philately had been sown in non-philatelic soil. The work of the committee was conducted on lines that were regarded as practically productive; a good measure of success actual and prospective rewarded the endeavors of the committee. The newspaper publicity was of the strongest kind and the distribution of recruiting circulars through the co-operation of juvenile papers had its effect. The work of Mr. Burroughs was referred to in most appreciative terms. The publicity committee is to be superceded by the educational committee to consist of nine members with headquarters at Chicago, President Mudge, chairman, ex officio. The different sections of the country will be represented on the committee, which, it is understood will use the present working basis in its endeavor to enlarge its sphere of usefulness and to perfect its missionary service. The amount of money collected for the work last year will be increased this year, it is safe to say. The convention voted its annual appropriation of fifty dollars for the use of the committee.

* * *

Next Year—This year the selection of the convention seat for 1910 was placed in the hands of a special committee that recommended Detroit for the honor and that city was the unanimous choice of the members. The only serious contender was Milwaukee whose invitation had the endorsement of the Milwaukee Branch; it is the understanding that Milwaukee is anxious to entertain the convention next year or the year following and it is likely that the city in question will soon begin to advertise its ambition in an unmistakable manner. In 1900, Milwaukee did itself proud in attending to the comforts and pleasures of the visitors to the convention of the American Philatelic Society held there then.

* * *

Many There—The attendance at the convention was large as the group picture taken just outside of the Hotel Rudolf shows nearly one hundred faces. All sections of the country were represented and many were present at their first convention; it is hoped that the convention habit has been acquired by most of these first-timers. It was very pleasant to see so many of the old members, the traditional fathers of the society, among those present and their wise counsel was indeed helpful in every way. All signs pointed to the substantiality of the organization. The care exercised in the conduct of business showed that a basis of conservatism furnishes the foundation of the society; yet it must not be understood that progressive ideas are not encouraged for such is not the case. Every advance step is carefully calculated, as is proper, and the proposition is weighed in a material way, after sentiment approves of it. The American Philatelic Society has achieved greatness; its vicissitudes are past and its victories have begun.

Thanks—The social side of the convention, as usual, was a pronounced success. The Philadelphia entertainers acquitted themselves most creditably. The "Philadelphia Day" was highly enjoyable. Though at Atlantic City a series of entertainments had been prepared, the more important features were included in the day wholly given over to the attractions of the Quaker City. The idea to allot one day at the close of the convention to social touring is a sensible one. In this way, the sessions of the convention are not interrupted and committees have time in which to give serious attention to their work. The time thus given to play is enjoyed all the more because there is no thought of work undone to tincture the pleasure. In the name of all those who attended the Philadelphia festivities, we return heartfelt appreciation of all that was done for the comfort and satisfaction of the visitors. Philadelphia hospitality is warm and the delegates will long remember the unselfish efforts of the Philadelphia men in their behalf.

BILLIONS OF POSTAL CARDS.

Government Lets Contract of Large Proportions.

The contract for supplying 3,487,000,000 postal cards to the Post Office Department during the four years beginning January 1, 1910, has been awarded by Postmaster General Hitchcock to the government printing office, which submitted the lowest bid, $934,717.95. There were two other bidders, one being the Oxford Paper Company of Rumford Falls, Me., which has furnished postal cards to the government for the past four years.

By selecting a stock of lighter but finer quality the Post Office Department expects to provide for the public a better card at less expense to the government. The saving will be effected in the reduced "traveling expenses" of the postal card, because of lighter weight, on the various journeys it makes from the time it leaves the manufacturer until it reaches the "ultimate consumer."

The Postmaster General in all probability will change the tint of the card as well as the color of the ink used in printing, in order to make the card more artistic. This, however, has not yet been determined.

The cards will be furnished in three styles. Of the regular 3 1/4 by 5 1/2 size 3,400,000,000 will be supplied. There will be 77,000,000 of the double or reply postals and 10,000,000 cards of the size corresponding to the standard index card. This latter card is expected to prove of great convenience and value to business men.

Since postal cards were first introduced in 1873 the number used in this country has increased from 31,000,000 in that year to 950,049,020 in 1909. There has been a great gain this year even over last year, the department requiring 140,622,270 cards more for its use in 1909 than in 1908.—Washington Star. Clipping from J. Finney Engle.

IN THE FAR EAST.

By FLEET-SURGEON G. T. BISHOP, R. N.

Being one of the few collectors who have specialized in Japanese stamps the reader would expect me rather to dilate on the philatelic aspect of that country. I suppose these stamps are the most difficult, most fascinating, most forged, and were—until Mr. Bacon took them in hand—the most uninvestigated of any nation. Yet, owing to the natural kindness and politeness of the Japanese I came in contact with, collecting was made easy. When first the writer was in Japan (1894) the stamp catalogues that had found their way there did not give any information about the "syllabics found on certain stamps issued before 1876, except to remark that some stamps were "with syllabic" and some "without syllabic." In those days I did not even know what a syllabic was, but a charming little lady in a silk shop at Yokohama, who seemed to speak with ease any language required by customers, explained to me how "syllabic" was the name for the Japanese equivalent to our alphabet when non-Chinese words are written. My instructress also wrote me out a list of all the syllabics and their variations, then gave me tea and hoped I would come to her shop the next time I was seeking information on Japanese matters. I still think of you gratefully, Tanabé-san, and would give you a cheap advertisement for your lovely silken wares if the name of your street in Yokohama would only recur to me.

Being now armed with a list of syllabics, the next thing to be done was to obtain the stamps. Here again was I helped by a Japanese—but of the opposite sex. It happened that by a stroke of good "joss" (joss=luck, etc., in the Far East) that the first stamp dealer I came across in Yokohama was a little man on Yotosaka, or Camp Hill, Takahashi by name. He sold many curios and other native productions, besides stamps. I had been able to do him a good turn or two with respect to his curio trade, and he returned any help I gave him with interest. Our mutual knowledge of each other's language was about equal, and very meagre. Philately, however, seems, like love, to overcome all obstacles, and my friend soon "saved" what I required. He produced thousands and thousands of the hand-engraved 1/2, 1 and 2 sen stamps, mainly done up in hundreds. It was not long before my wants were approaching completion, but there were still a good many (as I thought then) to complete. I hunted through every lot Takahashi had, but still some were not to be found. I am still looking for the 20 sen, syl. 1 and 2, 6 sen orange, syl. 18, and am not likely to pick them up.

It was not going to be Takahashi's fault if my Japanese collection was not to have a complete set of syllabics. He took me round to the few other dealers in Yokohama, but their stocks were a negligible quantity compared with my guide's. One day, on visiting his shop, he had something evidently important to tell me. I was to go to Tokio on the morrow by a certain train, and there were stamps to be seen and sold. Somehow it flashed across my mind that it might be an auction.

I was at the station in plenty of time next day, having called en route on Tanabé-san for a little advice re Japanese railways, i.e., the purchase of tickets, the hour of returning, etc. Takahashi was in the crowd on the platform, and seeing me, came over, bowed, drew in his breath after the polite method of his country, making a soft hissing noise thereby, said "Ha," and popped into a 3rd or 4th class carriage, while I, with the pride of the European in the Far East, disappeared into a 1st. Reaching Tokio, my "friend"—Takahashi referred to and introduced me to everyone as "My Friend" that day—was waiting. Under his direction, I was taken in a "rickshaw," many sizes too small, for an hour's ride, and we stopped at length at a very ordinary looking tea house—the public house of the Japs. There were no geisha about this establishment, not even a decent-looking bar-maid, but there were stamps, and in quantity. Our entrance interrupted what was going on. "My friend" introduced me to everyone in the room—about a dozen or 15 men, and then having previously taken off my shoes, I took my place in the ring formed on the floor. There was no auctioneer, but one man was a kind of President, or M. C. He it was who decided whose lot should be sold next and also who was the buyer each time.

Business being resumed, a seller took from the capacious pocket formed in the sleeve of his kimono, a "lot" and placed it in the centre of the ring we formed on the floor, and then anyone could examine the stamps who wished. The President distributed a pile of lacquered ash trays (so we should call them in this country) and on the concave side all present wrote in Indian ink with a brush, how much he was prepared to give. Then on the convex side we wrote our names. No one looked to see how much anyone else was offering, and to judge from the assembled faces, this dealing was serious business. The trays were all passed up to the President, who soon found and announced the name of the highest bidder and the amount offered by him for the lot. When the result became known, the buyer was, perhaps, congratulated upon having secured what he required by a narrow margin. On the other hand, when the highest bid was far above the next, the unlucky buyer was well chaffed, in a most friendly way, by the rest of the assembly. Everyone present bid for each lot, and sometimes the minuteness of a bid by someone who, very apparently, did not want that particular lot, caused the seller to come in for his share of chaffing.

The lots consisted of Japanese stamps only. Sometimes single stamps, sometimes a little lot of about 10,000. The old hand-engraved issues were usually put up by the 100 unless they were the higher values, when they were sold singly or in dozens. I saw none being sold because they were rare syllabics or uncommon paper or unusual perforations. Stamps done up by the hundred were not undone or examined. Everyone present trusted to each other's honour without question. No one's bid was made public except the buyer's, and the "ash trays" were passed around and returned face downwards. All present were most interested, I could see, to know how much I bid, so sometimes I turned my tray up and there was once or twice quite five minutes' discussion over that little incident. An imitation—and a very good imitation too—of German beer was partaken by most of us in homœopathic doses out of small tea cups without handles, and before the finish, under its mild influence, things were going with a hum. My purchase consisted of only one lot, which was a few 45 sen "bird" issues. Not being chaffed I hope my price was not too high. As, however, they were very polite to me all the time, one never knows. I should have seen the whole sale out, but there were no catalogues, and the cramped position of kneeling on the floor became irksome. On leaving everyone politely bowed or shook my hand, and each gave me his business card. Takahashi did not leave with his "friend," but it was a proud man he was that day, and I noticed with satisfaction that he was buying largely, if not wisely, various lots that I should be able to "consider" later on. Just before I left, another dealer came in, who spoke almost perfect English, though with an American accent. I asked him if they had tried the English way of auctioneering stamps. Yes, he said, they had, and though it was an excellent method for those who were sellers, it was not so for the buyers. The latter, he explained, became so excited at bidding against each other, that they often paid much too high a price to allow of any subsequent profit. I remarked that Japan was not the only country where such incidents occurred.

I visited Tokio another day, and went the round of nearly all the dealers that I met at the auction. One lived near the railway terminus, and after going through his stock he told my rickshawman where to take me next. In like manner they passed me on until all had been visited in their turn. Some had good stocks, but some had very skimpy selections. However, what are now considered nice things were picked up here and there, but I gathered that a lot of the better class stamps sold at the auctions had been bought for export, mainly to the United States.

There was one other European at least who was going in for Japs, and we occasionally met at stamp shops. He was very reserved and not at all inclined to discuss our mutual hobby. In fact, I now think it possible that he resented my poaching on what were perhaps usually his preserves. He generally "moved on" when I happened upon the same shop that he was in, and his usual remark was "Found anything good?" One day, on my entering a shop he was just leaving, he showed me, with a smile, a 20 sen violet used, on laid paper, no syllabic. However, I wiped his eye just in time, for shortly after, on the day before I left Yokohama, in looking through a lot of 6 sen orange, I came across the rare syllabic 15 of that stamp, and was able to pick it out from almost under his nose. Takahashi gave me to understand that my antagonist was in the merchantile marine, and that his ship visited Yokohama at frequent intervals. He had been "picking up" Japanese stamps for some years, so that if he were a collector he must have had a fine collection.

Japanese stamp dealers had no use for stamps of foreign countries. Sometimes they had no option but to take them, as correspondents abroad at times paid for their purchases by means of unused stamps. I recollect the gratitude of one dealer to whom I gave face value for some Hong Kong stamps. His face became radiant, and as though by magic the wife appeared with refreshment, consisting of tea, sweets, and some seaweedy sweetmeat, not at all bad. He must have previously written down that little investment.

In conclusion let me advise that anyone having dealings with Japan, whether it be political or philatelic, should not forget the probability of a quid pro quo. Kindness is not mistaken for weakness so much in the East of Asia as it unfortunately is in the southern part of that great Continent.—Philatelic Record.

CHRONICLE OF NEW ISSUES.

Edited by HENRY A. KIDDER.

Any information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged. Address HENRY A. KIDDER, 17 Addison Street, Arlington, Mass.

UNITED STATES.—We are informed by B. D. Forster that the New York state stock transfer tax stamps have two new varieties in the ten and twenty dollar denominations, namely, ten dollar lilac over-printed with figure of value in red, and twenty dollar sea green over-printed with figure of value in blue. The new stamps are in keeping with the balance of the regular third issue.

AUSTRIA.—Mr. Schachne has shown us a set of cards with the reverse finely illustrated to commemorate the 21st meet of the German Society in Karlsbad Aug. 20 to 23, 1909.

They are like the current 5h card in design, without headlines or instructions except the 3h has "Drucksache" just at the left of the stamp. All on white cards.

3 heller lilac.
5h pale green.
10h red.
20h red—stamp brown.

CANADA.—The C. E. Hussman Stamp Co. sends us an imperforate block of the 2c King's Head stamp, which it is claimed was taken from a collection bought by Mr. Hussman over a year and a half ago. Our correspondent asks: "Since these stamps are not proofs, how do you account for the existence of these stamps in perforated condition, so long before the now famous sheet blew out of the window at the Government Printing Office at Ottawa? Mr. Hussman will corroborate our statement that we have had these stamps in our possession ever since late in the fall of 1907."

We are informed that the current 50c stamp is frequently used to prepay the postage on large bundles of newspapers, though as the stamps are actually sent through the mails, they have full philatelic value.

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC.—Hermann Focke reports having received the 1/2c green and black of the current set on paper watermarked crosses and circles. Only the three higher values, the 20c, 50c and $1, remain to be issued in order to complete the watermarked set, the existence of which was reported about two years ago.

ECUADOR.—The Scott Stamp & Coin Co. has shown us a new set of stamps from this country, issued to commemorate the National Exposition of 1909, as we gather from the inscriptions. There are two designs, that for the values from 1c to 1s inclusive being large, upright stamps like the 1907 series, while the 5 sucres stamp is of the same size, but horizontal oblong instead of upright. The stamps are all on a single color, the portraits and picture being in the same color as the frames. The inscriptions on the lower values reads "Correos," in a straight line at the top, while "Republica del Ecuador" appears in a curved line following the shape of the upper part of the oval containing the portrait. "Exposicion Nacional de 1909" appears below the oval in a similar curved line, while the name of the portrait appears inside the oval, also in a curved line. The portraits are as follows: 1c, Jose Mejia Vallejo; 2c, Francisco Javier Eugenio Espejo; 3c, Ascasubi; 5c, Juan Salinas; 10c, El Marques de Selva Alegre; 20c, Carlos Montufar; 50c, Juan de Dios Morales; 1s, Manuel Rodriguez de Quiroga. The 5s stamp has the same inscriptions, but all arranged at the top in three lines, "Correos" being last instead of first. All values have the figures of value in each of the lower corners, with the words "Centavo" or "Sucre" in a tablet between. The 5s stamp has a picture of the front of the National Palace, or as the inscription reads: "Fachada del Edificio Principal." All the stamps are printed on unwatermarked paper, and are perforated 12. There is no imprint on the stamps, though it appears to be safe enough to credit them to the American Bank Note Co.

HONDURAS.—We have received from the C. E. Hussman Stamp Co. specimens of the new lithographed 1c stamp, showing that they are coming in several different shades, varying from light to dark green. All are very poorly printed however and the colors are imperfect and very unsatisfactory.

INDIA.—Charkhari.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us the full set of stamps chronicled in No. 961, and we find that they are printed on native paper, and very roughly perforated. The color of the 1 pice stamp was incorrectly stated, however, the actual color being pale blue instead of reddish brown.

NORWAY.—Hermann Focke sends us a curiosity in the shape of a Norwegian picture card, which has passed through the mails without any postage stamp. In place of the usual stamp there is on the card six different stamps giving views of the Wellman Station, Virgo Bay, Spitzbergen, which by the way, is the subject of the picture card also. These stickers, for that is what they are, as they have no philatelic value, are very carefully cancelled with a cancellation stamp which has "Virgo Bay" and a star between two circular lines, with the date "1909" in a straight line in the centre. We cannot do better than reproduce Mr. Focke's letter in full:

"The enclosed postal card from Spitzbergen, though not actually a philatelic object, is worthy of inspection, since it actually went through the mails unobserved, no postage due being collected here. These Spitzbergen stamps are simply souvenir stickers and enough has been said about them in the philatelic press to show that they have no philatelic standing, but it is certainly peculiar that there should be any face value of different amount for the various pictures, and more still, that there should even be a 'provisional' value, inasmuch as the 20 ore red is surcharged '5 Ore' in purple. I consider the card very unique—too bad that it was not mailed by Dr. Cook from the pole, since it comes into my hands at the same time when the news of that explorer's apparent success in the Arctic reaches this country!"

SIERRA LEONE.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us several new issues from this colony, including those chronicled in No. 969, and also the 1s stamp according to the new color scheme. All are inscribed "Postage & Revenue." A slight correction must be made of the chronicle of the 4d and 5d as printed in No. 969, so that we give the list again, with corrections.

UNSATISFACTORY TRADE RELATIONS.

In past weeks upon mere notification we have made reference to unsatisfactory trade relations reported by either dealer or subscriber. In the future we must ask that all cases be placed with an attorney or collection agency, when the findings in the case will gladly be published in our columns. The reason for this step is no doubt apparent.

F. D. Goodhue, 711 Mercantile Library Bldg., Cincinnati, O., attorney for the A. P. S., will take charge of all claims and there will be no fee for services unless collections result.

—M. Pierre Mahé in a recent number of the Echo de la Timbrologie, deprecates the practice prevalent in many quarters, of using the term "retouch" in connection with the large '4' varieties of the 40c of the first issue of France. He explains how the varieties were produced. Two clichés of the 20c were found to have been inserted by error in the bottom row of the half-forme of 150 stamps on the right. Instead of making a new plate, which would have been costly, the figures "2" were drilled out, and into the cavities molten metal was poured, on which, when hardened, figures "4" were engraved. It was, of course, impossible that these "4's" should be exactly the same as on the rest of the stamps.—Philatelic Record.

A YEARLY CORMACK CONTRACT.

H. Cormack, Port Ewen, N. Y., the well known importer of Central and South American stamps has arranged with the WEEKLY for a continuous advertisement to be inserted during the next twelve months, covering offers of his specialties, which will be changed as occasion requires.

The cool September evenings making indoor recreation enjoyable will cause the stamp collector to re-open his albums and go forth in quest of "space fillers." The stamp season is on.

books received in this condition to the owners without circulating them. Hinges which do not peel too readily should be used, and they should be a good quality. Excellent results are usually obtained by those who have allowed their books to remain in the department at least one year, and if possible longer, for as a rule, satisfactory results cannot be obtained in less time. It takes an average of three months for a circuit to pass around among ten members, and unless a book can pass through at least four or five circuits, the sales might prove disappointing. Several of the most successful sellers through the department advise us to keep their books as long as desired, and as all books are kept "busy" going out on new routes promptly after their return from the previous route, the longer they are kept in motion the better.

We sometimes receive requests to retire an owner's books immediately. If the members would stop to think such requests would not be made, for it should be realized that as we receive each batch of books they are sent out on different circuits,—and in order to retire a lot upon request, it is necessary to wait until every one of the circuits containing the owner's books is returned to the Sales Superintendent. Circuits are at present sent to all parts of the United States, Canada, Mexico and the Philippine Islands. They are sent long distances, where they reach buyers whom the ordinary dealer very seldom reaches. Sales are usually much better on circuits that have gone to these out of the way places. It sometimes happens that upon the return of a circuit, I find that one or more of the buyers have made mistakes in their remittances, which necessitates my writing to them, and in most cases submitting the book or books in order to prove their mistakes. This occupies more time. Lastly, books are re-checked by four members of my office force, including an expert accountant. Accounts are handled thus thoroughly to prevent the possibility of errors, and the work is usually done between the 20th and 30th of each month, as it is inexpedient to make retirement at any and all times, and immediately upon request.

I wish to state that the department is run entirely in the interest of the collector members, and that while larger sales might result if we ourselves sold the stamps over our counter, it would be at the expense of giving members their proper proportion of fresh books, hence no sales are made in the office.

Regular meetings 3rd Monday.

The 44th regular meeting was held August 16, 1909, at the home of Prof. Whitney, Takoma Park, D. C. Nine members were present. The regular routine business was transacted. Major Pierre C. Stevens, Paymaster Corps U. S. A., was unanimously elected to membership, his number being 61.

The evening was very pleasantly spent in examining the splendid collection of the host which comprised several volumes, one of them being an especially fine lot of covers both United States and foreign.

Refreshments were served. The members left at a late hour feeling that the evening had been profitably spent,

ANNUAL REPORT SALES SUPT.

PHILADELPHIA, July 1, 1909.

I have the honor to tender, herewith,
my annual report of the Sales Department for the year ending July 1, 1909.

The total sales for the year have amounted to $11,227.62, which is an average of nearly $1,000.00 per month.
Summarized they are as follows:

Cash received in July (1908),	$ 945.28
" " August,	689.15
" " September,	720.10
" " October,	1,105.55
" " November,	1,226.28
" " December,	1,037.56
" " January (1909),	851.81
" " February,	828.41
" " March,	953.44
" " April,	1,032.04
" " May,	954.75
" " June,	883.25

Total, $11,227.62

It will be noted that this is quite an improvement over the preceding year.
We believe that this improvement is due entirely to the carrying out of what is known as the "Branch System," advocated last year. The sales through branch managers reached the gratifying total of $3,439.35. In addition to financial results secured in cities where branches are in operation, we beg to call attention to the fact that the society membership has been considerably increased, due largely to the fact, we believe, that the Branch System with its energetic local manager has been able by careful and intelligent circulation of the exchange circuits to give a practical illustration of the valuable Sales Department feature. Last year the by-laws were altered so as to increase the compensation of the Sales Manager from 10% to 12½%, being generally understood that the Superintendent would compensate branch managers to the extent of 2½% on the sales made through their respective branches. Letters were sent to the various managers offering them a cash compensation of 2½% for sales made through them, providing the total reached at least $400.00. In addition to the above cash compensation, the Superintendent offered prizes in stamps for the four best results; 1st, $10; 2nd, $5; 3rd, $3; 4th, $2; Scott's Catalogue value according to want-list of the 19th century. Although the minimum of $400 was not reached by all, we have decided to pay 2½% this year for all sales made, no matter how small, as we feel that the matter has been received seriously, and excellent results have been secured for so brief a trial.
We think in the future, however, it will be well for the incoming Superintendent to set a minimum of say $200 for each future year, as that makes an average of only $16.67 per month, and we believe that a man undertaking the work is apt to continue more seriously if there is some sort of a minimum amount required. It also stimulates competitive interest to have prizes in stamps offered for the best results.

I take pleasure in appending a list of the results secured by the branch managers during the past year. They are as follows:

(1) J. W. Haseltine, Philadelphia, Pa.,	$725.98
(2) Don. R. Bennett, Detroit, Mich.,	511.32
(3) Wm. C. Rhodes, Cleveland, Ohio,	452.60
(4) Chas. R. Morris, Washington, D.C.,	382.85
(5) L. A. Van Toor, Milwaukee, Wis.,	346.22
(6) R. J. Mundell, Montreal, Canada,	271.58
(7) A. H. Weber, Berkeley, Calif.,	217.51
(8) W. C. Emery, Springfield, Mass.,	192.30
(9) B. A. Weber, Providence, R. I.,	102.32
(10) W. A. Hemphill, Pittsburg, Pa.,	98.42
(11) W. O. Staab, Milwaukee, Wis.,	85.06
(12) H. S. Adair, Columbus, Ohio,	31.68
(13) Harrie S. Mueller, Wichita, Kan.,	21.51

Total, $3,439.35

I take this opportunity to compliment
the branch managers upon their successful efforts, and extend to them the thanks of the Sales Department for their splendid work in behalf of the society at large. The relations of the Sales Superintendent have been extremely pleasant with all of these managers, and in fact, with most members receiving circuits. A short time before the close of the fiscal year, I took the opportunity of writing to the various managers for suggestions looking toward the betterment of the department, and give below a few extracts from the various letters of the managers who have replied:
From J. W. Haseltine, Philadelphia:
"The system inaugurated by you of supplying the sales managers of the different branches of the A. P. S. with circuits, has certainly been a gratifying success, and a great convenience to the members, as well as saving them the additional expense of registering the circuits * * * My record of sales will show the appreciation of members of Branch 18, who all speak in the highest terms of the great convenience it is to them. I hope you will continue the system in the future." From Don R.
Bennett, Detroit: "I think the system
a very marked improvement, and members of the Detroit Society who formerly received circuits in the old way have expressed to me their approval of the new system also. In regard to the emumeration of the branch managers,
I do not think the 2½% commission sufficient compensation for conducting the business in a lively manner, and for the amount of work detailed. I think the department can be best improved by improving the quality of the stamps in circuits, but of course this is a matter which is up to the members." From William C. Rhodes, Cleveland, Ohio:

"The Branch Manager System, as inaugurated by you last year, is, in my estimation, the most advantageous way to handle the A. P. S. exchange, and I find it impossible to offer any suggestions looking to the improvement of your Sales Department." From Charles R.
Morris, Washington, D. C.: "We all like the branch system as it makes it convenient for them to pass from one to another without much trouble, and no expense. They can make their remittance to me in any shape that is convenient * * * and I have it so arranged that each person has a first whack at the circuits in rotation * * *
As to its value, I believe that you reach many more people by it than you otherwise would, for there are some who would not want to take their turn in returning circuits, and paying the postage on them, who would buy some stamps at least where they could see them without much expense. * * * Don't you think that if you had more of the branch managers keep a stock of the blank books and if you could do so without loss,
* * * that you would get more people to put books in circulation?" From W. C. Emery, Springfield, Mass.: "I can say for myself and am sure that our members here in the city will sanction what I say, that I am pleased with the branch system much better than the old method."

It has been a source of some disappointment that a number of our largest cities have not as yet appointed branch managers, but we believe now that the efficiency of the branch system has been demonstrated, that the matter will be taken up in every large city. Before the close of this convention, we hope that assurance will be given by representatives of such cities as Chicago, St.
Louis, Cincinnati, Pittsburg, Baltimore,
Los Angeles, Denver, Omaha, New York, Brooklyn, Minneapolis and St. Paul, that they will promptly meet and appoint or elect an energetic branch manager upon whom they can depend for making a strong showing.

We are frequently asked how the best results may be obtained by members placing their stamps in the Sales Department for circulation, and would state that in the first place it is most important that the catalogue number and value of each stamp be given as well as the net selling price. Many of the members buying from the circuits are busy men and if this information is given,
they will often make good purchases,
whereas, if the information is lacking, they will simply pass the stamps with only a cursory examination. Stamps valued at from 5c to $2 each in good condition, sell very much better than stamps of higher price. Defective stamps should not be placed in the department at any price, as they are always objected to on the ground that no member wishes to pay postage on trash that does not interest him or anyone else.
Stamps should not be placed on the backs of pages, and hereafter we will have to adhere to the rule of returning

POSTAGE STAMPS OF THE CONFEDERATE STATES OF AMERICA.

By L. W. CROUCH.

(This article will be reprinted uniform with our previous attempts in this direction and supplied at 5c each, mailed in a pasteboard tube. These reprints are made so that they may be inserted in the leading blank albums. Valuable for reference if kept in a binder which we can supply at 80c each, which just pays cost of manufacture and postage.—Ed.)

Introduction.—Among the most interesting series of postage stamps are those issued by the short-lived Government of the Confederate States of America. They are interesting, historically, as relics of the great American Civil War, which raged for four years, and in which England was so nearly involved. They are also interesting philatelically, as I hope to prove to you in this paper. For the greater part of my information I am indebted to a most valuable article by Major E. B. Evans, which was published in Volumes II. and III. of the Monthly Journal, and also to Major Evans himself, who has most kindly given me information on many points.

Historical.—One of the causes of the secession of the southern states from the United States was the slavery question: the North desired the emancipation of the slaves and the South wanted to keep up slavery. In the South there has always been much mutual hatred between the whites and the blacks, and racial wars, accompanied by lynchings of the unhappy negroes, have broken out from time to time. The inhabitants of the Southern States were also more narrow-minded and less advanced than those of the North. South Carolina was the first state to secede in December, 1860, and was quickly followed by Mississippi, Florida, Alabama, Georgia, and Louisiana, in the order named. The representatives of these six states met at Montgomery (Alabama) in February, 1861, decreed the Constitution of the Confederate States, and established a provisional government. Mr. Jefferson Davis and Mr. Stephens were elected President and Vice-President respectively of this government on February 9th: the whole assembly called itself a Provisional Congress, which was only to last one year. During this period seven more states joined the confederation, viz.:—Texas, Virginia, Arkansas, Tennessee, North Carolina, Kentucky, and Missouri: the seat of the government was removed to Richmond (Virginia) on May 20th, 1861. The permanent government was organized in February, 1862, and Messrs. Jefferson Davis and Stephens were invested for six years with the powers they already exercised. They were destined never to complete their term of office. All these secessions and the formation of this new nation were conducted peacefully at first, but the United States could not allow itself to be split up with impunity, as to allow one state to secede from the main body would be a dangerous precedent. War broke out soon after (May, 1861), and was really fought to decide whether or not one state was to be permitted to break away from a confederation of states. It emphatically decided in the negative. It is not necessary here to go into the operations, but suffice it to say that after the fortune of war had wavered from one side to the other, the Federals obtained the upper hand, the main Confederate army was surrounded and captured, and the Union was firmly established.

By an Act approved by the Provisional Congress on February 9th, 1861, it was enacted that all the laws of the United States of America, in force and in use in the Confederate States of America on November 1st, 1860, and not inconsistent with the Constitution of the Confederate States, should be continued in force until altered or repealed by the Congress.

By an Act of Congress, approved March 15th, 1861, entitled "An Act to prescribe the rates of postages in the Confederate States of America, and for other purposes," the rates of postage were fixed as follows:—For letters, 5 cents per ½ oz., if conveyed less than 500 miles; 10 cents per ½ oz., if conveyed more than that distance; and for drop letters (i.e., letters to an address in the same town), 2 cents each; for printed matter, various rates per quarter for periodicals sent out by the publishers (this rates did not affect the stamps, as the amounts were collected quarterly from the publishers, and the parcels were not stamped); for other newspapers, circulars, etc., under 3 oz. in weight, 2 cents, and 2 cents per oz. over that weight; for books, 2 cents per oz.; and for newspapers, circulars, &c., posted for delivery only, 1 cent each; the letter registration system was repealed.

This act also enacted that "until postage stamps and stamped envelopes can be procured and distributed, the Postmaster-General may order the postage of the Confederacy to be prepaid in money, under such rules and regulations as he may adopt."

By Section 1 of an Act of Congress, approved April 19th, 1862, the postal rate for letters was increased to 10 cents per 1/2 oz. for any distance in the Confederate States.

Mr. John H. Reagan, the Postmaster-General of the Confederate States, issued a proclamation to all postmasters, under date of May 13th, 1861, requiring them (inter alia) to render to the Post Office Department at Washington their final accounts and their vouchers for postal receipts and expenditures, up to the 31st May, taking care to forward with the said accounts all postage stamps and stamped envelopes remaining on hand, belonging to the Post Office Department of the United States, in order that they might receive the proper credits therefor, in the adjustment of their accounts, and to retain in their possession, to meet the orders of the Postmaster-General of the United States, for the payment of mail service within the Confederate States, all revenue which should have accrued from the postal service prior to the 1st June, 1861, on which day Mr. Reagan took over the entire management of postal affairs.

The instructions with regard to the return of all the United States stamps do not seem to have been fully carried out, as after the war large numbers of remainders were found in the Southern post-offices. As has been mentioned above, the postage on letters was to be paid in money until stamps were obtained and issued. This system was found very inconvenient, and several postmasters issued stamps of their own, in the same way as the postmasters of the United States did prior to the issue of stamps by the Government in 1847. With these postmasters' stamps I do not propose to deal, as they form a study by themselves.

The regular stamps were a long time forthcoming, as owing to the disturbed state of the country and owing to the fact that the South depended on the North for most commodities, paper and printing ink were scarce and persons capable of engraving and printing stamps scarce. The difficulties in this direction encountered by the Confederate States Post Office Department are best told in the words of the Confederate States Postmaster-General's report dated November 27th, 1861:

"Propositions were submitted early in March last from parties not residing in the Confederate States to supply them, and the Department was led to believe they ought to be obtained by the time it could be organized, and prepared to take control of the service. But the political changes then going on so rapidly and the increasing probabilities of hostilities between the new and the old Governments soon rendered the fulfilment of the first proposition to furnish stamps and stamped envelopes impossible.

"On the 16th March a proposition was submitted by a gentleman having the means and capacity for manufacturing them to establish a house in the city of Montgomery for that purpose, and for the purpose of doing any other engraving, lithographing and printing which might be required by the Government. Assurances were given him that he should have the contract for furnishing stamps and stamped envelopes, and at his request and to facilitate the early manufacture of them he was furnished by the Department with designs for the various denominations of stamps in order that he might complete the necessary engravings by the time his presses and other materials could be prepared. He left that city, as he said, for the purpose of carrying into effect that enterprise and nothing was heard from him afterwards.

"On the 27th of March the Department advertised for proposals for furnishing stamps and stamped envelopes in newspapers in the following cities, to wit:—Montgomery, New Orleans, Charleston, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, Savannah, Columbus, Richmond, Memphis, and Louisville. No proposals in response to this advertisement were received from any establishment in the then Confederate States. The only proposals made in answer to this advertisement were one from Richmond and one from Baltimore proposing to furnish lithographed stamps. The proposition from Baltimore was regarded as most favourable, both on account of the style of the work proposed to be done and the terms on which the supplies were proposed to be furnished. But the collision between the citizens of that city and the Federal troops on the 20th of April and consequent suspension of communication with that city prevented further negotiations on the subject."

The report goes on to relate several other failures of the Department to obtain satisfactory stamps, and then says:—"Urged by the wants of the public, the Department was induced, as a temporary expedient, to make arrangements with a lithographic establishment in this city (Richmond) for the manufacture of lithographed stamps." Other attempts to get finely engraved stamps are then related, but the contract with the lithographers brings us to the first issue by the Government.

Issue of 1861.—Messrs. Hoyer & Ludwig, of Richmond (Virginia), were the firm of lithographers who were contracted with for the supply of stamps "as a temporary expedient." However, the Confederate States Post Office Department were nearly a year finding suitable stamp engravers, and Messrs. Hoyer & Ludwig printed all the stamps till at any rate the middle of 1862, with the exception of one or two supplies of 1 cent and 5 cents stamps which were printed in London.

There was a great scarcity of paper and printing ink in the Confederate States, and the manner in which the contractors obtained the necessary supplies is rather interesting. The Confederate States Government contracted for a large supply of paper and envelopes—this stationery was sold by a citizen of New York to a Mr. Joel White, a stationer of Montgomery. It was delivered at a certain point in Kentucky, whence Mr. White transported it within the Confederate lines. The ink employed came at first from the North and was run through the blockade via Baltimore and Washington. When the United States authorities about those cities became more vigilant it came by sea, mostly by way of Charleston.

The 5 cents was the first value issued; the Richmond Examiner of October 19th, 1861, gives the date of issue as October 18th, 1861. The exact date of issue of the 10 cents is unknown, but was probably about November, 1861. Major Evans, in his article, places the 2 cents with this first issue, but a report of the Postmaster-General, dated February 28th, 1862, says: "Two cents stamps have been very much needed, and it is believed that the Department will be able to supply them soon," so March, 1862, is a more probable date for this stamp.

The size of the sheets of these stamps is not known, but they were printed probably in horizontal rows of 10. At the bottom margin of the sheet there appears, "Lith. of Hoyer & Ludwig, Richmond, Va."; on the sheets of the 5 cents this is in upright block capitals, on the sheets of the 10 cents in small italic block capitals. In the sheets of the 10 cents the stamp immediately above the beginning of the marginal inscription shows a flaw in the right side of the circular band, one of the spike-shaped ornaments being white.

The 5 cents bears a portrait of President Jefferson Davis. The portrait on the 10 cents was, according to Colonel H. St. George Offutt, the First Assistant Postmaster-General and chief of the Contract Bureau, originally "designed for James Madison, but the artist made a caricature of it." It appears, however, that the portrait is really intended for Thomas Jefferson and was copied from the portrait on the United States 5 cents of 1851.

The Postmaster-General's report of February 28th, 1862, says:—

"The first postage stamps were delivered to the Department under the contract by which it is now supplied, on the 15th of October, 1861. Since then 9,289,400 5 cents stamps have been received, equal to $464,470.00 and 902,100 10 cents stamps, 90,210.00

Making in all 10,191,500, $554,680.00"

As the 5 cents and 10 cents in blue and rose respectively were issued in February, 1862, we may take the above figures as representing approximately the numbers of the 5 cents green and 10 cents blue supplied by the contractors.

Both these values are known rouletted, but this is probably of a private nature.

Issue of 1862 (January).—This issue was obtained from Messrs. Thomas De La Rue & Co. of London, as the Confederate Government were afraid that Messrs. Hoyt & Ludwig would be unable to supply a sufficient quantity of stamps to meet the public demands. According to the report of the Postmaster-General, dated November 27th, 1861: "On the first day of October a confidential agent was provided with ample means, and despatched to Europe to procure the manufacture of steel dies and plates for printing stamps of the several denominations provided by law, and for procuring for use, as soon as practicable, 15 millions of stamps, and to forward the dies, plates, and stamps to this city." Another report, dated February 28th, 1862, says: "The Department, however, has just received from Europe, under the order referred to in my last report (see supra), 2,150,000 5 cents stamps, equal to $107,500." Apparently this consignment contained only 5 cents stamps and no plates. Other consignments of 1 cent and 5 cents stamps were despatched later; concerning these Colonel Offutt says: "I think that at least three plates, and about the nominal value of 400,000 dollars of printed stamps ready for use (among which were some of the 1 cent) were shipped by De La Rue & Co. on a vessel that was captured by the United States off the port of Wilmington, N.C., and the agent of the Department threw the plates overboard; the stamps were captured, but what disposition was made of them I never knew. These plates were never recovered, but subsequently one plate, denomination 5 cents, and one plate, denomination 1 cent, were successfully shipped to Richmond, and were, with some other matters (the printing press from the same London house being among them) sent southward, prior to the evacuation of Richmond, in charge of a special agent, with a view to their safety in the event of that city being captured, but what became of them do not know."

The 1 cent stamp bore a portrait of John C. Calhoun, and the 5 cents a portrait of Jefferson Davis. The 1 cent was never issued owing to a change in the postal rates. Both stamps were printed by typography in sheets of 100 stamps in 10 rows of 10. Mr. Coster, in the Stamp Collectors' Magazine for March, 1874, states that the 1 cent was printed from three stages of the plate, but Major Evans is of the opinion that "the differences seem hardly to amount to more than might exist between good impressions and poor impressions from the same plate." Colonel Offutt also doubts the accuracy of this account.

Issue of 1862 (February and March).—Although, as above mentioned, consignments of 5 cents stamps were obtained from London, they did not supersede Messrs. Hoyer & Ludwig's lithographed stamps, but were in use concurrently with them. The 2 cents had not been issued at the date of the Postmaster-General's report of February 28th, 1862, as above mentioned, but must have come out some time in March. About February, 1862, the colours of the 5 cents and 10 cents were changed from green and blue to blue and rose respectively. The new 2 cents stamp bore a portrait of Andrew Jackson, the 5 cents and 10 cents being, of course, of the same design as those of 1861. The 5 cents and 10 cents were printed from the same stones as those of 1861, and the sheets, the size of which is unknown, bear the same marginal inscriptions. The 10 cents stamp over the first part of the inscription shows the same flaw.

The Postmaster-General's report, dated December 7th, 1863, states that 557,200 2 cents stamps, value $11,144.00, were supplied between July 1st, 1862, and June 30th, 1863. These must have been the lithographed stamps, but we have no record of the number supplied between February 28th, 1862, and June 30th, 1862.

The 5 cents blue is known rouletted unofficially.

Issue of 1862 (June or July).—This issue consists of a re-issue of the lithographed 10 cents in blue. Several theories have been propounded for the reason for all these changes of colour, but Major Evans' seems to be the most plausible. He says:—

"According to Colonel Offutt's original statement, a supply of the 5 cents stamps made by De La Rue & Co. was received and issued before the end of 1861; the supply was very likely only a small one, as dies or electrotypes were being sent out. A 5 cents blue, having been received from England, it would be natural enough to use green for the 2 cents, and when the first English supply was exhausted, and the lithographic stone of the 5 cents was again brought into use, it would be equally natural to print stamps from it in blue—both because that was the colour of what was to be the permanent issue of that value, and because there was another value being printed in green. I think we may safely assume that the colour of the 10 cents was changed at the same time, so as to avoid having two stamps of about the same size printed in the same colour. Later still, when a further supply of the small 5 cents was received, together, perhaps, with a plate for printing them from, it would be safe to return to blue for the 10 cents, because the difference in size, and in the general appearance of the two stamps, was sufficient to prevent confusion."

The re-issue of the 10 cents in blue may be distinguished from the first issue by being printed in a brighter blue and by showing a very worn state of the stone.

Issue of 1862 (July?).—As has been mentioned above, one or more plates for printing 5 cents stamps were sent over to the Confederate States by Messrs. De La Rue & Co. The Post Office Department had contracted with Messrs. Archer & Daly of Richmond for supplying postage stamps and, accordingly, this firm employed De La Rue & Co.'s plates for printing the 5 cents stamps. The size of the sheets is, of course, exactly the same as of the London impressions. The stamps printed by Messrs. Archer & Daly may be recognised by the rough printing; the paper employed is quite different from that used by De La Rue & Co., which is always glazed. The paper used for local impressions varies considerably in thickness. A report of the Postmaster-General, dated December 7th, 1863, gives in a list of "the stamps supplied to postmasters from July 1st, 1862, to June 30th, 1863," the number of 5 cents issued during that period as 37,953,977, value $1,897,698.85. Another report dated November 7th, 1864, states that 3,626,600 5 cents stamps, value $181,330.00, were supplied to postmasters from July 1st, 1863, to June 30th, 1864. This gives a total of 41,580,577 5 cents stamps, value $2,079,028.85; whether any further supplies were issued I do not know, but probably not. As this stamp was first issued about the beginning of July, 1862, the above figures may be taken to represent the number issued.

Issue of 1863 (January).—Some time in January, 1863, Messrs. Archer & Daly supplied engraved 10 cents stamps for the first time. The die for this stamp was engraved by Mr. Archer, who had been in the employ of the American Bank Note Company of New York, the well-known stamp printers. His speciality was in letter and scroll-engraving. This die was the only one engraved by him. According to Mr. Corwin, "he was brought to Richmond for the express purpose of attending to the engraving on steel of the new stamps for the Confederacy, and inasmuch as Mr. Halpin had not yet arrived, immediately following his appearance there was provided with the proper utensils and dispatched to a quiet village, where, in a few weeks, he produced the die of the TEN cents blue."

The prominent feature of this stamp is the value being expressed in words "Ten Cents." The portrait is of Jefferson Davis and was engraved from a photograph.

The size of the sheets of this stamp is unknown. A great outcry was raised against the portrait, and the stamp was soon withdrawn. In consequence it is now rather scarce.

Major Evans lists this stamp on laid paper, but it is not now mentioned in the catalogues.

Issue of 1863 (April?).—A new die for the 10 cents stamp was prepared owing to the dissatisfaction with the die engraved by Mr. Archer. This new die and a die for a new value, 20 cents, were engraved by Mr. Halpin, an engraver in the employ of Messrs. Archer & Daly. The new 10 cents die bore a better portrait of Jefferson Davis and the new value thus "10 cents." The 20 cents bore a portrait of Washington.

The first plate constructed for the 10 cents showed frame line around each stamp. It is not known how many stamps a sheet contained, but probably 200 stamps in 2 panes of 100 in 10 rows of 10. This plate was constructed from the first state of the 10 cents die, the two states of which will be explained under the next issue. One of the distinguishing marks of the first state is a flaw in the lines of shading immediately below the bust and over the "E" of "Cents." This flaw was apparently repaired on some of the stamps on this plate, as specimens of the 10 cents with the rectangular frame are known with the flaw corrected. Apparently there was no marginal inscription on the sheets of this stamp.

The 20 cents stamp was printed in sheets of 200 stamps in 2 panes of 100 in 10 rows of 10, the panes being placed side by side. Under each pane there is a marginal inscription in Old English letters, "Archer & Daly, Richmond, Va." The plate of the 10 cents showing the rectangular frame was abandoned very soon, and this stamp is extremely scarce.

A report of the Postmaster-General, dated December 7th, 1863, states that 10,417,700 10 cents stamps, value $1,041,770.00, were issued from July 1st, 1862, to June 30th, 1863. This number must have included the lithographed 10 cents blue, the TEN cents, the 10 cents with the rectangular frame, and probably a few of the common 10 cents. The same report states that 95,100 20 cents stamps, value $19,020.00, were issued during that time, which small number indicates that this value was issued towards the end of that period. Major Evans gives the date of issue as 1864, but this report proves that it was about April or May, 1863. In another report, dated November 7th, 1864, it is stated that 1,833,300 20 cents stamps, value $366,660.00, were issued between July 1st, 1863, and June 30th, 1864, but this number no doubt includes some printings by Messrs. Keatinge & Ball.

The 20 cents is known divided diagonally and used as a 10 cents.

Issue of 1863 (June).—As I have mentioned before, the plate of the 10 cents with rectangular frame was abandoned. Four new plates were made, two from the first state of the die, and two from the finished die. These plates were numbered and all used concurrently. The two states of the die are usually called dies A and B. Die A is distinguished by the incomplete appearance of the corners and by the flaw already described; die B shows the finished work of the engraver, the corners completed, the flaw corrected, and a thin line drawn all around the design; the head had also been entirely re-engraved. These four plates all contained 200 stamps each in 2 panes of 100 in 10 rows of 10, the panes being placed side by side. Below each pane was a marginal inscription and the plate number. This inscription was originally "Archer & Daly, Bank-Note Engravers, Richmond, Va." in italics. Portions of this were at an early date erased. Plates 1 and 3 are known inscribed "Archer" (with a space after it), "Bank-Note Engravers, Richmond, Va.," and plate 4, "Bank-Note Engraver, Richmond, Va.," with the "s" of "Engravers" erased.

The 2 cents bears a portrait of Andrew Jackson; the die for this value was also engraved by Mr. Halpin. The plate contained 200 stamps in 2 panes of 100 in 10 rows of 10, and apparently bore no marginal inscription.

The 2 cents and 10 cents dies A and B are known on laid paper.

The Postmaster-General's report, dated November 7th, 1864, states that 869,200 2 cents stamps, value $17,384.00, were issued between July 1st, 1863, and June 30th, 1864. These, no doubt, were all engraved stamps. The same report tells us that 33,450,400 10 cents stamps, value $3,345,040.00, were also issued during that period. This number must have included some printings by Keatinge & Ball.

Issue of 1864.—Sometime in 1864 Messrs. Keatinge & Ball of Columbia (South Carolina) obtained the stamp-printing contract, doubtless owing to the threatened evacuation of Richmond, and the plates and machinery were handed over to them. They used the plates engraved by Archer & Daly, but altered the marginal inscriptions.

They probably did not have occasion to print any 2 cents stamps though they may have done so. They altered the marginal inscriptions on all four plates of the 10 cents to "KEATINGE & BALL, Bank-Note Engravers, COLUMBIA, S.C.," and erased altogether the inscription on the plate of the 20 cents.

The stamps printed by the Columbia firm may be recognised by the rough printing and the brown dull gum. The Richmond prints are always clear and have almost colourless shiny gum.

Major Evans chronicles the 10 cents die B on grey-brown paper.

The Perforated Stamps.—All the stamps before described were issued imperforate, but we find all the engraved stamps and the typographed 5 cents perforated. Mr. Coster says: "In the early part of the late war Mr. Offutt (the Assistant Postmaster-General) ordered from Messrs. De La Rue & Co. a perforating machine, and on its arrival in Richmond he applied it to a few sheets of each value for the purpose of seeing 'how the thing worked.' These perforated sheets were duly issued, though now no copy of the perforated 5 cents is known. This perforation gauges 12½. Other perforations are known but all these are fraudulent. The unissued 1 cent is known with a forged perforation."

Bogus Stamps.—During the war several absolutely bogus varieties were printed for sale to collectors. Of these two are in the design of the small De La Rue 5 cents but with the word "Five" erased and "Ten" substituted. One bore the same portrait as the genuine. It was printed in sheets of 70 in 7 rows of 10. Major Evans mentions a sheet in his possession issued as an advertisement by a bookseller at Atlanta. There is printed on the back:—"This sheet of stamps is presented by The Old Book Store. Is printed from the genuine plate captured at the fall of Atlanta on Confederate made paper. Stamps of this kind that have passed through the mails are very rare, bringing from $10 to $30 each. These labels are found in blue and carmine.

Another bogus variety is a would-be 10 cents stamp in the same design as the last but with a portrait of General Thomas J. Jackson, commonly known as "Stonewall" Jackson, the famous Confederate general. Several stories have been told as to its origin, but there is no doubt that it is absolutely fraudulent. It is said to have been printed by Messrs. Hoyer & Ludwig, and is only known in carmine, the ink for which colour is said to have been made from the juice of "the Pokeberry," whatever that may be.—Stamp Lover.

EDITORIAL.

Convention Advertising—There is much news in the wake of the convention; indeed, the convention itself furnishes almost a perennial source of inspiration for the philatelic pen but we shall have reluctantly to dismiss the subject after a few brief references. The Philadelphia newspapers allotted a good share of space to notices of the convention, especially on the day that the delegates were entertained so royally in Philadelphia. The volume of publicity that recent conventions have received from the newspaper press of the respective convention cities was well maintained in the recent instance. This advertising is not to be lightly considered and in itself, it affords a strong argument in favor of the annual convention. The convention of the American Philatelic Society has become somewhat famous in circles where attention is given such affairs for material reasons. Our annual festival is regarded as a distinct desirability by those who have reason to cater to such gatherings; indeed on the sordid scale of "spending" the American Philatelic Society admittedly ranks high, however dubious may be this distinction.

Good Solution—For several years past, a dominant idea of some of the leaders in society work has been to make a distinction of some kind between the adult and the young member. This intention is perfectly proper but heretofore minds have been at variance as to how the end was to be accomplished. The idea of a junior chapter of the organization did not meet the approval of many of the members; now, however, a proposal was adopted at the convention to place an asterisk before the name of each member under twenty-one years of age. In effect this course will serve to show the two divisions of members while each class retains all privileges as heretofore. No discrimination is made under the new ruling and the benefits from membership are for sharing in common. In this connection, it may be added, that the juniors applying to membership will be required to furnish more information than formerly in respect to their guarantors.

U. S. R. S.—The United States Revenue Society held its third annual convention at Atlantic City with Clarence H. Eagle, president, in the chair, and Chas. A. Nast, secretary, at his post. The session was impressive because of the intelligent interest displayed by the members in all questions of society policy and the evident and earnest desire to improve the organization in all possible ways. It was found that the by-laws were defective in certain of their provisions and work was hampered to some extent by these limitations; they will be revised to suit current conditions. The most important piece of legislation effected was that which extended the scope of the society so that the study and collecting of foreign revenues are to be added to the objects of the society. The following officers were elected to serve for the year: First Vice President, A. G. Bishop; Second Vice President, E. R. Vanderhoof; Secretary, J. D. Bartlett; Treasurer, H. S. Ackerman. The Stamp Journal was selected as the official journal. By virtue of the by-laws, W. S. Aldrich became president by succession. The United States Revenue Society has become a vital factor in American philately.

Change Wanted—It was fitting enough that after the stamp societies held their convention at Atlantic City, the National Postal Clerks Association gathered there in annual convocation. According to a correspondent's report, as well as a newspaper despatch, many references to stamps were made during the deliberations. A resolution was passed asking that the government change the colors of certain of the stamps of the current set because of the difficulty in distinguishing between them particularly under powerful artificial light. The testimony of some of the speakers was decidedly adverse to the retention of the colors in question and it was maintained that for economic reasons, they should be supplanted, as rapid work was almost impossible with them. It was said that "the one and eight cent stamps, the five and fifteen cent stamps, and six and ten cent stamps are so nearly alike in color that department clerks handling thousands of letters are unable to tell the difference without close examination."

Too Bad—It is far from our wish to change pleasant memories of those who attended the convention into gloomy recollections. Still, duty points the way and it is not the privilege of the chronicler of news to ignore the ghastly side, if one is uncovered, of the happiest of affairs. Even though gladness is to be turned into sorrow, we speak out. If there had been no convention, these awful things would not have happened. One newspaper said: "Why don't these fellows clap their hands when they want to applaud?" said the man in the back seat. "They do nothing but stamp." "This is a convention of philatelists," explained the man sitting next to him. The brilliant Franklin P. Adams, as he was regarded up to the moment of writing the following, in his corner in the New York Mail, just after the convention folk had spent their day in Philadelphia, said: "Phila. claims to contain more enthusiastic philatelists than any other city of equal size. Trading stamps are almost exclusively favored." No wonder stamp collectors say with bated breath: Can such things be?

* * *

Wants Another—Just before the convention, J. N., Jr., wrote to the Philadelphia Press from Atlantic City, as follows: "Why does not the Post Office Department issue a 30-cent stamp? Every year I see a large number of packages requiring that amount of postage, and I think, if issued, it would be used considerably. There is no stamp of any denomination between 15 and 50 cents, and it is very inconvenient to large concerns to have to stick a large number of low-value stamps upon packages. Let the 30 cent stamp be issued and I think it will be considerably used. I should like to hear the opinions of other readers of 'The Press.'" Every now and then, an agitation is begun for the issue of an intermediate stamp of the value of twenty or thirty cents; and publishers in particular have said that such a stamp would be a convenience in paying book postage. If the demand for the stamp refuses to be stilled, but grows more insistent, no doubt the authorities would be glad to act upon it. As it is, no doubt the department feels that there is little real need for the stamp in question.

FULTON STAMP OUT ON SEPTEMBER 25.

The first citizen to buy a 2-cent stamp at the City postoffice on the morning of September 25, will have the coveted honor of being the first private citizen to get possession of one of the stamps commemorating the Hudson-Fulton tercentenary. The stamps will be placed on sale simultaneously in every city and town in the United States. Rigid orders governing the sale of the new stamps have been issued by the department.

Acting Postmaster Merritt said that the stamps will be received by him probably two or three days before September 25. Not one will leave the office, however, he said, until the morning of that day. The Postmaster has received many inquiries from citizens who are anxious to become the first purchaser of the new issue.

The stamp is of artistic design. The engraving in the center shows as a background the Palisades of the Hudson River, with Hudson's ship, the "Half Moon," sailing majestically up on one side of the river with all sails set and the Clermont steaming down the river on the opposite side.

In the foreground is an Indian canoe representing the first means of navigation on the river. Another canoe containing four Indians is in the background. On the top line of the border of the stamp in Gothic letters is the inscription: "Hudson-Fulton Tercentenary, 1609-1909." The stamp is oblong in shape like the Jamestown Exposition stamp, seven-eighths by one and eighth inches in size.

COMMENDATION UNSOLICITED.

Please run our "Help Wanted" in the next three issues of the WEEKLY. We need help badly. Our little five-inch advertisement "Gems" has done splendidly, over $200.00 cash orders having been received and want lists representing several times that amount. Times are certainly improving.

The WEEKLY is certainly the paper to bring results. We shall give you a half-page adv. as a season opener just as soon as our new list is out of the printer's hands.

THE SOUND OF THE SURF.

(In behalf of Parnassus Penflip, we make due acknowledgment of the congratulatory messages that he has received as a result of his contributions under this head last week. While to use Penflip's own words, "encomiastic eulogium" always follows him and thus is nothing novel to him, yet he intimates that the honeyed words of his convention friends are not unwelcome. The WEEKLY is content to bask in the reflected glory of Parnassus Penflip. In this connection, we have to say a chiding word. W. H. B., Cleveland, addressed Mr. Penflip, as "Parnassus, old pal;" H. W. L., Pepperell, wrote him as "laddo." We trust that we shall not be under the necessity of speaking again to these gentlemen; evidently, for once, they forgot themselves. There is a quality such as true dignity, rare though it is; the elect recognize it,—we say no more.)

Chas. A. Nast was a well spring of delight and a radiator of joy, not to say a warm member. We buried our hatchets and not in each others heads. While he is quite in earnest about many things, we take it that he has a good bit of fun out of philately. Eh, Chas.?

E. B. Sterling, our prince and our pride, hail! It is good to greet you, unspoiled and original stamp lover. We recognize great worth and are always glad to pour forth libations to it. We need not say that the interesting souvenir that was so gracefully presented to us by Mr. Sterling in no wise is to be credited with flavoring our enthusiasm for that gentleman.

Alvin Good made a distinct impression on us as one of those rare spirits who materialize only too infrequently on this sordid spheroid. It is an inspiration to commune with this gentleman; one feels refreshed by being in his company. The courtesies that Mr. Good accepted and in turned proffered, were such as to bring the high-minded close to each other.

C. W. Kissinger who was one of the most famous of philatelists years ago still retains the charms that attracted so many to his standards when Mr. Kissinger was one of the most spectacular figures in philatelic publishing and political circles. Clifford, may your purse and person never be empty.

E. Doebelin was the lion of the convention. His presence gave joy to all and he was the recipient of much attention from members, old and new. His popularity grows with the years and he is entitled to the homage of all. While it is true that ye scribe was very considerably entertained by Mr. Doebelin that fact does not cause him to become overly eulogistic in his remarks about Mr. Doebelin.

Springfield, Mass., was represented by that great trinity, Messrs. Stone, Prevost and Bartlett, who are steeped in philately to their finger tips. Mr. Stone was an important factor in the convention as he was in eighteen previous ones. Stone is one of the brightest stars and may he twinkle at many conventions to come. Mr. Stone contributes a thrilling moment to each convention when he arises in his majesty and moves that the body adjourn sine die.

Washington was ideally represented by Messrs. Morris, Johnson, Ward, Hungerford and Sheckels, a quintette well calculated to make Washington famous. We feel very grateful to Mr. Morris for aiding and abetting the WEEKLY; as an aider and abetter he and his worthy associates know how. It is our unbiased belief that big things are in store for Mr. Morris.

The presence of Alvah Davison at the convention was a distinct satisfaction to those who knew him in the days of old, when he was one of the leaders in the society. Mr. Davison has helped to make brilliant history for the organization and we cannot forget how in 1894 at Niagara Falls, he enthralled us with his wit and wisdom.

New York was philatelically populous at Atlantic City. There were Messrs. Luff, Rich, Putney Tuttle, Gregory, Levy, Klemann, Mozian, Adenaw, Eagle, Davison and Herbst,—almost enough for a parade. New York loaned tone to the occasion at least and shone in the council chambers as well as at the society functions.

Mrs. Farquharson, Des Moines, Iowa, was again the sole lady member who attended. Mrs. Farquharson who is establishing a great record for attendance at the conventions follows the transactions on the floor very closely. The A. P. S. is proud of Mrs. Farquharson and it cannot well get along without her.

Philadelphia was the hospitable spot. The members from that city did everything in their power to add to the pleasure of the visitors and their success in this particular was unbounded. They are adepts in the art of entertaining and Philadelphia will always be remembered as surrounded by an aura of sentiment by the visiting delegates.

H. M. Clark attended his first convention and if he did not write his name in golden letters on the scroll of fame, we opine that he left an indelible mark. Mr. Van Order also was a neophyte who very gracefully stepped into the limelight.

W. E. Sisson helped to make St. Louis famous at the gathering. Mr. Sisson had something to say and he said it in the right way and in the right place. Now that he has shown himself, he dare not disappoint us by not attending conventions at the time.

General Coolidge U. S. A. and Major Palmer, U. S. A., were striking figures at the convention and all were glad to do them honor. It is pleasing to know that the convention is thought worth while in the estimation of these gentlemen.

THE ATTLEBORO PHILATELIST.

This is a very newsy eight-page paper published from Attleboro, Mass., by F. Percy Collingwood, the manager of the Attleboro Stamp Co. Its subscription price is 25c per year and requests for sample copies will be gladly complied with.

We welcome this new publication to our desk and trust it may have a long and useful life. Vol. I, No. 1, is certainly a very creditable publication.

THE SEYBOLD COLLECTION.

Keen Interest in Its Disposal Aroused by the Owner's Death.

(The following clipping from the Syracuse, N. Y. Herald may be taken as "official" as John B. Howe, to whom reference is made, is the editor of the Herald and well known to the readers of the WEEKLY by his frequent contributions to our columns. The Seybold estate is fortunate in having a philatelist so capable as Mr. Howe in directing the disposal of this great property.—Ed.)

It may interest Herald readers to know that the famous Seybold collection now reposes in a safe deposit vault in this city, pending arrangements for its appraisal and ultimate sale. Jacob Seybold, the aged father of the late philatelist, as already stated, is the sole heir to the property of his son, who died intestate, and the administrator as well; and John B. Howe, an intimate friend and fellow philatelist of the deceased, is the elder Seybold's personal agent for the liquidation of the estate. The appraisers of the estate are Judge W. G. Cady and Edward Beard, and John H. Costello is its attorney.

Mr. Howe has already received communications from the leading stamp dealers of the United States with regard to the Seybold collection, and the richest stamp house in the world, Stanley Gibbons, Inc., of London, has asked the privilege of examining the collection and making an offer for its purchase. Cash offers for the collection have already been submitted to Mr. Howe. Some weeks, perhaps months, however, must elapse before negotiations for the purchase of the collection will assume a serious phase. The disposal of Mr. Seybold's wonderful philatelic accumulation to the best advantage will be a knotty problem, and all the stamp markets and investors in Europe as well as this country will probably be heard from before the final decision is made. Mr. Howe has an intimate knowledge of all the details of the Seybold collection and of the history of all the famous rarities therein, and last spring he wrote a series of articles for the Collectors' Monthly of Chicago, reviewing the salient features of this celebrated aggregation of stamps.

Meetings first (informal) and third (regular) Tuesdays at Club Room 506 Kast Bdg., 7.30 P.M.

BOSTON, MASS., Sept. 18, '09.

The 210th (regular) meeting of the Society will be held at the Club Room on Tuesday evening, Sept. 21, at 7.30 o'clock.

This is the opening meeting of the fall season, and there will be much of interest for all the members. The A. P. S. Convention is a thing of the past and you'll want to hear all about it from those who were there. The "Advance Sheets" of the new catalogue are well along and you'll want to discuss the changes in prices. There is the news of the summer that your friend wants to tell you, and the plans for the season that you want to tell him. Come along and bring a visitor—and then don't forget that there are plenty of blank "applications" to be had. We want plenty of new members this season.

Mr. Carpenter has given notice of the following proposed amendment to the Statutes: Amend Art. VIII, Sec. 3, by substituting the words "eight per cent" for "five per cent" in the second line.

For entertainment there will be an exhibition of British African Colonies by Mr. J. N. Luff. Anyone who has had the pleasure of examining the collections which Mr. Luff has at one time and another exhibited before the Society, will know what to expect and will be there. No more need be said.

There will also be a competitive exhibition of Uncatalogued Varieties for the possession of the Weber Cup for the next year. This annual competition is open to all philatelists, the only condition being that varieties be not listed in Scott's, Gibbons or Senf.

COMPETITIVE EXHIBITION.

Attention is called to the fact that the exhibition for the next meeting will consist of "Uncatalogued Varieties," stamps unlisted by Scott's, Gibbons or Senf. This competition is open to all philatelists, whether members of the society or not.

All stamps entered for competition must be the absolute property of the exhibitor entering the same and shall be left at the N. E. Stamp Co., 12 Bromfield St., Boston, not later than 2 P. M. on Tuesday, the 21st.

As this contest is open to non-members of the society it is hoped that a good competition will result. The prize offered is the silver Weber cup, which shall be held until the next contest, a year hence.

The 24th annual convention is now a thing of the past and is a matter of history in itself. Each year the standard of excellence in the matter of entertainment is set a notch higher and makes it just that much harder for succeeding hosts to eclipse the mark. Too much praise can not be given Philadelphia Branch No. 18 for the splendid way they kept things moving all the time and it will be hard indeed to surpass the hearty welcome given by these prince of entertainers. That the convention was a huge success goes without saying and everybody went home filled with that enthusiasm that is bound to find an outlet in work for the growth of the society. Already the cry is heard, "2,000-1910" and "ON TO DETROIT."

CHICAGO BRANCH No. 1.

The regular meeting of Chicago Branch No. 1, American Philatelic Society, was called to order on the evening of August 11th by President Leonard Michael; eight members and one visitor were present. The minutes of the previous meeting were approved as read. Edward Michael was elected to membership. A vote of thanks was given W. O. Staab and the other Milwaukee collectors for the many courtesies shown the Chicago members as guests of the Milwaukee Philatelic Society. Informal talks on stamp and society subjects were given. The business of the evening was the election of officers to serve for the ensuing fiscal year; the results were: President, L. C. Whittaker; Vice President, Arild Dahl; Secretary-Treasurer,

A BUSY SEASON IN PROSPECT.

REPRESENTATIVE DEALERS EXPRESS THEIR SATISFACTION AT THE OUTLOOK.

By WILLARD O. WYLIE.

We should have been pleased to have published in this issue of the WEEKLY a symposium in which all dealers using the WEEKLY might have been represented. The limitations of space would not permit this, however, and we are compelled to confine ourselves to the few statements annexed, which will we feel sure reflect the sentiments of the trade generally.

In asking for these expressed views we intimated that business prospects looked good to us and we are glad to see that our opinion is confirmed in the optimistic tone that pervades the letters we have received.

It is true that some great collections have recently come upon the market and of these we may mention the Paul, Seybold, Andreini and Bruner properties. It is a noteworthy fact, however, that whether collections come upon the market either through death or lack of interest in philately, they are immediately assimilated in the channels of business, producing not even a ripple upon its surface.

This speaks in a no uncertain tone concerning the stability of the business end of philately and shows that great rarities are always in demand and can be immediately realized upon when thrown upon the market.

There seems to be a general impression that good prices will be maintained, due to the inability of dealers to secure good stamps at such prices as will allow of large discounts from catalog quotations. This should please collectors generally. Anxious as dealers are to sell, there can be no question but what prices will be so fixed as to make possible a "living" profit only.

Just as we go to press we learn the particulars in connection with the disposition of the Paul collection, the second largest in America. The catalog value is over $200,000 and the New England Stamp Co. were the successful bidders in a competition that engaged the attention of the entire philatelic world, Hugo Griebert, the well known London dealer, attending the opening of the bids. In the contribution made to this symposium by Mr. Batchelder of the New England Stamp Co. no reference is made to this great purchase but his predictions as to a prosperous season are substantiated by a transaction that speaks even more powerfully than words. At this writing we cannot name the purchase price. It may have been $50,000 or $60,000 or even more. That any such sum should be paid for the collection indicates a condition of the stamp market that augurs well for the future. It will be some weeks before the New England Stamp Co. can get the collection into shape for publicity in the WEEKLY but in due season it will receive its proper exploitation for the delectation of our readers.

The WEEKLY proposes to go out after new subscribers this fall and winter as it has never done before and indications already point to our passing the 7,000 subscription mark at an early date. It is a no easy thing to build up the circulation of a stamp paper, as many publishers have found out in the days of the past. We invite our subscribers attention to this symposium feeling sure that they will be greatly interested in the views expressed.

NEW ENGLAND STAMP CO.

I began stamp collecting before I was ten years old, back in 1865, since which time I have been an enthusiastic stampist, always a collector at heart, circumstances have placed me in the ranks of the dealer, but my interest in and love of the stamps for the stamps' sake has never waned, I have been an interested observer of the tides that ebb and flow about once in ten years, each succeeding period reaching a higher mark than the preceding one, and I am not entitled to be ranked as a prophet when I say that the wave sweeping over the country now, will the coming season reach a higher point than has yet been attained, nor will its greatest height be reached this year, every dealer in the business will bear witness that he expects the coming season to be a record breaker, and every old time collector will aver that more veterans have returned to the fold the last year than ever before.

SALE No. 137

Saturday, October 9, 1909

Is when our next Auction Sale will take place. There are about 600 lots for the general collector which include just such stamps and lots as the average collector is trying to pick up. Now that the fall season is here again each collector should look for our catalogue of this sale and if you do not receive it, write us at once so we can send you one, and put you on our regular list. It costs you nothing.

Dealers who are looking for nice stamps at wholesale should examine the catalogue thoroughly as it contains stamps that are not very often offered at auction. About 275 lots are at your disposal. The catalogue is out so please mail your bids at once, because the time is limited.

PHILADELPHIA STAMP CO.,

PERCIVAL PARRISH, PRESIDENT,

lections are being unearthed and collecting actively resumed.

This may be one factor why today there are more of the grown-ups collecting stamps than there were probably fifteen of twenty years ago. In short the outlook for the coming season seems very bright indeed to us, and we are making preparations now so as to be able to take care of this large volume of business when it comes.

B. L. DREW & Co.

It is my custom to keep out of print as far as possible—as you well know. As to what I think about business—it looks to me that the demand for good material would be greater even than last year—which was the best year I have known in the stamp business. Furthermore, so much good material was absorbed last season and taken out of the market entirely, that I fancy the demand will far exceed the supply unless something more in the way of large collections are forthcoming, and it is a very curious fact borne out by my experience that whenever business is brisk, and prices really attractive, there is no pressure to sell. Truth is stranger than fiction.

B. L. DREW.

C. F. ROTHFUCHS.

To me the coming season of the stamp business appears much brighter than it was last year, because my sales the last two months (July and August) were over thirty per cent larger than my sales for July and August of 1908.

In addition to this fact, we are promised the 1910 edition Standard Catalogue early in October. For the past twenty-five years I have noticed that many collectors do not buy stamps so liberally before the new edition appears as they do after the new edition Standard Catalogue has made its appearance. The loss in trade owing to the lateness of the catalogue is not made up later in the season.

Another reason why I consider the outlook bright for the coming season is: Within two months I have made sales to collectors from whom I had not heard from for five to fifteen years; saying nothing about the new collectors who are now getting a taste of the pleasure derived from collecting stamps.

And last but not least which makes the coming season look bright is: At the present moment there is no booming of the stamps of any particular country. I have always maintained that forcing the price of stamps of any country is detrimental to the trade. Or in other words:—A small number of boomers make a lot of money which is lost by many who are led to believe that the "boomed" stamps of a country are a good investment. Experience has proved otherwise, and was an eye opener to many who have lost in their investment by jumping in to the boomers' band wagon.

For the past few months the orders received by me were somewhat like those received in the good old times:—stamps of different countries. Of course, in our country, United States stamps are more in demand than the stamps of any other country. I find a healthy demand for U. S. official, newspaper, postage due, revenues, envelopes cut square, and entire as well as the stamps of regular issues.

Let collectors collect to suit their pleasure or fancy, and not as an investment. Thereby the prices would be regulated by the supply and demand, which in my opinion would also prevent a drop in the prices of stamps. An advance in the price of many stamps would then be the natural result and in the interest of the collector and dealer alike.

C. F. ROTHFUCHS.

P. M. WOLSIEFER.

I do not hesitate to place myself on record by saying that the prospects for a big business this coming season, are splendid.

So far this month, I have done a full month's cash business in my "Large Selections" department, and in the auction end of it we are receiving daily requests for information both about buying and selling.

I prefer to tell in my regular advertising space from week to week what I have of interest for my many clients, rather than take up your valuable space in giving a forecast.

P. M. WOLSIEFFER.

PHILADELPHIA STAMP CO.

We are most optimistic for the coming season. We base our sentiments upon numerous indications which must be patent to close observers of financial as well as philatelic conditions. It is quite generally admitted that the business outlook of the country is very propitious, which means that stamp collectors will be more than ever able financially to improve their collections. A very encouraging sign was the keen competition for the Paul collection, the sale of which we managed for the Executors of the estate, procuring a splendid cash price from one of the best firms in the country. This together with the presence of European buyers, and an early inquiry on the part of a number of collectors for choice stamps, is an indication of what may be expected.

For our own firm I may say that we have been liberal buyers of stamps throughout the summer in preparation for a record year, and we have also made careful preparations along our special lines of selling large properties, holding auction sales, and financing philatelic propositions. I may state that we have already booked three very important stamp auction sales for the coming season, the first of which, that of the well known F. E. P. Lynde collection, contained in 17 volumes, and composed almost altogether of unused stamps,—will take place the coming November. At the present writing our entire office force has its work blocked out several months ahead, and we have even reached the point when we are anxiously looking for several additional office assistants, which it will be absolutely necessary to have before the real rush sets in. We are delighted to know that the Scott Catalogue will be published much earlier this season, and with its arrival we believe will come the greatest activity we have ever known in stamp business.

PERCIVAL PARRISH, Pres.

NASSAU STAMP CO.

I would say that we are firmly convinced of the fact that this coming season will be unusually good. During the summer we were preparing for sale the extensive and celebrated collection of P. F. Bruner, Esq., of this city, and the first week we put it on sale our sales therefrom amounted to over $15,000.00. There is also a decided lack of good material offered for sale, as on and off in the past year we have advertised for stamps in the WEEKLY and have very little offered compared to previous years. There is no doubt that there is a larger demand for stamps in fine condition than can be supplied which was positively shown by the auction sales held in Paris last year, where extra fine copies of stamps sold regardless of catalogue prices. These sales were the largest auction sales ever held and in spite of the tremendous amount of material offered prices were maintained and record prices realized.

We have no hesitancy in saying we think the coming season will be one of the best the stamp trade has seen. There is a very noticeable lack of offerings of really good material, while the demand for it is constantly increasing. Fall trade is reviving much earlier than usual this year and the interest seems to be broadening.

EDITORIAL.

Opened—It is a part of the creed of all well-wishers of philately, on the threshold of a new season, to be highly hopeful over the prospects for activity during the ensuing term. While there is no line of demarkation between the seasons in philately yet it is not to be denied that there is a dull season during the vacation or hot weather months. This barren period is succeeded by a term of deep interest in stamps. While there is a tendency towards equalization in these two divisions of the philatelic year, yet they both still retain their relations in a general sense. The earlier the season begins, the better it is for the dealers and collectors alike, as the profit of the one and the pleasure of the other are increased by the greater length of the philatelic calendar. It may be remarked that the indications for a successful season are unmistakably favorable and that now is the appointed time for the grand opening. This season, philately will be fairer than ever to look upon and embrace. All loyal subjects of philately are hereby notified that the season of cheer and rejoicing has been formally opened and that it is their duty to participate in the joys that are in store.

Do Not Overdo—The stamp season begins each year for the young collectors soon after school opens and at this time year after year stamps claim the attention of an army of scholars throughout the land. A few cool nights will dim the fascinations of the electric light at the corner and the evening lamp at home will never shine so brightly. Philately is essentially a home institution and it flourishes when out-door lounging is not agreeable. Under the genial influence of the home circle, the schoolboy finds that his interest expands to a degree that is almost alarming, in some instances. Indeed, he may be under the thrall of stamps so that he thinks of them all day and dreams of them at night. To such an extent may his thoughts and time be given to his stamp collection that his studies suffer; in that event, there is complaint from teacher and parents, even though they are tolerant of or even friendly to stamps in their place. Moderation is counseled and the boys who regard their stamps as a source of recreation when study is over are those who will receive no harsh criticism; under these conditions their wits will become sharpened by contact with the stamps and they will become the happier for knowing philately. The boy collector who does not become an extremist when he first gives attention to stamps is the one who is most likely to become a permanent collector.

Slow But Sure—The adult philatelist does not begin to turn to his stamps so enthusiastically as early as the schoolboy collector, as a rule. After he returns from his vacation a man in many cases will find that an accumulation of work confronts him. After this is disposed of his mind is in a receptive mood for his hobby. When he does give attention to stamps, he finds that they beckon to him more pleasantly than ever; he is glad that he has them as a foil for business cares. The interest of the adult is generated rather slowly at the beginning of each season but when once it is well-developed it is continued as a rule until weather conditions argue for a respite from the handling of stamps.

Good Beginning—The philatelist need not wait until the first of the year to put good resolutions into effect. The beginning of the season is a fit time to make progressive plans and sensible rules to govern collecting conduct. While the right of the collector to proceed in the manner that is most satisfactory to him is inalienable, yet it is advisable to give some heed to accepted standards. The one injunction that may be given in all sincerity is that the philatelist remain an amateur and that he give no ear to opportunity to speculate in stamps. This is safe advice; even though a collector ultimately becomes a dealer, the longer experience he has as a collector, the better equipped is he to cater to collectors as a dealer. Speculation is often attended with disastrous results and when the financial possibilities of stamps are given much thought, the result is distracting to pure collecting pleasure. The fascinations of stamps become weakened when they suggest profit over pleasure to the collector.

Everybody Happy—As philately will reflect the conditions current in the country, in some measure, it is certain that prosperous times are at hand. There is testimony at hand to prove that an easy financial era is here and that flourishing times in a national sense may be expected. A free circulation of money will mean that the demand for stamps will be brisk. The expected advent, in a few weeks, of the catalogue that is accepted as standard in this country, in a new edition is helping philately and when the book does make its appearance, the stimulus will be felt at once. The collector will find that it is easier now than ever before in the history of philately to make a showing on a small expenditure as among recent issues are many that are common. A collection of respectable size may be obtained easily if one wishes to include all issues. The collector who elects certain countries as his field will find that dealers are more ready to supply the wants of the moderate specialist than in times past, when numerically, these collectors were not the power that they now are. An era of good feeling among philatelists and of prosperity for philately is here.

Join Us—The fiscal year of the American Philatelic Society has just begun and the present is a proper time for those who have been hesitating to join to take the step that will ally themselves with the leading philatelic organization. The American Philatelic Society has attained its present eminence by building patiently a broad and firm foundation on which to rear the works that it has accomplished and which are in prospect. It is something to belong to the American Philatelic Society just because of national pride. Aside from the sentiment that would lead many collectors to join America's representative philatelic organization, there are a catalogue of benefits and a list of advantages to sway favorably the collector who wishes a material or tangible return for his investment in dues. From every point of view, policy dictates the advisability of joining the American Philatelic Society; the good that it can do the individual is beyond argument and the broader phase of protection for and conservation of philately has its weight. Let those who are almost persuaded now yield to this great society.

SALE OF THE PAUL COLLECTION.

The famous Paul collection comes to Boston and the New England Stamp Co. are the successful bidders. The purchase price has not been made public as yet, though it will no doubt be known to our readers before many weeks pass.

The catalog value of this magnificent collection is over $200,000, but we have described it so often in our columns that further comment is unnecessary.

We extend our congratulations to Messrs. Batchelder and Carpenter of the New England firm and feel sure that all our readers will share in our satisfaction that the Paul collection is to be dispersed by an American firm, and that American collections will be the richer thereby.

NEW 12c POSTAGE STAMP.

(Clipping from various subscribers.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—A stamp of a new denomination is to be issued by the Postoffice Department to conform with the recent increase in the price of registration from 8 to 10 cents. The new issue is to be a 12-cent stamp, so that on ordinary letters one stamp will suffice to pay for postage and registration and it will no doubt retire the 13-cent stamp, issued for registered letters going abroad. It will have portrait of Clay instead of Washington.

UNSATISFACTORY TRADE RELATIONS.

In past weeks upon mere notification we have made reference to unsatisfactory trade relations reported by either dealer or subscriber. In the future we must ask that all cases be placed with an attorney or collection agency, when the findings in the case will gladly be published in our columns. The reason for this step is no doubt apparent.

F. D. Goodhue, 711 Mercantile Library Bldg., Cincinnati, O., attorney for the A. P. S., will take charge of all claims and there will be no fee for services unless collections result.

Do You Think of Selling?

If you do, and want ALL THERE IS IN IT, the best way is by the use of a well conducted and well arranged AUCTION SALE. Thus you get the benefit of the competition of COLLECTORS as well as dealers, not only for your property as a whole, but for every item of value it contains. We make A SPECIALTY of such sales; have already held 205 realizing nearly HALF-A-MILLION DOLLARS; we have a large and carefully selected list of BUYERS in this and other countries which cannot be excelled by any firm in our line; we hold sales both in New York and Boston, thus giving you the benefit of the two BEST MARKETS in the world COMBINED; we issue neat and attractive catalogues; make careful and advantageous arrangement of lots; make LIBERAL advances when needed and invariably secure the BEST RESULTS the market will permit. Many of the HIGHEST PRICES of the past season were recorded in our sales. Our SETTLEMENTS are PROMPT and our RESPONSIBILITY established. Our TERMS are still as low as can be given by any whose facilities even approach our own. We believe it is only wisdom for all who wish to TURN STAMPS INTO CASH to consult us before placing a contract elsewhere. LARGE COLLECTIONS, Dealers' stocks, SINGLE RARE STAMPS and sets are all in good demand and the prospect for good results this coming season is unusually bright. We solicit correspondence, or an interview wherever practicable. WE BUY collections outright where one is in haste to realize. Sales may be booked ahead and favorable dates may be obtained by early application. [eow2]

CHRONICLE OF NEW ISSUES.

Edited by HENRY A. KIDDER.

Any information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged. Address HENRY A. KIDDER, 17 Addison Street, Arlington, Mass.

UNITED STATES.—F. Purdy reports having seen the current 2c stamp on pink paper.

Frank B. Eldredge reports having seen the current 1c stamp precancelled New York, N. Y., normal.

J. Arthur Wainwright writes: "On Jan. 4, 1851, a letter was mailed in Philadelphia directed to New York City and on reaching the latter place a stamp was affixed, which read 'Club—Special—10—Delivery.' It was printed in black on red, rough rouletted. I find no mention of such a stamp in any catalogue. Is it an unknown variety? The size of the stamp is the same as the old 2c green."

BARBADOS.—The farthing stamp has now been issued in a single color, and the 6d value has appeared in the new color, both stamps being printed on multiple ordinary paper.

Adhesives.

1/4d brown.
6d lilac.

ERITREA.—The new 30c Express Letter stamp of Italy, noted in No. 933, has been surcharged "Colonia Eritrea" for use in that Colony.

Express Letter Stamp.

30c blue and carmine; black surcharge.

GOLD COAST.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us the 1sh stamp in the new color, the paper being chalky multiple. This stamp is different from all the 1sh values in the new color hitherto seen, in that the tablet at the bottom bearing the value is filled with parallel lines, while the others had this tablet colorless.

Adhesive.

1sh black on green.

INDIA.—Frank B. Eldredge has shown us the 1/2a stamp, Queen's Head, surcharged "On L. F. S." There are quite a number of such surcharges not listed in the catalogues, but which are considered of little value. The catalogues are silent as to the meaning of this particular surcharge.

LEEWARD ISLANDS.—This Colony has also issued a farthing stamp, in the current type, and in a single color.

Adhesive.

1/4d brown.

NEW ZEALAND.—Maury's Collectionneur reports that a new envelope has been issued with portrait of King Edward. The King faces to the left and wears the ermine mantle. The stamp is oval, like that of 1903, and is printed in relief on white.

Envelope.

1d carmine on white.

PERSIA.—Two other stamps of the current set have been surcharged "Colis Postaux."

Parcels Post Adhesives.

2k dark green.
4k orange.

SALVADOR.—Maury's Collectionneur says that the 1c adhesive of 1906 has been surcharged "1909" in black, in addition to the two envelopes we mentioned in No. 963.

ST. VINCENT.—Maury's Collectionneur reports that the 2sh value has been issued in the new colors.

Adhesive.

2sh violet and blue on blue.

TURKEY.—The Scott Stamp & Coin Co. reports having received the first of a re-engraved set from Turkey, Scott's Type A19, the 20 carmine. The entire stamp appears to be re-engraved, but the difference is most noticeable in the design within the central circle. In the new stamp the crescent barely extends into the white space of the circle. The "toughra" is somewhat different, and particularly noticeable is the fact that the mass of Turkish characters, instead of filling in most of the lower half of the circle, takes up considerably less space, so that there is a considerable white margin between these characters and the lower boundary of the circle.

A Constantinople correspondent says that the entire set will be issued in this new design, same colors as the 1908 set, also that the 10 and 20 paras and 1 and 2 piastres will be surcharged in Turkish characters for foreign use, as usual.

OUR BOOK REVIEW.

A number of publications have been awaiting attention and while several of the reviews are somewhat belated, we trust that the notices will not be found without interest for that reason.

A. P. S. Handbook No. 1.—We have not reviewed heretofore in a manner befitting its deserts, "The Three Cent United States Stamp of the Issue of 1851," by Carroll Chase, M. D., but we shall now extol the work, at some length. The three-cent, 1851, by reason of its frame varieties, has long been the subject of speculation by investigators and various theories have been advanced to account for the interesting differences. Dr. Chase proceeded on his painstaking studies on independent lines and far outdistances in dependable results all that hitherto has been accomplished. He has reconstructed the left pane consisting of one hundred stamps of plate 2 and 99 out of the one hundred stamps of the right pane of the same plate; and with plate 3, he also makes an impressive showing in a reconstructive way. Dr. Chase's triumph redounds greatly to his ardor and acumen as a philatelist and it is one that will greatly enhance the interest of studious collectors in the stamp in question.

The author began his task by segregating the plates used for the imperforate and perforated of this design, respectively and he names nine as the number of plates used in producing the imperforate stamp. The first four plates, one unnumbered and 1, 2 and 3, respectively, from which approximately 75% of the stamps were printed imperforate have been studied exhaustively and a diagram of the sheet arrangement is given. A detailed description is given of the three right vertical rows of the left pane of plate three containing the principal minor varieties. Dr. Chase places stress on the following aids to plating: The imprint, plate number, center line, and margins from the edge of the sheet attached to stamps, and more pertinently, the spacing, dots, shifts, and the recut lines. The recut lines of the frame vary in thickness, and are split at times; and are of varying distance from the side frames. They serve an important part in reconstruction work as may be imagined. Number One of the Hand Book series of the American Philatelic Society is one of momentous interest and the members of the society are to be congratulated upon receiving gratuitously copies of the work; here, indeed, is a "benefit" from membership.

British Post Paid Stamps.—A very acceptable catalogue has been received from Mr. Milner of Birmingham, England; it is an illustrated list of "British Post Paid Stamps" compiled by A. E. Milner, with the assistance, duly acknowledged, of various others who have given studious attention to the subject. That there is a necessity for a catalogue of this nature, we, writing from this side, can attest, as many an inquiry is received for explanation of the, for instance, "Paid ½d," etc., postmark form on stampless envelopes. These impressions denote the payment of postage in cash or, at least, in some way that obviates the rating by postage stamps. They are akin to, or rather, suggestive of, the "permit" form which is used in the United States. The English paid marks antedate postage stamps and thus, they have an historical side that may be appreciated. The illustrations amply cover the text; and we heartily welcome this pamphlet of twenty-four broad pages, which, in all probability will be followed in due time by a completer compilation, which will include many of the interesting old types; moreover, it will be priced for exchange purposes. The catalogue may be obtained from A. E. Milner, 76, Goodrick St., Birmingham, England; price seven pence, post free.

"Les Falsifications du Transvaal," by Leon de Raay, is a very significant book numbering over sixty pages which describes the reimpresions and forgeries of the issues of the South African Republic, 1869-83. M. de Raay is a famous student of the stamps of the ex-republic and he has amassed in the course of his researches in the stamps of the country, a great collection of forgeries and reprints for purposes of comparison. The illustrations in the book are in good number and the differences between the originals and counterfeits are shown in many cases by enlarged cuts of details, placed side by side. Likewise, stamps singly and in sheet and postmarks, too, are shown in picture. We should say that the Transvaal collector will feel the protective influence of this admirable work, which is written in French; and further, by pointing out the multitude of snares for the collector of Transvaal, it will pique him to discriminate wisely between the false and the true of that country. Les Falsifications du Transvaal, by Leon de Raay; published by N. Yaar & Co., Amsterdam, Holland.

Senf's New Catalogue.—Senf's worthy catalogue, Part I, adhesives, is the first of the great catalogues to reach us this season. We have always avowed an especial fondness for this catalogue which has greeted us annually for so many years. Senf is known the world over and it is the vade mecum of many a collector throughout the world, while in Germany, Senf's, of course, is the accepted work. The pre-eminence of Senf in many particulars is obvious. Its completeness and its cuts of differences in detail of stamps that many cataloguers ignore are advantages that are still held by the book; and the copious descriptions in text of the very points on which the collector ordinarily is confused, make it of value as a hand book. The printing is clear and the cuts while reduced in size are quite plain, as a rule. An effort is made to price all the stamps, so that a true guide may be furnished of values; and all in all, the requirements of the collector are very successfully catered to in the present volume, which American collectors will find of instructive value, even though they may not find much occasion for consulting its quotations except for their own interest or curiosity. There are nearly twelve hundred pages in this part, exclusive of the publishers' announcements. Volume II: Stationery (postcards, letter-cards, wrappers, etc.) will appear in October. Gebrüder Senf, Leipzig, Germany.

Written for MEKEEL'S WEEKLY.

A. P. S. HISTORICAL NOTES.

By H.A.DAVIS, Pres. Colo. Branch, No.22.
Year 1896, Eleventh Annual Convention.

199 members were dropped in January, leaving a total membership of 840. The high water mark was 1042. In June President Tiffany made the call for the eleventh annual convention to be held at Lake Minnetonka, Minn., Aug. 11th, 1906.

On account of ill health Jno. K. Tiffany did not allow his name to be used this year for President. Following were the nominations: Directors, F. F. Olney, Providence, R. I.; J. F. Beard, Muscatine, Ia.; C. W. Kissinger, Reading, Pa.; N. W. Chandler, Chicago, Ill.; W. C. Stone, Springfield, Mass.; H. B. Phillips, San Francisco, Calif.; G. D. Mekeel, St. Louis, Mo.; E. Doeblin, Pittsburg, Pa.; W. C. Vanderlip, Boston, Mass.; Geo. Toppan, Boston, Mass.; J. L. Kilbon, Boston, Mass. C. W. Kissinger withdrew his name before the convention.

The eleventh annual convention was called to order by Treasurer N. W. Chandler, Aug. 11th. There were 34 members present and 674 represented by proxy. H. G. Smith acted as permanent chairman of the convention. This was the first convention at which J. K. Tiffany was absent. The secretary reported the membership to be 1046 (highest in the history of the Association). The treasurer reported total funds on hand to be $1,300.

The by-laws were amended as follows: A bond to be required by minors who become members; the annual dues were increased from $1.00 to $1.80; five directors on each board must be collectors and not dealers, and five to be a quorum for the transaction of business; the three vice presidents to reside within a radius of thirty miles, and at least seven states must be represented by directors in the board of nine. MEKEEL'S WEEKLY STAMP NEWS was selected as official organ. The official ballot in the future ordered sent out 60 days before date of convention. Boston was selected as the next convention seat.

Following was the result of the election: President, F. F. Olney, R. I.; Bd. V. Pres., W. C. Vanderlip, Rev. J. L. Kilbon, Geo. L. Toppan, Mass.; Sec. J. F. Beard, Ia.; Asst. Sec., H. B. Phillips, Calif.; Int. Sec., E. Doeblin, Pa.; Treas., N. W. Chandler, Ill.; Supt. Sales & Pur., G. D. Mekeel, Mo.

The committee on by-laws made a recommendation, which received the full endorsement of the convention, that the official board take the steps necessary to do away with cumulative voting, even if it should be required to re-incorporate in another state and change the name of the association. The name "American Philatelic Society" was spoken of as one that would be acceptable in case this step should prove necessary or desirable. (To be continued.)

WILL COST 10c TO REGISTER LETTER.

(We are indebted to Marcel E. Taller for the following clipping taken from the N. Y. Times.—Ed.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Postmaster General Hitchcock has signed an order increasing the fee for the registration of mail from 8 to 10 cents, to take effect Nov. 1. This action followed the recommendation of the committee now investigating the registry service, and it is in accord with the views of the registry experts recently in conference on the subject in Washington.

The order also increases the maximum indemnity paid to the owner of a lost or rifled registered letter from $25 to $50, thus doubling the department's liability for valuable articles intrusted to its registry branch. This additional insurance of $25 for 2 cents is granted at a much lower rate than is offered for a similar amount by any private concern.

The changes ordered constitute the first important move toward making the Postal Service self-sustaining. The registry system is reported to be conducted at a loss, and in order to make it pay its way radical measures are necessary.

Hence the committee investigating the subject has proposed some new features, which are being considered by the Postmaster General. These features include the establishment of a package registration system, with a five-cent fee, and of a special class for registered matter of high value, with an increase in the indemnity to $100 and an increase in the fee to 20 cents, the limits fixed by law.

It is pointed out that the package measure will meet a public demand for a cheap and safe means of transmitting Christmas packages and others of like character, and that graduating the fee in accordance with the risk involved and the amount of care necessary to insure safe transmission is in accord with sound business principles.

It also has been suggested that the idea be carried a step further by asking Congress to raise the limit of fee and indemnity, in order that the department may assume full liability for all matter accepted for registration and may impose an adequate charge for the responsibility undertaken.

In addition to these changes affecting the amount of fees and indemnities, the Postmaster General's committee of experts, which is still in session, has under consideration some important modifications of the registry system that should lessen the cost of operation without any impairment of efficiency.

As soon as your name has been published as an applicant you will probably have unselected selections of stamps sent you on approval. As a great many collectors object to this practice the Society desires to break the practice up. Please aid us and help protect yourself and others against further imposition, by holding such selections without purchasing any, until sufficient funds have been sent by the dealer to return it to him by registered mail. Also please report the name of such dealer to the Secretary of the Society.

AMONG OUR ADVERTISERS.

W. S. Aldrich of N. Y. City is with us this week and his advertising may be found regularly on page 3. Two special price lists have been issued, one describing packets and the other sets, both obtainable upon application.

E. C. Dodd of LaGrange, Ill., who used considerable trade space last season, has taken another block of fifty lines. Mr. Dodd is perfectly responsible and we take pleasure in recommending him to our readers.

One of the most encouraging features in connection with the advertising carried in this number is the fact that so many dealers are advertising for stamps and stamp collections. It presages good times.

Two dealers at least want more help. Are there not some of our readers who would be glad to avail themselves of the opportunity presented?

The Hobby Club sends us its prospectus, an interesting leaflet of four pages. Write O. Kendall, Winnipeg, Man., Can., for information about this international exchange which has for its official organ the handsome magazine The Hobbyist, published by Mr. Kendall.

The Co-operative Exchange makes itself felt with an advertisement this week so large that it is crowded out of its regular position and will be found under the Colman advertisement.

Arthur P. S. Hyde, of Newport, R. I., has taken out a contract and will be represented in our columns each week with a goodly advertisement. He will make a specialty of new issues.

Mr. Cormack has two advertisements in this issue. His regular advt. will be found on page 5, where his Central and South American stamps will be duly exploited.

We have written a winter contract with the firm of H. S. Powell & Co., Storm Lake, Iowa, and each week will find the firm regularly represented in our columns.

We are also pleased to have the Manhattan Stamp Co. back with us after a vacation of a few weeks.

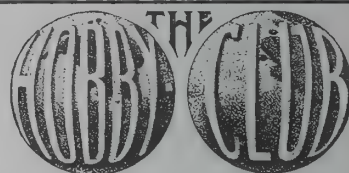

Our columns this week reflect the business prosperity that the stamp trade will enjoy during the present season.

A NEW J. W. SCOTT CONTRACT.

Our readers will notice a new name among our list of advertisers by reference to page 5. We refer to the J. W. Scott Co., who will have a two-inch advertisement each week at the top of column two. Mr. Scott has various lines with which he will no doubt make our subscribers acquainted during the fall and winter months, not the least of which is that of new issues, of which a sample is given this week.

THE POSTAL EMISSIONS OF CRETE.

By WM. WARD, Author of "The Adhesive Stamps of the Levant," etc.

Precisely ten years ago at the time of writing—for the New Year 1909 is yet unborn—saw the first postal labels allotted to the island of Candia, once more known, at least philatelically, by its ancient name of Crete. One of the shuttle-cocks of the Levant, this great island, much of which has never been properly explored in modern times, has a varied political and international history.

Ancient Crete with her hundred famous cities, renowned in classical and mythological lore and legends, enjoyed an independent—more or less—career, until the year of Grace 1644, when the Turks commenced a series of wars which lasted no less than five and twenty years—and which resulted in Candia becoming a Turkish Province. The Ottoman rule lasted nearly two hundred years, from 1669 until 1833, when the island was ceded to the Egyptian Pacha. This being the result of sanguinary wars of ten years, 1820 to 1830, which left the whole island devastated, and in a broken condition. Like many another Levantine district, Crete has a rich, natural wealth. Corn, saffron, olives, raisins and almonds are found in great abundance—almost wild. The Malmsey and Muscadine wines, known only to Crete, found much praise and eulogism from the writers of the earliest times. Divided into three districts, Candia, Retimo and Canea, each of which are now exploited by the Great Powers of Europe—France, Austria and Great Britain sharing Candia, France and Russia paternally watching Retimo, and Italy enjoying all she can honestly or otherwise get out of Canea.

The first actually known stamps to be used in Crete were the "Ottoman" issues of Turkey—but I am unaware that the first issues of this design saw postal service there. At any rate the second series were used—1884 date, with varieties of shades and perforations. The whole of the 1892 series were also used in Candia, but as yet I have not seen the 1897 provisional 5 paras upon 10 paras with the Cretan obliteration. Of course the only possible means of distinguishing these stamps is by the postmark, which resembles most Turkish ones, being a large double circle enclosing the date and having the town name inserted between the double rims.

Probably the labels for printed matter also saw service in the island—the post-offices being but worked as ordinary Turkish ones.

The 1898 Provisionals.—In 1898, the aforementioned governments began to be active towards the Turks who had gradually usurped the Egyptian power awarded in 1833. By unanimous consent, Prince George of Greece was appointed Governor or High Commissioner to the whole island—a position he held until quite recently.

New officials were appointed in the stead of the Turks. The British Vice-Commissioner for the department of Candia being selected in the personage of Sir Herbert Chermide, who was at the time, General of the British forces in Crete.

Acting in coöperation with Sir Herbert was Major Fairholme.

As I have previously shown, the mails had been under the direction of the Stamboul government—which of course were withdrawn upon the European occupation. Whilst the several powers took charge of all the external mails, no interior service had existed. The British and Austrians placed their heads together, and it was decided to institute an internal Post. Orders were sent to Athens for a couple of values of postage stamps about the end of November, 1898, but as these did not arrive by the expected time during the early part of December, it was decided to issue some sort of a stamp or mark to signify the prepaidness of a communication. Letters being tendered in numbers in Candia brought about this urgent step. After one or two consultations on this matter, it was left in the hands of Herr Berinda, the Chief of the Austrian Post Office, to provide a provisional stamp. Unaware of this course, the military authorities of the British forces about the same time provided themselves with a couple of handstamps—or rather a couple of varieties of handstamps. One a circle bearing an illustration of the Union Jack on standard, underneath which was given in white, letters on a solid oblong background the name of the district. Above the flag was inscribed the amount of postage prepaid (in Turkish currency) and below the acting postmaster's or postclerk's (whichever they cared to call themselves—though more correctly they would be, officially, paymasters) initials. Besides this stamp, on the same envelope, would be marked another—also circular. This had in an outer circle the words "International occupation" and in the inner circle the two words, in two lines, "Governor" and "Monofatsi," or whatever other district this may have been used in. These stamps, themselves, were evidently prepared from wood. At any rate, whatsoever the material the letters or lines were cut out, so that when stamped the letters appeared in white—or more correctly—colorless, upon a solid background in the color of the ink used for stamping. These curious marks will be found in a dark blue, or purple—as used extensively for rubber-stamps. Evidently the envelopes were not altogether confined to the British forces, for they will be found bearing the familiar Austrian postmark used today—i. e., "Candia—Oesterveich Post" with the date composed wholly of Arabic numerals.

Note.—A recent writer has described these early British Postal Provisionals as being the obliterations used upon the "Herakleion" provisional issued by the Austrian Post Office. It is incorrect—the previously described handstamp was in use previous to these latter, and was not a postmark, but a surcharge to show that postage had been properly paid. The cancellation for the Austrian provisionals is described in the above description of those stamps.

In the meanwhile Herr Berinda had been making his provisional stamps. His method was by no means unique nor original. When the stamps came out, several German philatelic journals attributed his method to a wood carving—or as they called them, woodcuts. But though the matrix may have been wood, or still more likely cement, the final die was rubber. Only one was made. This was stamped on paper which had previously been ruled out into spaces large enough to accept an individual impression. I cannot say whether the paper was pre-gummed, or the adhesive placed on afterwards. The inscription on these stamps reads (in English) "Provisional—Postage Receipt—Herakleion (Candia)—20 paras" in four lines. Similar to the military Post Paid mark, the letters are white on a solid background of violet—a colour generally used for rubber-stamps, and supplied to and used by most people, in the shape of the familiar self-inking pad.

The cancellation of these provisionals made at the Austrian Post Office, or as it really was, the Austrian Administrative Commission in Crete—also consisted of a rubber-stamp—probably made up from one of those cheap outfits, which enables one to compose any word, and to print from a small holder.

Note.—The stamp (Gibbons No. 1) described by the catalogue as belonging to the British Sphere of Administration, and which has lately been extensively advertised in several English philatelic journals as a British issue, is of course wrong. Properly, as above accounted, the stamp belongs to the Austrian Post Office.

In a number of the S. C. F. it is given that 3,000 of these stamps were impressed, and that in the presence of the officials, the rubber-die was destroyed on the 20th of January, 1899. The stamps of the regular type ordered from Athens were due on December 3, 1898, and the order was given that the above provisional of 20 paras would only carry a postal value until that date (Dec. 3rd). Since, however, the Greek printed stamps did not arrive on the given date, the order was withdrawn until such date as they (regular issue) would arrive, which was the beginning of January, 1899.

The Russian Officials.—Like most Russian stamps, the officials responsible for the issue of the Cretan Provisionals of 1898-9, have taken care to shroud their work in secrecy. None of these stamps, which were issued in the district of Retimo, ever came through the forwarding depot in Candia—which was almost solely in the hands of the Austrians. These were in two values—the one metallik with an inscription in French signifying "Provisional stamp," the remainder being the district name "Retimo" and the value embodying at the same time the Russian seal of double headed eagle. The two metalliks stamp very similar, but all inscriptions in Russian.

For the army or navy officers, whichever they were, a separate design of a somewhat elaborate appearance, was provided, and which was very evidently confined to official use. As these stamps have very little appeal to the general collector, if indeed anyone outside the Czar's Dominions, I think most will agree with me that there is no great omission occurred by leaving them out of a collection of Cretan stamps provided for public, or semi-public use. Certainly, the first mentioned types are worthy of this inclusion, but since I can place no further evidence of their emission than appears in most catalogues, I am bound to pass over to the other issues of Crete.

It is a most distasteful matter to have to disagree with contemporary writers on a similar subject, but at the same time in the interests of philately one is often obliged to. The "Fork" design of these Russian Crete have been recently given as bogus issues. It would be unfair to place them as such and yet chronicle many another stamp of Crete. Confessedly they are "peculiar," and the collector who has them missing from his collection need not be ashamed of his display being incomplete.

The First Regular Issue.—As I said previously, these stamps made their appearance after a couple of disappointments to those concerned, as to their actual arrival from Greece.

Printed in sheets of a hundred, all leged by lithography, but more likely by zinc-type process, some 5,000 each are said to have been issued, according to a high continental authority. There were two values, ten, and twenty paras or parales, not parades as was incorrectly spelt in Greek upon the stamps by error of the printers. Several minor varieties will be found, including blemishes and lines upon the face of the stamps. The 10 paras was for local use in the towns, as Candia, etc., and the 20 paras for inter-island postage. With the exception of the Russian "Officials," these stamps superseded all the civilian and military issues as far as the island authority went. For some unaccountable reason, the colors of these two stamps was changed during the year 1899.

Though these stamps are placed under the heading of the "British & Austrian Administration," they are really and properly, the first and orthodox issue of Crete. Of course, both French, Austrian, and Italian consular stamps were in concurrent use at their respective quarters in the island, but so they are even today. During the early part of 1899, through the efforts of the British, orders were placed for a proper series of postal franks, by the Greek commission, who eventually gave the execution to Messrs. Bradbury, Wilkinson of London, after an attempt to send the order to Paris, British influence in Candia and Athens being the result of the loss to the French printers.

The Second and Subsequent Issues.—The Bradbury-Wilkinson stamps no doubt livened up the issues of this Near-

PHILADELPHIA STAMP CO.,

PERCIVAL PARRISH, PRESIDENT,

1204 CHESTNUT STREET,

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Eastern Island. They were curious and original. Four values only made their advent in a virgin state—the 1, 5, 10 and 20 lepta. As is generally known, the surcharge practically denoted a reduction upon the 25 lepta and higher values. The Turkish piastre was still current, and of course taken at its nominal value, 25 lepta; but to sell 25 lepta stamps at 1 piastre, and the lower values at the same rate would have meant a loss to the Post Office. One piastre equals nominally 25 centimes, but the market value may be anything from 17 to 20c. Hence the course adopted by the other Levant foreign Post Offices to protect the lower rates of postage (newspapers, samples, etc.) was adopted until such time as the notice of the non-use of other than Greek currency came in force—and not to any change in the Post Office arrangements.

It would be interesting to know the purpose of the surcharge being in two different colors, black and red.

I have heard it evinced that the purpose was a control of some distinction. Maybe some reader can help. Much comment was made upon the five-drachmas stamp bearing the familiar (sometimes!) reverse of the English sovereign, at the time of issue—but settled by consulting the ancient mythological authorities—a somewhat "bullish" phrase.

1901 saw the issue for postal use of three other varieties, the 20 and 50 lepta in changed colors, and the 1 lepta olive, alleged fiscal. The latter stamp is described to have only been issued provisionally twice, but the stamp has been indiscriminately used at several, or perhaps all, periods since its emission. The 20 lepta, by-the-way, I have found by personal experience, has had a higher face value than the 25l (piastre) stamp. A purchase of these cost me exactly twopence each, whereas I got twenty 25 lepta labels for 3sh 1d. This goes to show that a piastre is not more than twopence Sterling, as so often written. The whole of this first series were reproduced upon post cards by the Commission (not government—the authority being entirely consular) but few arrived to addresses in this country—being confiscated by our Post Office and destroyed according to act—at least when they were detected.

The 25 lepta received a larger variety of the surcharge "Provisional" in 1902, and a couple of years later saw the using up of quantities of the 20 lepta orange by reduction to 5 lepta.

In 1905, the Commission published a third series of values from 2 lepta to 5 drachmas—all with the exception of the 10l new illustrations of Cretan lore and fable. These issues are varietyless, and so ably described and illustrated in Gibbons, Part II, that there is little necessity to describe. The two values, 25l and 1 drachma of 1907, the couple of 1908 officials, and the set of Postage Dues of 1900 complete the stamps issued by the Crete Commission. Should anyone be unaware of the cause of the surcharged 1 drachma postage due, with a little effort, it will be perceived that the 1 lepta is of the same color as the 1 drachma, and extremely likely to be confused by a non-philatelic postal official—hence the overprint "1 Drachma."

The Permanent Government.—A reshuffle of the Near-Eastern Cards resulted in the loss of Turkish interests in both Crete, Bosnia and Bulgaria. The Liberals had long been agitating for the Grecian Regency in place of an uncertain haphazard Commission. I am unable to discover with any degree of satisfaction, whether Monsieur A. T. Zaimis or Prince George is the Viceroy, both having seemed to be withdrawn and re-instated.

The 1 and 10 lepta, and 2 drachma of the second issue, the whole of the third (excepting the 25l), and the 25l of 1907 together with a new 10 lepta in red depicting Hermes, have been surcharged "Ellas" in several styles of type, signifying Greece (territory). The whole of the 1900 10 lepta and sundry errors of inverted alphos and what not, are reputed to have been gathered and gleaned by the postal philatelists in Crete and Greece. May they do well.

At the time of writing no news is to hand, but I suppose an issue advertising the first Greek Colony for some few hundred years will in due course make its appearance—unless the example of the Ionian Islands is followed. But alas, we know too much now, for the possibility of such good fortune.

The Italian Issues.—After the F. P. O. issues, but previous to the appearance of the 1900 series of stamps for the Cretan Commission, a semi-provisional (if such a term can be used) was issued by the Italian Post Office.

Evidently our Italian friends had watched the Austrian and Russian ventures, but had taken some time to make their mind up as to the following of the set example. When they did, no doubt they were in too great a hurry to prepare a special issue, so the 25 centesimi of the last issue of Italy bearing King Humbert's head was overprinted in long characters "1 PIASTRA 1" in red. It may be interesting to note that the 1909 edition of Part II prices this stamp at 6d. From my experience of this stamp, as well as Eastern information, future catalogue editions may show a surprise.

The words "La Canca" were added to the value 1 piastra, in block capitals, and overprinted upon the 1901 Victor Emmanuel III 25c stamp in the same year. In 1906, towards the decade of that year, the whole Italian series of 1901, excepting the 20 centesimi, made their appearance with the 1901 overprint "La Canca," but minus the value. The 15 on 20c provisional of 1906, the current 5, 10 and 25, and inland 25c Express stamps have since been similarly surcharged.

I believe that an Italian Post Office also now exists at Candia.

The French Crete.—The notorious (from a woman's point of view) 25c "Droits de l'Homme" French consular office type made a concurrent appearance in Crete in 1902 with the same type for use in Egypt, Morocco, etc. It was also accompanied by the 1900 oblongs. These, in addition to the name label, were overprinted in Turkish currency 1, 2, 4, 8 and 20 piastres. The following year, 1903, saw the addition of the whole French set unsurcharged with a different currency. Well-known, there is no need to further typify.

Austrian Issues.—Sometime back in my work upon "The Adhesive Stamps Used in the Levant," I made remark that I possessed Austrian stamps overprinted with a new value in centimes and francs, only bearing Turkish postmarks, and I included them among the stamps of the Levant. Several philatelists supported my statement that these were for use in the "Levant."

Since that appeared I have found that both Austrian stamps surcharged in piastres and centimes are concurrently used in both Turkish and Cretan Post Offices. The former were used for first class matter, and the centimes were and are for printed papers or samples. This of course upon account of double currency.

EDITORIAL.

Here Because They're Here—The Hudson-Fulton stamp came on schedule time and it conforms to the preliminary announcement that it was to be an artistic stamp. Striking is the word that describes the stamp that has attracted public attention in a way to allow it to be termed a real pet of the people. Newspapers have vied with one another in bidding hearty welcome to the issue and they have given generously of their space to describe the attractions of the stamp. It is gratifying to stamp collectors that so sounding a chord of popular fancy has been touched by the Hudson-Fulton stamp and even the opponents of special issues who are willing to admit that they are not an unmixed evil in view of the advertising that they bring will be particularly tolerant of this stamp which is doing such yeoman service in the line of philatelic publicity.

Dwelling in the Past—We cannot live down the past and requests still come from readers asking that items referring to early days of the postal service be presented. One reader says that he is making a scrap-book of the fragmentary information that has been given and that "he treasures it highly." Another correspondent compliments us by saying that the editorial mind evidently runs in the same channel as his own, in its fondness for the "echo of the past." We cannot refuse the advances of these friends, and further items of the kind will be given. For instance, the proprietary medicine stamp of the Father Mathew Company furnishes a basis for the remark that in an address to the Mayor of New York, detailing his impressions of America, delivered in the year 1849, Father Mathew praised the postal system of this country as well as other internal arrangements. We quote: "I have seen in the comfort and abundance enjoyed by all, in the total absence of squalid poverty, and in the liberal remuneration that awaits honest toil, proofs of prosperity which contrast strikingly with scenes that have often harrowed my soul, in that poor old country, which, trodden down and oppressed as she is, is still the land of my birth and my affections. I have visited your God-like institutions, upheld with a munificence worthy of your mighty republic, by which you intimate at a humble distance the mercy of the Redeemer, making 'The blind to see and the dumb to speak.'"

Nothing But Trouble—By one of the sections of the act of congress, entitled "An act to establish certain post routes, approved Aug. 14, 1848," the postmaster-general was deputized to appoint postmasters at stations on the Pacific in California and to select agents for making arrangements for postal transmission in California and Oregon. Under this provision, in November 1848, a postmaster was appointed for San Francisco, and agents were chosen to discharge their first duties. "That postmaster entered on his work, but finding, as he wrote, no sufficient income for the expense of room and assistance, or even for his support, he resigned. No report from these agents has ever been received. In April last, another agent was sent who immediately departed and entered upon his duties; and also, another postmaster for San Francisco who has arrived there, and from information received from them and others, there is good reason to believe that all reasonable exertions are being made to give to the people there all mail facilities, the limited means legally applicable will afford. The price of labor or personal service and the rent required for office room are such that no allowance now authorized by law can secure a post-office in California. Nor can the mails be transported within the country for any compensation which the postage received there will furnish. No sufficient means have been received by which to determine the expense of what has already been done but it fully appears that provision must be made, much beyond the yield of the postage there, to meet the cost of even a very limited supply of mail accommodation in that country. This subject requires the early attention of congress and at the same time provision should be made for extending the mails to Oregon and New Mexico."

Needed—The foregoing item clearly shows how imperatively needed was private letter-carrying enterprise. It explains further why the California legislature felt it incumbent to take official action upon encouraging the activity of the Wells, Fargo company. For many years after 1848, when the postal needs of the Pacific coast were first given serious attention in congress, the government facilities were restricted and the express company enjoyed practically the monopoly of the postal business. The important place that the franked envelopes of the express companies occupied in the economy of California citizenship in the early days is plainly indicated by the preceding paragraph.

Just a Guess—Our respected contemporary Ewen's Weekly Stamp News, says that "there are not more than 500,000 collectors, of whom few will have less than 500 varieties." While this estimate is a fair one, to our mind, yet there are some who will say that the figures apply only when conditions are normal and not to booming times such as are anticipated this season in this country. The schoolboy collector has become so numerous that he has swollen the usual number of stamp collectors to huge proportions. Philately seems to be to the fore in America in the inclinations of the boys as never in the past. The conditions that a commentator in the Chicago Journal refers to are duplicated in many of the larger cities of America:

"With the advent of cooler weather the amateur stamp collector has taken up his work again, and in the windows of nearly every stationery store and little notion emporium in the city are once more displayed neat packets of stamps, with two or three really fine ones pasted on the outside, as a lure, so to speak. Fully 25 per cent of the school boys in Chicago carry with them to school, in addition to their books, a small book of 'traders,' as they term their duplicate stamps, and 'swap' them for specimens they have not."

Bugs on Original Gum—Stamp collectors are not the "individuals" interested in original gum; and the postal department of our great and awful government is lamenting that fact. It is true that philatelists are sometimes unfeeling referred to as "bugs" by coarse-minded persons but the bugs that are ravaging the gum on the postage stamps are water-bugs. Here is what a special correspondent of the Chicago Daily News has to say on the momentous subject: "Officials of the postoffice department are besieged by would-be water-bug exterminators, who have come to their aid as a result of the announcement that the bugs are destroying the gum on the postage stamps, as well as eating official records. Remedies ranging from a land tortoise to a squirt gun of blunderbuss dimensions have been suggested. Telegrams, letters and telephone calls from bug exterminators have occupied the attention of two department employees for the last two days. Twenty-three men and women have called in person in the last twenty-four hours, offering to clean out the insects for amounts ranging from $100 to $1,500.

"J. W. Conrad of the war department suggested that the postoffice department invest in land tortoises, which, he said, never would rest until they had trailed the water bugs to their lair. A constituent of F. H. Gillett of Massachusetts offered a disinfectant which, 'if not useful in exterminating the bugs, could be used by the postoffice department employees as a mouth wash.'

"A Chicago company which will place 'other good things on the market soon' telegraphs that it has a nonpoisonous powder which would be effective. 'No kill, no pay,' the telegram said."

ODDS AND ENDS.

By J. W. H. HESLOP.

The issuing of new and brightly coloured stamps among European countries is having some sort of a reflex action on older issues of the same countries. In this way, French, 1906, gathered with zeal, leads to a deeper interest in the entire French section of one's album. Here and there some ragged specimen may have to be ousted in order to make the page harmonize more happily with the glorious array of the new-comers.

The charming row across the page, created by adding the Swiss stamps of 1907-9, may result in a deeper appreciation of previous issues of that country, and while we cry "All hail!" to William Tell our eyes travel back to old-time issues which, in places, may need renovation or better representation.

Some of these recent Swiss strike one as being comparatively dear, but there seems to be a general conviction that the future will not find them any cheaper.

Postally used Unpaid of Monaco, 1906, are cropping up in several quarters, and are nice stamps to have.

One or two comparatively cheap stamps that seem, nevertheless, to be seldom met with are: 3c, Hayti, 1906; 4c, Peru, 1907; 3c and 6c, Nicaragua, 1905; 4c and 15c, Luxemburg, 1907; 4c, Mexico, 1895; 6c and 8c, Philippines, 1906; 40c, current Spain; 6c, Costa Rica, 1901; 15c, Chili, 1905.

It is a good practice to affix a 1/2d British stamp to all letters abroad where the postage is over 1d, also to get one's correspondent to ask for a light cancellation at the post office.

An American collector is advertising for the used dollar values of 1902 at good prices. Possibly used U. S. A. high values may be scarcer in future.

The 1c, Jamestown, has been seen precancelled. Since there is a rumour that this form of cancellation may presently become less frequently employed these precancels should be good property.

Sheets of four varieties of the 10c, French, 1906, are on sale in Paris.

The Turkish commemorative set of 1908 is selling freely on the Continent.

The 10 and 20h, Austria, Jubilee Unpaid, are accumulating in various places, but other denominations are slow in appearing.

One wishes the 40c, Italy, of recent date had been of the same size as the 15c of 1906.

A collector of common stamps need not be afraid of forgeries.

U. S. A. gave us the first pictorial stamps.

Colombia, 1904, should gain some converts to collecting of that country's stamps. The difference in shades occasionally observable is said to be the result of the employment of two different printing offices.

Collecting pairs and blocks of common used stamps will usually be found to provide a fascinating new line.

Used South American stamps are evidently growing in favour throughout the Continent, and presently the tide may cross the Channel.

The percentage of readers of a philatelic journal who are interested in rare stamps is probably small; a description of stamps within reach has a wider field of attraction.

The 25 bani, Roumania Jubilee, error of colour, is said to have disappointed some of the holders of it.

The 17 1/2c Holland is perhaps a "better" stamp than is generally imagined.

Current Belgian, with the label attached and not struck through with a penmark, seem to get scarcer and scarcer.

Canada Postage Dues with a pencil mark seem about the only kind available in used condition.

Current 30 to 50pf Würtemberg are fascinating stamps when viewed for the first time.

The quest for imperforate varieties of U. S. A. stamps now holds the attention of American collectors.

Has any one yet seen a postally used £25 Northern Nigeria?

A parcel of one thousand 20c Belgium, 1861, when the stamps had been washed off paper, revealed six copies with the framed watermark. This may illustrate the comparative rarity of the scarcer variety.

The 6 cuartos, black, of Spain, 1851, is sometimes taken by a novice to be some kind of wrapper stamp.

Penmarked Venezuela abound. When buying sets through the post it is advisable to stipulate that only postmarked copies be sent.

In course of time a philatelist carries a map of the world in his mind, and should thus be a better citizen.

Issues whose popularity does not extend beyond the country of their origin sometimes rise rapidly in price.

Austrian Jubilee stamps are having a good sale; all the world seems to want them at once.—Gibbons Stamp Weekly.

NEWS GLEANINGS.

Under this heading we desire to publish all the news from the various philatelic centers. Correspondents' names will be given unless prohibited as we desire to give full credit for services rendered.

—The Denver Republican asks: "Isn't the government somewhat slow in bringing out the special edition of polar discovery stamps?" The eagle eye of W. G. Swart is responsible for the rescue of this inquiry from philatelic oblivion.

—Several subscribers have favored us with clippings giving particulars of the opening sale of Hudson-Fulton stamps. Among the number are J. H. Houston (2), Marcel E. Taller (2), M. E. Barzelay, E. Weller. We are especially indebted to Edw. J. Koller, N. Y. City, for a picture post card issued in commemoration of the Hudson-Fulton celebration, bearing as it does one of the new stamps accompanied by the inscription "First stamp sold over the counter."

—Robert G. Albion submits clipping from Portland (Me.) Times showing an illustration of a U. S. envelope upon which are four U. S. stamps.

—A. C. Roessler is in receipt of a letter from the P. O. Dept. in which the statement is made that "it has not been decided to issue the Hudson-Fulton stamp imperforate." Mr. Roessler maintains that the issue of this stamp in imperforate condition is evidently a matter still under consideration.

—Since the above item was sent in later word has been received under date of Sept. 24, in which the acting Third Asst. Postmaster General writing Wendover Neefus said, "You are advised that the Hudson-Fulton commemorative stamps are not being issued imperforate."

—Frederick A. De Camp favors us with a couple of clippings, one taken from the N. Y. Times being a very complimentary mention of Walter Clark Bellows' "Campeche."

—"I hope it is true that the portrait of Clay will be used on the new 12c stamp. I like the design of our stamps but am of the decided opinion that each stamp should be distinguished by a different portrait. We are too rich in historical personages to have the stamps monopolized by the head of Washington. My idea is to have each stamp typify in the portrait some particular line of national endeavor and represent something definite. This would add interest to the stamp to the general public and from a philatelic point of view would be pleasing and historical.—J. FINNEY ENGLE.

CHICAGO AS AN AUCTION CENTER.

Stress is placed on the prominence of Chicago as an auction center by the announcement that H. M. Clark of that city, whose rapid rise as a dealer has been remarkable, has entered the auction ranks. Mr. Clark's first sale is announced for an early date and he starts forth with a most compelling line of stamps. Mr. Clark had the satisfaction of beginning with a flourish, no matter how he may end. We predict a successful career for Mr. Clark as an auction manager as he will give to this specialty the same care and attention that have been instrumental in prospering him as a dealer. The sales will be held in Mr. Clark's room in the Postal Telegraph Building and we wager that his friends will be out in force to give his first sale a proper setting.

The 100th or Centennial sale of P. M. Wolsieffer is the next to be held by him. The lots will be the choicest cullings from a multitude of offerings and all stamps will be of a character to celebrate the really important attainment of Mr. Wolsieffer. Mr. Wolsieffer's record is a brilliant one and no one has excelled him in enterprise. He is truly an auction specialist and he has achieved a position in that capacity that is a proud one, indeed.

The United Stamp Co. holds its sales with unvarying regularity. Steadily the year around the sales are made to the satisfaction of a large following of customers. The sales of the United Stamp Co. may fairly be called standard.

B. L. Voorhees is a strong factor in the auction world. His progress in his chosen field has been of decided kind and today he stands well at the front in the ranks of the leading auctioneers and this season he will add to his prestige.

CHRONICLE OF NEW ISSUES.

Edited by HENRY A. KIDDER.

Any information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged. Address HENRY A. KIDDER, 17 Addison Street, Arlington, Mass.

UNITED STATES.—Nathan Cobe was the first to show us the Hudson-Fulton stamp, though we were also shown copies later by B. A. Webber and I. W. Risdon. The stamp is much superior to the Yukon stamp in design, resembling in the treatment the Columbian Series. As noted in the advance description, the picture represents the Half Moon and the Clermont passing each other on the great North River, with a single Indian in a canoe in the foreground. In the background is another canoe filled with Indians, and still farther in the background a small sailboat. The Palisades form a striking background for the whole scene. "U. S. Postage" appears in a curved line above the picture, and in a straight line at the extreme top, "Hudson-Fulton Celebration," while the dates "1609" and "1909" are worked into the upper corners. The figures of value appear in large ovals in the lower corners, and the value in words on a narrow table between. While there is nothing new about the design, the effect is pleasing, and the whole appearance of the stamp much more satisfactory than the Yukon stamp. Mr. Cobe has shown us plate numbers 5388, 5389, 5390 and 5391. The stamps are issued in sheets of 60 stamps.

Adhesive.

he has had no difficulty in getting the stamps in sheets, no restriction being apparently placed on the number any one may buy.

BULGARIA.—The Postage Stamp says that the 25s on 30s provisional, chronicled in No. 969 was also issued with surcharge in blue as well as red. Another provisional is noted by the same paper, the 15s orange of 1889 being surcharged "1909" and "10," like the portrait provisionals.

Provisional Adhesives.

"10" on 15s orange; additional surcharge "1909."
"25" on 30s brown bistre and gray black; surcharge blue.

INDIA.—Hyderabad.—A new value has been issued in the type of 1905, with "Postage."

Adhesive.

4a olive.

PORTUGAL.—Q. A. Castro writes the WEEKLY that by a decree of August 19, published in the Official Gazette, August 26, a new issue of stamps, comprising fourteen values, was authorized, as follows:

Adhesives—2 1/2r violet; 5r black; 10r green; 15r red; 20r purple; 25r dark brown; 50r blue; 75r bistre; 80r dark violet; 100r bistre on green; 200r green on rose; 300r black on blue; 500r dark brown and sepia; 1000r black and blue.

Post Cards—10r and 10x10r green on white; 20r and 20x20r purple on white.

Letter Cards—25r and 25x25r dark brown on yellow.

Envelopes—25r dark brown on yellow; 50r blue on yellow.

The current stamps will continue in use until June 30, 1910, in Portugal, and up to October 31 in the Islands, Madeira and Azores. After the above date the old stamps may be exchanged at the Mint, up to December 30, 1910, and in the Islands up to April 30, 1911. On the letter cards the inscription will be altered from "Cartao Postal" to "Bilhete Carta." The new stamps will probably have a portrait of King Manuel, though the design is not yet known.

ROUMANIA.—A Paris newspaper says that the Roumanian Charity Stamps, issued some time ago, were designed by the Princess Marie, daughter of the late Duke of Edinburgh. The Princess, who will be the future Queen of Roumania, is said to be a keen collector of stamps.

SIAM.—It is rumored that all the existing stamps are to be surcharged with satang values. The department of the Ministry of Finance, in whose care the stamps are, have quantities of old stamps not at present in use, and these along with the present issue are to be surcharged.

Supplementing the above, H. S. Lindemann writes that he has just received from a correspondent in Siam a number of the current stamps with the new Satang values in surcharge. "Satang" is not spelled with final "s" in any case, so we cannot say whether this is the correct word for the singular or not. The new stamps were issued August 15, 1909, and the stamps with value in atts were no longer good for postage, according to Mr. Lindemann's correspondent. The surcharge is in two lines with the native characters in one line, and the new value below like this, "2 Satang."

Provisional Adhesives.

2 satang on 1 att green and carmine.
3 satang on 3 atts gray green and violet.
6 satang on 4 atts rose and carmine.
12 satang on 8 atts olive bistre and black.
14 satang on 9 atts pale blue and deep blue.

UNSATISFACTORY TRADE RELATIONS.

In past weeks upon mere notification we have made reference to unsatisfactory trade relations reported by either dealer or subscriber. In the future we must ask that all cases be placed with an attorney or collection agency, when the findings in the case will gladly be published in our columns. The reason for this step is no doubt apparent.

F. D. Goodhue, 711 Mercantile Library Bldg., Cincinnati, O., attorney for the A. P. S., will take charge of all claims and there will be no fee for services unless collections result.

POSTAL EMISSIONS OF CRETE.

It is therefore correct to allot to both Crete and Turkey the following emissions used conjointly.

Austrian Post Offices in Turkey and Crete.—Austrian stamps overprinted with new values in piastres for first class matter.

1 piastre of 1902 (No. 94) and 1904.

2 piastres of 1902 (No. 95) and 1904.

5, 10 and 20 piastres (1902)?

(The three highest values I cannot safely allot, as I have no evidence as to their actual use, but maybe some reader will have copies showing postmarks that will settle the matter.)

Austrian stamps overprinted with new values in centimes for newspapers and sample postage.

5c of 1902, 1905 and 1908 (latter with centime value in design).

10c of 1902, 1905 and 1908 (latter with centime value in design).

25c of 1902, 1905, 1908 and 1909 (latter with centime value in design).

50c of 1902, 1905 and 1908 (latter with centime value in design).

The 1, 2 and 4 francs may no doubt be used in the scheme that has recently been started by the German Post Offices in Turkey.

It has been stated by some one that the purpose of this standard currency movement in the Levant offices is to compete against the Turkish governments 20% reduction upon stamps for foreign postage. This is incorrect, as it will be seen that the change has an exactly opposite effect. A foreign P. O. stamp of 1 piastre is sold for 40 paras (under 2d)—but the Turkish 20 per cent costs only 32 paras (about 1½d), whereas the franc currency maintains the standard of value—so that where a Turkish 1 piastre is sold for 15 centimes (or about), the F. P. O. stamp costs 25 centimes. The whole matter is a confused juggle. I see that the new Gibbons makes the following note: "Many of the stamps issued for use in Crete have also been sold at Austrian Post Offices in the Levant." This is the only notification in the direction of the status of these stamps, outside my own articles that has appeared in our English Press, though many people must surely be aware of the matter. If such information is to be kept secret how are we to successfully catalogue, list or enrol the world's stamps?

Now that the control of Crete has been assumed by the Hellenes' government, it is more than likely that the foreign Post Offices may disappear. In a used condition these latter are by no means common—and in time the used as with many another country must show a greater appreciation than the unused. So few are used for postal, against the quantity devoured by philatelists, that it only stands to reason.

The So-Called Revolutionary Stamps of 1905.—I suppose no account of Crete would be complete without allusion to these labels. It would be useless to hide their identity. Of course everybody is not aware of their history. They were published by a stamp dealer in Athens, who sent to most dealers in Europe, with whom he had business relations, about half to a dozen sets on approval. Those who sent the money for which the stamps were invoiced—that is the first series bearing "An Angel", received in due course the next map series. Those who kept the stamps, but sent no money, heard nothing further, nor even had a regret for payment or return. The only stamps of the sets that saw Crete were those sent to persons there. Most were obliterated in the sheets. The Cretans interested in the Radical movement were entirely unaware of the issue of the labels, which of course were "done" solely and entirely by M. G— of Athens on his own "behalf".

Somewhere packed away, I have the sets complete together with the letter that accompanied them in the cover that bore them from Ancient Greece. The Pictorial issue certainly emanated from Crete but they have as much postal status as have the "Tinn Flin" labels of "Auld Oireland". These Cretan stamps, too, came from a Nationalistic source, and as I believe the inscription denotes, the proceeds of the sale were devoted to the "cause". Still they hardly deserve that great honor of a "place" or recognition by our Gibbons.

OUR BOOK REVIEW.

We have received from Bryant Polard, Proctorsville, Vt., a copy of the catalog advertised by him this week. It is called a "Price Catalog and Complete Reference. List of the Retouched Dies of the 2c Envelopes, 1903 Issue." This is quite a pretentious title for the little book and in giving it in its entirety we give the reader a good idea of the nature of its contents.

The editor of the WEEKLY is situated in a place where of necessity he became aware of the great interest taken in these stamps. The series of articles from the pen of Mr. Barrett having been the means of stimulating this interest, to a very large degree. No less than 140 types are listed, of which a larger proportion are priced, and any collector interested in these stamps will do well to purchase the catalog, which can be obtained from the publishers for 10c, postfree.

Tonga, by Fred J. Melville. Published by the Melville Stamp Books, 47 Strand, London, Eng. This book is No. 7 in the set and is fully up to the standard of previous numbers. It is a book of some 64 pages, and the stamps of Tonga are written up in a very interesting and thorough manner. The work is freely illustrated, the frontispiece showing a block of four of the 7½d 1897 with center inverted. Mr. Melville found that his subject merited more attention than could be expected in an ordinary number of the hand book, but could not see his way clear to making two books out of the material at hand. The result is that the subscribers to the set secure in the book before us a very comprehensive study of the stamps of these islands. The stock of W. H. Peckitt was drawn upon quite largely for information in connection with the production of the book. Price 15c, post free. Set of eight books $1.00.

Meetings first (informal) and third (regular) Tuesdays at Club Room 506 Kast Bdg., 7.30 P. M.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 21, 1909.

The 210th (regular) meeting of the society was held at the club room this evening. The meeting was called to order at 7.55 o'clock with Pres. Green in the chair and thirty members and friends present.

The minutes of the June meeting were read and approved.

The following report was read:

Library Report for Sept.

Received by donation: "Les Falsifications du Transvaal" par Leon de Raaij, from the author; Trifet's Priced Catalog, 1879, from Chas. R. Lewis; Gibbons' Catalog, 9th Ed., Part I, 1893, from E. M. Carpenter; Scott's Catalog, 1879, from Oliver Thayer; Morgenthau's Priced Catalogs, 21, 22, 23d Sales, from Jos. S. Rich; a file of the "Daily Philatelic World" from E. F. Sawyer.

By purchase: Senf's Catalog, 1910; "Holland" by Fred J. Melville.

Also the current numbers of the following magazines generously contributed by the publishers: Gibbons' Stamp Weekly, Mekeel's Weekly, The Stamp Journal, Philatelic Journal of Great Britain, Scott Stamp & Coin Co. Circular, Berliner Briefmarken-Zeitung, Collectors' Journal, Hartford Philatelist and Carter's Messenger.

By mistake for some time the Committee has failed to acknowledge the receipt by donation of the numbers of The Stamp Journal as published, and desires at this time to correct the omission.

Respectfully submitted,

CHAS. K. B. NEVIN,
C. A. HOWES.

Mr. E. F. Sawyer was awarded the white ribbon for his exhibit of rarities at the last meeting.

The resignation of Mr. E. T. Stewart was received and accepted.

A letter was read from the publishers of The Postage Stamp stating that this interesting periodical would be furnished our reading table and that a reading cover had been forwarded. A vote of thanks for the courtesy was passed.

Mr. Rothfuchs spoke of the recent death of Mr. Alfred Dawson of Providence, one of the founders of the Rhode Island Philatelic Society, and moved a vote of condolence to that society, on its loss.

The following applications were posted: PEDRO ARANJO, Manaos, Brazil, proposed by A. W. Dunning.

WILLIAM M. KENNEDY, Boston, proposed by R. Williams.

The competition of uncatalogued varieties for the Weber cup had but one entry, that of Mr. H. W. Legg, who showed many interesting varieties which are not listed.

The feature of the evening was the magnificent collection of British African Colonies shown by Mr. J. N. Luff. Page after page of these popular and attractive stamps, mostly unused save in exceptional cases, and displaying most of the minor varieties of type and surcharge, were eagerly scanned by those present. A hearty vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Luff for his courtesy in forwarding the collection for exhibition.

Adjourned at 9.55 p. m.

TO THE AMERICAN PHILATELIC SOC'Y.

To all Members—Greeting:
In retiring from my official capacity, having acted as Treasurer for four terms and as Sales Supt. for two, I wish to start a Souvenir Album, and will ask that each member of the society send me one postage stamp and under each stamp I intend to place their name and address. In asking this I do not wish expensive stamps, just a nice specimen of a very cheap stamp. The object is simply to continue the pleasant remembrances I have of each member when I look over what will be a very unique collection. I trust you will appreciate this request and that I shall hear from you all.

Written for MEKEEL'S WEEKLY.
A. P. S. HISTORICAL NOTES.
By H.A.DAVIS, Pres. Colo. Branch, No.22.
Year 1897, 12th Annual Convention.
At a meeting of the Board of Directors held in Elks' Hall, Boston, the application of the St. Paul Philatelic Society to become a branch was granted. C. L. Annan, St. Paul, Minn., was appointed a resident Vice Pres., F. H. Capper of Detroit, Mich., was appointed Collecting Agt. It was voted by the board that unless 100 members patronized the Purchasing Dept., that they recommend its discontinuance. The committee appointed from the board to look into the matter of dispensing with cumulative voting reported that under the laws of Virginia it could not be done, and report was accepted, and committee discharged. It was voted that Mr. Chandler be appointed a committee to look into the matter of organizing in Minnesota, and that he secure information in regard to incorporation laws from that, as well as other states, and report to the Board of Vice Presidents.
On March 3rd, the association lost its noblest worker and most loyal supporter. The one who had held it together during many storms and turbulent times, when it seemed it must be rent asunder and disintegrate. In these short notes it is impossible to give a fitting testimony to this grand man. Read his annual addresses, they show a fair sweet life, true as his guiltless heart, sweet as his conscience and fair as the current of his stainless career—John Keer Tiffany.
P. M. Wolsieffer, Chicago, Ill., was appointed Auction Manager at that place, vice C. E. Severn resigned. J. F. Johnson was appointed Resident Vice Pres., Boston, Mass. June 1st, 141 members were dropped for non-payment of dues. May 21st Pres. Olney announced a call for the 12th annual convention to be called to order Aug. 24th, Boston, Mass. The association was incorporated under the laws of Minnesota April 3rd, under the name "American Philatelic Society."
The following nominations were made for Board of Directors: President, F. F. Olney, Rhode Island; Vice Pres., W. C. Vanderlip, Mass., Jno. L. Kilbon, Mass., Geo. L. Toppan, Mass., C. P. Krauth, Pa.; Sec., Joe. F. Beard, Mo., C. E. N. Howard, Minn.; Asst. Sec., H. B. Phillips, Calif., Frank Koenig, Calif.; Int. Sec., E. Doebelin, Pa., Wm. H. Mitchell, N. J.; Treas., N. W. Chandler, Ill., H. G. Smith, Minn.; Supt. of Sales, Geo. W. Archard, Minn.; Frank J. Bescher, Mo., H. G. Smith, Minn., Geo. R. Tuttle, N. Y. The following were also nominated, but wrote letters of declination: Pres. Jno. N. Luff, Calif.; Treas., W. H. McDonald, Ill.; Supt. Sales, Howard K. Sanderson, Mass.

The 12th annual convention was called to order by Pres. Olney, Aug. 24th, in Wesleyan Hall, Bromfield St., Boston. There were about 85 members present and about 417 represented by proxy. The Secretary's report showed a total membership of 879, being a loss of about 170 members for the year. The Treasurer's report showed Receipts to be $1,588.56
Expenses, 1,166.15
Balance stock fund, 1,438.00
Balance interest fund, 228.73
Balance entertainment fund, 125.89
New York city was selected as the seat of the next convention. The Weekly Philatelic Era was chosen as official journal. The annual dues were reduced from $1.80 to $1.20, the Supt. of Sales to receive 10 per cent com. on sales and to furnish bond for $20,000.00. The polls at future elections to close at noon on the day preceding the opening of the convention. It was voted to reject the incorporation as already performed under the title of American Philatelic Society, and that it be incorporated under the title of American Philatelic Association, under the laws of Minnesota. It was voted to abolish cumulative voting. $10.00 was voted to keep up the incorporation tax in West Virginia. $100.00 was voted to the defense fund of the New York newspaper stamp case. It was voted to transfer the interest fund and insurance fund to the general fund. On motion of Mr. Stone the 12th annual convention was adjourned.

Following is result of the election: President, F. F. Olney, R. I.; Bd. Vice Pres., W. C. Vanderlip, Jno. L. Kilbon and Geo. L. Toppan, Mass.; Sec., Joe. F. Beard, Mo.; Asst. Sec., H. B. Phillips, Calif.; Int. Sec., E. Doebelin, Pa.; Treas., H. G. Smith, Minn.; Supt. of Sale, Geo. R. Tuttle, New York. The Board of Directors made the following appointments: Supt. Literary Exchange, Wm. C. Stone, Springfield, Mass.; Counterfeit Detector, Jno. W. Scott, New York; Examiner of Sales Books, R. R. Bogert, New York; Librarian, H. E. Deats, Flemington, N. J.; Auction Pur. Agt., W. F. Gregory, New York, A. W. Batchelder, Boston, P. M. Wolsieffer, Chicago, Ill.; Collecting Agt., J. Arthur Wainwright, Northampton, Mass.

A certificate of amendment of the articles of incorporation of the American Philatelic Society was filed with the Secretary of State of Minnesota, Dec. 31st, changing the name of the American Philatelic Society to the American Philatelic Association.

WOMAN'S FACE ON STAMP.
D. A. R. Members Petition to Restore Martha Washington Head.

A number of ladies prominent in the Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution have requested the Post Office Department to restore the head of Martha Washington to one of the stamps of the present series. It is suggested that the proposed issue of the twelve-cent stamp offers an opportunity to do this. The suggestion is supported on the ground that "it would be an appropriate recognition of one-half of the people of the United States, not to mention its merits from an aesthetic point of view."
Acting Third Assistant Postmaster General Travers has asked the director of the bureau of engraving and printing to prepare a model presenting Martha Washington's head, in addition to one bearing the head of George Washington. Both will receive careful attention from Postmaster General Hitchcock on his return from his vacation. The new twelve-cent stamp will be used generally, inasmuch as it is designed to cover the cost of the new registry fee of 10 cents and the two-cent postage rate.—Washington Star.

PLUMRIDGE AUCTION ADVT.
We have in the past carried but very little English auction advertising. This is no doubt caused by the fact that ordinarily sufficient time is not allowed for the proper circulation of auction catalogs.
Messrs. Plumridge & Co., whose advertising will be found elsewhere in this issue, announce that their catalogs for this season will be circulated early enough to allow American buyers to patronize their sales.
We have no hesitancy in urging auction buyers to address the firm, so that they will be remembered on mailing day. The sale for which catalog has just been received is No. 310, which is of itself a strong statement as to the hold that the firm of Plumridge & Co. has on English auction business.

THE STAMP MARKET.

Among a lot of the Austrian Unpaid of 1908 there are some 10h values of quite a new sort, dull carmine instead of flaming red, and apparently on thinner paper. Much of the same thing is observable in a parcel of the current 2h newspaper stamp, where some of the copies are a duller blue and on thinner paper.

The 2c Canada, imperforate, a copy of which is just to hand, may be expected to find ready purchasers everywhere. Another new stamp for cheap sheets is the 1 stot. Bulgaria, surcharged 1909. In this country there are also some other recent surcharges to be on the look-out for.

In an odd lot of 10c Dutch Indies, King, of 1894, I found a 15c yellow Unpaid of that period; it had doubtless escaped observation as being of the same shade as the King's Heads. In another lot of the same country, the 10c grey of 1903, quite a number of 20c values and 10-on-20c had slipped into the parcel. When the colours of the intruders are not violently dissimilar from the prevailing shade of the bulk of the parcel, this sort of thing often happens, it is not by any means an unwelcome occurrence.

It seems not unlikely that the market prices for Chili, 1900, may in the future be higher; in one list the 10c value is marked as being "scarce," while the 1c and 2c values are dear in quantity.

The new 4c on 6½c Holland Unpaid is priced 3d in a Continental list, used or unused.

One of the European journals has a list of general dealers in foreign seaports who made a side-line of stamps; this should prove useful.

Prices for Finland, in one quarter, have gone up considerably. According to the quotations it looks as if even the 20p of 1901 were going to be a "good stamp," that is to say, a good investment to the purchaser of 1,000 copies of it.

There is wisdom in attempting to set before one's "clients" such stamps as they are not likely to have, which perhaps they have never yet seen. Where the recipient of an approval book is obliged to exclaim "I've got them all," the sales are not likely to be heavy, but where new things can be presented there is better hope. A new stamp to a collector has much the same glamour as a new star to an astronomer:—

"Then felt I like some watcher of the skies,
When a new planet swims into his ken."

A general collector will be glad of any sort of stamp that is new to him, provided that it be genuine, and the watchful eye of the salesman may often light on out-of-the-way things calculated to give a tone of variety to his sheets. I see there is a Costa Atlantica (on Nicaragua) that can be got to sell at 1d apiece, surcharged Benadir that could be offered at the same price, besides other similar novelties. Much correspondence, of judicious sort, should result in the discovery of many things of a like nature. Enterprise is a helpful quality, although it is best to safeguard oneself in any new venture by a preliminary enquiry, and never to entrust goods for exchange, or money for purchases, in quarters where the business morale is not all that it should be.

The three lower values of Brazil Service are getting into circulation at a figure that makes them available as cheap stamps. Crete, 1909, may perhaps presently be cheaper. Lower values of La Canea on Italy, are good when they can be got.

How fruitless is the quest for used Greek Unpaid! Does anyone know whether the new Spanish Morocco come to hand well centred?

Nice used copies of current U. S. A. above the 2c value seem to be in demand.

12 filler, Hungary, 1900, is a good stamp in its way. 50c Italy, 1901, is another; one copy of this stamp is apparently worth two of the 45c. ½c Holland, Postage Due, seldom troubles one by hanging fire.—Stamp Collectors Fortnightly.

THE SPECIAL DELIVERY REPRINTING.

By CHAS. R. MORRIS.

I was asked some time ago by a U. S. specialist if it would be possible in some way to have the re-issue of the blue special delivery stamp marked in some way so that it would be known as the re-issue and printed subsequent to the withdrawal of the green stamps. I took the matter up with A. M. Travers, Acting Third Asst. P. M. G., and at first suggested the changing of the date on the stamp itself from "Series of 1902" to "Series of 1909." This did not appear feasible and so it was suggested that an '09 be added after each plate number on those plates that had been used before the greens were printed and that are to be used again subsequent to their withdrawal. This was acceded to and the engravers at the Bureau have now added to the following eight plates "09": "Plates 5240, 5243, 5244, 5245, 5246, 5247, 5248 and 5252. Any plates numbered higher than 5252 will be new plates that were never printed from prior to the greens. Thus it will be seen that in order to show both the old issue and the re-issue it will be necessary to get strips showing the plate number without and with the "09".

CHICAGO SPECIAL.

On October 30 we shall issue a special number of the WEEKLY that will reflect to a considerable degree the activity of Chicago along philatelic lines. Within the past few years a marked increase in philatelic interest has been noted in that city, and especially made apparent in the advertising columns of our paper.

Our national society has honored Chicago and been honored itself in selecting a well-known philatelist of that city for the presidency, and we are assured that his interest and loyalty in philately are such that coming months will witness the greatest achievements that the American Philatelic Society has ever realized.

The special number of the WEEKLY on Oct. 30 will be a fitting tribute to the activity of this strong philatelic center, and we expect to make it in every way the success that it deserves to be.

THE MANAGING EDITOR.

EDITORIAL.

Big Deal.—It is always a satisfaction to the general philatelic public to hear of a stroke of enterprise on the part of the commercial men of philately, and so record fairly may be made here of the transaction whereby the Paul collection, celebrated for many years as one of America's greatest philatelic monuments, passed into the possession of the New England Stamp Company. The purchase price is not known to us but as the catalogue value of the stamps has been reported as in excess of $200,000, we know that the figure was an impressive one. If we were compelled to hazard an opinion as to the price, the amount named would be over

PANAMA.

We have a magnificent specialized lot of these, including nearly all the errors and minor varieties, many of them not catalogued by Scott or Gibbons. The catalogue value by Scott's as far as given is in the neighborhood of $700.00. Our price for the lot, $175.00 net. Will send it on approval to parties interested. Single copies will be sold at 50% from marked prices, which are much lower than Scott's.

We have another lot of PANAMAS, mostly errors and minor varieties, which will catalogue in the neighborhood of a thousand dollars. The price of this lot is $220.00 net.

Either of the above specialized collections of Panamas is a decided bargain for a dealer or collector.

C. E. HUSSMAN STAMP CO.,

311 N. Garrison Ave., ST. LOUIS, MO.

$50,000; the superb quality of the stamps and the fact that there was spirited competition for the collection no doubt had an expanding influence on the price. It is well for the good reputation of the pursuit and for the peace of mind of the moneyed followers of it that no transaction is of a magnitude too great for the dealer to handle. Confidence in philately as a certain and stable form of investment is assured by the knowledge that there need be no limit to the amount of money placed in stamps because of any cautionary impulse that a great collection or accumulation will be too large a proposition for the market. We rejoice in the fact that one of the firms close in thought to all collectors has secured the collection; and it is a consolation to know that despite the pity attending the reduction of so superb a collection into its stamp parts, the specimens will be offered to our collectors for the enrichment of their albums. The sale of the Paul collection to the New England Stamp Company affords an opportunity to descendant on the bounding vitality and financial sturdiness of philately. The significance of the trade is so plain, however, that one does not need to sermonize in order to spell out the lesson. There is one thought that we wish to present in the midst of the shower of congratulations descending on the firm who bought it and that is this: All honor to the memory of Mr. Paul whose faith in philately was so strong that he invested without a misgiving a sum of money whose dimensions were such as to deserve the descriptive even in these days of opulence, of the term, "small fortune."

* * *

Petitioners.—At the convention of the members of the different English philatelic societies held at Manchester, England, where enlightening discussion was had on many subjects, a resolution was passed to the effect that the Universal Postal Union be petitioned to prohibit the issue of commemorative stamps or unnecessary issues by the countries under its direction and that means, practically the world. The letter with the signatures of Messrs. Castle, Beckton, Bishop and Bernstein, respectively, has been sent to head-quarters at Berne; and now, adverse criticisms of the course of action have appeared in the press of the continent and in England too. There is no gainsaying the sincerity and the disinterested motives of the committee say we and it is aimed to correct a practice that has become intolerable to many a loyal collector. We think that it would be best if the stamp issuing countries gave no heed, whatsoever, to stamp collectors as possibilities of profit or as a body that absorbs many unused stamps for collecting purposes, with the result of pure profit to the selling government. Philately could proceed on its triumphant way with those new issues that are prepared to meet the needs of postal service only. Yet the governments perhaps do not cater to the profitable possibilities of collectors so much as some philatelists imagine. In the case of recent U. S. commemoratives, the issues were made for the reasons of policy and sentiment combined. It would be a reflection on the business sense of the authorities to say that they expected to profit from the sale of the stamps.

We have purchased for cash the celebrated

As it Should Be.—Mr. Ewen says: "The ideal post office is one which knows nothing of the existence of stamp collectors; which prints stamps by any means the most convenient and which issues them to all and sundry without enquiring into motives. The post office which refuses to issue a surcharged stamp because stamp collectors might object is no more living up to its reputation than that which issues surcharged stamps solely for sale to collectors." This is a fair summary but in view of the fact that all countries are aware of the philatelic equation, the description should be amended so that the country knowing of the existence of stamp collectors would ignore them in any decision as to stamp issues. We believe that there are some countries that approach this ideal.

* * *

Many Minds.—Another point is made by Mr. Ewen in these words: "It is conceit on the part of collectors to suppose that issues of stamps are made specially on their account and an impertinence on their part to suggest to foreign and colonial governments the suppression of commemorative and surcharged stamps." We are hopeful that one country, our own, will soon be in the position of encouraging philatelic opinion on questions affecting stamp affairs and that the measure adopted at the convention of the American Philatelic Society will be productive of the desired results. We know that for many years past, our post-office department has been aware of the existence of a multitude of philatelists each with a mind of his own. Some years ago, an officer of the department said that stamp collectors did not seem to know what they did want. The subject of a commemorative set had been broached; collectors all over the country wrote to the authorities; some of the correspondents warmly favored the proposed set; others were equally condemnatory. Any effect was neutralized; and the negative expression, as it amounted to, allowed the department to issue the stamps. Probably, the differences of opinion that will be aroused by the recent Berne petition will permit the arbiters to take no action on the score that stamp collectors cannot agree with themselves.

Uniformity in Danger.—The newspapers tell of the appeal of prominent members of the Daughters of the American Revolution asking that the head of Martha Washington be restored to one of the values of the present issue of stamps. It is suggested that the new twelve-cent stamp would be appropriate for this purpose. A correspondent of one of the papers says: "In the absence of Frank H. Hitchcock, postmaster-general, Arthur M. Travers, acting third assistant postmaster-general, has asked the director of the bureau of engraving and printing to prepare a model presenting Martha Washington's head, in addition to one bearing the head of George Washington. Mr. Hitchcock will be asked to decide between the two when he returns from his vacation."

NORTHERN NIGERIA.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us two new stamps from this distant Colony. The first is the 2 1/2d ultramarine, which was listed nearly two years ago on the strength of Postal Union copies, but which has just come into use. The other is the £1 value, which has now been issued in the new colors. Both are on chalky multiple paper.

Adhesives.

2 1/2d ultramarine.
£1 black on red.

PORTUGAL.—Lawrence B. Mason sends us a list of the new stamps, as noted in No. 979. Mr. Mason, however, gives the 15r as reddish gray and the 20r as red, instead of the colors as furnished us by Mr. Castro. Mr. Mason calls attention to the fact that the 15r, 80r and 1000r, are new values in the stamps for Portugal. This new set is not to be issued until about the first of the year.

RUSSIA.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us the new 3k, which has just come to hand. The color would seem to conflict with the 4k, previously chronicled, though the 3k is in the design of 1k and 2k stamps.

Adhesive.

3k carmine.

Offices in the Levant.—Whitfield King & Co. write to the Postage Stamp: "We are told that the Russian Levant stamps in all denominations up to 70 piastres are to be overprinted with the names of the ten different towns in the Levant where they are issued. This is truly a staggering prospect, and we do not think we shall give them space in our catalogue, more particularly as the overprints will probably be in Russian characters. They are on the same footing as the old Mexican stamps with the names of various towns or with numbers, which are only collected by specialists, and which even Messrs. Gibbons do not list in their catalogue. As a proof that these separate surcharges are quite unnecessary we may say that in exchange for a remittance which we recently sent to Durazzo, the Postmaster supplied a mixture of Durazzo, Jerusalem and Albania stamps, and the letter which conveyed them was prepaid with Jerusalem stamps only!"

SIAM.—Specimens of the new surcharges in Satang values, chronicled in No. 979, have been sent us by William Ward, and Philip H. Ward, Jr., also favors us with information regarding these new provisionals.

NEW CONTRACTS.

The Fulton Stamp Co. after a few weeks' absence from our columns, has taken space on page 5 and will be found regularly at the top of column three. This firm makes a specialty of packets and lots suitable not only for the collector, but dealer as well. We feel sure that the offers of this firm will be of interest as each week they appear in our columns.

A yearly contract has been written with H. Wertheim, whose office is located at E. 23 St., N. Y. City, near the other stamp shops for which this street is famous. While the contract written by Mr. Wertheim is not a large one, the regular weekly insertion of his adver-

"VINDOBONA."

OMAHA BRANCH No. 23.

September 28th, 1909.

As President of the Omaha Branch No. 23, I desire to call to the attention of the society a matter of considerable interest to stamp collectors in general, namely, the intention of the United States Government to increase the registration fee November first, from eight cents to ten cents.

This, I believe, is a step in the wrong direction, and on account of the general custom to register packets of stamps, it bears heavily upon stamp collectors and dealers.

If I may make a suggestion, I should think it advisable that the matter be taken up at once through the official organ and that the members of the society be urged to write to their representatives in Congress opposing the advance.

In Great Britain, the registration fee is 2d or four cents, and on the continent of Europe it varies from four to five cents, and in Canada it is but five cents. It is possible therefore, at present, to send a registered letter from London to Omaha at a total expense of six cents, while to send the same letter from Columbus to Omaha entails at present, an expense of ten cents, and after the first of November the charge will be twelve cents.

W. A. JOHNSON, Pres.; F. B. WHEATON, V. Pres.; J. F. ENGLE, Sec.; R. WYSONG, Treas.; T. R. HUNGERFORD, Supt. Exchange; P. H. WARD, Jr., Supt. Auctions; C. R. MORRIS, Lib.; Gov. Board, Pres., Sec., Treas., and DR. W. H. FOX, H. B. MASON, WM. SAHM and GEO. L. TOPPAN. Regular meetings 3d Monday at Schmidt's Hall, 516 9th St. N. W.

The 45th regular meeting was held September 20, 1909 at the home of Mr. Chas. R. Morris. Nine members and six visitors were present. The regular routine business was transacted. The name of Theodore F. Sheckels was presented for membership. A unanimous vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Johnson, Prof. Whitney and Mr. Morris for their kindness in entertaining the society during the summer months.

The evening was delightfully spent in looking over philatelic treasures of the host and visitors. Mr. Hammelman exhibited a complete set of four varieties of U. S. Postal notes each issued for one cent; a set of U. S. Postal money orders issued after the postal notes, including the first one issued at Washington, D. C., and at the first U. S. Postal stations in Porto Rico, Cuba and Shanghai, China; each being number one and issued for one cent. Artist proofs of the first U. S. one cent stamp in different stages of construction. Essays in different colors of the 1861 one cent stamp. A Mulready penny postage envelope, used; some sheets of U. S. Locals; a Washington, D. C. postmark on cover dated April 26, 1808 and the first postmark showing exact minute of day, 1905.

Mr. Caudell exhibited the various U. S. exposition stamps and the issues of 1861 and 1902 put up in passe partout

As soon as your name has been published as an applicant you will probably have unsolicited selections of stamps sent you on approval. As a great many collectors object to this practice the Society desires to break the practice up. Please aid us and help protect yourself and others against further imposition, by holding such selections without purchasing any, until sufficient funds have been sent by the dealer to return it to him by registered mail. Also please report the name of such dealer to the Secretary of the Society.

Do You Think of Selling?

If you do, and want ALL THERE IS IN IT, the best way is by the use of a well conducted and well arranged AUCTION SALE. Thus you get the benefit of the competition of COLLECTORS as well as dealers, not only for your property as a whole, but for every item of value it contains. We make a SPECIALTY of such sales; have already held 205 realizing nearly HALF-A-MILLION DOLLARS; we have a large and carefully selected list of BUYERS in this and other countries which cannot be excelled by any firm in our line; we hold sales both in New York and Boston, thus giving you the benefit of the two BEST MARKETS in the world COMBINED; we issue neat and attractive catalogues; make careful and advantageous arrangement of lots; make LIBERAL advances when needed and invariably secure the BEST RESULTS the market will permit. Many of the HIGHEST PRICES of the past season were recorded in our sales. Our SETTLEMENTS are PROMPT and our RESPONSIBILITY established. Our TERMS are still as low as can be given by any whose facilities even approach our own. We believe it is only wisdom for all who wish to TURN STAMPS INTO CASH to consult us before placing a contract elsewhere. LARGE COLLECTIONS, Dealers' stocks, SINGLE RARE STAMPS and sets are all in good demand and the prospect for good results this coming season is unusually bright. We solicit correspondence, or an interview wherever practicable. WE BUY collections outright where one is in haste to realize. Sales may be booked ahead and favorable dates may be obtained by early application.

ARTHUR P. S. HYDE, (Member of A. P. S.) NEWPORT, RHODE ISLAND.

There are two vital questions now before us, viz.: Are your dues paid, and are you going to get new members this year?

Please send in your dues at once, $1.20 per year in the U. S., $1.80 a year for foreign countries. When you pay your dues you receive free a copy of our first hand book, "The Three Cent Stamp of 1851," by Carroll Chase, M. D. This book is worthy of the society and should be in every philatelic library. Its yours if you will only pay your dues. There are always a few members who neglect this or forget it and this is intended especially for them. This year will be a hard year for new officials and we earnestly request every member that has not paid to do so at once without further urging and dragging at every opportunity. You can help out if you will only do your part. Send it in today and help get this work out of the way so that it will not clog future possibilities. You will eventually pay them. Why not now? The first issue of the Quarterly will be out shortly and unless your dues are paid do not expect it.

When you can in any way be of assistance to officials whose work in the main is a labor of love, it behooves you to do your mite and in this case it is to get your dues in at once and not string them out over a long period. This will be of the utmost help to over-worked officials.

Have you decided that you are going to take part in the pull to reach 2000 members by convention time next year? We want every one of you to get as many good live members as you can and thereby help in the good work that will inevitably follow this increase in membership. Surely every member knows some ones that are not members but should be. Just take them to one side and tell them confidentially what the society is doing for philately in America and for individuals in particular. Tell them of the Quarterly and the Hand Books, these alone should insure your success.

H. S. ADAIR, Sec.

At a meeting of the Board of Vice Presidents of the American Philatelic Society, Sept. 28, 1909, the following resolution was adopted:

That in all claims of substitution for stamps, the claimant shall support his claim, if amounting to $2.00 or over, by an affidavit; and in claims aggregating less than $2.00, the claim shall expressly state that it is made on the honour of the claimant.

The Sales Superintendent has been notified of this resolution, and will see that all claims for substitution made thirty days after publication shall conform hereto.

FROM THE INTERNATIONAL SECRETARY.

WIEN, 16th September, 1909.
Mr. L. Harald Kjellstedt, F.R.P.S., Inter. Sec. A. P. S., Scranton, Pa., U.S.A.

Dear Sir:—On occasion of the meeting of the XXI Deutscher Philatelisten-Tag in Karlsbad, 19th to 23rd August a. c., an invitation was made by M. U. Dr. von Woerz on behalf of the two leading Vienna philatelic societies, the Oesterreichischer Philatelisten-Klub "Vindobona" and the Tauschvereinigung fur Postwertzeichen, to hold the XXIII Deutscher Philatelisten-Tag in Vienna in September, 1911, when in connection with and following this meeting an international philatelic exhibition would be held in commemoration of the 30th anniversary of the first philatelic exhibition in Vienna, 1881.

This invitation having been accepted with general acclamation by all then present representatives of German and Austrian philatelic societies, we have great pleasure in informing you, that the K. K. Ministry of Commerce as well as the Directors of Poste and Telegraphes have consented to give all necessary subsidies and helps to these arrangements, viz.: Philatelic exhibition and Philatelisten-Tag and as our official authorities show such great interest for our work, we trust, that these arrangements will become a philatelic success, worthy of the previous ones of this kind (Philatelic Exhibition 1881 and Philatelisten-Tag 1902).

While informing you now only of these facts and that our preparatory work has been started, we beg to say, that full programmes will be sent out shortly, and meanwhile we ask your kind

OUR ENGLISH LETTER.

By WM. WARD.

The New Season.—Now that the societies are again holding their periodical meetings, and the majority of philatelists have returned from their annual vacations, matters philatelic are almost back in their old swing. There is nothing like darkness in the early evening to make us turn to our albums. The start of a new season, like the New Year, makes the already established philatelist form some resolutions as to what he intends to collect, and what country he intends to complete. Then there is the recruit to philately. The man or woman finding themselves bored with ennui of a long dark evening, cast about for some pastime, and a great many find themselves fascinated by the fair goddess Philatelia. Thus a new season finds itself thrown into being by the "Resolutionists" and the "Novices"—and the latter in their evolution to become in time "Resolutionists."

Colonial Changes.—British philatelists have plenty to occupy their attention this year, and at the same time keep up a high degree of philatelic enthusiasm, by the obsoleting of the bi- and tri-colored Colonials or multiple papers. During the past few years the majority of collectors have filled in their multiple watermarks with leisure—the result being that a great many find themselves entirely without many issues—even to the ½ and 1 penny values. This change—which is called the "Colonial Color Scheme"—applied to all Crown & Crown Agency Colonies—thereby only excepting Canada, New Foundland, India, and the Australian Confederation, including New Zealand. I may warn readers that probably there may in the very near future be further changes in the design itself of many of our Colonial stamps—following the example of Gold Coast and Nyassaland.

Philatelic Silly-Season Journalism.—In common with all other branches of journalism, the philatelic press experience a period when copy is slack—very slack. The editor has to watch his circulation or he gets no vacation exe's. Thus all sorts of more or less philatelic "scoops" and "leaders" are made use of to catch the summer philatelist. The English paper has entertained its readers with a horrible accumulation of statistical figures in order to prove which are the commonest and rarest stamps in the world from a money and purchasing point of view. It appears that the very most a millionaire can pay for a single specimen to get good market value is $5,000.00, whilst no less than 52 varieties of stamps tie for the place of the cheapest—being worth at the rate of one hundredth of a cent! Of course there are a lot of other particulars and figures! Lastly our philatelic and statistical friend comes to the conclusion after much adding and subtracting, multiplying and dividing, that there is one dealer in the world with a stock value $500,000.00 (about) and no less than 10,000 with a stock value $50.00! Do you wonder that we are glad the "season" is on again?

New Asiatics.—The new Siamese overprinted satang—as 2 satang on latt, 3 satang on 3 atts, 6 satang on 4 atts, att-cetera are to hand. It will be difficult indeed to discover a Siamese stamp not surcharged. This time it is impossible for we philatelists to give forth any complaint. The division of the currency of Siam had come about and of course until the new value stamps are ready, the old stocks must be overprinted with the new cents currency. Teach an Asiatic western methods and he is dead certain to carry to a greater degree.

Just as we learn that the late ancient dowager Empress of China did not die from altogether natural causes—but from the internal taking of some grains of gold-dust—a la Japanese "Hari-Kari" or gently administered by some kind friend of dissimilar political views—which, I know not—we hear of the pending arrival of a series of pictorial stamps from the great Chin-chin Empire. In order not to have a posthumous issue bearing the portrait of any personage, the "picture" is to be that of the "Temple of Heaven." Surely it is not proper that an ordinary common postal clerk shall have the power to cancel or deface the sacred temple? Perhaps the Chinese authorities will devise the same shape oblator as that ordered by His Sicilian Majesty, King "Bomba."

The last spasm of Celestial news—if one can use such an adjective in relation to Japan, is that the latter country is also preparing a new series.

Obliterations.—Whilst on an Eastern topic, I might opportunely mention something about the Philippine Islands. I have come to a divided conclusion—that either Uncle Sam is very stingy towards his Eastern Depot—or the Filipinos are "getting their own back" on the postage stamps. Doubtless many collectors have remarked upon the great black daubs upon the Philippine stamps? Asking a friend in Manila the cause—he told me. Few of the post offices have cancelling-stamps or they seldom use them—the popular method of cancellation being with the thumb or first finger, after being stuck on a pad or in the ink bottle.

I have a beautiful entire bearing many scarce values, all finely thumb obliterated. I am keeping it until I do my Manila tour, when I shall by the Bertillon method discover the man owning the thumb that cancelled my stamps, and won't I—but that's a little personal reckoning.

PENNY POSTAGE WITH TURKEY.

(Clipping from C. E. Thomas.)

Mr. Henniker Heaton, M. P., yesterday, introduced a Turkish deputation to the Postmaster-General in reference to the proposals for a penny postage agreement between Great Britain and Turkey.

Syed Ameer Ali, vice-president of the Eastern Questions Association, urged the importance of extending to the entire Ottoman Empire the advantageous postal benefits which for nearly four years have been in operation between the Khedivial provinces and the British Empire. From inquiries made in Cairo and Alexandria the reduction of the postal rates between Egypt and the British Empire had in no small degree assisted in promoting a better understanding between the two peoples. He added that the further constitutional changes which are certain in the near future in Turkey and the impetus they will give to the development of trade and of industry will reduce to a very low amount any financial loss which might occur from the reduction of the postal rates.

Fred. J. Melville, president of the Junior Philatelic Society, and Leon Zorayan, representing the Ottoman merchants in the City of London, spoke in support of the object the deputation had in view.

Mr. Buxton, in reply, said that while he was fully in sympathy with the objects of the deputation he regretted that he could not give an affirmative answer at this juncture. He pointed out that to enter into a penny postal agreement with Turkey would necessitate negotiations for similar agreements with European countries, and in the present state of the country's finances this was not a time at which he could ask the Treasury for the large sum of money that would be required. He was the more sorry not to be able to give a favourable answer in view of the friendly relations now existing between this country and Turkey, but if the financial position and the trade of the country improved he would endeavour to see that Turkey had the concession among the earliest. He hoped, they all hoped, to see not only penny postage with Turkey, but universal penny postage. He realized that penny postage with Turkey would come in time, and he hoped it would come soon.—London Times, Sept. 29.

OUR BOOK REVIEW.

Postage Stamps of Zululand—by Bertram W. H. Poole. D. Field, publisher, 4 Royal Arcade, Old Bond St., London, Eng. This is No. 3 of the West End Philatelist series of hand books, the work having appeared in instalments in the publication referred to. The book treats of the stamps of this interesting British Colony in such a manner as to be acceptable to the amateur as well as to the advanced student of philately. The book is fully illustrated, its 32 pages making a very handy and complete volume. It is very evident that future months will see an ever increasing number of philatelic handbooks, which should prove important factors in creating an interest in philately greater than we have ever known before. Price 12c.

AMONG OUR ADVERTISERS.

The Ouillette Stamp Co. writes us that thus far they have received forty-seven replies to their advertisement in the issue of Sept. 25 and some patrons wanted as many as ten copies of the stamp advertised. Mr. Van Order, the manager, writes: "I think that is going some. Don't you?"

Elsewhere is advertised a list published by L. W. Charlat. It consists of sixteen pages and was of sufficient value to the managing editor for him to immediately order certain of the stamps offered. This is the best kind of a recommendation he can give it. It is cheap at 5c. Address Mr. Charlat at 81 Nassau St., N. Y. City. His advertising will in the future be found regularly on page three.

As stated upon our editorial page, a big contract has been written with the New England Stamp Co. This means that the name of this firm will be found very conspicuously upon our pages during the coming months.

Two enterprising Chicago dealers have taken double column space on pages two and three. B. L. Voorhees will be found on page two and H. M. Clark on page three. Truly, Chicago is very much in the lime-light.

Two of our old advertisers resume their patronage of our columns this week, F. W. Reid and Burger & Co. Mr. Reid will be found regularly on page 5. We give them both a hearty welcome.

SHIP OF THE DESERT.

A Glasgow business house has received a communication from Bagdad, Turkey, which states: "The European mail due here has not reached Bagdad, as the post carrier's camel is said to have escaped while he was sleeping, and it is supposed to have perished in the desert. Consequently the mail is lost."—Phil. Record.—Clipping from A. F. Henkels.

ORIGINAL COVERS!

A fine line of these, including over 25 lots of rare Confederate States stamps, are included in my next AUCTION SALE (No. 36). Besides these, a lot of good U. I have just run across a dozen 97 cent books of U. S. 1898, 2c orange red. These are the regular books issued by the government and contain 48 stamps in mint shape. Scott's 1910 price on this stamp is 15 cents, so each book catalogues $7.20. My price is less than 1/4 catalogue. $1.75 a book postpaid.

Add 75 cents for a 1910 cloth Scott's Catalogue. This stamp jumped from 8c to 15c and there are thousands of other changes. Mostly upward. With it, you can catch lots of bargains from sheets priced by 1909 catalogue.

Under this heading we desire to publish all the news from the various philatelic centers. Correspondents' names will be given unless prohibited as we desire to give full credit for services rendered.

—The Hobby Club is using some excellent sheets in its exchange circuits. In the spaces provided for the stamps dotted lines are printed upon which may be inserted name of country, catalog number and value. This information proves a valuable aid in obtaining patronage for this department of the Hobby Club, as it guards against the substitution of stamps.

—J. R. Wilson of Cleveland, Ohio, favors us with cover of September National Magazine. The outside page is a thing of beauty from a philatelic standpoint. The Waterman pen is advertised, the groundwork consisting of stamps of the world printed in their natural colors. It is one of the most unique and costly stamp advertisements that we have lately seen.

—J. C. Piper of Elmo, Mo., writes us the particulars of a very interesting find of stamps. The old papers and documents had been stored away in a bank for the last forty years. While no extreme rarities were unearthed, a large number of good U. S. stamps was secured.

—H. M. Clark is holding today an auction sale in Chicago. The catalog, which by the way is rather unique in general make-up, was received too late for mention last week.

—John R. Crawford, 5 Court St., Auburn, N. Y., is compiling a philatelic directory of the world, and is desirous of securing the names of all collectors and dealers. He also wishes full information concerning all philatelic publications, societies, etc. Samples of philatelic publications are requested.

—The organization committee of the International Philatelic Exhibition to be held at Berne in the autumn of 1910 in the halls of the new Casino, is composed of the following gentlemen: A. de Reuterskiold, Lausanne, President; J. Schieb, Berne, Vice President; F. Furi, Berne, Secretary of the Exhibition; E. Zumstein, Berne, Treasurer; F. Arnold, Berne, Secretary of the Organization Committee. All correspondence, etc., must be addressed to the Secretary Neugasse 39 (Von Werdt-Passage), Berne. At the last exhibition at Amsterdam it was suggested that it was time that Switzerland came to the fore and shew the progress attained by collectors in the last few years. The idea was readily taken up. It is now 14 years since the last International Philatelic Exhibition was held in Switzerland. A number of philatelists have already promised their coöperation and we trust that this exhibition will be really international in the widest meaning of the term.

—"Yesterday (Oct. 1) was the first anniversary of the institution of the penny post between this country and the United States of America. While the exact figures are not obtainable, it is officially stated that the increase in Anglo-American letters of all kinds has been from 20 to 25 per cent. What this means may be gathered from the fact that in the year before the reduction in the postal rate the letters and post-cards to America weighed 473,000 lbs. and inwards 503,000 lbs., each letter averaging about half an ounce."—London Times.

—Francis Rotch, Jr., The Westminster, Seattle, Wash., will be very glad to send back numbers of the WEEKLY dating from 1906 to anyone who will pay expense of carriage. Write him direct.

—Leonard Garbaccio writes the WEEKLY that it will be a mistake to discontinue the 13c stamp. He claims that there will be sufficient use for it to justify its continuance in correspondence with foreign countries.

DEATH OF LEO GREENBERG.

J. Rausch of San Francisco, Cal., sends us a clipping from the Call of that city, giving the particulars of the death of Leo Greenberg, which occurred Oct. 3.

Mr. Greenberg was addressing a meeting in B'nai B'rith Hall at which he was serving as chairman, when he suddenly staggered and fell back dead. Heart failure is given as the cause of death.

Mr. Greenberg was well known in Frisco as a stamp and coin collector and dealer. During the big fire and earthquake he lost all of his stamps, being located at that time at the corner of Montgomery and Clay Sts. Later he opened an assay office and curio store, dealing in souvenirs of the great fire.

ACKNOWLEDGED WITH THANKS.

—"The Evolution of Canadian Commerce" from H. V. Blackburn, being a story of Canadian progress graphically illustrated. An artistic and interesting booklet issued in connection with a Toronto business house.

—Clippings from Marcel E. Taller, E. C. Thomas, David Horn, Jr., J. B. Hollis and C. E. Thomas (2).

—Bargain Bulletin No. 19 from W. C. Phillips & Co., Glastonbury, Ct. This is an eight-page list with special offers, samples of which are frequently shown in the WEEKLY. From the same firm a Prospectus exploiting its approval business.

—Catalog of United Stamp Co.'s 138th sale, to be held October 23.

—The foreign edition of the catalogue of Wolsieffer's 100th auction sale has been mailed and the domestic edition is now ready for distribution. The sale will include about 200 lots of twentieth century stamps, mostly single CA's, the property of S. G. Collins, Galveston, Texas; and no fewer than 31 owners contribute the other lots, such as rare Hawaiian, Swiss, Tellico Plains, etc. A distinctive feature of the sale is 145 lots of philatelic literature and among them are many scarce and out-of-print items. Mr. Wolsieffer will hold the sale in the afternoon, thereby departing from his custom of night sales.

All stamps are unused unless stated used. All are in fine condition and Bargains at my pr.

Written for MEKEEL'S WEEKLY.

A. P. S. HISTORICAL NOTES.

By H. A. DAVIS, Pres. Colo. Branch No. 22.
Year 1898,—13th Annual Convention.

On May 6th occurred the sudden death of Secretary Jos. F. Beard. On May 16th notice was given by President Olney that William N. Howe, Portland, Me., was elected to fill the vacancy.

The charter of incorporation under the laws of the state of West Virginia was allowed to be forfeited for the reason that it was found that the tax was $50.00 instead of $10.00 to organizations who were not actively engaged in the state or who had no principal office in the state. Furthermore that under these conditions the association was indebted to the state of W. Virginia to the amount of $40.00 per year for five years, making a total of $200.00 back taxes and $50.00 for the year 1898. Under these conditions the charter was allowed to become forfeited. New stock certificates were engraved and a new seal ordered.

President Olney issued the call for the 13th annual convention on May 31st to take place at New York City, Aug. 23rd. Following were the nominations for officers: For President, Frank F. Olney, R. I.; Bd. V. Pres, W. C. Vanderlip, Geo. L. Toppan and E. M. Carpenter, Boston; Sec., Wm. N. Howe, Me.; Int. Sec., C. P. Krauth, Pa.; Treas., H. G. Smith, Minn.; F. Noyes, Tex.; Directors at Large, H. B. Phillips, Calif., P. F. Bruner, New York.

The 13th annual convention was called to order by Vice President Toppan, Aug. 23rd. There were about 40 members present and 208 represented by proxy. The convention was held at the Collectors' Club, New York City. The treasurer's report showed receipts to be $1236.35, expenses $993.39, balance on hand $242.96, balance in stock fund $1514.00, balance entertainment fund $125.89. Supt. of Sales' report showed sales to the amount of $6404.02.

FULTON STAMP CO.,

102 W. 42d St., NEW YORK.

Secretary's report showed membership to be 713. The Committee on Permanent Location of the Library of the Association made a report which was adopted. As a result the library was to be permanently housed at the Carnegie Library at Pittsburg, Pa., $100.00 was appropriated to defray the expense "of having the library properly put in suitable shape before being turned over to the Carnegie Library," and the Committee on Permanent Location be retained for another year. This committee was composed of the following members: H. E. Deats, C. P. Krauth and C. E. Severn.

A heated debate took place over the official organ election for the following year. MEKEEL'S WEEKLY STAMP NEWS, The Metropolitan Philatelist and the Weekly Philatelic Era were the candidates. The Era was finally chosen.

The third day's session was called to order on Thursday, a little after noon, on the lower deck of the steamer "Wm. Fletcher" enroute to Staten Island as guests of the Staten Island Philatelic Society, the steamer being chartered exclusively for the A. P. A. convention attendants. The only business done at this session was the election of the next convention seat. Detroit was selected by a large majority or nearly 200 votes over Niagara Falls, Milwaukee and Clayton.

It was voted that certain specified remarks be expunged from the records. It was voted that the secretary be authorized to obtain suitable membership cards and issue same to the members. It was voted that a geographical list of members be published in the year book.

The following is the result of the election: President, F. F. Olney, R. I.; V. Pres., W. C. Vanderlip, Geo. L. Toppan and E. M. Carpenter, Mass.; Sec., W. N. Howe, Me.; Int. Sec., C. P. Krauth, Pa.; Treas., H. G. Smith, Minn.; Directors at Large, H. B. Phillips, Calif., and P. F. Bruner, N. Y. This Board of Directors appointed the same appointive officers that served for 1897. On motion of W. C. Stone the convention adjourned.

CHRONICLE OF NEW ISSUES.

Edited by HENRY A. KIDDER.

Any information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged. Address HENRY A. KIDDER, 17 Addison Street, Arlington, Mass.

UNITED STATES.—N. Cobe informs us that he has seen plate Nos. 5393 and 5395 in the Hudson-Fulton perforated stamps. Mr. Cobe also calls our attention to the fact that the special delivery stamps now being issued to the post offices is in a much deeper shade of ultramarine than was the case before the advent of the green "Merry Widow" stamps.

AUSTRALIA.—Gibbons' Weekly chronicles two values of the new postage due stamps. As announced in No. 972, the plates of the Victorian postage dues have been issued, with the name changed to "Australia." This rather seems to discredit the statement that the names of each State was to be inserted, though it may be the purpose of the authorities to continue the practice of printing dues for the Commonwealth, and also for each of the States.

COOK ISLANDS.—The Postage Stamp reports having seen the current 1d stamp in carmine instead of rose pink. It is still printed on NZ and star paper.

JAPAN.—Gibbons' Weekly notes that the current 4 sen stamp has appeared in a new shade.

Adhesive.

4s pink.
NEW CALEDONIA.—Gibbons' Weekly reports having seen the 1c of the surcharged Jubilee issue of 1903, with the surcharge inverted.

NIUE.—The Australian Philatelist gives some interesting information regarding the errors in the current 1/2d and 1d stamps, viz:—"Mr. F. Barton has brought under our notice several errors on the current 1d stamp. His observations have shown that on a sheet of 240 stamps there are 16 spaced u and e, 20 without stop after PENI, and four with both errors on the same stamp. He speaks also of a broken e which appears to be a letter f, and a mangled t in TAHA which looks like an inverted L. On the 1/2d value the same gentleman has observed that the spaced u and e also occurs 16 times on the sheet, proving that the same setting of overprint NIUE has been used for both the 1/2d and 1d values."

SIAM.—The Illinois Stamp Co. also kindly sends us information regarding the surcharging of the current stamps with satang values. Mr. Bloss gives the 1 att stamp, surcharged 2 satang as green and yellow, instead of green and carmine, as printed in No. 979.

STRAITS SETTLEMENTS.—The 25c has now appeared in the new color, this value corresponding to the 6d stamp of other colonies.

Adhesive.

25c lilac.
TRANSVAAL.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us the 2sh 6d black and violet on ordinary multiple paper.

VICTORIA.—The Australian Philatelist reports that the current 1/2d stamp has been issued in a deeper shade of green. The 1d stamp is also appearing in a new shade, being now rose carmine.

ZAMBESIA.—There are two types of the 50r on 65r of 1905, according to Gibbons' Weekly, the difference being in the height of the figure "5." In the first type, the "3" is the same size as the "0," but in the second type, the "3" is taller, and shows below the line on which the "0" stands. Curiously enough this variety appears to occur in Zambesia only, and not, as might be expected, also in other colonies.

Total membership Oct. 16, 1909, 1797

There are two vital questions now before us, viz.: Are your dues paid, and are you going to get new members this year?

Please send in your dues at once, $1.20 per year in the U. S., $1.80 a year for foreign countries. When you pay your dues you receive free a copy of our first hand book, "The Three Cent Stamp of 1851," by Carroll Chase, M. D. This book is worthy of the society and should be in every philatelic library. Its yours if you will only pay your dues. There are always a few members who neglect this or forget it and this is intended especially for them. This year will be a hard year for new officials and we earnestly request every member that has not paid to do so at once without further urging and dragging at every opportunity. You can help out if you will only do your part. Send it in today and help get this work out of the way so that it will not clog future possibilities. You will eventually pay them. Why not now? The first issue of the Quarterly will be out shortly and unless your dues are paid do not expect it.

When you can in any way be of assistance to officials whose work in the main is a labor of love, it behooves you to do your mite and in this case it is to get your dues in at once and not string them out over a long period. This will be of the utmost help to over-worked officials.

Have you decided that you are going to take part in the pull to reach 2000 members by convention time next year? We want every one of you to get as many good live members as you can and thereby help in the good work that will inevitably follow this increase in membership. Surely every member knows some ones that are not members but should be. Just take them to one side and tell them confidentially what the society is doing for philately in America and for individuals in particular. Tell them of the Quarterly and the Hand Books, these alone should insure your success.

COLUMBUS BRANCH No. 21.

On September 29th, the second special meeting of the Columbus Collectors' Club was held at Marion, Ohio, a party of Columbus members, consisting of Messrs. Mason, Maetzel, Field, Linn, Savage, Adair, Feuchtinger and Smith, being royally entertained by Messrs. W. H. and C. D. Schaffner, W. G. Windhurst, R. R. Wright and F. D. Fogelson. Mr. Crowell of the Garfield-Perry Stamp Club, Cleveland, O., and Mr. Bondley of Marion were also present.

The Columbus party arrived at Marion about 5.00 p. m. Automobiles were in waiting at the station and, after a most enjoyable ride around the city, dinner was served at the Hotel Kumfort. After dinner Mr. W. H. Schaffner took the party through the Marion County Bank of which he is president. Meeting was then called to order in the directors' room at the bank. After a musical program, the stamp collections of several of the Marion collectors were shown. Mr. R. R. Wright showed a fine collection of British Colonials and Mr. W. H. Schaffner showed his general collection. The secretary cannot attempt the description of this collection. It was great and the opportunity of examining it was thoroughly appreciated. The only trouble was that an evening was not long enough for more than a cursory examination of the collection.

After a hearty vote of thanks to the Marion members for their hospitality, meeting adjourned about 11.30. The party then returned to the hotel, but the secretary's duties end here. The rest of the evening's entertainment was strictly unofficial, though none the less enjoyable. The return trip to Columbus was made Thursday morning.

GEO. K. SMITH, JR., Sec.

The 67th regular meeting was held October 5th at the rooms of the club. Twelve members were present and Mr. T. D. Broucher of Columbus and Mr. Eben S. Martin of Evergreen, Ala., were present as visitors. Minutes of 66th meeting and of special meeting were read and approved. Mr. T. D. Broucher was proposed for active membership and his name ordered posted. Mr. Duffy presented the library with a copy of Zumstein's Handbook on Swiss stamps.

Mr. Opha Moore presented a plan for the exchange of stamps and after a thorough discussion, same was unanimously endorsed by the club. Mr. Eben S. Martin then addressed the club, displaying during the course of his remarks a number of Confederate covers of which several were extremely rare and all had considerable historical interest. Mr. Martin then inaugurated a very novel contest. He stated he had with him a copy of what he considered the scarcest of United States stamps listing $1 or less, this being the only copy which he had secured during the past year or so. The stamp was to go to the person guessing what it was. The stamp turned out to be the one cent Post Office Dept. on gray surfaced paper. Mr. Martin still has it.

The contest for the evening was then held. Slips of paper on which were printed cuts showing the differences between National and Continental plates were passed around and the members were required to indicate the secret mark and give the denomination of the stamp and the date of issue. Mr. Linn was first with a perfect score and Messrs. Maetzel, Parker and Fritter tied for second with one mistake each. Four valuable prizes which Mr. Martin had kindly donated for the occasion were awarded. Mr. Linn gave a very valuable and entertaining talk on the various methods of printing, illustrating same with examples of the different kinds of printing, cuts, plates and type.

Mr. Eben S. Martin was tendered a hearty vote of thanks for his generosity in the matter of prizes and for his instructive talk and display. The president expressed, on behalf of the club, the great pleasure his presence afforded the members to which Mr. Martin responded briefly. Meeting then adjourned. Next meeting October 19th. Display of United States Proofs by Mr. Duffy and Prize Contest.

Meetings first (informal) and third (regular) Tuesdays at Club Room 506 Kast Bdg., 7.30 P. M.

BOSTON, MASS., Oct. 16, 1909.

The 212th (regular) meeting of the society will be held at the club room on Tuesday evening, Oct. 19th, at 7.30 o'clock.

The entertainment will consist of two parts, first a competitive exhibition in two classes, one of the colony of Victoria and the other of twenty or more stamps of any country not a British colony. This will give many of those who have grown a little weary of British Colonials an opportunity to display some of the less popular but assuredly none the less interesting stamps of other countries. This ought to bring out many entries and prove a most instructive exhibit. Don't forget it!

The second part of the entertainment will be a "Discussion"—presumably philatelic, but the subject will be announced by the Entertainment Committee. The proposed amendment to the statutes raising the commission of the Sales Supt. from 5% to 8% will be acted upon at this meeting.

The following names have been proposed for membership and will come up for action:

WM. M. KENNEDY, Boston.

PEDRO ARANJO, Manaus, Brazil.

Don't forget those dollar subscriptions to the Library Fund, or some stamps to be sold for its benefit. Mr. Rothfuchs has just contributed some stamps which will prove attractive when the sale comes off.

RHODE ISLAND PHILATELIC SOCIETY.

Organized Feb. 2, 1885.

W. A. MOWRY, Pres.; B. A. WEBBER, Vice Pres.; R. F. CHAMBERS, Sec., 89 Courtland St.; W. IRVING COX, Treas.; JEROME FLEISCHER, Exch. Mgr.; F. M. MASON, Lib.; GEO. C. ARNOLD, Chairman Auction Com.

Meetings held every third Wednesday at Arnold Hall, 124 Washington St., at 8 P. M. Address all communications to the Secretary.

The 201st regular monthly meeting of the society will be held in the club room, 124 Washington St., on Wednesday, Oct. 20th, at 8.00 P. M. This is the first meeting of the year and we want a goodly number there to discuss the society's plans for the coming year. The new catalogues will be there, so come and get one. An auction sale will be held after the meeting.

R. F. CHAMBERS, Sec.

NEW YORK STAMP SOCIETY.

Business meetings 1st Thursdays, exchange meetings 3rd Thursdays, each month, at Victoria Hall, 641 Lexington Av., 8 P. M. Initiation fee $1. Dues $1 half yearly. Visitors welcome. All communications are to be addressed to the Secretary.

FRANK J. WILFORD, Pres.; EMIL R. PENSCHOW, Vice Pres.; HENRY J. DICKE, Sec., 536 E. 89 St., N. Y. City; BALDWIN SCHLESINGER, Treas.; VAHAN MOZIAN, Lib.; DR. H. B. F. HEATH, Auction Mgr.; S. SINGER, Cft. Expert; DR. H. B. F. HEATH, CHAS. LEHMAN, PROF. LOEWY, GUST. SCHROEDER and THEO. STEINWAY, Trustees.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7, 1909.

The meeting was called to order at 8.30 p. m. with 21 members present and President Wilford in the chair. New members: A. Chester Beatty, 71 Broadway; Chas. W. Le More, 74 West Tremont Ave. Quite a number of officers were absent, a state of affairs which is at all times detrimental to the society, and it is hoped that a full staff will be strongly in evidence at the next meeting. The minutes of the previous meeting were approved as read and it might be suggested that all members

New Price List

Our new 84-page price list of all countries which have no colonies, pricing over 8000 varieties of stamps, 200 different packets and 1000 sets is now ready for distribution and will be sent on receipt of 2c for postage. No collector can afford to be without this price list. The prices have been greatly reduced and many stamps are priced at from 50 to 75% below the standard catalog prices.

Our 32-page price list of United States and Colonies pricing over 2500 stamps and 56 pages of Great Britain and Colonies pricing over 6000 stamps both of which lists were issued a few months ago can still be had on receipt of 2c for postage.

We have a small supply of the following which we offer for a short time.

send in their dues as promptly as possible. The committee on amalgamation submitted its report and was dismissed with thanks. Full particulars of this report have been incorporated in the minutes. Several communications were read and will be acted upon as occasion demands. Messrs. Schlesinger and Lemore regret their inability to attend.

The event of the evening was the bestowing upon the secretary the very unusual honor of presenting him with a magnificent silver set, consisting of cup, spoon and fork, for his two-months old baby-boy. The very insignificant services rendered by the secretary were entirely over-estimated and absolutely nothing beyond his duty, and most assuredly did not warrant such an enthusiastic demonstration. He therefore expresses his most sincere thanks and to show his appreciation will exhibit the tokens at the coming meeting. A committee having been appointed to revise the constitution and by-laws, ideas and suggestions, to make their work flawless, will be entertained at the next meeting. Remember that we have a competitive exhibition of Cayman Islands at the next meeting Oct. 21.

As soon as your name has been published as
an applicant you will probably have unsolicited selections of stamps sent you on approval. As a great many collectors object to this practice the Society desires to break the practice up. Please aid us and help protect yourself and others against further imposition,
by holding such selections without purchasing
any, until sufficient funds have been sent by
the dealer to return it to him by registered mail. Also please report the name of such dealer to the Secretary of the Society.

be as much sought as the United States private proprietary stamps are today, and which a few years ago were hardly considered worthy of preservation.

Personally I am pleased to note the formation of this branch and predict a bright future for it. Another interesting thing to note is that the society still stands as an exponent of revenues alone. The proposition to include other stamps not being favorably received by members. As the society now stands it possesses a distinctive feature which should preserve it from downfall, and the firm hold it has among revenue stamp collectors assures its standing as a permanent landmark.

The report of revenue literature brought out during the past year by the proper officer of the society is worth careful perusal.

State Revenues.—These stamps seem to be coming to the front of late and I have had numerous inquiries concerning them during the past few weeks. New York state tax stamps, being the latest are of course much in vogue, but the comparatively easy completion of the normal varieties of this state, soon lends a deteriorating influence to the collector unless he broadens out.

Ranking next in beauty among this class of stamps, as well as being quite possible to complete, come those of the state of Nevada. There are numerous shade varieties that it is hardly necessary to collect, as well as varieties of roulette. The different values, 10 all told, come in three distinct classes, so far as method of separation is concerned: First, imperf., second, long roulette, gauge 10, and third, short roulette, gauge 16. There are also varieties of compound roulette, but part roulette varieties I have never heard of. The ordinary collector seeks one each of the imperf. and rouletted varieties; the latter without regard to gauge. The stamps are worth recognition in my collection.

The California revenues form the greatest field, both as to varieties issued, multiplicity of surcharges; die cut, imperf., perforate and rouletted varieties, as well as classification under various heads for statistical purposes. Varieties of paper both as to color, weight, texture and manufacture exist which are much sought by some. Many of these stamps are extremely rare and difficult to procure, especially the large circular stamps. To the deep student I know of no field more commendable along the line of research, study and fascinating influences.

The adhesive stamps of Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Virginia, Iowa and Missouri, while touching on a number of different causes for emission, and diverse reasons for usage, are limited to fewer numbers, although many are extremely interesting and no collection of state revenues is complete without being represented by specimens of them.

A very unique line of state revenues or rather inspection stamps, are the tags bearing the impression of the state inspection bureaus covering the inspection of food stuffs, fertilizer, horticultural and other products. The unfavorable feature of this class of stamps being their ungainly size and form. These, and diverse other side lines are well worth a "touch and go" acquaintance of any collector as they broaden the mind of the collector, create many pleasant hours of study and are procurable without any lavish outlay.

W. S. BARKER, B. P. S. 194.

We take pleasure in presenting a half-tone of an old-time collector, one who has collected and studied stamps from boy-hood solely for love of stamps and the pleasure he derived from them.

Mr. Barker has recently entered the employ of the New England Stamp Co. and we congratulate the firm on securing the services of so experienced a philatelist.

Mr. Barker will devote his whole time and energy to acquainting the collectors of this country as well as abroad with the contents and merits of the largest stock of stamps in the United States. He is satisfied that the stock of this company contains many good things that need only to be properly exploited, when they will be immediately secured by our readers.

Our friend is a member of the Boston Philatelic Society, having joined that organization in October, 1896. Mr. Barker is a general collector, though with a special liking for Brazil and stamps on the original covers.

AMONG OUR ADVERTISERS.

The advent to our advertising columns of Harmer, Rooke & Co., a prominent London auction firm, will be noted. This firm comes to us with a creditable record in the auction field. One of its specialties being wholesale auction sales held every month. Many large dealers' stocks have passed through their hands, exceptionally good prices being realized. Last season Harmer, Rooke & Co. sold 20,276 lots, "a larger number than any other auctioneer has sold in a single season." We welcome this firm to our columns.

weeks ago:—"I am having tremendous returns from my 'imperforate' advertisement of last week, which I think shows that collectors appreciate reasonable prices for these stamps." Mr. Hyde informs us that word from the P. O. at Washington conveys this information:—"The supply of Lincoln imperforates is exhausted." This is an interesting item of news.

R. Stollenwerk has issued a price list of his popular packets and mixtures, a copy of the same being acknowledged with thanks.

NEXT WEEK—CHICAGO SPECIAL.

We expect our issue of Oct. 30 will prove a grand exploiter of Chicago philately. Should it be a trifle late, bear in mind that it will be a larger number than usual.

In this connection advertisers must bear in mind that copy must be received each week on Saturday. Keep a carbon copy for consultation in preparing copy for the following week.

Look up the whole number on page one and compare it with the whole number on your label. If you are in arrears and do not receive the Chicago special you will understand that there can be no effect without a cause.

Another fine issue last week—the old friends back again and new friends made each week. No stamp paper in the world like MEKEEL'S and all due to our subscription list of nearly 7,000 stamp collectors.

Note our across-the-ocean advertisers last week, a great showing:

EDITORIAL.

Old But New.—Last July, a welcome correspondent, W. G. Wright of San Bernardino, California, wrote: "In a paper on war-time stamps, published in 1890, I read this: 'The Treasury Department being pressed for change manufactured and introduced a new issue. All the denominations were of uniform size. A piece of paper with one stamp pasted on it was five cents; one with two stamps, ten cents; five stamps, twenty-five cents; and ten stamps, fifty cents. In this way, at little cost for labor, a considerable amount of small change was manufactured. This currency became so popular that, instead of using stamps, plates were engraved for each denomination, in imitation of the manufactured notes, and were called postage currency. These stamps pasted on slips of paper, were then a precursor of the 'encased stamps,' were they not? and what has become of them?" In answer to Mr. Wright, it was said that we had never heard of this kind of provisional money and that we could find no record officially or otherwise of any authorization of the issue. Mr. Wright then said that his information was obtained from an article in Harper's New Monthly Magazine, dated October, 1890, by L. E. Chittenden, entitled "New Moneys of Lincoln's Administration. Their Origin, Growth and Value." In due time, we secured a copy of the magazine named for October, 1890, and find confirmation of Mr. Wright's quotation, as well as other interesting data from the pen of Mr. Chittenden, who was associated with the treasury department during Lincoln's tenure of office. Mr. Chittenden immediately follows the paragraph quoted by saying: "They were afterwards authorized by the Act of July 17, 1862, which directed the Secretary to furnish to the Assistant Treasurers 'The postage and other stamps of the United States to be exchanged by them on application for United States notes.'" From this, it is evident that the act of congress legalized the use of the engraved postage currency which had supplanted the stamps pasted on specially prepared slips of paper but took no cognizance of the first or emergency issue; the stamped slips of paper were included under the head of stamps and were not recognized by a separate classification.

Must Be So.—It is somewhat curious that allusion often has not been made to the stamps pasted on slips of paper, of which the engraved postage currency were but elaborated copies or that the slips themselves had not been seen. When the small change disappeared as if by magic soon after the outbreak of hostilities, unused postage stamps were at once resorted to as a monetary medium and contemporaneous literature, newspaper and periodical, attest amply to that fact. Heretofore, we were under the impression that the stamps were handed from person to person, either in unprotected or in encased form. However, there is no reason to question the accuracy of Mr. Chittenden's recollection; certainly, he should be informed on the subject by virtue of the honorable position that he held. As the stamps on the slips were pasted down and perhaps overlapping each other, they became almost worthless for any postal duty, and so any tendency to use the stamps occasionally for postal service was defeated. No doubt, holders of these slips with a unanimity born of a desire to avoid financial loss, were careful to redeem the pasted stamps on slips of paper which were of so perishable a nature and so ill-suited to stand the wear and tear of exchange. When the stamps were presented in sums of not less than five dollars they could be redeemed for United States notes.

Pentflip's Criticism.—B. L. T., as he signs himself, who through his work in the Chicago Tribune and elsewhere has gained a national reputation as master of a facile and facetious pen, has forfeited our good opinion; aye, we renounce him so that we may denounce him. Of our beautiful Hudson-Fulton stamp, he says: "The stamp is the penultimate of the inartistic limit. Who does these awful things?" Not having the heart to reprimand our idol now so sadly shattered, we delegated the task to Parnassus Pentflip, so well esteemed by our readers, who grills B. L. T. as only a Pentflip, can. He says: "Bert Leston Taylor has the artistic ideals of a Tierra del Fuego. A grand conception symbolizing history and art stuns his small soul, so that it cannot respond to the pulsings of the beautiful. Evidently, he has a load on his chest. The laugh is on him among us cognoscenti." We need only add that in his days of budding fame, Parnassus Pentflip was art critic on the Cady (Arkansas) Comet. (Double extra! Just as we go to press it is proved to our satisfaction that it was the Seattle and not the Hudson-Fulton stamp, upon which Mr. Taylor, who is rapidly recovering his brilliancy in our opinion, commented. Hence, we dilute, discount and disclaim the foregoing remarks to the extent of about 95%.)

* * *

Becoming Flat.—The newspapers are beginning to look askant at the special issues and to take flings at them openly. The sole reason for this unflattering interest in the stamps is not based on any philatelic considerations but it is because the commemorative stamps are becoming tiresome even to the public. There must be some significance in the development noticed in papers that have

CHAS. E. LEWIS, Osterville, Mass.

Just finished paying tribute to the striking appearance and impressive suggestions of the stamp. Collectors find no novelty in the stamps; beyond a momentary flash of interest in the stamps, they are regarded merely as ordinary issues. For the recruiting possibilities possessed by special issues of stamps, some collectors heartily welcome them but the average philatelist nowadays does not care whether they come or not.

* * *

Sounds Well.—The delegates to the Manchester, England, Philatelic Congress who were appointed to petition the Universal Postal Union to forbid the issue of commemorative and unnecessary stamps do not seek to condone or ignore the conduct of some of the dependencies of Great Britain. In the address to the director of the international postal compact, it is said: "We regret that some of our own colonies are serious offenders in this respect, and the attention of our Colonial Secretary has already been drawn to this matter." The petition is a well-worded document and it presents its argument in a so sensible a style that it should make an impression. At least, it will not excite resentment, we should say, on the part of those officers of the postal union who if approached tactlessly might deem the instrument a meddlesome attempt by theorists.

The J. W. Scott Co., Ltd., 36 John St., New York.THE CURRENT 2c CARMINE ENVELOPE.

By V. M. BERTHOLD.

There have been so many inquiries received concerning the two cent carmine envelope of the present issue that it was deemed advisable to briefly compile all available information for the benefit of the large number of collectors who are interested in this subject.

Of this envelope there are four recognized dies, designated by collectors as Die A, Die A2, Die B and Die C. All of these dies correspond to the descriptions published in MEKEEL'S WEEKLY last season, but as the new collectors may not have a copy the description is here briefly repeated.

Die A—Oval O in "TWO".
 Die A2—Same lettering as in Die A but head of Washington differs. There are two distinct bunches of hair clearly divided at top, each containing several rows of locks curving upwards at right. Stamp is generally clearly embossed.

Die B—Round O in "TWO", round "C" of "CENTS", also "E" of "CENTS" slightly higher than "C".

Die C—Round "O" in "TWO" but lettering thin. Head differs from any of the three dies mentioned; i. e., there are five scallops distinctly visible over the ear, and side lock curves decidedly to the right.

Die A2 is scarce in the brown red while it is quite common in carmine.

Die B, 2c carmine appears to have been little used.

It should be noted at once that in this issue the post office is using paper watermarked in various ways, i. e.

1—1907 or watermark '07 A.
 2—1907 or watermark '07 B—This is distinguished from var. A by the figure 9 in the date. The tail slants from right to left and stops under the figure 1. Were the latter extended downward it would touch the bottom of the 9.
 3—1903 or watermark '03.

Die A—2c carmine is now known on all sizes and papers and wrapper watermarked '07 A.

Watermark '07 B is found only on white, sizes 5 and 13.

Die A—Watermark '03 has been seen on white, sizes 2, 4, 5, 7, 8, 13 and 14.

Die A2 is known watermarked '07 A:
 White, sizes 1, 2, 4, 5, 8, 10, 11, 13, 14.
 Amber, sizes 5, 8, 13.
 Blue, sizes 5, 14.

SPECIAL.

We have prepared a few sets of Filled Approval Books which are of the greatest value to all first class dealers. The books are highly attractive and contain about 160 stamps each. There are from 10 to 15 books in a lot ranging in value from $5.00 to $25.00 for a single book, and they comprise a large variety.

The Lot Catalogs Over $100.00.Price $21.00.

No book contains duplicates. Not over 5 stamps alike in a lot. All stamps priced according to 1909 catalogue. Let us hear from you.

GUARANTEE

We positively guarantee the lots to be as described. That is to say, if errors of pricing are found such stamps may be returned and we will rectify any mistake or discrepancies.

All collectors of envelopes are requested to compare their own lists with the above and communicate with the writer, who may be addressed in care of the J. M. Bartels Co., calling attention to omissions or new discoveries of any kind. The information is needed to insure the greatest possible accuracy and completeness to the new catalogue which is now well in hand.

NEWS GLEANINGS.

—A. W. Whitten, Chicago, Ill., sending us word concerning unsatisfactory dealing with Miss Parsons, former postmistress at the Cayman Islands, encloses a clipping from the Chicago Tribune picturing the designs of the new Swedish stamps.

—Miss Amy L. Swift informs us that L. Schor is again advertising in the Stamp Collectors Fortnightly under the name of "L. Shore". Collectors beware.

—A correspondent sends us a letter from the Third Asst. Postmaster General from which we quote. "Postmasters are not required to supply less than a full sheet of imperforate stamps, because of the lack of facilities for separating them. For the convenience of purchasers, however, the postmaster at Wash., D. C. has made arrangements to supply less than full sheets. You can obtain any quantity of imperforate Hudson-Fulton stamps desired by sending their value in a registered letter or postal M. O. to the postmaster at Washington."

The Paul Collection.

With a single exception (the Ayer Collection, also bought by the New England), the largest purchase ever made in the American Stamp World, and one of the largest ever made anywhere.

In competition with some of the largest dealers in America and Europe, we were the highest bidders. Inside of five days we paid Spot CASH and took possession. It will be several months before everything will be in shape but in the meantime we would be glad to receive want lists and will give them our careful attention.

OUR BOOK REVIEW.

We have received from the publishers, M. Arthur Maury of Paris, a copy of the 24th edition of their catalogue of postal cards, letter cards and telegraph cards. To one who is interested in these forms of postal stationery, it seems a little unfortunate that no American or English catalog now devotes any space to them. The continental firms, however, may still be depended upon to supply the wants of the not inconsiderable number of collectors of so-called postal stationery. It is well that it is so, for the day will surely come when some of the fads and fancies of the present will seek oblivion, when the simple life in stamp collecting will be the pattern for the amateur, and the cut-square envelope and the postal card will have their place in the collection as the most exclusively postal stamps issued.

The work before us is of about the size of the old "Scott" catalogs of the years before the "pocket size" was adopted. It has 224 pages and is profusely illustrated, but a casual glance through seems to show many prices lacking, particularly of cards which we should imagine might be common or which are current. Relatively few cards are priced used, also. We may not be wholly competent to judge of this, for we are not a regular collector of postal cards, but we confess a liking for them, and a certain drawer in our desk might be forced to yield a quite respectable collection if necessary, which have been picked up in a more or less haphazard manner.

We have enjoyed examining the catalog and shall probably keep an eye open for more cards for that drawer. The illustrations and lists are plain enough, so that no collector need find difficulty in using the catalog, even if unacquainted with French. The price is 30c from Arthur Maury, 6 Boulevard Montmartre, Paris.

MEMBERSHIP SUMMARY.

Total membership Oct. 16, 1909,	1797
New Stockholders,	4
Total,	1801
Resignation accepted,	1
Total membership Oct. 23,	1800

There are two vital questions now before us, viz.: Are your dues paid, and are you going to get new members this year?

Please send in your dues at once, $1.20 per year in the U. S., $1.80 a year for foreign countries. When you pay your dues you receive free a copy of our first hand book, "The Three Cent Stamp of 1851," by Carroll Chase, M. D. This book is worthy of the society and should be in every philatelic library. Its yours if you will only pay your dues. There are always a few members who neglect this or forget it and this is intended especially for them. This year will be a hard year for new officials and we earnestly request every member that has not paid to do so at once without further urging and dragging at every opportunity. You can help out if you will only do your part. Send it in today and help get this work out of the way so that it will not clog future possibilities. You will eventually pay them. Why not now? The first issue of the Quarterly will be out shortly and unless your dues are paid do not expect it.

When you can in any way be of assistance to officials whose work in the main is a labor of love, it behooves you to do your mite and in this case it is to get your dues in at once and not string them out over a long period. This will be of the utmost help to over-worked officials.

Have you decided that you are going to take part in the pull to reach 2000 members by convention time next year? We want every one of you to get as many good live members as you can and thereby help in the good work that will inevitably follow this increase in membership. Surely every member knows some ones that are not members but should be. Just take them to one side and tell them confidentially what the society is doing for philately in America and for individuals in particular. Tell them of the Quarterly and the Hand Books, these alone should insure your success.

APPLICATIONS RECEIVED.

As soon as your name has been published as
an applicant you will probably have unsolicited selections of stamps sent you on approval. As a great many collectors object to this practice the Society desires to break the practice up. Please aid us and help protect yourself and others against further imposition,
by holding such selections without purchasing
any, until sufficient funds have been sent by
the dealer to return it to him by registered mail. Also please report the name of such dealer to the Secretary of the Society.Horta e Costa, Jose de S., Nova Goa,

GOOD STAMPS AT LOW PRICES!

LOOK THIS LIST THROUGH CAREFULLY.

While I can supply several copies of many of the stamps offered, in some cases I have only one so an early order is advisable. Stamps specially noted are carefully described in the usual auction terms.
When no description is given good copies to be expected.
Stamps will be sent on receipt of price and money promptly returned if unsatisfactory or stamps are sold. A small supplementary order will be appreciated. Registration extra on order under $3.00.
Remit by M. O. * Unused. Orders prepaid with Alaska or Hudson imperforates.

WATCH HIM SHINE.

The rise of Caspar Staub of the United Stamp Company furnishes romantic material for a story of commercial philately. It may be said that at a single bound, Mr. Staub gained a position of eminence in the realm of stamps and his leap from comparative obscurity to fame is a story worth the telling.

Mr. Staub, a young man, who had long been identified with stamps as a collector and as a dealer in a modest way, was on intimate terms with F. N. Massoth, deceased. When Mr. Massoth found that his health was failing, he wanted to sell his business which he had developed into one of the largest of its kind but as any transaction involving the transfer of ownership of the company was one of magnitude, possible purchasers had to meet requirements on a corresponding scale. Mr. Massoth suggested that Mr. Staub buy his business and possibly, somewhat to Mr. Massoth's surprise, Mr. Staub said that he would take the matter under consideration; and a short time thereafter, he bought the United Stamp Company paying cash for it. Every single stamp of the huge stock, every item in the office became the property of the buyer. The deal was a large one and it took courage awoke one morning to find himself promoted from the ranks of the privates to a captaincy in the stamp trade? He is a young man who served his apprenticeship in a philatelic sense; and his rapid advance was due to a natural aptitude for business and the fact that he could influence capital. No ordinary person could cope with the conditions that Mr. Staub so thoroughly turned to his advantage; and not everyone has the executive force to propel a proposition of large volume successfully. Yet all this is of the past; and we shall now tell of the present. Mr. Staub as managing director is conducting the business of the United Stamp Company on approved and modern lines. He keeps up the immense stock of the company; he continues the standard line of auction sales that has long been a leading feature of the company and he gives personal attention to all the business. He embraces every opportunity to enlarge his stock; and it is known that he has made several important purchases of dealers' stocks since his accession to his present position.

We predict that Mr. Staub will not be content with the success that he has already achieved; his ambition will carry him upward until he reaches the desired position in the most select circle of the "truly greats" in philatelic finance.

PHILATELIC CHICAGO.

FROM A SOCIETY POINT OF VIEW.

By H. N. MUDGE.

Philatelic interest and effort in Chicago is a matter of record for more than twenty-three years. More than that number of years because the Chicago Philatelic Society was organized Oct. 8th, 1886, and thus furnishes a tangible basis from which to reckon, and undoubtedly the formation of that society was the culmination of a previous interest, the length of which it would be hard to determine.

While the intensity of this interest and effort has naturally fluctuated from time to time, it is probably safe to assert that at no time in the long period mentioned has it laid actually dormant, and that its average activity has been decidedly pronounced. At the present time Chicago philatelists are riding a high wave of stamp enthusiasm, as evidenced by the attendance at the meetings of their two societies and interest shown in matters pertaining to the object for which the societies were formed. The impetus of this wave of interest is greatly augmented by a condition that is always to be desired above all things. This condition is that capable men have been developing during the past few years who are now largely carrying the executive responsibilities of the societies while the burden bearers of many years' standing are still maintaining their interest.

Civic pride and other conditions has always caused the Chicago Philatelic Society to be larger and more active in stamp affairs particularly effecting the city than Chicago Branch, No. 1, of the American Philatelic Society. Yet, at one time in the history of the two societies they were one and the same. That is, "C. P. S." was also "Branch No. 1," but for many years past the philatelic interest in Chicago has been sufficient to support them both in a flourishing condition, entirely independent of each other.

But even these two societies do not represent all the recorded devotees of philately that must be credited to Chicago. The last year book, 1908, of A. P. S. shows that Chicago has a greater number of members in the national society than is credited to any other city except New York; a condition that has prevailed for a number of years. In fact, this membership is about the same as the "active" (Cook County) membership of the local society; yet, only a little over a quarter of the A. P. S. Chicago members are members of "the Branch," and, outside the Branch membership, but few of them are members of the C. P. S. This shows the interesting fact that probably a wide range of philatelic temperament is represented in the Chicago membership of the American Philatelic society.

But what is more to the purpose is the fortunate fact that among this membership is a goodly number of willing workers in the society's interest. In various ways and to a greater or less degree, their number is very considerable. To specifically enumerate them is not practical in this connection. But as an illustration, it may be briefly noted that they include a charter member whose interest in A. P. S. has not waned in the past twenty odd years, and who is today doing active work in its behalf; another member of many years' standing whose yeoman service of the past has been essayed again in order that Chicago shall be on record as doing its share in the present "onward movement" of America's great society; and another whose comparatively recent activity has already been productive of important legislation to the society's advantage.

But Chicago's interest in the American Philatelic Society has never been confined to any one small coterie, for a goodly number of earnest well wishers have at all times been a strong supporting force behind those whom the accident of circumstance have brought more prominently into the foreground through attendance at conventions, assignment to committees or selection for office. And the flame of steady loyalty has been kept bright to a very large degree by Chicago Branch, No. 1. As its charter number indicates, it is the oldest Branch of the parent society, and it is doubtful if it has failed many times in all the long years of its history, to send a delegation to the annual conventions—and generally one of considerable relative size.

While from time to time the Branch is on the up grade at last. There are many scarce shades of this first U. S. commemorative set. Here they are. Those marked * can be supplied in blocks.

We are holding auction sales at an average of two each month. We are always having some very nice properties to handle and are complimented on the good average results we realize. We are at present preparing a fine specialized collection of U. S. Postage, Revenues and Entire Envelopes. If you are interested in either buying or selling we are the people to consult. Our policy is to please both buyer and seller. We can frankly say that this department is steadily increasing and this year's results show again as much business in both respects. Why? Because!

"WE AIM TO PLEASE."

UNITED STAMP COMPANY, 1151 Marquette Bldg., CHICAGO, ILLS.

has been politically active in the affairs of A. P. S. and its influence has been felt in such connection, it was not formed for such purpose, neither has it been or is it now maintained as such. Its regular monthly meetings, sustained regularly for years, will testify to this fact; as will also the further fact that these meetings have been productive of much philatelic profit and good fellowship to its members, as well as influencing for good the aims and purpose of the parent society.

As a whole, in a steady, quiet way Chicago has long marched in the ranks of the vast army of philatelists shoulder to shoulder with comrades of other stamp centers throughout the country. It is answering the roll call today with ranks well filled and its veterans and recruits eager in the present campaign of activity.

As for the army's "American Philatelic Society Corps", the following can be said in all modesty as to Chicago's place in its ranks. Chicago was potent in the formation of the corps, its battalion has without interruption been loyal to its standard, and can be depended upon to keep its place in line during the future onward march of the corps to attain greater philatelic heights and usefulness.

"STRIKE UP THE BAND."
Edward Michael, no longer sails the briny deep in the uniform of Uncle Sam; instead, he devotes his time to the study of ultramarines and sea-greens in the only stamp shop on the ground floor in Chicago. When Fred Michael, so well known in Chicago, realized his ambition to become the proprietor of a stamp and coin store in down-town Chicago, he was confronted by a vexing problem. Whom could he get to run the shop for him? "Ah!" said he, "my good brother Edward is the very one." This same Edward had just finished his term of enlistment in the United States Navy. For four years he had been connected with the cruiser squadron, Pacific fleet, as hospital steward, and had sailed the sea between Alaska and Hawaii. The photograph which we reproduce in this issue was taken in Alaska while in the service; he does not wear this uniform while attending to the wants of stamp customers.

There are many Michaels but only one Edward and it was no easy task to induce him to give up the sea for stamps. It was necessary to give a share in the business, and eke, we surmise, a princely salary, in order to land him. The "brother" of Fred Michael & Bro. lived in a stamp atmosphere for so many years that he found himself rapidly mastering all the details of the stamp business; and now, he has become fully seasoned. He fits into his position as if it were made for him. He is courteous, cheerful and capable; and the verdict is that he is a very pleasant person with whom to do business. He is making his mark; perhaps, in view of his nautical training, we should say watermark, in commercial philately. Already, he has friends by the score among the stamp buyers; they find that he is agreeable and accomodating. Sometimes, the money follows the smile.

Visitors to Chicago are welcome; and sailors, fresh-water and salt, are received with open arms.

—Wm. G. Fitzcharles, secretary of the Trenton Philatelic Society, sends us a society post card that bears upon its face a picture of the society seal. It shows enterprise. Mr. Fitzcharles writes "Watch us grow".

THE BRITISH P. O. AT TIENTSIN.
(Clipping from C. E. Thomas.)
The British Government are apparently establishing a new principle in Imperial government—namely, that each community should bear the cost of the maintenance of its own post-office. Tientsin, one of the most important treaty ports in China, has a British concession and a British post-office. The latter was established on October 1, 1906, and has since been maintained at an annual loss, half the deficit being borne by the local municipality and half by the Imperial Treasury. The community now decline to continue their half of the payment, which, they rightly contend, should be an Imperial charge, not a local burden, and the British Government announce that in consequence the office will be closed on October 10. Five times as much mail matter is sent from England to Tientsin as from Tientsin to England. British manufacturers know the untiring services rendered to British trade by this enterprising British community, whose activities, extending even to the Tibetan border, are one of the most admirable features of Far Eastern trade. It is regrettable that they should be deprived at this juncture of the right of cheap postal communication with British possessions, especially in view of the energy of our competitors. Germany, France, Russia, and Japan have post-offices both at Tientsin and Peking; the British have one at Tientsin only. There is much dissatisfaction at the threatened closure.—London Times Pekin news.

Mr. Henniker Heaton (Canterbury, Opp.) asked the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs whether his attention had been called to the announcement made that the British post-office at Tien-tsin, China, would, on the grounds of economy, be closed on October 10, next; whether Germany, France, and Russia had post-offices at Tien-tsin, and if the Governments of these countries had called on the residents there to pay half the cost; whether a petition had been presented by the British residents at Tientsin stating that it was not compatible with our honour and prestige to close the British post-office at Tientsin, while Germany, Russia, France, and Japan maintained their post-offices at that important place.

Colonel Seely.—I understand that arrangements have now been made for maintaining the British post-office at Tien-tsin for the present. I have no information with regard to the contributions of foreign residents towards the cost of their post-offices, nor as to the petition referred to by the hon. gentleman.—Parliament debate Sept. 20.

RESULTS AT AUCTION.
It is now generally conceded by all well informed collectors that the best way to get the cash market value for entire collections or odd lots of first class stamps is to sell them at auction. The real question then is to what auction firm to send the stamps you wish to dispose of.
Here is where I come in, for I can offer in this line the best service obtainable anywhere.
I have had sixteen years' experience as a collector and dealer in stamps and I personally inspect and describe every lot offered in my Sales. I have no stamp business except my Auction Sales and the stamps I sell are not my own property, as is the case with many stamp dealers now in the Auction business. There are thus no strings to any of my sales and I aim to give my customers—both the "buyers" and "sellers"—an absolutely square deal. If you have a collection or any good duplicates to dispose of, it will pay you to write me.

THE LYNDE AUCTION SALE

NOVEMBER 19th and 20th

The auction catalogue of the celebrated Lynde collection is now ready, and catalogues will be mailed the latter part of October. Be sure that you receive the catalogue. There are altogether 2,425 lots, and the sale will be one of the finest that has ever been held. The stamps are almost universally in superb condition, and nearly everything is unused.

20th CENTURY

A very large number of 20th Century stamps are included, also magnificent early Europeans, including France and Colonies, specialized; Holland and Colonies, specialized, etc. The priced catalogue will form a valuable reference book of 100 pages, as many of the stamps are unpriced in the stamp catalogues. Orders booked at 50c per session, or $2.00 complete.

PENFLIP INTERVIEWS MR. CLARK.

(When asked by telegraph if he would come to Chicago for the sole purpose of interviewing Hugh M. Clark for the Chicago special, Parnassus Penflip wired at once that although in the midst of some very important literary work, he would be at our service. He said, having met Mr. Clark at Atlantic City and having found him to be very likeable, he would regard his assignment as a labor of love; yet at the same time he delicately intimated that he was willing to allow the WEEKLY to for the nine or more stenographers; evidently, they had not come to work that particular morning. Turning an analytical eye on Mr. Clark, I said easily: "I am Penflip." Mr. Clark recovered himself gracefully; and as he bowed low, murmured: "I am honored, indeed." Evidently, his sense of reverence is well developed.

I saw that Mr. Clark is a pleasant, press a material quid pro quo into his reluctant palm. In passing, we pause to point out to our ordinary contributors how impossible it is to pay them liberally when it takes so stupendously large a sum to employ a Penlip.)

By PARNASSUS PENFLIP.

Stepping briskly into Hugh M. Clark's philatelic emporium, I was soon exchanging matutinal greetings with him, surrounded picturesquely as he was by his office force. Once having received a type-written communication from him, with the inscription in a lower corner, Dict. No. 9, I naturally looked around personable young man who gives strong indications of intellectual force and it soon became evident that his mental processes usually had a business cast. So here is an explanation to account for the fact that Mr. Clark is a remarkable example of the young business man of this decade. Mr. Clark is a very modest and only by the most ingenious questioning did I learn that although he has been in business less than two years he is deserving of the full meaning of that stereotyped phrase, leading dealer. So, it is seen that he advanced at a high velocity.

Mr. Clark is bright, blithe and brainy. He knew practically nothing about the stamp business when he started as a dealer but he studied business and having a natural aptitude for it, it was not long before he was on solid ground. He then began making deals with the sang froid of a veteran. In Addisonian sentence, he did more than achieve success; he deserved it.

Mr. Clark specializes as a dealer in the stamps of the United States and colonies and his stock now represents a heavy investment. He is an authority on U. S. private perforation and his check list of these stamps was one of the earliest in the field. Recently, he held his first auction sale and viewed from every angle, it was an emphatic success. "Mr. Clark," said I, "your ambitions are bounded only by the future." "So glad to know," said Mr. Clark, and with that your interviewer took his departure, while the hum of business, which had stopped for the nonce, again proceeded in rhythmic measure in that beehive of philatelic industry presided over by Mr. Clark.

B. L. VOORHEES.

B. L. Voorhees may well plume himself upon the prominence that he enjoys as a stamp auctioneer. In a modest way he began to advertise his sales a few years ago and since that time his business has grown at a rapid rate. We think that one reason why Mr. Voorhees has succeeded so well is because of his keen interest in and liking for the work. He regards his business as a pleasure and under his careful attention, it thrives and flourishes. Mr. Voorhees is a clean, capable young man who is in the auction business with serious intentions. He has proved his quality and he will even increase his prestige this season with a remarkably strong line of offerings. Mr. Voorhees concentrates his whole effort on his auction sales; he does not deal in stamps otherwise to any noticeable extent.

THERE ARE OTHERS.

When we mention Ben Green, celebrated for his coin auctions; S. C. Stevens, the Nestor of Chicago dealers; Arild Dahl, philatelic clubman and dealer, it must not be supposed that the directory of Chicago dealers is complete. There are not a few that we have not named who are deserving of all consideration and when the next Chicago special appears they will have their rightful place.

CHICAGO PERSONALS.

Marvin A. Barlow is the auctioneer who has a monopoly in the stamp auction business; and he is a glowing success at the work. His alert, engaging personality and courteous consideration have made him a favorite in philatelic circles.

Since Henry Ades Fowler became secretary of the C. P. S., there has been a vim, vigor and vitality in the conduct of the affairs of that important office that is refreshing, indeed. That Mr. Fowler is an injector of ginger and is just the man for the place is proved by his record number of applications for membership and his snappy official reports in Redfield's.

Hugh M. Clark has announced the purchase of the Franzen collection, which is well known locally for its richness in Scandinavian countries. Mr. Franzen will devote himself to U. S. and colonies.

The superb collections of Henry W. Wolseley will be disposed of at auction in New York by J. C. Morgenthau & Co. The sales will be star attractions as Mr. Wolseley's stamps enjoy a fame that has become almost national. We assume that his wonderfully specialized collection of Straits will be sold with the other stamps.

Leonard Michael who grew up into a prominent place in Chicago philately has cast a shadow of gloom on our fair city by taking up his abode in New York City. While there are many Michaels still left, we cannot afford to dispense with even one, least of all, a Leonard Michael. We trust that our emotion at the realization of Leonard's departure does not seem unmanly.

C. E. Severn circulates about boasting that he has the record for attendance regularly at philatelic society meetings. He joined the C. P. S. in 1888 at the age of sixteen and up to the time of the present or for over twenty years he has not missed a single meeting, except on the comparatively few occasions when he was absent from the city. Rain or snow, heat or cold, did not deter him in the performance of his pleasant duty.

AMERICAN ENVELOPE SOCIETY.

The anniversary of the American Envelope Society was celebrated Wednesday, Oct. 20, by nearly a score of members who assembled at the Hotel Dreyfus, Boston, Mass. Dinner was served at 7 o'clock, after which speech-making was indulged in to the edification and enjoyment of those present. Mr. Nevin extended greetings from the B. P. S. Chas. H. Fowle read a "poem". It was a most delightful affair. With apologies to Longfellow, Whittier and all the rest, we annex Mr. Fowle's poem:—

While we do not spurn adhesives

We are stuck on the entire

And to get the rarest sizes

Is to fill our heart's desire.

We are in the game for pleasure

Most of us for that alone

Though we wouldn't mind some "cinches"

Such as come to Chas. H. Stone.

We are not a big society

And we are glad to welcome more

And to all who're interested

We say "Come and join our corps."

That Old Patriarch, our president,

Is a very pleasant fellow.

He is always very jovial

As the evening gets mellow.

We have an "annual" dinner

Which we hold just twice a year.

Of course this seems quite odd

And is really very queer.

The reason as you all can guess

'Tis such a jolly crew

If we held it only once a year

We never should get through.

And so that we won't stay all night

We run our show in sections

And thus are able to get home

Without any sad reflections.

So come and join our "Entire" crowd

And have yourself well fed.

If you survive our "annual"

You'll be glad that you ain't dead.

SPACE FILLERS

Not perfect, but of very presentable appearance. A bargain for those who do not care or cannot afford to pay the price for fine copies. In many the defects are hardly noticeable.

It is a mistake to consider a damaged stamp of no value. In the case of extreme rarities they frequently sell for hundreds of dollars, and there is always a market for scarce stamps in damaged condition if the price is proportionate.

WANT LISTS

I have 10,000 to 12,000 vars. of the 19th Century issues and can furnish most of the lower priced stamps. Most of my stock is obtained from old collections and auction lots and I can supply many of the hard-to-get low priced stamps. Stamps will be supplied at net prices which average 50% or less of catalogue on the run of stamps, but there are many stamps, notably scarce values of old European in good condition, some values of Fr. and Portuguese Cols., etc., which sell as soon as obtained for a much higher per cent of catalogue. On all such my prices will be right. Appro

MANHATTAN STAMP CO., 24 East 23rd Street, New York City, N. Y.

OUR BOOK REVIEW.

The Sixty-Ninth Edition of the Standard Postage Stamp Catalogue for 1910 comes to hand in good season this year. The last edition arrived just in time for a Christmas present, but now we have it two months earlier, and we are sure we are voicing a unanimous sentiment when we say it will be greatly appreciated. The fall trade opens with the close of the vacation season, and with a new catalog in preparation and eagerly awaited, which will reflect the changes of the year and the trend of the market, business conditions will naturally be somewhat unsettled until its appearance. If this be long delayed, not only is the trade adversely affected in some respects, but the catalog itself becomes of less moment, for the new season will have advanced too far beyond it. We therefore congratulate the Scott Stamp and Coin Co. upon the early appearance of the "new issue."

Of the catalog itself there is no need of giving a detailed description, for there can be but few of our readers who are not familiar with the "Standard." It is in its usual dress and form, but has this year been issued in both cloth and paper covers. The continued enlargement of the work, due to the ever present new issues, makes for increased cost, so that the usual 50 cent edition now has the cheaper binding, while the cloth edition has been raised to 65 cents. The "Special Notices for 1909" which were inserted on colored leaves last year have now been combined with the regular "Special Notices" at the opening of the catalog, and give information as to Prices, Condition, Repaired Stamps, etc. We quote from some of the new remarks:

Concerning the "Present Stamp Market" we find that there is unquestionably in progress a great re-awakening of stamp collecting interest all over the world, particularly in America. Many proofs of this condition impress us, as dealers, such as the thousands of new names added to our list of customers, and the recent fact that the last (1909) edition of our catalogue, estimated, on a liberal basis, to last into November, was sold out in June. The increased demand has had a decided effect on the stamp market. It is well understood that available supplies of many varieties, particularly of the older issues, are already seriously depleted. Necessarily, many stamps are 'going up', and this present catalogue shows thousands of price changes, mostly advances."

Those who read the views of prominent dealers on the business outlook, in the recent symposium which the WEEKLY printed, will remember that they concurred on the signs of the times which presaged an excellent season. If expectations are fulfilled, not only will the catalog advances be justified, but we may look for still further increases next season. We have not had opportunity to go over the various countries and compare prices, nor do we think this necessary, as each one who buys his catalogue will naturally turn first to his favorite countries for this very purpose. In the case of the United States, however, we find that the prices of the earlier isues show but little change, but that the increases begin with the 1888 issue.

The price of the catalog is 50 cents in paper and 65 cents in cloth, with 10 cents extra for postage.

U. S. MAIL UNDISTRIBUTED.

(Clipping from C. E. Thomas.)

That American business men interested in the Brazilian trade fields should take into consideration the lack of postal facilities is the suggestion of Consul-General George E. Anderson, of Rio de Janeiro, who says:

There is a blockade in the Brazilian mail service generally, but particularly in Rio de Janeiro, which has rendered the dispatching of circulars from abroad practically useless and which has interfered with the proper distribution of a large portion of the printed matter received from abroad, especially from the United States. In the Rio de Janeiro post-office there is a large number of bags and baskets filled with circulars and printed matter months old, which have never been distributed, a large portion of which is from the United States. Circularizing foreign markets like that of Brazil is never very profitable, and under present circumstances here it is simply a direct loss of money, with no possible reimbursement. Improvements in the Brazilian service engage the attention of the Government, and the last Congress voted $600,000 for this purpose.—Monthly Consular Reports.

OUR CHICAGO SPECIAL.

It is a very proper tribute that we pay this week to Chicago philately. Its dealers are wide awake and progressive and during the past two years a great trade revival has been noted in this philatelic centre that means much for our hobby.

Our next special will be the "Lone Star State" issue of Nov. 21, particulars of which will be found elsewhere on this page. A nice cover will be added and the Texas Assn. has ordered one thousand copies for recruiting work. Adv. copy must be in not later than Saturday, Nov. 14.

THE MANAGING EDITOR.

EDITORIAL.

Chicago?—In the issue of the WEEKLY dated September 11th, 1909, a clipping, headed, "Chicago? Where is Chicago?" was published, under the paranthetical explanation: "Ordinarily, the editor-in-chief would blue pencil the 'copy' but as he is away on a vacation when this goes to the printer, no doubt, he will get even with Boston on some future occasion.—Managing Editor." The story was told that a letter addressed merely: Chicago Daily News, 123—5th Avenue, Chicago, U. S. A., and sent from London was properly delivered. We quote: "The New York post office had nothing more to guide it in furthering the progress of the missive than these few words. What wonder that the letter should finally reach its destination bearing the proud legend, stamped in red ink, 'Deficiency in address supplied by N. Y. P. O.'; and written in red ink beneath the hieroglyphic 'Chicago,' the guiding syllable, 'Ill.' which had been omitted from the original address. Thus did New York supply the 'deficiency.'" We know that it will be argued that because this exceptional person, this omniscient clerk, had heard of Chicago, it does not follow that his knowledge is not his own exclusive property; this point will be ignored as there is no wish to encourage acrimonious debate. The WEEKLY sees only its duty to serve as a universal philatelic educator; true to its principles of the past, in spreading enlightenment, the paper again essays its instructive role.

Mudge—Chicago is the home of the president of the American Philatelic Society, Henry N. Mudge. Mr. Mudge has been given the most honorable office in American philately; it is not possible to conceive of a more exalted position than the one that he is now occupying so creditably. As a philatelist, Mr. Mudge was developed by Chicago; his remarkable innate qualities were brought to fruition through his connection with Chicago stamp societies and philatelists in that city. He found philately life in Chicago so congenial that he lived it to its fullest activity. Through his works, Mr. Mudge has attained a popularity that does not always accompany philatelic power; his wonderful acumen and likeable human qualities make him beloved by the masses and classes, alike. The photograph of Mr. Mudge is the center-piece of our cover; and our leading article shows how well he knows Chicago and its societies.

Chicago Started It—Chicago is the home of one who took the foremost part in the organization of the American Philatelic Society. S. B. Bradt, the first secretary, was one of the most indefatigable workers in the formation and promotion of the national society. One of Chicago's most respected members is privileged to write "charter member" after his name; he has been referred to as having done more telling work for the American Philatelic Society than any other member. P. M. Wolsieffer is this man. The second convention of the American Philatelic Society was held in Chicago and it was there that a fierce factional fight that had been prevailing in the new organization was followed by harmony. The entertainment that was provided for the delegates was so lavish that the recollection of it is still lively in the minds of the visitors who attended that convention of over twenty years ago. In 1893, Chicago was the seat of the World's Fair convention and it did its utmost to conserve the comforts and pleasures of delegates, at a period when conditions were not the most propitious for organized action of the kind.

The Chicago Society—Chicago is the home of a local society that in 1911 will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary. Two years ago, the Chicago Philatelic Society held its 500th meeting with appropriate exercises and the reverse of the medal that was struck in commemoration of the event is shown as a side-piece to the right on our cover; the companion cut at the left is a picture of the emblem of the Chicago Philatelic Society. The real work that the Chicago society has accomplished on behalf of philately cannot be lauded too highly; its influence has been felt locally more than nationally and so, it has properly discharged the functions of a society of its kind. To-day, the society is in a most flourishing condition; all Chicago feels a pardonable pride in the C. P. S. and the forthcoming history of the organization, now in preparation by a committee will prove that philately is the better for the existence of the C. P. S.

Chicago in Council—Chicago is the home of a considerable number of philatelists whose fame is not confined to the precincts of their city. When the roster of the names of celebrities of the past and present is read, the truth of this statement will be admitted by the most critical. The president of the American Philatelic Society loans honor to the city; it claims a good share of vice-presidents of the organization of the past and many a Chicagoan has held an important appointive office. Excepting the occasional natural period of comparative inactivity, the members of the Chicago Branch of the great national organization have evinced a deep and working interest in the policies of the parent body. Chicago is doing its duty in the standing committees of the A. P. S. and the appointments are strong ones. In passing, it is to be said that informal discussions have been held upon Commercial Chicago—Chicago is the home of an increasing number of stamp dealers. Its position as a stamp auction center is secure. Never before have the philatelic commercial interests of that city been so important as at present. While it may not be the height of delicacy to refer to the subject, it is a great satisfaction to say that the aggregate financial strength of those engaged in the business is unusually sound, thereby making a flattering average. The conditions for the growth of the stamp business were never so favorable as now; while the dealers are enterprising and alert to promote their individual interests yet their relations with each other are marked by harmony, as a rule, and a fair regard for the aims and ambitions of their rivals. The era of good feeling that prevails in philatelic Chicago is encouraged by the collecting and commercial interests in common.

From the First—Chicago is the home of some of those who assisted at the beginnings of philately. Among these veterans are several whose lives measure with that of philately itself. They have lived the history of stamp collecting and they can avouch that Chicago always occupied a position of some renown from the earliest times of the hobby. The were old-time dealers, publishers and amateurs who gained the attention of philatelists throughout the country by reason of their work in the pursuit. These venerable philatelists are rich in reminiscence and are of a generation who will pass away much to the sorrow of all who appreciate the sterling qualities of many of these characters, whose influence was so helpful for philately in those days when it was struggling for recognition. Chicago was well advertised in the past by such men.

It Surely Is—We have presented a picture hurriedly sketched of Chicago in its stamp aspects. Enough has been said and shown to prove that Chicago has a place in philately and that it is filling its philatelic obligations as the second city in population in a manner that is not unbecoming. Chicago has its laurels awarded for duties well done but it is not resting on them. For many years past, Chicago has been in the eye of the philatelic public; it has accomplished things and it did not refrain from calling attention to its performances. So we say that Chicago exists philatelically; that it always has existed and that it will continue to do so. No history of philately from its inception down to the time of the present can be complete without a long and interesting chapter being devoted to Chicago; and there would be no lack of incident in the recital. Is Chicago on the philatelic map? Chicago is on the philatelic map and it is given in heavy black type as one of the principle cities.

—Theodore Siddall writing us from Manila, states that the A. P. S. branch meetings have been poorly attended thus far, but it is expected that the organization will soon measure up to its full opportunity for usefulness.

HERE'S TO P. M. WOLSIEFFER.

When the outsider thinks of philately in Chicago, he is apt to think of P. M. Wolsieffer. Nearly everybody knows him or knows of him. He has been pictured and praised so often that we shall try to be original and not reproduce his photograph, accompanied by a glowing biography, even though this is the very occasion when we have the best kind of excuse to exploit it. It begins to dawn on us that Mr. Wolsieffer is averse to publicity in a personal sense and that he will commend us for speaking only of his business.

Mr. Wolsieffer is a stamp auction specialist in the real sense of the term; in fact, it was he who originated the new trade words. He is a pioneer in the special and important division of the business; it is safe to say that he has accomplished more than any other individual to improve conditions in this line for both the buyer and seller. His half-page auction talk in this issue is an interesting one; it shows that the first advertisement that he prepared years ago still rings true. His declaration of principles made when he started in his work could be accepted without revision as applying to the present time. This argues that Mr. Wolsieffer built the foundation fairly and firmly; in fact, only a fundament of this kind could support the structure that has now grown so high.

Mr. Wolsieffer gives personal attention to his sales and this observation becomes full of meaning when it is said that he is about to celebrate his one hundredth sale. He takes pride in his sales and in his manner of conducting them. While he is unbending in the enforcement of the auction rules, many of which he originated and have been appropriated and made standard through use generally, he does not yield because of any personal feeling in the case but because he can serve all parties to the transaction faithfully only by insisting that all rules be observed. Mr. Wolsieffer's service in the auction business is not automatic; it is personal, and no doubt, it is to intelligent thought rightly directed that his success is due.

The great improvement in the typography of the auction catalogues of today, when compared with those of years ago was encouraged by Mr. Wolsieffer whose catalogues from the first have been examples of excellent typography. So rapid a pace did he maintain in this regard that auction firms generally were forced to give attention to this detail of their business. It is admitted without controversy that Mr. Wolsieffer's catalogues were the first to give really "explicit" descriptions and as leader of this reform alone, Mr. Wolsieffer has long been famous. While Mr. Wolsieffer's chief celebrity comes through his auction sales, yet it must not be forgotten that he is the patentee of a number of philatelic conveniences, such as approval cards, left-page stock books, etc., and that he is circulating a wonderful series of large approval selections by country to the satisfaction of a growing list of customers.

A NOTABLE EVENT.

One of the most notable events that has occurred in philatelic circles in Philadelphia took place on the evening of Oct. 19th, at the room of the Philadelphia Stamp Club, No. 23 Drury Building, when 146 lots of stamps were sold at auction for about $60. The lots were all contributed by members of the club and the entire proceeds will go to the completion of the furnishings of their already comfortable quarters. The company at the sale consisted of 46 members and 5 visitors. The highest price realized for a single lot was $5.75 for a horizontal pair of the imperforate 5c 1902. There were many other good stamps offered, and the general good fellowship that prevailed made the occasion most enjoyable.

MEXICAN CENTENNIAL ISSUES.

("Herewith clipping from our local paper in regard to the proposed issue of centennial stamps next year. Great preparations are being made throughout the country to celebrate this event and this issue will only be one of the many ways in which Mexico will celebrate her 100th year of independence from Spain. It is understood that the designs are being made by local artists, but that the engraving of dies and printing of the stamps will be done in London as with the current issue.")
—G. G. Bergman, Mexico, Mex.)

The postal department of Mexico will take part in the centennial celebrations of next year by issuing a series of centennial stamps bearing the pictures of different heroes of the war of independence.

The colors of the stamps will remain the same as now, but the 1-cent stamp will probably contain the picture of Leona Vicario, the heroine of the period mentioned; the 2-cent, Quintana Roo; the 3-cent, Ignacio Rayon; the 4-cent, Josefa Ortiz de Dominguez; the 5-cent, Hidalgo; the 10-cent, Allende, and the 15-cent, Aldana. The 50-cent $1 and $5 stamps will represent historical episodes, copied from famous paintings. Artists are now at work on designs from which the dies will be made.

TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION BY MAIL

Bids on the following stamps will be received until November 27th. The stamps will be sold without reserve to the highest bidder. The stamps may be seen at any time at our office, 722 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, from November 8th until November 27th, from November 1st to 6th the stamps will be on exhibition at Room 811 Morton Bldg., 116 Nassau Street, New York. Any lots will be sent for inspection to persons known to us or to those who furnish reference.

This lot of stamps is the pick of a very fine collection and in almost every case the stamps are in magnificent condition. Anything not entirely satisfactory is returnable provided the same is returned without delay.

The numbers and prices refer to those given in the 1910 Scott catalog. S. G. refers to Gibbons catalog.

LYNDE AUCTION SALE.

The catalog of this sale to be held by the Phila. Stamp Co. is a book of one hundred pages, great care having been taken in its preparation. The description of the various lots is unusually minute. We note that not a few of the stamps offered are not only unpriced in any catalog, but as well unlisted, so that a priced catalog of the sale will prove a good accession to the philatelic library. The sale will occupy two days, Nov. 19-20.

PICTURE POSTALS IN 1777.

PARIS, Oct. 23.—I long forgotten year book entitled: "Almanac de la Petite Poste de 1777," has just been discovered, showing that even thus early the picture post card flourished in France at least. The Almanac reports as follows: "Demunison, the printer, has introduced pictorial cards containing room for short announcements or letters. These pretty cards are sent through the post like letters at a cheaper rate and are all the vogue."

NEWS GLEANINGS.

—W. O. Thiede, Appleton, Wis., wishes to know where Russia and Roumania charity stamps are obtainable. Can any reader inform him?

—C. V. Webb, Perry, Ohio, Sec.-Treas. of the Esperanto Speaking Collectors of the World, will be very glad to hear from any readers of the WEEKLY who are interested in the above society. A campaign for new members is being instituted.

—A movement is underway to organize a Buffalo Collectors Club and our Buffalo subscribers are earnestly urged to communicate with F. B. Griffith, Jr., 550 Ellicott Sq., who is one of the prime movers. Mr. Griffith already has a goodly number of names for charter membership but is desirous of making the institution the largest success possible.

—We desire to call special attention to the fact that four new branch societies are chartered this week by the American Philatelic Society. The new branches are located in Manila, Phil. Ids., Saginaw, Mich., Los Angeles, Cal., and Washington, D. C. Where there are five or more members of the A. P. S. residing in a locality it is greatly to their advantage to form a branch society of our national society, for by so doing they not only benefit each other greatly but help the cause to a great extent. The social side of philately is a great factor in its success and one that you must come in contact with if you are to derive full benefit from your hobby. We know of no better or worthier way than to associate yourself with a branch of our national society, and in this manner come in contact with others as interested as yourself, thereby enlarging not only your own sphere, but that of the society as well.

—At the annual meeting of the Trenton Philatelic Society, held Oct. 14, at the home of E. A. Andrews, 118 Passaic Street, officers for the coming season were elected as follows: E. B. Sterling, President; Edmund S. Jamieson, Vice President; William G. Fitzcharles, Secretary; William B. Housel, Financial Secretary; M. H. Potts, Treasurer; Louis C. Overton, Librarian, and E. H. Andrews, Sales Agent.

—Geo. A. Doyle sends us a clipping stating that Postmaster General Hitchcock has been officially thanked by the Hudson-Fulton celebration committee for the issue of the special stamp that has marked the celebration. The commission says, "This stamp is one of the most artistic ever issued and has greatly stimulated the interest in the celebration."

—F. D. Goodhue writes us as follows:—"I have written Rev. R. R. Thiele, now located at Calabar, Mont., to pay for or return stamps secured from Paul Kohl of Germany, a bill amounting to over fifty dollars, and also to pay an account due B. L. Voorhees. But the Rev. Thiele declines to correspond, pay for, or return the stamps." Mr. Goodhue also reports Alfred W. Blethen, Derrv, N. H., and asks for information as to whereabouts of D. Wooyena.

ACKNOWLEDGED WITH THANKS.

(Under this heading we note the receipt of catalogs, price lists, etc., from advertisers using the WEEKLY. Where addresses are given samples may always be obtained post free.—Ed.)

—Catalog of Plumridge Sale No. 316. Two fine general collections, to be sold Nov. 11. Catalog received in ample season for U. S. patronage.

—Catalog of Voorhees Auction Sale No. 36, to be held Saturday, Oct. 30. Stamps the property of C. D. Schaffner, Marion, Ohio, will be sold. A goodly number of original covers is listed.

—Clippings from: L. A. Stamp & Coin Co., Geo. A. Doyle, Marcel E. Teller (2), C. E. Thomas (7).

CHRONICLE OF NEW ISSUES.

Edited by HENRY A. KIDDER.

Any information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged. Address HENRY A. KIDDER, 17 Addison Street, Arlington, Mass.

UNITED STATES.—Frank B. Eldredge, A. E. Eddy and Charles M. Breder report the following precancels:

Newport, Ky., 1c 1908, reading up.
 North Haven, Conn., 1c 1908, normal.
 Providence, R. I., 1c 1908; double surcharge; inverted; blue ink.
 Chicago, Ill., 1c 1908; normal.
 Akron, Ohio, 2c 1908; inverted.
 Cleveland, O., 2c 1908; normal.
 Chicago, Ill., 2c 1908; normal.
 Providence, R. I., 3c 1908; normal; purple ink.

Boston, Mass., 4c 1908; inverted.
 Chicago, Ill., 4c 1908; normal.
 Scranton, Pa., 4c 1908.
 Chicago, Ill., 15c 1908; normal.

A. E. Eddy reports having found the current 1c wrapper, with date in the watermark omitted.

BULGARIA.—A lot of new surcharges have appeared for this country, several of which have been shown us by the New England Stamp Co. The 5s of 1889 has been surcharged "1909" at the top in black; the 30s of 1889 has been surcharged 1909 at the top and "5" at the bottom in black and the 50s of the same issue has been surcharged "1909" at the top and "10" at the bottom in red.

Provisional Adhesives.
 5s yellow green; surcharged "1909" in black.
 "5" on 30s brown, with date, "1909"; surcharge black.
 "10" on 50s dark green, with date "1909"; surcharge red.

CANADA.—Wallace A. Wright reports that he has a picture post card mailed in Canada, on which the postage was paid by one-half of a 2c King's Head stamp, cut vertically, and the right half used as 1c in this case. These split provisionals are not especially rare, though this particular stamp has not been previously reported to the WEEKLY.

CANAL ZONE.—George L. Toppan reports having the 2c, Scott's No. 33, with double surcharge and the 8c, No. 35, in pairs imperforate vertically and at left margin, i.e., the two vertical rows at left of sheet were imperforate vertically between and there was no perforation in between the first row and the margin.

CHINA.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us the new commemorative stamps announced in No. 960. All are from the same design and printed in two colors. The frame is printed in bright orange in all, but the "Temple of Heaven," which forms the central illustration is in different colors. The stamps are handsomely printed and bear the imprint of Waterlow of London. They are large horizontal oblong stamps, with "Chinese Empire" and "Hsuan Tung First Year" at the top, and the value in figures and words at the bottom. There are also a variety of Chinese inscriptions, which will be unintelligible to the average collector.

Adhesives.
 2c orange and green.
 3c orange and blue.
 7c orange and lilac.

ECUADOR.—Hermann Focke has shown us used copies of the 50c Exposition stamps, which have been surcharged "Cinco Centavos," in two lines of capitals, in black.

Provisional Adhesive.
 "Cinco Centavos" on 50c red; black surcharge.

GERMAN EAST AFRICA.—The 30h lake

GEORGE L. TOPPAN'S

United States Stamps and Their Varieties

is a book that should be in the hands of every philatelist. It describes and illustrates:

Regular Government Issues
 Carrier Stamps

U. S. Envelopes
 Confederate Provisionals

The illustrations are greatly enlarged while the text is clear and conclusive. We cordially recommend the book to every collector of U. S. Stamps. We give it FREE as follows:

MEKEEL'S WEEKLY STAMP NEWS, BOSTON, MASS.

The Economist Stamp Co., of N. Y. City, appreciative of the good work that MEKEEL'S WEEKLY is doing, supplements the above by offering a package of 1000 peelable hinges to every person taking advantage of either of the two offers mentioned. This free-will offering upon the part of the Economist Stamp Co. is open to all.

and black has appeared on watermarked paper.

PAPUA.—Mr. Focke writes: "The Postmaster of Papua, under date of Aug. 20, writes that there will shortly be a new issue of stamps in that territory, which ought to be interesting to the philatelic friends of the colony. Who has the 2sh 6d stamp of the present set? It had not been issued up to June 28, 1909."

PHILIPPINES.—We are indebted to J. M. Bartels & Co., George L. Toppan and Theodore Siddall, for information regarding the issue of the 1 peso stamp in the new color, the same as the 50c of the United States. Mr. Siddall sends us a copy of the new stamp, and writes: "After denying everything about the new colors, the Post Office put on sale the new 1 peso stamps. The other values must be here, too. (Mr. Siddall's letter being dated Sept. 14), but we can not even see them. The new 1 peso was placed on sale about Sept. 8."

Adhesive.

1p lavender.

SALVADOR.—Hermann Focke has shown us the current 1c stamp on paper with a new watermark, which Mr. Focke calls a honey comb, and perhaps this describes it well enough. Each one of the cells is about three-eighths of an inch in diameter.

Mr. Focke also reports having seen an unused copy of the current 1c stamp surcharged in red, "15 de Septiembre, 1909," the Independence Day of the Republic. No used stamp with this surcharge has yet been seen.

ST. KITTS-NEVIS.—A. E. Eddy reports having seen the St. Kitts-Nevis "Revenue" on St. Christopher 1d rose, with right limb of the "T" of "Saint" missing. This is found in an unused mint block, with plate No. 40.

SWEDEN.—L. Harald Kjellstedt writes us: "The new issue of Sweden will be placed on sale January, 1910. The portrait of King Gustaf has been engraved by the Austrian engraver Schirnback."

TRINIDAD.—Gibbons' Weekly chronicles the 4d and 6d stamps in the new colors on chalky multiple paper.

Adhesives.
 4d red and black on yellow.
 6d lilac.

URUGUAY.—Gibbons' Weekly chronicles two stamps issued Aug. 24, 1909, to commemorate the opening of the Port of Montevideo. The stamps appear to be surface printed, and are in sheets of 25, the watermark "R.O." appearing all over the sheets in the form of script capitals, enclosed in lozenges 9 mm. high. The stamps were manufactured by the Compania Sud-Americana de Billetes de Banco, 200,000 of each having been printed. The stamps were available for three days only, including the day of issue. The stamps are large horizontal oblong in shape with a picture of a naval parade. At the top is "República O. del Uruguay" and "Correos" and at the bottom "25 de Agosto de 1909" and the legend "Puerto de Montevideo," with the value in tablets in the lower corners.

Adhesives.
 2c brown and gray black.
 5c salmon pink and gray black.

society was held at the club room this evening. President Green called the meeting to order at 8.15 o'clock, and 32 members and friends were present.

A letter from the Rhode Island Philatelic Society was read, acknowledging the receipt of our vote of sympathy on the death of Mr. Alfred Dawson.

Mr. R. F. Burns proposed the following amendment to the statutes, to take the place of the present Art. XI, Sec. 2: "For the purpose of passing upon the eligibility of a proposed new member, three members of the Governing Board shall form a quorum. For transacting all other business brought before it, a quorum of this board shall consist of five members."

The secretary stated that he had received a letter from Mr. John B. Howe, agent of the estate of the late John F. Seybold, telling us that the intention of Mr. Seybold to present his library to the society will be eventually carried out—an announcement that was received with great satisfaction.

The following were elected to membership:

No. 511. PEDRO ARANJO, Manaos, Brazil. No. 512. WILLIAM M. KENNEDY, Boston.

Mr. Nevin read the following:

Report of the Library Com. for Oct., 1909. Sept. 28th. Priced Catalog of Drew's 205th Sale from A. P. Brown; Histoire des Timbres-Poste Français from Arthur Maury; 68 numbers Mekeel's Stamp Collector and other papers from George H. Greeley; Metropolitan Philatelist, Vol. VI, 1895-6, from J. W. Scott; Standard Catalog, 1910 Ed., from New England Stamp Co.; and current numbers of the following magazines, generously contributed by the publishers: Gibbons' Stamp Weekly, Mekeel's Weekly, The Stamp Journal, The Postage Stamp, Scott Stamp and Coin Co. Circular, Berliner Briefmarken Zeitung, Collectors' Journal, Hartford Philatelist and Carter's Messenger.

We also have to report a donation of stamps, for the Library Fund, from Mr. Fernald Hutchins.

Respectfully submitted,
C. K. B. NEVIN,
C. A. HOWES,
Lib. Com.

The amendment to the statutes raising the commission of the Supt. of Auctions from 5% to 8% was passed.

President Sawyer of the American Envelope Society announced their annual banquet for the next evening, and extended a cordial invitation for those interested.

It was voted to appropriate $10 for the work of the National Educational Com.

Mr. Jos. S. Rich, of the Scott Stamp & Coin Co., was a visitor at this meeting and was warmly greeted as an old member but infrequent attendant.

Mr. J. M. Bartels gave a very interesting talk on his recent trip abroad, dwelling particularly on the 21st Philatelic Congress at Karlsbad, August 19-24, where he represented the Boston Philatelic Society. He presented the various definitions of the term "reprint" which came before the Congress for selection, and a general discussion of them and of the subject of reprints was indulged in by our members. No action was taken, however.

The evening's exhibitions included a fine collection of Victoria, the property of Mr. F. S. Cook, and collections of Germany and Uruguay in competition. The former, belonging to Mr. Schuhmacher, was awarded first prize, and the latter, owned by Mr. Hutchins, was especially mentioned for condition.

A very pleasant surprise was sprung by Messrs. Batchelder and Carpenter who brought a couple of books of rarities from the Paul collection for exhibition. Most of the U. S. Postmasters' stamps, early U. S. rarities in regular and official stamps, Confederate Provisionals, and numerous rarities from other countries made a wonderful display for those who were fortunate enough to attend.

An exceptionally entertaining meeting was closed by adjournment at 10.50 p. m. C. A. HOWES, Sec.

A POST OFFICE ANOMALY.

(Clipping from C. E. Thomas.)

In reply to Mr. Henniker Heaton, who asked the Postmaster-General whether he is aware that a foreign merchant residing in France can send 504 circulars in open envelopes to English clients resident in England for £1, whereas the English merchant can send only 480 circulars in open envelopes to his customers for £1; whether he is aware that French firms having branch offices in this country actually post these circulars in France, thereby, under the Postal Union Law, England does all the work and France takes the whole of the postage receipts for these circulars; and, seeing that this arrangement is prejudicial to the postal revenue of this country and gives the foreigner an advantage over his English rivals in trade, whether he will take steps for an alteration; Mr. Buxton says:—I am aware that 25 francs is equivalent to 500 five centimes, and that £1 sterling is equivalent to 480 halfpence. Perhaps, however, my hon. friend is not aware that, in consequence of the difference in weight between two ounces and 50 grammes, the English halfpenny pre-pays about 14 per cent. more than the French five centimes. Thus, while the advantage in numbers is with the French poster, the advantage in weight is with the English poster. Until my hon. friend has been able to arrange international standards of money and weight, I fear these slight differences of postage must remain.—Parliamentary debate London Times.

This is a sample of "unsolicited" interest that the Educational Committee highly approves, and if the dealers and collectors everywhere will do likewise, much work, time, and expense will be saved, and the Board can make a great gain in results.

Every member of the society that has a "pull" with his local paper and can get stamp matter inserted, is requested to notify the Secretary of the Board, Hugh M. Clark, 536 Postal Telegraph Bldg., Chicago.

Suggestions and ideas are invited from all members. Members may send their contributions to the territorial committeeman nearest to them, and both the committeeman and the donor will receive due credit for the amounts subscribed. Branch societies will find the topic, "Work of the Educational Committee," a good subject for discussion, and it will undoubtedly bring out some first class suggestions which this committee would be glad to receive.

MINUTES OF CHICAGO BRANCH.

October 13, 1909.

The 278th regular meeting of the Chicago Branch, No. 1, American Philatelic Society was held in the club rooms of the Chicago Philatelic Society on the evening of October 13, 1909. President Whitaker called the meeting to order with the following members present: Rogers, Clark, Mudge, Wolsieffer, Farnham, Whitaker, Mizera, Severn, Roterberg, Fowler.

Mr. William Bloss attended as a visitor. The minutes of the previous meeting were approved as read. Application of W. H. Gilley and Wm. Lockie were received and posted. William Bloss was elected to membership. The resignation of J. S. Hardy and S. E. Moisant were accepted. Dr. F. B. Merrill was dropped from membership as he is no longer a member of the parent organization.

The subject for discussion was the advisability of inviting the A. P. S. convention to Chicago in 1911. No definite conclusion was reached. Meeting adjourned at 10.30 p. m.

PITTSBURG BRANCH No. 5.

McKEESPORT, PA., Oct. 21, 1909.

On Oct. 19th, a meeting of this branch was held to reorganize with eight members present. Election of officers resulted in the election of E. Doeblin, Pres.; J. C. Miller, Sec. and Treas.; Max Wenzel, Supt. Meeting will be held at Room 3, 417 Wood St., on the third Tuesday of each month. All who desire to become members of this branch please come to next meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 16th, or inform one of the above officers.

J. C. MILLER, Sec.

BRANCH No. 18.

The annual meeting of Philadelphia Branch, No. 18, A. P. S., met on the evening of Sept. 15th at the room of the Philadelphia Stamp Club, No. 25 Drury Building. The following board of officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, F. Fahman; Vice President, Chas. Beamish; Secretary and Treasurer, A. F. Henkels; Sales Supt., John W. Haseltine. Three new members were admitted to the branch.

A. F. HENKELS.

COLUMBUS BRANCH No. 21.

The 68th regular meeting was held October 19th in the club rooms, President Mason in the chair, with 17 members and one visitor present. Minutes of the 67th meeting were read and ap-

Chalef's Salutation

To A. P. S., C. P. S. and Philatelic Public:

GOOD MORNING.

I have been a-thinking you ought to buy one of my Bouquet Golden Genie packets: 500 Mixed Stamps, catalogued from 1c to 50c. Good sheet goods. Price One Dollar.

Golden Genie Treasure Packet, the Open Sesame to Philatelic Wealth. This packet contains 1000 stamps and is a mixture free of Continentals, and good value. Price $3.33, postpaid and registered.

proved. Mr. T. D. Broucher was elected to active membership. Plan for the publication of a philatelic magazine by Mr. Geo. W. Linn, under the editorial supervision of the Columbus Collectors' Club, was outlined by Mr. Mason. After some discussion, it was voted that the Directors of the club constitute a committee to draft resolutions to be submitted at the next meeting. In the prize drawing, Mr. Dailey secured a fine copy of the $5 1894 U. S.

The contest for the evening consisted in identifying cuts showing the types of the two cents, 1894; one cent, 1851 and 15 cents, 1869, contestants being required to give the type, denomination of the stamp and date of issue. Mr. Broucher was awarded the prize, a copy of the 90 cents, 1871. Mr. Duffy exhibited a collection of proofs, essays and locals, containing many interesting specimens.

As this was his last meeting before leaving to accept a position in another city, Mr. Adair addressed club briefly. Various other members spoke in appreciation of Mr. Adair's services and he was tendered a rising vote of thanks for the energy and enthusiasm to which the success of the club is largely due. The best wishes of all the members go with Mr. Adair in his new work and it is hoped he will be as successful in furthering the interests of the society there as he has been in Columbus. Next meeting, November 2, 1909. Subject: Perforations.

RHODE ISLAND PHILATELIC SOCIETY.

Organized Feb. 2, 1885.

W. A. MOWRY, Pres.; B. A. WEBBER, Vice Pres.; R. F. CHAMBERS, Sec., 89 Courtland St.; W. IRVING COX, Treas.; JEROME FLEISCHER, Exch. Mgr.; F. M. MASON, Lib.; GEO. C. ARNOLD, Chairman Auction Com.

Meetings held every third Wednesday at Arnold Hall, 124 Washington St., at 8 P. M. Address all communications to the Secretary.

October 20, 1909.

The 201st regular monthly meeting of the society was called to order by Pres. Mowry at 8.15 p. m. Twelve members and two visitors were present. The application of Capt. Arthur P. S. Hyde was received and was referred to the Executive Committee. A letter was read from the Boston Philatelic Society expressing their sympathy to the Rhode Island society on the loss of their brother member, Mr. Alfred Dawson. A motion was unanimously passed that the Secretary express to the Boston society our grateful appreciation of their sympathy. The Entertainment Committee announced a novel and unique contest for the November meeting. Parts of common stamps will be shown on a sheet and the idea will be to name the country they represent.

A committee consisting of Mr. C. A.

Bowen was appointed by the chair to draw up a set of resolutions on the death of Mr. Dawson, a copy of these resolutions to be inscribed on the minutes of the society, published in the official journal, and sent to his family. It was decided to remain, for the rest of the season at least, in our present quarters, as they are very comfortable and centrally located. The meeting adjourned at 8.45 p. m.

SINGER, Cft. Expert; DR. H. B. F. HEATH, CHAS. LEHMAN, PROF. LOEWY, GUST. SCHROEDER and THEO. STEINWAY, Trustees.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21, 1909.

Meeting was called to order at 9 p. m. with 28 members present. Application for membership: Chas. N. Kayser, 104 W. 79 St. Proposed by Isenstein, seconded by Lehmann. Further business was dispensed with to provide ample time for the exhibition of Cayman Islands. The collection of Mr. Chas. B. Bostwick was by a very large margin the most complete containing both used and unused; blocks of four of a great many varieties and any amount of original covers. Since Mr. Boswick did not wish to compete, the first prize was awarded to Mr. Geo. W. Ketch, with Mr. Isenstein second and Mr. Jancovich a close third. The next exhibition will be of San Marino on Dec. 16. All members are earnestly requested to take part in the nomination of officers and the revision of the constitution and by-laws at the next meeting Nov. 4.

There are two vital questions now before us, viz.: Are your dues paid, and are you going to get new members this year?

Please send in your dues at once, $1.20 per year in the U. S., $1.80 a year for foreign countries. When you pay your dues you receive free a copy of our first hand book, "The Three Cent Stamp of 1851," by Carroll Chase, M. D. This book is worthy of the society and should be in every philatelic library. Its yours if you will only pay your dues. There are always a few members who neglect this or forget it and this is intended especially for them. This year will be a hard year for new officials and we earnestly request every member that has not paid to do so at once without further urging and dragging at every opportunity. You can help out if you will only do your part. Send it in today and help get this work out of the way so that it will not clog future possibilities. You will eventually pay them. Why not now? The first issue of the Quarterly will be out shortly and unless your dues are paid do not expect it.

When you can in any way be of assistance to officials whose work in the main is a labor of love, it behooves you to do your mite and in this case it is to get your dues in at once and not string them out over a long period. This will be of the utmost help to over-worked officials.

Have you decided that you are going to take part in the pull to reach 2000 members by convention time next year? We want every one of you to get as many good live members as you can and thereby help in the good work that will inevitably follow this increase in membership. Surely every member knows some ones that are not members but should be. Just take them to one side and tell them confidentially what the society is doing for philately in America and for individuals in particular. Tell them of the Quarterly and the Hand Books, these alone should insure your success.

QUARTERLY REPORT OF SALES SUPT.

October 1, 1909.

I take pleasure in submitting below the quarterly report of the Sales Department for the three summer months ending September 30, 1909, as follows:

2548 books in circulation July 1st, priced at	$50,996.27
195 books received in July, priced at	4,176.84
149 books received in Aug., priced at	2,557.73
237 books received in Sept., priced at	4,652.19
3129 books, priced at	62,383.03
566 books retired (sales $2,514.58), priced at	11,544.75
2563 books now in circulation, priced at	$50,838.28
Cash Report.
Cash on hand July 1st,	$5,388.04
Cash received in July,	903.87
Cash received in August,	573.70
Cash received in September,	615.27
	$7,480.88
566 books returned to owners,	2,514.58
	$4,966.30

Although the receipts during the summer months have been comparatively small, there is a noticeable awakening of interest, which we feel confident will broaden with the publication of the new Scott Catalogue, expected in a few days.

Members having desirable duplicates to dispose of, should hasten to secure blank sales books and fill them as promptly as possible, as the demand for good stamps is increasing daily. Good U. S. Postage are much called for at present, and will meet a ready sale.

We are gratified to note the real interest and splendid results obtained by branch managers at such an early date of the current year. Fifteen managers are now working in various cities, and we trust that several more will seek an appointment. We give below a statement of the sales made by the various branch managers thus far this year:

1 J. W. Haseltine, Philadelphia, Pa.,	$534.33
2 Don R. Bennett, Detroit, Mich.,	184.92
3 Chas. R. Morris, Washington, D.C.,	114.67
4 L. A. Van Toor, Milwaukee, Wis.,	94.02
5 W. C. Emery, Springfield, Mass.,	45.82
6 A. H. Weber, Berkeley, Calif.,	42.15
7 John F. Rust, Cleveland, O.,	35.35

P. M. WOLSIEFFER, Stamp Auction Specialist, 401 Ft. Dearborn Building, Chicago.

From Sale No. 1 to Sale No. 100 (a number of which were 2 and 3 sessions each) does not seem like a very large number, yet when you take into consideration that the same conductor of these 100 sales wrote each catalog himself, it is needless to argue lack of experience or inability to properly construct the catalogs. My very first ad (herewith reproduced) tells the story completely and I see no reason at this stage of the journey, the 100 mile stone, to change it.

TO BUYERS

To the regular patrons of "Stamp Auction Sales" it is hardly necessary to offer any suggestions or advice as to the desirability of this method of adding choice and rare stamps to their collections, at prices they themselves make.

The "Auction Habit" is so strong with many of our best collectors that they do not purchase stamps in any other way, depending entirely on the Auction Room for additions to their collections which in many cases are lacking only rarities or such stamps as they frequently fail to obtain elsewhere.

In the auction room many old and large collections find their way, including rarities and a class of stamps that the Trade as a rule cannot supply, hence it is but natural that collectors of experience give so much time and attention to the careful perusal of all auction catalogs sent them.

If you have never purchased stamps in this way give the plan a trial, have your name placed on my list and after studying the catalog and becoming acquainted with auction limitations, the Terms of Sale, etc., send in your bids.

You will find my Auction Sale Catalogs are explicit and so arranged that you can bid intelligently, no matter if you are a beginner and have never purchased at an auction sale before.

I compile my Auction Sale Catalogs on an improved plan, different from any other Auction Concern and entirely original.

In Part 1, I place all single stamps, blocks, sets or lots to be sold as one stamp or piece.

In Part 2, I group all stamps of one country, alphabetically, 2 or more stamps to a lot.

In Part 3, I include popular Combination Lots, Mixtures, Wholesale Lots, Miscellaneous, odds and ends, etc.

It will therefore be seen at a glance that Part I will appeal to the Advanced and General Collector, Part 2 to the Beginner and General Collector and Part 3 to the Dealer, Speculator and General Collector.

As a whole it can be summed up as the "Busy Man's" Stamp Auction Catalog. Send for it now.

THIS IS MY FIRST AD ABOUT AUCTION SALES.

It Still Holds Good.

I have not heard of any good reason to change it.

AUCTION SALES

It is conceded that Stamp Auction Sales have come to stay, and as my experience in this particular branch of the stamp business has been extensive I feel that I need make no apologies for asking for your patronage either to buy or sell.

No one will deny that my explicit style of cataloging has revolutionized this branch of the business. If there are any doubting Thomases let them compare my earliest catalogs with those then put on the market. Even a present day comparison will show they have not yet reached the mark.

I believe in a square deal for both the buyer and seller and I feel that my efforts have been appreciated because of the fact that many of my earliest clients are still faithful and new ones continue to come in and say they are well satisfied.

Terms on application which are liberal and fair for the best service.

P. M. WOLSIEFFER

401 FT. DEARBORN BLDG., CHICAGO

TO SELLERS

If you are thinking of disposing of your collection you quite naturally desire to select the best method and the one that promises the best results.

The selling of stamps at Auction has proven to be the method which yields the largest percentage, gives you the quickest action and shows you that you have gotten all there was in it according to market values at time the sale was held.

My plan of grouping stamps in 3 Parts so as to give the busy man a chance to go over it quickly, or the dealer to at once note if anything in it is of interest to him without the usual loss of time in going over the entire catalog, has resulted in my securing a very large and regular list of mail bidders, in addition to which the floor representation is always in evidence.

It should be borne in mind that my sales are Public Auctions (not mail auctions) conducted by a licensed auctioneer under the laws of the State of Illinois or New York, and always held in the Club Rooms of the Philatelic Societies of those localities.

My terms for the best service depends entirely on the quality and extent of the properties offered. Large collections with many stamps of value and where the sum total will amount well up in the thousands of dollars, invariably are quoted the lowest rate.

Better grade duplicates, rarities or special lines are also solicited, but it hardly pays to enter small lots or collections unless it be of exceptional material and in very fine condition.

The rates on Wholesale Material is considerable higher as it is much more expensive to handle.

Plenty of time should be given for the proper arranging, mounting and cataloging, as material is handled in order of its receipt, except very large properties that will take up an entire sale and require a special date. We cannot always include your lots in the next sale or sometimes the one after that.

I invite a comparison of my catalogs with that of any other concern in the World. A comparison also of recent prices, condition considered, would be to your advantage.

My Centennial Sale No. 100 will be held Nov. 13th. You will find a list of some of the rarities on Page 351 of MEKEEL'S WEEKLY No. 281, of Oct. 16th last. If you mislaid the catalog of it you can bid from the "WEEKLY ad." Please mail your bids early.

E. C. DODD.

About ten years ago, E. C. Dodd of La Grange, Illinois, began to play at dealing in stamps but what began in jest ended in earnest. At the outset of his business career, he had the good fortune to make several important purchases advantageously, through the influence of which he was speeded on his dealing way. Moreover, he was ever able to proffer "spot cash" in plenteous sum when occasion demanded, a very helpful consideration as all will allow. As Mr. Dodd is wise, witty and winning, he has made a real success of the business. He is wholly reliable and readers will find that a philatelic (or otherwise) acquaintance with him is worth their while.

THE WESTERN STAMP CO.

The propelling force of the Western Stamp Co. is Dave Taussig, a gentleman who is a prominent, and pleasing factor in Chicago's commercial circles. He has a cosy downtown office for the Western Stamp Co. where the visitor feels perfectly at home under the affable and courteous attention of Mr. Taussig and his helpers. While a comparatively young man, Mr. Taussig has had the benefit of many years' experience in the stamp business. The Western Stamp Company's packets are on sale in the hotels, stationery and drug stores throughout Chicago. An immense number of stamps are handled in these packets.

OUILMETTE STAMP CO.

Mr. Van Order who is the proprietor of Wilmette's stamp company shows exceptional ability as a dealer and if he maintains his advance, it will not be long before he will be near the head of the list. He takes to the stamp business naturally, so to say and each week finds him the more firmly entrenched as stamp purveyor. The growth of his stock and of his list of customers keep pace a very happy circumstance and one that reflects credit on the business head of the Ouilmette Stamp Company.

F. E. FARNHAM.

F. E. Farnham who for some time past has been attending to a systematic accumulation of stock has now begun to advertise. Mr. Farnham possesses all the qualities necessary to success as a dealer and we say that it will not be long before he is recognized as a firmly established institution. Mr. Farnham is substantial and worthy of all confidence; he has our best wishes for a prosperous business career.

H. M. LINDSAY,

1003 W. North Av., BALTIMORE, MD.

HERE COMES THE "GOLDEN GENIE."

E. L. Warner is the genius who made the Golden Genie stamp packets famous and thereby hangs a tale that reads almost as fairy-like as any that graces the mystic pages of the past. For reasons of his own, Mr. Warner wanted to specialize in packets but how was he to gain an ascendancy in this field that for many years has been well-tilled? How was he to bring his packets so prominently to the minds of collectors that when they thought of packets they would think of Warner? As a start, he would advertise in the WEEKLY; that was well enough but something more was necessary. We could convey the advertising announcement; we could assure him that our readers would hear it but it depended on him whether they would heed it.

Mr. Warner began an advertising campaign based on lines that were cleverly conceived and distinctively developed. First, he made his packets rich in quality and lavish in quantity; he proved that the greatest possible return was given for the customer's money. As he has ample capital at his command, he can buy in enormous volume and in the most exclusive markets; and not a few dealers' stocks have been absorbed by him. He makes his money work to his advantage and he shares this advantage with his customers.

The Golden Genie is a student of symbolism; it was he who furnished practically all of the data that made the Chicago Philatelic Society medal struck in commemoration of the five hundredth meeting, so impressive a mark in all its suggestions. With admirable method, he called his packets the Golden Genie Series and his advertising has presented in fascinating way the fanciful theme. His Golden Genie fairy is a dainty figureine that is known to all; his text, his cuts are pertinent to the pleasant witchery of the subject.

From coast to coast, even the world over, the spell of the Golden Genie is a happy thrall that is cheerfully acknowledged. All hail to the Golden Genie whose stamp messengers fly so gracefully bearing their magic gifts to those who believe in fairies.

Do you believe in fairies and their kindred? We believe in the Golden Genie.

PRICE PAID ABOUT $60,000.

While the actual figures have not been made public, it is generally understood that the price paid for the Paul collection was very close to $60,000. That the New England Stamp Company was able to finance this proposition speaks well for the standing of this house in the business world. The amount paid was in spot cash.

A. P. S. HISTORICAL NOTES.

YEAR 1899, 14th ANNUAL CONVENTION.

By H.A.DAVIS, Pres. Colo. Branch No.22.

March 21st occurred the death of August F. De Jonge of Staten Island. He was a faithful and prominent worker in the association.

The year book of 1898 was issued in March, 1909. On June 10th President Olney issued the call for the 14th annual convention to be convened at Detroit, Mich., Sept. 12th.

The following nominations had been made for board of directors: Geo. L. Toppan, Mass.; P. Fred Bruner, New York; J. W. George, New York; Alexander Holland, New York; Wm. N. Howe, Me.; C. P. Krauth, Pa.; H. G. Smith, Minn.; H. B. Phillips, Calif.; P. M. Wolsieffer, Ill.; J. M. Bartels, Wash.; D. W. Osgood, Colo. P. M. Wolsieffer and Wm. N. Howe both declined the nomination.

The 14th annual convention was called to order Sept. 12th by G. L. Toppan at the Art Museum. There were between 50 and 60 members and visitors present and 185 represented by proxy. A fine exhibit of U. S. stamps had been placed in the beautiful Museum of Art, and one of the spacious halls in the building given over to the use of the convention attendants. The Detroit Philatelic Society entertained the members of this convention. In the absence of Secretary Howe, H. E. Deats was appointed Sec. pro tem. Frank H. Burt was appointed official stenographer for the seventh time.

The treasurer's report showed the receipts to be $708.90; expenditures, $861.95; balance general fund, $89.91; balance stock fund, $1,559.00; balance entertainment fund, $125.89.

A notable clause in the report of the Bd. of V. Pres. reads as follows: "The use of speculative stamps goes merrily on, unchecked by the moribund S.S.S.S." The Sales Supt.'s report showed sales in the Dept. to the amount of $9211.88.

Librarian Deats reported no calls for books, but 98 donations. The bound volumes had all been sent to the Carnegie Library at Pittsburg, and urged the appointment of the Carnegie Librarian, Mr. Anderson, as Librarian of the association.

Milwaukee was made the convention seat for 1900. The following amendments to the By-Laws were adopted: All applications for membership to be approved by the Resident V. Pres., where there is one; appointment of Credentials Committee in advance of convention, doing away with necessity of confirmatory appointment by convention, so that results could be reported on the first day; expenses of Bd. V. Pres. to be paid without approval of the official board; appointment of standing committees on obituaries, philatelic literature and philatelic aids and appliances provided for; office of Philatelic Literary Exchange abolished; an assistant librarian to be appointed to hold the old records and to receive gifts of literature and turn them over to the Carnegie Library; commission of Sales Supt. reduced from 10 per cent to 7 1/2 per cent; the section declaring the association not to be responsible for losses in the Sales Dept. was struck out, as it conflicted with the insurance provision; name of the official journal omitted from the By-Laws, the journal to be elected yearly; the secretary was authorized to issue an engraved membership card.

A motion by Mr. Aldrich that the convention endorse V. Pres. Toppan's suggestion looking toward the re-establishment of the American Philatelist was adopted and provision for the appointment of an "official editor" was made.

A good sign for the welfare of the association at this convention was apparent in the discussion "that something be done by the society worth while." President Toppan called attention to Dr. Mitchell's remarks at the previous convention as to more scientific research by the association. Mr. Krauth made a vigorous speech on the possibilities of "dry rot" in the association, saying that it was doing nothing worth while in a philatelic line; that all members came to the conventions for the "loaves and fishes" and not for philatelic study; that the mere amassing of stamps was not philately, and that instead of being mere collectors that they should become philatelists.

It was voted on motion of Mr. Burgoyne of Pittsburg that the president be instructed to designate members who should prepare papers and reports on

BEWARE OF SCHOR.

Miss Amy L. Swift has placed before us correspondence carried on with Leon Schor, Giza, Egypt, which shows him up in a very unenviable light. We quote from Miss Swift's letter as follows:

"On March 8, 1908, I sent an exchange selection of stamps to Leon Schor, Survey Dept., Giza, Egypt, in answer to a small lot received from him the day previous, and registered the letter. It contained about a dollar's worth of U. S. to balance his selection, and $3.53 worth in addition, made up from his want list. This he claimed never to have received, sending me a post card, and two letters to that effect, which latter I enclose, marking them No. 1 and No. 2. I placed the matter in the hands of my postmaster for investigation, finally receiving proof after about 14 months, that the letter in question had been delivered to him March 28, 1908. This showed that when his first complaint, the post card, was mailed on April 22nd, 1908, the letter was already in his hands, and had been for three weeks.

"Under registered mail I wrote him of the above facts, Aug. 24, and requested explanation, with settlement of amount due me. The reply, marked No. 3, arrived Sept. 28, and is enclosed. I consider the three stamps sent very inadequate return, especially as I collect only postage, and had asked for such. These have no value to me. Moreover the entire thing shows such utter lack of morality that I think the story should be broadly published as a protection to others, for many like myself will not 'know with whom they are dealing' till experience teaches. He advertised for correspondents in the Stamp Collectors' Fortnightly, and I intend to expose him there."

The last letter received from Mr. Schor was rather remarkable in its frankness and we take the liberty of quoting him as follows: "A man is mostly good when no other seeks to deceive him. When I began collecting stamps I replied regularly, till one day after some exchanges with different persons, two of them of the U. S., having supplied them with nearly all the stamps issued in Egypt and Sudan, I could get no stamps or reply in return. Then I concluded to revenge myself on all American people who would like to exchange stamps with me."

Miss Swift did not appreciate the honor of being selected for this treatment, and other U. S. collectors should profit by her experience.

EGYPTIAN MAIL SERVICE.

Nile Country Had Postal Service in Time of Ptolemy.

(Clipping by Miss Amy L. Swift.)

How the ancient Egyptians conducted a state postal service more than 2150 years ago is shown by a papyrus on view at the Imperial Postal museum in Berlin. It dates from the time of Ptolemy Philadelphus, who reigned from 283 to 247 B. C., when postal deliveries were confined to stations along the Nile. The papyrus is of the nature of a waybill and bears the signature of five postal officials who would correspond to the present sorters, postmen and branch superintendents. The document reads somewhat as follows:

On this, the 16th day * * * I, Alexander, received the following: For Ptolemy the King, 1 letter packet; for Apollonius of the Exchequer, 1 letter packet and 2 letters; for Antiochus the Cretan, 1 letter packet; for Menodorus, 1 letter packet; for Chelos, 1 letter packet. Delivered the above into the hands of Nicodemus, this the 17th day. * * * Signed, Alexander.

This morning, the * * * I, Phoenix junior, son of Heraclitus the Macedonian, have delivered to Aminon 1 letter packet, and paid expenses to Phanius, the carrier. I, Aminon, delivered the above to Theochrestus, etc., etc.

It is noteworthy that the time of the dispatch of parcels is given with routine-like regularity. Mention is further made of letter packets to the chief of the elephant hunt; to Theogenes, the tax collector; to Zoilis, the chief of the exchequer at Hermopolis, and various other departmental chiefs.

RESULTS AT AUCTION.

It is now generally conceded by all well informed collectors that the best way to get the cash market value for entire collections or odd lots of first class stamps is to sell them at auction. The real question then is to what auction firm to send the stamps you wish to dispose of.

Here is where I come in, for I can offer in this line the best service obtainable anywhere. I have had sixteen years' experience as a collector and dealer in stamps and I personally inspect and describe every lot offered in my Sales. I have no stamp business except my Auction Sales and the stamps I sell are not my own property, as is the case with many stamp dealers now in the Auction business. There are thus no strings to any of my sales and I aim to give my customers—both the "buyers" and "sellers"—an absolutely square deal. If you have a collection or any good duplicates to dispose of, it will pay you to write me.

OUR BOOK REVIEW.

We have received from J. Thumin, successor to Thumin Brothers, their general catalog for 1910. This includes not only postage stamps but telegraphs as well, which is of great assistance to those who favor this branch of philately. Some may object to this being called philately, but inasmuch as the word signifies an amateur of "exemption from tax" as effected by stamps, we fail to see why the labels that prepay this form of communication are not well within the pale.

The catalog is based on the Official Catalog of the French Society of Timbrology, of which at least three editions were published. Many of the French dealers adopted this catalogue and have since issued it under their several names, a fact which speaks well not only for the influence of the French Society but the co-operation of the French dealers. The plan of the catalog is strictly alphabetical save in the case of the Colombian Republic States and the Indian Native States, which are placed under Colombia and India respectfully, as being more in the nature of local stamps than those of independent States or Colonies.

Lists of the principal countries have been largely written by specialists, so that they are very full and well supplied with notes of explanation. The plan of the lists is based largely on the "simplified catalog" idea, in that only the main varieties are given full catalog numbering. Shades, type-varieties, many watermarks and perforation varieties, are relegated to sub-numbers, so that those who prefer not to specialize can feel assured, by getting only the stamps having full catalog numbers, that they are obtaining a representative collection. This is a most excellent idea, and one that is being followed more and more.

The paper, press work and illustrations are very good, and the whole catalog an excellent reference work. It can be obtained of M. J. Thumin, 3 Boulevard Bonne-Nouvelle, Paris (2 me), France, for 75 cents, postpaid.

Messrs. Yvert and Tellier of Amiens, France, send us the 14th edition of their catalog of postage and telegraph stamps, issued for 1910. This very handy little book reminds us somewhat of our "Standard" catalog, though we think the paper stock is not quite so good. But the illustrations are excellent, being line cuts in reduced size, and many enlarged drawings of type varieties aid materially in helping the student. Notes are plentifully sprinkled throughout the work, as is becoming the custom in all up-to-date catalogs, and even if one is not conversant with French he will have little difficulty in interpreting the lists.

The plan of the catalog is alphabetical, save for the Colombian States, which follow those of the Republic. The lists give full numbers to varieties of type, watermark and perforations in many cases, though some of the varieties of the latter are treated as sub-varieties, as are shades. This makes the lists rather full for one who is looking for simplified collecting. It would really be a great boon if the catalog makers would get together and decide upon the "simplified" and the "amplified" portions of the stamp lists, and then have all catalogs present a uniform arrangement along these lines. Otherwise the poor novice is often at a loss to know where to draw the line, so that he may be able to say he has at least a "representative" collection, where "completeness" in its ordinarily accepted sense is impossible for him.

Explanatory tables of terms, stamp inscriptions, monetary values, cuts of "native" stamps hard to identify, and a list of colonies and protectorates of various countries form helpful data for the student at the beginning of the work. This catalog seems to be a favorite with American collectors, and we bespeak a warm welcome for it. Price 80 cents from Yvert and Tellier, 37 Rue des Jacobins, Amiens, France.

By J. M. BARTELS.

The New German "Normal Katalog."—Throughout Europe with the exception of Great Britain the catalogue of Senf Brothers of Leipzig has been almost exclusively used as a basis for stamp transactions for over fifteen years. A new rival has now appeared in what is called the "Normal Katalog," issued under the auspices of the International Philatelic Society of Dresden, the Berlin Dealers Association, and over thirty other philatelic organizations. It is published by Paul Kohl of Chemnitz, which is a guarantee for excellent work.

Specialists in many countries have been called upon to contribute their share of work by taking care of their favorite subjects. The result has been a very excellent piece of work in the shape of a practical catalogue gotten up and priced on a uniform basis. It is intended to meet the demand of the general collector and moderate specialist. The subject of pricing has been given a great deal of attention. In all difficult cases quotations have been fixed or passed upon by special committees or experts.

A list of reprints, generally with prices, will be found a welcome appendix to each country. Only adhesive postage stamps have been included in the "Normal Katalog."

The German Empire followed by its colonies, and the old German States form the beginning of the book, while all other countries are arranged in alphabetical order. Not much is to be said in regard to prices. There are, of course, many variations from Senf and other catalogues expressed, though the prices are stated to be strictly net.

The reception throughout Germany of the new comer is by no means one of unanimous joy. Some of the influential societies are prescribing the use of the "Normal Katalog" in marking stamps for their exchange departments. Dealers' stocks are mostly arranged by Senf, and they are naturally loth to make a change until they know that the future is secure. It will of course be necessary to publish a new edition annually if the "Normal Katalog" is to become a permanent standard.

The U. S. section of the catalogue is fully illustrated. Types and other varieties are generally included in smaller type. A page and a half is devoted to "Reprints" which include special printings. As the philatelic convention at Karlsbad last August adopted a new definition of the philatelic idea of a reprint and made no provision for special printings, no less than 59 of the latter will have to be classed as originals, because they were printed at a time when the regular stamps were still in use and being produced for postal purposes. The definition of a reprint as finally adopted after the use of a great deal of printer's ink and discussion reads:

"Reprints are impressions of postage stamps produced by using the genuine dies or original plates at a time when the printing of similar postage stamps for postal use had previously been finally discontinued."

The book is bound in red cloth cover. The printing, paper and workmanship are excellent.

A BUSINESS WORD.

Our splendid 16 paged issue of the WEEKLY was certainly a superb number and Chicago may indeed feel pleased at our recognition of its philatelic life and activity. When at some future date we again take this city as the subject of a special we prophesy a greater and grander recital of greater and grander philatelic achievements.

Our eyes from a business standpoint are now fixed on Texas. Our "Lone Star State" special is slated for Nov. 20. Another splendid issue, fine cover and literary contents. We shall have little time to go out after business and must ask you to deal direct with us. What space do you want and where do you want it?

THE MANAGING EDITOR.

EDITORIAL.

We Were First—H. S. Adair, secretary of the American Philatelic Society thinks the fact that America was the home of a flourishing "philatelic literature society" long before the recently organized society of collectors of philatelic literature in England had been launched is worthy of extended remark. The English society is one of select membership and its dues are almost prohibitive to the one who is not really seriously interested in literature; it publishes its own journal, a quarterly, whose circulation is restricted to the members of the society. The magazine is a superior one, generally, and its contents and typography are such as to make an impression that is highly favorable. The philatelic literature society in America was not so exclusive in character; it was based on popular lines as the yearly fee was small; and among the officers were an exchange superintendent and an auction manager. The official journal was the Pennsylvania Stamp of Patterson's Mills, Pa.; subscription rate fifteen cents a year. It was in the first number of this paper that the publishers said in their introductory: "Another stamp paper pounces upon you. We hope you will not resent it."

* * *

Proof—In the Eastern Philatelist for December, 1895, Ben L. Morris, Bellaire, Ohio, spoke of the desirability of forming a society for collectors of philatelic literature; and it was soon manifest that the suggestion was not unheeded. In those days, there were societies numerous and active while stamp papers came in shoals. The person who aimed to obtain all the publications of the period perforce became a collector of "philatelic literature." In the February number of the Pennsylvania Stamp, it was announced that the society was in process of formation and in the April number, (there was no March issue of the Pennsylvania Stamp) the Philatelic Literature Society had become a reality. It was organized March 1, 1896, and chiefly through the efforts of Ben L. Morris, Bellaire, Ohio, and Geo. E. Cleaver, secretary pro tem, Reading, Pa., no fewer than seventy members pledged their support at the start. In the file of the Pennsylvania Stamp that Mr. Adair has sent for reference purposes, No. 7 or the September issue is the last; and if we remember correctly, the paper suspended publication or perhaps was absorbed by another publication with that number. In the issue in question, the secretary said: "I am pleased to report that the future of our society is very bright. Very little effort has been made to secure new members as the rules in our constitution will be very strict in this regard." Whether the constitution did appear elsewhere in print or whether the new society with its creditable list of charter members continued existence after the disappearance of its official journal, we cannot say at this moment. The last member to become allied with the Philatelic Literature Society was H. E. Deats, Flemington, New Jersey. Dr. Geo. N. Campbell was president of the society; the number of Mr. Adair was 37. Other societies of collectors of the literature of our pursuit came later in this country but, we take it, Mr. Adair merely wishes to emphasize the fact America may claim title to the original society of the kind.

Frightful Mortality—In an article that appeared in a paper dated February, 1896, G. E. Cleaver whom we have mentioned, advocated the formation of a society whose members would concern themselves with the literature of philately. In his article, "Shall We Have a Philatelic Literature Society?" Mr. Cleaver said that since 1864 (to 1896), there had been approximately 750 different stamp publications issued "of which only about 45 are now in existence." These statistics apply only to the U. S. and Canada. Further, Mr. Cleaver said that there "are probably 300 to 400 literature collectors in the U. S. and Canada who are interested in a library." While there has been no check-list of philatelic publications prepared recently for the public, one may venture the estimate, based on Mr. Cleaver's figures submitted in 1896, that over one thousand different stamp papers have saluted philatelists up to the present; many of them did not depart with valedictory announcement so suddenly did an unkind fate overwhelm them. Verily, it is easy to start a stamp paper and easy to stop it.

* * *

The Living Head—In the article, "New Moneys of Lincoln's Administration" that appeared in Harper's New Monthly Magazine for October, 1890, to which extended reference was made several weeks ago, we find the following paragraph: "There is an act of Congress which prohibits the engraving upon any of the Treasury issues of any portrait the original of which is living. It originated in the fact that the head of the Bureau of Engraving in 1864 placed his own portrait upon the plate of the five-cent note. It was a presumptuous act, so fiercely denounced by the press that only a single issue from the plate was made. To prevent its repetition, the act was afterwards passed. This five-cent note is much sought after by collectors, and is much the scarcest of the Treasury issues during the war." So, it seems, that the United States had a case similar or somewhat parallel to the famous Connell episode. We have been promised some additional information on the subject of this "living head" for an early issue. However, it was years after 1864, we believe, that it was specifically forbidden by congressional act that the portrait of any living person be employed in the design of a postage stamp.

* * *

We Are Slow—In the speech of Hon. William S. Bennet of New York in the House of Representatives, May 13, 1909, on "The Post-Office, Our Mutual Express Company," he said, in submitting the views of the Postal Progress League: "From the foundation of our National Government, the people of the United States through their representatives in Congress have always determined the scope of their postal service, the pay of their mail carriers, their own postal rates; and from the first they seem to have provided for the postal transport of merchandise in very small sealed parcels at very high rates—by the act of 1792, twenty-four cents an ounce for distances up to 30 miles, higher rates for greater distances. In 1810 they fixed the postal weight limit at three pounds and so it remained for many years. In 1863, postal rates were made uniform regardless of distance and since 1863 Congress has definitely provided for the transport of merchandise in unsealed parcels, but still with a weight so low and rates so high as to be practically prohibitive."

$122,500 FOR AVERY COLLECTION.

(Wm. Ward and A. A. Kelson send us a clipping from the London Daily Mail that will be read with interest. W. H. Peckitt, the well known London dealer, has just purchased the famous Avery collection at a record price.—ED.)

The largest private stamp collection ever sold has just been acquired for the record sum of $122,500 by W. H. Peckitt, stamp dealer, Strand, from the executors of the late Sir William Avery. Compiled throughout a long life from the age of eight, it is generally understood to be the largest general collection of postage stamps next to that in the British Museum. It is rich in all the great rarities, comprises from 90,000 to 100,000 stamps, and represents almost completely the postal systems of every country in the world.

Two "gems" are unused Post Office Mauritius. Recently, in Paris, a collection of Swiss stamps of the millionaire banker M. Paul Mirabaud was sold for approximately $20,000 but in the Avery collection there are several unique pieces lacking in the Mirabaud one.

The Avery collection of three-cornered issues of the Cape of Good Hope in many respects is superior to the Vernon Roberts collection, sold to Mr. Peckitt in 1907. The original stamps were engraved in London, but during a temporary shortage in the Colony, a local engraver had to provide an imitation. These are extremely rare. There is a unique block of the penny brick-red stamp, and a pair and a single of the fourpence unused, and five superb used pairs.

The collection also includes a copy of the three-lire stamp of Tuscany unused.

The pair of the 27-paras Moldavian stamp is priceless, and in no other collection will there be found so large a number or rare first stamps of Moldavia, for which Sir William Avery had a penchant. On one day he bought three complete sets, twelve stamps, for $10,000, a record deal in any single class of rarity.

The Paul Collection.

With a single exception (the Ayer Collection, also bought by the New England), the largest purchase ever made in the American Stamp World, and one of the largest ever made anywhere.

In competition with some of the largest dealers in America and Europe, we were the highest bidders. Inside of five days we paid Spot CASH and took possession. It will be several months before everything will be in shape but in the meantime we would be glad to receive want lists and will give them our careful attention.

FULTON STAMP CO.,
102 W. 42d St., NEW YORK.

The collection includes many rare stamps of Great Britain, among them being some of the Parliamentary envelopes unused in January 1840, some five months before the issue of the first stamp and Mulready envelope. There is a part sheet of twenty of the rare penny black V. R. stamp, worth about $50 apiece singly and of almost priceless value in a large block as in this instance.

Sir William had also an experimental stamp showing the first attempts to perforate postage stamps by Henry Archer.

There are of the famous circular British Guiana stamps of 1850 the four cents on orange paper, another on yellow paper, two copies of the eight cents on green paper, and five of the twelve cents on blue paper.

Of the series of 1862, the four cents black on blue, is shown in a complete reconstructed sheet, including seventeen unused and unsigned copies, each lacking the signature of the postmaster. Only three examples of such sheets are known, the others being in the British Museum, and in the French collection referred to. Unique again is the only word which will describe the beautiful unused pair of the 12d black stamp of Canada, of which the collection contains five copies in all.

LONE STAR STATE SPECIAL

old business. Have found trade conditions good and am bringing home lots of stamps. I hope to do more business this winter than I have ever done before." This from London, under date of October 16.

—The Trenton Philatelic Society held a social at the residence of W. G. Fitzcharles, October 28. A short business meeting was held previous to the social hour.

—Mr. Mozian of the Ararat Stamp Co. writes that the 35h was accidentally omitted from his advertisement of the Austrian Jubilee set. Nevertheless, this stamp was added to every order filled, nearly one hundred orders for the set having been received. This is a good tribute to the pulling power of the WEEKLY.

—We learn that it is the expectation of the publishers of the Melville Stamp Books to have the second series started immediately, and the United States will receive a much larger share of attention than in the first series. Two, and possibly three, of the parts will no doubt be made of special interest to U. S. collectors.

—F. W. Reid, who prides himself upon filling orders "within twenty-four hours of receipt" has been up against a hard proposition in connection with his advertisement of Oct. 16. This advertisement proved a winner to such an extent that various lines were soon sold out. Some "too late" orders have been held over for early filling. His supply of Scott's catalog was also slow in reaching him, much to his chagrin, and the inconvenience of himself and customers.

—H. W. Legg was made to advertise last week a 2kr "Auction Jubilee". This of course should have been "Austria Jubilee", the 2kr being offered at 12c each for fine used copies. Mr. Legg writes: "As I have yet to hold my first auction, I am a long, long way from the 'jubilee' stage."

—Geo. E. Marx sends us a clipping stating that the original issue of 50,000,000 Hudson-Fulton stamps was exhausted within three days after being placed on sale and this was supplemented by an additional issue of 20,000,000.

CHRONICLE OF NEW ISSUES.

Edited by HENRY A. KIDDER.

Any information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged. Address HENRY A. KIDDER, 17 Addison Street, Arlington, Mass.

UNITED STATES.—W. H. Stauffer reports having seen the 1c blue revenue stamp of 1908, pin perforated on one side.

Henry Hatheway reports having seen a 1c permit of Louisiana, Mo., with the value changed by surcharging a figure "4" in red over the "1" of the old value. Mr. Hatheway also reports having seen a current 8c stamp, precancelled "Bufalo, N. Y.", posted over a 7c permit of the same city.

Charles A. Townsend suggests "that something must be doing in Scranton," as the I. C. S. mail from thence now bears stamps cancelled in the sheet, with a new device, showing two horizontal oval lines, with "Scranton" at the top and "Pa." at the bottom. Mr. Townsend has seen the current 2c, 3c and 4c stamps thus precancelled. The precancellation is irregularly placed, and evidently one impression suffices for two stamps, at least. Mr. Townsend also shows the 50c stamp of 1902, precancelled "Chicago, Illinois," in the familiar type, but with the surcharge inverted. Mr. Townsend

Wanted: Prec. Lincoln Stamps, also all other Prec. and Paid in Cash Permits. Send me your duplicates. Will treat you right. For Sale: 100 varieties Precancelled 1c to $1.00, $0.50 says this is the only 50c Chicago stamp he has seen with inverted surcharge, though he has previously seen the 1c, 3c and 13c of the same issue inverted. In regard to the "Akron, Ohio," precancel, Mr. Townsend writes: "Every few months some one 'discovers' a new Akron precancel, showing a change either in the height of the letters or the length of the name. About a year ago I sent MEKEEL's an impression on blank paper of the roll used. If there is any variation in size it is simply due to the spreading under pressure of the now very soft rubber." Mr. Townsend winds up his budget by reporting the current 6c stamp precancelled "Mansfield, Ohio."

A. C. Roessler reports having seen the 2c Lincoln, on blue paper, with plate numbers 4976, 4977, 4978 and 4979.

Henry C. Bausinger reports having seen the Hudson-Fulton stamps with plate numbers 5398 and 5813, and says he has found specimens with two white periods below each figure "2". Mr. Bausinger reports having seen the following envelopes: 2c claret envelope of 1907 with a large white "0" in front of the head; 2c carmine on amber of 1907 with a large white bar below the "o" in "Two"; 2c carmine of 1907, with left figure "2" and outer frame line joined; also the Alaska-Yukon stamp, with red streaks running through the word "Postage."

Wm. H. Fisher, Jr., Rich. Lamprecht and others send us information proving that both Ernest F. Runyon and George Curtiss Job were right in regard to the defects in the Hudson-Fulton stamps, but that neither were of sufficient importance to warrant insertion in the catalogue. All these defects result from an imperfectly washed plate, and not from any defect in the plate itself.

BELGIUM.—Henry C. Bausinger reports having seen Scott's No. 108 with the value spelled "Cintime", and the name of the country also with the familiar old spelling "Belcique"; also No. 118, with a period between the "1" and "2".

BOLIVIA.—L'Echo chronicles three more values of the commemorative set, the 20c having previously been noted.

Adhesives.
5c blue and black; arms.
10c green and black; portrait, Murillo.
2 bol. carmine; portrait, Montes.

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC.—In No. 958, Hermann Focke reported the 6c postage due stamp, a new value, as being printed on paper watermarked crosses and circles. The same gentlemen now reports 2c and 10c postage due stamps with the same watermark. The 5c value has been withdrawn, and the 4c still appears on unwatermarked paper.

ECUADOR.—The Scott Stamp & Coin Co. shows us an unused copy of the new provisional chronicled in No. 983, and we find it was printed with a rubber stamp, and very imperfectly done, the surcharge appearing to be dirty or smudgy. By the way the word "Centavos" is properly spelled in the surcharge, and not as stated in the original chronicle.

MONTERRAT.—A. O. Titmann is informed that on the morning of Sept. 18, the stamps in the new color scheme were issued in the island, and the old stamps were withdrawn from circulation.

NEW SOUTH WALES.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us the current 2d bright ultramarine stamp on chalky Crown A paper, perforated 11 1/2 x 11.

PARAGUAY.—Roger Q. Pease sends us Scott's No. 147 showing a variety, the three rules being divided in the centre, and consisting really of six short rules. Mr. Pease also shows us a block of the 60c orange brown official with the same surcharge, one of which shows the same variety.

URUGUAY.—Hermann Focke sends us a new provisional from this Republic. The rate of postage from Uruguay to foreign countries having been reduced from ten to eight centesimos, a new provisional has been issued of the latter

Resignation accepted, 1

Total membership Nov. 6, 1909, 1806

Notice the fine list of applications this week. It is now time to be up and doing and we expect every member to take part in the grand rally that has just started.

The Secretary has changed his location and from now on will be located at Atlanta, Georgia. This change was made imperative from reasons of business and could in no way be avoided. He hopes to come in close contact with the philatelists of the South and will be glad to meet any members or non-members that may come his way. All mail addressed to Columbus, Ohio, will be forwarded. Permanent address will be given shortly.

H. S. ADAIR, Sec.

The International Secretary is in receipt of the following communication from the Österreichischer Philatelisten-Klub "Vindobona" of Vienna, Austria, dated Oct. 9:

"We have received your esteemed communication of Aug. 31, and learn to our great satisfaction that your society has had the kindness to elect our club to corresponding membership. We highly appreciate this honor and beg to extend our most sincere thanks.

Respectfully,
H. RITTER VON WOERZ, Pres.
WILLIAM WALLEAST, Sec."

CHICAGO BRANCH No. 1.

The 278th regular meeting of the Chicago Branch No. 1, American Philatelic Society was held in the club rooms of the Chicago Philatelic Society on the evening of October 13, 1909. President Whitaker called the meeting to order with the following members present: Rogers, Clark, Mudge, Wolsieffer, Farnham, Whitaker, Mizera, Severn, Roterberg, Fowler, Mr. William Bloss attended as a visitor.

The minutes of the previous meeting were approved as read. Applications of W. H. Gilley and Wm. Lockie were received and posted. William Bloss was elected to membership. The resignation of J. S. Hard and S. E. Moisant were accepted. Dr. F. B. Merrill was dropped from membership as he is no longer a member of the parent organization.

The subject for discussion was the advisability of inviting the A. P. S. convention to Chicago in 1911. No definite conclusion was reached. Meeting adjourned at 10.30 p. m.

Tuesday, Oct. 9th, 1909. The regular meeting of the New England Philatelic Association was held this evening at 28 School St., Room 1, Boston, Mass. Meeting called to order at 8 p. m. by the President, H. W. Legg. Records of the June meeting read and accepted. Report of C. H. Stone, appointed to audit the Treasurer's books, read and accepted. Report of the special committee for the summer outing read and accepted and the committee discharged. The name of H. S. Adair proposed for membership and laid over, according to the constitution, until the Nov. meeting. There being no further business the meeting was addressed by Mr. J. M. Bartels, one of our members, who gave a most interesting talk on his recent trip to Europe. The members received a great deal of information both philatelic and otherwise from Mr. Bartels' remarks. His talk was certainly most enjoyable and the members in attendance were well repaid for their presence at the meeting. At the close of Mr. Bartels' remarks on motion a rising vote of thanks was given him for his

Do You Think of Selling?

If you do, and want ALL THERE IS IN IT, the best way is by the use of a well conducted and well arranged AUCTION SALE. Thus you get the benefit of the competition of COLLECTORS as well as dealers, not only for your property as a whole, but for every item of value it contains. We make A SPECIALTY of such sales; have already held 205 realizing nearly HALF-A-MILLION DOLLARS; we have a large and carefully selected list of BUYERS in this and other countries which cannot be excelled by any firm in our line; we hold sales both in New York and Boston, thus giving you the benefit of the two BEST MARKETS in the world COMBINED; we issue neat and attractive catalogues; make careful and advantageous arrangement of lots; make LIBERAL advances when needed and invariably secure the BEST RESULTS the market will permit. Many of the HIGHEST PRICES of the past season were recorded in our sales. Our SETTLEMENTS are PROMPT and our RESPONSIBILITY established. Our TERMS are still as low as can be given by any whose facilities even approach our own. We believe it is only wisdom for all who wish to TURN STAMPS INTO CASH to consult us before placing a contract elsewhere. LARGE COLLECTIONS, Dealers' stocks, SINGLE RARE STAMPS and sets are all in good demand and the prospect for good results this coming season is unusually bright. We solicit correspondence, or an interview wherever practicable. WE BUY collections outright where one is in haste to realize. Sales may be booked ahead and favorable dates may be obtained by early application.

MACHINE FOR REGISTERING LETTERS.

(Clipping from C. E. Thomas.)

The German Imperial Post Office has decided to adopt experimentally a letter-registering machine which, if it proves a success, will be an even greater blessing to the public than the stamp-selling machines already in use. In order to register a letter, all that is necessary is to insert it in a slot in the counter covered by a lid, which closes automatically as soon as the letter is dropped, and to turn a handle. operation not only stamps the letter with the name of the post office, the date, and a number, but delivers to the operator a receipt similarly printed. That is all—but to any one who has ever registered a letter in foreign countries it sounds almost too good to be true.—London Times.

As soon as your name has been published as an applicant you will probably have unlimited selections of stamps sent you on approval. As a great many collectors object to this practice the Society desires to break the practice up. Please aid us and help protect yourself and others against further imposition, by holding such selections without purchasing any, until sufficient funds have been sent by the dealer to return it to him by registered mail. Also please report the name of such dealer to the Secretary of the Society.

Approval Selections

I have several thousand dollars worth of stamps mostly 19th Century issues accumulated in buying auction lots and old collections, primarily for the benefit of my own collection. I mark all my stamps at net prices averaging with a few exceptions at from ¼ to ½ cat., according to stamps and condition.

I would like to send good sized selections to a number of responsible general collectors having from 2000 to 10,000 vars., and who will buy with reasonable liberality if suited. I feel sure I can please a number of such buyers.

As my time is limited I can send general selections only. Satisfactory references must be given. State size of collection when writing.

HAMBURG.

By BERTRAM W. H. POOLE.

THE FIRST ISSUE.

The first postage stamps for Hamburg were placed on sale on January 1st, 1859, the set consisting of seven different values. The design, which was the same for all values, consisted of the Arms of Hamburg, partially covered by large open numerals denoting the value as a centrepiece. The Arms are composed of a castle with three towers, the central one being domed and the others battlemented. Above the central tower is a cross, while the side turrets are surmounted by stars. On a scroll at the top is "HAMBURG," and on a similar scroll at the base is "POSTMARKE," i.e. "post stamp." On the left, reading upwards, the value is shown in words, and on the right "Schilling" appears. As the inscriptions on the left side varied in length, according to the value which had to be expressed, small ornaments were introduced to fill the vacant spaces before and after the shorter words.

There was a separate die for each value, and these were engraved by a gentleman rejoicing in the euphonious name of Johann Friedrich RexZiesenist. There is no record of the name of the designer—probably he was not proud enough of his handicraft to let his name be handed down to posterity! From each die ninety-six casts were taken in ordinary type-metal, and these, arranged in twelve horizontal rows of eight, formed the printing plates. There was a space of 3½ mm. between the vertical rows and of 1½ mm. between the horizontal rows. A line of printer's rule was inserted between each of the vertical rows, and, as these were the same height as the clichés, they show at the side of the stamps. Each horizontal row was numbered in the margin, and at the top of each sheet the words "Hamburgische Postmarken" were shown. The plates were made and the stamps printed by Th. G. Meissner, printer to the State of Hamburg.

Whether by accident or design we cannot say, but in all the stamps engraved by Ziesenist there are so-called "secret" marks. As these are of considerable value in distinguishing originals from the many forgeries that exist, we give a list of these as follows:—

tower and the line above "Schilling."

- 1 schilling.—The serif at the foot of the "T" of "POSTMARKE" ends with a dot at the left.
- 2 schilling.—There is a tiny dot under first "I" of "Schilling," and, in clearly printed specimens, a small dash above the "ng" in the same word.
- 3 schilling.—There is a dot on the left side of the "H" of "HAMBURG" near the top of the letter, and, in most cases, another dot is shown under the "r" of "Drei."
- 4 schilling.—There is a dot between the letters "Sc" of "Schilling."
- 7 schilling.—There is a dot in the space at the right of the Arms opposite the top of the "S" of "Schilling."
- 9 schilling.—There is a tiny dot after the "P" of "POSTMARKE" level with the bottom of that letter.

The stamps were all printed on white wove paper, each sheet being watermarked with twelve horizontal undulating lines, each undulation being about 15 mm. deep, bounded by a single-line frame. It was intended that these lines should correspond with the twelve rows of stamps, but owing to some of the sheets not being carefully "fed" into the printing press an outside row was occasionally printed on the plain portion of the paper, and the stamps were thus entirely without watermark.

The stamps of this issue were not perforated, and they were gummed with a brown gum, which makes some specimens appear to be on toned paper. The remainders of these stamps are all without gum, and as the stamps as issued, with the original brown gum, are so much scarcer than the remainders, our publishers give two lists of prices for the unused stamps in the Catalogue.

There are very distinct shades in the 4, 7, and 9sch values, but the colours of the lower denominations vary but little.

THE SECOND ISSUE.

In 1864 Hamburg occupied the Danish post office in the city, owing to the war between Prussia and Austria and Denmark, as explained in our introductory notes, and a stamp of the value of 1¼sch was wanted immediately. This have always been handicapped in their studies by a law which prohibits the illustration of U. S. adhesive stamps and stamped envelopes in the United States. Our firm is now ready to supply a set of 12 superbly executed photographic plates (8 1/2 x 11 1/2) containing 291 actual illustrations of all U. S. envelope stamps, including all Nesbitt die varieties, many dies hitherto not illustrated, also the complete set of the current issue, showing all varieties. Dies are numbered carefully and conform to Bartels' Entire Envelope Catalogue, Scott's Catalogue, also to The Die Varieties of the Nesbitt Series of U. S. Envelopes, and the National Philatelic Society book.

Collectors of U. S. Envelopes

H. F. COLMAN,
GEO. L. TOPPAN, Manager,
2723 Eleventh St., N. W., Washington, D. C.

was issued on February 29th, and a month later the retaliatory tactics pursued by Hamburg and Denmark resulted in the issue of a 2 1/2sch stamp. Both of these values were produced by lithography, presumably to the fact that they were wanted in a hurry.

The central design of the 1 1/4sch is very similar to that of the series of 1859 but on a background of a network pattern. The name "HAMBURG" is arched at the top, "POSTMARKE" is on a straight label which extends right across the foot of the stamp, and the value is shown in words in the side tablets. In each of the upper angles an uncoloured Maltese cross is shown on a background of solid colour.

There was a space of 3 mm. between the stamps in both the vertical and horizontal rows, and lines were ruled in these in both directions corresponding with the vertical lines shown in the preceding series. There were no figures at the ends of the rows and no inscription was shown at the top of the sheet. According to the late Mr. W. A. S. Westoby, "it would seem that later on in the same year another transfer was made, as the stamps are found closer together on the sheet, being 2 1/2 mm. apart, vertically and horizontally, with lines between and numerals opposite each vertical and horizontal row." The impressions from this transfer may be recognized by their indistinct and blurred appearance and the fact that the colour is always a deep red-lilac.

The design of the 2 1/2schilling was similar as regards the centrepiece, but all the inscriptions were on straight tablets, and in the corners were Maltese crosses enclosed in small squares. The stamps were arranged about 2 1/2 mm. apart, both horizontally and vertically, and they show the dividing lines as in the case of the 1 1/4sch. There were numerals opposite the ends of each vertical and horizontal row.

Both values were printed on white wove paper watermarked with undulating lines as shown in the typographed stamps. They were issued imperforate and with gum of a much paler tinge than that of the preceding series.

The stamps were lithographed by the firm of C. Adler, of Hamburg, and the design was apparently drawn by one of the employees of this firm. Mr. R. R. Thiele tells us that "the original stone is still in existence, on which the drawing of the 1 1/4sch may be seen in close proximity to the letterhead of a wholesale liquor dealer" (Philatelic Record, Vol. XXXI, p. 118). The 1 1/4sch may be found in a very wide range of shades, varying from deep lilac to grey, and it also exists in blue. Possibly some of these varieties owe their origin to climatic influences. In our list of varieties we have admitted three representative shades, but possibly the general collector will find one of these quite sufficient.

2 1/2sch blue-green,	15	0	10	0	5	0

THE THIRD ISSUE.
Between September, 1864, and April,

1865, all the values included in two series already described appeared perforated 13 1/2, the perforation being done by single-line machines.

In February, 1865, the colour of the 7sch was changed from yellow to mauve, probably to prevent confusion with the 9sch. Where fresh printings were made the stamps were produced by the same processes as before, i.e. lithography for the 1 1/4sch and 2 1/2sch, and typography for the other values, and the same plates were used in each instance. The typographed stamps were printed by Meissner and the lithographed ones by Adler as before.

All values were printed on the paper watermarked with undulating lines, and, as in the previous issues, specimens from the outer rows of the sheets are occasionally found without watermark. The 1/2, 1, and 2sch hardly vary in shade at all, but most of the other values exist in quite a variety of tints.

The 3sch in the ultramarine shade and the 7sch, mauve, are both known imperforate, but it seems highly improbable that either was ever issued for use in this state.

The 1 1/4sch and 2 1/2sch were privately reprinted about 1872 and later (i.e. some time after Hamburg had ceased using stamps of its own) on white wove unwatermarked paper, and also on the surplus of the old watermarked paper. They are found imperforate, and with two varieties of perforation—clean-cut 11 1/2 and roughly-cut 13 1/2. Those on unwatermarked paper or perf. 11 1/2 can easily be distinguished, and those on watermarked paper, perf. 13 1/2, may be identified by the roughness of the perforations compared with those of the originals. The following are the "general collector's" varieties of this issue:—

THE FOURTH ISSUE.

Although the letter rate to Lübeck was reduced to 1 1/2sch on October 1st, 1865, and the printed matter rate to the Netherlands was fixed at the same figure on July 1st, 1865, the authorities did not trouble about issuing a stamp of this value until April, 1866.

In this month a series of envelopes with embossed stamps of the values of 1/2, 1 1/4, 1 1/2, 2, 3, 4, 7sch was issued, these being manufactured in Berlin by the Prussian State Printing Office. The die for the 1 1/2sch envelope stamp was made use of in the construction of a plate for printing the adhesive stamp of the same value. The plate consisted of one hundred impressions arranged in ten horizontal rows of ten, and the stamps were embossed in colour on plain white wove paper. These stamps were rouletted 10 instead of being perforated.

The central portion of the design is very similar to that of the stamps of the preceding issues, and shows the numerals and Arms on a ground of solid colour within an octagonal frame. Around this the usual inscriptions are placed in the same order as before, and these are separated at the corners by six-rayed stars or asterisks, each having a big uncoloured circle in the centre. The whole is enclosed in a double-lined octagonal frame.

In the following June the lithographed 1¼sch stamp was superseded by an embossed one of similar value. This was also manufactured by the Prussian State Printing Office, and as in the case of the 1½sch, the plate was constructed from the die for the 1¼sch envelope stamp.

The design is very similar to that of the 1½sch, the inscriptions being on an octagonal border separated by stars; but the stamp was converted into a complete rectangle by adding a number of slanting parallel lines to each corner.

This stamp was likewise embossed in colour on white wove unwatermarked paper and rouletted 10.

Both values were reprinted about 1872 and in later years on white wove unwatermarked paper, and these exist rouletted 8½ as well as 10. The reprint of the 1¼sch is from a retouched die, and differs from the original stamp in having the small circles in the centres, of the four rosettes, which separate the inscriptions, filled in with colour. There is also no line in the upper part of the

THE FIFTH ISSUE.

In June, 1867, one more change took place in the stamps of Hamburg before they gave way to the issue of the North German Confederation in 1868. A further supply of 2½sch stamps was required, and as these could not be satisfactorily produced by Mr. Adler's lithographic stone, typography was resorted to and the old type of 1859 was rehabilitated.

These stamps were manufactured by Th. G. Meissner, of Hamburg, and it is probable that the die was engraved by J. F. R. Ziesenis, who was responsible for the dies of the other values of the same type. The "secret mark" on this value corresponds with that found on the 2sch stamp of the 1859 series—that is, there is a small coloured dot under the first "I" of "Schilling."

The stamps were printed on the paper watermarked with wavy lines, and were perforated 13½.

There are a number of distinct shades, and the stamp is also known imperforate. Compared with the other typographed stamps this value was produced in a very inferior manner, due, possibly, to the fact that it had to be manufactured in somewhat of a hurry.

CONCLUSION.

The few reprints, as we have already pointed out, were made privately some years after the stamps of Hamburg were obsolete, and these should present no difficulties to the collector. Forgeries of most of the values are very common, but as these are in the majority of cases but roughly executed they should hardly deceive the collector exercising ordinary care.

As the majority of Hamburg stamps are rarer used than unused, genuine stamps with forged postmarks are by no means uncommon. A common form of cancellation consists of a circle containing the name of the town and the date, and collectors should take note of the fact that such marks with a star or floret before and after the word "Hamburg" are undoubtedly bad. Equally common is a postmark composed of four parallel lines, either thick or thin, 20 mm. long and about 5 mm. apart. The forgeries of these usually have the lines too short, more than four, irregularly spaced or thickened at the ends. There is also a cancellation composed of four wavy lines, but the use of this seems to have been confined to the first issue only, and it is but rarely met with.—Gibbons Weekly.

HAVE I YOUR NAME?

HUGH M. CLARK,

536 Postal Telegraph Building, CHICAGO, ILL.

THE NEW 12-CENT STAMP.

(Chas. R. Morris informs us that the new 12c stamp is to have a portrait of Washington but the color has not been definitely decided upon. This will set at rest the rumor that the head of Martha was to appear on the stamp. The following editorial from the N. Y. Sun sent us by several subscribers is worthy of notice, as showing the interest taken in our postal emissions.—Ed.)

For the convenience of the public the Government is to issue a twelve cent stamp which can be used to pay postage and registration fee under the new regulations by which the cost of registry was raised to ten cents. The stamp will bear the head of Washington, and the color has not yet been selected. No one will be bold enough to look for an artistic stamp; the Post Office authorities seem to be violently prejudiced against good designs and pleasing colors. All that the most optimistic can hope for is that the stamp will not be a positive horror.

Among so many unæsthetic stamps as are to be credited to the Government it would be impossible to say which is the worst. Many persons incline to the opinion that the Seattle fair monstrosity is the ugliest thing that has yet been forced on the public. The Hudson-Fulton issue was not as bad as this, though little could be said in its favor. It is asserted that permanent employees of the Government prevent the adoption of good designs through jealousy. This may not be the case, but the fact remains.

The twelve cent stamp is likely to have a large sale, for it will be a convenience to all who send registered letters. It would seem that something besides the head of Washington might have been chosen for the design. The face of the venerated George already bears its full share of the burden of transporting the mails. But as it has been selected the least the public can ask of the Department is that it shall be printed in a color at once dignified and inoffensive.

ACKNOWLEDGED WITH THANKS.

A. P. S. HISTORICAL NOTES.

By H.A.DAVIS, Pres. Colo. Branch No.22

Year 1900, 15th Annual Convention

The International Secretary, C. P. Krauth, Pittsburg, died early in the year, and E. Doeblin was appointed to fill the vacancy. The year book was issued in April. W. C. Stone was appointed official editor.

In January the Board of Directors offered prizes in the shape of gold, silver and bronze medals, the total cost of which should not exceed $40.00 for the best exhibit of United States stamps at the exhibit of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences held in March, 1900. Arthur Burgoyne was appointed committee upon foreign revenue stamps. Wm. E. Loy and J. F. Johnson were appointed Resident Vice Pres. of San Francisco and Boston respectively.

A plan was on foot by several members to promote the re-establishment of the American Philatelist. Many circulars were sent members by the supporters of this movement and by those who opposed it. Several articles appeared in the philatelic press on the subject, but nothing came of the project at this time.

Alex. Holland resigned as one of the Vice Pres. on account of removal to Illinois. Albert Perrin was appointed to the vacancy, and acted as Secretary of the Board.

President Toppan issued the call for the 15th annual convention to be convened at Milwaukee, Aug. 28th, on May 16. There were two tickets in the field for Board of Directors:—

New York ticket—Geo. L. Toppan, Wis.; J. W. George, N. Y.; J. S. Rich, N. Y.; A. Perrin, N. Y.; H. G. Smith, Minn.; H. E. Deats, N. J.; H. B. Phillips, Calif.; Alex. Holland, Ill.; E. Doeblin, Pa.

Chicago ticket—Geo. L. Toppan, Wis.; H. E. Deats, N. J.; H. G. Smith, Minn.; E. Doeblin, Pa. H. B. Phillips, Calif.; M. H. Lombard, Mass.; P. M. Wolsieff.

$100.00 Catalogue for $21.00

See previous advertisement for details. In order to better introduce these Books we make the following offer:

If you will take one lot per month we will allow you a special discount of 20% ($17 instead of $21). In addition to this, when you have taken 10 lots we will give you an entire lot absolutely free, thus making 11 lots for the already reduced price of 10 lots and equals only about $15.00 ($100.00 value).

Even if you are unable to use 10 lots you still get the benefit of the several lots that you require at 20% reduction.

The catalogue value is absolutely guaranteed. That is to say, all discrepancies will be made good at once.

President Toppan called the 15th annual convention to order, in the Milwaukee Library and Museum Bldg., August 28. There were 51 members present and 314 represented by proxy. About fifty visitors were in attendance.

The Secretary's report showed the membership to be 563, a loss of 18 members for the fiscal year. Many excellent suggestions were made in this report. Some of them were acted upon during the sessions. The Treasurer reported the receipts to be $704.64; expenditures, $683.00; bal. Gen. Fund, $111.55; bal. Stock Fund, $1629.00; bal. Entertainment Fund, $125.89. Sales Supt. reported sales to the amount of $5804.04.

The following amendments were made to the By-laws: A charge of 25c is to be made for duplicate stock certificates when the original is lost; Resident Vice Pres. cannot sign an application as reference when their signature is required as resident Vice President; applications for re-instatement are to be published in the official journal under the same conditions as ordinary applications; a committee on resolutions was added to the list of standing com.; the words "Official Board" are to be replaced by "Board of Directors" wherever they occur in the By-laws; all reports must be made in writing; in addition to the above there were many changes made which merely made clearer the meaning of different sections.

Buffalo, N. Y., was selected as the next convention seat. The Weekly Philatelic Era was selected as the official journal for the following year. Sales Supt.'s Comm. was raised from 7 1/2% to 10%.

The Chicago ticket for Board of Directors was elected. The convention adjourned on motion of W. C. Stone.

H. G. Smith resigned as Treasurer to take effect Dec. 1st. He was appointed by the Official Board as Sales Supt.

C. L. Annan, Little Rock, Ark., was appointed Treasurer to succeed H. G.

The Paul Collection.

With a single exception (the Ayer Collection, also bought by the New England), the largest purchase ever made in the American Stamp World, and one of the largest ever made anywhere.

In competition with some of the largest dealers in America and Europe, we were the highest bidders. Inside of five days we paid Spot CASH and took possession. It will be several months before everything will be in shape but in the meantime we would be glad to receive want lists and will give them our careful attention.

20sh yellow green and carmine.

BULGARIA.—Gibbons Weekly notes several varieties in the provisionals recently chronicled. The 1s of 1889 has been surcharged upon both the lilac and dull lilac, and the latter has been seen inverted, and also with double surcharge. The 5s with the same surcharge of date above has been printed on both yellow green and dull green, the latter being also seen inverted. The 10 on 50s chronicled in No. 983 has been seen with the surcharge in black as well as red.

INDIA.—Ewen's Weekly reports that the 1/2a stamp has been issued with "C. E. F." overprint.

NETHERLANDS.—We have received from Mr. Schachne one more variety of card with the later arms, which have been in use for the last year or two. It is very similar to Senf No. 37, the changes being the newer arms, and "Aszender" only in lower left corner as on Senf's No. 41.

OUR BOOK REVIEW.

The 1910 or tenth edition of Whitfield King & Co.'s Standard Catalogue of Postage Stamps has come to us in most attractive dress; white enamel letters are impressed on cover cloth of rich brown red and the improvement in appearance is indicative of the success that has been gained by this distinctive catalogue. We have had the satisfaction of proclaiming the merits of this catalogue annually from the beginning and on this occasion, the tenth anniversary, our commendation is expressed more warmly than ever before. Even a casual inspection of the new volume reveals its many points of advantage and the usual plan of simplification is carried out as intelligently as before. The word "Standard" of the title is intended to convey the fact that only standard varieties of stamps are listed; "all minor varieties and perforation measurements, which the general collector takes no interest in" being omitted. In this connection, it should be noticed that watermark differences are considered as too great importance to be ignored. That there is a sufficiency of straight varieties to engage the attention of the collector is shown by the statistics, always a feature of the catalogue, that are submitted in this issue's preface: "The total number of stamps issued to date as included in this catalogue is 22,926, of which 6,835 are apportioned to the British Empire and 16,091 to the rest of the world. Europe has issued 4,834, Asia 4,423, Africa 5,154, America 5,034, the West Indies 1,856, and Oceania 1,625."

The catalogue contains about 500 pages, with 3700 illustrations. Many explanatory notes are given and add to the instructive interest of the book. The typography is excellent and in all respects the tenth edition of this catalogue is worthy of appreciation on the part of collectors generally. The pricing of the stamps seems to have been done with the care and judgment that are assets of the experienced publishers.

Standard Catalogue of Postage Stamps, 1910; Whitfield King & Co., Ipswich, England; price two shillings.

year collecting has taken a decided spurt. Everyone is talking stamps."—FRANCIS ROTCH, JR.

—"The Saginaw, Mich., branch of the A. P. S. desiring to interest young blood and also desiring to interest the school teachers, held an extensive exhibition of the more attractive stamps and coins at the Michigan State Teachers' Institute, which was held at the Auditorium in Saginaw, October 20, 21 and 22. The local collectors had on display such stamps as would attract and interest the teachers and show them the value of stamps as a help in teaching geography and history. Fred Campbell of the local society also showed a very extensive collection of coins. The exhibition was most successful in that it aroused considerable interest and also revived interest in stamps among the school boys. The convention was attended by something over 5000 teachers."—MAX P. HEAVENRICH, Sec.

—Herman W. Boers sends us a clipping from a Detroit paper stating that Monroe, Mich., wants a Custer stamp in connection with a local celebration to be held in the early spring, and the Washington authorities will receive a formal request for the same.

—Bright & Son commencing with our issue of Nov. 20 will take regular space on our editorial page, having sent us a series of advertisements running through the next three months. This is a valuable tribute to the value of the WEEKLY as an advertising medium.

—B. Max Mehl sends us a very nicely printed catalog of his 12th sale of rare coins, medals and paper money, to be sold Nov. 22. Address Mr. Mehl at Fort Worth, Texas.

AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN POSTAGE.

A recent issue of the Oesterreichisch-ungarisches Export und Industrieblatt, published in the interest of the Austro-Hungarian export trade, contained an article, the substance of which is presented by Consul Joseph I. Brittain, of Prague, as follows:

The imperial royal ministry has instructed the ministry for commerce to request all business men in the Empire who have correspondence with Austro-Hungarian consuls in foreign countries to cease forwarding to the consuls Austrian postage stamps for reply. Special attention is called to the international coupons, which can be purchased at all Austrian post-offices for 28 hellers ($0.0568) each. Attention is further called to the fact that these coupons are not necessarily restricted in their use to the payment of postage on replies to letters, but they may also be used in payment of fees for consular legalizations.

When these coupons are taken to a post-office the amount is paid in cash, hence may be applied to the payment of postage or for the purchase of small articles. Business men are informed that all postage on letters to Austro-Hungarian consuls in foreign countries must be fully prepaid, as well as postage for replies. Their attention is called to the fact that German business men have already availed themselves of the advantages afforded by the reply coupons.

QUERIES AND COMMENT.

Edited by C. E. SEVERN.

Our readers are cordially invited to ask the editor for any information desired concerning stamp collecting. Should a personal reply be desired kindly enclose postage. This department is for the beginner as well as the advanced collector. Address, C. E. Severn, 721 Oxford Bdg., Chicago, Ill.

T. N. N.:—We are in possession of no exclusive information on which to base predictions of rapid rises in value of certain stamps and so, we are chary about giving "tips for the speculative." Here is the opinion of a London observer given some time ago that in some measure is being vindicated: "I am strongly in favor of the better class of West Indians as a promising investment. There is no doubt about their growing in favor. Such old favorites as St. Vincent, Grenada, Bahamas, Bermuda, Jamaica and Trinidad are as good as consols. They unquestionably are recovering from the reaction from overpricing of a few years ago." The prospects for U. S., particularly of the earlier issues in fine condition seem to be very alluring.

B. S.:—Stamps that have been "cleaned" lose any sizing that the paper may have had originally through the action of the chemical; at all events, a drop of water on the surface of a stamp that has been treated chemically is quickly absorbed. This test perhaps is the simplest for ascertaining whether a specimen has been tampered with. Benzine, too, may be used in this way and it is sometimes helpful in showing the breakage line of a stamp that has been repaired.

J. Arthur Wainwright, Morganton, N. C. says: "Noticing is one of your issues an item relating to permits where the package bore stamps exceeding the value of the permit and suggesting a reason, I think the explanation advanced that the value marked on the permit was too low for the contents is the real one. Two permits now before me bear this out. One cover from the Baltimore Bargain House has printed on it, a permit calling for 17c but is paid by a pair of 8-cent stamps. Another from the Buffalo Forge Co. has the permit put on by rubber stamp and calls for 2-cents while the package was paid by a 1-cent stamp. In another permit from the Jewell Nursery Co., the original value, 1c was canceled and 3-cents printed in and the package was paid finally by a 3-cent stamp." Probably under special arrangement with the postal authorities the postage is paid in stamps when the permits call for excess postage or insufficient postage, as the case may be.

Edwin G. Hunter, Talladega, Alabama, writes: "Your correspondent, Mr. Sisson, of St. Louis, is in error, I think, in saying as in your last issue, that 'a solid star appeared between the plate-number and the label, Bureau Engraving and Printing, until the latest printings, when a larger 'open' star appeared.' On plates 4982 and 4983 there is, in the place mentioned, a small open-outline star. These numbers can scarcely be called the later printings." The last issue, at the time Mr. Hunter wrote, was August 14th, 1909.

D. H. D.:—In the issue of May 8th, 1909, there was an exhaustive article by Mr. Vanderhoof on the fiscal issues of the state of New York which has been reprinted separately and advertised for sale by the WEEKLY. (2) In brown violet, the violet is the basic and predominant color and the brown does not qualify it sufficiently to make it lose its characteristics or identity. This remark applies to "violet brown" reversing the order of the colors. "Which in violet is the lighter shade?" This is somewhat confusing but the cast of the violet in violet brown is the lighter or more elusive. "Which in brown is the darker shade?" The brown of violet brown.

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

These are a few rarities that are very seldom seen and in some instances have never been offered, nor could they be bought. A great many will not be found priced because of their scarcity. All these stamps are in finest of condition and must be appreciated. In many cases in order to guide the bidder as to their approximate value we have given Gibbons' prices and what they cost the owner.

414	*1854, 5c orange, a very fine horiz. pair, very scarce in this condition.	55.00

COLUMBUS BRANCH, No. 21.

The 69th regular meeting was held
November 2 at the club rooms, Vice President Field in the chair, with 12 members and one visitor present.

Minutes of the 68th meeting were read and approved.

Report of Board of Directors for meeting of October 26 was read and approved. Approval of this report carries with it approval of the action of the Directors in undertaking the editorial management of The Stamp Collec- tor, a monthly magazine to be published by Mr. Geo. W. Linn, and in selecting The Stamp Collector as the official organ of the Columbus Collectors' Club.

Mr. E. A. Bauer was proposed for active membership and his name ordered posted for the required two weeks.

Perforations were studied at this meeting of the club. Mr. W. H. Field had an excellent display of the various kinds of perforations and roulettes and the Secretary had a short talk from notes which were the joint work of
Mr. Field and himself.

Mr. Sachs secured a set of the new North Borneo stamps in the prize drawing.

Next meeting, November 16. Subject, Cancellations on United States Stamps.

Meetings first (informal) and third (regular) Tuesdays at Club Room 506 Kast Bdg., 7.30 P. M.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 13, 1909.

The 214th (regular) meeting of the society will be held at the Club Room on Tuesday evening, November 16th, at 7.30 o'clock. The entertainment will consist of two competitive exhibitions of United States Revenue Stamps, one to consist of the regular governmental issues, numbers 2800 to 3059 in the Standard Catalog, and the other of the Private Proprietary Stamps, numbers 3100 to 3628 in the Standard Catalog. So many of our members are interested in the beautiful stamps which have been used for collecting our fiscal taxes that we look for many entries in the contest.

The following amendment to the statutes will be voted upon:

ART. XI, Sec. 2. For the purpose of passing upon the eligibility of a proposed new member, three members of the Governing Board shall form a quorum. For transacting all other business brought before it, a quorum of this Board shall consist of five members.

TOPPAN. Regular meetings 3d Monday at Schmidt's Hall, 516 9th St. N. W.

The 46th regular meeting was held October 18, 1909. Eleven members and one visitor were present. The minutes of previous meeting were read and approved and regular business transacted.
Theodore F. Sheckels was elected to membership. The resignation of P. H.
Ward, Jr., as Supt. of Auctions was received and accepted with regret. Wm.
Sahm was elected to fill the vacancy.

The entertainment for the evening was a contest. The distinguishing feature of cuts of each of 16 stamps were mounted and presented for identification. Considerable interest was manifested.

November 13th.

The 202nd regular monthly meeting of the society will be held in the club rooms on Wednesday, November 17th, at 8.00 p. m. There will be a novel contest of guessing the country represented by some characteristic part of a stamp of that country. We had a large and enthusiastic meeting last time and want to make this one just as good if not better. Come, wake up, and come down and talk over stamps for an hour or so.

Our new 84-page price list of all countries which have no colonies, pricing over 8000 varieties of stamps, 200 different packets and 1000 sets is now ready for distribution and will be sent on receipt of 2c for postage. No collector can afford to be without this price list. The prices have been greatly reduced and many stamps are priced at from 50 to 75% below the standard catalog prices.

Our 32-page price list of United States and Colonies pricing over 2500 stamps and 56 pages of Great Britain and Colonies pricing over 6000 stamps both of which lists were issued a few months ago can still be had on receipt of 2c for postage.

A. P. S. HISTORICAL NOTES.

By H.A.DAVIS, Pres. Colo. Branch No.22

Year 1901, 16th Annual Convention.

Under the provisions of Article III, Sec. 3, of the By-laws, a mail vote was taken relating to the Sales Dept. The amendments called for a reduction from 1 per cent to one-half of 1 per cent on stamps submitted to the Sales Department, and to include substitutions which heretofore had been excluded.

For several years the association had been decreasing in membership. Provision had been made for the appointment of a "Membership Committee" which was to supervise recruiting. Jno. J. Oesch, S. T. S. Doncyson and A. F. Merrell were appointed on this committee. The mail vote to amend the By-laws resulted in the affirmative.

President Toppan issued the call for the 16th annual convention June 7th, to be convened at Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 20th. Chicago Branch 1 made the following nominations: Geo. L. Toppan, Wis.; Sam'l Leland, P. M. Wolsieffer, C. E. Severn, all of Ill.; H. E. Deats, N. J.; C. L. Annan, Ark.; E. Doebelin, Pa.; M. H. Lombard, Mass.; H. B. Phillips, Calif.

The 16th annual convention was called to order by Pres. Toppan at Buffalo, N. Y., August 20th. There were 69 members present and 135 represented by proxy. There were about 30 visitors in attendance. The Secretary's report showed a membership of 532, a loss of 33 members during the fiscal year. The Treasurer reported receipts to the amount of $451.54 and expenditures to the amount of $559.18; balance in the General Fund, $3.91; bal. Stock Fund, $1,687.00; Entertainment Fund, $125.89. Springfield, Mass., Denver, Colo., and Oswego, N. Y., were the candidates for next convention seat. Springfield, Mass., was elected by a majority of 16 votes. The Weekly Philatelic Era was selected as official journal. On account of the Pan American Exposition, and sight seeing, very little business was transacted at this convention.

The report of the By-laws Committee was presented and adopted. Very few changes were made in the By-laws. The Rules and Regulations of the Sales Department were incorporated into the By-Laws instead of being issued as a separate section as heretofore.

The Chicago ticket being the only one in the field was of course elected. The appointive officers for the year were made the same as the previous year.

The Membership Committee made a lengthy report and called attention to the fact that 67 applicants had been elected since their appointment, Feb. 1st, and 14 applications posted. The association continued to lose members.

The convention adjourned the 23rd on motion of Mr. Stone.

The Entertainment Fund balance of $12.94 was transferred to the General Fund. The association paid for its own entertainment this year, which cost $112.95. The Year Book was mailed Dec. 12th. The membership Dec. 30th was 498.

H. F. COLMAN,

GEO. L. TOPPAN, Manager,

723 Eleventh St., N. W.,

Washington, D. C.

Major C. E. Dutton, U. S. A., who it will be remembered had such a magnificent collection, came to San Antonio at this time in charge of the Arsenal here, and was made president of the society. E. W. Heusinger was elected to the vice presidency and C. H. Huberich to the secretaryship. Albert Huth was chosen treasurer, and these, with F. Hensel constituted the Governing Committee, which appointed Henry Callen, librarian, Chas. J. Rossy exchange superintendent, Albert Steves sales superintendent and Frederic Noyes counterfeit detector.

On Jan. 2, of the following year, the Galveston Philatelic Association also had a new election of officers. C. Dart, Jr., became president, L. B. Higgins, Wallace Smith and J. B. Weiley were re-elected to their respective offices; G. T. Austin was chosen librarian, A. Drouet, Jr., exchange superintendent and Fred C. Martini sales manager.

About this same time Dr. J. B. Breeding issued the first number of The Coin and Stamp, consisting of 14 pages and cover. It was adopted the official organ of the Alamo City Philatelic Society, but suspended publication after the second number was issued, when the American Journal of Philately became the official journal of the society.

Philately was now at its strongest in San Antonio and on March 18th of the same year, the local members of the American Philatelic Association, of whom there were eight, organized a branch society by the name of the San Antonio Philatelic Club, with Major C. E. Dutton president, Dr. J. B. Breeding vice president, E. W. Heusinger secretary and treasurer and C. H. Huberich exchange superintendent. Occasional meetings were held and a new election of officers occurred on July 27, 1894, when E. W. Heusinger was made president, F. Hensel vice president and Max E. Jesse secretary and treasurer. After that a proposition was made the Alamo City Philatelic Society to amalgamate with it, which was accepted.

On June 4, the Galveston Philatelic Association celebrated its first anniversary of its organization with an elaborate banquet. After this, however, the organization seems to have dropped out of existence as no further accounts of meetings were published.

In September of the same year the Texas Philatelic Union was organized with 32 members. A preliminary meeting was held at San Antonio on Sept. 5th, another on the 7th, and again on the 10th, when officers were elected. W. Schrimpton was made president, Chas. J. Rossy vice president, Frank Bosshardt secretary, Edward Brotze librarian, Max E. Jesse sales superintendent and Arthur Storms treasurer. This organization prospered for some time, but it was finally amalgamated with the Alamo City Philatelic Society on Dec. 15th of the following year.

On Dec. 22, 1892, the Alamo City Philatelic Society held its second annual general meeting, when it again adopted a new constitution, which among other changes, increased the Governing Committee to nine members. A new election of officers resulted in the re-election of Major C. E. Dutton president, Alfred E. Hayden vice president, E. W. Heusinger secretary and treasurer, Chas. J. Rossy librarian and Frederic Noyes counterfeit detector. Additional members on the committee elected were: Albert Steves, I. N. Fitzpatrick, E. F. Brotze and C. H. Huberich.

Philatelic Interest at San Antonio.

During 1893 the philatelic interest at San Antonio was alive as ever. San Antonio Notes appeared regularly in MEKEEL'S WEEKLY STAMP NEWS, and in the issue of April 6th the organization of the San Antonio Philatelic Exchange, with E. W. Heusinger president and Max E. Jesse manager was announced. The exchange was successfully conducted until March of the following year, when the organization was dissolved.

In May, the first (and only) number of Philatelic Puck, a humorous and satirical magazine, appeared from San Antonio. Dr. J. B. Breeding was editor in chief, W. Kelsey Hall, Guy W. Green and Gus J. Luhn, advisory and contributing editors.

The first annual report of the Alamo City Philatelic Society, consisting of 54 pages and handsomely engraved cover, was published during the same month, and on Dec. 15th the third annual meet-

Stamp Auction Results!

When you have any stamps to dispose of you of course want to get the BEST POSSIBLE RESULTS, and I know from my own experience that I do not exaggerate when I say that my monthly STAMP AUCTION SALES offer you this opportunity.

A FEW "REASONS WHY"—

1. I personally put up and describe every lot offered in my sales and my experience in this line enables me to put up each lot in such shape as to secure the best results.

2. The stamps I sell are not my own property as is the case with many of the auction sales now being conducted by different dealers, and I have thus no incentive to overestimate the condition or value of any lot, but aim on the other hand to give an absolutely accurate and fair description of each lot. My customers know this and are able to bid higher without fear that they may be "stuck" with a lot of undesirable stuff—such as happens to the mail bidders at many of the Stamp Auction Sales of today.

3. I aim to give both the "buyers" and "sellers" an absolute square deal. I always start the bidding at my sales at a small advance over my second highest bid—never at or near the limit bid as seems to be the practice at most other sales. Thus while I may not get the "record price" on a certain lot that some other concern does, the average price on all lots in my sales will compare favorably with that secured by any firm in this country.

4. My TERMS FOR SELLING are fair and as low as can be offered for the best service, and vary according to the quality and value of the stamps to be sold. WHEN YOU HAVE ANYTHING TO SELL BE SURE TO WRITE ME BEFORE DECIDING WHERE TO SELL IT. I can very probably both make and save you money. IT WILL PAY YOU TO REMEMBER THIS!

ing of the society was held, at which the old officers, with the exception of E. F. Brotze, as librarian, and Max E. Jesse and P. A. Coppard, members of the Governing Committee, were re-elected. That the society was at its strongest can be seen by the report of the manager of the Department of Sales and Exchanges, which showed a circulation of stamps valued at $1,647.26, with sales of $467.46. The membership of the society was 17 active, 1 life, 101 corresponding and 9 honorary. The society published a second annual report of 28 pages and cover during the summer of 1894, and held meetings successfully until October of the same year, when a "crash" occurred and the society was disbanded.

Texas Publishes a Weekly Stamp Paper.

In the summer of 1894, A. M. Rare-shide of New Orleans moved to Houston, and there commenced on July 19, the publication of the Southern Weekly Philatelist, a three column, four page well printed paper, which gave every indication of becoming a standard publication. It published interesting notes and articles and should have done well; but as its subscription price (75 cents a year) seemed high to the average collector, subscriptions came in slowly and publication was suspended with the 11th number, issued Oct. 3rd.

On Aug. 15, the first annual convention of the Southern Philatelic Association, which was organized in the beginning of the year, was held at San Antonio. There were several sessions and adjournment was had on the third day. In the election of officers Texas was well represented. A. M. Rare-shide was elected president, E. W. Heusinger international secretary, C. H. Huberich treasurer and Frederic Noyes counterfeit detector. The Board of Trustees was located at Galveston, and consisted of M. A. Davey chairman, M. C. Harris and C. S. Nastis. Another, but partly unsuccessful convention of this association was again held at San Antonio on April 20, 1897. An extended account of the proceedings of the association, since the organization was conducted on the order of a national society, does however not properly belong in a history of the philatelic organizations of this state; suffice it to say, that Texas was twice afterwards honored in the election of one of their number to the presidency, E. W. Heusinger, in 1897, and Charles Roemer in 1906.

No sooner had the Southern Weekly Philatelist suspended publication, when Roy B. Bradley of Abeline, began the publishing of a weekly four page sheet, called the Lone Star State Philatelist, with a subscription price of 25 cents per year. The first number was issued on Sept. 10, and its first volume of 53 numbers was completed with the issue of Sept. 2, 1895. The paper was, however, soon made an eight page monthly, with cover, and after the organization of the Texas Philatelic Association, it became its official journal, as well as that of the Southern Philatelic Association. In the summer of 1898 the office of publication was moved to Waco. Here a new design of cover was added, and a year later the paper was issued from Hillsboro. After the issue of Sept. 10, 1899, ANNUAL CONVENTION. OF THE S. P. A.

Reported by J. C. RICE.

The Annual Convention of the Southern Philatelic Association was held at San Antonio, Texas, November 10th, 1909, with the following members present: L. T. Brodstone, Superior, Neb.; Henry Ernst, Gonzales, Texas; R. A. Garcia, Alice, Texas, and Wm. Moore White, J. C. Rice, Chas. Roemer, A. D. Zoeller and D. C. O. Wilson of San Antonio, and Edward W. Heusinger, President of the Texas Philatelic Association, was present as a visitor.

The meeting was presided over by Wm. Moore White as Chairman, and J. C. Rice, Sec. pro tem. After an address of welcome by President Heusinger, of the Texas Philatelic Association, the usual order of business was carried out, there being a number of important changes suggested and acted upon. The dues were raised to twenty-five cents admission and fifty cents per year.

A committee was appointed to study southern stamps and their history, more especially the Confederate stamps and the collection of data relating to the Postmasters' provisionals, this committee's findings to be reduced to writing and read before the next annual meeting.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, H. S. Powell, Iowa; Vice Pres., H. Wendt, Iowa; Sec.-Treas., R. L. Doak, Ohio; Sales Supt., Chas. Roemer, Texas; Exch. Supt. Wm. E. Ault, Indiana; Auction Mgr., B. L. Vorhees, Illinois; Attorney, F. D. Goodhue, Ohio; Information Bureau, L. C. Dorpat, Wisconsin; Counterfeit Detector, Eben S. Martin, Alabama; Purchasing Agent, Albert C. Stewart, Ohio; International Secretary, Willis Nolan, Ohio; Librarian, Dr. R. L. Allen, North Carolina; Fraud Detector, Henry Ades Fowler, Illinois; Trustees, H. L. Washburn, Texas, Jack Ralston, Texas; Official Organ, The Philatelic West, Superior, Neb. 129 proxies received and ballots cast.

During the afternoon a number of fine collections were exhibited by local collectors, and worthy of mention were the collections owned by Edward W. Heusinger and D. C. O. Wilson, both of San Antonio.

At the night session a joint meeting was held with the Texas Philatelic Association. A letter of regret was received from Dr. H. A. Davis, President of the Southern Philatelic Association, who was prevented from coming at the last moment. Pres. E. W. Heusinger, of the Texas Philatelic Association, read a paper, entitled "A History of the Philatelic Societies, Publications and Stamp Trade of Texas."

After this, the members adjourned to the Original Mexican Restaurant where an enjoyable evening was had. The menu follows:

—"The Moravian College Stamp Collectors' Club, Bethlehem, Pa., has been started with six charter members, but I expect that more will join in the near future. The very fact that the club has been formed has caused ex-collectors to look up their old albums. We have an efficient secretary, Mr. Theophil Mueller, an M. P. A. member. The collections represented run from 1000 to 9000 varieties. Eventually we hope to introduce a "Stamp Evening" at the local Boys Club. Moravian is a small college which may account for our success in starting but it seems as if it would be worth the effort in some larger institutions."—EDMUND DE S. BRUNNER.

EDITORIAL.

Texas Triumphant—Texas has been selected as the subject of a special number and none will say that the honor has not been fittingly assigned. Texas whose romantic history and stirring past has loaned a fascinating interest to the state has a more substantial claim for recognition by reason of its remarkable and unparalleled advancement since it joined the sisterhood of states. In a material way and in a civic sense, the progress has been at a rate to astound all. The statistics of today show that Texas, the largest state in the union, is now one of the greatest. Those who regard Texas as being in the division in which it was included in 1880, or 1890 or even 1900, must revise their opinions and alter their views, if they intend to pose as fountain-heads of authentic information. Texas proves a huge surprise and a pleasant one to the person who has not followed closely the story of the past few years. Modern Texas is up to date and a little ahead. It is reality in a setting of romance.

Bit of History—It is general knowledge how Texas formed part of the Spanish province of Mexico; how it seceded from Mexico in 1836, the battle of San Jacinto having been fought on April 21st of that year; and how it was an independent state or republic from 1836 to 1845, when it was annexed to the United States, with the result that war with Mexico was provoked. Yet there is a phase of its history that has not been cited often enough to warrant any reference to it superfluous on this occasion. It was the claim of our nation, which was supported by the opinion of France that the Louisiana Purchase extended west to the Rio Bravo. The French contended that the mouth of the Del Norte was the western border of Louisiana on the Gulf; La Salle on his return from France failed to find the mouth of the Mississippi but landed on the Texan coast and on this circumstance the rights of France were based. "Popple, an eminent geographer at that time, conceded this claim and represented on his map the Del Norte as the western limit of Louisiana." Up to 1819, the United States was active in maintaining its claim to Texas but in that year it relinquished its position in consideration of the cession by Spain of the two Floridas. It is gathered that Spain regarded the transaction as a diplomatic triumph; in abandoning the Floridas it had acquired full title to Texas. The Spaniards had some reason for felicitation as the people of this country were casting covetous eyes on the Floridas and seemingly were preparing for disorganized but popular acts of aggression. In President Monroe's message to congress, Dec. 7, 1819, the treaty is spoken of as follows: "For territory ceded by Spain, other territory of great value (Texas) to which our claim was believed to be well founded by ceded by the United States and in a quarter more interesting to her."

* * *

Republic Days—When President Tyler in his message of 1844, announced the negotiation of the annexation treaty with Texas, he said that if the measure was ratified,—"the government will have succeeded in reclaiming a territory which formerly constituted a portion, as is confidently believed, of its domain under treaty of cession of 1803 by France to the U. S." When Texas was an independent state it had an organized postal service of its own; and evidence to that effect is available in a document that is in the possession of Mr. Steinmetz of Philadelphia. A reference to the "expediency of mail interchange between the inhabitants of that vast tract, the Texan Republic," is found in an old print. Of course, this was before the days of the first general issue of postage stamps in 1847.

* * *

Always Active—Texas has long occupied a place of philatelic prominence. In the comparatively early times of philately, there were dealers in the state whose advertisements were commonly found in the stamp and juvenile papers of that period. Later, San Antonio was a particularly active society center; fifteen or more years ago, it had attained a celebrity through the enthusiastic endeavors of philatelists whose names became familiar throughout the country. The stamp papers of that time bear testimony to the interest that was taken by the Texan collectors in their local so-cities and some of the names of the organizers of local and the state societies survive to this day; and their owners are still industriously promoting the philatelic prestige of the Lone Star State.

* * *

Honor for All—To the Texas Philatelic Association, we extend our heartiest greetings and congratulations; and in recording our admiration for this state organization, we pay tribute to the originators of the body and to those who piloted it so wisely. Year after year, the Texas Philatelic Association maintains its unvarying way until it has become to represent crystallized philately of the purest kind. Every twelve-month, the state society convention is held and be the attendance large, as in a philatelicly prosperous year, or small as in a lean year, the work is always done seriously and unselfishly. Its course is carefully charted by the officers who each year seem to be selected judiciously and for proved ability. The Texas Philatelic Association has had its vicissitudes but somehow, it has managed to turn them into victories; and Texas, we say, has the most impressive state society that is extant today. We do not wish to concentrate attention on any one of the Texas philatelic workers when so many of them are entitled to equal praise; but due honor must be paid to Edward W. Heusinger, F. R. G. S., who so faithfully has presided over the destinies of the Texas Philatelic Association for years and who worked so diligently and patiently almost for a score of years to advance the philatelic banner of Texas to the proud place that it now holds. It is not alone Texas that exults in its state society.

* * *

Benefited—Texas has submitted many deserving philatelic publications to the public and some of them met with a portion of success and attained a longevity somewhat unusual. The names of some of these papers that made their entrances and their exits during the past quarter-century are remembered by the older collectors. To Royal B. Bradley who published the Lone Star State Philatelist, all stamp students owe a debt of gratitude. Mr. Bradley enjoyed the acquaintance of James H. Reagan, Texas, who was postmaster-general of the confederacy, and who was instrumental in organizing the postal service of the rebellious states. Mr. Bradley succeeded in getting access to documents and data on the subject of the stamps and the postal workings of the confederate states that were almost invaluable when published in Mr. Bradley's paper. The sum of philatelic knowledge of the confederate stamps was much increased through the efforts of Mr. Bradley and the co-operation of his distinguished patron.

B. MAX MEHL,

"The Texas Dealer"

FORT WORTH, TEXAS.

I am the only dealer in the United States—excepting N. Y. and Phila.—devoting my entire time exclusively to the coin business.

A FEW REMINISCENCES.

By G. C. CUENOD.

I started my first collection in 1861, at which time I was a pupil of a school in Switzerland that was attended by boys from many different countries. Among them were several boys from the United States and the Civil War was the cause of many quarrels and fights among the adherents of the Northern and Southern states. This attracted the attention of their schoolmates to the various issues of stamps of the Confederate States.

Some of the boys were receiving mail from Parma, Tuscany or Modena and others from India and far away places. The Swiss "Rayons" were great favorites and exchanging soon resulted in some very good-sized collections being made.

At that remote time catalogs and dealers in stamps were scarce articles, but in some way a list came into my hands and after considerable begging I succeeded in getting my father to make out an order from said list, which had been issued by a French dealer, E. de Laplante. I received my stamps in due time for a New Year's present in 1862.

My first album came from Germany and consisted of a small quantity of loose leaves, the sheets being preserved in a cardboard box supplied by the publisher.

A little later on I went to college but still kept on collecting and "swapping" with the other boys. Unfortunately the principal of the college found out that we were spending too much valuable time on our stamps, with the result that no stamps were allowed to be brought on the premises under penalty of having the same confiscated. This was a hard blow and as in the meantime the studies required more of our attention and the interest in stamps decreased I sold out my collection at a nominal price and gave up the hobby entirely for several years.

some stamps of Alsace-Lorraine which were used not only in these two provinces but in all the French territory occupied by the German armies. These stamps having the colors and values of the then current French stamps and bearing no name of country attracted my attention.

The war being over we went back home and took up our usual round of duties, but the hardships of military life during a very severe winter caused much sickness and I was among the number laid aside. During the time of forced idleness my old love for stamps was awakened. I advertised that I was in the market for old stamp collections and soon had more than I wanted, and ever since I have been a collector.

My present general collection has over 11,000 varieties and in addition I have a special collection of Swiss stamps. I also collect stamps on the original cover.

One of my remembrances about philately, a name not known in my younger days, is the first mention and recognition of the hobby in literature and theatre. The famous dramatist Sardou, in one of his early plays, "Benoiton's Family", speaks of Mr. Benoiton as referring to the smartness of his boy, who having heard a conversation among speculators at the stock exchange about the impending conclusion of the Civil War in the United States hastened to buy all the Confederate stamps he could get before the news became known to the public.

THE CAYMAN 1d ON 4d.

(This communication from J. E. L. Cox to Gibbons Weekly will prove of interest to Cayman Islands specialists.—Ed.)

I have just returned from Georgetown, Grand Cayman, where I have been staying with the Hon. G. S. S. Hirst, M. B., the commissioner for the Cayman Islands.

He assures me that this stamp was created for fiscal purposes only (stocks of 1d stamps at that time being so low in the post office that he had to actually reduce Government work for want of stamps for receipts for payment for work done), and that he gave strict orders to all post offices not to receive them for postage, and that in his own mind he is convinced that none got through the post.

A resident in Georgetown, Grand Cayman, showed me an envelope with one on, which had been posted and had been refused for postage, the letter being delivered and 2d collected as being unpaid. Another of these stamps was sandwiched in between several others on an envelope, but was noticed, and therefore not cancelled by the post office. I was informed by some one in Georgetown that eleven of them had been postmarked by favour, although not doing postal duty; I did not find out who had them, nor could the party who told me get it done for him, and the Commissioner tells me that he does not believe that this is so.

I send you 1/2d, King's Head Caymanian, the cancellation of which may be interesting. Bodden Town, a village in Grand Cayman, had a cancelling stamp, but it got worn out and a new one was ordered from England; before this arrived the old one got quite useless and letters had to be sent to Georgetown uncanceled, but as some had to be delivered enroute, there seem to have been some stamps delivered uncanceled. On this coming to the notice of the Commissioner (who was my informant), he gave directions to the Bodden Town Post Office to cancel by pen, in red (but I have a specimen in black ink). A minor point of interest is that the dating is American style, not English, one specimen being dated 3/30/09. This form of postal cancelling might easily seem as revenue.

I enclose a pair of 2 1/2d (1907-8), the left-hand one of which shows a long right leg to the "M." This stamp is the fifth down and the third across on each of the two panes of the sheet. I also have the same peculiarity in the 2 1/2d of the issue of 1905-6, but do not know if it is in the same position there. I examined sheets of the other values, but could not find that it existed in any but the 2 1/2d. I do not know if this has been noticed yet; I have not seen it.

I was informed that six hundred sheets only were issued of the first shade 1/4d stamp.

MEHL THE COIN DEALER.

B. Max Mehl of Fort Worth, Texas, has taken a large amount of space in the WEEKLY in recent years and is to the best of our knowledge and belief the only coin dealer outside of New York and Philadelphia devoting his entire time exclusively to the coin business.

While Mr. Mehl is "down in Texas" as he puts it, he claims as much business as any of his brother dealers and says "my sales for the current year will run above the $25,000.00 mark. During the current year I have put through some astonishing deals."

Mehl's Numismatic Monthly, about to enter in upon its third year, has been a marked success from its inception. The October number is a magazine of some twenty pages, finely printed and illustrated, a production of which the coin trade may well feel proud. It claims to have the largest circulation of any similar publication in the world, either past or present, and its success seems to be assured.

Mr. Mehl is the publisher of the Star Coin Book of over one hundred pages and with one thousand clear illustrations. It is the best book of its kind published, showing the prices paid for all kinds of rare coins. Our dealer friend is a member of all the leading numismatic societies and his large measure of success has no doubt been due to the uniformly courteous treatment accorded all his patrons.

The Paul Collection.

With a single exception (the Ayer Collection, also bought by the New England), the largest purchase ever made in the American Stamp World, and one of the largest ever made anywhere.

In competition with some of the largest dealers in America and Europe, we were the highest bidders. Inside of five days we paid Spot CASH and took possession. It will be several months before everything will be in shape but in the meantime we would be glad to receive want lists and will give them our careful attention.

FRANK P. BROWN COMPANY,

339 Washington St., BOSTON, MASS.

EDWARD W. HEUSINGER.

We present this week upon our cover the picture of the president of the Texas Philatelic Association, Edw. W. Heusinger of San Antonio, Texas. His work for Texas philately has been long continued and of a high order, and we are pleased to pay him and his society the tribute accorded them in this issue of our paper.

Mr. Heusinger's collection was commenced in 1898 and includes postage, local, telegraph and revenue stamps to the number of some 13,000. Besides his stamps he has a collection of post cards in a special album, 12x16 inches in size. He also has a collection of coins, his U. S. copper cents being practically complete, and including a large showing of gold and silver pieces.

That Mr. Heusinger is a great believer in the WEEKLY can be appreciated when it is known that he belongs to the Vol. 1, No. 1 family of WEEKLY admirers.

Philately and numismatics are not the only Heusinger hobbies. A local San Antonio paper recently announced him as having made an address before the San Antonio Scientific Society, the subject being, "Notes on the Early Cartography of the Northwestern Shores of the Gulf of Mexico and Adjacent Parts, with Remarks on the Historical Geography of Texas." Mr. Heusinger illustrated the lecture with his large and valuable collection of maps from the sixteenth century up to the present. The society also requested Mr. Heusinger to repeat at a special meeting in the near future his lecture, "The Aboriginal Indian Tribes of Texas."

We learn that he has also been engaged for some time in sociological studies with special reference to woman and he has in his library a collection of books on the subject of woman as fine as can be found in any private library.

Returning to philately, the Texas Philatelic Assn. is not the only one in which his society interest is manifested. While president of his own state association he is a member of the Internationaler Philatelisten Verein, Dresden; Societe Francaise de Timbrologie, Paris; Nederlandse Vereeniging van Postzegelverzamelers, Amsterdam, and the Philatelic Society of New Zealand.

He is also a Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society of London, and of the Texas Academy of Science at Austin, and holds membership in the following: The Sociological Society, London; Institute of Jamaica, Kingston; Hawaiian Historical Society, Honolulu; American Anthropological Association, American Statistical Association, American Historical Association, American Numismatic Association, National Geographic Society, American Folk-lore Society, Texas State Historical Society, and the Scientific Society of San Antonio in which he holds the office of First Vice-President and Chairman of the Executive Committee. And in the midst of all these multifarious obligations Mr. Heusinger finds time to contribute two very interesting articles to this issue of the WEEKLY.

The Managing Editor of the WEEKLY oftentimes feels that he is himself a very busy person, but the above brief resume of Mr. Heusinger's many activities causes him to yield the palm to his genial friend and correspondent from San Antonio.

NEWS GLEANINGS.

—Postmasters have been refusing to receive packages containing candy for despatch by parcels post. An official circular has just been issued stating that "confections in the parcel post extends only to fruit preserved with sugar", consequently candy not containing fruit is mailable as above.

—W. Ward, our English correspondent, wishes us to inform numerous U. S. collectors that he will reply to their Crete inquiries in an early issue of the WEEKLY. He finds it impossible to reply to each individually.

—Arthur P. S. Hyde, the Newport, R. I., dealer, will be in New York Nov. 23 to Dec. 3. Letters may be addressed to him at 41 E. 74 St.

EXCHANGE OF PAPERS.

It will take us a couple of months to make an exchange of foreign papers for the back numbers of the WEEKLY that have been sent us. We ask our subscribers to be patient. They have our thanks for cooperation extended.

CHRONICLE OF NEW ISSUES.

Edited by HENRY A. KIDDER.

Any information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged. Address HENRY A. KIDDER, 17 Addison Street, Arlington, Mass.

UNITED STATES.—G. Newton reports having a cover with half of the current 4c stamp, cut diagonally and used for 2c.

Charles M. Breder reports having received a piece of first class mail matter, which instead of having an officially sealed paster, was rubber stamped, "Received unsealed at Jersey City, N. J." Mr. Breder also reports having seen the 2c Lincoln precancelled Philadelphia, Pa.

Arthur W. Line sends us the current 1c stamp, precancelled "South Whitley, Indiana," in three lines, between heavy black rules. This was used to mail a well known Lynn medical preparation, which is difficult to understand, unless the circulars were both printed and mailed there.

James Lewis Howe writes: "I think the flaw in the 2c Hudson Fulton imperforate, reported by A. C. Roessler in No. 982, on plate number 5394, will take the same position as the capped 2c of 1890. I find the circle on the '1609' on the same stamps, mentioned by Mr. Roessler, viz., Nos. 3 and 4 in the top row. I do not find any of the variants chronicled by C. M. Breder, on plate number 5394, so that these must be printing defects and not plate defects."

E. W. Murray sends us a copy of the current 1c stamp precancelled "St. Louis, Mo." this city having at last got into line with her competitors. Mr. Murray also sends us a 1c precancel of Elkhart, Ind.

George S. Chapman reports having a small portion of a sheet of Alaska-Yukon stamps, with a plate number 5249, imperforate, which has a stamp with this imperfection: The letters from "O" in Yukon to "A" in Pacific, are obliterated and one-half the space obliterated is very darkly printed, the rest being in normal color. This occurs on the fourth stamp down from the upper left hand side of the sheet, directly under the plate number.

ARGENTINE.—La Revue Philatelique Francaise chronicles a new value of the current set, with portrait of San Martin. Adhesive.
6c olive bistre.

BERMUDA.—The 2½d has been issued in a single color on multiple paper. Adhesive.
2½d blue.

CAYMAN ISLANDS.—The Colonial Office Journal states that this Colony is adopting a new 1d post card and wrapper.

CEYLON.—It is reported that this Colony will adopt the new color scheme, fugitive colors and all.

COLOMBIA.—Medellin.—Two new stamps are at hand from Medellin, and have been shown us by the Scott Stamp & Coin Co. The first is Scott's No. 471 in a new color, while the other is an entirely new design, being a small horizontal oblong, with "50 Cent." in the upper left corner, and a postman at the right. "SMP" and "Medellin," are the inscriptions. Adhesives.
20c emerald green.
50c red brown.

COOK ISLANDS.—The current 1d stamp has been seen perforated 14, on paper watermarked N. Z. and star.

CRETE.—Mr. Schachne reports that he has received all three of the surcharged cards noticed in No. 936 and 944. The surcharge has been spoken of as "hand stamped" but the reference must have been to adhesives as all these are evidently printed by a press. Post Card.
101 dark carmine (Interior).
191 dark carmine (U P U).
10+101 dark carmine; T.4. (U P U).

DOMINICA.—Three new stamps in the permanent colors have come to hand, and have been shown us by the New England Stamp Co.

Adhesives.

2d gray.
3d violet on yellow.
6d lilac.

GAMBIA.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us the new stamps, printed according to the new color scheme. All have the word "Postage" on both sides of the portrait, and therefore are on ordinary paper, though some of the stamps are printed in fugitive colors. Adhesives.

2d gray.
3d violet on yellow.
4d black and red on yellow.
5d orange and purple.
6d lilac.
7½d brown and blue.
10d olive green and carmine.
15h black on green.
15h 6d purple and green.
25h lilac and blue.
25h 6d black and carmine on blue.
35h yellow and green.

GREAT BRITAIN.—William Ward sends us an early copy of the new 4d stamp, which shows a complete change of color. The new stamp which went on sale Nov. 1, the King's birthday, is printed in a deep, rich orange on ordinary multiple paper, the design being the same as the old stamp. The New England Stamp Co. has also shown us unused copies. Adhesive.
4d deep orange.

MAURITIUS.—The Colonial Office Journal reports that the full set of stamps has been printed from the new design, which is described as having for its most striking feature, the key in the Arms with the wards turned inwards. The whole design is redrawn, however, the shape of the shield is changed, and the whole appearance is strikingly different. We cannot give the correct colors yet.

NEW HEBRIDES.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us the 15h green and carmine Fiji stamp, on chalky multiple paper, with the name "Fiji" obliterated with a broad red band, and surcharged "New Hebrides" in black over the red band. At the bottom appears the word "Condominium," also in black. This stamp is likely to be shortly superseded by the permanent issues, or at least by the new stamps in the permanent color.

PARAGUAY.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us several more of the current stamps, surcharged with new date, "1909" in black italic figures. Provisional Adhesives.
Surcharged "1909" in black.

1c rose.
5c orange.
10c brown.
20c lilac.
30c yellow brown.

30c blue.

PERSIA.—The current 1c stamp has received the same surcharge as No. 361 in the catalogue. Provisional Adhesive.
Surcharged "Imprimes" and Persian characters in two diagonal lines.
1c purple on blue.

RUSSIA.—Offices in the Levant.—The new set of stamps for the Russian Offices in the Levant have been surcharged "Constantinople," "Jerusalem," "Jaffa," "Kerasunde," "Metelin," "Mont-Athos," "Rizech," "Salonica," "Smyrna" and "Trebizond," for use at those particular offices. The face value of the full set will be something over $50 in American money.

ST. LUCIA.—La Revue Philatelique Francaise reports having seen "specimen" copies of the following, on multiple paper: Adhesives.
3d violet on yellow.
15h black on green.

SALVADOR.—Hermann Focke has shown us the 2c, 3c and 5c stamps on the same watermarked paper as the 1c value, recently noted. Mr. Focke suggests "that the low values gave out before the heralded new issue was ready, so that the authorities were obliged to print the stamps on a different paper with its world-celebrated philatelic treasures is for sale. It comprises between 70,000 and 90,000 separate pieces, and its accumulation of original covers is regarded by many judges as the finest in the world. Among the latter are two 12 pence Canadas (there are said to be only two others in existence on the cover), a Brattleboro and copies of the 5 cent and 10 cent St. Louis.

THE FAMOUS SEYBOLD COLLECTION

The collection has been so often described in its main features that every dealer in the world and thousands of collectors have read of it.

The collection is now in a Syracuse, N. Y., bank, where it will be exhibited to those seriously contemplating a possible purchase. The present plan of the owner is to dispose of it in its entirety. Applications for permission to examine it, with a view to purchasing, must be addressed to [87]

Do You Think of Selling?

If you do, and want ALL THERE IS IN IT, the best way is by the use of a well conducted and well arranged AUCTION SALE. Thus you get the benefit of the competition of COLLECTORS as well as dealers, not only for your property as a whole, but for every item of value it contains. We make A SPECIALTY of such sales; have already held 205 realizing nearly HALF-A-MILLION DOLLARS; we have a large and carefully selected list of BUYERS in this and other countries which cannot be excelled by any firm in our line; we hold sales both in New York and Boston, thus giving you the benefit of the two BEST MARKETS in the world COMBINED; we issue neat and attractive catalogues; make careful and advantageous arrangement of lots; make LIBERAL advances when needed and invariably secure the BEST RESULTS the market will permit. Many of the HIGHEST PRICES of the past season were recorded in our sales. Our SETTLEMENTS are PROMPT and our RESPONSIBILITY established. Our TERMS are still as low as can be given by any whose facilities even approach our own. We believe it is only wisdom for all who wish to TURN STAMPS INTO CASH to consult us before placing a contract elsewhere. LARGE COLLECTIONS, Dealers' stocks, SINGLE RARE STAMPS and sets are all in good demand and the prospect for good results this coming season is unusually bright. We solicit correspondence, or an interview wherever practicable. WE BUY collections outright where one is in haste to realize. Sales may be booked ahead and favorable dates may be obtained by early application. [eow2]

QUERIES AND COMMENT.

Edited by C. E. SEVERN.

Our readers are cordially invited to ask the editor for any information desired concerning stamp collecting. Should a personal reply be desired kindly enclose postage. This department is for the beginner as well as the advanced collector. Address, C. E. Severn, 721 Oxford Bdg., Chicago, Ill.

J. H. S.:—The current 10-cent yellow has not been issued imperforate but only in strips perforated at sides and imperforate between. (2) The difference between the 10-cent special delivery, No. 891 and 893, respectively, is in the added line under "ten cents" in No. 893, or the 1894 issue. (3) Double perforations are found in almost all the perforated issues of the United States and they must be attributed to carelessness in allowing them to be repeated in the machine. In view of the fact that the extra perforations at the bottom of your 3-cent 1861 are 3 mm. below the first row, it may have been that the blank marginal paper at the bottom of the pane was turned under, so that the perforating pins went through two thicknesses of paper; when smoothed out, the second perforations show below the regular ones.

A. B. C.:—We never heard of the 40pf, Germany, "Deutsches Reich" 1902, no watermark, on salmon, instead of white paper and can find no record of it, whatever; consequently, the paper of your specimen must have become discolored after it left the post-office.

O. V. M.:—"Poste Restante" taken from the French is a direction to the postmaster at the delivery office, placed on mail by the sender, to indicate that such mail is to be held until called for by the addressee who, usually, is a transient visitor to the city. (2) Postmarks were sometimes written with pen and ink and the stamps canceled in like manner in the United States until a somewhat recent date.

W. S.:—There is little chance that you have any adhesive postage stamps that are not in the catalogue. Probably, some of the specimens that you refer to are German private local stamps and foreign revenues. The issue of stamps is a matter to which a government gives close attention and official record is made of the production; consequently, discoveries of the kind you speak of are practically impossible of accomplishment.

REPRINTS OF SPECIAL ARTICLES.

(We have secured a nice binder of the right size for these reprints that we will send on receipt of 30c, which just pays expense of manufacture and postage. As reprints are issued week by week they can readily be inserted in alphabetical order. This binder is Carter's Modified Multibinder, made to accommodate our WEEKLY reprints and every collector should have one. If two or three can be ordered at one time they will stand handling better.—Ed.)

The thanks of the society are due Mr.

J. N. Morse, our worthy treasurer, in contributing the long-sought missing numbers of "The Postal Card" in a typewritten copy of Nos. 113, 114 and 115.

Volumes IV, V and VI, from February,

1892, to February, 1894, are now complete and the Secretary, per orders ofthe executive committee, has had them bound for preservation and reference.

Edited by the honorable George H.

Watson and the late lamented Adolph Lohmeyer, the volume is replete with postal card lore, both in new issues and notes on the society's hobby.

'09. Meeting called to order at 8.15,
President E. F. Sawyer presiding. On motion made by J. M. Bartels and seconded by C. K. B. Nevin, it was voted that G. Carlton Russell be appointed Secretary of the society in place of Mr.
H. S. Linneman, resigned, and he was unanimously elected.Mr. Nevin proposed the following amendments to the by-laws, viz.: Art.
V, Sec. 1. So that the meetings of the society will be held as usual except during July and August. Art. V, Sec. 3.
That five members shall constitute a quorum. The above to be acted upon at the next meeting.Under the head of social entertainment the members present were much pleased to have a chance to look at the set of 12 photographic plates of the 291 actual illustrations of all the U. S. envelope stamps now being advertised for sale by Paul Kohl, Chemnitz, Germany. The above set including all the Nesbit die varieties, a number of same never before illustrated, also the complete set of current issue, together with many of the rarer dies of the later issues.We also had the pleasure of looking over a portion of the collection of U. S. envelope stamps of our worthy Vice President, Mr. V. M. Berthold, and many of us looked at them with envy.
After talking over many other matters of philatelic interest the meeting adjourned at 9.18.

NEWS GLEANINGS.

—Mr. Hyde, our Newport, R. I., advertiser, expresses regret that his entire stock of 1st Condominium was exhausted within twenty-four hours after appearance of advertisement.—C. A. Edwards, Jr., favors us with a souvenir Japanese post card, upon the reverse side of which is a set of no less than twelve Japanese stamps, ranging from ½ to 25sen. There is nothing about the card that indicates the purpose for which it is intended other than that of a philatelic souvenir.—T. E. Flick sends us a rather unique cover upon which a stamp is pinned to the envelope and gives evidence of having done postal duty in this condition.—W. A. Cullers sending us in no less than seven clippings, calls our attention to one from the Kansas City Star. Mr.
Cullers writes: "This is the first time during the fifteen years that I have read the Star that I have noticed a stamp item in its columns." A letter is also submitted from the Washington postmaster showing that Lincoln imperforates were obtainable at the Washington office as late as Nov. 3.—Postmasters throughout the country have been notified by Postmaster General Hitchcock that in future parcels that are insecurely wrapped must be refused for transmission through the mails. Complaints have been received from foreign countries that many packages from American points have their contents damaged en route because of improper wrapping. The postal regulations provide that "parcels not properly wrapped must not be accepted for mail-

As soon as your name has been published as
an applicant you will probably have unsolicited selections of stamps sent you on approval. As a great many collectors object to this the Society desires to break the practice up. Please aid us and help protect yourself and others against further imposition, by holding such selections without purchasing therefrom until sufficient funds have been received from the sender to enable you to return the stamps to him by registered mail.
Also please report to the Secretary of the So-unsolicited selections.Crowl, Homer C., 2103 E. Lake St.,

It may be possible that there will be other "discoveries" and the publication of this little historical sketch with its intended wide distribution throughout Texas will no doubt put many collectors on a quiet hunt for Confederate Texas locals.

FOREIGN NOTES AND NEWS.

By L. HARALD KJELLSTEDT.

Business Outlook.—Europe has now entered upon a philatelic season which looks exceedingly promising from every point of view. The activities of organized philately, as represented by the leading societies, seem to be greater than ever. Europe waited for the United States to strike the keynote to a prosperous trading season, and now the boom is on throughout the philatelic world. It is undoubtedly a fact, that the early appearance of our Standard Catalogue made the promises of a lively market realise sooner than expected. As the 1910 issue of Gibbons' Catalogue can not be expected before the Fall of next year, the American Standard will be consulted abroad to a greater extent than ever. An American dealer friend of mine wrote me the other day that a European dealer held up the shipment of goods ordered until he had seen the new issue of the Standard Catalogue, and it should be added, that the order was for European issues only. That the operations of American dealers and collectors extend far beyond the boundaries of their own country is indicated by the frequent veiled complaints in the European press that alarmingly large quantities of the really good things are going to the United States. In connection with this it is worth mentioning the extreme scarcity of American issues in the advertised offers of European dealers.

Bellows' "Campeche".—In his "Philatelic Review of the time from the 20th to the 21st German Philatelisten Tage," read at the Carlsbad convention, Dr. Ludwig König furnished the only unfavorable criticism of Mr. Walter Clarke Bellows' "Campeche" which is to be found in the philatelic press of the world. He said: "A funny (schnurrig) written and still funnier gotten up book, 'Campeche, Some Notes on the most remarkable Postage Stamps ever issued, by Walter Clark Bellows, New York, 1909,' of which it really can be questioned if it does not exceed the permissible." Such an opinion, by a prominent German philatelist, of a unique work which has met with universal praise, is remarkable to say the least, but—perhaps the worthy doctor never read the book. In the same number of the Deutsche Briefmarken Zeitung in which the above mentioned review is reprinted, is also found a review of Mr. Bellows' "Campeche" in which the reviewer refers to the book as something of special interest to the bibliophile, and expresses regret that the edition is so limited, because its contents are deserving of the widest circulation. The Philatelic Journal of Sweden, in its October number, devotes two, closely printed columns to "Campeche" besides a portrait of its author. Having met with the most unstinted praise from the four corners of the world, Mr. Bellows can well afford to overlook the discordant note sounded by an ill-informed critic.

Unnecessary Issues.—In the "List of Papers and Displays arranged for the Season 1909-1910," sent out by the Royal Philatelic Society, London, I note a "Paper on the advisability of forming a Universal Philatelic Union of Philatelic Societies to discourage unnecessary or speculative issues," to be read at the meeting of April 7, by Mr. M. P. Castle. It remains to be seen from what point of view the author will treat his subject. If the aim of the proposed union should be to discourage the collectors of the world from investing in speculative stamps, and thoroughly discourage the issuing of such stamps, a good deal could undoubtedly be accomplished. On the other hand, I doubt very much, that any union of philatelic societies, universal or otherwise, would be able to discourage impecunious governments from following up the easiest method of obtaining revenue ever devised, nor do I believe that the Postal Union can be prevailed upon to adopt any effective regulations which would restrict the liberty of the post departments of the various nations to issue new stamps whenever they see fit to do so. In the last issue of the London Philatelist, Mr. Castle, referring to this subject advises us not to be too utopian, calling attention to the fact, that philately, after all, is only a fly on the wheel of the mighty machinery which we call the Universal Postal Union. If anything practical and worth the while comes out of the proposed agitation, I am sure that the great American society will not withhold its support, even if we are living in a glass house as far as unnecessary issues are concerned.

FIRE!!!

The Jamaica Times says: "A Belize correspondent informs us that on Sunday morning, May 30th, a fire occurred in that city and among the buildings destroyed was the Post Office. Nothing was saved from the latter and the remainders of past issues of stamps were destroyed. Even the postmarking stamps were lost, and letters were being mailed postmarked "New River Service", the postmarking stamp being borrowed from one of the northern towns." For the benefit of our speculative friends we offer:

EDITORIAL.

Bye, Bye—Henry N. Mudge, president of the American Philatelic Society will be absent from Chicago for about six weeks and during this period, F. R. Cornwall, St. Louis, chairman of the board of vice-presidents of the American Philatelic Society, will act in the capacity of chief executive. Mr. Mudge, in company with his wife, is leaving on a somewhat extended trip which is undertaken by Mr. Mudge for reasons of business, into which some pleasure will enter, we hope. The itinerary is as follows: From New Orleans to Colon, Panama, on United Fruit Company steamer, across the isthmus to Panama City. Return to Colon and sail for Port Limon, Costa Rica; thence inland to the capital, San Jose. From Port Limon down to Bocas del Toro, Panama, and then to Puerto Barrios, Guatemala City and other places in Guatemala. Steamer from Puerto Barrios, Guatemala, to Belize, British Honduras; thence to New Orleans. It is hoped that the trip will be attended by all good fortune and that Mr. Mudge will return home refreshed and rejoicing.

Tell Us About It—From Ignaz Stauffer, we have received a cover that bears a very interesting postmark which reads: "New York, June 1, 1876, 12.10 A. M." in regulation form and just outside the circle and around it are the words: "Jarrett & Palmer's Special Fast Trans-Continental Train." Mr. Stauffer wishes information about the peculiar postmark but we can furnish only speculation as to its significance. Centennial year, 1876, was one in which all manner of enterprise was at high tide. A trip across the continent in those days meant something and it is possible that Jarrett & Palmer were the first contractors to conduct a special train or tourist excursion from coast to coast. Perhaps, for the special occasion, the government deputized a special mail clerk on the train and allowed the use of the distinctive postmark and cancellation. The obliteration is the figure "1" enclosed in a small circle surrounded by thick horizontal lines. The letter in question was mailed from New York and addressed to Pittsburg and the postmark that has been described may claim to be the first one used for commemorative purposes. It should be added that the postmark and cancellation are both remarkably clear; it is evident that they were applied with utmost care. We are hopeful that an explanation will be received to account for the unusual markings.

* * *

The American Idea—Speaking of cancellations on United States stamps, we have duly extolled the "kicking mule" cancellation of that rare humorist at the Port Townsend, Washington, office; the gruesome "skull and cross-bones" obliteration on the two-cent, 1883, was casually and innocently mentioned, whereupon an imaginative writer concocted a hair-raising tale of the dread import of the cancellation. The anchor, too, was recorded and now, through the courtesy of Ben G. Green, we list the fly cancellation on the three-cent grilled of 1870. The common housefly furnished the inspiration; the obliteration is a faithful and enlarged copy of the insect.

A Lincoln Label—John H. Bateman has shown an interesting memento in the shape of a label that indirectly has a postal significance and which appeals to those who collect any item that pertains to Lincoln. The label as printed is a good example of typography of the times and is printed in black on green glazed paper, and reads, at top: "Johnson's Free P. O. Box, No. 7 N. 10th St., Phila., 1865." The street-number and date are at the bottom. The central design is a small bust of Lincoln, under which are the words, "U. S. Prest." This "portrait" of Lincoln is one that we do not remember as ever having seen before: the facial likeness is good but the Great Emancipator is endowed with a lavish and luxuriant growth of hair and whiskers. The effect is such that the hair tonic advertiser would hail the picture with joy as illustrative of "after using." The "free postoffice" of Mr. Johnson was probably one of those "accommodation" offices that flourished some years ago before their operation was interdicted by the authorities.

anonymous source. The "stamp" is the impression in purple: "2 A. U. S. Insp'd & P's'd" on the outer fleshy coating of a prime beef; the impression is the authorization of the government that the animal was sound and may be eaten with impunity. The manner in which our correspondent sliced off the suet, or what you will, so as to preserve the impression intact, commands our admiration. It is not admitted that the government inspection stamp is a fiscal or a tax-paid even, but we do say that it is a gristly, if not grisly specimen.

Penflip Speaks—Several weeks ago, we enlisted the aid of Parnassus Penflip in defense of a recently-issued stamp that was criticized harshly by B. L. T., in his column in the Chicago Tribune, and the only Penflip undaunted by the fact that B. L. T. has been called the best humorous paragrapher of the American press sailed into him as none but a Penflip could. We thought that Penflip had settled his man for good but evidently Bert Leston Taylor was only badly burned; he now invites total incineration. We called Penflip's attention to the following item and asked him as the most glorious figure in philately to-day, and the one real champion of Philatelia to repel the insinuations of the enemy to the philatelic faith: "The designer of the new $20 bank note is confident that his colors cannot be counterfeited. American Bank notes could be made safe by having them designed by the men who get up some of our postage stamps. No counterfeiter could reproduce their badness." Parnassus Penflip has arisen to the occasion in the following words: "Must I again delve into the treasury of time and waste the pearly moments to visit annihilation on that fellow with the ossified intellect? A mallet rather than a pen should be used to pound a sliver of sense in the dense cerebellum of this art barbarian. O, art, wherefore must we have our feelings ravished by the mouthings of the soulless creatures to whom the beautiful is as a clod? Whilst art critic on the Cady (Arkansas) Comet, I was saddened by a similar dearth of appreciation of my art uplift; and later, whilst matriculating in the Raphael correspondence school of art, I expressed myself similarly to the great maestro who conducted the course at so reasonable a fee. I anathematize the bubbler who attacks our beloved U. S. stamps; I abhor the frozen mind that contumaciously cavils at them. I blow away, thus, the frothings of that witless wastrel of refined and recondite sentiment. I will have none of him." We do not wonder that one of our readers has said that he wanted to hear from Penflip oftener.

—F. P. Butman's trade advertisement of 200 mixed at 2c should have read 12c. This mistake was due to poor copy.

A REPLY TO THE N. Y. SUN EDITORIAL.

By CHAS. R. MORRIS.

I cannot believe that in publishing the editorial from the New York Sun in your issue of MEKEEL'S for Nov. 13th in regard to the new 12 cent stamp and other issues and without comment that you sanctioned the expressions therein contained.

Most persons who criticize a thing not only point out the faults but also suggest a remedy. This the Sun did not do. It said that the Alaska-Yukon was a monstrosity and that the Hudson-Fulton stamp was some better but little good could be said of it.

Permit me to say in reply to this editorial that had the Bureau of Engraving and Printing been let alone the Seattle stamp would not have been a monstrosity. As originally designed with the seal it was indeed a beauty. However, at the very last minute the business men of the Coast demanded that a change be made, anything but the seal. It was then a rush job to get something else suitable and that would go in the same space. The result was that Secy. Seward's head was put in and as he was not an extra good looking man anyway and the head was small and crowded, the result was not satisfactory to the Bureau nor the public.

The Sun editorial is the first word I have heard or read against the Hudson-Fulton stamp. Very careful work was done on it. The design is not crowded nor is there anything incongruous or out of balance about it. The foreign papers I have seen, while regretting its appearance, have praised the workmanship. The stamp was prepared at the request of the New York people to boom their celebration and it looks decidedly out of place for one of the big New York papers to be "knocking" what was done for its benefit. It is a case of looking a gift horse in the teeth.

As to the new 12 cent stamp, it is decidedly out of order for the Sun to commence knocking before there is any occasion for it or before they have seen the stamp. The new 12 cent is to be issued uniform with the rest of the set and the color will probably have been decided upon when this appears in print. The selecting of a suitable color is a hard task. Try it yourself. Select sixteen distinct colors that you would think suitable and yet have no similarity to each other. After you have selected the green, carmine, purple, brown, blue and orange you rather run out of distinct shades and are at a loss to know what next.

Now, suppose we look at some other countries and see what they do for variety. Some countries are just as bad off for colors as we are and others like Germany and Great Britain use a colored paper. I may be telling a state secret, but that is what will soon be seen in United States stamps in all probability. I am not authorized to say that it will be done but experiments are being tried along that line and the results are soon to be submitted to the Postmaster General for his acceptance or rejection. Many combinations have been tried and some of them very pleasing indeed and if all denominations above the six cent should be issued in this way on various colored papers I believe the problem would be permanently solved.

When the new twelve cent does appear I am satisfied that it will be so pleasing that even the pessimistic editor of the Sun will have to take back something he had said.

YELLOW POSTAGE STAMPS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—With a view to enabling any one to determine the denomination of a postage stamp at a glance, Postmaster General Hitchcock has decided to have printed, as an experiment, the ten cent stamp in a rich brown ink on yellow paper. If the experiment proves a success, other stamps of a higher denomination will be so printed. A supply of the new stamps will be placed on sale as soon as possible.

NEW POSTAL CARD DESIGNS.

(Clipping from Marcel E. Taller and Mrs. A. A. Doolittle. Mrs. Doolittle writes: "It seems that Uncle Sam realizes that the lady should always have the last word for he intends to put Martha Washington's portrait on the reply card."—Ed.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Designs for the new postal cards have been approved by Postmaster General Hitchcock. They will be printed at the Government Printing Office.

On the ordinary card, the head of the late President McKinley will appear, as now, but a much better likeness has been chosen. On the new small card, intended for index purposes and for social correspondence, a picture of President Lincoln will appear. The two cent international card will bear a portrait of General Grant.

On the double, or reply, postal card, will appear a portrait of George Washington, while the stamp on the reply half will have a likeness of Martha Washington.

The borders of the stamps on all the cards will be diversified in design. On all of the cards the words "Postal Card," required by the Universal Postal Union Convention, will appear on the borders of the stamp and not, as now, as a separate inscription. The paper to be used is the best for the purpose yet manufactured.—N. Y. Times.

The Paul Collection.

With a single exception (the Ayer Collection, also bought by the New England), the largest purchase ever made in the American Stamp World, and one of the largest ever made anywhere.

In competition with some of the largest dealers in America and Europe, we were the highest bidders. Inside of five days we paid Spot CASH and took possession. It will be several months before everything will be in shape but in the meantime we would be glad to receive want lists and will give them our careful attention.

Edward J. Benes reports having the current 5c stamp, precancelled "Minneapolis, Minn.," in two lines.

Mrs. Ira R. Young has shown us the current 1c postage due stamp precancelled "Chicago—Illinois," but with the overprint inverted and so placed that parts of two surcharges appear on the stamp, "Chicago" being at the bottom and "Illinois" at the top.

A. M. Warner reports having seen the 1902 2c stamp, precancelled "Jackson, Mich.," with the overprint inverted. This is the familiar oval precancellation. Mr. Warner also reports having the current 15c stamp precancelled "Chicago, Illinois," with double impression.

nario de la Revolucion de Julio" set, chronicled in No. 934. The 2b stamp should have been chronicled in carmine and black, instead of in a single color. This completes the set of four stamps, which we now correctly chronicle:

Adhesives.

5c blue and black.
10c green and black.
20c orange and black.
2b carmine and black.

Mr. Focke writes: "Hardly have we digested the issue of four values, commemorating the July Revolution of 1809 in Bolivia, when there comes the fore-runner of another issue, this time to commemorate the war of Independence from Spain, fought in 1810." This is the set, by the way, noted in Nos. 962 and 972. The new stamps are smaller than the July stamps, chronicled above, about the size, in fact, of the 1901 issue. The portrait is contained in a circle, with the name in the same color. "Centenarios de la Guerra de Independencia," in small letters around the upper half. "U. P. U." in each of the upper corners, and "Bolivia" and "Correos" appear in two curved lines above the portrait. A curved line below the portrait has "14 de Septiembre de 1810." The value is printed in a straight line at the bottom, thus: "20 Centavos 20."

Adhesive.

20c violet and black.

Mr. Focke calls attention to an error, the inscription reading "Centenarios," instead of "Centenario," which would be the correct spelling, the plural of this word being never used.

CANAL ZONE.—We are indebted to Gerald D. Bliss, William Evans, the New England Stamp Co., the J. M. Bartels Co., the Scott Stamp & Coin Co., George L. Toppin of the H. F. Colman firm, and A. M. Warner, for specimens of the new Canal Zone stamps and information regarding the same. The values thus far seen are the 1c, 2c, 5c and 10c. The 8c has not yet been issued, and Dr. Evans suggests that it is likely to be retired, since the registration fee has been increased to ten cents. The stamps bear an entirely new surcharge, the type being smaller and heavier, and the surcharge reads up instead of down as in the previous issue. The 2c, 5c and 10c, are of the new issue, and have previously been chronicled with the old surcharge. The 1c value is new, both stamp and surcharge, and has not previously been noted either with or without surcharge. The stamp is entirely re-engraved, the portrait having more life, and the frame being also somewhat improved from the previous issue. The inscription, "Republica de Panama" is in a single curved line over the portrait, the "Correos" being larger and bolder. The figures of value at the bottom are of more artistic design, and the words expressing the value, smaller, though still in straight lines, as in the previous issue. The new surcharges were printed by the American Bank Note Co., and the new stamps were issued Nov. 8.

Adhesives.

1c dark green and black.
2c red and black.
5c deep blue and black.
10c violet and black.

A. M. Warner reports having the 1c of the 1906-07 issue with double surcharge and a pair of the 8c of the same issue, imperforate between and at the left.

Dr. Evans also informs us that he has the 5c of the 1906 issue, with the second "A" of "Canal" missing on the fourth stamp of the sheet, and a broken "L" resembling an "I" on the same value, though he was unable to state the position in the sheet of the latter.

MR. KJELLSTEDT'S SERVICES ENGAGED.

The WEEKLY is pleased to announce that L. Harald Kjellstedt will write, outside of his European correspondence, exclusively for MEKEEL'S WEEKLY. He will make it his special work to see that our readers are kept fully posted with what is going on abroad, especially in Europe. We are glad to make this announcement. Other American journals will understand Mr. Kjellstedt's inability to meet the wide spread demands made upon him for literary work.

NEWS GLEANINGS.

—H. S. Adair writes us that a branch of the A. P. S. will soon be started in Atlanta, Ga., where he has taken up his residence.

—J. Rausch, San Francisco, Cal., sends us a clipping from the Call giving the particulars of a runaway accident to Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Crocker of that city. The Call states that Mr. and Mrs. Crocker were in a high cart drawn by two horses which Mr. Crocker was driving tandem. The horses became frightened and the trap, cramped against the curb, was overturned, throwing out both its occupants. Mr. Crocker escaped with minor injuries, but Mrs. Crocker's fall was more serious. It was certainly a narrow escape.

—The Federal Stamp Co. of Astoria, Ore., has been incorporated. The firm favors us with a copy of their Special Bargain List No. 30, which has just been issued.

—The Binghamton Philatelic Society, A. P. S. Branch No. 32, will hold a public exhibit in the Binghamton Public Library during the week beginning Dec. 6. The enterprise of this society is commendable and we trust all our readers residing in this vicinity will show their interest by attending.

—S. L. Irvine sends us a clipping from the London Globe commenting upon the aviation "stamps" used at Rheims, France, during the now historic aviation week, when a temporary post office was set up on the grounds and all letters there posted bearing the ordinary French stamp were given postmarks with an "aviation" flavor.

—"I have a suggestion to make, which I think might help the A. P. S. get more members, namely:—If every member of the society in all correspondence of a philatelic nature will write the letters A. P. S. and his number after his name, it will show that he is a member and will lead to inquiries from non-members. As soon as I am admitted to membership and receive my number I intend to do this. It cannot do any harm and may do some good."—D. D. BEROLZHEIMER.

Revenues, L. L. Green for Hawaii, C. A. Howes for China, Japan and Korea, and C. K. B. Nevin for United States.

Mr. Geo. L. Gilmore, our Charter Member No. 1, who was present, told us some interesting reminiscences of his early collecting days and of the formation of the society. Mr. Nevin asked if any one had been led to collect through the issue of commemorative stamps, and Mr. Gilmore acknowledged that the U. S. 3c centennial envelope of 1876 (which by the way, was the first commemorative stamp), was responsible for his start, and Mr. Nevin laid his own interest at the door of the Trans-Mississippi issue of 1898.

The competitive exhibition for the evening consisted of five entries, showing a most excellent array of U. S. Revenue Stamps. Mr. Geo. H. Gilmore secured first prize on a percentage of 81, and Mr. Henry Schuhmacher second prize on 64%. Messrs. Barrett, Nevin and Cook also exhibited, and Mr. Cook showed hors concours a remarkably fine lot of rarities and high values in the regular revenue series.

The meeting adjourned at 10.30 o'clock.

NOTICE.

The entertainment committee of the Washington Philatelic Society recently had an evening with jig saw puzzles. Several small pieces of board, 4x5 inches, were covered with stamps of all kinds and then cut up into fifty pieces each and it proved to be quite a task to put them together again. Any other society desiring to use these puzzles may have them by paying the transportation charges on them and agreeing to take care of them while in their custody. Those desiring to avail themselves of this offer should address Chas. R. Morris, 4914 Ashby St., Washington, D. C. Mr. Morris will then arrange a route for the package to travel and will try to make it convenient for those de-

THE AVERY COLLECTION

Recently Purchased by W. H. PECKITT for £24,500 Net Cash

SYNOPSIS OF CHIEF COUNTRIES REPRESENTED

Note Nearly every country and colony is represented in the collection formed by the late Sir William B. Avery, though in varying degrees of completeness. Some of the more important countries are highly specialized. The following list is of countries and colonies of which there are notable collections, or in which there are outstanding items of high interest or rarity. Countries in which the collection is just ordinarily represented are omitted.

Part I—BRITISH EMPIRE

Great Britain	Fiji	New Brunswick	St. Vincent
Barbados	India	New Foundland	Straits Settlements
British Columbia and	Ionian Islands	Nova Scotia	Tasmania
Vancouver Island	Mauritius	Oil Rivers	Trinidad

THE FAMOUS SEYBOLD COLLECTION

with its world-celebrated philatelic treasures is for sale. It comprises between 70,000 and 90,000 separate pieces, and its accumulation of original covers is regarded by many judges as the finest in the world. Among the latter are two 12 pence Canadas (there are said to be only two others in existence on the cover), a Brattleboro and copies of the 5 cent and 10 cent St. Louis.

The collection has been so often described in its main features that every dealer in the world and thousands of collectors have read of it.

The collection is now in a Syracuse, N. Y., bank, where it will be exhibited to those seriously contemplating a possible purchase. The present plan of the owner is to dispose of it in its entirety. Applications for permission to examine it, with a view to purchasing, must be addressed to [87]

siring it to have it at some special meeting night. As there is no charge for the use of these puzzles don't forget to enclose a stamp when writing to Mr. Morris so that he can tell you when to expect the package and give further directions.

There are thirteen puzzles in the set. Those superstitiously inclined may use twelve.

AN INVITATION.

The Philadelphia Stamp Club extends the courtesies of its club room to visiting dealers who desire to display collections or assortments of stamps for either private sale or auction. The club room is located at No. 25 Drury Building, Juniper, below Chestnut St.; is two blocks from both the Pennsylvania, and Reading stations, and is surrounded by all the large hotels. Dealers availing themselves of this invitation will find that the club room is equipped for the purpose, having a good library of philatelic reference works, and all other accommodations. Certain dates in advance can be secured by writing the Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, A. F. Henkels, care Philadelphia Stamp Club, Room No. 25, Drury Bldg., Phila., Pa.

OFFICIAL NOTICE.

Office of the President,
CHICAGO, Nov. 27, 1909.Officers, chairmen of committees and other members of the A. P. S. are hereby notified that, contrary to usual requirements, business necessitates my being out of the country for about five weeks, in consequence of which the duties of the President during that period will be performed by the chairman of the Board of Vice Presidents, Mr.
F. R. Cornwall, 806 Chemical Building, St. Louis, Mo. This in accordance with Art. V, Sec. 2 of the By-laws.Hence, until formal notice to the contrary, from the date of this notice all communications pertaining to business of the President's office should be addressed to the acting President, Mr.
Cornwall.In addition to his strong personality, through constant attendance at the society's conventions, his two past years as a Director and his present office, together with the fact that he is in possession of all records of the business of the President's office for the present year to date, Mr. Cornwall is in a particularly favorable position to carry on the work of the society. Therefore the membership need have no fear that the interests of the A. P. S. as reflected through the office of the President will suffer in consequence of my unusual but obligatory temporary absence.

ciety was called to order by Pres. Mowry.
Eleven members present. In the absence of the Secretary, Mr. Cox was appointed by the chair to act in that capacity. Minutes of previous meeting approved as read. The application of Capt. A. P. S. Hyde presented at the previous meeting, was approved by the executive committee, and he was elected a member.A communication from John R. Crawford regarding a directory of names of all philatelic societies was read asking for coöperation from our society. It was voted that the Secretary send list of names with requirements as per letter.Mr. Mason was appointed a committee regarding a seal for the society. Mr.
Bowen appointed at the last meeting to draw up resolutions on the death of Mr. Alfred Dawson reported as follows:
"By the death of Alfred Dawson this society loses one of its founders, and, until failing health prevented, its most active member."To him, more than any other, is due the continued existence of our association, and also its gratifying present prosperous condition. He was an earnest and indefatigable worker for its success, and by zealous, personal effort stimulated the interest of members for many years. He was an active and successful cannasser for new members, and many of both the older and younger, now on its roll, were put there by his energy.
He was active in spreading abroad the aims and advantages of the society, especially among young collectors."Mr. Dawson held, at various periods, every office in the society, being President several years, and serving repeatedly on committees. A man of high aim, sterling character, a strong maintainer of his beliefs and convictions. Exact and honorable in his dealings, unswerving in his devotion to duty, true to his friends, and active in his endeavors to have right prevail. His frequent pleasant greetings and encouraging words and acts will be long gratefully remembered."The guessing contest of naming stamps of different countries that were partly cut proved of great interest. Out of a possible twenty, Mr. Kinsalus and Mr. Fleischer had perfect scores. Mr.Mowry had 17 and other members from 16 and lower. Prizes yet to be named.
That is another guessing contest for the winners.

REVENUE NOTES AND OTHER THINGS.

Edited by E. R. VANDERHOOF.

The editor of this department will be pleased to hear from any readers of the WEEKLY who can contribute to its usefulness and readability. Specimens of varieties or oddities submitted will be promptly returned. Address, E.R. Vanderhoof, 2839 Vallejo St., Denver, Colo.

North Carolina.—This is certainly the banner month for state revenues and inspection stamps. Almost simultaneously I receive specimens of new issues from the states of North Carolina, Georgia and Tennessee. The stamps of North Carolina are used for the purpose of certifying to the inspection of illuminating oil. They are issued by the Department of Agriculture at Raleigh, N. C., and the tax is at the rate of 1/2 cent per gallon. The stamp—I presume we should rather term it a certificate, as it bears that form—is approximately 9x4 inches, printed on textile bond paper of various colors showing the watermark of the manufacturers and each bears a fac-simile signature of Commissioner William A. Graham. The values consist of the following nine denominations:

1 Cent black on very pale azure.
5 " " Slate.
10 " " Pink.
23 " " Red Brown.
26 " " Red.
50 " " Yellow.
$2.50 " " ?
5.00 " " Dark Blue.
25.00 " " Pale Green.

The law which brought them into use was passed by the North Carolina legislature February, 1909, went into effect July 1st, 1909. All oil companies shipping oil into North Carolina have to pay this inspection tax. Specimens are submitted by both Mr. Bartlett and Dr. Young. I will be glad to hear of any additions to the above list.

Tennessee.—Mr. L. L. Batchelder submits inspection stamps of Tennessee and Georgia. Those of Tennessee consisting of three values for the inspection of grasses and clovers. They are signed in fac-simile by the Commissioner, John Thompson, of that state, are perforated and measure 55x12 mm. The denominations are:

3 cent Green, 1/2 bushel.
5 " " 1 " "
12 1/2 " " 2 1/2 " "

The inspection stamps for Feed Stuffs are also perforated—measure 48x28 mm., are printed in brown on white and come in two values.

1/2 cent Blue, 50 lbs.
3-4 " Brown, 75 lbs.

A stamp for the inspection of Cereal Seed, printed in a similar form and size as the stamps for grasses and clovers is also submitted.

2 cent Orange, 1 Bushel

All of these stamps are made up with a fancy border of scroll work, engine work and foliage, with the wording arranged within the outer border. All bear the same printed signature.

Will some of our readers kindly submit specimens enabling me to make any additions to the above?

Georgia.—The stamps of Georgia submitted are the same size and nearly the same makeup as the Feed Stuffs stamps of Tennessee, and in fact cover that commodity themselves. They bear the printed signature of F. G. Hudson, Commissioner of Agriculture. I have two varieties before me consisting of 3-4 cent Brown on Yellow, 75 lbs.

3-4 " " White, 75 lbs.

They are rouletted 4. These Feed Stuffs stamps come in sheets of 50—5 vertical strips of 10 each.

It is also reported that there is a Georgia 5 cent State Tax Stamp on Coco Cola, at the rate of 5 cents per gallon. Can any of my correspondents show me a copy?

New York—Minor Varieties.—Mr. Clarence Weber draws attention to two varieties of the numeral "2" used in applying the surcharge to the New York stamps. His observations are based upon the $2.00 value second issue but I note from examination that the two cent and twenty cent values have the same ear mark.

The upper point of the "2" ends in a horizontal line, and the point is slightly rounded in the first variety. The upper point of the "2" ends in a vertical projection of about a millimetre in height, coming to a sharp point, in the other variety.

The two varieties are quite distinct and are not hard to find. Mr. Weber also submits a copy of the fifty cent fourth issue with surcharge in a supposed black. There is certainly an off color to his specimen, yet before pronouncing it black I would like to soak it and see what color it would run.

CANAL ZONE

The 1c, 2c, 5c and 10c WITH THE SURCHARGE PRINTED BY THE AMERICAN BANK NOTE CO. were issued November 8th. This means an end to the flood of errors resulting from the stamps having been surcharged locally.

I OFFER THE FOLLOWING:

1908, 1c inverted center (Scott's No. 32b)	Price on application
1908, 2c double surch.	(" 33) - - - $15.00
1908, 5c " "	(" 34) - - - 15 00
1906, 8c pair, imperf. vertically between	- - - 10.00

All of the Above are Unused and O. G.

I also have a full line of the more common errors, though very few of some varieties. If you want them you had better write me before it is too late.

Do you want any CUBA, GUAM, HAWAII, PHILIPPINES or PORTO RICO? I HAVE THEM?

H. F. COLMAN,

GEO. L. TOPPAN, Manager,

723 ELEVENTH ST., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C.

Green can turn quite dark under proper provocation, and as none of these stamps bear a black surcharge it looks quite impossible. I look eagerly for the outcome of this variety.

Nevada—Watermarks.—Last winter I happened to notice a watermark on a Nevada revenue and submitted it to Mr. Bartlett for his opinion. He showed from his reply that he was on the right track and I have been deeply interested in this direction since that time. A very few days ago I had the pleasure of examining a virgin sheet of one value of these stamps and it revealed the watermark—one watermark to a sheet of 100 stamps.

The watermark consists of a shield bearing seven horizontal and fifteen vertical bars, in the customary proportions of space. Thirty one stars surround the shield in the shape of a perfect oval. Directly above the shield and stars is the word "IMPROVED" in a curved line, and composed of double lined letters. Underneath the point of the shield and stars is a "C" in fancy script. The watermark rests sideways in the sheet and at the right hand side—the entire watermark is about 5 1/2 inches in height by 4 inches in breadth, touching hardly more than one-tenth of the stamps.

This may be of interest to some who are collectors of state revenues.

Another Surcharge.—Mrs. Ira Young submits a copy of the 2 cent bank check liberty head, bearing a surcharge I. R.—about the standing of this as a provisional there is of course no need of debating. I. R. upon a revenue stamp is superfluous. It is well known that the stamp was never surcharged and there was never occasion to surcharge it. However, the letters are plainly there and it is a happy addition to the collector of freaks. Like double perforations and creased papers, it has its place.

A Local Newspaper Stamp.—Mr. McCabe surprised me by showing me two new and hitherto unlisted locals. Denver is the seat of sensation, for the Denver City Tramway Company has issued two values, printed on tags for the conveyance of newspapermen over the city lines. No value is stated on the tags but the numeral 10 on the copy at hand may be some clue. The specimens submitted are printed in black on red and on blue, but more about these later.

The 6c Proprietary.—Among the collectors of United States Revenues there is one particular stamp, much sought after and greatly desired—I believe there is no stamp that would give the average collector more pleasure to insert in his album than the six cent proprietary first issue.

On a page of the first issues perf., this is the one real rarity, always making the page an eye-sore to the non-pos-essor of this rare avis. From my own experience I can say that I never had such a real longing and craving for any one stamp as I did for this one.

The first pages in the album with perhaps one or two exceptions are easily filled. The dollar values are none very rare except the $20.00 Probate of Will, but towards the bottom of the list there are usually some high values that we can make ourselves believe are due to wait their turn.

It is usually customary to try and make a page as complete as possible, and after procuring the playing card stamps we find the blank space for the six cent proprietary hemmed in by specimens, a veritable yawning cavern; an aggravation to the collector's soul.

Every time I used to open my album to view my treasures, I would gaze at this empty space until it got on my nerves so badly that I used to intentionally skip the first page and try and convince myself that I could do without this stamp.

The stamp while not as rare as many other revenues, even later issues, bears the feature of desirability about it that makes it the most wanted among United States fiscalists.

A counterpart of its mate, the six cent Inland Exchange, except for the lower label, no redeeming features of beauty—to my mind the six cent values first issue are the illest chosen colors of the set—it bears, by sheer existence the magnetism to draw the collectors mind to its absence.

Previous to obtaining a copy of this stamp and even since, I have acquired some items even of greater rarity by the catalogue that this one, but never did I enjoy the well groomed feeling of entire satisfaction as the one experienced when I carefully hinged this treasure and patted it down in the album's repository. A balm of Gilead to a yearning desire.

We learn from the Boston Book that the stamp was first printed March 29, 1871, first delivered April 13, 1871, printed 170 stamps to each sheet and a total of 89,348 were issued, plenty for all if they could but be located and all had been saved.

The color was first authorized in black but later changed to orange.

Most of the used specimens bear the oval cancellation of Chas. Osgood & Co.—although specimens are known with the cancellation of A. T. S. & Co.—A. T. Stewart & Co.

Osgood's Chologog was the resting place of the majority of the specimens, being one of the few $1.50 preparations on the market at that time.

Lewis Robie in "Stamp Hunting" continually has this stamp on his mind and his conversation with his friend "Doc" make a lasting impression on one's mind about this stamp.

He properly concludes his book by the recital of his find of 300 copies of this stamp in mint condition, a catalogue value of $15,000.00, one of the biggest finds on record; but his awakening from his happy dream is indeed a sad one.

Any who are not acquainted with his book can invest 50 cents no more profitably than by getting it. It is becoming scarce and is, besides a thrilling narrative, replete with good sound information, on U. S. Revenues, especially the private die stamps. I do not know where else could be found so much pleasure and profit in so compact a form for so little outlay.

COMMUNICATIONS.

(We do not hold ourselves responsible for the views expressed by our readers. Our columns are always open for communications of general interest.—Ed.)

Editor MEKEEL'S WEEKLY:

In general effect the new 10c in natural light will look very much like the colors of the current 3d Great Britain light seal brown on yellow paper and under the ravs of the Cooper Hewitt mercury vapor tubes used to illuminate the sorting rooms in the larger post offices the stamps seem to deepen in color and to become more distinguishable.

A large number of experiments were conducted in various colors of inks and tones of papers. These essays were made with the 12 cent die which was the same design as the current Washington head. It will be somewhat of a shock to know that this 12c head die will not be used as there is contemplated a new design showing the figures 12 and the words designating the stamp may be used for registration or postage. The women suffragettes and the revered memory of the first lady of the land were properly respected in restoring Martha to her illustrious George in pairing them on the reply postal card and now everybody is happy.

It is further intended to change the color of ink or paper in all the higher denominations, namely 15, 50 and $1.00. So we will hope for another prolific stamp year in United States novelties.

JOSEPH A. STEINMETZ.

Editor MEKEEL'S WEEKLY:

It may interest your readers to know that in a large shipment of stamps which I have just received from Papua, there was not a single copy with the 12½ perforation. Papua stamps perforated 12½ have always been much scarcer than those perforated 11, and I have every reason for believing that none of the former have been manufactured for some time. High prices have been paid for the 1sh value perforated 12½, and I have heard it said that a certain dealer asked $2.00 for this stamp with the normal watermark and $3.00 for the one with the inverted watermark, and that he had no trouble in selling his entire supply at these figures. I have the following current Papuas in my collection.

Perforated 11.
Normal Wmk. ½, 1, 2, 2½, 4, 6d, 1sh
Inv. " ½, 1, 2, 2½, 4, 6d, 1sh

Perforated 12½.
Normal Wmk. 2, 2½, 4d, 1sh
Inv. " 2, 2½, 4d, 1sh

Have any of your readers ever seen the ½, 1 and 6d values, perforated 12½, with either the normal or inverted watermark? If so, I would like very much to hear from them. Ewen catalogs the 6d, but quotes no prices.

The 2sh 6d current design had not yet been issued on September 20th, the day my shipment was mailed at Port Moresby, but there is a strong likelihood of its being placed on sale before the end of the year. I am informed that the 1d value has been out of stock for some time. Does this mean that we are going to have a provisional 1d to supply the demand for this denomination? If so, I'm sure it will be a mighty popular stamp. Have any of your readers seen any of the official stamps perforated 12½? All mine have the 11 perforation.

BENEDICT PRIETH, Newark, N. J.

TRADE NOTE.

Ben G. Green, Chicago, is gladly welcomed to our columns; he has engaged space for one year and each week he will have a message of interest to collectors. Mr. Green will cater intelligently to the wants of our readers and it will not be long before he is regarded as an old friend. While he is famous for his coin auction sales, we can vouch that he has a stamp stock that is large and choice. It is perhaps needless to add that Mr. Green is thoroughly reliable; he may be depended upon to treat customers with every consideration.

EDITORIAL.

Rich—Philatelists are having a rare treat at the Land Show now being held in Chicago, and one that is the more remarkable because it is so unexpected. The original grant of the government to the Union Pacific Railroad is shown and on this historically interesting instrument are seventy-five of the $200 and eight of the $500, second issue, United States revenue stamps. Needless to say, the document is scanned by the stamp collector with bulging eye and watering mouth; and the protective measures taken to secure the safety of the valuable parchment are well advised. This is the famous instrument, we take it, for the payment of the tax on which, $19,000, the use of the $5,000 revenue was suggested. Truly, the philatelic exhibit at the land show is one worth while.

A Proposal—Several weeks ago, comment was made upon the old Philatelic Literature Society of America, which though a humble exponent of its specialty in many ways was yet the first society of its kind, we believe; and the intention was to call attention to the existence of the society and claim any credit that priority in this special division might give. In this connection, we take the following from a letter that has been received from Geo. W. Linn: "I am interested in philatelic literature as a collector, not so much in the sense that I am looking for everything, but I want the better class of journals, books, etc., for a general library. There is room in this country for a good society but owing to the fact that there are so few interested, it will be necessary in order to accomplish any good to place the membership fee at five dollars a year. With about twenty or more members, it would be possible to issue an excellent quarterly magazine; this should be something above the average piece of stamp literature. Since you have already made mention of the subject in the WEEKLY, I should like to have you sound the collectors of the country, in order to ascertain how many would contribute five dollars a year. You may place me as number one. My idea would be to offer the Stamp Collector as official journal while the quarterly could be something in the nature of a hand-book. Those interested in Mr. Linn's suggestion may write him at Columbus, Ohio; and it should be added that the Stamp Collector is the new journal of which Mr. Linn is publisher. We believe that at no time in the past has there been given so much attention as at present to the printed part of philately, particularly those publications of the early days and it is just possible that Mr. Linn's views will strike a decidedly responsive chord.

Sensitive—The editor of the Stamp Collectors' Fortnightly is the soul of gentility we should imagine from the perusal of his paragraphs which so often are served in a delightfully pungent style. Yet, woe betide the one who is presumptuous enough to press the editor beyond the bounds of propriety or who supposes that he cannot be withering in his dignity when conditions demand. In our issue of October 23rd, 1909, a correspondent warned against a small advertiser in the columns of our esteemed contemporary; and now, somewhat to our bewilderment the Fortnightly speaks with deliberate attempt to make us grieve: "This sudden solicitude for the collector on the part of our friends of the Mekeel-Severn-Wylie combination would be quite touching if it were entirely above suspicion but in view of recent strictures the Fortnightly has seen fit to pass upon 'M. W. S. N.,' it reads rather like a roundabout attempt to 'get even.' . . . We appreciate information as to any irregularity on the part of traders using our advertisement columns, and we make a point of promptly acting upon the same. The editors of 'MEKEEL'S WEEKLY' will do well to adopt the same course with regard to their own publication and not seek to cast a slur upon the periodicals of a country which admittedly lives up to a higher standard of journalism." The warning against the certain advertiser was given as a cautionary measure and according to the Stamp Collectors' Fortnightly's own words it should have been thankful for the information. We want to know when our advertising columns are used as a haven for the dishonest advertiser and when attention is called to an instance, publicly or privately, we are grateful rather than otherwise; we try to keep our pages clean and we have been told that we succeed beyond all reasonable expectation.

Simple—The Stamp Collectors' Fortnightly's columns are free from tainted advertising and there is no questioning the sincerity and high standards of its publishers; the exceptional case was mentioned but in a perfunctory, dutiful sort of way and not with the idea of "getting even" with our contemporary. The "recent strictures" that the Fortnightly speaks of were inspired by an item that was given space in the WEEKLY some months ago. The person on whom the item reflected demanded a retraction and justly in view of subsequent developments. The Fortnightly pointed out our mistake when the original item appeared and took occasion to wax virtuously indignant. It intimated that a certain person furnished us with the information but its guess was wrong. Reparation was made by the WEEKLY and there has been no disposition on its part to hit the Fortnightly, a paper that has and merits our kindest feelings.

Again—The feud between Parnassus Penflip and B. L. T. of the Chicago Tribune still rages; Bert Leston Taylor says: "A new 10-cent stamp 'in a rich brown ink on yellow paper,' is promised for early licking. It can't be any worse than what we've been getting." We view with alarm the fact that the flippancy with which Mr. Taylor so misguidedly refers to our beautiful stamps is contagious and that certain of the thoughtless among his readers are infected with his sacrilegious spirit; for instance, "Linder" says: "Happy Thought! Who cares about the colors of the postage stamps? Why not rather improve the gummed side and have flavors to match the color of the stamp—creme de menthe for 1c, strawberry for 2c, chocolate for 4c, etc.? Your druggist would be glad to lick them then." Penflip when told of the latest outrage of B. L. T. returned our letter in which we beseeched him to come to the rescue once more, with the comment: "The inspiration to decapitate that hydra-headed hyena and spill its diabolism on the desert sands would have been forthcoming, if a check had been enclosed in your letter for former rescues. You should pay court to Mnemosyne, goddess of memory." Under the circumstances, we beg our readers' indulgence.

Thanks—A gift has been received from Harry Griffin, 101 Poplar Street, Boston, Mass., that is greatly appreciated. It is the cover of the Chicago special number of the WEEKLY tastefully framed; and the picture of Mr. Mudge shows forth to best advantage in its appropriate setting. It is an ornament

OUR BOOK REVIEW.

We have again received from Messrs. Théodore Champion & Co. of Paris their catalog of postage and telegraph stamps. The issue for 1910 is as usual neat and comprehensible, even to those who do not know a word of French. The cuts are plentiful and good enough for all practical purposes, even if reduced in size. One feature which might be followed by other catalogs, to their financial advantage at least, is the use of type cuts for colonial issues, where the only variation is the change of name at the top. The type of the stamp is therefore used many times, under different colonies, with the name label left blank. French, German, British and German colonies are thus treated to advantage.

The arrangement of the stamp lists is quite similar to "Scott's" catalog, there being no attempt to go too far into perforation varieties, and minor varieties of type and shades being listed by sub-lettering under the main varieties. This at once shows the amateur what are the really important stamps to look for. Explanatory notes and small cuts of type variations are scattered profusely through the work and make it of increased value. At the beginning are also found tables of philatelic terms, stamp inscriptions, money values, cuts of "native" stamps hard to identify, and a list of colonies and protectorates of various countries.

The plan of the catalog is strictly alphabetical, save that the Colombian State issues follow the mother country, and some few of the Confederate postmasters' stamps follow the main issues. It may be a little difficult for one unacquainted with French to find some names of stamp issuing countries (e.g. he might not think of looking for West Australia in the front of the book) but this would be small hindrance to the usual collector. The catalog seems to be a popular one on this side, and that speaks for its clearness and adaptability. It is in handy pocket size, bound in

THE WOLSELEY COLLECTION.

On the evenings of December 9, 10, 14 and 15, the magnificent collection of Henry W. Wolseley of Chicago will be sold by J. C. Morgenthau & Co., New York City, at the Collectors' Club. The catalogue of over seventy-five pages listing 2,000 lots is adequate testimony to the extent and richness of the Wolseley collection. As a fastidious collector, Mr. Wolseley was widely known and the regret of not a few collectors at the dispersal of the collection will be tempered by the consoling thought that an opportunity is provided for them to add superb specimens of elusive stamps to their own collections. United States, British Colonies and the wonderful specialized collection of the stamps of Straits Settlements will be sold and lots that ordinarily would call for particular notice are so abundant that one would despair to recount them all in a passing notice of this kind. The catalogue is a striking production and it speaks eloquently for itself; it may be read with satisfaction by any collector while those in want of the stamps will hail it with enthusiasm. We predict a successful sale and we sincerely trust that Mr. Wolseley's confidence in stamp values will be fully justified.

OBITUARY.

We regret to announce the death of Philip La Tourette, A. P. S. 227, who according to the N. Y. Herald died of heart disease Nov. 22, as he was about to board a train at North Branch, N. J. For many years he had been prominent as an insurance broker in N. Y. City and leaves a widow, three sons and one daughter. We are unable to give particulars as to his philatelic possessions.

The Paul Collection.

With a single exception (the Ayer Collection, also bought by the New England), the largest purchase ever made in the American Stamp World, and one of the largest ever made anywhere.

In competition with some of the largest dealers in America and Europe, we were the highest bidders. Inside of five days we paid Spot CASH and took possession. It will be several months before everything will be in shape but in the meantime we would be glad to receive want lists and will give them our careful attention.

ARTHUR P. S. HYDE, NEWPORT, R. I.

The minutes of the previous meeting were approved as read. The application of H. Harsin, Jr., for membership was received and posted. Messrs. W. H. Gilley and Joy Lockie were elected to membership. The treasurer's report was read showing a balance of $14.74 on hand November 10th. On motion of H. A. Fowler, Messrs. C. H. Gabriel, Jr., and S. Valentine Saxby were dropped for non-payment of dues.

A discussion was held regarding the time and manner of extending an invitation to the parent organization to hold the 1911 convention in Chicago. Definite action was postponed. On motion of Mr. Rosenthal it was voted to appoint I. R. Johnson a committee of one to consider the financial end of the 1911 convention invitation and that he be asked to report at the next meeting.

Mr. Bloss spoke regarding a junior stamp club being formed at Lewis Institute. At the suggestion of Mr. Mudge, a committee of two, Messrs. Severn and Lindquist, was appointed to submit a plan or outline for philatelic work for the branch for the coming year and report at the next meeting. A discussion was held on the subject of original covers. Meeting adjourned at 10 p. m.

Next meeting December 8th.

Tuesday, Oct. 12th, 1909. The regular meeting of the N. E. P. A. was held this evening at 28 School St., Room 1, Boston, Mass. Meeting was called to order by the Sec. at 8.15 p. m., in the absence of the Pres. and Vice Pres. On motion duly seconded Mr. Wm. G. Bail was chosen Pres. pro-tem. Minutes of the October meeting read and accepted. Treas.'s report read and accepted. Henry S. Adair of Columbus, Ohio, was unanimously elected to membership. Quite a discussion was held as regards the celebration of the fifteenth anniversary of the founding of the association which occurs in January, 1910. It was decided to let the matter lay over until the Dec. meeting when a committee will be appointed to take the matter in charge. Considerable stamp news and general talk was engaged in and quite a few novelties were exhibited by the members present. Adjourned at 10.15 p. m.

Do You Think of Selling?

If you do, and want ALL THERE IS IN IT, the best way is by the use of a well conducted and well arranged AUCTION SALE. Thus you get the benefit of the competition of COLLECTORS as well as dealers, not only for your property as a whole, but for every item of value it contains. We make A SPECIALTY of such sales; have already held 205 realizing nearly HALF-A-MILLION DOLLARS; we have a large and carefully selected list of BUYERS in this and other countries which cannot be excelled by any firm in our line; we hold sales both in New York and Boston, thus giving you the benefit of the two BEST MARKETS in the world COMBINED; we issue neat and attractive catalogues; make careful and advantageous arrangement of lots; make LIBERAL advances when needed and invariably secure the BEST RESULTS the market will permit. Many of the HIGHEST PRICES of the past season were recorded in our sales. Our SETTLEMENTS are PROMPT and our RESPONSIBILITY established. Our TERMS are still as low as can be given by any whose facilities even approach our own. We believe it is only wisdom for all who wish to TURN STAMPS INTO CASH to consult us before placing a contract elsewhere. LARGE COLLECTIONS, Dealers' stocks, SINGLE RARE STAMPS and sets are all in good demand and the prospect for good results this coming season is unusually bright. We solicit correspondence, or an interview wherever practicable. WE BUY collections outright where one is in haste to realize. Sales may be booked ahead and favorable dates may be obtained by early application.

Board, Pres., Sec., Treas., and Dr. W. H. FOX, H. B. MASON, WM. SAHM and GEO. L. TOPPAN. Regular meetings 3d Monday at Schmidt's Hall, 516 9th St. N. W.

The 47th regular meeting was held November 15, 1909. Seventeen members and two visitors were present. The regular business was transacted. Ralph Daskam was elected to membership. A committee was appointed to inquire if a suitable room can be obtained for meeting on a Wednesday evening.

The Entertainment Committee was authorized to obtain plates from Ohio for printing photographs of stamps for future educational contests.

The following nominations were made:

For President, W. A. Johnson; Vice Pres., F. B. Wheaton; Secretary, J. Finney Engle; Treasurer, R. Wysong; Supt. Exchange, T. R. Hungerford; Supt. Auctions, W. Sahm; Librarian, M. Whitney, Jr. and C. R. Morris; Governing Board (four to be elected), Geo. L. Toppan, S. L. Duryee, E. A. Hill, Maj. P. C. Stevens, Prof. M. Whitney, R. Koehler and H. F. Dunkhorst.

A contest, putting together stamp puzzles, was held and M. Whitney, Jr., T. F. Sheckels and F. B. Wheaton were winners of the prizes. An auction sale was then held.

The Librarian requests each member to donate some stamps for an auction sale to replenish the Library fund.

At the next meeting, December 20, the annual election of officers will be held. All officers are expected to present written reports, and members are requested to pay their dues for 1910 ($1.00) at that meeting. The address of the Treasurer is 1727 Euclid St., N. W. The educational contest will be "Rulers of Countries."

A NEW MONTHLY.

A high class philatelic monthly has just appeared from Columbus, Ohio. It is called the Stamp Collector and is published by G. W. Linn. The Stamp Collector is the official journal of the Columbus Collectors Club.

Our genial and able friend Paul Mason is the editor-in-chief, while associated with him are Messrs. Smith, Moore, Field and Linn, in charge of various departments.

We give the new magazine a hearty welcome. There are appearances of stability about it that will commend the publication to any collector who will send for a sample copy. Better still, send 50c for a year's subscription, a form of encouragement more appreciated than words.

LIMITED SPECIALISM.

By L. HARALD KJELLSTEDT.

Sooner or later the average collector will find it desirable or necessary to put a restriction on his collecting activities or limit the field he has chosen for those activities. Such a restriction or limitation generally consists of a change from general collecting to the specializing of one or more countries. With the frequency of new issues, the specialization of several countries at one time often becomes as big a task as that of the general collector, and even in the case of one country specialism, the cost is often found prohibitive to the collector of limited means. No more beautiful collection can very well be imagined than a specialized collection of United States' issues in unused or mint condition. But how many of us would be able to stand the outlay connected with such a collection. To the lover of the unused specimen, as well as to the collector of postally used stamps, the issues of the United States offer two distinct and separate divisions, viz., the issues printed by private engraving companies, and those printed by the government. The latter division includes all issues from 1894 to the present time, and offers one of the most interesting fields the specialist possibly could desire. We find in these issues stamps with or without watermark, perforated and imperforate, two color stamps with inverted centers, stamps on experimental paper, stamp books, stamps in partly perforated strips, stamps with private perforations for use in automatic machines, different spacing on the sheets, and guide line varieties, to say nothing about an unusually wide range of shades. Besides regular postage stamps this division also offers newspaper stamps, special delivery stamps, postage due stamps, and postage stamps surcharged for revenue purpose. The lover of commemorative stamps finds seven distinct issues to gladden his heart. If you think that the issues printed by the Bureau of Engraving & Printing form too narrow a field for the exercising of your specialistic inclinations, you are liable to meet with a great surprise after you once get started. The issues of 1908-09 alone, taking into consideration the imperforates, part perforated, Schermack, Brinkerhoff and U. S. Vending Machine perforations, experimental paper and guide line varieties, run up to about 75 distinct varieties, and then we have paid no attention to shades. The writer confesses to a quite limited specializing of the Bureau issues and still he has reached near to the end of a 100 page blank album. If you can afford to take every value in blocks as well as in singles, your collection will be still more extended, and if you go in for plate numbers, you will have considerably over 5,000 which already have appeared. If one can afford the outlay, the collecting of plate numbers furnishes a fascinating pursuit, and such a collection is of the greatest value in establishing the chronological order in which the various shade varieties have appeared.

A limited specializing of the Bureau issues can be carried out to suit even those who have only little to spend on their hobby, and still a very tasteful and representative collection can be gotten together. It may be made to include the cent values only, thus eliminating 5 one dollar, 4 two dollar and 3 five dollar values. With the inverted Pan Americans, and the newspaper series without watermark left out of consideration, nearly everything else can be completed at a reasonable cost, even if blocks of 4 are taken. Fortunately it is the two lowest stamp values of the series of 1894, 1895, 1902-03, and 1908, which furnish the greatest number of interesting shade varieties. Many collectors show each shade graded from pale to deep but as such varieties are only dependent on the grade of liberality with which the ink roller was supplied with ink, all the intermediate grades may be left out and only the two extremes taken. There is enough of distinct color variations without making separate little collections out of each. New issues should by all means be taken in blocks with earliest plate numbers, because these numbers will serve to establish the color in which the stamps were first issued. Of the stamps of the old issues it would now prove rather costly and difficult to obtain blocks with earliest plate numbers. The priced list of United States plate numbers, published by Mr. J. M. Bartels in 1893, would serve as an eye opener to collectors who have neglected opportunities offered in years gone by. The numerous plate numbers that were scarce in 1898 are not liable to be more plentiful 11 years later. But leaving the plate numbers of past issues alone there are still two numbers which it is of interest to show. One is plate number 1 which is found on the 2 cent of 1894. The other is plate number 170, on which plate, and on that only, triangle II of the 2c of 1895 occupies the three first vertical rows on the plate while the balance of the plate shows triangle III.

It is only lately that the guide line varieties have been given any consideration worth mentioning. The one cent and two cent of 1902-03 were in the market imperforate for long time before any attention was paid to the guide lines. For a limited specialist it may be well to show the three varieties (vertical, horizontal, and crossing guide lines) in the case of one or two stamp values but to do so with every imperforate value would border on monotony, and in the case of the 5c Lincoln of 1902 it would probably be impossible. As only one block out of each sheet of 400 stamps can show the guide lines crossing such blocks are offered at quite fancy prices.

As far as the private perforations for the Schermack, Brinkerhoff, and U. S. Vending machines are concerned, I think the limited specialist may well be content with showing one or two samples of each. I have had "specialties" in this line offered me, at ridiculous prices, which I am satisfied were never made for use in the machines they were supposed to represent.

The experimental paper varieties, the 1c and 2c 1908, and 2c Lincoln, should be taken in blocks of 4 with margin, as the marginal paper serves to emphasize the really striking difference, both in color and texture, between this paper and that in regular use. In this connection I can not help remarking on the inconsistency shown in the 1910 edition of the Standard Catalogue, which entirely ignores these distinct paper varieties while continuing its attention to "white" and "bluish" paper in connection with issues of Great Britain, Cape Colony, etc.

The six different issues of the stamp books should not be overlooked. When it is taken into consideration that the leaves in these little books came from plates differently arranged than those from which the regular stamp sheets are printed, and that the 1c and 2c of series 1908 were first issued in book form, they should certainly be given space in the specialists' album. Using the two covers, two stamp leaves, and one of the waxed leaves a very pleasing display can be made with one page devoted to each book issue. Books containing the same stamps are found with different colored covers with printing in different colors of ink. No attention need to be paid to this, as it is with the stamp leaves and not with the covers that the philatelic interest is concerned.

The unwatermarked Bureau printings of the Newspaper stamps may well be let alone but the watermarked series should be shown in both originals and reprints. Although the former contain a stamp listed at $25.00 unused, the 5 dollar value, the entire set of originals in mint condition can be obtained for about $15.00. The five reprints should be shown on a separate page, following the originals, and can be had very cheap.

There is another class of stamps, namely those surcharged "Specimen," but, contrary to what is the case with British colonial stamps of the same nature, our "Specimen" stamps are very scarce and fetch high prices. When found at bargain quotations, they are worth taking.

Even if a collector of the Bureau issues should take single specimens only, I would advise him to intersperse with blocks and pairs in order to relieve the monotony, and enhance the attractiveness of the collection. From an investment point of view, I do not believe that money could be safer placed than in unused specimens of the issues under consideration. When the present day collector begins to look around for shades of stamps, that were current only a few years ago, he will be surprised at the prices now asked. The demand is enormous, and the stocks of our leading dealers are rapidly diminishing. Various shades of the 2c of 1903 are already selling at prices many times face value, and this should serve as a reminder to the collector to look out for shades of the current issue while they can be had at face.

Before closing I can truly state that general collecting and the specializing of European countries never furnished me with even half the pleasure I have derived from collecting and studying the U. S. issues printed by the Bureau of Engraving & Printing.

MELVILLE BOOKS—SECOND SERIES.

The second series of these popular hand books will be commenced shortly, No. 1 being "Great Britain.—Embossed Stamps." In this series we are promised two books on United States stamps, one dealing with the issues from 1870-1893 and the other from 1894-1910.

The publishers promise that the set of eight new books will be completed during the year 1910. Readers of the WEEKLY who want this set will mail $1.00 to W. H. Peckitt, 47 Strand, London, Eng., and mention this advertisement.

A VALUABLE HANDBOOK---LYNDE AUCTION PRICES.

Marked catalogues of the prices realized at the Lynde auction sale should be in the hands of all advanced collectors. This catalogue is now ready, and forms a valuable reference book, as many of the stamps are unpriced in European as well as in American catalogues, and there are also a number of varieties which are unlisted in any catalogue.

Orders are now being filled at 50c per session, or $2.00 for the complete catalogue of 100 pages with prices of 2425 lots.

STAMP AUCTION RESULTS

If you contemplate selling at auction, the results of this sale will prove to you the value of our services. We are reaching the best class of cash buyers in this country and in Europe, and shall be pleased to write fully and demonstrate with facts and figures what we can do in obtaining the best possible results for those desiring to sell their collections. NEWS GLEANINGS.

—F. M. Mason sends us a clipping from the Providence Sunday Journal exploiting the Peckitt purchase of the Avery collection.

—The next convention of the S. P. A. will be held at Kansas City. A Year Book will be issued for the association by a prominent San Antonio printer-philatelist.

—F. M. Mason writes us that the postmaster at Havana informs him that the new Cuba stamps will not be out until February.

—In regard to the new dies for the 1c and 2c current issues with numerals, Charles R. Morris writes us that the resolution adopted by the Atlantic City convention has not yet been received at the P. O. Department. It is not known definitely that any change will be effected, notwithstanding newspaper reports stating that the dies are in course of preparation.

—The Buffalo Collectors' Club held its second meeting Dec. 2 and an application for a charter as a branch of the A. P. S. has already been forwarded to the board of vice presidents. Local collectors will apply to F. B. Griffith, Jr., 550 Ellicott Sq., for further information.

—Mr. Kendall of The Hobbyist writes that his publication is up against a hard proposition, as the Winnipeg local power and light plant has been ruined, and the next Hobbyist must be "handpowered" off the press. It will no doubt be issued within a few days.

—Mr. Gregory writes us that he has sold out the Yankee hinge but so many people have been asking him for this hinge that he has made another possessing the good qualities of the Yankee as well as other advantages, and still recognizably different. The new hinge will be advertised frequently in the WEEKLY, commencing with this issue.

—The C. E. Hussman Stamp Co. has secured the services of A. P. Hosmer of Chicago, and states that another Chicago man will be with them by the first of January. The firm reports a great increase in the volume of business done over that in 1908.

—Henry M. Martin, whose Armenian name is K. D. Kazar, a real estate agent at 425 Main St., Worcester, Mass., has been arrested charged with using canceled stamps for payment of postage on packages of stamps sent out from the local P. O. Kazar has been advertising in the stamp papers to send "one pound to a customer at 50c a pound while they last." No less than 25 packages are held up in the Worcester office. Further particulars next issue.

THE NEW 12c STAMP.

(We are indebted to Glenn D. Menefee for no less than four stamp clippings, one of which, from the Boston Journal, we reprint. At the same time we are aware of the possibilities of another earthquake in the vicinity of Washington when Mr. Morris reads the views of the editor of this representative newspaper of cultured Boston.—Ed.)

The new 12-center represents the advanced cost of registration plus the regulation 2-cent fee for letters.

Whether the esthetic sense is to be served in this case, as well as the practical sense, is a question. The post-office department is keeping the stamp-makers busy, and it is a question whether under the press of novelties the stamp artists have time to produce anything worthy of admiration. The notable stamps of the year, the Alaska-Yukon and the Hudson-Fulton issues, meet a souvenir purpose, but the complaint the esthetes have raised over them is loud and bitter. There is an impression in some quarters that Mr. Hitchcock draws the designs of the new stamps himself. The new 12-cent stamp will settle that problem. If the head of Washington resembles Roosevelt or Taft, then it must be admitted that the aforesaid impression is sound.

NEW REGISTRY ENVELOPE.

Stout Wrapper to be Sold to Public May Revolutionize System.

(Clipping from T. C. Mann.)

Supt. Smith of the Registry Department of the St. Louis Post Office received yesterday from the Post Office Department at Washington a sample of the new envelope for registered mail which is intended to supersede the old envelope. It is made of stout paper, and to test its durability a number of five-penny nails were inclosed. The envelope arrived in good shape. If these envelopes meet with the approval of the department, they will be embossed with a stamp equivalent to the 10-cent registry fee and sold at the stamp windows at their face value.

Under the old system a receipt is given the sender of a registered letter; a card is filled out and mailed with it to be receipted by the addressee and the registered letter is put in a special heavy envelope addressed to the post office to which it is destined. This involves much expense.

If the new form is adopted, the costly general inclosure envelope will be done away with. The new envelope has the return card attached, which is receipted by the addressee and mailed back by the carrier, involving a considerable economy in handling.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

I am revising my auction mailing list. Hereafter catalogs will be sent regularly only to those requesting them. A few sample copies will be mailed to outsiders each time, but if you want to be certain of receiving all catalogs promptly as issued, please write me to that effect.

To Sellers

I am now working on a sale to be held in January, but can include about one hundred more lots if I receive them immediately. Write to me for my unusual terms if you have anything choice to sell.

OUR BOOK REVIEW.

Mr. D. Field of London evidently found that his "Simplified Catalogue of the Stamps of the British Empire," issued two years ago, met with proper favor among the fraternity, for we have just received the second edition, issued for 1910. In brief, the lines upon which the catalog was laid down were these:

Only normal stamps were included—no inverted surcharges and other errors being tabooed. Varieties of perforation were not recognized, the only distinction being between perforate and imperforate. Watermarks were included only as types—varieties of "star" or distinction between "single" and "multiple" not being recognized. Shades of color were included where sufficiently marked, but paper varieties were ignored altogether. Minor varieties of type were omitted, and in dealing with surcharges only distinct colors and forms were considered.

To all the above we most heartily subscribe, and we are very glad that the success of the first attempt warranted a second edition, as it shows that there are plenty of amateurs still with us and not all the present day collectors have gone "specialism mad." The preface to the second edition, however, contains the following: "As the majority of collectors contend that the single Crown CA and multiple Crown CA represent two distinct watermarks, and as both varieties are collected by 99 per cent. of general collectors, we have decided on their inclusion." Looking at this in a purely academic way, we certainly cannot agree with "the majority of collectors," for an impartial consideration of the subject makes it plain that "single" and "multiple" arrangements of the same watermark do not make two distinct watermarks. That the publishers are not wholly oblivious to this objection is shown by the remark: "To be perfectly consistent we should, perhaps, have adhered to this principle" (of treating "multiple" as a variety of "single" watermark). That they did not keep to it and freely confess that it was because of collectors' demands, throws the question out of the academic class and into the commercial; so that we have no further comment to make except to express a slight regret at the departure from the "simplified" idea, though wholly without prejudice toward its business cause.

In the first edition "fiscal postals" (postal fiscals would seem more nearly correct) were included, "but as so many doubts exist as to the postal status of most of these, we now omit them, making an exception only in the case of those which were provisionally issued for use during a temporary shortage of ordinary postage stamps of corresponding denominations, such as the $1 on $2 Hongkong and the 1d Natal revenue stamp surcharged Zululand." This is an excellent idea also, but why stop with the single Hongkong stamp mentioned? It is well known that the small lilac 2c revenue was properly authorized for postage, and that the $2, $3 and $5 on $10 large "stamp duty" stamps were sold and used as high value postage stamps for years, not only in Hongkong but in its agencies up to the time the current issue was put on sale—which, as if in confirmation of their status as postage stamps, contains the same values. The old $10 rose appears to have been in the same class until used up for provisional 12c stamps (which, by the way, seem to have been revenues only, as I have never seen one cancelled other than with the PAID ALL circular "postmark" which was used for revenue purposes). The $10 green I have never met with regularly postally cancelled. The examination of the claims of all "postal fiscals" to determine their status would seem to be an excellent subject for inquiry by some authority, which is given as a suggestion.

The catalog itself is excellent in make up, being printed on good calendared

CHRONICLE OF NEW ISSUES.

Edited by HENRY A. KIDDER.

Any information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged. Address HENRY A. KIDDER, 17 Addison Street, Arlington, Mass.

UNITED STATES.—G. W. Swinburne, Jr. reports having seen the current 2c stamp printed upon a very soft and rather thin paper. Mr. Swinburne also reports having seen the Hudson-Fulton stamp cut in half and used as 1c.

E. W. Murray shows us the current 2c stamp precancelled "St. Louis—Missouri," between thin rules; also the current 1c precancelled "Augusta, Me." in a double oval frame too large for a single stamp.

BRITISH NORTH BORNEO.—E. W. F. writes that he is informed by a correspondent in the Colony that 50,000 of the new 18c, without surcharge, were printed and 48,895 have been returned. Thus only 1105 were sold to the public. They are now selling in the Colony at $5 each.

CUBA.—Several of our foreign contemporaries announce the impending issue of a new set of stamps for the island. The values will be the same as the current issue, with the addition of 8c and $1 values. The stamps from 1c to 10c will be of the usual small rectangular pattern, and the 50c and $1 stamps of the size of the present 50c stamp. In fact, the 50c will be printed from the present plate, with the color changed to purple. The different values will bear portraits of men connected with Cuban history, as follows: 1c lilac and olive, Gen. Bartholome Maso; 2c, color not decided, Gen. Maximo Gomez; 3c blue and purple, Gen. Julio Sanguily; 5c dark blue, Gen. Ignacio Agramonte; 8c purple and olive green, Gen. Calixto Garcia; 10c deep green and sepia, Gen. Mayia Rodriguez; 50c black and purple, Gen. Antonio Maceo; $1 orange and black, Gen. Carlos Roloff; 10c special delivery, orange, Gen. J. B. Zayas. The stamps will be printed by the American Bank Note Co., though the colors given above are not finally decided upon.

In regard to the above, Anthony Erickson sends a clipping from the Cuban Review which gives the colors of the new stamps, as follows, though we are still uncertain as to the colors actually decided upon: 1c, dark green and black; 2c, red and dark green; 3c, violet and dark blue; 5c, blue and brown; 8c blue and lilac; 10c, orange and light blue; 50c, black and lilac; $1, black and yellow; 10c special delivery, sepia and green. The Review also says that stamped envelopes will also be issued of both large and small sizes, the values being 1c, 2c and 5c. The portraits on the envelope stamps will be Gen. Sorain Sanchez, Col. Enrique Vil-luondas and Joaquin Aguerro, the Comaguedan patriot.

TURKEY.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us additional values of the current stamps, with the signature of the new Sultan.

BARGAIN FOR DEALERS

Splendid assortment N. Y. State Stock Transfer stamps, as received unpicked from Wall St. Brokers, 20 var., 500 for $1.00. Carter's Messenger free. Geo. J. Carter, 265 Halsey St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

though the color scheme has been adhered to as far as possible. All are on ordinary multiple paper, perforated 14. The design suggests very much the current 1d Cape of Good Hope. The value appears in figures in small shields in the upper corners, and again at the bottom in words. Around the central oval containing the King's portrait, the inscriptions read: "Turks &" at the left side, "Caicos Islands" at the top and "Postage" at the right. Small ovals at the bottom surrounded by foliage, contain what at first glance look like good sized potato bugs, and we note that none of our foreign contemporaries have the temerity to give the objects a name.

Adhesives.

1/2d yellow green.
1d carmine.
2d gray.
2 1/2d ultramarine.
3d violet on yellow.
4d red on yellow.
6d purple.
1sh black on green.
2sh red on green.
3sh black on red.

VICTORIA.—A. M. Warner writes: "Some time ago I saw an article in MEKEEL'S WEEKLY saying that a certain stamp collector had examined 100,000 stamps, hunting for a restrike or double printed stamp. In a lot I received from England yesterday, I found a 6d Victoria, 1871, ultramarine (Scott's No. 116) with double impression in printing, or a restrike as it is called. The second impression is shifted about 1-3 millimeter and is very plain. It is a used stamp cancelled lightly with 'Ballaapat, No. 6, 71.'"

ZANZIBAR.—Three new values of the current set have been shown us by the New England Stamp Co., the designs, watermark and perforation being the same as the other of the set. The 1c and 10c are Scott's type 8 and the 75c is in type 9.

Adhesives.

1c gray.
10c brown.
75c gray black.

OBITUARY.

F. D. Goodhue informs us that E. Wanless of San Diego, Cal., A. P. S. 2623, died on Nov. 25. We are not acquainted with any of the facts, nor are we able to give particulars in relation to his stamp collecting.

NEWS GLEANINGS.

—F. H. Newton informs us that he recently made a very interesting find. In going through the effects of an ex-circuit judge in Michigan he unearthed among other things fifty-one 5c red brown Franklin and fifty-six 10c Washington of the 1847 issue, all on original cover and the majority in fine condition.

—We have given J. W. Horter, M. D., quite a little free advertising in the past. He is still engaged in the soliciting of approval selections and is writing from 295 Main St., Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

—According to a clipping sent us by C. E. Thomas a direct parcel post service has been agreed upon between Canada and France. It is not reported what the rate will be.

As soon as your name has been published as an applicant you will probably have unsolicited selections of stamps sent you on approval. As a great many collectors object to this the Society desires to break the practice up. Please aid us and help protect yourself and others against further imposition, by holding such selections without purchasing therefrom until sufficient funds have been received from the sender to enable you to return the stamps to him by registered mail. Also please report to the Secretary of the Society the name of the dealer sending such unsolicited selections.

Having the office now in working shape we are now moving ahead as fast as practicable and hope to reach everybody in due time. The Secretary has experienced difficulty in getting efficient assistance but expects to do so shortly.

Another new Branch will be chartered shortly. Why not start one at your own home city? There is ample room for one, no doubt, and the benefits are lasting to a great degree. Why not try it?

H. S. ADAIR, Sec.

We have over 20,000 Varieties of Stamps on hand.

13,000 of these varieties we will sell at 50% discount from the 1910 Catalog.

KEEP YOUR COLLECTION UP-TO-DATE BY SENDING FOR PARTICULARS OF W. H. PECKITT'S NEW ISSUE SERVICE,
47 STRAND, LONDON, W.C.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 1st, 1909.

To the President and Members of the American Philatelic Society.

Gentlemen:—Your Board of Vice-Presidents, elected at the annual convention of the society, held at Atlantic City this past August, met and organized on the ninth day of September last, as has been previously officially reported.

The Board has received a number of complaints of varied nature against members and applicants for membership, all of which have been carefully investigated and sifted and have been and are being disposed of with the best interests of the society in mind.

Your Board has deemed it wise to require that all claims for losses sustained in the Sales Department, shall be supported by affidavit for amounts of $2.00 and over; when smaller amounts are involved, a statement, to be made on the honor of the claimant, is required.

On the recommendation of the International Secretary, Mr. Kjellstedt, we have authorized the election to honorary corresponding membership of the Royal Philatelic Society of London, Herts Philatelic Society of London and the Philatelic Society of Sweden, with which three representative societies publications are to be exchanged.

While it is a little early to comment on the work accomplished by the several standing committees, newly appointed special committees and appointive officers, it is safe to predict that the association's most successful year is begun and that the cry "Why doesn't the A. P. S. 'do things'?" will be quickly supplanted by "Watch the A. P. S. do big things" and "What next."

Respectfully submitted,
F. R. CORNWALL, Chm.

COLUMBUS BRANCH No. 21.

November 30, the 71st regular meeting was held at the rooms of the club, President Mason in the chair. Eighteen members and five visitors were present.

On account of the display for the evening being so large and important, all business was dispensed with and President Mason introduced Mr. Alvin Good of Cleveland, Ohio, who exhibited stamps of Canada, Cape of Good Hope and Denmark from the collection of Mr. Geo. H. Worthington. These wonderful collections must be seen to be appreciated and any attempt at describing them would be far from satisfactory.

One of the most enjoyable and valuable features of the exhibit was the little talk with which Mr. Good accompanied the display, his explanations being of great value to those who had the pleasure of hearing him.

The Columbus Collectors' Club was very fortunate in having the opportunity to see these treasures and is deeply grateful to Mr. Worthington for the privilege, and also to Mr. Good for the manner in which he displayed and explained the stamps.

COMMUNICATION.

(We do not hold ourselves responsible for the views expressed by our readers. Our columns are always open for communications of general interest.—Ed.)

Editor MEKEEL'S:

Here are some items of information that may be new. A few days ago, I found several interesting stamps among a large lot of Ceylon that I bought at auction in London.

(1) Ceylon, 5c Postage and Revenue on 24c green. (Scott's No. 92.) I have a cancelled copy of this stamp with the surcharge inverted. I do not find the invert listed in any catalogue.

(2) Ceylon, 28c on 48c rose. (Scott's No. 105.) There seems to be two types (and possibly more) of this surcharge. My copies show these variations:

Type 1—"Twenty" measures 14 mm.—hyphen after "twenty"—"y" perfect—"t" of eight set between t and y.

Type 2—"Twenty" measures 13 mm.—no hyphen—tail of "y" broken—"t" of eight directly under "y".

Type 3—"Twenty" measures 14 mm.—hyphen broken in middle.

(3) Ceylon, 36c blue. (Scott's No. 70.) This stamp is found in blue, pale ultramarine, sky-blue, and perhaps other shades.

(4) Ceylon, 32c slate blue (Scott's No. 69) is found in blue and slate.

(5) Ceylon, 5 on 16c violet. (Scott's No. 116.) I have a copy with the "F" of five slightly smaller in size (from another font) and above the line.

(6) Ceylon—I have several copies of the issue of 1885, different denominations, with broken letters in the surcharge, and No. 115 surcharged in a very thick type.

(7) Ceylon—I have two copies, with inverted surcharge of 5c on 4c lilac rose. (Scott's No. 113.) This is catalogued by Senf, but not by Scott or Gibbons. If you find these of interest, I shall be pleased to have them chronicled.

THE DOUGLAS COLLECTION.

Frank D. Goodhue informs us that the very large and beautiful collection of the late Howard Douglas of Cincinnati has been sold to an eastern dealer at a very satisfactory price. Mr. Douglas traveled through Europe many times and obtained his foreign stamps direct from the post offices in different countries. He was at one time the commander of the world of the Knights of Pythias, and his correspondents, all over the world, contributed to his collection. He was always generous and gave thousands of stamps to other collectors.

Mr. Goodhue writes: "He was small in stature, big in heart, and had the generosity of twenty men, and was of such great intellectual power that he was known in legal circles as the 'Little Giant.' Letters of condolence poured in to his widow from every part of the world—thousands of them. A perfect gentleman, an absolutely true friend, an exemplary husband and father, a man of ability, a lawyer of high standing, and an ardent philatelist. These are traits of character worth having."

AN OFFICIAL UNOFFICIAL.

By V. E. Sisson.

To those who are interested in the so-called "private perforations" the following facts will be interesting, since it effects their official standing.

The United States Automatic Vending Co., of New York, at one time leased so many of their automatic stamp vending machines in Washington, D. C., that the Government considered it expedient to, and did furnish such machines with stamps in rolls of 500 imperforate, notched at the corners and slit as is required for the machine for public sale. As the Government had not the necessary machinery for the preparation of these a representative of the post office department was sent to the office of the Vending Company, in New York, where the stamps were prepared under his direct supervision without leaving his possession or the Government ownership.

The point is, are not these stamps then a Government issue? The fact that the notching was not done by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing need not be considered a disadvantage. It will be recalled that many of our official and catalogue varieties were actually manufactured by independent bank note companies and not by the official bureau.

The argument might be advanced that these were sold to meet a special condition, but so were the imperforate one and two cent stamps of 1907, which are now listed in our standard catalogue.

The "preparation" in question consists of a small equilateral triangle notch on each side between each stamp and a slit between the apexes of the triangles which all but separates the stamps which are in strips, perfectly centered, attached end to end. The notch engages cogs on a drum similar to a sprocket and chain on a bicycle. A penny inserted operates the mechanism so that the roll of stamps revolves just enough to allow one one-cent stamp to come completely out. The purchaser takes the protruding stamp in his fingers and a slight pull detaches it from the strip.

For the editor's information I am enclosing a strip of four two-cent Lincoln stamps that were actually purchased from the post office. It might be interesting to some to know that the five-cent 1902 was sold in this manner.

The mechanism of this Vending Machine is so simple that it can be readily adapted to any size stamp or any weight or size of coin, also to any number of coins, as a two-cent stamp is necessarily bought with two one-cent coins.

GOING SOME.

Mr. I. C. Greene, Leominster, Mass., Dear Sir:—I am in receipt of your letter of Dec. 7, returning my book No. 1, and note with pleasure the great success you have had in exchanging these stamps. I am not only pleased to note that you were able to use on your circuit about 80% of my stamps but also pleased with the time in which you have made these exchanges. I will send you more books shortly and hope to receive another circuit in the near future.

EDITORIAL.

The New Stamp—In the course of an interesting letter from a Washington friend, mention is made of the forthcoming new twelve-cent stamp. The newspapers have told of the consideration by the department of the idea of printing "for the first time in forty years postage stamps with another design than the display of the features of a national hero. The dozen or more designs submitted for the new 12-cent stamp for registered letters show the spread eagle of the national coat-of-arms with the stars and stripes adorning his breast." Our correspondent says that while the plan of using the eagle or any design outside of portrait uniform with that of the stamps of the present series may seem to strike a discordant note in contrast with the uniformity of the other stamps, yet the department recognizes the advantage of having the twelve-cent stamp of distinctive design. A stamp bearing the eagle, for instance, would make a real registration stamp, whose special service or office would be indicated at once by its appearance. Of all the denominations of the set none allows so readily of this treatment as the twelve-cent, rating ordinary postage and registration and its selection for special design is well-advised.

Busy—We gather that the postal department is alive with enterprise. From our informant we gather that while the authorities are all too busy to attempt pointless or impractical experimenting, they are keenly anxious to serve the public and protect postal interests in the most modern, even advanced, manner. The experiments that have been made with paper are not likely to end with those concerning paper, colored or chemical, but it is probable that the matter of inks will receive attention. The hints that have been given in this paper recently in regard to change in the details of paper, etc., seem to have a basis; and the indications are that United States stamps will occupy the center of the stage for some time to come. All interest that is concentrated on the present stamps and their varieties will stimulate regard for the earlier issues and the prediction that has been made regularly for some time past that United States stamps are coming into their own will be boomingly verified.

* * *

Second Class Rates—In his annual message, President Taft dwells upon the deficit in the postal department and advocates retrenchment. He suggests measures to restrict the privileges granted to publishers under second class rates. It is possible that the post-office department anticipated the recommendations that were made as steps have been taken to curtail some of the advantages that publishers have been enjoying. A ruling has been given by the attorney for the department that will be felt by many publishers but all the particulars are not now available. We wish merely to introduce the subject so as to allow of further comment or explanation should it be deemed necessary to make it.

An Echo—Speaking of decisions of the attorney-general for the postoffice department, can any of our veteran philatelists furnish particulars of the following case? The opinion was submitted under date of November 8, 1877, to the Hon. A. D. Hazen, third assistant Postmaster-General by the legal bureau: "Your communication of the 2nd instant referring to this office certain interrogatories from Charles H. Coster, has been considered. In reply I have to suggest that so far as disclosed by the papers submitted, Mr. Coster sustains no such relation to the Department as entitles him to the information sought. If, however, you should deem it proper to answer his communication, I have the honor to advise you that under no circumstances has a postmaster a right to detain a letter upon which the full amount of postage has been applied or paid. He cannot, under any circumstances, be allowed to base his action upon a presumed knowledge of the contents of a sealed letter. The sacredness of a seal is inviolable. The law presumes that the contents of a sealed letter are confidential, except in so far as they may be divulged by the person having the authority to break the seal, and this presumption is conclusive. The postmaster has no right to know and no authority to inquire into the contents of a sealed letter. If it should come to his knowledge, aside from any information which the letter itself might furnish, that the writer has improperly and illegally used an official stamp or envelope, it would be his duty to report such violation of the law to the proper authorities of the government. It would, however, even in that case, be his duty to deliver the letter, unless restrained from doing so by some competent authority." The Coster referred to in the foregoing opinion, we believe, was the well-known philatelic writer, who is best remembered by his work on United States locals, which, with Horner's book on U. S. envelopes, published by L. W. Durbin, Philadelphia, in 1879, were the most substantial works of American philatelic authorship that had appeared up to that time.

* * *

He Saw It—The picture of Fulton's "Clermont" on the two-cent Hudson-Fulton special stamp suggests that the following description of the first trip of the Clermont will be acceptable to philatelists. An eye-witness describes the scene in the following words: "It was exactly at the time in 1807 that I, then staying at one of the most celebrated boarding-houses in the city of New York, the Widow Gallop's on Broadway, while engaged in making my preparation for departure, by mere chance at breakfast, made the acquaintance of a gentleman who was just about to give the world the first example of steam navigation. The reader will readily guess that I am now referring to Robert Fulton, and his newly built steamer 'Clermont' constructed by him at his own expense. It was then a topic in the mouth of everybody as the attempt he proposed to make to carry his plan into execution was the object of universal curiosity. My new acquaintance wanted me to be present and witness the departure of his steamboat which was to take place from the bank of the Hudson River at twelve o'clock; and indeed, it did not require much persuasion to induce me to accede to this request. So I saw this curious and wonderful structure, 130 feet in length, 16 1/2 feet broad, 7 feet depth of hold, rating 160 tons, as it had been described, and containing about 450 passengers, leave the wharf as the clock struck twelve, make right for the middle of the stream, and describe a circle three times in succession. Then, defying the force of the winds and waves alike, it dashed gallantly along the way to Albany, as though the most favorable breeze were filling its sails. A vociferous cheer arose from the thousands assembled on both banks of the Hudson to witness with their own eyes, the reality of this truly grand experiment and brilliant success."

Want Lists

The bulk of my mail business is by "Want Lists." You will find it a very satisfactory way of filling up with stamps you want, provided you can get them at satisfactory prices.

Some collectors have an idea that they have to pay more if stamps are asked for on a want list, than if bought from approval lots. Perhaps so with some dealers.

The opposite rule applies with me, as I should ask more for stamps if I made up a general lot for approval, the chances of a fair sized sale being smaller than if only stamps wanted were sent.

I send the stamps on approval if in stock to A. P. S. members and others giving satisfactory reference, and if price or condition not satisfactory you have only to return.

I do not solicit want lists limited to stamps cat. under 10c but can usually supply some on lists of stamps cat. 2c to $1.00 or higher of any country, particularly 19th Century at attractive prices.

CHRONICLE OF NEW ISSUES.

Edited by HENRY A. KIDDER.

Any information regarding new issues will be gratefully received and acknowledged. Address HENRY A. KIDDER, 17 Addison Street, Arlington, Mass.

UNITED STATES.—Leroy H. Brooks reports having seen the current 8c pre-cancelled "Buffalo, N. Y." and used over a "7c paid permit No. 7."

B. D. Foster writes: "The fourth issue, New York state transfer stamp, 20c denomination, is now issued in a lighter shade of steel blue, and the surcharge has been changed from dark red to greenish blue."

ARGENTINE.—The New England Stamp Co. has shown us two new values in the current set.

Adhesives.

1/2c violet.
20c pale ultramarine.

ENGLISH COLONIES.—A reader calls attention to the fact that the Chronicle has never printed the full particulars of the new color scheme, which has now been adopted by the following Colonies: Barbados, British Solomon Islands, Cayman Islands, Dominica, Fiji Islands, Gambia, Gibraltar, Gold Coast, Grenada, Jamaica, Leeward Islands, Mauritius, Natal, Nyasaland Protectorate, St. Helena, St. Lucia, St. Vincent, Sierra Leone, Southern Nigeria, Straits Settlements, Transvaal, Trinidad, Turks and Caicos Islands, Virgin Islands. This list is taken from Stanley Gibbons Stamp Weekly, but it will be noted that few if any of the Colonies have yet completely brought their issues into full harmony with the prescribed color schedule.

Certain modifications are also to be made in the list of colors as printed. For instance, Dominica is to reverse the colors of the head and duty plates, so that the larger area may be printed in the doubly fugitive inks. Gambia has already signified its intention of departing from the general rule, so far as the 5d, 7 1/2d, 10d, 1sh 6d and 3s stamps are concerned.

The full color scheme, as suggested by the British Postal Authorities, and already adopted by the Colonies named above, and altogether likely to be adopted by all the others as well, is as follows:

Value.	Frame.	Centre.	Paper.
Under 1/2d	Black	Black	White
1/2d	Brown	Brown	White
1/2d	Green	Green	White
1d	Red	Red	White
1 1/2d	Orange	Orange	White
2d	Gray	Gray	White
2 1/2d	Blue	Blue	White
3d	Purple	Purple	Yellow
4d	Red	Black	Yellow
5d	Sage Green	Purple	White
6d	Purple	Purple	White
7 1/2d	Yellow	Purple	White
8d	Black	Purple	White
10d	Red	Purple	White
1sh	Black	Black	Green
1sh 6d	Blue	Green	White
2sh	Blue	Purple	Blue
2sh 6d	Red	Black	Blue
3sh	Violet	Green	White
4sh	Red	Black	White
5sh	Red	Green	Yellow
8sh	Em. Green	Purple	White
10sh	Red	Green	Green
11	Black	Purple	Red
15	Yellow	Green	White
110	Blue	Purple	White
125	Red	Green	White

The above list is taken from the Colonial Office Journal, and is therefore official, but it will be noted that in working out the scheme there have been important modifications. This is especially true from the philatelic color standpoint. For instance, the 2 1/2d stamp is generally in ultramarine instead of blue, the 3d and 6d are in violet instead of purple, and there are other modifications of shades. The Colonial Office Journal says: Though the colors of stamps printed from the old Universal King's Head keyplate would agree exactly with the list given, they would be found reversed in the case of the 8d, 10d, 1sh 6d, 4sh and 8sh printed from the new Universal King's Head keyplate. It is also necessary to add that although stamps bearing designs other than that of the King's Head would be printed in the regulation colors, it does not follow that the constant portion of each design will be given for the King's Head, as this color may be allowed to the border of the stamp.

NETHERLANDS.—Mr. Schachne sends us the 1 1/2c card with the address lines occupying the entire front side and is just like the last 2 1/2c in design.

RUSSIA.—Mr. Schachne reports a letter card with the arms in a wreath at left, as seen on the current cards. The former letter card had a headline of two Russian words. This one shows the second word only and in larger type. The stamp, foot-note, perforation and paper are same as last.

TRANSVAAL.—The 2 1/2d value has appeared in a single color on ordinary multiple paper.

Adhesive.
2 1/2d ultramarine.

TRINIDAD.—We have been shown three new stamps of this Colony, with the values expressed in figures, by the New England Stamp Co. The 1/2d and 2 1/2d have the figures of value in all four corners, but the 1d only in the lower corners. The latter is not changed in the upper part, and the shape of the frame containing the portrait of Britannia is the same as in the earlier issues. The tablets containing the figures are pointed at the top, and "Penny" is in color on a white tablet. The other values show more marked differences,—the shape of the frame, the tablets containing the figures, the size of the name of the Colony, etc., all being different, while the value in words appear in white on colored tablets. On the 2 1/2d, the word "Pence" is repeated twice. The six-pointed star is worked into all values.

Adhesives.
1/2d green.
1d carmine.
2 1/2d ultramarine.

Hermann Focke also shows a used copy of the 2 1/2d noted above.

TUNIS.—J. M. Morse has two provisional letter cards which we believe have not been reported. The 15c numbers 3 and 7 are both surcharged with "10" in red over the "15" in the stamp.

URUGUAY.—Hermann Focke has shown us the 23c on 25c provisional noted some time since, a companion to the 8c on 10c chronicled in No. 984. The 23c serves to pay the postage, 8c, and registration, 15c, on foreign letters from Uruguay. The 8c provisional was to pay foreign letter postage.

ODD MAIL DELIVERY.

To Be Sent Ten Feet a Letter Must Travel 294 Miles.

(Clipping by Miss Amy L. Swift.)

One of the most remarkable mail routes in the world is that which a letter journeys in getting from Beebe Plain, Vt., to Beebe Plain, Quebec, Canada. While the two offices are within 10 feet of each other—are located in the same room, in fact—a letter mailed from one office to the other must make a trip of 294 miles—67 miles in Canada and the rest in the United States.

The plain old-fashioned store building, which is situated on the international boundary line, contains both the United States and Canadian offices. There are separate entrances to each, but both are in the same room, have the same lobby, and there are no partitions to mark the division between the do-

One application for membership was received from Wm. L. Aldrich. Same lays on table till next meeting.

Under Social Entertainment there were two exhibits shown.

Mr. E. F. Sawyer's "Compound Envelopes of the British Empire."

Mr. G. C. Russell's collection of United States stamps, both adhesive and cut square envelopes, all of which were looked at with much interest.

Mr. White of Worcester also displayed some old documents in use about 1800 with various denominations of government stamps embossed on same, and were very interesting and unique.

Mr. C. H. Stone's interesting remarks relative to rare dies of U. S. Envelopes, etc. concluded the social features of the evening. Meeting adjourned 9.30 p. m.

Geo. H. Worthington,	25.00
Total,	$285.00

We want to draw special attention to the fact that practically all of the above subscriptions were received without solicitation from this committee. We trust the list will be largely increased by the time the committee has perfected its plans. Several big plans are under consideration that will require a large sum to carry out successfully. Don't wait to be asked for a donation but look up the committeeman nearest to you and send it to him today.

Every philatelist who has a pull with his local paper and can get stamp matter inserted, is requested to communicate with the Secretary of this committee, Hugh M. Clark, 536 Postal Telegraph Bldg., Chicago. We have received offers from various stamp magazines of subscriptions to be given by the committee to public libraries and Y. M. C. A.

libraries. Applications for these free subscriptions should be made at once to the Secretary of this committee.

CHICAGO BRANCH No. 1.

The 280th regular meeting of the Chicago Branch No. 1 was held in the club rooms of the Chicago Philatelic Society on the evening of December 8. President Whitaker called the meeting to order with the following members present: Whitaker, Wolsieffer, Severn, Fowler, Dahl, Mizera, Bloss, Farnham, Lindquist, Bowker, Clark, Roterberg.

The minutes of the previous meeting were approved as read.

The application of A. F. Van Order for membership was received and posted.

H. Harsin, Jr., was admitted to membership. The Treasurer's report was read, showing a balance of $14.48 on hand December 10th. As I. R. Johnson was not present his report concerning the financial end of the 1911 convention invitation was postponed until next meeting.

Messrs. Severn and Lindquist reported regarding a plan on suggestions for philatelic work for the branch for the coming year.

Mr. Bloss read a paper on the stamps of Siam which was illustrated by his collection. A vote of thanks was tendered him.

Meeting adjourned at 9.55 p. m. Next meeting January 12th.

HUGH M. CLARK, Sec.

Do You Think of Selling?

If you do, and want ALL THERE IS IN IT, the best way is by the use of a well conducted and well arranged AUCTION SALE. Thus you get the benefit of the competition of COLLECTORS as well as dealers, not only for your property as a whole, but for every item of value it contains. We make A SPECIALTY of such sales; have already held 205 realizing nearly HALF-A-MILLION DOLLARS; we have a large and carefully selected list of BUYERS in this and other countries which cannot be excelled by any firm in our line; we hold sales both in New York and Boston, thus giving you the benefit of the two BEST MARKETS in the world COMBINED; we issue neat and attractive catalogues; make careful and advantageous arrangement of lots; make LIBERAL advances when needed and invariably secure the BEST RESULTS the market will permit. Many of the HIGHEST PRICES of the past season were recorded in our sales. Our SETTLEMENTS are PROMPT and our RESPONSIBILITY established. Our TERMS are still as low as can be given by any whose facilities even approach our own. We believe it is only wisdom for all who wish to TURN STAMPS INTO CASH to consult us before placing a contract elsewhere. LARGE COLLECTIONS, Dealers' stocks, SINGLE RARE STAMPS and sets are all in good demand and the prospect for good results this coming season is unusually bright. We solicit correspondence, or an interview wherever practicable. WE BUY collections outright where one is in haste to realize. Sales may be booked ahead and favorable dates may be obtained by early application.

Meetings first (informal) and third (regular) Tuesdays at Club Room 506 Kast Bdg., 7.30 P. M.

BOSTON, MASS., Dec. 18, 1909.

The 216th (regular) meeting of the society will be held in the club room on Tuesday, Dec. 21, 1909, at 7.30 p. m.

This is the last meeting of our calendar year and nominations for officers for the ensuing year will be made. As there are a number of changes to occur, be on hand to see that your choice is nominated. The amendment concerning quorum of the Governing Board will come up for action.

The entertainment will include an exhibition of the fine collections of Sweden and Norway belonging to State Senator E. R. Ackerman of New Jersey. Don't fail to see these, for it is seldom that we have the opportunity to see these countries so specialized.

The Entertainment Com. will also have some queries in the Question Box to spring on us, so sharpen your wits and come primed for them.

PHILATELY IN ST. LOUIS

By F. R. CORNWALL.

When I first came to St. Louis, in 1892, my stamp album peacefully reposed in the bottom of my trunk. My interest in philately was but dormant, however, because later, my wife, to whom nothing is secret (my stenographer insists on writing this "sacred"), found the book and likewise the stamps, and, much to my consternation, used the stamps for commonplace postal duty. This had been going on for some little time before I learned of her irreverence for things philatelic. Such a sacrilege was quite a shock, and to this day I do not know to what extent I was shocked.

One cannot mention St. Louis and philately, without in the same breath intoning the name of the late John K. Tiffany. It was in the summer of '94, in the office of F. W. Miller, then doing a flourishing stamp business here, that I became acquainted with Mr. Tiffany, and it was through his interest in the extra side lines on 3-cent stamps of the 1851 issue that I was able to secure quite a number of those stamps. In his History of U. S. Stamps, it will be recalled, Mr. Tiffany describes these side-line varieties, and both he and I examined thousands of copies looking for good specimens with the extra side lines. Dr. Carroll Chase has written most admirably on this side-line variety in the hand book published by the American Philatelic Society at Boston, this year, in which Dr. Chase explains how he has succeeded in plating certain rows of these stamps in Plate 3. I have often recalled the pleasant hours spent with Mr. Tiffany, and I see him now, in a seersucker suit, and a cigar, which refused to stay lit when he forgot to smoke it, and I can hear his matter-of-fact and direct, incisive expressions, which impressed his personality so deeply on the tablets of philately in St. Louis.

Charles Gildehaus, who recently died, is another collector identified with old-time philately in St. Louis. Mr. Gildehaus, while a member of the local society, and also the A. P. S., was not active in the affairs of either. A remarkable thing about the collection made by Mr. Gildehaus is that it contained no stamp issued after 1872, and was complete up to that time to within less than forty stamps catalogued in the Standard Catalogue.

Adalbert Strauss is another St. Louis collector, who has collected for a number of years past. Mr. Strauss has accumulated several notable collections, which he has disposed of to advantage, and he says now that in recently disposing of all but a few countries, he retained those few countries to satisfy his collecting propensities. He just has to collect stamps, and when he tags a country, he hums the refrain "It might as well be you."

There are many collectors in St. Louis who have valuable collections, but who, unfortunately hide their lights under a bushel. They are men who look to stamp collection as a diversion from the hurry and bustle of business life. It is surprising how many men satisfy their yearnings as collectors in a quiet, unobtrusive way, and the vast number of these who display a fondness for stamps. Captains of industry, whose every minute is so valuable, and whose time is so crowded that to meet one is a task, find time to collect stamps. One gentleman whom I have known for years, in a business way, said to me one day that he understood that I was a stamp collector. I told him I did not know whether I was or not, but I tried to be. He said that he had collected stamps as a boy, and had an album in which he would put in a few stamps once in a while, and that he would like to show it to me sometime. I, of course, thought that I would see a school-boy collection, of little financial worth, and less philatelic value, when, to my surprise, he took from his safe an up-to-date, loose-leaf album, in which United States was practically complete, every specimen in mint condition, and, as our friend P. M. would say, "perfection." In the back of his album he had a little account book, and he told me that he had spent over six thousand dollars on his stamps. The intrusion of his business education into his philatelic pleasures, at first seemed to strike a discordant note, but that phase of philately which has to do with the value of various specimens, unobtainable to many on account of cost, and to others on account of scarcity, undoubtedly warrants the course which he, and other prominent collectors have followed, in keeping tab on their collections.

Of modern-day philatelists, I mean those of us who collect open and above board, I could write volumes. The editor, however, has only given me ten days, and such a short time is not enough to do justice to philately and its devotees here in St. Louis. There are over fifty collectors here, more or less prominent in their specialties. Many of these collections are known outside of St. Louis, and I shall not make special mention of them, because space will not permit me to do justice to all, and my sense of fairness prevents me from showing partiality to one. I shall therefore conclude with the general statement that St. Louis is alive, philatelically; it has faithful adherents to its cause, and there are several who are devoting much valuable time in advancing the interests of philately, not only locally, but universally.

STUNG.

One of the best examples of the "biter bitten" was afforded in Chicago recently. The Chicago Philatelic Society occupies its quarters as co-tenants with several other societies, one of whom employed a chore-boy. On the walls of the large meeting room are many frames, the property of the C. P. S., containing philatelic souvenirs and curiosities. The contents of one frame consisted of a set of Columbian stamps in the form of cardboard proofs, each one of which was enclosed in a wood-carved frame, the material for which was taken from a World's Fair building and cleverly fashioned by Simon Strauss, the master whittler, who is a member of the C. P. S. Another frame included a faked two cent Pan-American, inverted center, that jokingly was marked as being worth $175.

The boy aforesaid decided to make a haul and luxuriate in the proceeds to be realized from his "loot." He stripped the several frames mentioned and decamped. His act was soon discovered and the young vandal was promptly run down and it is the intention to teach him a lesson. His depredation renders him a ridiculous figure as he would have received nothing for his booty. He presents a most unheroic spectacle, a fact that he now appreciates. In the slang of the day, he was badly "stung" and he can get no relief from the smart from himself or others.

ACKNOWLEDGED WITH THANKS.

PHILADELPHIA STAMP COMPANY,

PERCIVAL PARRISH, PRESIDENT,
1204 CHESTNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

SEYBOLD COLLECTION BRINGS $26,000.

The Purchaser is John T. Coit, a Prominent Banker of New York City.

(The following clipping is from the Syracuse Herald of Dec. 13, and will prove of great interest to our readers. Mr. Howe in submitting the clipping expresses his appreciation of the interest manifested in the collection by prominent stamp dealers, and particularly the assistance rendered by MEKEEL'S WEEKLY in stimulating that interest and thereby securing a purchaser for the same.—Ed.)

The famous collection of postage stamps owned by John F. Seybold of this city, who died in August last, has been sold, the purchaser being John T. Coit, a prominent banker of New York City. The sale was a cash transaction and the purchase price was $26,000. Mr. Coit has for many years taken a strong interest in philately, and he has been the owner of more than one fine collection in the past. He became interested in the Seybold collection about ten days ago, and opened a correspondence relative to the subject with John B. Howe of The Herald, who is the agent, with power of attorney, of Jacob Seybold, father of John F., and the administrator and sole legatee of his son, who died intestate. As a result of the negotiations Mr. Coit came to Syracuse yesterday, accompanied by J. C. Morgenthau of New York City, one of the leading stamp dealers and experts of the country. The whole day was spent in an examination of the collection, and this morning the selling price was agreed upon and the transaction completed.

The purchaser is a resident of New York City, but lives with his family half of the year at a beautiful home in Bennington Center, Vt. Stamp collection has been one of his favorite pastimes, and he has long been familiar with the Seybold collection, having inspected it during the lifetime of its owner.

The sale of the Seybold collection will be regarded as an event of interest in the philatelic world. Since Mr. Seybold's death, Mr. Howe has received a large number of inquiries concerning its disposition, and several prominent dealers in the large cities have gone over it with a view to purchase. Not only from various sections of the United States, but from England, Germany and Switzerland, letters have come from dealers and wealthy collectors asking for the conditions and terms of sale. It was Mr. Howe's intention to offer the collection at auction, through one of the large stamp auction agencies, if he could not dispose of it advantageously in a single transaction; but the private sale now effected, with satisfaction to both parties, makes that alternative unnecessary.

THE ST. LOUIS STAMP TRADE.

St. Louis has been for years a stamp trade centre and very intimately associated with its fame in this direction is the name of Mekeel. Indeed it can be truly said that the Mekeel enterprise has made St. Louis a household word in the home of every true philatelist. It was in that city that this publication was born and nurtured and St. Louis may well claim an honorable position in the galaxy of stamp commercial centres. Elsewhere we have sketched the business success of the C. E. Hussman Stamp Co. and have pictured the finely appointed office of the E. J. Schuster Co. There are other firms of whom mention should be made.

C. A. Stegmann has used his black and white advertisement in the WEEKLY regularly for many years. It is a "buying" advertisement, yet a firm that is constantly buying must do some selling and one has only to read the advertising columns of the popular boys' papers to know where his patronage comes from. Mr. Stegmann is a liberal user of advertising in high class publications and has built up a fine mail order business. He must withal be a modest man as we find ourselves without the photos and data with which we should like to adorn our sketch.

C. E. Hussman, the original owner of the business now conducted under the name of the C. E. Hussman Stamp Co., is still in the stamp trade doing business as the Best Stamp & Coin Co. He has not advertised with us very much lately, but from the advertisement elsewhere seeking a competent stamp man we judge that he will soon be found regularly in our columns. As the business manager of the old Boston Stamp Book, we first came in contact with Mr. Hussman and we have never ceased to pay tribute to his business integrity and unflinching courtesy.

C. H. Mekeel, the original owner of MEKEEL'S WEEKLY is not only active in the regular channels of stamp business, but has resurrected the ever popular Philatelic Journal of America.

Among the collectors of St. Louis, the commercial spirit occasionally asserts itself as witness the advertising of Wm. A. Sisson, H. A. Diamant and others. There is a charm in buying to sell that appeals very strongly to the average personality.

While St. Louis cannot boast of as many stamp houses as Boston, New York or Chicago, the volume of business transacted will compare favorably. We are pleased to honor St. Louis with this special number exploiting her stamp interests.

Just as we go to press we receive an advertisement from L. B. Dover, which appears elsewhere, announcing his establishment in the stamp business. Mr. Dover was formerly the manager of the E. J. Schuster Co. and it is no doubt probable that regular weekly advertising will appear in this paper. We give him a cordial welcome to the dealing ranks and trust he will get his full share of business.

IN MEMORIAM.

At the last regular meeting of the St. Louis Stamp Collectors Society resolutions were adopted in connection with the death of Charles Gildehaus. Mr. Gildehaus was a member of the A. P. S. and by his business integrity, philatelic knowledge and genial good nature had endeared himself to all who knew him. On Nov. 26 he succumbed to heart failure, passing away in the very prime of life.

MAX F. BIER

Manager Co-Operative Exchange.

A few years ago the Co-Operative Exchange commenced to take space in the WEEKLY. Modestly at first, presenting its claims for patronage, this firm has now reached the position where it can and does command an excellent run of business. The personality back of the Exchange is Max F. Bier, the manager, and associated with him is W. E. Bier, secretary.

Max F. Bier formerly held a position in a N. Y. stock broker's office conducting the stamp business as a side-line until the latter increased to such an extent that he felt obliged to give all his time to it. He has had several offers from people who wished to take out partnership papers or make a stock company, but Mr. Bier feels a personal pride in having worked up the business and wishes to retain it in his own hands. A touch of the genuinely human is found in Mr. Bier's letter in which his early experiences are informally mentioned. So closely related are they to many another dealer that we quote a few sentences:

"I really think my father started me collecting, when I was a very small boy. He gave me all the curious and high value stamps that came to his studio. These, my mother carefully pasted down flat in a book and I have kept my interest in stamps ever since. I can truthfully say that I have never lost my interest in them, and am today if possible, more enthusiastic than ever. When I was about fifteen I began dealing in them in a very small way, meeting the trials and tribulations of the average small dealer, stamps substituted on my sheets, approval books said to be lost in the mails, approval books returned without any purchase, but stamps taken out to cover return postage and other peculiar experiences. It was a good lesson however in human nature."

Advertising at first met with but little success and this too is the common experience. About this Mr. Bier says: "In regard to advertising, my first efforts met with little success, but I did not allow myself to be discouraged by this. I am not like some I meet, who if their first advertisement does not pay simply give up the business altogether. I would like to say to all these that it is simply persistence that wins out."

An important branch of the business done by the Exchange is auction selling and since starting these sales some two years since the business of the firm has shown a marked increase. Another specialty is that of wholesale selections. It is not generally known but in the recent S. P. A. election Mr. Bier contested the presidency with Mr. Powell, another WEEKLY advertiser receiving 65 votes and being defeated by only one vote.

We wish the Exchange a full measure of prosperity and long life to its energetic manager.

TEN-CENT STAMP ON BLUE PAPER.

Chas. R. Morris submits information from the Acting Third Asst. Postmaster General dealing with the 10c stamp on blue paper. We make this extract from the same.

"You are advised that some of these stamps were thus printed for the purpose of observing the color combination.
The Department is not prepared to state
the number so printed."

This is the stamp recently advertised in the WEEKLY without having been previously chronicled in our columns.

UNITED STATES.—We are indebted to
S. Ross Putman, S. E. Young, M. D., W. A. Graves, B. F. Fuller, Dr. K. A.
Helgeson and others, for specimens and information regarding new and old pre-cancels. We find it necessary to draw a line in regard to these stamps, as some of our correspondents send us information regarding precancellations new to them, but which have been known to others for years, and many of which were noticed in this column some time since. We wish to call attention to the list of precancels on the current United States stamps compiled by F. B. Eldredge, and printed in the December number of the Attleboro Philatelist.
Hereafter we shall be obliged to limit number of precancels to the current issue, and then only to stamps that have not already appeared in Eldredge's list.
The only exception will be where a manifestly new variety is discovered.

S. E. Young reports the current 10c precancelled "Chattanooga—St. Elmo Sta.—Tennessee," in the usual style, with the impression double, the second one being diagonal, reading down.

Dr. Young also reports seeing an adhesive permit sent out by the Acme
White Lead and Color Works, Detroit, Mich. It is "11c Paid—Detroit, Mich."
—Permit No. 83, printed on white paper, and pasted on an amber wrapper, like a regular stamp, but not perforated. Dr.
Young also reports having a 2c permit, of "Springfield," state not given; also,
a 2c permit of Richmond, Va., with the spelling "Pemit," the "r" being omitted.

Frank Purdy sends us a vertical pair of the current officially sealed stamps, imperforate between.

Gen. Charles A. Coolidge writes: "In your issue of Dec. 4, C. M. Breder reports a failure to find the circle on the date "1609," as previously reported on Plate No. 5394. I understand that the Hudson-Fulton stamps are printed in sheets of 240 stamps each. These sheets are cut up into four parts of 60 stamps each. The two stamps, with the circle over the "6" are in the top row of the northwest quarter of the full sheet, and on the third and fourth stamps, counting from the left. The dark circles are very evident under a glass, though the circle is a little more distinct on the fourth stamp than on the third.

I. C. Greene shows us the type set officially sealed rouletted stamp of 1888-89 with a large round black dot between "Officially" and "Sealed." This stamp was the lower right hand stamp in a sheet of four.

Ernest R. Ackerman sends us a "1c Paid" of New York, "Permit No. 870," with the "870" obliterated and "570" printed outside the frame. The sur-charging is in red.

B. F. Fuller reports the following pre-cancels on the current stamps, not on Eldredge's list:

- Ashland, Ohio, 2c normal.
- Mansfield, Ohio, 2c normal.
- Milwaukee, Wis., 1c reading up.
- Milwaukee, Wis., 1c reading down.
- Minneapolis, Minn. 5c, normal.
- Philadelphia, Pa., $1, narrow space between lines.
- Philadelphia, Pa., $1, wide space between lines.

appear. Owing to the recent advance in the Registry fee, which also applies to the Zone, there will be very few 8c stamps used henceforth, and the old stock will doubtless last some time yet.

COLOMBIA.—Popayan.—The C. E. Hussman Stamp Co. sends us a provisional stamp, which it is claimed was issued in 1878. The stamp is type set, with parallel rule border, and the following inscriptions: "Popayan—Franca 10 ctvs."
—No hai estampillas—El Admor." Below the name of the postmaster is signed. Can any one tell us anything definite about this stamp.

ORANGE RIVER COLONY.—H. L. Chandler reports having the 4d stamp of 1907-08, on chalky multiple paper, with an "I"
for a "P" in the word postage. Mr.
Chandler's copy is in mint condition.

ROUMANIA.—Mr. Schachne reports a new color for the current letter card, and on somewhat thicker paper.

Letter Card.

15b gray on white.

SALVADOR.—Hermann Focke informs us that only the 1c, 2c, 3c and 5c values were printed on the watermarked paper, and those only in limited number.

Mr. Focke sends us the 1c postage and 1c official surcharge "1821—15 Setembre—1909" in red. Only a few of the latter were surcharged, supposed to be by mistake (?). The Hussman Stamp Co. reports having this provisional printing on both watermarked and unwatermarked paper.

The Hussman Co. also reports having the current set from 1c to 26c inclusive, without surcharge of shield and anchor; the 5c dull blue, Scott's No. 300, with arms inverted, and the 3c gray black of the same issue, surcharged with type "C."

Hermann Focke informs us that the plates of the new series in course of preparation have been engraved in Salvador, and are now in the hands of the National Printing Office. The new issue will soon appear. It will consist of three sets of stamps—postage, officials and postage dues, and also envelopes and post cards. All will bear the portrait of President Figueroa. The different sets will include various new values, including the 4c, 17c and 29c, as required by the present postal rates. It is said that the new stamps will not be behind their predecessors in beauty.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA.—The 8d stamp, large form, has now been issued on paper watermarked Crown A, a copy having been shown us by the New

STAMP TRADE AMALFAMATION.

Elsewhere will be noted the advertisement of Geo. C. Ginn & Co. Mr. Ginn was formerly a regular advertiser in the WEEKLY, but it has been some time since his announcements have been seen in our publication.

The following communication recently received by us gives the particulars of an amalgamation formed by Mr. Geo. C.
Ginn with E. Burnet Ginn:

1st Oct., 1909.

Dear Sir:—We have pleasure in stating that the businesses carried on by George C. Ginn, 50, Bishopsgate Street Within, London, and
E. C. and E. Burnet Ginn, 16, Baronet Road, Tottenham, have been amalgamated, and will in future be known under the name of George C. Ginn & Co., 50, Bishopsgate Street Within,
London, E. C.

By the amalgamation of capital and our already large stocks, we hope to be better able to cope with the increased demand on the part of collectors for the better class stamps at reasonable prices.

Visitors to the City, and all who are interested in stamps, are invited to give us a call.
Every transaction will come under our personal supervision, and we trust to be favored with a continuance of your kindness as heretofore.

GEORGE C. GINN.
E. BURNET GINN.

The combining of these two stocks will mean a greater degree of efficiency than ever before, and we commend the firm of Ginn to the kind consideration of our readers.

NEWS GLEANINGS.

—J. Emory Renoll, Hanover, Pa., requests information as to whereabouts of Floyd P. Barker, formerly of Antrim,
N. H., but now among the missing.
Failure to approval selection is the cause of complaint. Address Mr. Renoll direct.

—We are indebted to Elmer V. Heise for clipping from Syracuse paper, presumably the Herald, containing illustrated article upon "The Seybold Collection of Stamps." It occupies a full page in display.

—The Stamp Mart adv. elsewhere offers interesting news. H. B. Clark, of Cleveland, Ohio, has removed to Winnipeg, Canada, to take its management.
Mr. Clark is well known to our readers.
as, being Exchange Manager of the M. P. A., and also the Hobby Club, has an extensive acquaintance in America and abroad. The Hobby Club Exchange Dept. has forged ahead of anything along similar lines, and is today the fastest growing society in the world. This alone necessitated a change, and Mr. Kendall, publisher of the Hobbyist made satisfactory arrangements with Mr. Clark to remove to Winnipeg.

PURCHASE OF A FINE COLLECTION.

We have just purchased for $15,000 cash a superb general collection of all countries. We have also secured two or three smaller collections for over $10,000 during the LAST MONTH ALONE.

WRITE FOR FULL PARTICULARS

which we are publishing in our next number of

"B & K" ITEMS — Free on Application.

The following countries are especially strong, MANY BEING SPECIALIZED.

In ENGLISH COLONIES we may mention:—

Gt. Britain, including 10sh King, I. R. Official, and all 10sh and £1 values. Barbados, including 1d on 5sh, 3 pairs and 4 singles. B. C. A., including values to £25 mint, and all £1 values, used and unused. Br. Guiana, very fine lot of early issues, circular, etc. Cape of Good Hope, over 200 triangulars, woodblocks, etc. Ceylon, practically complete. Fiji, a fine lot. Gambia, including first issue in pairs, and sheets of later issues. Grenada, practically complete. Hong Kong, complete, unused and used. Indian States, exceptionally strong. Lagos, complete, unused. Mauritius, 50 copies of first types from earliest States, later issues complete. Natal, including 9d and 1sh, first issue. Nevis complete. N. S. W., including nearly 100 Sydney Views, including pairs. Orange River Colony, A specialized collection. Tobago, including £1. St. Vincent, nearly complete, including many early unused 6d and 1sh values. Trinidad, fine lot of "litho" issue and no watermarks. Turks Island, many rare surcharges. Uganda, specialized collection. Victoria, a fine lot, used and unused. Western Australia, including 1857, 2d brown on red, 2 unused. Zanzibar, many errors, etc., etc.

In FOREIGN COUNTRIES we may mention:—

Columbian Republic—A fine lot, including Antioquia—Complete, and many other States very fine. French Colonies—Very strong. Germany and German States and Colonies—A very fine lot. JAPAN, one of belonging to L. W. Fulcher of the Royal Philatelic Society. A superb lot of first issues, including blocks and sheets. Later issues, including most of the rare plates and perforations, etc., etc. Portugal and Portuguese Colonies—Very strong, including a magnificent collection of Portuguese India. Spain—Very fine, including two copies of 2 Reales, and the 3 cuartos bronze, Mint. Philippines—Fine lot of all issues. Tuscany—including 3 Lire, 2 copies. Roumania Moldavia—including 27 and 54 paras, first issue. Most of the smaller countries complete, etc., etc.

To give clients unknown to us an idea of our prices we quote a few taken at random—in most cases we have several copies. For medium stamps in English Colonials, of which we probably hold the finest stock in the world, we are naturally cheaper than for rarities, of which the supply is insufficient to go round. Want lists are a specialty and we will always quote prices on any sent to us.

All Copies are in Superb Condition.

From Our Special Correspondent.

INTERVIEW WITH HON. SAINT LOUIS BEAR.

By M. Boss.

I want to state emphatically that it was only with the greatest reluctance that I was induced, just five years ago, to leave my comfortable resting place as part of the great seal of the state of "Show Me" as depicted upon what I have heard affectionately termed the "St. Louis Bear Stamps." Of course, I rejoice to be thus indelibly associated with and to have given my name to as famous an issue as this.

From 1845 until December, 1904, I held my place as gracefully as a not too expert engraver would permit but then the rumbling of the stamp awakening, imminent in St. Louis, disturbed my hitherto peace and quiet, which though, now that I think of it, had been previously disturbed by the advent of St. Louis A. P. S. branch number four, which, as the older members can tell you, came through the stormiest times of the parent society with honor and with banners flying and which, to this very day, is loyally supported. Then came the Century Stamp Club, which was born and lived, flourished and died and then St. Louis Philately existed unorganized until the peace-disturbing rumblings of December, 1904, took tangible form in January, 1905, as the St. Louis Stamp Collectors Society.

Naturally, on my arrival in St. Louis I was greeted by the society's first President, W. A. Sisson. I have it on good authority that every box and drawer and envelope and pigeonhole in the Sisson household is "stuffed" with stamps and this same good authority has whispered to me that, placed end to end, his stamps would reach to the North Pole and back. C. H. Deitering, the society's first Vice President, when he tires of building palatial homes and spacious sky-scrapers, builds on his stamp collection, whose foundation he knew how to lay so well. To Charles Grandpierre, the virtual organizer and the first Secretary, a deep debt of gratitude is owing.

On my second visit, I found H. A. Diamant, "The man who owns Canal Zone," in the Presidential chair. Otto Patzschke was ably holding down the Vice Presidential job, while assiduously assembling "Mint State 20th Centuries." A little bird has told me that Mr. Patzschke could now retire from the strenuous life to live on the "unearned increment" of his specialty. The ever genial, ever hustling T. C. Mann labored with the duties of Secretary this year.

On my third visit to hustling St. Louis, F. R. C., F. R. P. S. greeted me with that hearty smile and heartier hand-shake that has helped to make him so famous. Did I hear some poor benighted one ask who is this F. R. C.? He is none other than the man who has cornered "three cornered Capes," Frederick R. Cornwall, Fellow Royal Philatelic Society.

Wallace Delafield, Jr., one of the most earnest collectors in St. Louis, now sojourning temporarily farther West, was the watch dog of the society's finances.

After my winter snooze, I returned to find that "Major variety of the 19th century condition crank," Chester Myers, sitting on the Presidential lid. That grand young-old man of St. Louis philately, Adalbert Strauss, lent his prestige and lustre as Vice President. Mr. Strauss started to collect in the 60's and has built many collections only to send them to be demolished under the auctioneer's hammer. He has sworn off on stamps more often than he can remember but each time the old collecting fever has returned, each attack more violent than the preceding. J. H. Humes watched over the society's treasury and that indefatigable worker, George Wood, who has recently been lost to St. Louis through removal to Texas, as Secretary, brought the society through one of its most successful years with pronounced success. Incidentally he found time to collect what I am assured by the fellow who counted them, are 1123 distinct shades of the current 2c U. S.

Having established the precedent of returning each year to renew old friendships and make new ones amongst the "stamp friends" of the Mound City, I journeyed there in 1909 when one of the old guard, F. N. Chase, presided over the affairs of the society and one of the new guard, Wm. J. H. Anschuetz, guarded the society's funds—and a man with that name does make a formidable guard. Frank Millhouse, the very personification of hustle and energy, attended faithfully to the onerous duties of Secretary, finding time, now and then, to pick up a South Australian or two.

It is rumored that the original of that great "smile that won't come off" is to be the society's next presiding officer. He's the man of "tax paid," stamped paper, M. & M.'s—he's the man of big ideas, Walter Bain. The Secretary and Treasurer for 1909, Messrs. Millhouse and Anschuetz, having so faithfully administered their offices, I am told will receive well merited promotions to the offices of Treasurer and Vice President, respectively. Dame rumor whispers for Secretary, Vinton E. Sisson, son of W. A., and splendidly qualified to fill his anticipated position and to follow in his own inimitable way, of course, the course laid out by his father. Then there is Dr. Paul Baer, the man whose pockets are always full of stamps and cigars for friends and R. W. Boisselier, the society's Law and Order advocate and specialist in "original gum." The late Chas. Gildehaus, whose philatelic interest ended with the year 1872 and who had practically completed his collection up to that date with the exception of some of the world's greatest rarities. "Charley" Hussman, he's the fellow who makes "finds," $23.00 stamps for 23c and then laughs mightily at his less observant fellow members. S. M. Schoemann, collaborator in the society's Law and Order division, Fred Slack budding dealer on the East St. Louis side, and all those other good fellows, whom I could enumerate to you and tell you of their fancies and follies to no end if space would permit. It's my tip to watch St. Louis. There's a lively bunch, the kind of fellows who do things and are going to live up to the city's motto, "To The Front."

Now good friends of whom I've spoken and you good friends who read, I return to hibernate for another twelve-month and to watch your activities from pages of your catalogues and cherished albums.

A. P. HOSMER.

Not content with absorbing a lion's share of the stamp business, the C. E. Hussman Stamp Co. of St. Louis has drawn upon Chicago for reinforcements for its executive staff. A. P. Hosmer has become identified with the great St. Louis firm and he will be a valuable factor doubtlessly in advancing the interests of his employers. Mr. Hosmer's identification with philately covers many years. So early as 1890 he was known as a philatelic clubman, writer and specialist and the wonders of his collection of Venezuela have been exploited in print many times. As a Chicago correspondent, he enjoyed a widespread fame in the old days.

For some years past Mr. Hosmer has been in the employ of P. M. Wolsieffer, Chicago, and the Chicago veteran was the first to encourage Mr. Hosmer's step of progress in allying himself with the St. Louis firm. Mr. Hosmer who, twenty years ago was most proficient in philately has added to this knowledge through his commercial experience latterly, and he is capable of assisting most worthily in the affairs of the immense business of the C. E. Hussman Stamp Co. Chicago's kindest interest follows Mr. Hosmer in his new connection and both he and his enterprising employer are congratulated on the union that has been made.

THE C. E. HUSSMAN STAMP CO.

A GLANCE AT THE BUSINESS OF A FIRM THAT KEEPS ST. LOUIS TO THE FRONT.

As we scan our advertising of the past two years we find the name of Hussman in boldest type and as we issue a St. Louis special number it is fitting that proper mention be made of the great business enterprise being carried on in that city under the name of the C. E. Hussman Stamp Co.

The business of the firm was taken over from C. E. Hussman, who for many years had dealt in high class stamps and had established a high reputation for integrity and ability. Louis W. Bartel was the St. Louis man who effected this stroke of business. He became the president of the newly organized company and H. Flachmann was made manager. Associated with Mr. Bartel, who is an A. P. S. member, is O. S. Ledman, Vice Pres. and Treas., and Ferd. Bartel, Sec.

The character of the business done by the firm is general, embracing high class rarities and approval selections of the commonest stamps for the boy trade.

The office force numbers ten persons and would be increased to fifteen or more were it not that the making up of packets and approval sheets is done outside.

The firm has recently obtained the services of A. P. Hosmer of Chicago, who has for some years been with P. M. Wolsieffer and he will be the general assistant manager. Mr. Hosmer will be a valuable addition to the office force. But even more help is required so the Hussman Co. has secured B. H. Fehlig, also of Chicago, formerly of Ypsilanti, Mich., who will be with them early in 1910. Mr. Fehlig will give his attention to the large approval sheet business handled by the firm.

Miss L. Roeder, formerly with the E. J. Schuster Co., has charge of the want list department and Miss M. Moore, formerly with C. E. Hussman and C. H. Mekeel, has general charge of the stock and particularly the stock books containing the cheaper stamps.

Mr. Flachmann writes:

"We are now arranging our entire stock into Krassa's stock books, devoting an entire line to each number in the catalogue both unused and used, and when this gigantic job will be finished, we shall have our stock arranged according to Scott's catalogue in 100 of the largest sized stock books made, containing 50 large pages each. We will then be in as good a shape to fill want lists as any dealer in the world.

"Our business, prosperous as it was last year, is this year in excess of last year by 150%, and we expect that it will amount to three times the volume of business we did in another two or three months from now. Last year we were handicapped by lack of competent help, but with the office force we have at our command now, we will be able to handle our business satisfactorily.

"Our monthly bargain list which has made quite a furore among the stamp collecting fraternity will be enlarged to sixteen pages with the Jan. issue. If sixteen pages are not enough to include all we have to offer, we will enlarge it to 24 pages or 36 pages.

"Not a small part of our success is due to our, what we consider, liberal use of advertising space which we have taken in MEKEEL'S STAMP NEWS, and some of the best customers we have on our books have been secured through this medium. You are perfectly at liberty to mention this."

While this splendid tribute is given to MEKEEL'S we feel that proper credit must also be paid to the enterprise displayed in the bold announcements that have appeared regularly in this paper, a sample of which will be found on cover page 2. The firm has not been afraid to use liberal space.

The mention made of the price list issued monthly is none too lavish. It has created more than a "furore," in that it has "made" business. We do not need to make more than this passing mention to it. As our readers generally are acquainted with its merits.

Large things may be expected this winter from the C. E. Hussman Stamp Co. and we are glad to lend this helping hand to a business whose relationship with the WEEKLY has been of the most satisfactory nature from every possible standpoint.

As soon as your name has been published as an applicant you will probably have unsolicited selections of stamps sent you on approval. As a great many collectors object to this the Society desires to break the practice up. Please aid us and help protect yourself and others against further imposition, by holding such selections without purchasing therefrom until sufficient funds have been received from the sender to enable you to return the stamps to him by registered mail. Also please report to the Secretary of the Society the name of the dealer sending such unsolicited selections.

COLLECTORS WITH FROM 2000 TO 10,000 VARIETIES

Will find it to their advantage to try my sheets. I am a collector primarily myself and my stock is obtained from old collections and auction lots, and lacks most of the made to order trash and remainders of recent years.

I have a nice line of the older issues, including many hard to get varieties of moderate catalog value. Can supply such stamps as Netherlands and Norway practically complete to 1900, Austria, Sweden, except three or four, Barbados, Ceylon, Mauritius, Canada, U. S. Postage, Depts. and Revenues, nearly all up to $5.00 cat. value.

My prices are based on stamp and condition. Stamps are marked net and range from ¼ to ½ cat. usually, except in the case of some really scarce stamps, but in all instances will be found reasonable.

Several collectors have purchased from $20 to $50 from my approvals since Nov. 1st. Why not see what you can find? General selections only. Satisfactory references must be given. Premium offers apply to first $5.00 purchase from approvals or lists. State size of collection.

Scott Stamp & Coin Co.'s Albums at publishers' prices.
Boston Collectors are invited to call at my office, 23 Bromfield St., street floor, where I have 10,000 var. of 19th Century issues on sale in three books.

A. P. S. BOARD OF VICE PRESIDENTS.

To St. Louis belongs the honor of furnishing our national society with the present board of vice presidents. Mr. Myers is at the left, Mr. Strauss at the right, while standing is Mr. Cornwall, chairman of the board and who at a not very distant date will undoubtedly be called to the presidency of the society.

THE AVERY COLLECTION

Recently Purchased by W. H. PECKITT for £24,500 Net Cash

Synopsis of Chief Countries Represented.

NOTE Nearly every country and colony is represented in the collection formed by the late SIR WILLIAM B. AVERY, though in varying degrees of completeness. Some of the more important countries are highly specialized. The following list is of countries and colonies of which there are notable collections, or in which there are outstanding items of high interest or rarity. Countries in which the collection is just ordinarily represented are omitted.

Part I BRITISH EMPIRE.—Great Britain, Barbados, British Columbia and Vancouver Island, British Guiana, Canada, Cape of Good Hope, Ceylon, Fiji, India, Ionian Islands, Mauritius, Natal, Nevis, New Brunswick, Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, Oil Rivers, St. Christopher, St. Helena, St. Vincent, Straits Settlements, Tasmania, Trinidad, Turks Islands, Victoria, Virgin Islands, Western Australia.

Part II FOREIGN COUNTRIES.—Argentine Republic, Austrian Italy, Belgium, Brazil, Colombia, Dominican Republic, Italy and States (notably Tuscany, Naples, Sicily, France, Germany and States (notably Bavaria, Brunswick, Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Oldenburg, Saxony, Thurn and Taxis, Wurtemberg), Greece, Hawaiian Islands, Mexico, Paraguay, Peru, Portugal, Roumania and Moldavia, Switzerland (notably strong in Cantonals), United States (General Issues), United States Postmasters' Provisionals (notably Brattleboro', Millbury, St. Louis), Confederate States, Uruguay.

PORTIONS of the COLLECTION will be sent as usual to responsible collectors.

IMPORTANT Mr. PECKITT would remind collectors that although rare stamps are one of his specialties, he gives every attention to the requirements of all customers, whether for Rare or Medium Stamps, Packets or Sets. Any collector can have New Issues supplied through Mr. Peckitt's New Issue Service at ten per cent over face. Albums of all grades.

OUR LIST OF PREMIUM OFFERS

FOR NEW SUBSCRIPTIONS.

It can be truly said that there is no hobby so educational, so enchanting, so profitable as the collecting of postage stamps. The above striking headline will reach thousands who have yet to learn that in worshipping at the shrine of the fair goddess Philatelia, MEKEEL'S WEEKLY STAMP NEWS is absolutely essential.

To be interested in any business or pursuit and not be kept posted upon its progress would be considered suicidal. Today every trade, every fraternal organization, every religious body has its newspaper mouthpiece and the enthusiastic ambitious spirit cries out for more enterprise in its quest for information.

For nearly a score of years MEKEEL'S has steadily, persistently pursued the even tenor of its way until it has become justly famed as the "King of Stamp Papers and the Stamp Paper of Kings." A glance at the contents of any issue will confirm its value as an exponent of philately. To induce you to become a regular reader we give you a choice of various premiums. Address all letters MEKEEL-SEVERN-WYLIE CO., 508 Kast Bldg., Boston, Mass.

Old subscribers paid up 3 mos. in advance and sending in new names may receive any of these premiums.

It must be distinctly understood that these premiums are not given on renewals nor on transfer of subscription to another member of the family.

Subscription price 6 mos. 25c, 1 year 50c.

United States Stamps and Their Varieties

is a book that should be in the hands of every philatelist. It describes and illustrates:

Regular Government Issues
Carrier Stamps

U. S. Envelopes
Confederate Provisionals

The illustrations are greatly enlarged while the text is clear and conclusive. We cordially recommend the book to every collector of U. S. Stamps. Remit 25c for a new 6 mos. sub., not a renewal, and we will send the book post free by return mail.

MEKEEL'S WEEKLY STAMP NEWS.

INDEX TO VOLUME XXII : 1903.

NOTE.—Regular features, to be found in almost every issue are not indexed. These include Editorial, Chronicle, Queries and Comment, News Gleanings and Society Reports. Items of special importance, however, which occur under these headings, have been indexed by their subject matter. References in general are to subjects rather than in the exact form of the titles.
